

Goodbye My Alpha Chapter 411

Goodbye, My Alpha.

chapter411

“Okay,” Taya replied obediently, turned around, and walked into the bathroom. After filling the bathtub with hot water, she lay down.

As the warm water rippled on her skin, she, who was mentally and physically exhausted, felt a slight sense of relaxation.

After preparing a clean towel and pajamas for her, Harper went to the kitchen to make a big bowl of ginger tea for her.

Although she had a wolf spirit transplant, she was, after all, a person who had undergone a major operation. Her body was much weaker than an ordinary person’s.

Harper didn’t know if she would catch a cold or have a fever after being drenched in the rain for so long. Thinking of this, she asked the nanny to get cold medicine.

When Taya came out of the bathroom and saw the ginger tea and cold medicine on the coffee table, she suddenly felt warm in her heart.

She sat down on the sofa, drank ginger tea, and took medicine. Then she was led to the second floor by Harper.

chapter411

“When I bought this house, I made two master bedrooms, even though I knew you wouldn’t come back. But I still insisted on doing this because I always feel like you’re still by my side when there’s room left for you,” Harper said.

2/4

Taya looked at Harper, who was lying under the quilt, and tears welled up in her eyes again.

She relied on Harper and Silas’s care for the first half of her life to survive.

It was her turn to take care of them for the rest of her life...

After making the quilt, Harper patted the soft bed and said, "Come here and have a good sleep. Don't think about anything, okay?"

Taya nodded obediently, lifted the quilt, and lay down.

At this moment, it was as if she had returned to her own home. She relaxed and soon fell asleep.

Seeing that she had fallen asleep, Harper quietly turned around and walked out.

She asked the nanny to wash and dry Taya's clothes. Then she took out a card and put it in her pocket.

This was the money Taya had left her before she left.

chapter411

3/4

She didn't use a single penny of the money earned at the cost of Taya's life.

Now that Taya was back, it was time to return it to her.

After that, Harper sat on the sofa in the living room, took out her phone, and opened Moments to have a look.

The first dynamic was sent by Preston with a picture and a sentence...

He sat in a luxurious private room of Nightshade, embracing a charming-looking woman, and the accompanying words were

"New toy."

After seeing this, Harper seemed to have expected that he would find another woman. Her expression froze for a moment and then quickly returned to normal.

He never posted anything about her on his social media when they were together. But now that he was dating an unmarried woman, he was willing to do so.

Harper felt that it was a little hurtful. After hesitating for a few minutes, she clicked on Preston's Whatsapp and blacklisted him.

On the other side, after posting on social media for a whole

chapter411

night, Preston still hadn't received a message from Harper.

4/4

He couldn't help but click on her WhatsApp profile picture and forward the photo he posted on his Moments to her.

He was about to piss her off but received a red exclamation mark!

His face suddenly darkened. "Harper, how dare you blacklist me first?!"

He seemed to be angry and made a phone call, but the other side was already on another call...

Obviously, she had blocked his phone number as well.

Preston was so angry that his face turned blue. He gritted his teeth and muttered to himself, "Okay, blacklisted me, right?"

He stretched out his finger and poked the phone screen hard. Soon, everything related to Harper was deleted.

Who didn't know how to block someone? Never unblock him if she was able to do so!

Goodbye, My Alpha.

chapter412

After blacklisting Harper, Preston threw his phone away.

Griffon, who was walking in from outside the manor, frowned slightly when he saw the phone on the ground.

“You’re back.”

When Preston got up from the sofa and saw that Griffon was drenched, he asked worriedly, “Why are you drenched like this?”

Griffon didn’t reply. He took off his suit jacket and took the towel from the servant.

Only then did he dry his hair unhurriedly and ask him, “Why are you at my house?”

Preston sighed and replied boringly, “It’s the weekend. I’m too bored, so I came to have a drink with you.”

He glanced at him coldly and said, “If you’re bored, go to Africa and take your fifth–oldest brother’s job.”

When Preston heard the word “Africa,” he felt his scalp go numb. “He may not be afraid of sunburn with his thick skin,

chapter412

but I can’t. My face is my capital. You can’t cut off my livelihood, can you?”

