

Goodbye My Alpha Chapter 251

Stella nodded at Frank and was about to return to the hospital when Andre's voice came from upstairs.

"Stella, Alpha Knight has asked you to come up."

Stella had no choice but to go upstairs obediently.

"What does Alpha Knight want from me?"

Andre was Stella's cousin, and they both worked for Griffon.

However, Andre grew up with Griffon, so he was closer to him than Stella.

"You'll know once you get in."

Andre motioned for Stella to enter the study by herself.

Stella nodded, pushed the door open, and entered.

"Alpha Knight, you were looking for me?"

Griffon was sitting in front of the study, staring at his computer. When he saw Stella coming in, he only raised his eyebrows and nodded to the side of his desk.

"Take this to her."

Griffon indicated the small white leather bag and a few medicine boxes.

When Stella saw the things on the table, she was happy she'd had the medication repackaged.

Now that it was in Griffon's hands, Stella was glad that she had replaced the packaging when giving it to Taya to avoid arousing suspicion.

"Yes, Alpha."

Stella took the bag and medicine, turned around, and was about to leave when Griffon stopped her.

“Is there anything else I can do for you?”

Griffon took out a business card and handed it to her.

“This is Dr. George in Chicago. He’s been looking for a suitable heart for Taya. Contact him in the future.”

Stella had heard of Dr. George, a world–famous cardiology expert.

And Griffon had asked him to find a matching heart for Taya!

Surely, he must care for the human.

Why else would he hire such a famous expert to look for a heart for her?

Goodbye My Alpha Chapter 252

“When he finds a heart, you can take her directly to have transplant surgery, and you don’t have to tell me about anything related to her in the future.”

His cold words interrupted Stella’s guess.

He wouldn’t have such an attitude if he cared about her.

Obviously, he wanted to do something good for her at last for dumping her.

As for whether Dr. George could find the heart or not and whether Taya survived, he obviously didn’t care at all.

Such indifference could only mean that the two of them had broken up.

However, his efforts might be in vain. Taya’s condition may not wait for a suitable heart anymore.

Stella thought for a moment. Griffon didn’t care about Taya, so she said nothing more. She replied with a “yes” and left with her things.

After she left, Griffon couldn’t help tightening his grip on his laptop.

When Stella left, she remembered that she had forgotten to ask for the address but did not dare to return. She could only ask Andre, who was still standing at the door. “Do you know where Ms. Palmer lives?”

Andre nodded. When Taya first started seeing Griffon, he would always pick her up from that small house, so he knew where she lived. "Shall I take you there, or should I send you the address?"

Stella glanced at the medicine and said, "Give me the address. Alpha Knight may need you at any time."

Andre nodded. He took out his phone and sent the address to Stella.

Stella took Taya's things, got in the car, and drove to the small house

As soon as she got there, she saw a group of pack guards in black and Jackson, the Alpha of the Sterling Pack.

The man leaned against the doorframe. He looked fatigued, but even at this distance, Stella could feel the power radiating from him.

Goodbye My Alpha Chapter 253

Stella recognized immediately recognized Alpha Sterling.

In fact, she'd studied medicine because of his friend.

Stella refused to think about the past anymore. Instead, she walked over and asked, "Alpha Sterling, why are you standing guard in front of Ms. Palmer's auor?"

Jackson heard a familiar voice. He slowly opened his bloodshot eyes. When he saw the woman before him, he was slightly surprised. "Stella?"

Stella saw that his eyes were red as if he hadn't slept for a long time. She couldn't help but furrow her brows. "Alpha Sterling if you continue to push yourself like this, your body will suffer. You might be a strong wolf, but your pack doctor's skills are insufficient to bring someone back to life."

Jackson knew that she was mocking Eric, so he didn't reply. Their feud was none of his business. "Why are you here?" he asked.

Compared to the grudge between her, and Eric, he was more concerned about why she had come to look for Taya.

Stella picked up the bag in her hand and waved it. "I came to deliver something to her."

Jackson recognized the bag. It was the same one that Taya had carried to the banquet ent someone to find the bag, it was snatched away e, and it fell into fon's hands.

Stella must be here to run errands for Griffon.

“Why, Stella, are you working for Griffon now?”

