

Good bye 521

Good bye You Never Love Me chapter 521

Thinking of this, he frowned, and couldn't help wondering if he was Catherine's son.

Catherine just had an emotional breakdown, which seemed so real.

Also, what Catherine just said made sense.

With these thoughts in mind, the air around him dropped several degrees.

Could he really be Catherine's son?

He clenched his fists.

If he really was, it meant he was the son of the woman who killed Martha's mother.

Stefan cast down his eyes and bit his lower lip.

He couldn't be Catherine's son.

Even if he was, he would never admit it.

After having been through so much, he managed to get Martha to accept him again. He wouldn't let his efforts be in vain.

That night, Stefan looked out the window at the dark night worriedly, wondering where Martha was now.

He missed her very much, but now he couldn't leave here at all.

Suddenly, it occurred to him that tomorrow would be Martha and King Ducasse's wedding.

He knew Martha was coerced, but his heart ached at the thought of her marrying someone else.

At this moment, he suddenly heard some footsteps coming from outside the door.

He lowered his eyes and knew that Catherine's men was coming.

Only royal guards' footsteps could sound so rhythmical.

Soon, the door was pushed open by Catherine's guards, and several men walked into the room with serious expressions.

The leading guard looked at Stefan who was lying on the bed, snapped his finger and said coldly, "Take him away!"

"Yes."

When the guards heard this, they rushed up and immediately helped Stefan out of bed.

Stefan frowned, and snapped, "Go away!"

But the guards who took him away didn't seem to hear this, and just kept taking him to Catherine's bedroom.

Ten minutes later, Stefan was brought into Catherine's palace and was put down in a bed.

Soon, a doctor brought a bottle of medicine.

Stefan frowned, and he asked coldly, "What are you doing?"

"It's medicine that's good for you."

Catherine's guard responded lightly, and tilted his head to signal the doctor to feed Stefan directly.

Immediately after, Stefan was held down, and forcibly given medicine.

Seeing this scene, the guard's eyes darkened unconsciously.

The medicine was used for healing wounds, but the one who took it would be unable to move or speak temporarily.

Surely, it wouldn't do any harm to his health.

After all, Stefan was who Catherine cared the most now.

To let Stefan witness Martha and King Ducasse's wedding, Catherine had the medicine taken by Stefan. After the guard came back to his senses, he looked at the angry Stefan indifferently, and told the latter lightly.

"Catherine Queen Dowager wants you to attend the king's wedding tomorrow, and watch the king marry the queen with your own eyes."

Hearing this, Stefan gasped for breath, as if someone had stabbed him in the heart, the pain made it hard for him to even breathe.

Watching Martha marry the king!

Good bye You Never Love Me chapter 522

At this moment, his hatred for Catherine increased a bit, he didn't expect Catherine to be so despicable! If Martha saw him at the wedding tomorrow, she would misunderstand that he had accepted the fact and given up on her.

Stefan's pupils shrank, his hand clenched, and anger filled his eyes.

In order to achieve her goal, Catherine actually used such means!

But now he couldn't do anything to stop it from happening.

He gradually stiffened, and then couldn't move an inch. Even his voice became hoarse, and finally he couldn't speak a word.

Martha wasn't any better than Stefan.

In the middle of the night, she was woken up by the maids to change into the wedding gown.

Since Stefan was controlled by Catherine, Martha had to change into the wedding gown and let the maid dress her up.

After it was done, the maids left.

Soon, Martha was alone in the room.

She stared blankly at herself in the mirror, indifferently waiting for the wedding ceremony.

At this moment, she vaguely heard footsteps coming from outside the door.

At first, she didn't care who it was, and thought it was a court lady.

Unexpectedly, the person who came in was Catherine's trusted guard, and Catherine's only confidant.

Martha looked at him coldly, knowing that he must have been sent by Catherine.

She pursed her lips tightly, ignoring the visitor.

The guard took a look at Martha, his eyes darkened, and he turned and closed the door.

When Martha saw that he had closed the door, she frowned slightly, and looked at him with increasingly unfriendly eyes.

After the door was closed, the guard looked at Martha with a serious expression.

