

Goodnight 1731

Chapter 1731-END

1731 The ending, the grand finale (Part 1)

The incident that happened that night in the capital Palace quickly spread in the capital under the influence of some people with ulterior motives. Some meddlesome media even went to Jiang city and G country in person. After collecting first-hand information, they wrote a history of revenge about Lin Hanxing's experience and published it on their own media platforms. Although there were many authors who added oil to the fire as they imagined, the refreshing process of reading the entire article and abusing the scum still instantly attracted everyone's attention!

During this period, some people also questioned whether Lin Hanxing's methods were too cruel. They even publicly posted on the AI tree family's account on Weibo, saying that Lin Hanxing's style of doing things was extreme and that it only made people feel that Lin Hanxing was evil and terrifying.

Mother Lei was so angry that she wanted to start a fight with people online.

However, before she could get ready to start, her son had already helped her solve this problem.

Lei Xiao V: " my girl. Self-respect, self-improvement, and a bottom line. She's not in the wrong. She doesn't hurt the innocent. She's not guilty.

With a simple sentence, they swept through Weibo's hot search in a short time. #Lei Xiao ##my girl #was followed by a few explosive words. The explosive popularity made people intuitively feel the Super high popularity of this couple.

"I'm so angry!"

At the same time, in the Lei family's Villa in Jiang city, mother Lei was pacing back and forth in the living room, her cheeks puffed up in anger. As for father Lei and the short-legged cat, who were sitting on the sofa, their heads swayed left and right as she moved.

"Yinyin ..."

Lei kangnian helplessly dragged his wife to the sofa and sat down.

"I'm not happy, I'm not happy!"

Mama Lei held the short-legged cat in her arms and cuddled it with all her might. She felt that the big villa had been empty ever since little Hanxing and the others left. Even the game of finding her secret stash of money was not as fun anymore.

The short-legged cat meowed and broke free from Mama Lei's arms. It jumped to the side, its eyes full of grievance.

"I miss my precious wife so much!"

Mother Lei collapsed on the soft sofa and sighed.

At this moment, a guest arrived.

Yuan shaojing and elder mu, who was dressed in casual clothes, walked in and heard mother Lei's last sentence.

"What a coincidence, I also miss that girl!"

The white-bearded old man had just returned from a trip to the heavenly border. When he thought of Lin Hanxing, he felt a rare sense of conscience. Tsk, he really missed that girl and that kid a little.

After he finished speaking, elder mu and Zhong Nanyin looked at each other for three seconds.

"Let's go to Beijing!"

Three seconds later, the two of them said in unison.

"....."

"....."

Seeing the two of them hit it off so well, Lei kangnian and Yuan shaojing looked at each other and saw the same helplessness in each other's eyes ...

.....

While Jiang city was harmonious and harmonious, the days of the PU family in the capital had collapsed like a cliff.

The morning after long qingru was taken away, the stock price of PU's group almost dropped to its limit as soon as the stock market opened. Before there was any reaction, people from the commercial crime investigation Division came to the PU's group and took away all the company's financial staff and account books. At the same time, they also took away ten people, all of whom were the senior executives of the PU's group.

The PU clan had changed.

This was something that everyone had witnessed.

Pu Wei, who was first brought into the commercial crime investigation Division, did not panic because he had absolute confidence that he would not be found out. However, this confidence was broken by an anonymous email.

In the anonymous documents, the real accounts of the PU's group for the past fifteen years were all exposed. The evidence of bribery, tax evasion, illegal financing, and other criminal crimes were all exposed. The amount was so huge that even the experienced internal staff of the business investigation Division couldn't help but be amazed.

Soon, the investigation team appointed by the higher-ups took over the case.

If all the above crimes were found, what awaited the PU Shi group would be a disaster!

Pu Wei, who had heard this news from the lawyer, was completely stunned. His mind was filled with the cold gaze Lin Hanxing had given him that night when he had left the capital Palace.

Pu Wei's lawyer also brought him another piece of bad news.

Fuya ran away.

She took all the money in his account and ran away with little Taotao.

“.....”