2/5

The main reason was that he didn’t like African women, unlike his brother, who had a special taste preference.

Moreover, the work in Africa was too complicated. Every time his brother came back, he would lose a lot of hair. He didn’t want to be bald...

Preston's fifth-oldest brother: "You're the one who's bald. Your whole family is bald!"

Griffon didn't have much interest in dealing with Preston. He dried his hair and went straight to the bathroom.

Looking at the lonely and cold back, Preston breathed a sigh of relief and sighed helplessly.

In the past few years, Griffon had always been depressed. He had never seen him smile, and he didn't know when he could let go of that woman.

He withdrew his gaze and looked at the phone on the ground. It just so happened that an unfamiliar number was calling.

He snorted. Harper must have found out that he had deleted her, so she couldn't help questioning him.

3/5

chapter412

When the call was about to end, he slowly picked up the phone and picked it up. "Harper, you..."

Before he could finish his words, the other party interrupted him. "Sir, do you want to buy a house?"

Preston, "....."

11

Who leaked his number, and why did the sales call him?

Could the person who sold the house ask who he was first? Did he need to buy a house?

Preston was so angry that he hung up the phone. He walked to the wine cabinet with a cold face, took a goblet, and poured red wine into it.

ear

After drinking a few glasses of wine, he was still angry. He picked up his phone and sent a message to his friends. Then he got up, left the manor, and went straight to the nightclub.

When Griffon came out of the bathroom and saw that Preston had left, he frowned and walked to the study on the second floor.

He sat down at the desk, turned on the computer, and flipped through the latest financial data. Then he couldn't help looking at the drawer next to him.

chapter412

After looking at it quietly for a few seconds, he stretched his slender fingers, opened the drawer, and took out the en bronze mask...

4/5

As his fingertip touched the mask, a scene from many years ago flashed through his mind: embracing her in bed as Greyson, entangled in passion.

The sudden recollection of this event brought back the pain that he had been suppressing, and it hit him like a tidal wave, tearing at his heart and lungs...

He put down his mask, supported his forehead with one hand, and closed his tired eyes. He wanted to forget the past, but his mind was full of her figure...

That unforgettable face drilled into his limbs and invaded every cell of his body, making him miss her uncontrollably.

He couldn't help but take out his personal phone and open the messages. Despite thousands of messages, there was still no response, as if they had disappeared into the void.

He knew that she no longer used this number, nor would she reply or look at it, but he still sent her messages out of habit.

After editing all the delusions in his heart into words, he sent them out like before...

chapter412

Although he would never receive a reply, this was the only way for him to vent his longing...

chapter413

When Taya woke up, it was already night. Her eyes were red and swollen from crying.

She raised her hand and rubbed her eyes. When she opened them again, they were a bit blurry.

She sat at the head of the bed in a daze. After calming down for a long time, she focused her eyes again...

After seeing it clearly, she picked up her phone and sent a message to George.

[Doctor George, my eyes are showing vague symptoms again.]

Without receiving a prompt response from George, she put away her phone and got out of bed by lifting the covers.

As she pushed open the door and walked downstairs, she saw Amon and Harper sitting in the living room, staring at each other.

She looked up at the clock hanging on the wall. It was already ten o'clock in the evening. No wonder Amon was here.

chapter413

Taya sighed deeply. She had wanted to take Harper to see Silas today, but now it was so late she probably couldn't go.

2/5

Seeing that she was awake, Harper quickly got up, walked up to her, and asked softly, "Are you hungry? I'll heat up the meal for you."

Just as she was about to reply, Amon's casual voice came from behind them. "It's time to go home."

Harper turned and glared at Amon. "Taya is an independent individual. You can't restrict her freedom like this."

Amon, who was lazily sitting on the sofa, sneered, "If I restrict her freedom, you won't have a chance to see her again."

He had plenty of ways to manipulate and control things in his hands, but he held back from targeting her out of consideration for her sister's face.

Hearing this, Harper's face darkened.

She always felt that it would be more and more dangerous for Taya to stay with Amon, but she didn't know how to help her get rid of him...