"I'm not your enemy. I'm here to help you."

A trace of doubt flashed across Martha's eyes. Her indifferent voice said, "What do you mean?"

As soon as she finished speaking, the guard introduced himself-

"My name is Horadus. I have been Catherine's bodyguard since I was a child, and I have followed her until now. I know all her secrets!"

Martha pursed her red lips tightly when she heard this, and she didn't understand what the visitor meant by saying that.

Horadus saw the doubt in Martha's eyes, and continued, "Since Catherine lost her lover and child, her mood has changed drastically. She beat and scolded us frequently. I couldn't bear the humiliation, so I came to you.”

Having said this, Horadus looked at Martha meaningfully, and his gloomy, somewhat bewitching continued, “Martha, I know all her secrets, and I’d like to help you.”

Martha, standing opposite him, frowned, and looked at the guard alertly.

“What do you want to say?”

She didn’t believe what Horadus said.

Horadus was Catherine’s confidant. She didn’t think he would betray Catherine so easily?

Maybe it was another conspiracy by Catherine.

Horadus sensed Martha’s hesitation and took a step forward.

“What I said is true. If it weren’t for Catherine, I wouldn’t have been tortured and humiliated. I am afraid I would be killed by Catherine before I could reveal her secrets, so I’ve been waiting for someone who can work with me to appear.”

Now, the one he thought that could work with him was Martha.

Good bye You Never Love Me chapter 523

“You’re special. As the eldest daughter of the Lucas family, if you reveal Catherine’s crimes to the public, they would sound credible and arouse public attention.”

Hearing this, Martha was still vigilant.

She looked at him coldly, and said with a sneer, “Just leave, I won’t believe you.”

Horadus became anxious, and stepped forward eagerly.

He raised his voice, and yet he had to suppress it for now.

“Martha, don’t you want to avenge your mother?”

“Catherine killed your mother, and even tried to kill you when you were in your country. Now she is threatening you with the man you love most and forcing you to marry the king. Can you bear all this?”

Horadus took steps forward excitedly, his eyes full of anger, and he said hoarsely.

“Don’t you want to avenge your mother? Or do you really want to marry the king now?”

Horadus’ questioning voice shook Martha’s mind.

Horadus was right. If she exposed Catherine’s sins at the wedding ceremony, the citizens’ good impression of Catherine would be ruined.

But she was afraid that it would return to peace in the end,

After all, Catherine had established prestige in Z Country.

Martha controlled her emotions and parted her red lips, “What the hell do you know?”

Horadus suddenly laughed, and said somewhat wickedly.

“I know all the dirty things Catherine did, but I can’t publicize them.”

He paused for a moment. With his eyes lowered, he continued, “I watched her feed the poison to the seriously ill old king, and I also watched the old king struggle with pain because of the onset of the poison. In the end, he died with a grimaced face.”

When Martha heard this, her complexion sank, her eyes filled with surprise.

She knew it was Catherine who killed the late king, but she didn’t expect Catherine to feed him the poison.

She didn’t expect Catherine to be so cruel.

“Also, Catherine sent her men to kill your mother.”

“Martha, I can tell whatever you want to know, including the details.”

Martha frowned tightly, but she still had doubts.

“Aren’t you her confidant? Why are you turning against her now?”

Horadus looked at Martha with a sneer, and said sarcastically, “I’m just her lackey.”

“There’s another reason. I’m also from Z Country, I don’t want to see people in my own country being fooled.”

“For so many years, the people of Z Country have been fooled by Catherine’s facade. I hope you can expose her evil deeds, and restore the original peace of the royal family.”

After Martha heard Horadus’ hypocritical words, she still didn’t choose to trust him.

She always felt that this man was very strange. Although what he said made sense, it was not the reason for him to betray Catherine.

A man like him wouldn’t say the real reason for him to betray Catherine.

Besides, Martha always felt that there was a mastermind behind Horadus. Yet she didn’t know who it was.

If she exposed all of Catherine’s evil deeds, she could avenge her mother.

But Stefan was still in Catherine’s hands.

She was afraid that Stefan would be killed if she did it.

