

The Gorgeous Substitute Wife of Mr. President Chapter 161 - Tips

0 5 minutes read

After hearing her words, Lucas felt ironic and uncomfortable even though he had known that for a long time.

He looked at Evelyn coldly, and raised the corner of his lips with sarcasm.

“So that’s why you waited for me?”

Evelyn was about to explain, but did not know what to say. She just stood in the same place, pouting her lips and pulling her clothes.

Looking at her look, Lucas did not like her behaviors.

It showed that she was sure that he would agree.

His eyes narrowed slightly and he smiled softly. “Are you so sure I’ll help you this time?”

Evelyn bit her lips. Just when she was ready to say something, Lucas continued again.

“Nowadays, the Davis Group is like a bottomless pit. Nobody can guarantee the return of investment. Do you think that as a businessman, I will suffer such a loss?”

Naturally not.

Evelyn answered silently in her heart, but even if she knew that, she had to let him promise.

Otherwise, John would not let her mother go.

“Although the Davis Group’s crisis is very serious now, it is also a big group anyway. It contains a lot of business. If the Hawk Group can mobilize funds and use these business as a condition, and let the Davis Group give up some, there will be no loss for Hawk Group, even a possible profit, even if the Davis Group can’t be saved in the end. “

She tried her best to analyze the advantages and hoped to successfully persuade Lucas.

But as she finished her speaking, the study room was silent.

She looked at Lucas uneasily and was very nervous.

She didn't know whether it was because she was so nervous that her stomachache, which had never been alleviated, came back again, even with a hint of aggravation.

She gripped her lower lip tightly, and a thin sweat came out of her forehead.

Lucas did not find her strangeness, but thought carefully about what she had just said.

He had to admit that it was really a good idea.

But it was just good, and even...

"Your plan is really good. It seems that we can get what we need respectively. But once the Hawk Group gives a favor, which means to tell others that the Hawk Group is the Davis Group's reliance."

Saying this, he paused and then laughed and said, "The Davis Group can not only get rid of the crisis but have the Hawk Group as its reliance. It's a good plan to kill two birds with one stone. Who taught you? John."

The last sentence was not a doubt but an affirmation.

Evelyn frowned, knowing that he had misunderstood.

"No, it's my own idea."

She explained softly, but Lucas raised his eyebrows with surprise in his eyes.

It was really beyond his expectation.

Evelyn did not discover the change in his eyes. After saying that, she organized the words in her heart for a while before she spoke again. "The reason why I say that is that I think the Davis Group has today's crisis because of itself, and I think it's better for you to take away the benefits than for others."

She said that, and her eyebrows were wrinkled again.

The pain in the stomach got worse and worse, as if a knife was cutting on her stomach.

Suddenly her face turned pale and her forehead blew with cold sweat.

As if she couldn't stand straight, she staggered back suddenly, and then she hunched up.

"What's wrong with you?"

When Lucas heard the movement and looked up, he saw Evelyn standing shakily.

He got up unconsciously and went to Evelyn to help her.

Evelyn was stunned to see the man who appeared beside her.

Then she straightened up as if there was nothing wrong with her.

"It's all right."

She broke away from Lucas' support and bit her lip and said, "What do you think of what I just said to you?"

She hoped to get Lucas' answer, so that she could give John a reply and her mother would not be afflicted by that person.

Lucas was dissatisfied with Evelyn when he found that she paid all her attention to the Davis Group.

"Although I am in charge of the Hawk Group, as for the matter of mobilizing a large amount of funds, I need to discuss with the directors in the company. I will not promise you now, but I will take it into consideration."

Evelyn looked at his businesslike appearance, with her disappointing eyes.

But she quickly adjusted her mind, took a deep breath and bit her lip and said, "Well, I hope you can think about it."

Lucas nodded. Seeing the situation, Evelyn didn't want to stay here any more and proposed to leave.

“Then I won’t disturb you. I will go back to my room and rest first.”

She turned around to leave.

However, when she stepped out, a pain in her stomach seemed to reach her nerve, causing her to urgently breathe.

Suddenly, she did not even have the strength to stand, and felt dizzy, then she straightly fell down backward.

Looking at her movements, Lucas did not go forward at once, but stood still.

He thought the woman was playing a trick to gain an end by enduring bodily suffering and forced him to agree now.

“You, don’t exercise your wits for personal gain in front of me, or I won’t even think about it.”

He gave a cold warning.

On the ground, Evelyn did not respond.

He looked at her for a long time, frowning.

Finally, he went over.

“Get up.”

He squatted down and pushed her.

Evelyn rolled over unconsciously along his strength, and her pale face was imprinted in his eyes in an instant.

Lucas suddenly looked anxious and slapped her on the cheek.

“Evelyn, wake up.”

Evelyn did not respond. He looked very nervous and anxious. He immediately held her and walked to the room. At the same time, he did not forget to ask the housekeeper to call the family doctor.

He didn’t know how long it took when Evelyn wake up again.