Taya knew what Harper was worried about, so she quickly comforted her in a low voice. "I've unmated him. Don't worry."

chapter413

3/5

When Harper heard that she had divorced Amon, she suddenly breathed a sigh of relief. "Since you have unmated, there is no need to go back with him."

Taya glanced at Amon, who was pretending not to hear her. She smiled bitterly and said, "He won't give up on my sister's wolf spirit."

Harper understood that even though they divorced, Amon still controlled her personal freedom.

Seeing that Harper was frowning and looking worried, Taya quickly patted the back of her hand to tell her not to worry.

They still wanted to talk, but Amon was impatient. He got up directly and dragged Taya out of the door.

Taya only told Harper that she would come to see her tomorrow, but she was dragged out of the villa and stuffed into the car.

As soon as they left, Harper received a call from the nightclub, saying that someone had spent a lot of money to request her presence and asked her to come over quickly.

Harper's face suddenly darkened. As the boss, how dare someone order her around? It was obviously someone who came to cause trouble.

chapter413

4/5

After thinking for a while, Harper took the car key and drove to the nightclub. She just wanted to see who dared to order her around.

In the nightclub's VIP hall, a group of rich young men was holding wine glasses and staring at the manager, who kept apologizing in front of them.

"Sorry, our boss hasn't arrived yet. Please be patient and wait. Tonight's expenses will be free for everyone. Is that okay?"

"Do I look like someone who can't afford to spend?"

The person who spoke was Preston's good friend, Anthony Clark.

He crossed his legs and looked lazily at Preston, who was holding a glass of wine, without saying a word.

"My friend came here to spend money, not to let you give us freebies

After saying this coldly, he raised his wrist and looked at the time. When he looked up at the manager again, his eyes became cold.

"I'll give you five minutes. If the people we ordered still don't come, this place can be closed tonight."

21, 2024

chapter414

Hearing this, the manager's apologetic face was full of embarrassment, but he still said with a smile, "Mr. Clark, I'll call again. Please wait for a moment..."

After the manager turned around and walked out, the smile on his face gradually turned to worry.

Ever since the boss had changed, no one had dared to make trouble in this place. Who would have thought that a group of powerful young men would come today?

He had called in half the staff to serve them, thinking they would bring in several times the revenue tonight. But he didn't expect that they were there to cause trouble.

While the manager was sighing at his bad luck, he saw Harper walking over in a black open-back dress and high heels.

"Boss, you're finally here. They said they would have shut us down if you hadn't come!"

"Don't be afraid."

Harper was not nervous at all. She just said three words and walked to the VIP room.

chapter414

Her expression changed slightly when she pushed the door open and saw the man sitting in the dark.

She thought that it was just a group of playboys who had nothing to play with and were deliberately making trouble to entertain themselves,

2/5

Who would have thought that it would be Preston?

Harper felt that it was very strange. She had specially invited him here for business before.

But he didn't give her a face and said that this place was too tacky and not suitable for his identity.

But now, he came with a group of rich young men and deliberately spent a lot of money on her. She didn't know what he wanted to do.

Harper's face froze for a few seconds before she regained her smile and walked towards them.

"Everyone, I'm sorry I'm late."

After apologizing, Harper picked up the glass on the table and said generously, "I will punish myself with three glasses of wine. Please don't be angry."

chapter414

3/5

She was about to raise her head and drink it when Anthony raised his hand to stop her. "Ms. Duke, we have been waiting for you for an hour. How can just three glasses of wine be enough for your punishment?"

There was still a smile on Harper's face. "How much do you think is appropriate?"

Anthony and Harper knew each other. When Preston took her out before, they had met once.

At that time, everyone present laughed at her for being divorced, except for Anthony. So Harper had a better impression of him.

However, she did not expect that after she separated from Preston, Anthony would imitate that group of people and deliberately make things difficult for her.

Harper was not afraid. She had encountered this kind of occasion countless times since she graduated from high school.

She had some means to be able to climb to her current position in this kind of place.

At this time, no matter what the other party wanted to do, she raised her chin and looked at the group of men sitting on the sofa with a smile.

chapter414

4/5

Anthony remained calm. He glanced at Preston, who had always been silent, and said in a deep voice, "Ms. Duke, can you handle three bottles of wine?"