Good bye You Never Love Me chapter 524

Martha thought of this, and immediately rejected Horadus’ proposal, “Leave. I won’t work with you.”

Stefan was still in Catherine’s hands, and she had no way to expose Catherine’s evil deeds at this time.

When she thought of this, her eyes were full of unwillingness.

At this time, Horadus, who was standing opposite Martha, seemed to have read her mind, with a wicked smile on his lips.

His cold voice sounded in the room, making Martha freeze in place.

“You are still worried about Stefan? I’m afraid it’s because you don’t know Catherine’s most important secret.”

“What?”

Martha frowned, and asked subconsciously.

Horadus sneered, “I really don’t understand what you are afraid of? Catherine will never hurt Stefan, because there is another relationship between them.”

Martha frowned even more tightly with confusion.

Another relationship?

Stefan had been living in C Country, and Catherine was from Z Country. Was there any other relationship between them?

Horadus noticed the doubt in Martha’s eyes at a glance, and asked with a sneer.

“Don’t you ever suspect Stefan’s parentage?”

“What do you mean by that?”

Martha asked in a cold voice, increasingly confused.

Horadus sneered, and spoke darkly about the relationship between Catherine and Stefan.

“Stefan is Catherine’s real son. Do you think she would threaten you with her own son’s life?”

When Martha heard this, her pupils shrank slightly, and her eyes were full of shock.

Stefan was Catherine’s biological son?

She couldn’t believe what Horadus said, and subconsciously refuted.

“They won’t be mother and son!”

She had known Stefan since she was a child, who was the only son of the Harrison family. How could he be Catherine’s biological son?

Moreover, Mr. And Mrs. Harrison clearly doted on Stefan.

At those words, Horadus widened his smile and looked at Martha mockingly.

“They have done a paternity test, which shows they are biological mother and son.”

Soon he added before Martha could speak, “Whether you believe me or not, they’ve recognized each other already.”

When Martha heard this, she clenched her hands tightly, and her face changed.

Stefan was clearly a child of the Harrison family.

But Horadus was Catherine’s confidant. There was no need for him to lie to her.

Her eyelids drooped, and after the shock, she still couldn’t believe it.

She never expected that Stefan turned out to be Catherine’s biological son.

Suddenly, she found it hard to breathe, and there was a slight pain in her heart.

If Stefan and Catherine were really mother and son, then Stefan was the son of the woman who killed her mother!

This realization made Martha’s shoulder tremble, and she couldn’t accept it at all.

She fell in love with the son whose mother killed her mother, and now was worried about his safety.

When Martha was in a daze, Horadus, who was standing not far away, approached her step by step.

“Don’t be too sad. Fortunately, you now know the truth.”

Although Horadus kept comforting Martha in friendly manners, but in fact, he just wanted to finish his task quickly and leave here as soon as possible.

He didn’t want to get into any trouble at this time.

Then he continued, “Actually, you don’t have to worry about Stefan at all. No mother will hurt her son.”

Martha bit her lip and remained silent.

Horadus’ gloomy and chilly voice sounded, “They’re just acting to force you to marry King Ducasse.”

Martha lowered her eyes, and after a long silence, she suddenly asked, “Why does she insist on me marrying King Ducasse?”

“To revenge on you. She didn’t want to be a queen back then, but was coerced by her family and put in the same dilemma as you are now.”

Horadus sighed, pretending to be helpless, and then urged Martha.

“There is not much time left before the wedding. You should think about what to do next. If you decide to bring down Catherine, then I can work with you at any time.”

After he finished speaking, he didn’t hear Martha’s reply, and sighed angrily.

“It’s getting late. I’m leaving first.”

Having said this, Horadus turned and left the room quickly.

Soon, Martha was left alone in the room, looking at the ground with complicated emotions.

She frowned, with a heavy expression on her face.

She was still unwilling to accept that Stefan was Catherine’s child.

If he was really Catherine’s real son, it meant that she had to give up on him.

Good bye You Never Love Me chapter 525

Three hours later, the wedding was imminent, a group of maids flooded into Martha’s room and dressed

Martha up.

