Unhealthy businessmen, let 'A-list' star be hospitalized#

A tragedy caused by a dress#

Nameless brands. How to make celebrities rush to buy

Once again, the immoral brand, where is Eliana's fans?

After a night of fermentation, the next morning, the whole network entertainment headlines were Eliana's hospitalization.

It has been said before that Eliana is a 'A-list' star, and she who was a online celebrity with a huge fan base couldn't be underestimated.

With the news, all the netizens discussed this issue.

"What's the matter? How can our Eliana wear clothes which belongs to nameless brand?"

"Ask for details!"

"Am I the only one who care about Eliana's condition?"

"No, you're not alone. I also want to know about Eliana's condition. It is said that it is skin allergy. I want to know how to deal with it. Is it serious? Can the reporter write it clearly?"

"I agree with upstairs. Please write down the condition of Eliana quickly. Otherwise, believe it or not, I will send you razor blades."

News reviews exploded, and Eliana's Facebook exploded.

Fans poured into the message area.

"Eliana, what's going on here?"

"Who knows what kind of brand of the clothes Eliana wears? We need them to give Eliana an account."

“Yes, they must give Eliana an account.”

“I got it. It’s a start-up clothing company. The website is here. You can see it.”

With this comment, there was a link below.

Quickly, many netizens flocked to Hawk group’s own apparel company.

“Wow, this company invited Envy as its brand spokesperson.”

“Ladies and gentlemen, is our concern wrong? We should come to fight against it.”

“Yes, It should be strongly demanded to compensate Eliana for the loss.”

“Not only this fvck company, but Envy should also apologize to Eliana.”

“Totally right. Apologize! What’s wrong with this endors.ement? Our Eliana is allergic to this brand’s clothes, and I don’t know if it will affect her later schedule.”

Some of the loyal fans were even angry at Envy.

One by one, they went to her Facebook and scold her.

Even as time went by, things became more and more hot. The whole network was denouncing them.

Freya was the first to get the news, and immediately felt extremely desperate.

She saw the fierce online rhetoric and knew that it wasn’t easy to deal with.

Because this has become a big issue, involving not only artists, and may even the head company.

Anyway, the company was under the flag of Hawk Group.

She thought of this, the first time to contact Lucas, but the phone call was powered off.

Finally, she had no choice but to go to the company to deal with it.

At the same time, in Hawk family.

Evelyn and Lucas have got up, washed and dined downstairs.

One of them used to read the financial newspaper and the other read the current news on the mobile phone.

At this time, when Evelyn saw the news on the Internet, her face changed quickly and turned pale.

When Lucas saw her strange look, he frowned and asked.

“What’s wrong? You look terrible.”

Evelyn looked back at him in dismay taking her mobile phone.

“Lucas, something has happened.”

Lucas looked at her puzzled.

Evelyn saw his puzzle, knowing that he did not know. She quickly handed the mobile phone over.

He saw the news of Eliana’s hospitalization on the mobile phone, as well as the various criticisms of the follow-up netizens.

Lucas saw it and suddenly sank his face.

Evelyn looked at his awful face and his heart was full of tension.

“It was said that the message was blocked? How was it exposed?”

She asked carefully.

Lucas glanced at her and might think of something. His eyes twinkled and he said in a cold voice, “I don’t know. You stay at home. I’ll go to the company and search for it.”

After that, he had no time to continue to eat breakfast and got up and left.

Evelyn looked at his departure. She felt upset.

She really wanted to help, but according to Lucas's words, he didn't seem to want her to intervene.

But soon she realized that the reason why Lucas didn't want her to involve in this issue was that it was better for her.

After all, the root of the problem lied in the fabric provided by Davis family.

As a litigant, no matter what she did, she may not be accepted, or even made it worse.

In this way, she did not have the mood to eat. She returned to the room, intending to draw more design drawings, in return for Lucas sticking up for her.

Meanwhile, Hawk Group.

Cater had been waiting under the office building for a long time. When he saw Lucas get off the car, he immediately went to him.

"How's the situation?"

Lucas seeing him asked coldly.

"For the moment, the news was suppressed but the next step has not been decided. We contacted you before, but your mobile phone was off."

Cater responded respectfully and gave a brief account of the arrangements he had made here.

"Cell phone is out of battery, and I didn't know that. Eliana fans over there are calmed down?"

Lucas responded with low voice. He was more concerned about the progress of the situation.

"Not yet. This group of fans can't be dealt easily."

Cater said, and he had a bad face.

"What's the matter?"

Lucas saw it and stopped to ask.

Cater quickly expressed his worries as Lucas asked him.

“President, Eliana has very high popularity. The influence of her fans can not be underestimated. If there is no perfect way to appease, they are likely to influence the stock of Hawk Group.”

When Lucas heard this, he was serious.

Instead of making immediate arrangements, he went into the office and read the online news roughly.

“Tick-and-click”

His face was cold and his eyes were dark, so that people could not see what was in his mind at the moment.

Nobody knew how long it took for him to move his thin lips and say in a cold voice, “Let the hot stars give out some tips, diverting the media’s attention. And then we block the news immediately while they divert their attention!”

“Yes!”

Cater was about to go out and follow the orders of Lucas, but he was stopped.

“Besides, I said before that I was not allowed to report this issue. You go and find out who reported this.”

Lucas said that while his eyes were full of cold light, “I would like to see which newspaper office has such courage!”

Cater nodded his head and turned to leave.

Not to mention how upset and annoyed Lucas and Evelyn were by this incident, Amelia saw the news on the Internet at home, and her eyes were full of happiness and joy.

She would like to see how Lucas could protect Nora when things got big.

Evelyn did not know that all this was driven by Amelia.

She was in the room, but she couldn’t calm down to design.

In the end, she had to give up decisively and keep an eye on the progress of the issue.

Seeing the issue became more and more heated online, there was no action on Hawk group's side, which made her a little restless.

Just as she was ready to take action, Sofia stormed into her house.

Evelyn looked at Sofia's angry face and guessed her intention.

Sure enough, Sofia was irritated when she saw her.

"Nora Davis!"

She gritted her teeth and screamed. Her anger in her eyes showed that she wanted to tear up Evelyn.

"Mom."

Looking at her angry expression, Evelyn could not help feeling upset.

"Don't call me Mom, I really don't understand what our Hawk family did some immoral things marring you an unlucky woman!"

Sofia scolded her, "You bring bad luck, even if our Hawk family which have existed for hundred years, we are not enough for you to fail."

When she finished, she thought of the news she had heard from the outside world. She scolded again, "And your greedy father, the whole family is really vampires!"

Evelyn listened to her angry rebuke with an iron-blue complexion, but she could not refute it.

It was Davis family's fault and she acted as Nora. No matter how mean Sofia said, she had to suffer.

She was still and compressed her lips and let Sofia scold her.

It was Sofia, who talked for a long time, did not receive Evelyn's reply, feeling like a punch on cotton, making her more angry.

"Why, are you dumb? You refute more when I scold you before?"

She was not in a good mood.

Evelyn pressed her lips.

"This time, it's our family's fault. It is right to listen to your words."

She responded quietly, but did not know that her attitude made Sofia even more annoyed and frustrated unconsciously.

Originally, she wanted to take advantage of this incident to make the woman argue with her, so that she could make a big deal out of it.

Who knew that this woman, unlike usually. Evelyn not only argue with her, but also admitted her mistake in a good manner and let her plan fail.

"Well, don't think you have a good attitude towards this and we will let it go this time. I tell you that if Hawk family lost too much money because of your Davis family this time, I would never tolerate you staying in the Hawk family."

