Chapter 88 We Have A Big Problem

Cathy frowned. Why was Dorian looking for Adrian?

Before she married Adrian, didn't they agree to have nothing to do with each other?

What are they planning by suddenly inviting Adrian over, and telling him to not bring her along?

While she was hesitating, Evan had already ignited the car engine.

outside the car window. He said lightly. "I don't think you have returned to the Shaw family villa since we got married."

"There is nothing there for me."

Adrian leaned back on the leather seat of the car. He admired the gradually changing scenery

As Cathy looked at the gradually familiar scenery outside the car window, she became more and more moody.

She had indeed treated the Shaw family as her own family, and treated Dorian Shaw and Marion Staller as her biological parents for the first eighteen years of her life.

When she was eighteen, Marion had fallen sick. She wanted to give Marion a blood transfusion out of filial piety, but found out later that she was not their daughter.

Later, when the Shaw Family found Ember Shaw, they did not drive her away.

The reason Marion gave was because they wanted her to stay back to repay them for nurturing her.

not a sum that she and Chris could afford to pay back.

They had treated her as a servant of the Shaw family with this as a reason.

She had said that the hard work and money invested by the Shaw family for the past 18 years was

She had actually felt relieved when she decided to marry Adrian.

She just didn't expect that she would have to get involved with the Shaw family again, after just a month of being free from them.

The woman closed her eyes and smiled bitterly. "I have no more feelings for the Shaw family."

too powerful. What I can do is limited. I cannot decipher this."

These people were experts in the mouths of outsiders, and masters!

"She took the bait."

"My brother is the best!"

"A million."

Ember stared at the computer screen that still had a horror movie on. Anger was displayed all over

This was the tenth programmer she had hired!

shown at the corner of the computer screen.

"Trash! You are all trash!"

The programmer shrunk when he saw her infuriated. He suggested. "Young lady, I'd suggest you... Contact this number and solve it with money."

But her computer had been locked for the whole day, and she still couldn't unlock it!

Ember rolled her eyes at him. Finally, she gave in, and took out her phone. She dialed the number

"The other party is too powerful. I'm not exaggerating. I believe that no one in this city can solve

In the Bolton's family villa, Abner looked at the screen of his phone excitedly. "Arius, you were right! She couldn't crack it!"

Abner held his phone while praising Arius. He replied to Ember's text at the same time.

"Have you finally given in? I thought you would continue to find someone to crack it."

The little guy's mockery made Ember extremely annoyed.

She gritted her teeth and growled at her phone screen. "Tell me, how much do you want?"

Where was she going to get a million?

Ember was so outraged when she saw the price. It was like she had been punched. One million!

"Don't forget that your computer is still under my control."

Ember gritted her teeth.

She has to unlock the computer soon.

"Deal!"

"Arius, crack it for her."

computer are really important to her!"

Abner was startled. "What do you mean?"

He casually opened a photo.

"What... What's this?"

Abner sent a smiley face. "I am now robbing you."

"One million? You might as well rob me!"

computer..."

She had the evidence that Cathy had given birth to a child on her computer!

"I can read all the files on your computer. Aren't you afraid that I'd reveal everything on your

This was the most powerful evidence she had against Cathy.

There were photos of her with a big belly, and her strolling with her protruding belly. There was

She lowered her head and looked at the time as she thought of this.

Master Bolton should arrive soon.

After a long time, she finally made up her mind. "600 thousand. That is all I have."

Abner happily ran towards Arius with the transfer record. "It seems that the contents on her

If Adrian defends Cathy tonight, she will throw this evidence in Adrian's face!

She wanted Adrian to know what a disgusting and dirty woman Cathy is!

After they negotiated the price, Abner sent her the account number. It didn't take long before he received Ember's money.

Arius sighed. He held the mouse in his hand. He clicked onto a folder.

The woman in the photo was taking a walk in the park. It was Cathy.

Although he was only five, he and his brother had matured early, as their father had.

"She transferred the money over so quickly!"

Arius glanced at Abner in silence. "The contents of her computer... are also very important to us."

"Is this... Mommy?"

Abner was so shocked that he had subconsciously covered his mouth with his hand.

In the photo, Cathy was clearly pregnant!

Abner could no longer think straight.

Mommy had been pregnant before...

Does that mean that she had given birth to a child?

"This computer belongs to Mommy's sister."

But her belly was protruding in the photo.

Abner was stunned when he looked at the photo.

Where is her child then?

It turns out that Mommy was not only his and Arius'. She also has her own child...

Countless information circled around Abner's head. He felt as if his head was about to explode!

Compared to Abner's bewildered reaction, Arius was much calmer. "Mommy must have lost her Abner paused. He looked at the photo. His heart ached a little bit as he said, "It must have been Saying that, he clicked on another photo.

child."

"Ok."

"We will treat Mommy well in the future."

Abner pursed his lips. Just as he was about to say something, Ember texted over again, urging him

Abner sighed. "Our Mommy is dead. Mommy's child is dead."

Abner suddenly remembered. He slapped his forehead. "Daddy received a call in the afternoon, asking him to go to Shaw's villa..."

They still have confidence in their daddy.

"Why is she so anxious..."

"Then Daddy..."

to crack the computer as soon as possible.

"I think so. After all, many adults are concerned if their wives had ever given birth to other children."

Even if there was a 1 in a million chance, they didn't want Daddy to misunderstand Mommy.

The two brothers fell silent.

"So is she in a hurry to unlock the computer to show it to Daddy?"

But what if... What if Daddy cared?

"It is actually better for Mommy to tell Daddy about this matter herself."

Arius rubbed his eyebrows and said in annoyance.

"But Mommy would not tell."

problem."

"Do you want to unlock Ember's computer for her?"

Arius grabbed his pillow and said in a muffled voice. "What should we do, Arius? We have a big