PU Weishi did not speak for a long time.

He had worked hard to manage the PU family for so many years, but one wrong move and he would lose everything. Now that the stock of the PU family had fallen, billions of assets had evaporated, and Fu ya had stabbed him in the back ...

“Hahaha ...”

PU Weishi closed his eyes and couldn't help but laugh madly. To the ears of others, it sounded even more like madness.

The PU family fell apart.

Long qingru had naturally received the news of the PU family's misfortune. She didn't say a word to the police who came to interrogate her, as if her voice had been stolen. However, a person's appearance in the evening changed everything.

Elder long had arrived.

No one knew what elder long and long qingru had talked about. However, not long after elder long left, long qingru admitted to all her crimes that very night.

However, Lin Hanxing did not have the time to care about these things.

Just because ...

Lin Hanxing's head hurt as he looked at Zhan Nanheng, Zuo Xiangdong, and the hall Masters of Hua Ji who appeared in his courtyard without even saying a word. Seeing her come out of her room, he didn't forget to extend his hand to greet her.

“My childhood friend.”

“.....”

Before he could even catch his breath, the Butler brought someone in again.

...

And this time ...

“My little princess!”

“.....”

Peter, Jennifer, and annetur rushed over. Peter opened his arms enthusiastically and wanted to hug Lin Hanxing, but before he could get close, a hand appeared out of nowhere and pressed on his forehead.

“You're so petty.”

Looking at Lei Xiao who suddenly appeared in his line of sight, Peter's voice was filled with regret.

"Why are you all here ..."

"My precious daughter-in-law!"

Before Lin Hanxing could finish his sentence, he was hugged by mother Lei, who was rushing towards him. She was as surprised as she could be.

"Mom?"

What was going on?

...

In a short time, the large courtyard house was filled with people, as if they were having a family meeting. This made mother Lei praise her foresight. Even if there were so many people, they could still fall asleep!

Lin Hanxing subconsciously looked at Lei Xiao.

little three, little four, Yuan Bao, and Yun WA's flight is tonight. They'll arrive tomorrow morning.

"....."

Lin Hanxing was speechless.

As for the group of people in the courtyard, they had already become familiar with each other and were chatting with each other. Lin Hanxing only felt that her head was buzzing. However, when Jiang Xibao passed by her with a fruit plate, he did not forget to stuff a piece of cut fruit to Lin Hanxing's lips.

She didn't know when Lei Xiao had walked to her side, but he put his hand on her shoulder.

"It's been a long time since it's been so lively."

He said.

Lin Hanxing turned to look at him, his eyes softening.

"It's just a little noisy."

But ...

It also felt especially homely.

Lin Hanxing couldn't help but laugh. Lei Xiao's response was to hug her even tighter ...

Chapter 1732 -The ending, the grand finale \(2\)

1732 The ending, the grand finale (2)

Night fell.

Under the guidance and teaching of mother Lei, she successfully got Jennifer and Annunciata to play mahjong. As for the one who was missing one, Lin Hanxing naturally took over. The constant counting of the cards and the casting of the water had exhausted her.

On the other hand, Bai Xi and Jiang Xibao were playing games with facial masks on.

“Xing, I’ve specially prepared an outfit for you to wear for the donation ceremony.”

Jennifer threw out a card carefully. If one were to look at her expression, they would think that she had made an important business decision and was not playing mahjong.

“I’ve also gotten some jewelry from the brand that hasn’t been released yet.”

Anathul said without raising her head, obviously immersed in the mysterious Eastern card study.

Lin Hanxing’s hand paused.

“There’s no need to make it so Grand,”

It was just a donation ceremony.

“What do you mean it’s not necessary? that day ...”

Before she could finish, someone kicked her from under the table.

“That day?”

Lin Hanxing looked at Annunciata and narrowed his eyes.

She felt that they were hiding something from her.

“all the media will be there that day. Why isn’t there a need?”

As she spoke, she raised her chin proudly.

“My family’s daughter-in-law will be the most eye-catching child in the crowd!”

“.....”

Alright, as long as you’re happy.