He looked at a row of bottles with extremely high alcohol content on the table and motioned for Harper to take a few bottles from them.

Harper's expression remained unchanged. "Just three bottles of wine. It's nothing, but..."

She deliberately paused and touched the rows of wine with her slender fingers. After picking up a bottle of wine, she looked up at Anthony.

"If I finish three bottles, will you still make things difficult for me?"

Hearing this, Anthony raised his eyebrows slightly. "Ms. Duke, it's not up to me to decide whether to make things difficult for you or not."

In other words, it was Preston who made things difficult for her.

Harper didn't haggle anymore. She picked up the bottle and drank it.

chapter414

Anthony was stunned for a moment. His hint was so obvious. Couldn't this woman understand?

At this time, if she had put in a good word for Preston and acted like a spoiled pup, this matter would be over. How could she choose to drink?

"Stupid," Anthony snorted and glanced at Preston sitting in the dark.

Goodbye, My Alpha.

chapter415

He was wearing a white suit, holding a wine glass, and had one leg crossed over the other, giving off an air of a lazy nobleman.

He didn't seem to care at all, but his eyes swept over the woman who was drinking bottles of wine.

She was wearing a black low-necked long dress, which outlined her slender figure. Under the light, she looked sexy and pure.

Her delicate face turned red because of the alcohol, which made her fair skin look even rosier.

The aura exuding from her whole body was so pleasant that even the top hostess present could not match her.

Many rich young men couldn't help having some thoughts when they saw such a domineering Harper.

Preston found all the men staring at the cleavage under her neckline. His face suddenly darkened, and he threw out the wine glass in his hand.

There was a sound of broken glass as the wine glass shattered, interrupting Harper's movement of bending down to pick up the third bottle of wine.

She raised her head and looked at Preston, who had thrown the wine glass, and gave him a professional fake smile. "Mr. Knight, is there something you're unsatisfied with?"

Seeing the charming smile on her face, Preston suddenly felt very uncomfortable and said with a cold face, "Get out!"

Harper was stunned for a moment. Did he spend a lot of money to ask her to come here just to let her drink two bottles of wine?

Since he asked her out, she had no reason to stay here. She put down the wine bottle and smiled at them, saying, "I won't disturb you anymore. The bill for tonight is on me, and I hope everyone has a good time..."

After that, she turned around and walked out in her high heels.

The manager, who was waiting outside the door, couldn't help giving her a thumbs-up when he saw her come out safe and sound.

"Boss, you're amazing. You got rid of them so quickly..."

The smile on Harper's face gradually faded. As she walked away, she couldn't help but turn around.

Preston held another woman in his arms and played games as if nothing had happened just now.

She frowned slightly, looked away, and walked toward the office...

In the VIP room, Preston played games with a group of rich young men with his arms around the hostess, but he was not happy.

Seeing that he was absent-minded, Anthony shook his legs and said sarcastically, "Preston, don't change yourself for a woman."

Preston snorted. "Anthony, do you think everyone is like you? You don't even care about your own life for a woman."

Anthony did not take it seriously. He curled his lips and said, "Since you know that I am affectionate, why don't you let your sister mate me?"

"My father won't let Edith mate you, and it seems like she doesn't like you either..." Preston said with a look of disdain.

Anthony tightened his grip on the wine glass and did not reply to Preston. His thoughts drifted away...

After stopping the car at the gate of the villa, Amon turned to look at Taya, who was about to get out of the car, and said, "Don't hurry."

Taya turned around and asked in confusion, "What's wrong?"

Amon unbuckled his seatbelt and got out of the car. He propped himself up on the roof of the car, bent down, and gave her a sinister smile.

"You always don't go home on time. In order to teach you a lesson, I'll punish you a little..."

After that, he closed the door, locked it quickly, and locked her in the car.

Taya's eyes widened in disbelief as she looked at Amon. "Are you crazy? Open the door!"

She pounded hard on the window and asked him to open the door, but he walked into the villa without looking back.

Looking at his lonely back disappearing from her sight, Taya suddenly felt very desperate...

The enclosed environment in the car was like the darkness before her death, making it hard for her to breathe.

