Chapter 2 The Third Mr Bolton Shall Be My Husband

The study was brightly lit.

A man in a clean white shirt sat at the main seat, exuding a dominant and masculine aura.

He was reading a document. One could see that he had well-formed and elegant facial features.

After he finished reading a page, he said in an indifferent tone, "Tell Shaw Group to return the money we gave them tomorrow."

After that, he hesitated for a moment before saying, "Sir, please allow me to say something. I think this Ms. Shaw... Is different from the one from two years ago." It was the butler who had met Cathy when she arrived in the morning.

The butler bowed slightly and answered, "Yes, sir."

She had a pleasant face and beautiful eyes. One could instantly see that she did not harbor ill intentions. Therefore, he found her likable. She did not speak much except to ask a few questions about Master Adrian's preferences.

Furthermore, she did not seem to care what the rumors said.

The two young boys worked together to create rumors about Adrian's hideous appearance, and the death of his two previous fiancés. It was hard to find a woman like Cathy, who was not scared and was willing to try her best to please him.

The butler felt that it would be a shame to let her go. However, the man seated at the desk did not think the same way. "She couldn't even pass a simple test. There is no point keeping her."

The butler did not know what to say. Sir, are you sure that was a simple test?

Even I, a fifty-year-old man, am terrified whenever I see Abner's disguise. It is understandable that a twenty-something young lady would be scared!

At this moment, the doorbell sounded downstairs.

The butler sighed. If this goes on, how is he ever going to find a bride? The butler looked worried.

Cathy shivered as she pressed the doorbell.

She had run as far as she could.

However, once her terror receded, she realized that she shouldn't have run.

She was already scared of the dark. Therefore, she panicked when the hideous monster appeared Since she agreed to marry him, she should fulfill her promise and not run away.

Therefore, after long consideration, she decided to return to the Boltons' villa.

Furthermore, she had known that Adrian was a twisted and disfigured person.

However, she knew that she had to overcome her fear because she would be living with him for the rest of her life.

Her face was pale as she pressed the doorbell. She could not stop her heart from beating wildly

After a while, someone came to open the door.

She was afraid of seeing that hideous man again.

The boy glanced at Cathy before turning back to the living room and pointing to a couch, indicating that she should sit.

Cathy pursed her lips. Although she did not know who this boy was, she knew he did not have ill

Everyone knew that Adrian became cruel and bad-tempered after a fire disfigured his face five years ago. He had two twin boys after that incident.

His eldest son, Arius, was a quiet boy. On the other hand, his younger son, Abner, was

At this moment, the usually indifferent Arius was looking for medicine for Cathy.

Meanwhile, a tall and intimidating man stood in a dark corner. He frowned as he looked at the Cathy suddenly realized she had a wound on her calf when cool antiseptic-soaked cotton touched the wound. She had ran in a panic and did not notice when she hurt herself.

She looked down and watched the boy holding a bottle of antiseptic while carefully disinfecting

The light from the glass chandelier shone on his long lashes, casting small shadows on his face.

Even though he was young, he cleaned her wound with utmost care.

Cathy was touched by his care, so she asked gently, "Hi, what is your name?"

After cleaning her wound, the boy put a plaster over it.

He walked to the couch opposite hers and climbed onto it.

After he had finished everything, he glanced at Cathy and said, "That's my name."

Cathy looked at his adorable face and small hands. She could not resist reaching out to touch him,

His clear eyes seemed mature beyond his young age. He looked at her and asked, "Why did you

Why did I come back?

Arius looked down at his well-formed fingers and asked, "Are you not scared?"

Cathy was stunned for a moment and wondered how he knew so much.

Still, she answered frankly, "I'm scared, but I don't have a choice."

Cathy smiled and said, "This villa will be my home from now on."

"I will be marrying Mr. Adrian Bolton, so I had to come back."

"I agreed to marry him, so I can't go back on my words."

How can he say Adrian is not ugly?

Arius is still a child. Perhaps Adrian does not dare to reveal his true face to him.

Then, she took a deep breath and smiled. "Are you hungry? Would you like me to cook you Cathy did not know what to say.

Arius glanced at the time and said calmly, "You have thirty minutes.

"I can't eat after eight o'clock. It is now seven-thirty."

Cathy rushed into the kitchen.

Meanwhile, a man and a boy were surprised to see Cathy working busily in the kitchen.

Somehow, she seemed familiar to him.

"Daddy, what is she up to?"

The kitchen was clean and tidy. Although it did not have much food, it had all the necessary

Abner sprawled near the handrail and pursed his lips. "Is she planning to cook something to curry favor with Arius? That's impossible."

"Arius is a really picky eater." Meanwhile, Adrian kept looking at Cathy.