She had learned a lot of medical skills at university. After coming back, she did not return to the Sinclair family. Instead, she came to Arcadia to find her cousin, Andre.

They both scoffed at the Sinclair family and followed Griffon.

If Eric found out about this, he would be furious.

Andre didn't care. After all, he had run away from home since childhood, but Stella... was Eric's taboo.

“Whom I work for shouldn't have anything to do with you.”

Jackson was that man's friend, so Stella wouldn't show him any respect.

But why was he standing guard at Taya's house?

Stella was very confused, but she didn't want to ask.

She was just here to deliver something and was not interested in anything else.

She raised her chin at Jackson, not caring if she was directly challenging an Alpha. He was too weak to do anything, and no one would dare do anything to someone who worked directly for Alpha Knight Step aside.”

Goodbye My Alpha Chapter 254

Stella knocked on the door, but there was no response.

Taya must have fallen asleep. Just as she was thinking about how to open the door, a roar came from behind her, and she turned to see a woman in her half human and half wolf lycan form.

“Who are you? Why are you guarding my house?”

Harper had sent several messages to Taya but received no response, and her calls went unanswered. She was very worried about her, so she decided to go to the house.

As soon as she got there, she saw tons of pack guards in black. They blocked Jackson and Stella, so Harper didn't see them. All she knew was there was never a good reason for pack guards to be at a human's home.

Her wolf's protective instincts for Taya immediately kicked up, and she partially shifted and roared at them.

Jackson heard Harper's voice and motioned for his pack guards to get out of the way.

Only then did Harper see Jackson. "Why are you blocking the door of my house with so many people?"

Harper looked at him angrily, her wolf eyes flashing with rage.

He had kicked Taya twice before. Was he planning to come and do it again in person?

Jackson lowered his head apologetically. "I'm sorry, Harper. I have something to discuss with Taya."

Harper clenched her fists and said coldly, "Wasn't she taken away by Griffon?"

Harper didn't know that Taya was back. She wanted to drive Jackson away, but then she saw his eyes.

The harsh words she was about to say were held back. After all, he was like her younger brother who she had taken care of since childhood, and it was difficult to forget that when he looked so upset.

"Taya is back. She doesn't want to see me."

Harper rolled her eyes at him again. "You tried to kill her. Why would she want to see you?"

Jackson's eyes turned fully into his wolf's, and indescribable anger and sadness filled him.

Even if he didn't do it, his elder brother did.

Goodbye My Alpha Chapter 255

It made sense for Taya to hate him now.

Jackson was sad not because Taya hated him but because she had said she had let go of him and no longer loved him...

Harper didn't know what had happened between them. Seeing Jackson like this, she thought Taya had taught him a lesson.

In the past, when the two of them had a conflict, Taya would be angry and didn't want to see him. At that time, he had also been like this, guarding the door and not leaving. His wolf was too protective and stubborn to give in.

In the end, it was Harper who mediated and let Silas in. She watched them hug each other, full of joy and happiness when they made up.

But what happened this time was not as simple as before, and it was impossible to solve the misunderstanding like before. and then smile happily.

However, as a middleman, she would still help him open the door.

Harper pushed Jackson away and opened the door. "If you want to find her, go find her. Why did you bring so many people with you?"

Jackson saw that Harper was still willing to open the door for him as before, and he quickly waved his hand and asked the pack guards to leave first.

The pack guards, however, were a little worried. They had only left momentarily during the banquet, and their Alpha has suffered a nasty head wound. How could they dare to leave again?

Jackson's cold gaze swept over them. The guards could only retreat and wait by the cars, not daring to disobey their Alpha.

After Harper opened the door, Jackson and Stella followed her in.

Harper glanced at Stella and couldn't help snorting. "Alpha Sterling, you've got some balls on you, coming to see Taya with a pretty she-wolf companion."

She amused Stella. "I didn't come with him."

Harper raised an eyebrow. "Then who are you?"

Stella introduced herself politely. "I'm a doctor sent by Alpha Knight to treat Ms. Palmer's heart issue."

After saying that, she picked up her medicine bag.

When Harper heard Griffon's name, her face darkened again. "He doesn't want Taya anymore. Why should he

Goodbye My Alpha Chapter 256

Stella didn't know what to say. She just looked at Harper with a faint smile, which made Harper feel a little annoyed.