By the time Lin Hanxing returned to her room, she was already exhausted. She laid on the bed and did not move. Others played cards to have fun, but she played cards to think of ways to give her mother-in-law pocket money.

When Lei Xiao returned, he saw Lin Hanxing lifting his indoor slippers and kicking them to the ground weakly.

Lin Hanxing seemed to have heard the movement behind him. He flopped on the bed twice, then completely gave up struggling. He lay on the bed with the flow and dreamed that he was a salted fish.

Lei Xiao walked over and sat beside Lin Hanxing.

The other end of the bed had obviously caved in with his weight.

"I'm so tired,"

Lin Hanxing shook his legs when he felt the man approaching.

Lei Xiao chuckled and turned his little salted fish over and over, making her face up to look at him. He leaned over, and before his thin lips could approach her neck, he was already caught in mid-air by a pair of Jade-white hands.

"I haven't taken a shower yet."

"Then shall we shower together?"

Lei Xiao was playing with Lin Hanxing's hand, reluctant to let go.

"Didn't mom and the others tell you anything before they came?"

Lin Hanxing's sudden words made Lei Xiao pause for a moment, but he quickly took advantage of the situation to pull his wife into his arms. He got up easily and walked towards the bathroom.

"She said she missed you."

.....

Late at night.

The bedside lamp was yellow.

Lei Xiao turned his head to look at Lin Hanxing, who had already fallen into a deep sleep. His deep eyes were filled with passion, and his long and rough fingers caressed her face.

The force was almost inaudible.

The next moment, Lin Hanxing unconsciously nudged him in his sleep.

The little Porcupine who was once extremely guarded was long gone.

The phone on the bedside table lit up quietly.

It was a message from mother Lei.

Mother Lei, son, it's all up to you now!

A few days later, at the National Museum.

Reporters from hundreds of media outlets were gathered here, and the flashes of cameras were non-stop. The bronze statue donation ceremony had not even begun, but it had already received unprecedented attention. This was not only because of the return of the National treasure, but also because of the star of the day, Lin Hanxing!

Ever since long qingru was arrested and the PU's group was in a crisis, Lin Hanxing's name had been at the forefront of public opinion. The busybodies kept collecting her life experiences and even set up a support club. For a while, Lin Hanxing's fame was comparable to that of a top star.

Today, Zhu chengdi had specially brought everyone from the laboratory to the National Museum. Everyone was dressed in a suit, which was completely different from their usual unkempt appearance. At this time, their faces were full of urgency. As for the bodyguards responsible for their safety, they guarded the key entrances for fear that any accidents would hurt these precious researchers.

Lu bingde adjusted his bow tie from time to time. He Chengyu, on the other hand, was talking to the nurse beside him, Rong Shiyu, at a moderate pace.

“Brother, are you really willing to accept this?”

Not far away, Shangguan Yilu lowered his voice and asked Shangguan shixiu, who was standing next to him. Ever since his big brother had returned to the M Nation, he had suppressed the rebellion with stern means and officially took over the entire Shangguan family. Now ...

Shangguan shixiu was already the youngest person in the Shangguan family’s history to take charge.

There was a long silence between the two of them.

Shangguan shixiu’s serene eyes were fixed on the door, waiting patiently.

Suddenly, a faint smile appeared on Shangguan shixiu’s pale and feminine face.

“Ley, don’t disappoint me.”

The atmosphere in the venue was heated up. Even though the National Museum was temporarily closed for the donation ceremony, there were still a large number of people gathered outside just to see the faces of Lin Hanxing and Lei Xiao, the two hot topics.

The security Department had no choice but to temporarily borrow manpower from the higher-ups.

Soon, a fleet of Mercedes Benz Maybach S600s slowly drove over. The black bulletproof glass brought a strong and terrifying visual feast under the sun. It was so unexpected that it appeared in the eyes of everyone waiting outside the National Museum.

The Mercedes Benz Maybach S600s were led by the cycling traffic police to the main entrance.

The cars stopped in an orderly manner.

Everyone held their breath and waited.

With a click, the door of the car in the middle was the first to open.

