Chapter 79 Throw Them Out of Here

"But..."

Cathy looked reluctantly at the R-rated scenes on screen, "How did you know..."

She was planning to unmask the ongoing affair between Willow and Colin in the events tonight. However, only Quinn knew of her plan. How did Adrian catch wind of it?

He folded his legs, imitated Flynn's posture, and reclined by the chair, "Wanting to be the leading character in Mauve, deciding to join tonight's ceremony..."

Cathy's heart skipped a beat.

Adrian...

"I am very clear of your scheme."

He was able to deduce her master plan from these two actions.

Even more so, he was able to supplement with additional evidence.

"There is no need for thanks between us."

Adrian's hands rested on Cathy's chair back. From afar, it seemed like he was embracing Cathy.

Her heart was stirred. However, as she opened her lips, only the word 'thanks' came out.

Yoel, who was standing afar, rolled his eyes.

This stuck up, he seriously went and sat where Flynn was sitting.

Once the video was over, Xavier was petrified for at least a minute on his spot.

A while later, he seemingly regained consciousness, and ran amok while screaming like a mad man.

"Stop it!"

He furiously went onstage, held up his arms, and attempted to cover the image of Willow topless.

"Stop watching!"

However, the screen was too large, and he was simply unable to cover it all.

"Willow has been with me for five years, for her I had even betrayed Cathy who loved me most.

"It is all fake! All fake!"

How could she betray me?"

between Cathy and yourself?"

Xavier just realized he had a slip of tongue.

The screen darkened; the video ended.

Willow was still in it.

How can it be...

How could anyone record these?

She was very careful about all of these!

"Stop it! Stop the video!"

"The pictures are fake, the videos are fake, the voices are fake too!"

The reporters turned their lenses towards him, "Xavier, what did you say about the relationship

He angrily glared at the reporters, "I have nothing to do with her!"

Xavier sighed as he assumed the torture had ended.

It was another director who had collaborated with Willow in a different film.

Willow was paralyzed on the ground. At the moment, she did not even have the strength to stand.

However, after two seconds of darkness, a different video started.

But this time, a different person appeared on the bed.

"Miss Xenos..."

The pair of couple who were so elegant and sculpted was now disfigured and mangled.

Xavier was not much better off, his face was red like beetroot, like an enraged lion.

These five years, he had shunned, snubbed, and distanced himself from Cathy.

But now, he had become the joke of the day because of her!

Mobbed by reporters, he made his way to face Willow.

she tumbled into his arms, "Xavier, I'm afraid... I...."

The reporters were like sharks who smelled blood. A pack of them walled Willow up, with another pack circling around Xavier.

"Miss Xenos!"

Willow's eyebrow had dropped off. Her hairdo came apart, and her dress had the faint footprints left by unscrupulous reporters.

He was even unsure if there were more!

But now, there was another one!

He could convince the scene with Colin was doctored, an accident, or Colin went against Willow's

It was simply because Cathy was filthy in his eyes, while Willow was pure.

Even though he was fully aware of Cathy's sacrifices for him, he was still attracted to Willow.

He deserted Cathy who was willing to give him everything in order to be the dream pair with

"Xavier."

Xavier's eyes were almost projecting fire at this point, "You betrayed me!"

"You told me that Cathy was despicable, said that you were purer!"

A thunderous crack sounded and Willow was struck by Xavier so hard that she plunged right to the ground and even rolled a little.

"Willow!"

Willow's makeup was a wreck, tears were trickling down her cheek as she peeked at Xavier and

"You are that fucking pure?"

Willow's tooth was knocked off as she sprawled over the floor with blood trickling down, "Xavier, listen to me..."

"I will not listen!"

scurried to stop Xavier.

"The awards still need to go on."

Evidently, she was not done for the day.

The ambulance brought Willow away.

"Remember to bail me out soon, I will treat you better!"

He was the guy who changed Cathy's role previously!

The police brought Xavier away.

"That is enough."

"This is what you mean by pure?"

Willow.

And now?

'Whack!'

"I will kill you!"

As he screamed, his grip tightened on Willow's neck.

The reporters were there for the spectacle. However, with a life-threatening scenario, they all

"I will get Cathy back soon!"

Xavier howled as the police led him away.

The possibility of me bailing out? Zero.

She turned around.

Before he could finish it, Adrian shot him a glare and Xavier had to swallow his words.

Xavier, you might be unaware, it was me who wanted to send you behind bars.

"I used to think you are filthy, but Willow is worse, give me a chance and I will change..."

As he was led away to the exit, Xavier turned around and screamed, "I know you still love me!"

"Let's go."

Adrian frowned while whispering.

He mentioned about her being filthy was a mere distraction.

He wanted to display her dirty laundry; he was ready to annihilate her.

With that, Cathy's face was white as paper.

Adrian grabbed her hand and rushed upstairs.

still trying to shift the attention to her.

Security was blocking off access to reporters.

"Miss Shaw, was Xavier telling the truth?"

He pointed at the swarming reporters, "His words were not meant for you, it was for them."

Cathy pursed her lips. Only at this moment, she understood that at his last moment, Xavier was

The reporters' questions were getting hostile.

Adrian stopped his tracks, turned around, and instructed the general manager, "Throw them out of

The general manager got his underlings to deal with the reporters while ensuring he tailed Adrian, "Mr. Bolton, the lady Miss Shaw you spoke off, we could not locate her..."

"What was your relationship with him?"

"Xavier said that you are filthy, is it because you are similar to Willow?"

His voice attracted Cathy's attention.

Was this guy not the person in the parking lot?

So...

She frowned, "The down-to-earth and average-looking actress you mentioned..."

"You were looking for me?"