23, 2024

Goodbye, My Alpha.

chapter416

After forcing herself to calm down, Taya took out her phone and called the police.

The police did not arrive so quickly. After the car was turned off, it was extremely stuffy inside.

It didn't take long for her to feel suffocated, and her breathing became more and more disordered.

F

Seeing that the police had not arrived yet, she immediately called Harper.

But Harper rushed to the nightclub to deal with things in a hurry. Her phone

chapter416

2/8

was left in the car, so she did not receive the call.

Taya made a few calls, but no one answered, so she stopped.

She raised her red eyes and looked at the closed door of the villa. No one came out to save her.

The feeling of extreme lack of oxygen and suffocation made her suddenly angry.

She raised the phone in her hand and threw it hard at the window. Over and over again, the screen, broke, but she did not give up.

chapter416

She had never been so angry before.

3/8

That kind of anger made her clench her teeth and try her best to smash it down.

Amon, who was leaning against the railing, saw everything downstairs, but he didn't intend to open the door and just watched indifferently.

Taya's phone was broken, but the window was still intact...

She was so tired that she had no strength to smash it again. She could only put down her phone weakly.

Then she sat in the car, in a daze, feeling the air in the narrow space gradually disappear...

chapter416

4/8

After an unknown period of time, Amon walked over, rolled down the window of the passenger seat, and bent down to look at the pale-faced Taya.

"Do you dare not go home on time?"

The cold air blowing in from outside the window gave the extremely suffocated Taya a slight sense of relief.

She leaned against the car window and desperately inhaled the air to ease the suffocating feeling.

She raised her angry eyes and looked at Amon coldly. Without saying a word, she just looked at him.

chapter416

5/8

Meeting that pair of eyes that seemed to be able to contain the stars, Amon was slightly stunned.

In the past, every time Rosalie was hurt, she would look at him with such a pair of eyes, but she was unwilling to say a word to him.

Thinking of Rosalie, Amon's heart trembled. He subconsciously looked away, straightened up, opened the door, and let her out...

Holding her wildly beating heart due to the lack of oxygen, Taya got out of the car with a cold face.

chapter416

He thought that she would follow him back to the villa, but she turned around and left without looking back.

Amon caught up with her and attempted to grab her arm, but she shook off his hand and glanced at him coldly again before running away.

Amon was stunned on the spot. As he watched the petite figure run away, he frowned slightly as if he had not expected her to be so strong-willed.

she

After Taya ran out of the villa area, walked on the remote street. Her thin figure was drawn long under the street lights...

chapter416

She held the broken phone and walked toward Harper's house step by step...

She walked faster and faster, and she couldn't wait to rush into Harper's arms and say, "Harper, please, save me..."

7/8

But she knew that no one could save her except herself.

She suppressed all her emotions, clenched her fists tightly, and walked quickly.

A dozen cars were driving towards her with their high beams on, shining directly into her eyes, which was extremely dazzling.

chapter416

Taya stopped and raised her hand to block the light. When the cars drove she couldn't see clearly again.

away,

She suddenly broke down and rubbed her eyes hard, but she couldn't focus...

8/8

She couldn't see or move forward, so she could only stay where she was and squat down, waiting for her eyes to focus again.

The man in the Aston Martin glanced at the rearview mirror unintentionally.

23, 2024

Goodbye, My Alpha.

chapter417

When he saw the figure curled up into a ball, his heart suddenly skipped a beat.

“Stop the car!”

Zack immediately slowed down and pulled over. “Sir, what’s wrong?”

Griffon pushed open the car door, quickly got out of the car, and walked towards Taya.

1/9

Taya couldn’t see anything clearly. When she felt someone approaching, she immediately got up and stepped back.

chapter417

“Don’t come over!”

2/9

Seeing that she was so wary, Griffon thought that she didn’t want him to get close to her, so he stopped.

The tall and straight figure stood where he was and looked at her quietly without saying a word.

His cold and snowy eyes were tinged with a touch of crimson, and even the corners of the eyes turned sad.

It was not until this moment that Griffon realized that it was over. He could not even take a step closer to her.