After Martha put on her costume, she was taken to the main hall.

The main hall of the royal palace was luxuriously decorated, and various wines were placed on the west side.

In the main hall, there were many people standing. Since it was the king's wedding, all the ministers attended it with their family members.

Of course, the Caesars also attended it, and Eve stood aside and looked at Martha quietly.

She watched Martha dressed up to attend the wedding ceremony at this time, and her eyes sank.

In her opinion, Martha was sacrificing her happiness to find the murderer who killed her mother.

And it was worthwhile.

As Martha walked into the hall, she subconsciously searched for a familiar figure in the hall.

After looking around the hall, she did not see Louis, and sighed helplessly.

Jane's death gave Louis a heavy blow, she hoped he could move on gradually.

Yet, even if Louis came here, he couldn't help her.

Her aunt Even would not help her at all. Even only wanted her to marry into the royal family and found out the murderer who killed her mother.

Except Even, only Uncle Sam and Uncle Clark was the only people whom Martha knew.

When Martha's eyes turned to Sam, she could clearly see the helplessness in his eyes.

Obviously, he was confused about why she married the king even if she didn't want to.

On the contrary, Clark smiled gently at Martha and seemed to give her blessings sincerely.

After looking around, she finally lowered her eyes, and her eyes dimmed.

After a while, she pursed her red lips tightly, and silently turned to Catherine who was sitting on the host's seat at the end of the red carpet.

Catherine was wearing a gorgeous dress and smiling at her.

Yet Martha could see Catherine's contempt for her in the latter's eyes.

She suddenly remembered what Horadus said last night, tightened her hand, and turned to Stefan who was standing aside.

At this time, Stefan happened to be looking at Martha, his eyes filled with forbearance and pain.

He'd love to rush over now and stop Martha and King Ducasse's wedding.

But helplessly, now he could not move at all, nor could he say a single word.

He fixed his eyes on Martha tightly. Thinking that Martha was about to marry another man, he felt a dull pain in his heart.

Martha's eyes ached when she met Stefan's gaze.

She really wanted to run towards him right now and ask him, but now...

She knew she couldn't go there, and the truth that Horadus had said last night.

Stefan... could he really be Catherine's son?

She clearly felt that her eyes were sore, as well as the piercing pain.

Had he been threatened by Catherine for showing up at her wedding?

Or had he admitted his identity as Catherine's biological son? So he just watched her marry someone else?

While Martha's heart ached, she lowered her eyes and stopped looking at Stefan.

At this moment, she was afraid of knowing the truth.

She bit her lower lip tightly, trying to restrain her emotions.

At this moment, King Ducasse, who was standing next to her, took her hand at some point.

Martha felt his warm palm and subconsciously wanted to avoid it, but was held tightly by him. As soon as she raised her eyes, she met King Ducasse's gentle gaze, and only then did she see King Ducasse in formal attire. He was wearing a tailored suit, on which a totem was embroidered, showing the nobility of its owner. At this time, King Ducasse, seeing Martha dressed up to attend the wedding today, his golden eyes were full of affection. No matter what happened in the future, he would engrave Martha's beauty today in his mind forever.