She said the threat angrily and turned away.

Evelyn looked at her leaving, frowning tightly. She was worried and went to the company at last.

Basically, she was going to go directly to Freya and ask what she planned to do about it.

Just before she knocked at the door, she heard the conversation inside.

"General Manager, there is no news coming from above. We should apologize in advance and appease the fans of Eliana. Otherwise, the image of the company will be destroyed by them."

"Wait a minute. We've done it now. What if it conflicts with head company arrangement?"

Freya was calm and barometric with the people below.

Several senior officials stopped talking, but discussed the matter from time to time.

“Well, I should have supported Director Morgan and refused to buy this new raw material. There was no guarantee at all.”

“Yes. I heard that the manufacturer exploited the connection to get the approval of our president.”

“Exactly. I also heard that many inferior fabrics were found out when we first went to inspect them.”

Freya listened to their complaints, and her face turned green.

“Well, that’s all in the past. What’s important now is the crisis of the company.”

She stopped the topic, but did not know that Evelyn was outside the door.

From their serious looks, she knew that things were obviously worse than she had expected.

She turned and left the office feeling that she must do something.

Anyway, it was because of her.

She thought of it, and there was a solution in her mind.

Eliana was the key if they wanted to put an end to this network storm.

So she went out of the company and bought a bunch of flowers and rushed to the hospital.

In the ward, Eliana knew that Evelyn had come, and did not refuse to let the assistant invite her in the ward.

“I heard you came to me. Why, your company has decided how to compensate me?”

Evelyn handed the flower in her hand to the assistant, and when she heard this, she paused.

“Sorry, I’m not representing the company this time, but I want to talk to Miss Robbie by myself.”

She went to Eliana’s side and smiled.

Eliana looked at her and frowned slightly. “What do you want to talk to me?”

“I’d like to ask Miss Robbie’s team to clarify the fabric issue for our company.”

Evelyn did not make a detour, but directly expressed her intention.

Eliana’s face changed sharply after listening.

But before she said something, the assistant next to Eliana got angry.

“It’s a daydream. Why do we clarify it for you?”

Along with her words, Eliana also agreed. She said, “Dose your company force me? Don’t forget, I am the victim!”

Evelyn anticipated that her words would arouse Eliana’s disgust.

So she did not care about their attitude, smiling: “I think Miss Robbie misunderstood my meaning. I do not want to push you too far. I just want to make a deal with you. Would Miss Robbie like to listen first?”

Eliana looked at her with a dark complexion.

“I don’t care what your condition is. If you aren’t talking to me about compensation, I’m sorry I have to rest. I don’t have time to listen to your nonsense. Alisa, let Miss Davis out!”

The assistant took a step forward and made a gesture of invitation to Evelyn.

Evelyn saw this and not be moved.

Alisa was in a hurry and would pull her forward.

Evelyn avoided her flexibly and looked at the woman in the hospital bed. She said, “I heard that Miss Robbie’s contract is about to expire. I wonder if you have considered going to another companies?”

Eliana’s face changed slightly when she heard this.

“Stop it, Alisa.”

She frowned and stopped Alisa. She looked at Evelyn and asked in a cold voice, “What do you mean?”

Evelyn felt relieved secretly to see that she was willing to listen to herself.

She hastened to say what she had no time to say just now.

“My meaning is very simply. As long as Miss Robbie help us clarify this matter, when Miss Robbie’s contract expires, you can go into the entertainment company of Hawk Group. And we will offer you better resource than that in your present company.”

With her words, Eliana and Alisa were stunned.

Obviously they wavered a little.

After all, for artists, good resources were rare in a lifetime!

But they were still calm in their behaviour.

Especially Eliana, who looked at Evelyn without surprise, even had a trace of doubts in her eyes.

“As far as I know, you are just a small designer under Hawk group. How could you possibly get me into Hawk group and why do I believe you?”

Evelyn listened to her questions and laughed profoundly.

“Miss Robbie can rest assured. Although I am a designer, I can not fail to promise you. Now you should consider whether to agree.”

Eliana listened and looked at her hesitantly.

Evelyn naturally knew what she was hesitating about, so she laid down the bait again.

“Mr. Robbie, I assume you are aware that the Hawk Group owns many jewelry and cosmetics brands? You know, we use artists like Louis Green and Maggie Well to endorse these brands every year. These are artists who sign with the Hawk Group.”

And as Evelyn was saying this, she paused deliberately. She watched Eliana’s face carefully.

When she saw the longing on Eliana’s face, the corners of her red lips were raised slightly. She went on to tell Eliana, “maybe Mr. Robbie doesn’t work for the Hawk Group, so you don’t know. The Hawk Group has a lot of ads every year. It’s the kind of ads that big-name artists struggle for. The Hawk Group, however, always prioritizes its own artists for these ads. We will only tender if there are any remaining ads left after the Hawk Group artists have been selected.”

And when she said that, the longing on Eliana’s face was already evident.

Instead of watching Eliana’s face, Evelyn continued to persuade her, “Mr. Robbie, if you go into the entertainment companies owned by the Hawk Group, you’ll have a share of endorsement resources like this. Which is more important, I think you’ll think it over.”

After she finished speaking, she left a business card on Eliana’s bedside table.

“Mr. Robbie, if you decide, you can call me at the number on my business card. Then I won’t disturb your rest. See you later.”

When she finished speaking, she turned and left.

Eliana didn’t stop her.

She glanced at Evelyn’s back as Evelyn left, and the card on her bedside table. She looked down and thought.

And when Evelyn left, she noticed that the sky outside looked a little yellow, it was late afternoon. She thought about it, took out her phone and called Lucas.

Soon the phone was connected and she heard Lucas’s cold voice.

“What’s the matter?”

Evelyn bit her lower lip and asked him, “You.....Are you off duty?”

“No.”

“Did you eat?”

She asked again and she got the same answer.

“No.”

Evelyn could not help but purse her lips. She said “oh” coldly and just hung up.

Lucas looked at his phone, he frowned slightly and he felt puzzled and surprised.

He couldn't understand why Nora called him.

Did she just want to ask him some boring questions?

While he was trying to guess her intentions, Evelyn had gone to the restaurant and packed some of his favorite dishes. Then she pretended to be the food deliveryman and went into his office building.

Led by the receptionist, she entered the top floor of the building.

“Cater, she's here to deliver food to the President.”

When the receptionist saw Cater, she told him this.

When Cater heard this, he looked up to retort unconsciously, “The President didn't order...”

Before he had finished speaking, he froze. “Young mistress...”

“Hello, I'm here to deliver food!”

Evelyn interrupted him before he could finish speaking. At the same time, she continued to hint at him with her eyes.

Cater finally understood what she meant. He quickly pretended as if nothing had happened, and he asked the receptionist to leave.

“I see. I’ll take her in. You go back to work.”

After he finished speaking, he offered to help Evelyn carry her food box.

The receptionist looked after them as they left, and somehow she sensed that something was wrong with them. But she did not find anything strange, so she had to turn away.

At the same time, Carter led Evelyn to the door of the CEO’s office.

“Young mistress, the President is in the office. Please go straight in and find him.”

And when he finished speaking, he knocked on the door, and he pushed it open for Evelyn.

In the office, Lucas heard a knock on the door, and he thought it was Cater looking for him. Then he spoke without looking up, “I left the papers on the table. I put the papers I have read on the right. You can take them down and hand them out.”

When Evelyn heard this, she stood thoughtfully in the doorway.

It was actually her first time in the headquarters building. She was also entering Lucas’s office for the first time.

