Chapter 215 The Masked Singer

Lily had already prepared a backup plan in advance to prevent accidents. If Loraine was more popular than her, she would carry out the plan B.

The music suddenly became ear-piercingly loud, and the stage lights began to flash vastly. Her stage appeared to be comparable to the stage of Universe Group.

Parked on the square was a black Lincoln.

Sitting in the car, Marco could see Shepherd's performance through the window.

He smoked as he fixed his gaze on Alice on stage, remaining only with the cigarette butt.

He was still shocked even though he had listened to Shepherd's songs countless times.

Was Loraine missing him when she wrote this song?

After putting off his cigarette, Marco sent a message.

"Hit it!"

He had wronged her for three whole years.

Thankfully, God provided him with a different chance to be involved in Loraine's past.

This time, he would seize the opportunity.

Immediately, the audience heard a rumble above their heads.

Looking up, they saw a huge helicopter hovering above the stage.

The loud, thunderous noise from the rotor blades overwhelmed the other noises in the area, making it difficult to hear anything else.

After that, two more airships slowly drew out a large banner as they rose from the top floors of the shopping malls.

The banner had large written words—Alice, welcome back.

Then, countless petals rained from the sky.

Immediately, light shone on Loraine as she stood on the stage.

At this precise moment, she was more brilliant than all the neon lights in the city combined.

It was quite a surreal moment for Loraine. She stood dazed in the middle of the stage.

The rhythm of the music then abruptly changed. They were now going to perform a piece of rock music.

The drumbeats became hotter and denser as Carlos, the drummer, stood up and let out a long howl.

The atmosphere changed instantly when the band subtly changed its style, and it became electrifying.

The crowd went wild. They cheered, waving their arms and jumping up and down in excitement.

Everything Lily had meticulously planned was being disregarded right now. The only thing anyone could see was the radiant Alice on the stage. Making it even worse, Lily's paid supporters were also drawn to Loraine.

The audience was still entranced by the music at the song's ending and took some time to come to their senses. The raw emotion of the crowd filled the stadium, with some even shouting out the band's name between sobs.

Long after the music had stopped, the fans who had initially mocked the band were amazed and dared not speak.

The singers that Henson Group had hired stopped performing after realizing they had lost.

Lily became so enraged that she threw the microphone aside and glared angrily at Universe Group's stage.

That was impossible! Didn't they claim that Alice never showed up?

Lily grabbed the microphone and sprinted off the stage after reflecting on this. As she crammed herself into the crowd, she yelled, "You can't be Alice! Who the hell are you?"

The nearby individuals covered their ears in response to the microphone's harsh sound. They then snapped out of their excitement and turned to face the stage.

Universe Group had never disclosed Alice's information. Why did she suddenly appear?

Lily assumed she knew the truth and became complacent when the band members didn't respond.

"It appears that my hunch was correct. Alice didn't come at all. For the past three years, you haven't worked together. How can you be able to perform as well as you used to? Surely it's a fake! I'm sure it's a prior recording! I believe that your concert is a scam."

For a moment, the audience exchanged confused glances.

Instantly, a fan stood out and retorted, "Who the hell are you? You can donate your ears if they are useless. Live singing is completely different from an audio recording. How can you think it was the prior audio?"

Lily looked at the mysterious Alice, snorted and said, "Sing a song that Alice has never sung before if you didn't lip-synch."

Unexpectedly, an indifferent voice came from the stage.

"Lily, not everyone is accustomed to faking like you do. You wouldn't be in this situation if you had paid closer attention to music."

When the mysterious Alice finally spoke, many people recognized her voice.

Lily's eyes widened in disbelief. She screamed in shock, "You are Loraine!"

The female performer wearing a mask smiled and abruptly removed it, exposing her real face.

"Yes. It's me!"

The audience took a deep breath and exclaimed, "Oh my God! Loraine is Alice!"

Chapter 216 A New Song

When Lily saw Alice take off her mask and reveal Loraine's face, she still couldn't believe it.

Her face paled. "You are lying," she yelled as she pointed at Loraine. "You are not Alice!"

"Sorry to burst your bubble, but I am Alice," Loraine said as she stared at Lily as though she were trash by the side of the road.

"Rubbish! Loraine, you replaced Alice by lip-synching, didn't you?"

Lily was dazed and in denial.

If Loraine was Alice, it meant Lily would become a laughingstock.

However, no one paid attention to Lily. Their eyes were fixed on Loraine.

Loraine stood calmly in the middle of the stage and bowed to the crowd.

"My dear fans, I am sorry for disappearing for three years. I am grateful for the love you've shown Alice and Shepherd."

The crowd was quiet, and everyone listened attentively.

"Three years ago, I lost everything, including myself. It took me some time to summon the courage to face you with my newfound self." Loraine stood tall, her expression fierce. "Next, I'm going to perform a new song. I composed it with the band some days ago, so it might not be perfect, but I want you to listen. Hopefully, you will like it."

She turned toward her band members. Godwin nodded and sat down with his guitar. The rest were equally ready.

Despite everything, Lily laughed. "Loraine, stop bluffing! The band members have only been in Vagow for a few days. How did you compose a new song in such little time?"

Loraine gave no response. Instead, she adjusted her headset, and signaled her band members to begin.

Inside his car, Marco's eyes were beaming with expectation.

He was looking forward to this performance more than anyone else. He had been sure that Alice was Loraine all this time. Loraine was going to blow everyone away again after being away for three years.

As Loraine sang, Marco's expression became bewildered.

This new song was very energetic. The melody and the lyrics were top-notch.

The tune made people feel free and relaxed while Lorraine sang.

He was sure that the song would be a mainstream hit when it was released.

However, it was nothing like the older songs of Shepherd.

It wasn't a love song.

If the older songs were about falling in love, then this song was about throwing that love away and finding happiness alone.

Every verse stung his heart.

It was like a sharp pain in his chest. He thought of how he had hurt Lorraine and wished he could dash to the stage to take her in his arms and apologize.

Cold sweat broke on Lily's forehead as she watched Lorraine perform on stage. She tried to find a flaw in the song, but couldn't.

She didn't think that Lorraine could compose new music in such little time!

If she could find a piece, a phrase that was similar to another song, she could say that Lorraine was plagiarizing.

Surprisingly, Lily couldn't find any mistake till the song ended.

She stood there frozen for a moment until she felt the fans press forward, pushing her. Luckily, she managed to move out of the way of the crowd to the corner, panicking. If she didn't act fast, she could have been trampled.

Lily was engulfed in fear. She shrank in the corner and didn't move until the crowd passed.

The fans ahead of her screamed out maniacally.

No one questioned if Loraine was Alice.

The new song made it impossible for Loraine to pretend to be Alice by doing a cover of her previous songs.

Even though this new song had a different theme, Alice's voice and style remained the same.

The fans went berserk! They were captivated by the performance, even after three years.

Universe Group and Henson Group had begun live streaming, and the online fans went wild.

"What is going on? Is Loraine Alice?"

"I would have to take a whole year to process this! Loraine, the beautiful CEO of Universe Group, is also Alice, the female lead singer of Shepherd. Goodness! Are there any more surprises?"

"Actually, there were so many clues. There were so many theories on the Internet, and Loraine never denied them. We just couldn't believe it."

"I'm too illiterate to come up with any other compliment for her. All I can say is that Loraine is amazing!"