Good bye You Never Love Me chapter 526

Soon after Martha appeared, there was a burst of melodious singing from the hall. After the singing sounded, everyone in the hall began to stand in a line, looking at the comer happily. The wedding of King Ducasse was naturally different from others'. The attendees were ministers and the person that presided at the wedding ceremony was the most famous presbyter. When the presbyter found it was about the time, he stepped forward and happily announced to the ministers. "Now, I announce that the wedding ceremony of King Ducasse has officially begun." After he finished speaking, there was a burst of cheers in the hall, followed by the sound of the piano music. King Ducasse held Martha's hand tightly again. "Let's go." Martha's red lips were tightly pursed, and she didn't reply. She just walked towards Catherine who was sitting in the host's seat step by step. Seeing Martha lift his foot, King Ducasse heaved a sigh of relief, and followed her pace, pretending to be calm. He thought that if Stefan appeared there, she would regret the marriage today. Unexpectedly, she was willing to have a wedding with him. At this moment, the uneasiness deep in King Ducasse's heart slowly disappeared. What his mother said was right, Martha may have chosen to marry him for the sake of the Lucas family's interests. When they walked in front of Catherine, they both stopped. At this time, everyone's eyes were on Catherine who was sitting on the host's seat. After showing a gentle and decent smile to everyone, Catherine said, "Today, I am very happy to witness the marriage between the king and the queen consort. Now I announce that the ceremony will begin." Hearing this, the presbyter turned to the ministers, and said with high spirits, "The king and the queen are invited to take the oath on the stage." Hearing this, King Ducasse looked Martha with unfathomable emotions. After taking the oath, Martha would be his wife, and no one could snatch her away from him. After returning to his senses, he smiled and said, "Let's go there." Martha pursed her red lips tightly and said nothing, just followed King Ducasse and walked towards the stage step by step. Soon, the two stood on the stage, facing each other. After the two of them stood still, the presbyter smiled and spoke about the oath. Before the wedding, Catherine found him and said that this was King Ducasse's wedding, so the wedding oath was naturally different, and it should reflect the king's kindness and importance to the country. It was precisely because of this that the oath that the presbyter would say today was completely different.

"Today is the grand wedding of King Ducasse of Z Country. I am very happy to stand here today to preside over the royal wedding. Next, I will preside over the oath of the two newcomers."

"King Ducasse fell in love with Lady Martha at the last palace banquet, and Lady Martha has a good impression of our king at that time."

"Later, after the two got along, King Ducasse and Lady Martha were finally together."

"Starting today, Martha, the eldest daughter of the Lucas family, is the queen of our Z Country. I believe that after having a queen, our Z Country will definitely get better and better."

When King Ducasse heard the oath, he slightly frowned.

He had been full of expectations for this wedding, but after seeing Martha's indifferent appearance, all his enthusiasm dissipated.

In fact, from the beginning, he knew that Martha was not in love with him now.

But even if he knew this, he still didn't want to let go.

Even now, he still didn't know if it's right for him to do so.

But at this time, Stefan who was standing by the side had red eyes and felt like angina when he heard these words.

He hated himself, for he could only watch Martha being forced to marry a man she didn't love.

He promised to protect her. Yet she married someone else for protecting him.

His eyes were scarlet, and it was as if someone had stabbed a knife into his heart, making it difficult for him to even breathe.

At this time, Catherine, seeing this scene, had a smile on her lips.

She looked proudly at Martha standing on the stage, and felt that the annoyance in her heart was replaced by pleasure.

Next, she would give back to Martha what she suffered back then.

Soon, the presbyter's words sounded again, interrupting Catherine's thoughts.

"Now I announce that the eldest daughter of the Lucas family has officially become..."

Before the presbyter finished speaking, King Ducasse interrupted him-

"Wait a moment."

Good bye You Never Love Me chapter 527

Everyone was waiting for the presbyter's announcement, but when they heard such words, they were stunned.

They looked at King Ducasse in puzzlement, their eyes full of doubts. They didn't understand why King Ducasse interrupted the presbyter at this time.

King Ducasse seemed to overlook the shock of the crowd, and only fixed his eyes on Martha who was standing opposite.

"Martha, look at me."

Martha frowned slightly, not understanding what King Ducasse was going to do.

She looked at King Ducasse with some doubts and more indifference.

After taking a few deep breaths, he raised his eyes and looked at Martha sincerely.

"Martha, will you marry me?"

When Martha heard this, her pupils constricted. She didn't expect him to ask such a question. She... never wanted to marry King Ducasse, and if it wasn't for Stefan, she probably wouldn't have changed into this dress.

She knew that if she didn't speak out her true thoughts now, she would never have another chance. With clenched fists, she bit her lip. After hesitation, she answered firmly and indifferently, "No, I won't!" Her words caused an uproar among the people present.

Soon, the family members of the ministers started whispering-
"What's wrong with the eldest daughter of the Lucas family?"
"That's the king of our Z Country, how dare she refuse!"
"What a rude and ignorant girl! It's a wedding. How can she choose this big date to mess around!"
"..."