She looked around. She found that the style of the office decoration matched Lucas’s personality.

The office was decorated in a single and cold color, black and white.

The whole office looked simple but elegant, and low-key but luxurious, showing extraordinary taste everywhere.

As she looked around his office, Lucas noticed something was wrong.

He looked up and saw her standing in the middle of his office. There was a flicker of surprise in his eyes.

“What are you doing here?”

When Evelyn heard the words, she looked back at him. She smiled and raised the food box in her hand.

“Didn’t you say you hadn’t eaten yet? I knew you were busy with your work, so I brought you food.”

When she finished speaking, she went straight to the coffee table in the office. She put the food box down. Then she took out the food in the food box.

“Come and eat while it’s hot. When you finish eating, I’ll tell you something by the way.”

Lucas looked at her. He got up and walked out of his desk. He asked her. “What is it? Speak now.”

When Evelyn heard him, without hesitation, she told him about her meeting with Eliana this afternoon.

“I mean signing Eliana to an entertainment company owned by the Hawk Group. As long as we offered the right price and strong support, and we would also ask Eliana to help clarify, people would just think it’s a publicity stunt.”

Lucas narrowed his eyes and thought. Then, glancing at Evelyn, he said in a low voice, “what else? You must have thought of more than that.”

Evelyn nodded, “indeed, as soon as Eliana works for the Hawk Group, our reputation crisis was half solved. As for the recalled dresses, I asked the recycling workers, and they didn’t find a second case of skin allergy, so the impact of this is not going to continue. We can fix it by giving them compensation afterwards.”

Lucas nodded thoughtfully, and as if he was thinking of something, he quietly asked, “how about the Envy?”

Evelyn felt a twinge in her heart, but she was quick to respond, “Envy was actually influenced by us. As long as we sign Eliana as soon as possible, when Eliana helps clarify, her fans won’t blame Envy anymore.”

As she spoke, the smile on her lips faded. She began to feel jealous.

Lucas didn’t notice. He thought for a moment, and he felt that what Evelyn had just told him would work.

“I will find someone to analyze these methods, but the Davis Group will still compensate for the damages. Our company cannot lose money for nothing.”

“I understand.”

Evelyn understood what he meant. In fact, she also wanted John to suffer, so that he wouldn't have to do such a thing again.

So she did not stop him.

Even after they had finished speaking, she stopped talking this. She persuaded Lucas to eat first.

“You eat first, or after a while, the food is cold.”

She said, and she served Lucas a bowl of rice.

Lucas took the bowl from her, and he asked her unconsciously, “did you eat?”

“Er...You eat first, and I'll eat later.”

Lucas looked at her, and he handed the bowl back directly to her, “since you didn't eat, let's eat together.”

And when he finished speaking, he served himself a bowl of rice, and then he began to eat.

Evelyn looked at him blankly. She was moved beyond words, but she soon suppressed her feelings.

She did not forget the concern Lucas had shown for Envy.

Maybe he was just concerned about his friend, but somehow she was very concerned about it.

Just when she was in a daze, he suddenly got food for her with chopsticks.

“Why are you in a daze? Do you feel full just by looking at me?”

Lucas looked at her quizzically, and his words also made Evelyn become angry from embarrassment.

“I'm not looking at you!”

Evelyn stared at him fiercely. She picked up the chopsticks on the table and buried herself to eat rice. It seemed that she wanted to hide the blush on her face by this action.

She didn't know that even if she covered her face, the pink ears betrayed her.

"Don't just eat rice. Then people who don't know will think I mistreated you."

Lucas looked at her shy appearance and could not help teasing again:
"Moreover, you are thin. If you lose weight again it will be more uncomfortable to hold!"

With his last words speaking out, Evelyn became more shy and her cheeks were hot.

"Lucas , you are a hooligan!"

She gritted her teeth and screamed. Lucas quickly clipped some food for her and comforted her by saying, "Okay, I won't make fun of you again. Have a good meal!"

Evelyn looked at the meat in the bowl and sneered.

She finished her meal quickly without giving Lucas the chance to refuse. She just said a sentence and left.

"I'm full. I have to finish my design at home. I'll go now."

Lucas could not help laughing as he looked at her angry back.

Immediately, he glanced at the position that Evelyn sat, and found that there was something of the woman left on it.

"This woman is careless."

He muttered. He picked up her cell phone from the sofa and walked out the door.

Evelyn didn't know that Lucas came after her.

After she went downstairs, she didn't expect that she could meet John, who was very aggressive.

She had guessed the reason why John appeared here at this time. It must relate to the matter of compensation.

Thinking about it. She came up and stopped him.

"What are you doing here?"

John looked at Evelyn, who suddenly appeared. At first, he was stunned. Then he asked in a bad temper, "What do you think I'm doing here? I ask you, what does Lucas mean by going to sue me? Did he really ignore our relationship? Don't forget, I'm his father-in-law!"

After listening to his words, Evelyn really wanted to rolled her eyes at him.

"Well, you know you are his father-in-law now. Why can't you remember that when you were getting him into trouble?"

She sneered and satirized, "Don't you know what you have done? You are not ashamed to say that. Our company is ruined by you. You deserve it!"

John was never criticized like that and it was Evelyn who he had always looked down upon.

Suddenly, his face was dark enough.

"Is that the way you talk to me? You are not educated! "

He scolded, but Evelyn immediately retaliated.

"Your are right. After all, since I was a child, my father was like being dead. No one taught me, I had to be uneducated."

"You... !"

John was furious at her cursing.

He had a ferocious face, raising his hand to hit Evelyn.

While his palm was about to fall, a slender and visible hand stopped him.

“Mr. Davis, Nora is my wife now. Should you ask me for permission if you beat her?”

Lucas said in a cold voice, with chill in his eyes.

He shook John’s hand forcefully off and glanced at Evelyn who was frightened. He frowned and his heart was full of doubts.

It said that John loved Nora so much. How could he beat her?

What a shrewd man John was. He just frowned a little and guessed the doubts in his heart.

His face changed a little and said in a low voice with a sullen face: “Mr Hawk had misunderstood. I just wanted to greet Nora.”

After he finished, he look at Evelyn with warning and shifted the topic and said, “Come on, Lucas,you are here. I just have something to talk to you.”

Evelyn knew what he wanted to talk about, and regardless of his warning, she was angry and said, “Dad, don’t go too far. There’s no need to talk about it at all.”

When John heard this, his face became more terrible and his eyes were full of anger.

If Lucas wasn’t here, he would really like to teach the woman who has forgotten who she is.

Lucas noticed the anger in their silence, and his eyes narrowed slightly.

“Nora, you go back first, just as I want to talk to Mr Davis.”

He patted Evelyn on shoulder to soothe her.

However, Evelyn still worried. She wanted to say something more, but was interrupted by Lucas .

“Don’t worry. It will be fine. Trust me, ok?”

The last word, with a gentle nasal sound, made Evelyn unable to refuse but have to turn around and leave.

As she left, Lucas glanced at John indifferently.

“Cater, take Mr Davis upstairs.”

He ordered in a cold voice and turned into the elevator, ignored no matter how terrible John felt.

A few minutes later, they entered the office.

Lucas didn't say anything first but dealt with desk documents by himself, as if John wasn't here.

John was annoyed by his attitude.

Thinking of his purpose of this visit, he could only resist. Then he broke the silence, said: “Lucas, you see our two families are in such a interdependent relationship. If you sue me then both of us will lose face. It's better for you to cancel the charge and we deal with it personally.”