She asked them to sit on the sofa, then turned around and knocked on the door of the bedroom.

"Taya, someone's looking for you."

Taya had already woken up when they opened the door and came in.

She had heard their conversation outside but was too weak to get up.

When she tried to get up, Harper had already come in.

Seeing that she wanted to get up but couldn't, Harper immediately rushed over.

"Taya, what's wrong?"

Jackson and Stella also came in.

Jackson wanted to step forward, but Stella beat him and said, "I am the doctor. You go away."

Jackson was pushed to the side, and Stella stepped forward quickly. She raised her hand to touch Taya's forehead and then took out a thermometer to take her temperature.

"Did you get wet in the rain?"

The temperature was not very high, but for Taya, this little bit of temperature could kill her.

When she walked out of Griffon's villa, it was raining. Jackson had used his jacket to shield her from the rain, but she still got wet.

Jackson's face was full of self-blame. He wanted to grab her hand, but Taya avoided him.

Sometimes, it was easy to forget just how delicate Taya was with no wolf to protect her and help her heal.

In front of Stella, Taya was afraid of being exposed, so she just avoided his touch and didn't drive him away.

Her resistance was like a thorn in Jackson's heart.

Taya would never be the same as before...

She once agreed with him that he shouldn't take it seriously if she said hurtful words when she was angry.

Goodbye My Alpha Chapter 257

"It's just a slight fever. I'll be fine after taking some aspirin."

After taking Taya's temperature and giving her some aspirin, Stella handed her the bag and the medicine she'd brought.

"This is what you left in Alpha Knight's house. He asked me to return it to you..."

At first, Stella wanted to give her a few more boxes of medicine, but seeing that she kept winking at her as if she didn't want the other two people in the room to know about her illness, Stella didn't take them out.

"Thank you."

Taya was grateful that Stella had helped her hide her illness.

Stella could tell and blinked at her. "You're welcome."

Taya looked at the coat on the table and said, "Stella, please take the coat back to him."

Stella followed her gaze.

If they broke up, why would she have worn his coat home?

Stella had a lot of questions swirling around, but she couldn't ask any of them. She nodded, picked up the coat, and left with her medical bag.

When Harper heard that Taya only had a low fever and was fine, she heaved a sigh of relief.

She sat in front of the bed and helped Taya sit up.

Taya looked at Jackson, standing by the bed like a statue. "You can leave now."

Jackson's heart skipped a beat. Something was choking him again, making it hard for him to breathe.

How could Jackson accept this? How could the old Silas accept this?

His eyes were red as he stared at her pale face. "Taya, please give me another chance..."

"I've made myself clear to you," Taya said with a poker face.

Hearing this, Harper understood that Taya would not forgive Jackson. She stood up and said to him, "You can leave. Right now."

Goodbye My Alpha Chapter 258

Jackson looked at Taya, who had turned her head away. The pain suddenly spread all over his body, making him shake.

His wolf wasn't sure how to process anything he was feeling and was having a visceral bodily reaction.

"Are you so cruel to me because you've fallen in love with Griffon? I've loved you for most of my life. How can you do this to me?"

There was a sudden resentment in Jackson's eyes. It was resentment towards Taya's heartlessness and her falling in love with someone else.

She had been promised to him. They had plans.

Even though everyone else had looked down on her for being a human, for not getting her wolf, Jackson had still loved her and not cared.

And now she was doing THIS to him.

How dare she?

Taya looked at Jackson and clenched her fists. She gritted her teeth and said, “Yes, I fell in love with him. You know what I look like when I love someone. Since I’ve fallen in love with him, I won’t show mercy to anyone else.”

Hearing this, Jackson was so angry that he could not stop trembling, shifting partially into his wolf form.

He rushed forward, grabbed Taya’s chin in his clawed fingertips, and leaned over to kiss her.

His domineering kiss was the same as before. But in the past, Taya would respond to him...

Jackson slowly let go of Taya, who did not react at all. His heart completely sank when he saw the disgust in her eyes.

“Taya, you’ll regret this...”

Jackson turned around and staggered away.

Looking at his back, Taya felt a lump in her throat and burst into tears.

