Chapter 16 Dad Has to Feed Mom

The policemen took Dick away after obtaining a confession from him.

As Cathy watched the men leave, she carefully shifted her sitting position as she could st Adrian's touch burning into her skin.

She was invested in proving her innocence to the policemen against Dick that she did not how close she and Adrian were.

Now that they were the only ones left in the room, she could nearly taste the fragrance of in the air.

The dim light contributed to making the place even more sensual than it had to be.

They could almost feel each other's breathing from where they were standing and sitting.

Cathy felt rather awkward as she did not usually get close to anyone, but the moment she moved,

After the rest of the crowd had left, she bit her lip and asked, "Mr. Bolton. There is no one else here. We don't have to pretend to be close anymore."

His hand on her waist branded her skin, making her blush with excitement.

The reason she had called Adrian 'hubby' was because they needed to put on a show for the others.

Adrian withdrew his hand but pulled her into his arms. Cathy felt his deep voice vibrate with Being so close to Adrian made Cathy's mind switch off for a moment.

When the memory of her calling him her 'hubby' came back to mind, she felt her face burn with embarrassment.

"Cathy."

Instead of embracing her, he walked to the window and leaned against it with his arms crossed. "I who was petite and drugged.

Cathy tilted her head in confusion. "You said you did not know any martial arts."

Dick may be old, but he was a large man who would prove to be a formidable opponent for Cathy,

How could she have fought him off and slashed him twice?

Cathy pursed her lips guiltily when she realized what he was asking about. "I learned some basic martial arts. After all, I've been a stuntperson for a long time."

"I did not lie."

her birthmark.

Adrian's eyes narrowed with suspicion.

"Dick Wayne is a weak man too." Cathy looked down, struggling to come up with some excuses because she was indeed trained with some martial arts skills.

When Chris realized how gentle she was, he taught her some martial arts skills but had cautioned her against informing other people that she knew how to fight, the same way he told her to hide

Cathy did not know why Chris would advise her to do so, but she would honor her word.

However, in the short span of time when she reflected on her journey, Adrian had captured her wrist.

Cathy looked up at Adrian, who was squinting at her. "What are you...?"

"Crack!" He snapped her wrist upward, spraining it.

Sitting in the back seat of the car, Cathy stared sadly at her bandaged wrist, whereas Adrian sat sullenly next to her. "I did not expect you to be so weak."

He was merely testing her and did not expect to sprain her wrist.

Her mildly annoyed face made him feel exasperated.

Curiosity crept into his mind as he wondered what she was like at work.

Soon, the car pulled into the Bolton Residence.

and I then made the milk tea for you to calm your nerves."

"It's just a sprain."

While Arius sat on the stone ledge of the front door, Abner dashed towards the car, screaming, "Dad, is mom okay?"

How could such a shy and gentle woman take on the role of a stuntperson?

Abner growled, "The evil man did it, didn't he?"

The moment Cathy got out of the car, Abner hugged her legs and stared at Cathy's bandaged right

Grimacing, Cathy turned to look at Adrian and nodded awkwardly. "Yes, it was the evil man." "He must be evil to the core! Hmph! Anyone who bullies my mom will get a taste of their own

"Yeah!" Abner tugged on Cathy's hand, motioning for her to enter the house.

"Mom, Arius found out you like taro milk tea! So he got the butler to buy the ingredients. Arius

"Does it hurt? I made your favorite milk tea." Arius got off the stone ledge and turned to enter the "Abner, please be careful with the way you word things – I made the milk tea myself." Arius grumbled from within the house.

Adrian watched his twins' antics as they persuaded her to come into the house from the back seat

These brats would not boil water to make tea – but they would make milk tea for a woman who "Didn't I accompany you too? You can say that I contributed quite a lot too!"

Winter rapped on the door and handed a few pieces of paper to Adrian. "The lady's father, Chris Jensen, lives in the nearby slums. That was why she went there. He is a drunkard who has a mountain of debts. We can presume that the lady went there to hand him some money. Other than Taking a seat opposite Cathy, Adrian stared and frowned deeply at his children's behavior. How could his children make him feel like an outsider? He was their father!

However, whenever his gaze fell onto Cathy's bandaged right wrist, he felt a sense of regret

"Thank you!" Cathy nodded before trying to pick some food up, but she could only use her left hand due to her injury.

She's hurt. You should take care of her since you are her husband."

Out of concern, Adrian scooped some vegetables into Cathy's plate.

Meanwhile, Arius laid out Cathy's eating utensils before her carefully.

She could smell his manly scent when he was near her, making her blush even more. He sat down next to her and picked up her utensils.

"No! No, I can do it myself!" Cathy waved her hands as a sign of rejection, knowing that when he was near, she could barely breathe. She would die of embarrassment and joy if he fed her!

Was he going to feed her?

"Stop lying... How could you feed yourself if you can't even hold your utensil properly?" Arius

"All the main characters in Korean dramas behave like that too!"

Although Cathy's face burned with embarrassment, she turned to Abner and began to lecture him, "You need to stay away from those Korean dramas. Be like your older brother. See how stable and