Lucas looked at him with a fake smile and a cold light in his eyes.

“I'm afraid you had forgot that I've always had a clear distinction between public and private. Nora should have told to you at the beginning, don't use fabrics with bad quality but you don't listen to her advice. Now our company's reputation has been damaged. All the compensation was up to tens of millions. But these losses are due to your fabrics problems. Of course you have to take responsibility!”

In the end, he spoke in a firm voice.

John was red-faced and wanted to refute, but he had nothing to refute.

Lucas ignored him and saw that he didn't say anything, he emphasized his position again.

“Mr Davis, I hope that the next time when you talk with me, don't be so emotional. In business there's no emotion, I think you should understand. Then if you want to cooperate with me in the future, I will not refuse, of course, will not readily agree.”

When he said this, deliberately paused, waiting to see what John would say.

After he stopped, John frowned discontentedly. "What do you mean, Mr. Hawk?"

Lucas looked at him lightly and said in a cold voice, "Of course because of this incident. You should understand that the company is not mine. There are many shareholders. Only in this way can I give an explanation to the shareholders, and if you want to continue to cooperate, you can only accept my conditions."

John was angry, which undoubtedly broke his financial path and plan.

But if he didn't promise, he would lose more.

Just as he was thinking, Lucas seemed to be exhausted with patience and murmured, "If you think it's not right, you can go back and think it over. If you have an answer, you can inform me then. Now I have something to do. Forgive me not to send you out. Cater, send Mr Davis out!"

He pressed the bell to let Cater in.

John was so angry with his attitude of expelling guests, but he had nothing to do but turn around and leave.

With John's departure, the office became quiet again.

Lucas urgently needed to bury his head in the unfinished documents.

After a while, Cater came back and knocked at the door.

"Boss, I have seen him off."

He reported about John, but Lucas didn't care, so he said another thing.

"By the way, boss, I just got the information that the newspaper office you let me investigate has news."

Lucas heard the words and stopped his movements.

“Oh? Which newspaper office?”

Cater could not help shivering as he listened to his cold words.

He knew it was a sign of the boss’s anger.

“It’s a third-tier magazine. It’s not big and there aren’t many employees. We found out that the person who reported the news was a reporter who ran outside for the magazine.”

At the end of the conversation, he looked hesitant, as if he didn’t know whether to say or not.

“What else, just say it!”

Lucas waited impatiently, with a tight eyebrow.

“Well, according to the investigation, the journalist was Miss Morgan’s classmate. They met in the restaurant the day before the news reported. But something doesn’t feel right to me. I went to look for the journalist. The journalist admitted that Miss Morgan invited her to report the news.”

Finally, Cater spoke with his breath became more careful.

He looked at Lucas nervously. He thought his boss would be very angry when he learned that Amelia had done all this.

Who knows that his boss was nothing different.

His face was expressionless, and he could not tell if he was angry.

“Boss, what should I do next?”

He could not help asking.

Lucas glanced at him and his eyes were dark.

“This matter is suspended here, and I’ll deal with it later.”

When he finished, without knowing what he was thinking, he suddenly got up from his desk.

“Come with me to the hospital.”

The sound fell, he had disappeared from the office.

Cater looked at his leaving figure and his eyes were full of doubts.

Is this the end of the matter?

And what are they going to do in the hospital?

Even if he had a belly of doubts, he dared not ask Lucas.

He drove primly and took his boss to the hospital. He saw Lucas go to Eliana Robbie’s ward directly.

“Boss.”

Eliana knew Lucas naturally, so she was shocked and doubtful about his arrival.

“I don’t know what Mr. Hawk here for?”

She tempted to ask.

Lucas didn’t want to talk in a roundabout way either. He came straight to the point and said, “I know that our company had talked with Miss Robbie about joining our entertainment company before. I don’t know what Miss Robbie was thinking about.”

When Eliana heard this, she was stunned and did not seem to get it.

Lucas didn’t care either. He said frankly, “If Miss Robbie agrees, I can arrange for you to sign the contract right away and give you some resources to improve your status in the entertainment industry. Of course, the premise is that Miss Robbie can cooperate with us.”

After he finished, his eyes were calm and waiting for Eliana’s reply.

However, Eliana has not yet recovered from what he said.

Fortunately, the girl Cherry beside her pulled her in time.

This made Eliana refreshed.

Saw her face was overjoyed.

“Mr.Hawk, are you serious?”

She reconfirmed in disbelief.

When she listened to the designer before, she didn't believe it completely. She didn't realize that the woman was really good. Not only did she let the entertainment company agree with her, but she also let the Boss come and negotiate with her in person.

It made her feel like she was dreaming.

“I, Lucas, What I said has never been dishonest. I'm wondering what Miss Robbie thought.”

Lucas naturally understood what she meant and promised again.

Eliana was overjoyed in an instant. She was a little forget herself in excitement and nodded in succession.

“I agree!”

When Lucas got her answer, he asked Cater to draw up the contract on the spot immediately. In less than two hours, they signed the contract.

At the same time, a detailed arrangement has been made for this event.

But the outside world didn't know anything.

And the event has been discussing.

Although Lucas arranged people to guide public opinion and divert the attention of netizens.

But there was still someone staring behind it.

Once they found that the heat of the public opinion dropped, they would hype again and quarrel again.

After several times like this, Lucas's news aimed at diverting attention was not invincible at all, and the online quarrel was still very serious.

Evelyn was anxious at home.

She waited for Lucas to come back and quickly told him about the situation on the Internet.

Who knows that there was no change on his face?

"Aren't you anxious? If it goes on like this, the head office will be affected.

Lucas looked at her worried appearance, and his heart softened. He smiled and said, "Don't worry, it will be over tomorrow."

Finished talking, he took her into his arms, put his chin on her neck, smelled the fragrance of her body, and took a deep breath.

Evelyn was concerned about things on the Internet, so she didn't pay much attention to his actions.

"Are you sure tomorrow will be all right? What did you do?"

She asked two questions in a row.

Lucas, knowing that she would not be reassured if he did not make it clear, told her about the signing of the contract in the afternoon.

In fact, as Lucas said, the matter subsided on the next day.

The next morning, Eliana updated an article on Twitter according to their appointed time.

"I'm sorry, I was in hospital these two days and I didn't read the news in time, which worried my fans. To clarify this, I was accidentally allergic because I ate seafood. It's nothing to do with the rumors outside about allergies to any cloth. As for Zary brand clothes, I just want to say that the clothes are beautiful, I like them very much, and I want to buy them again. At the same time, I apologize to Miss Envy Miller for the trouble my fans have brought to you. Again, there is a good news to share with you. I declare that from today on, I will officially join the Entertainment Family of the Hawks!"

With this long series of words sent out, Twitter directly exploded.

“I don’t understand this.”

“I don’t understand, either. Not that clothes, how can they become seafood?”

“I don’t care. As long as our Eliana is safe, we can be at ease.”

“Yes, Eliana apologized. As loyal fans, we can’t discredit our idols. Miss Envy Miller, I’m sorry!”

...

With a lead, the following fans apologized.

At this time, some insiders came out to reveal Lucas used yesterday’s news to build up the momentum for Eliana Robbie.

In addition, Lucas let Cater buy many keyboard men. Almost after Eliana Robbie sent out the dynamic, all the topics on the Internet were brought to the rhythm.

And those bad comments, at first, still wanted to struggle, but without Eliana’s fans, coupled with the help of the influential keyboard man, directly disperse them, can no longer be organized.

In just half a day, the public opinion which could bring great danger to the Hawk Group was solved.