Seeing Taya like this, Harper was a little puzzled. “You obviously can’t bear to part with Jackson. Why did you send him away? Are you still blaming him for kicking you...”

Taya shook her head. “He didn’t do it.”

Taya told Harper about Jackson’s twin brother.

So, it was true that Silas had lost his memory and then become Jackson. He hadn’t lied to them.

Their love for Silas had not been in vain, but...

There was a deep look of confusion in Harper’s eyes. “Then why did you do this to him...”

Taya took a deep breath and was about to tell Harper about her late-stage heart failure when Harper’s phone rang.

“Damian’s calling.”

When Taya saw Harper's bitter expression after hanging up the phone, she asked worriedly, "What happened?"

"He said something happened at his parents, and he was in a hurry to get there."

"Then don't stay here with me. Hurry up and go back with Damian to help take care of things," said Taya.

Not only was Harper not in a hurry to leave, but she also sat down beside Taya's bed.

"Damian said that his family owed others some debts. He'll pay them back as soon as he gets back. I don't have to go with him."

I don't Damian wants to take Harper home. He's hiding something, thought Taya.

Taya looked at Harper sitting there, peeling an orange. She wanted to say something but didn't know where to start.

Now that Harper and Damian were mated, no matter what she said, she feared it would affect their relationship. Harper would always take her mate's side.

After peeling the orange, Harper looked at Taya. She smiled and said, "I know what you're worried about. Don't be. I'll handle it. Damian doesn't want me to go back to his pack lands. It's no big deal..."

Goodbye My Alpha Chapter 259

Taya took the orange and ate it, but she had no appetite.

Her stomach felt sour when she swallowed it, and she almost threw up.

Frightened that Harper would be worried, she endured it and managed to keep the bite down.

Harper was probably in a pens mood after talking to Damian and didn't notice anything wrong with Taya.

"Harper, did Damian tell you how many debts his family owes?"

"Yes."

Harper nodded. After a pause, she told Taya how much money they owed.

“Two hundred thousand. But he took his own money to go back to his parents, not mine...”

Harper was afraid that Taya would be worried about Damian taking advantage of her, so she tried to comfort her by telling her that her personal finances weren't affected by what was going on with his family.

Except, that wasn't necessarily true.

Harper paid for the mortgage of the house Damian had bought in his pack's Arcadia neighborhood, but now that they were mated, Damian didn't let her control any money.

She'd heard of males becoming more controlling after mating, and she wasn't sure if that was what was happening, if something had changed with his wolf after the mating ceremony.

If Taya knew that the money Harper earned after getting mated was used to pay off the mortgage and cover their daily expenses, she would probably be angrier.

Harper didn't tell Taya what had happened after she married Damian. She feared Taya would worry about her, so she kept it to herself.

But she had to say something. Taya wouldn't let it go. Harper knew her best friend well enough to know that.

“After the mating ceremony, Damian changed a little. Of course, he's still as good to me as before, but there's something going on with him. I don't know how to describe it...”

Goodbye My Alpha Chapter 260

Damian's behavior was confusing.

Now that he and Harper were mated, he had taken over the finances and he was keeping track of the expenses and Harper's money. But on the other side of things, he was being very kind and tender.

No matter how hard and tiring his work was, he would clean up the house and prevent her from cooking or washing clothes when he returned home from a business trip.

Harper had always lacked love in her life growing up in the orphanage. When she met Damian, a male who cared for her like this, she handed over her heart and relied heavily on him.

Although Damian still treated her with the same kindness and care and affection after they were mated that he had treated her with before they mated and moved in together, he always found excuses regarding financial things.

And he complained about being poor in front of Harper.

It affected Harper because she was a soft-hearted she-wolf. She took the initiative to pay the mortgage because Damian didn't have enough money. Damian recently said that his sales had

"Why didn't you tell me earlier?" Taya asked.

If she knew that Damian asked Harper to pay off the mortgage and all the daily expenses after they married, she would have tried to talk to Harper about how something was wrong. At the very least, she wouldn't have let Harper take out all her private savings after the mating ceremony and transfer them to a joint account.

Although Damian and Harper had been in a relationship for many years. Harper needed to leave a way out for herself. What would Harper do if something went wrong between them in the future?

Fortunately, Taya had left more than $200,000 for Harper.
