Chapter 78 For the Sake of my Wine, I Decided to Help You Out

Flynn did not stay for long beside Cathy.

The media was glued on to him due to his fame and position, and Cathy was a little perturbed.

Flynn had a few more words and then left.

A while later, Willow and Xavier walked the red-carpet hand in hand.

The high-profile pair had a dramatic split and yet appeared at sthe cene together, causing a large commotion.

"Mr. Xavier, did you not split with Willow a while ago? Why are you two attending this event as a pair?"

"West he nave about your colly manage."

"Was the news about your split merely rumors?"

We did indeed split, but there is nothing forbidding us from being friends, right?"

"Or was there something we are not aware of?"

"Are you saying you are both attending as friends?"

Facing the grilling of the reporters, Xavier smiled and answered, "Everyone please calm down."

Xavier nodded, "Of course, you can also take it as me courting Miss Xenos."

"Due to some misunderstanding of her actions, I was disillusioned, and thus I decided to call it a day."

"However, soon I realized that she had her reasons, but she was not willing to take me back, so I will need to court her again."

"She only promised to attend tonight's event with me after I begged for a long time."

Willow gracefully laughed, "This is our private matter, so I would beg everyone not to misfocus on tonight's main event, the awards."

Cathy glanced at the pair then turned away to check the time.

Now that Xavier and her were the focus of everyone, she must be filled with jealousy and regret.

Most media were expecting the both of them to be winners, hence they went all out in terms of

Her smile grew.

The pair's banter was the focal point of everyone's attention.

She knew it, Cathy was just putting on a front!

Faraway, Willow noticed Cathy who was sitting in a corner looking at her phone.

Willow smirked in her heart, the smile on her face only grew sweeter.

photographing them.

She had prepared for a very long time for tonight.

She would be picture perfect accepting the first award of her life.

Only perfection was acceptable; even the angle of her eyelashes was under strict control.

'Ding-!'

Almost everyone at the scene had their phones ringing simultaneously.

Xavier, who was clueless, had his smile plastered all over while attempting to show some public

After tonight, Cathy will be absolutely obliterated and pulverized by her with no hope of turning

The scene was still buzzing, but as they raised their heads, the mood shifted.

The reporters were eerily silent.

A lady reporter coughed, "Miss Xenos, Mr. Xavier, do you happen to know Director Colin?"

Willow grinned, "Director Colin has been taking good care of me, I was almost the main actor in his new film."

Was Xavier still unaware of what happened?

The reporter sneered and showed the contents of her phone, "Miss Xenos, with the intimacy you share with Director Colin, you were still unable to get the role?"

At the mention of Colin, Willow was flustered but her smile remained, "I am not following..."

Xavier saw it too.

"Almost?"

"For sure."

On the phone was a picture of her sharing an intimate moment with Director Colin.

His face was ghastly pale immediately.

"Mr. Xavier, are you aware of the relationship between Miss Xenos and Director Colin?"

"Xavier, we have heard of an upcoming collaboration between Director Colin and you, was this

Before she could finish, blood was soon drained from her face.

The pair was alarmed.

Some were between Colin and Willow sharing a kiss by the beach. Some were pictures of them

Instantaneously, the reporters bombarded Xavier and Willow with questions.

The pictures in there were like slaps to his face.

What started as a peaceful interview transmuted into a warzone.

"Impossible?"

"I have given you all my money to be trending on the media!"

"And now you're betraying me?"

Willow was attempting to defuse the scenario by soothing Xavier while frantically shoving the reporters who were circling around them, "These must be photoshopped..."

Penelope held Tyrell's arms while slowly walking towards them as she questioned.

With that, the buzz died.

They were all unaware of what to expect from her.

"Pictures may be photoshopped, but not videos, right?"

A few child actors' parents were startled and quickly led their kids out.

Willow's face was ashen as she tugged on Penelope's sleeve, "Penelope..."

With the tension mounting, Willow quivered, "What do you mean..."

Penelope cackled, "Have you forgotten how you were slandering me saying that I relied on men to get to where I am now?"

With that, the large screen lit up.

In a corner, Cathy frowned while looking at the screen.

The crowd was speechless.

What is going on?

She was only going to use the pictures of Willow and Colin. Why did the videos surface?

"I got someone to take these."

A deep voice boomed besides her.

"You are so naïve, what if they retaliated, you might have to drink my wine again."

His lips curled upwards, "For the sake of my wine, I decided to help you out."

Cathy was taken aback, then turned around; Adrian was sitting where Flynn was seated with a glint in his eyes, "No one would be convinced by a few pictures."