Amelia watched the rumors all tend to the good aspect of Evelyn. She was so angry that she smashed things in the room.

She had arranged everything. As long as public opinion are bad for Nora , even if Lucas wanted to protect her he had to punish her due to the pressure of the company.

But now everything is ruined!

Especially what Eliana said that let her could do nothing at all

Eliana used to hate the bitch Nora but didn't know why she changed so quickly.

Damn it!

Was Nora born to be lucky?

Why every time she wanted to hurt her there always someone to help her solve everything?

She thought angrily, and the cell phone beside her rang.

It was her classmate, but she didn't plan to answer it.

At the same time, on the other hand, Evelyn had been paying attention to the dynamics of the Internet.

She saw that the public opinion had been completely controlled, and even solved much better than she expected. She wasn't as worried as before and she could continue to design.

In the evening, when Lucas came back for dinner, Evelyn couldn't help asking about the thing happened during the day.

"By the way, when did Eliana agree to sign into the company? I haven't got the news."

Lucas looked at her and murmured, "Yesterday after you left, I went to meet her."

Evelyn was surprised, but did not ask why. Instead, she shifted the topic and said curiously, "Did you find out why it was exposed? "

Lucas said "Um", but there was no following.

Evelyn saw the situation. She knew that he didn't want to say more, pursed her mouth then stopped inquiring, and concentrated in eating.

Then one of them went back to the bedroom and the other went to his study.

The night was quiet.

The next day, Lucas went to the office after he ate breakfast.

Cater had been waiting at the entrance of the company.

“Ten minutes later, call all management to have the meeting.”

Lucas ordered as he walked towards the elevator.

Cater took out his mobile phone and began to make arrangements.

In less than ten minutes, the conference room was full of high-level directors.

They speculated about the content of the meeting.

Amelia sat in the position with an expressionless face. She looked unpredictable and didn't know what she was thinking.

It was not until Lucas came in with Cater that the crowd was quiet.

“There are several things that need to be dealt with immediately.”

Lucas sat down in the first place. He looked around and said.

“Firstly, the company will set up a quality inspection department. All products must be checked randomly by the quality inspection department before they can be sold...”

He put forward some reform ideas. Until the end, he put his cool eyes on Amelia and said in a cool voice, “From now on, you're fired by the company.”

After he said that, everyone was shocked.

Amelia was instantly pale and confused.

However, Lucas , didn't care about what expressions they have. After he finished he just immediately announced that the meeting dismissed.

When he left, the depressed conference room burst into a hubbub.

“Director Morgan, what happened? Why did the President fired you?”

“Yes? General Manager, do you know what's going on?”

Executives were asking for the reason one by one.

Freya shook her head and frowned. "The President didn't mention it to me."

After she said that, she looked at Amelia.

Just when she wanted to ask, she saw Amelia stood up and chased Lucas out.

She didn't understand why Lucas had to discharge her without any reason.

And there was no explanation, how could she receive the decision?

" Lucas."

She ran all the way to the elevator, finally saw Lucas , and hurriedly stopped him.

Lucas didn't want to listen to her.

But when he was waiting for the elevator she had been here.

" Lucas, why did you fire me? Did I make any mistake?"

Amelia stopped him at the elevator and repeatedly questioned.

Lucas looked at her expressionlessly.

If he hadn't known the truth, he would have been deceived by her.

When he was thinking, Lucas had already responded.

"You know what you've done."

When he finished speaking in a cool voice, Amelia was stiffened and her pupils constricted.

Obviously, Lucas knew what she had done.

She looked up in panic and tried to explain, but before she could get out, the elevator had reached the underground garage.

“The company does not need troublemakers. I have give you face because of my mom. Go back to your Morgan family.”

After Lucas finished, he passed Amelia directly.

Amelia stood in the elevator, looking at his farther and farther figure, her face was pale.

...

At the same time, Hawk family and Evelyn also received the news that Amelia was fired.

Although Lucas did not explain the reasons for her dismissal in the company, she still had guessed something.

Last night, when she asked about the news, Lucas didn't say it clearly, but he fired Amelia as soon as he went to the company this morning.

She was afraid that Amelia was the person who did everything secretly.

She just couldn't understand why the woman did it.

Was it because of her?

But the cost was too high, and it also involved Hawk family. She couldn't have done it.

She thought for a long time but could not understand it. Finally she stopped thinking.

Anyway, it's good news for her that Amelia had to leave. At least in the future, there would be less trouble in the company.

She thought it through and she was free then she got back into her creative work.

Didn't know how long it past, her mobile phone rang and interrupted her.

She scanned the phone on her desk and saw that John's name was on it. She wanted to ignore it.

Because she knew why John contacted her at this time. There's only one reason, that he wanted her to help solve the lawsuit with Hawk family.

However, she did not intend to help.

Because she had said before. This was what he deserved!

Even she who didn't work in this field knew that it was a business taboo to use the bad to change the good, but he did it as he knew.

After two phone calls failed connected, he changed to send messages.

"Ding Ding" it kept ringing, which made Evelyn unable to compose at all. She had no way but only pick up her mobile phone to check it.

All the text messages were threats and warnings to her.

Evelyn was so angry that she trembled all over, but she dared not resist any more.

Just because John threatened her with her mother again.

"What the hell do you really want?"

Evelyn called back angrily.

"What do I want, don't you know? Let Lucas cancel the lawyer's letter!"

John ordered.

"No way!"

Evelyn refused without thinking about it.

John said coldly: "You have no right to refuse, you must do it for me!"

After he said that, he did not wait for Evelyn's rebuttal, but threatened again with a loud voice: "Don't think you are in Hawk family so I can do nothing to you? Don't you care about your mother's life?"

Evelyn was trembling with anger when she heard these words.

“John, besides threatening me with my mother every time, can you do something new?”

She scolded him, John sneered.

“Because it’s the most effective way, I ask you again, are you helping me or not?”

Evelyn gritted her teeth: “I clearly warned you at the beginning, not to deceive with inferior products, but you insisted on doing so. Now that something has happened, you are coming to me.”

After she finished speaking, she took a deep breath and didn’t give John the chance to speak again. She continued, “Well, even if I have the ability to persuade Lucas to let you go, then I have no ability to persuade the shareholders of the company! You should know that the company has lost tens of millions of dollars this time!”

“So you mean you are not going to help?”

John didn’t care what she said just now, he only cared about whether she help or not.

“It isn’t a matter of whether I help or not, I can’t do it!”

Evelyn said frankly and she was telling the truth.

After all, she was only a small designer in the Hawk Group and had no ability to change the company’s decision.

But John didn’t think so, he thought that Evelyn was determined to oppose him.

At present, she was the legitimate mistress of the Hawk family, and the boy named Lucas also thought highly of her. However, she told him that she couldn't help it.

"OK, very good, Evelyn, I really underestimated you!"

He sneered, didn't give Evelyn any chance to speak, directly hung up the phone.

Evelyn looked at the hung-up mobile phone, her heart was vaguely uneasy.

She always felt that John's words were up to no good.

Of course, what she most worried was that John would hurt her mother.

Thinking of it, she forced herself to calm down.

If the man really did something to her mother, she would never take it lying down, even though everything was destroyed.

Now she had an idea, so she put it aside and continued to write.

But less than half an hour later, her cell phone rang again. It was the hospital.

The uneasiness that she had originally suppressed down rose again.

"Doctor. Hall, is something wrong?"

"Miss. Davis, the hospital asked me to inform you that the treatment for your mother will be completely stopped, including drug maintenance."

