Chapter 40 It Was All for Willow

Cathy received a call from the director soon after she messaged him.

"Cathy, where are you?"

"I'm really excited that you're accepting the second female lead role!"

"When will you be free? Can you come to the studio? I will get someone to explain the script to you!"

Cathy replied indifferently, "There's no need to trouble yourself with that."

The director was stunned for a moment. "But you still have to come to the studio. Otherwise, how

She had analyzed scripts for many years, so she did not need any help.

can I give you the script?"

Cathy hesitated for a moment before agreeing to meet.

The director arranged for her to meet him in a meeting room on the third floor of the studio's

When she entered the meeting room, she realized that the director was not there alone. There was also a producer, an assistant director...

Furthermore, seated in the middle of these older men was Xavier, a man she did not want to see.

Xavier smiled when he saw her coming in. "Cathy, I'm glad you're willing to accept this role."

Cathy was stunned.

"I believe that with your capabilities, you can quickly get into this character."

I'm only here to take the script. Why does Xavier insist on appearing before me?

management building.

"Mr. Carter is dedicated to the acting craft and has kindly offered to guide the newcomer, Cathy!"

the script, he rescheduled today's shoot and came here to guide you."

The director could not help but sigh. "Cathy, when Xavier heard that you are coming here to take

Then, he stood up and offered his seat to Cathy. "Congratulations, Cathy. You found a good teacher like Xavier so soon after becoming an actress."

"I think since you agreed to play this character, you will share many scenes with Xavier.

Cathy could not help laughing at the word "teacher."

She met Xavier's gaze and said, "Should I call you teacher, Mr. Carter?"

When they first started dating, Xavier could not even pass an acting test.

Therefore, you should get used to working with him."

guided his every movie role and even analyzed all his scripts, helping him to understand the motivations and relationships between characters.

Once they started dating, she taught Xavier acting techniques and how to get into his role. She Now, Xavier was pretending to be kind and offered to be her teacher.

It is an insult!

Perhaps he sensed her tension. Xavier smiled and moved his chair, maintaining a little distance

"I don't deserve to be called teacher yet."

from her.

as Cathy.

Shaw Acting".

"Feel free to ask me if there is anything that you don't understand. If I have any questions, I will discuss them with you too."

Previously, she would never agree to continue to analyze the script with him no matter what he said.

However, even though she knew what he was planning, she could not expose him to so many people.

Therefore, she could only sneer and look down at the script.

Now, he found an excuse to begin a 'friendly exchange'.

Cathy suddenly realized that he was setting a trap for her.

For the whole day, Cathy tried her best to ignore Xavier.

She did not ask him any questions. When Xavier asked her something, she told him she could not understand either.

It was evening when they finished analyzing the script. Xavier deliberately took the same elevator

Cathy took out her phone and surfed the Web.

Unexpectedly, the highest trending entertainment of the day was "Xavier Carter Teaches Cathy

She frowned and clicked to read it.

There were only the two of them in the elevator. It made Cathy feel annoyed.

There were also a few photographs showing Cathy and Xavier being close to each other.

The caption said, "Who wouldn't love a gentleman like Xavier Carter? Cathy Shaw and Xavier

The article showed a photograph of her and Xavier analyzing the script in the meeting room.

Cathy bit her lower lip and turned off her phone. She looked up at Xavier and said, "Did you get someone to take those pictures? Were you also the one who spread the news online?"

Xavier looked before him calmly. He had lost the warm and gentlemanly demeanor that he showed to others during the day. "Having news about us on the Web will lessen Willow's presence

"Once everyone forgets about yesterday's incident, Willow could return to acting again."

"You're doing all these for Willow."

The elevator arrived at the ground floor.

The studio was silent and empty.

"Let me send you home."

you up?"

responsible and kind man."

Xavier smiled faintly. "It's also for you and me."

"As for you, this is a chance for you to become a real actress."

"So, everything you have done with me today is for Willow?"

anyone that they were dating. He even hid her existence completely.

Cathy gritted her teeth.

Carter look like a couple too!"

When were these photos taken?

"It is what Willow wanted."

there."

He seemed that he had deep feelings for Willow.

Cathy was in a relationship with him for five years. All those times, Xavier refused to announce to

Now that something had happened to Willow, he even used Cathy to shield Willow.

Cathy's heart turned cold.

"Once the matter is over, the netizens would love me even more. They would think that I'm a

However, when he began dating Willow, he immediately announced it to the world.

He smiled happily. "It's like killing three birds with one stone and a triple win solution. Cathy, you must work with me."

"Work with you? No way!"

Cathy shouted with disgust. She grabbed her bag and strode out of the elevator.

A black BMW stopped beside her. Xavier's face appeared when the window rolled down.

too unsightly to enter you and your husband's ."

Half an hour later, not a single cab passed by.

Gradually, the sky darkened.

Cathy stood by the road for a long time. There was no cab in sight.

However, cabs rarely came to this area.

Cathy rolled her eyes and walked away from his car. She continued to try to hail a cab.

He pulled off his sunglasses and looked at her with a smirk. "Previously, you said that my car is Then, he glanced around and sneered. "Hah! Why didn't your beloved Adrian send a car to pick be dark soon. There are a lot of mosquitoes in this area."

"Although my car is unsightly, you should bear with it for the sake of your face."

how important an actress' face is."

"If the mosquito stung your face... Hehehe, you will get severe scolding from the director."

Cathy rolled her eyes and grabbed her backpack to walk in the direction of the Boltons villa.

Then, he yawned. "Cathy, you have never been a real actress before, so you probably don't know Xavier leaned against his car window elegantly and looked at her with a mocking smile. "It will

Since there is no cab, I can walk!

However, Xavier kept following Cathy with his car as she walked.

If she slowed down, the car would slow down too.

other. What do you think?"

and thought that perverted Adrian Bolton was good to you."

"Look at how you are now..."

After some time, Xavier monotonously said. "Cathy, I almost believed what you said previously

"You worked so late, yet he doesn't send a car to pick you up. He doesn't seem to care about you."

Whenever Cathy walked faster, his car would move faster too.

Xavier rubbed his chin smugly as he spoke. "Why did you come back to me?"

"I will make sure to keep you and Willow away from each other. Neither of you will disturb the