A pair of beautiful white legs stepped down.

Lin Hanxing was wearing a black dress specially designed for Jennifer. The moment she appeared in front of everyone, she was so beautiful that they could not take their eyes off her.

Lei Xiao got out of the car.

The crowd outside the cordon was already boiling with excitement.

After the two of them got out of the car, the other doors opened as well.

Lin Hanxing extended his hand in Lei Xiao's direction.

Bathed in the sun, the tall and strong man was wearing a dark suit. His thick black hair was combed back, revealing a handsome face like a Greek sculpture. His cold eyes were full of affection when he looked at the people around him.

"Isn't this a little too Grand?"

Lin Hanxing's expression was helpless.

Jennifer, Annunciata and Mama Lei woke her up early in the morning. It was the first time that she had no control over her own body. She sat there for two hours, putting on makeup and changing her clothes.

He did not move at all.

"It's very nice."

Lei Xiao's large palm clasped her small hand, and with their ten fingers interlocked, he nodded to the staff of the National Museum who came forward to greet him.

Lin Hanxing did not know if it was her imagination, but she felt that something was not right.

"Mr. Ray, miss Lin, please come in."

The staff member smiled and gestured with his palm up.

Lei Xiao and Lin Hanxing walked into the National Museum hand in hand.

Chapter 1733 The ending, the Grand ending (end)

The donation ceremony went extremely smoothly.

Accompanied by the leaders of the National Museum, the cultural relics Bureau, and the Ministry of Culture and Tourism, Lei Xiao and Lin Hanxing officially unveiled the four bronze heads, which also symbolized the official return of the National treasure that had been lost for hundreds of years.

The cameras of hundreds of media outlets were all focused on the people on the stage, and many of the cultural relics lovers who had been strictly selected to enter the venue shed tears at this moment. Their excitement was beyond words.

Lin Hanxing's gaze fell on the four bronze heads covered in special glass, and all kinds of things along the way kept flashing in his eyes.

Her parents had told her the story of the twelve bronze heads. So many years had passed in the blink of an eye ...

That eternal lamp had also been sent back to the border on the day long qingru and the Pu Wei received their due punishment. It had met with the nearly ten thousand eternal lamps, and since then, it had been truly complete.

As he thought about this, Lin Hanxing exchanged glances with elder long, who was sitting in the middle of the audience.

Today, elder long had specially changed into his most solemn clothes. Her chest was also filled with medals. Sensing her gaze, elder long seemed to want to squeeze out a comforting smile for her on her serious face.

The ceremony was carried out in an orderly manner.

The leaders gave their speeches.

Lin Hanxing did not let go of Lei Xiao's hand.

"What are you thinking about?"

Lei Xiao's low and charming voice, which he had deliberately suppressed to the lowest, rang in her ears.

"Do you like boys or girls?"

From a point of view that no one else could see, Lin Hanxing hooked Lei Xiao's palm with his finger, like two primary school students doing a little trick under the teacher's nose.

"A girl."

Thunder owl answered without even thinking.

"Like your daughter."

From the moment she was born, he would give her the best things in the world.

He protected her, loved her, and raised her to be an upright, kind, and fair little princess who would not be bullied by others.

Even though it was just a scene in his mind, Lei Xiao's cold facial features could not help but relax.

"You don't like boys?"

Lin Hanxing tilted his head to look at Lei Xiao, his expression slightly distressed.

"I don't like it."

As soon as he thought about the existence of another Rascal who would distract his wife's attention, the possessive Lei Xiao felt uncomfortable all over. He subconsciously held Lin Hanxing's hand tightly.

"But what can we do?"

Lin Hanxing seemed to be mumbling to himself, his long, curled eyelashes casting a dense shadow on his face.

"What?"

Thunder valiant didn't react in time.

The corner of Lin Hanxing's mouth curved up slightly, and even the mole at the corner of his eye was shining. As for the reporters who finally captured this scene, they could not help but press the shutter in their hands, just to take the most moving picture.

"He's already inside."

In the corner, Lin Han held Lei Xiao's large palm and gently placed it on his lower abdomen.