Taya didn’t know who the person in front

chapter417

3/9

of her was. She only knew that the other party didn't dare to step forward after being stopped by her. However, she couldn't see it now. If she was discovered, she would come over again.

When she thought of this, the monstrous fury in her heart was gradually replaced by fear.

She quickly turned around and ran forward, regardless of whether she could see or not.

Her resistance, defense, and disregard made Griffon heartbroken.

chapter417

It was his fault. He had said that he would not disturb her anymore, but he still couldn't help wanting to get close to her.

He looked at the figure who had run away with red eyes and said to Zack,

"Follow her, and don't let her find out."

Zack immediately nodded and quickly followed Taya.

Suppressing the pain in his heart, Griffon turned around and returned to the car.

As soon as he got into the car, he saw Amon's car coming over.

He knew that the two of them had a

chapter417

conflict, which was why Taya had left home.

5/9

Now, Silas could get close to her, and Amon also could get close to her. Only he could not.

His lips curled into a smile...

The bitter smile, tinted with a hint of sadness, made him feel as if he was being consumed by darkness.

Not long after, Zack returned to the car. "Sir, someone is here to pick her up."

Griffon nodded slightly, suppressed the emotions in his eyes, and said to Zack, "Let's go."

chapter417

6/9

Zack started the car, and so did the other cars. More than a dozen luxury cars drove out at the same time.

Amon turned around to take a look. If he was not mistaken, the man in the Aston

Martin was tailing after Taya.

He brought so many people with him, indicating that he had urgent matters to attend to, but when he saw Taya, he stopped to follow her.

Moreover, it didn't seem like he was lustful. Instead, he was silently protecting her. Could it be that man was also an admirer of Taya?

chapter417

Amon withdrew his gaze and looked at Taya, who was walking forward with difficulty. He frowned slightly and walked over to grab her.

7/9

"Come home with me."

The deep voice coming from above made Taya's heart tighten, and the feeling of suffocation that had just been trapped in the car came back again.

She pushed Amon's hand away and turned to escape, but because she didn't know the direction, she accidentally stepped into the bushes on the side of the road.

When Amon saw her fall, his expression

chapter417

8/9

froze for a moment. Then he walked over silently and looked down at her.

"Are you blind again?"

Taya fell to the ground without saying a word. Her pale face was full of fear and wariness.

Amon squatted down, turned on the light on his phone, and looked into her eyes. Seeing that she didn't respond, he understood.

"George said that your eyes have sequelae and need to be protected.

You can't cry or overwork, but you didn't listen."

chapter417

9/9

After that, he stretched out his long hand to Taya and said lightly, "Let's go. I'll take you home."

Goodbye, My Alpha.

chapter418

When Taya heard the word "home," she found it ridiculous. "That's your home, not mine."

She never had a home, from wolf cub to adult period to adulthood. She thought that finding her sister would give her a family, but the man in front of her, who claimed to be her sister's husband, locked her in the car and tried to suffocate her for not coming home on time. How could she possibly go home with him?

Seeing that she refused to go back, Amon said casually, "That's the house I

1/7

chapter418

bought for your sister. It's her home, as well as yours."

2/7

The smile on Taya's face grew colder. "My sister ended her life early in order to escape from you, which means that she doesn't love you at all. Those houses and cars don't belong to my sister. You forced her to accept them!"

Amon's face suddenly turned dark, with a hint of fierceness in his eyes. "She didn't love me. How could she have spent ten years pursuing me with all her heart and mind? It was she who betrayed me and abandoned me after she had me and tried to escape from me by all means. Yet you blamed everything on me!"

chapter418

Taya was stunned, as she didn't expect that it was her sister who pursued Amon first, and even for ten years.

3/7

Then...her sister must have loved Amon, but why did she abandon him if she loved him?

Taya was very confused, but Amon was unwilling to say anything more about Rosalie. Instead, he lowered his head and stared at her coldly.

“Now that I’m willing to give her everything, you should be grateful to me for her instead of accusing me here!”

“Hurry up and come home with me while

chapter418

I’m still patient. Otherwise, I don’t know what I’ll do!”

4/7

When he saw Rosalie lying on the bed with another man with his own eyes, he had already gone completely mad.

