After finishing her makeup, Cathy entered the filming set as per usual practice to prepare her scene alongside Xavier.

"Cathy, we meet again."

Xavier put on airs and carried a wide smug before Cathy, "Do you know what is happening today?"

She looked at him, deadpan, "I know, the Academy Awards."

And also, the day you get cuckolded!

Cathy took a step backward and gave Xavier a plastic smile, "It is a little early to claim victory."

"The opera ain't not over till the fat lady sings, don't you agree?

She shoved the invitation card back in Xavier's hand, "Calm down, I will surely attend the awards

"There is no need for a card."

With that, she left.

Xavier sneered at her silhouette.

He was not foolish enough to expect that Cathy would bless Willow and him; as long as Cathy

He knew it, Cathy was of course jealous!

At that thought, he turned around and coldly stared at the workers behind, "When are we starting?"

"I need to get this morning's session done soon; I need forty winks as I still have an award

The workers plastered on smiles quickly, "Right away of course!"

The morning session's schedule was packed to rafters. Even without any retakes, Cathy and

A ruby red BMW stopped by her side.

Once she was done, Cathy waited for her ride by the entrance.

Xavier were only able to complete their scenes at half past one.

Cathy recognized the car...

It belonged to Ember.

She frowned and thought, why on earth is Ember on set?

While she was deep in her thoughts, the window of the car rolled down.

Willow?

"Yeah!"

Cathy frowned, "Gown?"

"It is not clean money."

Cathy was still pretty uneasy.

Heavily camouflaged behind sunglasses and a mask, Willow waved in Xavier's direction.

As the tires screeched off the road, Cathy racked her brain.

Cathy started questioning what she had seen.

Xavier hunched and whispered to his assistant, then boarded the car.

There was no doubt, the car belonged to Ember.

As Cathy was still in doubt, a shiny black Maserati came by her side.

Cathy did as she was told.

To her surprise, Abner was not alone as he was accompanied by Arius, who usually stayed at

The back window rolled down to display Abner's big grin, "Quick, Mommy, get in the car!"

When had Ember gotten to be so close to Willow, that she was even willing to lend her car to

The little guy nodded, "Mommy, are you not attending the Academy Awards tonight?"

"I went through your wardrobe and I could not find any formal gowns."

Cathy was taken aback, "One million two hundred thousand?"

Arius who was sitting in the front row raised his head slightly, "Just spend it as you like, do not

"So Arius offered his card with one million and two hundred thousand in it to get you a gown."

This money was from Willow, when she tried to buy out the top trending spot.

It was approximately all of Xavier's net worth.

Cathy was even more puzzled, "Scumbag?"

It is just a piece of cloth, there is no need for such money, right?

"Chill mommy."

Abner rolled his eyes, "This belonged to a scumbag."

Cathy, "..."

"The owner is a friend of Tyrell."

Cathy could only gulp in shock.

How could there be such god-like little kids?

from Adrian, these two kids had something up their sleeves, too!

She stared at them, "Are you... amongst those fabled prodigies?"

Arius looked at her like she was absurd, but remained silent.

Abner took a deep breath, then explained the origins of the money to Cathy.

"So that company running Internet ghostwriters... belongs to the both of you?"

"Tyrell set up some code for the company, they owed him one, so they repaid the favor by helping

Abner smirked and asked, "What do you think?"

Cathy, "..."

She felt humiliated.

And in fact, they were the masterminds.

Thank God these two kids were not her biological children, if she could give birth to such stupendous children, she would have flown off the sky in excitement!

Even though she was excited, she will still splurge on behalf of Xavier's courtesy.

The trio had a simple meal, then proceeded to the upscale mall in search of a gown.

To ensure that she would take away everyone's breath, Arius and Abner selected a gown worth

Abner had a peek at the remaining amount and whined, "Mommy, you are too conservative."

"For you."

Arius grabbed the card and handed it to Cathy, "This money was meant for you anyway."

"You can use it anyhow you like."

Cathy pondered, and accepted it.

Cathy chuckled in resignation, "There is no need to be so extravagant."

On the chair, Cathy left it all to the makeup artist while she messaged Chris.

"Dad, have you arrived?"

"Time to go."

"Take care while you are there."

Upon exiting, the two guys shoved Cathy into a styling salon to get her a proper makeup and

On the other side of the globe, Chris peeked at his phone and sluggishly closed his eyelids.

"I just wired fifty thousand over, make sure you eat timely and do not neglect yourself."

A man beside them bellowed, "Stop dilly-dallying! Do not think you are here on vacation?!"