It didn't take long for the discussion in the hall to become louder and louder. Upon hearing the comments of several ministers, Catherine's face was gloomy. She never expected that Martha would change her mind.

But at this time, King Ducasse standing in front of Martha was not surprised. He already knew Martha's answer, and all of this was within his expectations. However, he still wanted to ask Martha whether he could be considered as good as Stefan if he was very nice to her.

Soon, he spoke it out, "If I am very, very nice to you, will you still say no?"
Martha ignored the deep affection in his eyes, looked sideways at Catherine who was sitting on the host's seat, and refused in a cold voice, "Yea."
King Ducasse frowned, looked at Martha with a pitiful expression, and asked in a horse voice, "Why?"
Martha's eyes darkened, and she took a deep breath, and finally decided not to suppress her emotions, nor to be afraid of Catherine's threats anymore.

She raised her eyes, stared indifferently at King Ducasse in front of her, and said word by word-
"Because your mother killed my mother!"

As soon as she said this, everyone present widened their eyes in shock. King Ducasse looked at Martha in astonishment and disbelief. He parted his lips lightly, wanted to refute but couldn't find his voice.

When Sam, who was present, heard this, his pupils shrank slightly, and he looked at Catherine with a somewhat cold look in his eyes.

Was it Catherine who killed Elsie?
But... the Hopper family was the one who benefited back then, so how could she, Catherine, do anything to Elsie?
Eve also looked at Catherine with shock.

The murderer who killed her sister was Catherine?
She didn't expect that the murderer she had been looking for all this time turned out to be Catherine. After King Ducasse came back to his senses, he looked sideways at his mother Catherine, his eyes full of disbelief and questioning.

At this time, Catherine's face darkened, with a smouldering gleam of malice in her eyes.

Good bye You Never Love Me chapter 528

Before King Ducasse and everyone present could react, Martha's stern voice sounded in the hall-

“Catherine not only killed my mother, she killed the late king as well.”

“When the late king was seriously ill, Catherine fed him the poison and watched him die in pain after the poison took effect.”

Catherine, who was sitting at the host’s seat, suddenly turned pale when she heard Martha expose her conspiracy in public.

At this time, the attendees standing in the hall heard this and looked at Catherine with eyes full of astonishment and shock.

They didn’t expect Catherine to be such a person, and even the late king died of Catherine’s poison.

After everyone exchanged glances, some couldn’t help but comment.

“How can this be?”

“Really?”

“Martha is not lying, is she?”

Soon, someone began to speak up for Catherine, and doubt the veracity of Martha’s words.

“I’ve heard that Catherine is kind and generous all these years. How could she be that kind of person?”

“Yeah, I heard that Catherine doesn’t even dare to step on an ant to death, so how could...”

“But Martha is the eldest daughter of the Lucas family, she won’t say it without evidence, will she?”

More discussion in the hall annoyed King Ducasse even more.

After he came back to his senses, he frowned and clenched his hands into fists.

He turned to Martha, then shifted his gaze to his mother who had unfathomable emotions on her face.

He couldn’t believe what Martha said.

Catherine, after the shock, glared at Martha furiously and shouted, “Nonsense! I never did those things at all.”

She didn’t know why Martha wasn’t afraid of her now.

Yet she had to defend herself when so many people began to disapprove of her.

Then with a sullen face, she questioned Martha harshly, “Martha, why are you smearing me in front of so many people?”

Seeing this scene, the attendees didn’t know who to believe for a while.

Even King Ducasse, seeing his mother like that, couldn’t help but wonder if Martha made up such a lie in order not to marry him.

Just when everyone was vacillating, Horadus who was standing behind Catherine suddenly stood up and spoke.

“I can prove what Martha said is true.”

Horadus’ words astonished everyone else and all their eyes were on him.

They never expected that the person who finally testified against Catherine turned out to be her most trusted guard.

Even Catherine couldn’t believe that Horadus had betrayed her.

She looked at Horadus in disbelief, her golden eyes filled with shock.

Horadus had been working for her for more than twenty years and had always been her most capable assistant.

