Chapter 32 Make Xavier Kneel and Beg for Forgiveness

Fred Hanson startled. "Fire you?"

Cathy nodded, "Didn't you bring me here... to talk about the news on the Internet..."

"What news?"

Fred turned to his secretary in confusion, "What's on the Internet?"

The secretary leaned towards Fred hesitantly and whispered a few words into his ears.

Fred frowned as he quickly took on a serious expression.

Cathy sighed helplessly.

It seemed like it was her fate to be fired after all.

"Cathy, don't you worry, I'll take care of what's on the Internet."

Just as she was about to bring up her resignation, a courteous smile broke out on Fred's face.

The moment these words left Fred's lips, Cathy and the workers standing behind Fred were dumbfounded.

"I will order a cancellation on Willow Xenos!"

The secretary even lowered her body and said gently, "Shouldn't we be cancelling Cathy Shaw?"

Fred Hanson replied with a scowl, "We should be cancelling Willow Xenos. She was the one who created drama out of nothing from a footage at the film set!"

Finishing what he had to say, he turned to Cathy with smiling eyes, "Cathy, this isn't the right

At this point, Cathy's jaw had dropped to the ground.

What's happening?!

With a mind full of questions, Cathy was ushered into the VIP meeting room of the building by Fred Hanson.

even as a female lead!!"

"Because..."

He served a cup of tea and said, "I've given the orders. The footage has been deleted, don't worry, this won't have any impact on your career."

After Adrian had left the night before, Fred spent the rest of the night pondering.

Master Adrian was notorious for his ugly appearance and hot temper, but the Master Adrian that

Although Fred had no idea why Master Adrian would marry a mere double, he had no doubt that

At that thought, Fred grinned from ear to ear, "Cathy, for an actress as good as you, I will never let anyone spoil your reputation."

Cathy gawked at the cup of tea that Fred had offered her, not knowing if she should accept it.

"Keep up the good job, I'm sure I can fight for a much more significant role for you in the future,

Fred Hanson was not one to behave so courteously.

Seconds later, she decided to awkwardly take the cup, "Urm... Why are you treating me so well?"

His change of attitude came as a surprise to her.

Before he could finish his words, someone knocked on the door and promptly opened it.

Entering the room was the director of 'White as Snow'.

"Mr. Hanson, I request to switch the double who was seducing Xavier yesterday."

It was obvious at this point that the director could not recognize Cathy. He continued...

The director sat across Cathy and lashed out, "I just had a huge argument with Penelope at the "Xavier's agent came to speak to me earlier. The incident has influenced his relationship with Willow. If we don't switch her out, Xavier plans to pull out from the production."

"The dodgy actress deserves what's coming for her lack of professionalism..."

Fred cut him off and took a sip of tea listlessly, "Who does he think he is? To think that someone would seduce him!"

Finishing what he had to say, Fred turned to Cathy obsequiously, "Am I right, Cathy?"

Cathy had no words to say.

"Disgusting attitude!"

Cathy bit her lips in astonishment.

"I'm not worth the consequences."

"Bang!"

While the director was too shocked to respond.

"Let him pull out then."

Moments later, he said softly, "We've invested 200 million into the movie, we're halfway through production, if Xavier pulls out, the whole schedule would be interrupted, and the money would go

He said unwaveringly, knowing that having Cathy on his side would bring him much more profit

The director stared at Fred as if he was an idiot, "Are you out of your mind?"

"I don't care what's going on with you, Xavier must stay in this production!"

Fred snorted indifferently, "What's 200 million to me?"

The director slammed the door shut as he left the room.

Fred scolded the director and turned around with a smile, "Cathy, did I scare you?"

He then stood up angrily, "If you don't cancel the double, I, along with everyone else at the studio, myself."

It had just dawned on her.

"There is a clear line between us."

There was no way that he would let 200 million go down the drain for a no-name like her.

"Mr. Hanson, I think it is only fitting that I quit."

He was known for making his actors work overtime every single day.

"You are wife to Master Adrian, I'm sure that a few words from you could bring us not only 200 million, but 2 billion."

Fred smiled with furrowed brows, "You're worth it, of course, you are."

Following that, Cathy grabbed her bag and turned to leave, "There's no need to fire me, I'll leave

As soon as she stepped out of the building, Cathy breathed a huge sigh of relief.

She was much more willing to lose her job than to be used in a business situation.

At least she could stay true to herself.

A car came to a halt before her.

The window was wound down to reveal a face with distinctive features, "Arius said that you will

She entered the car. "Why didn't you do something to keep my job then?"

A tinge of warmth quickly took over Cathy after seeing Adrian.

The man let out a cold smile, "Soon, they will come begging for you to work for them."

Cathy pouted her lips. "As a matter of fact, Mr. Hanson did try and convince me to stay."

After all, Cathy was a money-growing tree in his eyes.

Adrian squinted his eyes. "I wasn't referring to him."

He turned to look at Cathy. "I will make Xavier kneel and beg for forgiveness."
