

Chapter 11 Worst Embarrassment

---

The slap dazed Marina for a long time. She held her red cheek and blinked countlessly.

What happened? Did Loraine slap her just now? <sup>18</sup>

The moment Marina came to her senses, she screamed ferociously and charged toward Loraine.

"You bitch! How dare you hit me?"

She raised her hand, intending to slap Loraine back.

But how could she succeed while Cayson was there?

Cayson shielded Loraine and pushed the lunatic away.

Marina stumbled and fell to the floor with a thud.

Pointing at Marina, Cayson bellowed, "Keep your hands to yourself, woman. Otherwise, you will get something worse than a slap!" <sup>1</sup>

The murderous glare in Cayson's eyes sent a shiver down Marina's spine.

However, she refused to back down. She screamed towards the entrance of the shop.

"Someone just slapped me! Where are the security

Chapter 11 Worst Embarrassment  +120 Points at most

The slap dazed Marina for a long time. She held her red cheek and blinked countlessly.

What happened? Did Loraine slap her just now? <sup>18</sup>

The moment Marina came to her senses, she screamed ferociously and charged toward Loraine.

"You bitch! How dare you hit me?"

She raised her hand, intending to slap Loraine back.

But how could she succeed while Cayson was there?

Cayson shielded Loraine and pushed the lunatic away.

Marina stumbled and fell to the floor with a thud.

Pointing at Marina, Cayson bellowed, "Keep your hands to yourself, woman. Otherwise, you will get something worse than a slap!" <sup>1</sup>

The murderous glare in Cayson's eyes sent a shiver down Marina's spine.

However, she refused to back down. She screamed towards the entrance of the shop.

"Someone just slapped me! Where are the security guards? Guards, help me!"

Following her non-stop screams, two security guards rushed to the scene.

Marina feigned severe pain. She pointed at Loraine and Cayson and said, "They beat me. Arrest them now!"

Chapter 11 Worst Embarrassment  +120 Points at most getting arrested by the security guards. But to her greatest surprise, they pinned her to the floor.

Confused, Marina struggled hard.

"Are you nuts? Why are you doing this to me? They hit me. You should be arresting them instead!"

These words fell on deaf ears. The security guards said to Cayson respectfully, "Mr. Benton, we have caught the troublemaker. What should we do with her?"

Cayson said coldly, "Throw her out."

"Yes, sir."

The two security guards started dragging Marina out of the shop roughly.

Marina continued struggling. She looked at Loraine angrily.

"Fuck off! It was that bitch who slapped me. You should be throwing her out. What are you doing?"

Cayson stepped forward and looked straight at the panic-stricken woman. "This shopping mall and even this piece of land are owned by Universe Group. For your information, Loraine is the owner of everything."

Marina's eyes widened in disbelief. The next second, she laughed mockingly.

She couldn't help but wonder why Cayson was so fond of Loraine that he could tell such a lie for her. How can the shopping mall of his company be Loraine's? What a joke!

Marina waved his words aside. She decided to use her identity to get off the hook.

"Let me go! He is the CEO of Universe Group. So what? Do you know who I am? My brother is Marco Bryant, the CEO of Bryant Group. If he finds out that you treated me in this manner, you won't get away with it." 4

The security guards didn't cower despite her threat. They dragged her to the gate of the mall.

Marina was dropped on the tarred ground like a sack of rice. Her back ached immediately. Her clothes were ruffled and her makeup was ruined. She looked nothing like a distinguished woman from a rich family.

The passers-by pointed and gossiped about her.

Marina wished the ground would open up and swallow her whole. This was the worst embarrassment she had ever faced. 1

After standing up painstakingly, she shouted toward the mall, "You have bitten more than you can chew! I'll call my brother over right now. He will deal with all of you!"

In the conference room of Bryant Group, Marco was in a meeting when Carl knocked on the door and came in with a phone.

"Mr. Bryant, your sister called."

"What's the matter? Is it so urgent?" Marco asked, frowning deeply.

Carl replied in a low voice, "She said that she was bullied at a shopping mall and asked that you come to help her now." 2

Marco turned to look at Carl. His cold and sharp eyes made the latter shiver.

"Carl, are you too idle recently?"

The matter wasn't a big deal as far as Marco was concerned. Why did Carl interrupt his meeting because of that?

Carl explained in a fit of panic, "Mr. Bryant, she said your ex-wife slapped her."

Carl stared at his boss's face warily as he spoke. When he saw Marco's face darken, he bit his lower lip and didn't have the guts to continue.

"What else?" Marco asked impatiently.

"Your ex-wife is in the company of Cayson Benton, the CEO of Universe Group. They are currently shopping together!" Carl blurted out in one breath.

Marco's eyebrows furrowed. His eyes glistened with

Chapter 11 Worst Embarrassment 🎁 +120 Points at most displeasure. Loraine was with Cayson right now!

Marco stood up abruptly and said, "The meeting is suspended. Get the car ready." 18