But now, this most capable assistant stood up to testify against her.

Horadus ignored Catherine’s incredulous gaze, walked straight to the center of the crowd, and finally stood in front of King Ducasse.

He bowed slightly, and respectfully stated all the evil things Catherine had done over the years-

“The eldest daughter of the Lucas family, Elsie, was indeed killed by Catherine Queen Dowager. After Elsie escaped from Z Country, Catherine Queen Dowager ordered her men to hunt down and kill Elsie.”

“She once lost trace of Elsie, but she never gave up killing Elsie.”

“In the end, Elsie was murdered in the sea by Catherine Queen Dowager’s men.”

Horadus paused for a moment and continued, “After killing Elsie, Catherine still harbored a lot of hatred, then she started to harm the late king.”

“In the beginning, she just fed the late king some small doses of poison. Later, she couldn’t take it anymore and directly fed the late king a very powerful poison.”

When he said this, his eyes turned red, and his voice choked with sobs when he spoke again-

“I- I saw the late king die in pain on the bed with his eyes wide opened.”

When King Ducasse heard these words, he shrank in pain, and his face turned pale.

Impossible, impossible.

How could his mother kill his father with her own hands?

Good bye You Never Love Me chapter 529

At this time, everyone in the hall was silent in shock, especially Eve who stood aside.

She didn’t expect that Catherine was the murderer who killed her sister, let alone that Catherine was so ruthless that she wouldn’t even spare her husband

For a while, they were lost for words.

While they were in shock, Horadus continued-

“Also, after Elsie died, Catherine tried to murder Martha, Elsie’s daughter.”

As soon as Horadus finished speaking, King Ducasse’s stern voice rang out.

“Impossible, Mother won’t do that.”

He didn’t believe that his mother would be so cruel to kill his father.

Martha, who was standing next to him, had been staring at Catherine with hatred.

If it weren’t for Catherine, her mother wouldn’t have died.

At this time, Seeing everyone’s suspicious eyes, Catherine could no longer sit still.

She got up and glared at Horadus who was standing not far away.

“Why, why do you slander me so much?”

Horadus turned his head and glanced at the angry queen dowager, and slowly told King Ducasse the whole process of the late king’s murder.

“King Ducasse, you should still have some impression of the late king’s serious illness!”

“Actually, the late king was only seriously ill at the time, not dying. It was after Catherine asked the doctor that the late king was given a different poison.”

When Horadus said this, his voice was a bit sad.

“At that time, I stood there, watching Catherine fed the late king the poison with a resentful face. The late king refused to drink it, but Catherine beat him and said, ‘you old jerk should have gone to Hell long ago!’”

“I also saw the late king struggle and die in agony.”

“It’s a scene that I will never forget!”

After Horadus finished speaking, King Ducasse took a sharp step back, feeling a dull pain in his chest.

His mother had always been gentle and kind, and loved his father very much, so he didn’t believe Horadus was telling the truth.

At this time, Eve clenched her hand into a fist.

She didn't expect that the person who killed her sister was Catherine. No wonder she had been searching for many years, but to no avail. Sam stared coldly at Catherine as well. He made up his mind he would let Catherine who killed Elsie pay the price. At this moment, Stefan, looking at Catherine who went crazy, felt a chill in his heart. Catherine actually killed her husband with her own hands; she was so insane. No matter what the truth of the past was, he would never admit that this woman was his mother. After seeing the different looks on everyone's faces, Catherine felt more and more resentment. In the end, she suddenly ran straight to the guard, drew out his saber, and stabbed at Horadus with it. "You dare to betray me. Go to hell!"

When everyone heard this, their bodies froze. They never thought that Catherine would suddenly go crazy. Horadus was taken aback; he didn't expect Catherine to be so crazy. Before he could react, Catherine stabbed him in the neck, and he lost his breath. King Ducasse watched Horadus standing in front of him fall backwards, and his golden pupils shrank accordingly. It wasn't until the moment when he saw his mother kill Horadus that he really realized that what Martha told Horadus just now was true. His mother really killed his father. His heart ached, and he retreated in a panic, shaking his head while retreating. "It's not like that; it's not real."

