Chapter 4 Do We Have to Sleep Together Tonight?

The butler woke Cathy up early in the morning.

She had met him yesterday, and he seemed like a kind person.

At this moment, he was holding a set of formal ladies' wear and asked, "Madam, why are you sleeping here?"

Cathy rubbed her brow. She did not sleep well last night, so she was still in a daze.

"You should wake up and get dressed quickly. A marriage officiant will be here soon!"

She frowned and looked at the butler with a confused expression. "A marriage officiant?"

"Yes!"

The butler smiled at her and said, "Congratulations on passing the test. Mr. Bolton wants to register the marriage today. From today on, you shall be the lady of this house."

Cathy instantly became alert.

She ran away in panic when she met him last night.

"That's right, madam. Please don't be alarmed. Master Adrian has considered the marriage fully."

Cathy did not know what to say.

No matter what, it is good news that Adrian is willing to marry me.

Since Ember returned to the Shaw residence five years ago, that place ceased to be home.

Even though Adrian is scary, I will finally have a home.

The butler's eyes crinkled with a smile. "Tonight shall be your wedding night with Master Adrian.

Cathy was stunned.

You should get ready to spend the night with him."

Her face turned. "Must it be tonight?"

The butler nodded. "Yes, it must be tonight."

It was too sudden. She was not ready to look at that scary face again...

Soon, Quinn sent a list of various horror films to her email. Cathy sprawled under a blanket and watched horror films the whole day. She even vomited in the

In the end, Cathy turned off the TV and threw the remote aside. She lay on the couch tiredly and closed her eyes.

Willow was her close friend for eight years. Five days ago, Cathy went to the film set to give Xavier a surprise.

When she used the spare key to open the door to his trailer, she heard Xavier and Willow Willow found a way for her to earn money. It involved selling her ovum.

He said Cathy was disgusting.

Five years passed. When Xavier reached the top of the entertainment world, he decided to

How many years can a woman waste with nothing in return? She cried for two hours.

I guess he won't be returning tonight.

There were many bottles of wine that she had never seen before.

She wanted to drown her sorrow in wine. Thus, she acted on impulse and grabbed a bottle of wine. She uncorked it and drank straight from

She was not good with alcohol, but she had a strong desire to drink at this moment.

"I curse that you will never win another award! I hope that you will get into a scandal and ruin your career!"

"What's the use of being good-looking? You have no morals! Therefore, you are uglier than Mr.

Bolton!"

The news was too sudden.

She looked at the butler in shock and asked, "Are you sure that Mr. Bolton wants to marry me?"

Therefore, she couldn't understand why he wanted to marry her.

She did not believe that Adrian had given that much consideration to marrying her.

We had only met for a moment last night. How could he decide to marry me so soon!

I can finally get the Shaw family off my back.

The marriage officiant arrived after she finished changing her clothes.

The three of them soon returned downstairs again and gave Cathy a marriage certificate. "Congratulations! You are now Mrs. Bolton." The female assistant held Cathy's hands enviously and said, "Congratulations, madam! You found

Otherwise, Cathy believed that she would never dare to touch this certificate again.

She could almost feel his hand on her shoulder, and she remembered how it felt gliding down her

They have gotten married. It won't do if madam still doesn't know Master Adrian's true face.

Quinn replied, "I've never received such an outrageous request."

She believed that even if Adrian appeared before her now, she would not be afraid.

By the time the sky darkened, Cathy felt that she had toughened up her mind sufficiently.

She quickly changed to another channel.

"Xavier Carter and Willow Xenos, winners of this year's Academy Award, have begun dating

Xavier and Willow.

Xavier, now ex-boyfriend, was her beloved boyfriend for six years.

After she took a drug to stimulate ovulation, they locked her in a dark room.

Then, a man appeared in the darkness and tortured her a day and a night.

Later... She received the money and successfully cleared Xavier's name, sending him to new heights in his career.

Cathy lay on the couch and let tears flow freely.

He looked down on her for giving birth to another man's children.

After she had cried enough, she glanced at the time and saw that it was past nine o'clock at night. Adrian had not returned yet.

Cathy blew her nose and noticed a wine cabinet in the living room.

"Xavier, you bastard!"

At this moment, a man's hand shook slightly as he unlocked the door.