Therefore, he didn’t even want her body. He only wanted her wolf spirit because her wolf spirit had once loved him.

But the wolf spirit transplant recipient was disobedient, and it annoyed him to the point of wanting to strangle her.

Taya couldn’t see his expression clearly at the moment, but she could tell from his tone that he had broken down.

chapter418

She was very clear that it was because she said her sister didn’t love him that he was stimulated and became like this.

5/7

But it was impossible for her to go with an emotionally unstable person now.

What could she do to make Amon let her go?

After a few seconds of silence, she slowly looked in the direction of the Amon.

“Have you ever thought that a woman who chases a man for ten years must love him very much? If she loves him deeply, she cannot possibly betray him. There must be some misunderstanding behind all this...”

chapter418

Taya couldn't judge who was right and who was wrong between him and Rosalie. She only knew that there must be a deep misunderstanding between them.

6/7

She hoped that after Amon calmed down, he would investigate thoroughly and not accuse her dead sister of “betraying her lover.”

Upon hearing this, the angry emotion in Amon's eyes gradually faded and was replaced with Rosalie's silent demeanor..

He had asked her before, and she said there was no misunderstanding. It was just as he had seen. What could be more credible than her own admission?

chapter418

Amon's black eyes were gradually

7/7

enveloped in darkness as if he had been caught up in the past and couldn't get out of it.

His silence made Taya not know what he was thinking, so she didn't say anything else.
She just quickly thought about how to get rid of him.

About a few minutes later, Amon reached out his hand to her again. "Let's go back."

Goodbye, My Alpha.

Taya's scalp went numb, but she still plucked up the courage and said to him, "I'm afraid of you. Can I not go back with you?"

Even if she had temporarily lost her eyesight, she didn't want to go back with Amon.

She was afraid of being locked in the car by him again, and experienced the feeling of death again...

Amon saw the fear in her unfocused eyes, and a complicated look once again appeared in his eyes.

After staring at Taya quietly for a while, he sighed heavily, "Go back first." When Taya heard that, she knew that there was no room for negotiation.

She didn't struggle anymore. She stretched out her hand to him, she let him take her back to the car which made her feel suffocated.

It was very close to the villa, and within a few minutes, the car stopped.

Amon grabbed her arm, led her back to the bedroom, and brought her a box of medicine.

“This is the medicine that George gave

chapter419

you for your eyes. I didn't give it to you because I was afraid that you would run away.”

No wonder her eyes suddenly went blind.

It turned out that Amon had hidden the medicine and deliberately prevented her from taking it on time.

Taya clenched her hands and the desire to leave him became even greater.

She calmly opened the medicine box, took out a few pills, popped them into her mouth, and swallowed them abruptly.

chapter419

Then, she turned to Amon, who was standing aside, and said coldly, “I'm going to bed.”

4/9

Amon glanced at her lightly and saw her fumbling to lift the quilt before turning around and leaving the bedroom.

The next day, Taya woke up, and opened her eyes. After seeing the color of the ceiling above her head clearly, she was relieved.

Fortunately, she was only temporarily blind and her eyesight was restored right then, otherwise, she would have to live in darkness forever...

chapter419

After she got up and washed up, she picked up the smashed mobile phone and pressed the power button, but it wouldn't turn on.

5/9

She thought it was just the screen that was smashed, but she didn't expect it to be completely broken...

Taya thought that her old phone could hold dual sim cards, so she quickly reached for the Ziplock bag, took out the phone, and inserted the new sim card.

After installing it, she turned on the screen and clicked on the Facebook app...

At first, she wanted to log in to her newly

chapter419

registered account, but she found that her old account was still there.

She logged in and saw a lot of messages...

6/9

Her colleague, Brielle, had sent condolences every year on the anniversary of her death.

There were also other colleagues who sent messages like "May there be no pain in heaven, I hope you will rest in peace".

Even Margaret sent a message, "Taya, I'm sorry, I didn't know you had wolf spirit issues."

chapter419

After seeing that, Taya's eyes couldn't help but turn red again...

She scrolled through her profile and found that Harper had posted a farewell message on her behalf.