She had been feeling that something was not quite right these few days, so she tested it before she left the house.

Two red lines.

Along the way, Lin Hanxing tried his best to digest the emotional fluctuations that this incident brought to him. At the same time, he was thinking about how he should tell his husband.

Thunder owl did not say anything.

It took a long time for her to react to what Lin Hanxing had just said.

His deep pupils began to shake violently.

"&Quot; next, let's invite Mr. Lei Xiao, the president of Lei group, and miss Lin Hanxing, the president of X group, to speak ... &Quot;

In the center of the stage, the leader who had just given his speech did not receive a response from Lei Xiao for a long time. Everyone's eyes subconsciously looked in the direction of the two people, and in the center of everyone's line of sight, Lei Xiao was looking at Lin Hanxing.

"Mr. Ley ..."

The staff member came to Lei Xiao's side and reminded him.

Lin Hanxing let go of his hand. When he finally saw his husband in a daze, he pursed his lips to hide his smile like a cunning little fox. He did not feel that he had thrown the bomb just now.

The Thunder valiant beast quickly came back to his senses.

After calming himself down, he took the microphone from the staff member and walked toward the leader.

If one was not particularly familiar with him, they would not be able to see the slightest difference in his seemingly calm steps.

"&Quot; the National treasures have gone through hundreds of years of vicissitudes and travel. Today, my wife and I will finally send them back to their homeland. It is our honor ... &Quot;

Lei Xiao could not even remember how he had spoken. If he had not gone through the contents of the speech in advance, his mind would have gone blank after the 'shock' from Hanxing.

Lin Hanxing, on the other hand, had a smile on his face.

&quot; I hope that this can drive more people to participate in the work of protecting National cultural relics and promote patriotism ... &quot;

At this point, Thunder owl's words suddenly changed at the end of his speech.

"Also ..."

Before anyone could react, Lei Xiao suddenly knelt down on one knee after glancing at Lin Hanxing beside him. This action caused an uproar in the audience.

Yingluo, what are you doing?

This time, it was Lin Hanxing who was shocked.

Without any warning, she subconsciously wanted to pull the Thunder valiant beast up, but to no avail, she mouthed the question.

&quot; I would like to take this opportunity to seriously propose to my wife. After all, I didn't take the initiative last time. I still regret it even now. &quot;

Soft laughter immediately came from the audience.

Kneeling on one knee, Lei Xiao's gaze fell on Lin Hanxing's face, as if he was trying to see every expression on her face.

&quot; in the first half of my life, I've encountered many bad things, but I've never blamed God. Until I met you, I've blamed it for the first time in my life. I blamed it for not letting us meet earlier. &quot;

Lei Xiao's magnetic voice was transmitted into everyone's ears through the microphone, and his affectionate words moved many of the people present.

&quot; in order to find you, I walked 99 steps towards you. On this last step, are you willing to walk towards me and be my Mrs. Lei? "

As soon as he finished speaking, Lei Xiao slowly extended his hand towards Lin Hanxing.

He was deeply moved.

Lin Hanxing's tears fell uncontrollably after his sudden proposal, but he could not stop smiling. His throat was choked with sobs and he could not speak. He could only nod his head in response.

She extended her hand to him.

He was the most important man in her life.

She loved him.

She was also willing to spend the rest of her life with him.

"I'm willing to."

Lin Hanxing said.

The next second, the man's strong embrace held her firmly in his arms.

The audience was bustling.

"I love you."

Lei Xiao's deep and hoarse voice that was suppressing his emotions rang in Lin Hanxing's ears. These words would only belong to her in this lifetime.

Lin Hanxing's tears did not stop. He finally understood why everyone had been acting weird since this morning.

"Me too, my Mr. Ray."

I love you.

In this life.

his smile like a cunning little fox. He did not feel that he had thrown the bomb just now.

The Thunder valiant beast quickly came back to his senses.

As soon as he thought about the existence of another Rascal who would distract his wife's attention, the possessive Lei Xiao felt uncomfortable all over. He subconsciously held Lin Hanxing's