At this time, the ladies in the hall saw that Catherine had killed her confidant, and they screamed in fright. They kept retreating and fleeing in all directions, and all of a sudden, the hall was in chaos. At the same time, Catherine's eyes were only fixed on Martha who was standing not far away, her eyes were full of viciousness. "I want you to die, I want you to die now!"

As she spoke, she raised the saber in her hand and stabbed directly at Martha. Stefan saw this scene, his eyes bloodshot. He wouldn't allow anything to happen to Martha! Just when Catherine raised her saber and stabbed at Martha, Stefan broke free from the effects of the drug in his body and ran with all his might to stand in front of Martha, using his own body as a shield. In the next second, Catherine's saber pierced Stefan's chest, In an instant, blood soaked Stefan's entire chest, making him paler and paler. He lost all his strength and fell on Martha's shoulder, his thin lips parted slightly- "I finally protected you once."

Good bye You Never Love Me chapter 530

Martha's pupils shrank slightly as she supported Stefan's body in a panic and asked nervously, "Stefan, how are you?"

Eve and Sam watched them with shock. They never expected Catherine to go crazy and lose her mind like that, let alone Stefan risking everything to shield Martha from any harm.

King Ducasse stared blankly at the scene in front of him, feeling a very uncomfortable pain in his heart. His mother was really crazy!

She killed Horadus and now wanted to hurt Martha.

He clenched his hand, complicated emotions filling his eyes.

He was obviously closer to Martha just now, but he didn't intend to shield Martha at all.

And Stefan, at such a long distance, rushed over to protect Martha.

He didn't admit that he lost to Stefan utterly until just now.

Seeing Stefan's body soaked in blood, Catherine took steps back incredulously.

She actually hurt her birth son again, and her son was injured again in order to protect Martha.

With increasing gloominess in her eyes, she glared at Martha.

The next second, she questioned, "Why! Why did you take it for her!"

She glared at King Ducasse and Stefan standing in front of her, eyes full of anger.

"Why do you all protect her!"

After Catherine finished speaking, she cried louder and suffered a severe emotional breakdown.

"Why are you all blaming me? You don't even know why I am what I am today!"

"Do you know what Martha's mother did to me? If it weren't for her mother, I wouldn't be where I am today!"

"It's all Elsie's fault!"

Catherine roared hysterically, but no one could feel her pain.

In the eyes of everyone present, she was a murderer who killed the late king and Elsie, and thus deserved punishment.

In the end, a minister reacted and shouted in the direction of the entrance.

Guards! Come and catch this criminal!"

Hearing this, the guards took two steps forward and tentatively looked in King Ducasse's direction.

They didn't get any response from King Ducasse.

But the ministers kept urging them to catch Catherine. Only then did the guards step forward and apprehend Catherine, who had gone mad.

After being caught, Catherine struggled frantically, shouting while struggling-

"Let go of me! I'm not wrong, it's all Elsie's fault!"

King Ducasse felt very sad when he saw his mother who was screaming in pain not far away.

At this moment, King Ducasse's heart felt like it had been stabbed with a knife, making it difficult for him to even breathe.

He felt distressed that his mother had become the way she was now, and even more distressed that his father, who he had always respected and loved, died at the hands of his mother.

At this time, Catherine's screams still filled the hall.

"I'm not wrong, it's all their fault! They deserve death. They deserve it!"

After King Ducasse came back to his senses, he looked at his mother with more complicated emotions.

After a while, he took a step forward and asked in pain, "Why, why did you kill my father!"

"Father has always been so nice to you, why did you kill him!"

Catherine's eyes turned red, and she replied angrily, "Because he deserves to die, and so do you! You all deserve to die!"

"Do you think I really spoil you?"

She sneered contemptuously, and the words she said were like a sharp knife piercing into King Ducasse's heart.

“You are the same as your father, you deserve to die! If it weren’t for you, how could I become what I am today!”

“When you were born, I wanted to strangle you! I hate you, and I hate your face like his even more!”
When King Ducasse heard these words, his eyes darkened and he felt an overwhelming chill in his heart.