She heard Doctor. Hall's calm voice on the phone.

Evelyn stood up quickly, surprised and angry.

"Why will it stop? Who told you to stop?"

"I'm so sorry, Miss. Davis, this is Mr. Davis's order."

Evelyn heard these words, her anger cannot be suppressed.

John, how dare he!

But no matter how angry she was, she couldn't let the hospital stop the drug for her mother now.

"Doctor. Hall, you'd better make it clear that I'm the patient's immediate family member. How dare you touch my mother?"

She said menacingly, but Doctor. Hall remained indifferent.

"Sorry, Miss. Davis, we also do our job for money, if Miss. Davis want to save her, you'd better talk to Mr. Davis."

After he finished speaking, he directly hung up the phone.

Evelyn looked at the hung-up mobile phone, her eyes burning with rage.

Then she turned suddenly and walked towards the door angrily.

Unexpectedly, she met Lucas who came back as soon as she came downstairs.

If it were usual, she would stop to greet.

But at this time, she was worried about her mother, so she passed Lucas directly.

Lucas looked at Evelyn's angry face , his eyebrows were slightly wrinkled and he grabbed her.

"What's wrong? Where are you going?"

Evelyn was caught and she suddenly felt a little anxious and growled, "None of your business!"

Lucas not only did not let go but also grasped more tightly when he heard this.

"What's wrong?"

He looked at Evelyn with firm eyes, as if he would not let go until she made it clear.

Evelyn therefore restrained her sense of impending madness.

She looked the man in front of her, took a deep breath, "Something happened, I need to go out."

After she finished speaking, she struggled to leave.

But Lucas didn't intend to release her at all. He persisted in questioning.

"What's wrong?"

Should she tell Lucas that she was going to the hospital.

How could she say that?

And even if she said, then he would ask who was in the hospital, then how she should answer.

At that time, all her words stuck in her throat.

And she was gradually calmed down.

Even if she was in a hurry to go to the hospital now, as John's character, he would never agree to transfer her mother to another hospital.

He did this, which was nothing more than to force her to submit, and persuade Lucas to withdraw the lawyer's letter.

She thought of this, looking at Lucas who was still waiting for her answer in front of her and taking a deep breath. Then she suppressed her anger and said, "Nothing!"

Lucas frowned and stared at her, apparently didn't believe her.

Evelyn also knew. At the thought of the hospital, her mother was still waiting for her to save, so she gritted her teeth and told him the matter.

"My dad wants me to persuade you to take back the lawyer's letter and cancel the compensation."

Lucas heard these words, his face cooled down and at the same time he released Evelyn.

"Why? You signed and agreed at that time, and now you regret it?"

Evelyn choked and looked at Lucas's obviously angry appearance. She bit her lip and said, "Anyway, he is my father. Can you ... for my sake..."

Before she finished speaking, Lucas ruthlessly interrupted her: "No, it's impossible, it is worth tens of millions of dollars!"

After he finished speaking, he left directly.

Evelyn stood, looking at his angry back, and her hands and feet were cold.

Her face was even paler.

Lucas disagreed, and her mother was threatened by John. What should she do?

Just gave up?

No, she couldn't.

She couldn't give up.

She stabilized the mind again, looking at the direction of Lucas's disappearance, catching up.

Lucas naturally heard the movement behind him, but he ignored it and went directly into the study.

Evelyn chased him to the outside of the study, looking at the closed door and trying to knock on the door, but finally she stopped in mid-air.

She lingered for a long time and made many drafts in her stomach. Finally, she knocked at the door when she decided to do so.

Soon, the door was opened and Lucas stood behind it.

"Well, can we have a little talk?"

Evelyn raised an smile which was uglier than crying.

"If it is the matter, there is nothing to talk about."

Lucas gave her a light glance and responded with a cold voice.

As soon as he finished speaking, he was going to close the door.

Fortunately, Evelyn was quick-witted and resisted the door panel in time.

“Lucas, I think we should talk.”

She said, pleadingly looking at the man in front of her.

“Really, if I finish speaking, you still think it is impossible, then I will give up, okay?”

Lucas listened and looked at her with slightly narrowed eyes.

He saw her dark eyes filled with persistence ... he was a little moved.

Evelyn didn't notice his change. Seeing that he remained silent for a long time, she thought herself was rejected again.

Just as she was about to say something more, she found that Lucas slowly loosened his hand holding the door panel.

Lucas retracted his hand coldly and he said quietly, “Come in.”

After he finished speaking, he turned and went back to his study. He went straight to his desk and sat down.

Evelyn followed him, and she was relieved.

“What do you want to talk about?”

Lucas asked, looking at her coldly.

Evelyn heard his words, and she walked up and stood before him.

“I know that you will not agree to cancel the lawyer's letter, so I want to ask you that can I use another way to compensate you?”

Lucas raised his eyebrows, his eyes narrowed, and he sneered, "How do you want to make it up to me?"

Then he looked up and down at Evelyn as if he was measuring her.

Evelyn suddenly felt that he despised her.

Even so, she held back her discontent. She compressed her lips, and she said to him, "I had a design work published in BBS abroad, which was favored by the foreign brand, so they have been communicating with me online. Recently I heard that they are planning to enter the domestic market, and they are also planning to cooperate with the domestic clothing company to create derivative brands."

After she finished speaking, she looked at Lucas firmly.

Lucas raised his eyebrows. He seemed not to be attracted by her words. He asked, "so?"

Evelyn heard him, and she didn't know how to convince him for a moment.

She had thought that if she said this thing, he should know what she meant.

After all, he's smart.

Just as she was about to explain to him, she noticed the trick in Lucas's eyes.

She understood all at once.

He was pretending not to understand her.

The thought of it made her suddenly angry.

But it was she who asked for his help, so she could only repress her anger and she would even do what he wanted.

"I mean, our company can try to work with them. Their designers appreciate my work, so from this point of view, we have an advantage over other companies. And according to my preliminary estimate, if we can cooperate with them, our company will gain more than 50 million dollars from this cooperation. Thus, if I help you work with their company, can you let go of the Davis family?"

Lucas looked surprised when he heard what she said .

He didn't think Nora was so capable.

“What are your chances of success?”

He knocked at the table, and thought for a moment. Then he asked her.

When Evelyn heard what he said, she thought he had promised her. So her eyes flashed with joy. She said firmly to him, “although many companies will compete with us this time, I have an 80% probability to win this cooperation opportunity.”

Lucas listened to her assurances, and his eyes narrowed as if he were thinking.

The company's reputation has been tarnished since it started.

If he wanted to get back on his feet and run the company well, he must seize new opportunities all over again.

Therefore, if he could cooperate with an established foreign brand, it was definitely a good thing for his company.

As he thought of this, he looked darkly at Evelyn. “I can promise you that.”

After hearing his words, Evelyn was finally relieved of her fears. The smile on her face seemed even more irresistible.

Just as she was about to say something, Lucas spoke again.

“Don't get too excited. Although I promised to cancel lawyer's letter for the time being, only if you are successful in securing a partnership with their company.”

Evelyn understood what he meant. She nodded and said, “Of course. I heard the head of their company will be here tomorrow. I'll get a chance to meet the head of their company tomorrow.”

When Lucas saw that she understood what he meant, he replied with satisfaction.

“If you need any help, you can ask Freya to help you and I’ll tell her about it.”

Evelyn felt warmed in her heart as she heard his words.

This man was not so unreasonable.

Though the man had initially rejected her sternly, finally his heart was softened.

Not only did he help her, but he also saved her mother.

