

Chapter 230 Legal Case

Marco looked at the statement released by Universe Group with a frown. When he finished reading it, his mood changed drastically.

He had made all sorts of guesses as to the possible relationship between Mr. T and Loraine, but an uncle-niece relationship was one he never thought of.

Marco had previously decided that he would prevent them from contacting each other after this whole matter was over, not knowing that Mr. T was Loraine's family.

No wonder the two of them were so close and Wesley could easily enter Loraine's apartment.

He sighed in relief, glad that he had finally learned that Wesley posed no threat whatsoever. But he suddenly remembered something and his heart sank.

He was pursuing his ex-wife while consistently offending her uncle and seeing him as a rival in love! How on earth would he be able to make up for it?

He became very anxious as he turned the matter over in his head.

A thought slowly floated into his mind and his eyes became fierce.

"Carl, find out who posted those photos online," he ordered. "I must teach them a lesson."

Even if he could not win his way into the good graces of Loraine's family, he couldn't sit back and just let people get away with slandering Loraine, especially this particular individual who had gone to great lengths.

After the statement detailing Wesley's identity was released, the trend on the internet reversed again.

Mr. T's fans were surprised at this new information. Their idol was not only the CEO of Starlight Entertainment but also a Torres.

The rumor that he was angling for fame and fortune was immediately crushed. After all, a Torres didn't need to do any of that.

Besides, Loraine was his niece, so it was impossible for them to be engaged in an orgy.

As for those who were in support of their supposed union, even though they were heartbroken to hear that the duo were uncle and niece, they were glad that the rumor about Wesley was not true.

After a while, since there was nothing sensational about the issue anymore, the topic stopped trending and people stopped paying attention to it.

In the end, there was only one question left: who posted the photos?

The person had been so brave that they dared to spread a false rumor about the CEO of Universe Group.

In her apartment, Mia could do nothing but watch how Universe Group quashed the rumors she had sparked about Loraine.

She slumped down on the sofa, with only one thought in her mind.

She was doomed.

The president of Starlight Entertainment was Loraine's uncle. She had tried to ruin Loraine's reputation. If the Torres family found who had spread the rumors, they would make sure she paid dearly for it.

Just as she was thinking of this, her phone vibrated.

Mia picked up the phone and took a look at it, and her eyes widened in shock.

It was a letter sent by the legal department of Universe Group!

Mia clicked on the e-mail with trembling fingers. She was already sweating profusely.

The email informed her that Universe Group was suing her for spreading false rumors and attempting to ruin Loraine's reputation while Starlight Entertainment was suing her for loitering, taking photos illegally and invasion of privacy.

The damages and other compensation she was required to pay to avoid a court case added up to one hundred million dollars!

How on earth was she going to get one hundred million dollars?

Mia gritted her teeth in disbelief.

Suddenly, she received a phone call. It was from her former agent, Allie.

"Have you received the legal documents?" she asked.

Mia threw caution to the wind and decided to challenge her. "Do you have any evidence? How can you accuse me of taking photos illegally? Starlight Entertainment is suing me for no reason, and in return, I'll sue you guys for slander!"

Allie chuckled in amusement. "Take a good look at the email. The attachments contain the surveillance footage and other evidence that the company has found. If you want to settle out of court, we'll be waiting for you."

Mia's face turned pale, but she still refused to accept defeat. Instead, she tried to be stubborn. "It's just a compensation of one hundred million dollars, isn't it? Of course, I can afford it!"

Then Mia hung up. But as she put down the phone, she was already regretting the statement she had made.

How could she afford to lose one hundred million dollars? She had no choice but to call her father for help.

But as soon as the line got connected, she was shocked to hear her father scolding her.

"Mia Tucker! How dare you call me? I gave you lots of resources to make you popular. I wanted you to expand your social connections, not for you to cause trouble. How dare you provoke the big shots in the society? Who do you think will come to your aid?"

Mia was dumbfounded.

How had her father found out about it so soon?

Did the Torres family contact her family?

But her father was not done yet. "Why did you mess with Bryant Group? Now, our family business in Haalidia has been hit hard. You better tender an apology to them right now, or I won't give you any more money."

Bryant Group? Didn't Lily tell her that Marco wouldn't take any action?

With this in mind, Mia quickly said, "Dad, calm down. Do you know Lily? Her father owns Henson Group. She's going to get married to Marco soon. She'll help —"

But before she could finish the statement, her father shouted from the other end of the line, "You were cheated! Don't you know that Henson Group is going

"What the hell!"

Mia was shell shocked to hear this.

Chapter 231 The Takeover Of Henson Group

In the Torres family's villa, Rowan was sitting on his chair in the study, with a cold expression. Only when he turned to look at his niece did his eyes become filled with tenderness.

"Lorrie, what are you going to deal with Mia Tucker?"