It was because of Harper's post that everyone knew Taya had passed away.

Thus, those who treated her well said that they would miss her, and those who had treated her badly asked for her forgiveness.

Taya had moved on from the past. It seemed like one would eventually learn to let things go after experiencing life and death.

chapter419

8/9

After scrolling through the messages, she clicked on the contact list and found that there were countless friend requests.

Those notifications all came from the same person: Greyson.

Despite knowing that she would not accept his friend request, he still continued to send them for many years.

Moreover, under each request, there would be a message attached: Taya

Palmer.

For some reason, when she saw those two words, she could feel that Greyson liked her very much.

chapter419

However, no matter how much he liked her, to Taya, he was still a criminal, and it was impossible for her to have any ties with him.

9/9

She stared at his profile photo and as she was hesitating whether to delete those requests, another friend request came in...

chapter420

It was still Greyson.

Seeing that he was being so persistent, Taya was a little at a loss.

She didn't accept his friend request, and instead, she cleared all the messages and notifications.

When she was planning to deactivate her account, she saw the group chat with all the clients she had worked with before, and someone had tagged Griffon.

That group was established by the

chapter420

headquarters of Thorin Group to manage their clients, and the people in it were basically CEOs of conglomerates.

2/8

She thought that after her death, people would kick her out of

from the company

the group, but she didn't expect that...

The person who tagged Griffon was Henry, the general manager of the Wilton pack. It seemed that there he had an urgent matter to discuss with Griffon, so he directly tagged him in the group.

However, it was impossible for Griffon to respond to this kind of message. Previously, it was the people from Thorin Group who asked her to persuade him to join the group.

chapter420

3/8

Thinking of the past, Taya clicked on his profile picture...

She had blocked him after they separated. They were not friends on Facebook, but she could still see records of their past conversations.

She clicked into it and saw the conversation from three years ago.

"Griffon, you've been on a business trip abroad for three months. When will you be back?"

That was when she was afraid that she would not be able to wait for him, so she mustered up the courage to send him a

chapter420

message, but he did not reply to it.

Taya clicked on that message, and she saw that the conversation was very short. There was nothing special either.

The only thing that warmed her heart was when he sent her two messages when he was sick.

4/8

One was, "I miss you."

The other was, "Having a stomachache. Come see me." It was already midnight when she saw those two messages, but she immediately put on her coat, bought some medicine, and went over to him.

Taya saw Griffon lying on the sofa, his

chapter420

hand on his stomach. His tall and straight body was curled up slightly, and he looked like he was in a lot of pain.

5/8

She brought a cup of warm water with some medicine and walked up to him. Then, she softly called his name.

Hearing her voice, Griffon slowly opened his eyes, looking at her in a daze.

After a while, he called her name,

"Taya..."

His tone was usually cold, but this time, it was soft and gentle, perhaps it was because he was sick.

However, Taya couldn't help curling the

chapter420

corners of her mouth as she heard his gentle voice. She smiled sweetly and said, "I brought you some medicine. Why don't you take it first?"

6/8

Griffon shook his head, raised his fingers, and patted the space beside him. "Come lie down with me for a while."

Taya always listened to him, so she nodded obediently, and put down the medicine and water before lying down beside him.

He hugged her in his arms, lowered his thick eyelashes, and looked at her palm-sized face with his beautiful eyes.

After staring at her for a while, Griffon

chapter420

7/8

asked her, "Why did you come to me only now?"

Taya didn't dare to look at him, and replied in a soft voice, "I saw the message you sent me, so..."

He continued to ask her, "Which message is it that made you come?"

She answered the one where he said he had a gastric and Griffon stopped talking.

Taya raised her head and glanced at him, just in time to see him frowning, as if he was in severe pain..

She persuaded him to take some

chapter420

medicine, but he refused to take it, so she mustered up her courage, reached out her little hand, and gently rubbed his stomach for him.

8/8

She was looking down at the moment so she didn't see his reaction, but she felt his arm around her tighten.

That night, he hugged her as they lay on the sofa. They didn't do anything and just fell asleep with his arms around her like a couple.

The next morning, although fully awake,

Griffon maintained the same posture, not willing to let go of her...