As she thought of this, she could not help but say gratefully to him, “Lucas, thank you.”

Lucas felt confused and looked at her in bewilderment.

Evelyn compressed her lips. She smiled. “Thank you for giving me a chance to make it up to you.”

And in her heart, she thanked him for not making her feel helpless .

Instead of telling him what she wanted to say in her heart, she just looked at Lucas gratefully.

Lucas did not know what was going on in her mind, but when he heard this, he merely snorted coldly.

“You are reasonable. If your father was half as reasonable as you and knew what to do and what not to do, we wouldn’t be having so many conflicts.”

Evelyn knew he was upset with John.

Not only he but also she hated John.

But she couldn’t express these feelings, because right now she’s pretending to be Nora!

So she apologized for John. “I’m sorry. We cause trouble for you.”

Lucas made no comment and he accepted her apology.

Evelyn watched him settle behind his desk. She thought that their affairs had been settled, and her mother was still waiting for her, so she wanted to leave to see her mother.

“That’s all we have to say, so I won’t bother you anymore. I’m going home.”

When she finished speaking, she saw that Lucas didn’t stop her, so she just turned around and left.

Lucas sat in his chair, looking thoughtfully after her as she left.

He put his fingers on the table and knocked on it.

His eyes looked deep as he thought of what they had said.

Nora, you was totally different from what I had heard...

After Evelyn left him, she went straight to her room.

She couldn’t wait to take out her cell phone. She told John about Lucas’ promise to cancel the lawyer’s letter temporarily.

“You said you couldn’t do it. You did it, didn’t you?”

John listened to her, he sneered and he said to her.

Evelyn was angry, and gradually, she had an idea.

“Don’t get too excited. Lucas agreed to cancel the lawyer’s letter temporarily, but he said the Hawk Group would never work with you in the future!”

As long as their companies never cooperated with each other again, the things like this would never happen again, and she would no longer be in a dilemma.

However, no matter what she thought, John was reluctant to give up his cooperation with the Hawk family, a super-rich family.

“Is that what Lucas said to you? Have you agreed?”

He suddenly changed his tone. He questioned her severely.

As Evelyn prepared to say yes, he told her again, “no, I disagree. I have to continue working with the Hawk family!”

Evelyn heard what he said, and her voice turned cold, too.

“John, you’re insatiable!”

“What if I am insatiable? Now tell Lucas what I mean!”

John became unreasonable, and he just started ordering her. Evelyn’s hands were trembling with rage.

“Impossible! I’ve settled it with him.”

She refused him firmly, but John didn’t care.

“Even if you decide, you can renegotiate it. Don’t forget, I still control your mother!”

Evelyn laughed at his shameless threat. “John, do you have to threaten me like this all the time? If you threaten me like this again, I’ll ignore you. After all, I am usually at my boldest when I have little to lose. If you dare to hurt my mother, we will finally die together.”

When she had said this, she took a deep breath and sneered. “Do you think whether the Hawk family will retaliate if they know you cheated on them?”

John’s voice went cold when he heard her words.

“Are you threatening me?”

Evelyn snorted coldly, and she said, “you can think of it this way. Anyway, I mean what I say. If you don’t believe me, you can try!”

John was so angry at what Evelyn said but he could do nothing to her.

After all, he still had some scruples.

He was afraid if that the bitch, Evelyn, really got angry and told Hawk family all the thing then his plan would be gone so as the future of Nora.

“I’ll teach you a good lesson one day!”

Although there was no way to deal with this bitch now, it didn’t mean that there was no chance to deal with her in the future.

He said and hung up the phone.

Evelyn looked at the mobile phone, knowing that John would not let her go easily.

But that would be a long time later.

She’s useful to him at the moment, and the man never dared to hurt her.

She could not help feeling a little tired when she thought about it.

In particular, she found that every time she talked to John, she was in a bad mood, and did not know when it would come to an end.

She really hoped the time go fast to let this year pass quickly.

And she could return to her own life without anger.

Then she took her mother and settled in a place where no one knew them.

She thought that it should be a happy picture, but without knowing the reason, her heart was empty, even dull, as if blocked.

And her mind flashed through Lucas’ perfect face.

When she left, Nora would come back.

By that time, the man must not know that his wife had changed.

She thought ironically, but her heart was as so upset as it was fried.

She wanted to vent, but her identity limited her actions. Finally, she went to the liquor cabinet to get a bottle of wine.

Maybe if she got drunk, she won’t think about these unpleasant things.

Therefore, when Lucas came back from his study, he saw Evelyn lying on the table with red cheeks.

He frowned and glanced at the bottles and glasses beside her.

Was her drunk again?

He's a little uncertain. After all, the amount of wine in the bottle was two or three cups.

Just as he was about to take her to bed, he seemed to think of something, and his eyebrows wrinkled again.

At this time, his mind was full of information about Nora's past.

According to the materials, Nora was a tough and domineering person, and she wouldn't be drunk in a thousand cups.

But when he came back, the person he saw was not like that.

Apart from being not easy to be bully, this woman seemed to have nothing same as what he knew.

Even if she was acting, even if a person could act perfectly, it would show flaws.

But this woman made him feel like a completely different person.

When he thought of it his eyes suddenly turned dark and unpredictable. No one could know what he was thinking.

Then he put Evelyn on the bed and turned to the bathroom.

When he came out again, Evelyn's feeling of drunk came up.

"It's so hot..."

She sat up in a murmuring manner, pulling her clothes with her eyes blurred, and she was taking off her clothes.

However, she was wearing pajamas, if her took off she will be n.aked.

Lucas was also clear about it. He rushed forward to stop it and suppressed Evelyn's hands.

However Evelyn who was so hot touched his cool arm like a stranded fish who found a source of water and panted him in an instant.

"So comfortable!"

As she was drunk and confused, she did not know what she was doing, only know that the touch of her hands made her very cool, comfortable, and wanted more.

She went all the way to Lucas, and her pajamas were loosely pulled by her. At this time, she was tossing about, and her chest had already almost revealed.

Lucas was greatly stimulated by this scene, and her small hands still touched him. The male lion, who had been sleeping in his body, was slowly awakened.

His throat knot rolled and he grabbed Evelyn's hands.

After feeling so excited, he directly grabbed the inviting red lips accurately.

Sweet breath with alcohol made Lucas can't stop but just want to get more.

He got straight into her.

Evelyn was even more moved by him with some sound.

And this charming voice, let Lucas' tight string directly break down, like a hungry wolf hunting. He just want to eat the woman up.

Of course he did.

He went through the person under him, and the warm and compact covering stimulated his continuous impact, like a grand prize on the battlefield.

Evelyn withstood his movement, like a lone boat in the sea, which was thrown up and dropped by the waves, and unconsciously overflowed some groans from her mouth.

These sounds seemed to be more and more stimulating to Lucas.

He seemed to never be tired and wanted again and again.

Until the sky was white outside the window, the two men huddled together and fell asleep.

...

The next day, Evelyn woke up with pain, and the memory of last night was played back in her mind like a movie.

When she thought of last night's madness she was like boiled shrimp.

Especially when she heard the door open, she hid herself in the quilt in a frightened way and felt shameless.

Lucas looked at the towering group on the bed and laughed softly. He couldn't help but tease, "After doing so many times, is it too late to be shy now?"

Evelyn clenched her teeth in the quilt.

Could it be the same last night as before?

Last night it was on her... initiative .

She didn't want to go out when she thought about it, and at the same time she made up her mind to stay away from drinking in the future.

Never drank even if he was upset!