Lorraine said thoughtfully, "I'll do what the law allows us to. But there is one thing I don't understand."

"What's that?" Rowan asked.

"Mia's contract has been terminated by Uncle Wesley's company. Yet, she's still causing trouble in our country. I think this thing is not as simple as it seems. She must have some backers somewhere."

"Yeah," Rowan nodded in agreement. "But don't worry. I've sent someone to investigate it."

Not long after, Lorraine was sent a copy of Mia's schedule of the day and her call log too.

Going through it and seeing a familiar name on the log, Lorraine smiled with interest.

Her guess was right.

All of this had something to do with Lily.

Just then, her assistant handed her another document.

It briefly stated that due to the issue of the land and the failed concert, Henson Group was now on the verge of bankruptcy.

Lorraine grinned cunningly as she read it.

She was formulating a plan in her mind already.

She immediately called her subordinate and ordered, "Buy as many shares of Henson Group as possible at the lowest price. Do it right now!"

As long as she held more than fifty percent of the shares, she would become the biggest shareholder of Henson Group.

The thought of how Lily's face would look when she found out about this made Lorraine smile.

A week later, Henson Group held a general shareholders' meeting.

Lily went with Liam, not knowing what was going to be discussed.

The current financial situation was so tight that she was wearing clothes that were mostly out of style instead of new designer ones, and this made her feel very ashamed.

But she had no choice. Liam would scold her if she asked him for any money. In fact, if she had any choice, she would not have come with him to the

But suddenly, she saw a familiar figure at the entrance to the conference room.

When Lily finally identified who it was, her face suddenly turned dark and she rushed over to her angrily.

"Lorraine Torres, what are you doing here? This is my company. You're not welcome here!"

Lorraine glanced at her and said indifferently, "It's no longer yours."

Lily thought she was joking. She turned and shouted in the direction of the gate, "Where's the security? Guards, get this bitch out of here!"

At this point, Liam had caught up with them. Seeing the situation, he quickly scolded Lily, "Shut up!"

"Dad, what's wrong with you? This bitch shouldn't be here. Kick her out!" Lily retorted stubbornly.

His face red with embarrassment, Liam apologized to Lorraine, "Miss Torres, I apologize. Please don't take it to heart."

Lorraine only smiled and said nothing in response. Instead, she turned and walked into the conference room gracefully.

Lily's eyes widened in surprise and she turned to her father and demanded angrily, "Dad, what's going on?"

"Why is Loraine here? Why's she allowed to attend our meeting?"

Liam was embarrassed. He had not given his daughter any notice of the current situation. He just didn't know how to go about it.

Just then, Lily noticed that Marco was walking toward them.

Her eyes lit up at the sight of him. Lily immediately forgot what had just happened and rushed to meet him.

"Marco, why are you here? Ah! I get it. It's you, right? Are you the new major shareholder of Henson Group?"

She knew that Henson Group had been going through financial problems, so they had no choice but to sell shares.

Since Marco was present, Lily thought he had bought the shares of Henson Group in order to help her family get through the difficult times.

This made her feel very shy and grateful. But Marco didn't even look at her.

He looked around until he caught sight of Loraine. Then he walked over and sat beside her with a smile.

Seeing that someone sat beside her, Loraine turned to look and found that it was Marco.

She knew immediately that he had come to take advantage of Henson Group.

Lily went into the conference room after them, but she was shocked when she saw Loraine and Marco seated together.

"What the hell is going on here?" she demanded angrily.

Loraine chuckled in response. "Surprise! From now onwards, I'm the biggest shareholder of Henson Group."

Lily turned to her father in disbelief. "Dad, is it true?"

Liam's face turned pale and he nodded helplessly.

"Impossible!" Lily shouted, refusing to accept it. She turned to Marco and asked him, "Marco, you're the major shareholder of Henson Group, aren't you? I know it can't be Loraine!"

Marco replied modestly, "I'm the second biggest shareholder. Loraine is the biggest."

Lily's legs went limp and she almost cried.

How did this happen?

This meant that in the future, Henson Group would be an affiliate of Universe Group, so she would have to be under the control of Loraine.

As far as she was concerned, this was unacceptable.

Lily's face turned red and her eyes were practically flaming. It was as if she was determined to fight Loraine.

Lorraine poked her even further by asking, "Do you have any other questions?"

Before Lily could say anything, Liam immediately bowed and grinned. "No problems at all. The Fowler family will follow and support you now and in the future!"

When Liam noticed that his daughter was staring at him in shock, he glared at her, as if to warn her to keep quiet and no longer challenge Lorraine.

Lily didn't know what to do in response to what was happening. Her heart was trembling in despair as she realized the truth: that the Fowler family was doomed.

Having no other choice, she sat down quietly in her seat, her face white as a sheet and her lips sealed in silence.