Lucas didn't know what she was thinking. As she didn't show up he knew she was upset and no longer teased. He laughed and said, "Okay, I'll go down for breakfast first. If you're tired, you'll have a rest in bed."

There was a sound of footsteps after he said that.

Evelyn hid in the quilt and listened for a long time. Seeing no other movement in the room, he reached out his head.

There was no Lucas in the room.

She skimmed her lips and rested in bed for a while before she got up and went downstairs.

In the dining room, Lucas had already eaten.

When he saw Evelyn attending , he began to ask, “The person in charge of RC will arrive at 2:00 p.m. Do you want me to go with you?”

Evelyn frowned slightly and didn't understand what he meant.

Didn't trust her or worried?

She looked at Lucas hesitantly and shook her head. “No, I can go by myself. You can rest assured that I know how to entertain and I won't fail.”

When Lucas heard this, he knew that the woman had misunderstood him.

But he didn't explain, nodding his head and saying, “Okay, you should pay attention to yourself. Call me if you need help.”

Evelyn nodded: “I know.”

Then Lucas got up and went to the company.

Evelyn finished the breakfast and went back to her room for a rest before she began to make up.

The plane would arrive at 2:00 pm. she arrived at the airport half an hour ahead.

This time, the people who RC dispatched as the inspector was their chief designer Aaron Miller who was a well-known designer all over the world.

The person who Evelyn contacted online was also him. They may already had a good personal relationship.

At least Evelyn could recognize him at a glance.

Evelyn walked towards a slender man with a decent smile.”Mr. Miller.

The man turned unconsciously to reveal his true face when he heard the voice.

He's about twenty-seven or twenty-eight years old, with short hair, gray double-breasted suit clinging to him. He had wide shoulders and narrow waist.

The collar of the white shirt was slightly open, and the cuffs of the shirt roll up into the middle of the arms, revealing the wheat-colored skin.

A pair of deep eyes, a straight nose, sexy lips, especially when all of them combined was like God's masterpiece.

"Miss Davis."

Because he had seen her online before, so Aaron also recognized Evelyn, and at the same time, there was a glimmer of amazement in his eyes.

Evelyn wore a light gray professional dress which showed her ability, she didn't lose the charm of mature women, especially with exquisite features, which made it more pleasant to see.

"Unexpectedly, Miss Davis looks much beautiful than seeing online."

He praised her and Evelyn was modest.

"Mr. Miller is joking."

She said, as if she had thought of something, and invited him, "Well, Mr Miller has worked hard all the way. I have already booked a hotel. Why don't we go and check in first?"

Aaron did not refuse, but nodded to Evelyn to lead the way.

Then they came to the hotel, Evelyn took the room card and lead Aaron into the room.

"This room is the brightest in the hotel. Have a look, Mr Miller. If you have any problem please tell me."

Aaron looked around and said with a smile, "I'm very satisfied, Miss Davis. Thank you so much."

“This is what I should do. Mr. Miller you can wash and have a rest. I’ll wait for you downstairs.”

Evelyn said politely. Aaron nodded and watched her leave.

After waiting for her to leave, Aaron sat in bed laughing.

He had a better impression on Evelyn.

But Evelyn did not know.

After she went downstairs, she sent a short message to Lucas, giving a general account of the situation on her side.

But the sending out short messages were like sinking into the sea without any response.

Neither did she care. She picked up the magazine beside her and read it.

After a while, Aaron went downstairs and saw a beautiful woman sitting in the lobby leisure area, then he walked over with a smile.

“Miss Davis, I’m all right.”

Evelyn heard what he said and immediately put down the magazine in her hand and arranged, “Now let’s go to have the meal?”

Aaron shrugged: “This is Miss Davis’ place. It’s up to you.”

“Don’t you be afraid that I’ll kidnap you and sell you?” Evelyn laughed.

“I’m not so stupid, am I?”

The two entered the restaurant jokingly, and harmoniously chatted, without the initial strangeness.

After all the dishes were served, Evelyn introduced the characteristics of Chinese food to him. Her delicate and thoughtful hospitality made Aaron feel better.

Of course, he also knew why Evelyn was so enthusiastic.

Seeing that the meal was almost finished, he slowly curbed his laughter and mentioned the matter.

“Miss Davis, I read your previous comments on the Internet. From my heart, I appreciate your work very much, but you also know that the company has the system and process. I can't decide anything by myself, so I can't promise you anything at will.”

When Evelyn heard this, she suddenly understood what he meant.

“Of course , I can understand and I'm sure our company will win the cooperation.”

She spoke confidently that Aaron admired .

“In that case, I hope your company will win the first prize at the dinner party tomorrow evening.”

When he talked about the dinner party tomorrow evening, Evelyn's eyes flashed a sense of being bound to win.

“Of course we will!”

Anyway, she would win!

When Aaron saw this, he said with a smile, “I wish Miss Davis can get the victory and I look forward to cooperating with Miss Davis.”

Then he raised the glass on the table.

Evelyn responded.

They were happy during the dinner.

By the time they came out of the restaurant, it was getting dark.

Evelyn thought that Aaron had took the airplane for one day and said thoughtfully, “Mr Miller, that's all for today. You're tired from flying for one day. Tomorrow there are many things waiting for you to arrange. How about I send you back to the hotel to rest first? I'll show you the scenery of Jindu in another day when you are not busy.”

Aaron was tired and did not refuse. He followed Evelyn back to the hotel.

But just as they entered the hotel, they were seen by Amelia passing by.

These two days, because she was expelled by Lucas, she was always in a bad mood, so she asked some friends to go shopping to vent her anger. She didn't expect that she could see that.

"Stop, stop!"

She patted at the door and shouted. The good friend in front of her looked confused.

"Amelia, what's wrong?"

Although she was questioning, she stopped the car.

Amelia ignored it and opened the car door and ran to the hotel.

But when she went in Evelyn wasn't here anymore.

She stamped her feet unwillingly and hurried to the front desk.

"Tell me, the woman in a gray uniform, with her hair tied up who was just there, which room was her in?"

She told her the appearance of Evelyn and her eyes fixed on the little girl at the front desk.

The little girl in front of the desk was very numb by her stare, but she still kept her professional accomplishment and said with a smile, "Excuse me, this lady, we can't disclose information about customers!"

As soon as the words came to an end, the friends of Amelia also came .

"Amelia, what had happened?"

Amelia looked at them without answering, but asked, "Who knows the boss of this hotel?"

Let go of Amelia was finding the way to get the information of Amelia in the hotel.

After Evelyn sent Aaron to the room, they talked for a while about the design.

Later, Evelyn found that it was late and hurried to say goodbye.

At that time, Amelia had got the room number and went upstairs alone.

Evelyn didn't know anything. After she left the room, she found her handbag was in Aaron's room and turned back.

At this time, Aaron had changed into a bathrobe and was surprised to see Evelyn coming back.

"What's wrong?"

"I forgot my handbag."

Evelyn was ashamed and Aaron laughed then let Evelyn into the room.

At this time, Amelia fiercely pressed the camera.

"I know that Nora, the b!tch, can't be restless." She got some goods on her this time.

When she sent the photos to Lucas there's no way for her to explain.

She thought triumphantly and shook her head quickly to deny it.

This photo was useless if she sent to Lucas. She gave it to him several times before. However, Lucas was always confused by the b!tch Nora, who spoke in two or three words. In the end, nothing happened.

When she thought of it she already had a candidate in mind.

Didn't Sophia always want to find this b!tch fault?

With this photograph, Sophia would certainly force Lucas to divorce the b!tch.

And here's the chance for her.