She looked around in a blank way and did not react for a moment. Then in her ears, came out Lucas' voice.

"Wake up?"

Evelyn regained her consciousness and remembered that she had fainted before, then she bit her teeth tightly.

"Thank you for sending me back."

Seeing this, Lucas hummed.

"You clearly know that you have a bad stomach, so you should have a good meal."

He narrowed his eyes and looked dangerous. "Or do you want to take advantage of this problem and rise my sympathy so that you can allocate funds to the Davis Group?"

Hearing his words, Evelyn looked a little sad and worried.

But she could understand him.

"Sorry, I am not deliberate to faint, and I don't think so much. It's up to you to decide whether to help or not. Even if you don't help the Davis Group, I won't say anything. After all, it's not your duty."

She stood up and looked at Lucas calmly.

Lucas looked back at her and was unhappy with her attitude of keeping out of the affair.

But looking at her face which was as white as paper, he could not be angry with her at all.

He stepped forward, breathless, and handed over the cup and the medicine in his hand.

"Take the medicine first."

Evelyn was stunned and hesitated to accept them.

"What? You are no going yo eat food, even the medicine now?"

Seeing that she was tardy in taking medicine, Lucas raised his eyebrows and provoked her, "Didn't you just say that you haven't thought of threatening me with the illness? What are you doing now?"

Evelyn regained her consciousness, frowned and looked at him, then she took the medicine silently.

Seeing her take the medicine obediently, Lucas' eyes narrowed. Suddenly, he thought of something and said, "Doctor has said you have a serious stomach disease. Why is it so serious? How do you catch it?"

The Gorgeous Substitute Wife of Mr. President Chapter 162 - Tips

0 5 minutes read

Hearing this, Evelyn who was originally drinking water stopped.

Then she calmed down, put down her glass and laughed, "I didn't eat on time and loved to drink before. I didn't expect that it will be like this."

Lucas did not believe her vague response.

According to the information given by Cater before, there was nothing wrong with Evelyn's health. And her family regularly arranged her to have a physical examination, so even if her diet was irregular and she drank for a long time, her health wouldn't be so terrible.

But now, not only could the woman not drink alcohol, but her stomach was extremely weak.

For a time, Lucas had numerous doubts in his mind.

He always felt that Evelyn concealed himself something.

Evelyn was not aware of his suspicions.

After eating, she shook her head and looked at Lucas in confusion.

"Well, Lucas, what do you think about my previous proposal?"

Lucas regained his consciousness by her words.

Seeing that she still did not forget the matter about her family even he was sick now, he gradually became gentle.

“I’ll deal with this matter. You can rest assured and take good care of yourself.”

Evelyn naturally discovered his displeasure, but she couldn’t help breathing a sigh of relief.

Despite this man’s bad attitude, she knew that he would deal with it once he promised her in disguise.

“Thank you.”

She thanked Lucas. The man hummed lightly and entered into the bathroom sideways.

Looking at the direction where the man disappeared, Evelyn could not help but raise the corner of her lips.

This man was seemingly ungrateful, but was actually gentle.

Thinking over, she went to sleep unconsciously.

Before long, Lucas finished washing and bathing and came out of the bathroom.

He looked at the sleeping man in bed, frowned slightly, and walked over.

After going to bed, Evelyn didn’t know if she felt the familiar smell, so that she subconsciously got closed to him, and her hands were naturally holding Lucas’ pajamas.

Lucas noticed her movements and became stiff.

He looked at the people who were close to him, and her instinct dependence made him gentle.

In the end, he couldn’t push her away.

Spend the night peacefully.

...

The next day, Evelyn woke up and there was no Lucas beside her.

She didn't care that. She got up and washed.

At the same time, in the Hawk Group.

John followed Cater into the president's office happily.

"President, Mr. Davis is here."

When Cater finished, he respectfully went out.

Lucas looked at John and said, "Sit down."

John nodded and sat down beside the sofa.

Seeing this, Lucas narrowed his eyes.

"Maybe you have known the reason why I ask you to come here. In a word, it is not impossible for you to ask the Hawk Group's help, but I have a few conditions."

Hearing the first half of his words, John looked very proud, but as Lucas finished his words, he looked grim.

"What do you mean?"

Lucas naturally knew that he would be unsatisfied. He smiled and said, "Mr. Davis, we are just in business. If you don't agree, you can leave now."

He silently warned John that if John wanted to threaten him with the relationship between their two families, it would be impossible.

In the end, John compromised and began the negotiation at the pace of Lucas.

And all this, Evelyn did not know.

When she returned to her room after dinner, she saw the latest news about the Davis Group on the Internet.

“The Davis Group promises never to rebuild resorts with mass graves”.

“Is the Davis Group’s late apology true or false?”

“The Davis Group’s apology is to submit to the economy or to the tactics of attending the meeting.”

Evelyn read several headlines and finally found the apology letter issued by the Davis Group.

It said in the letter that the original intention of the Davis Group indicated that they did not know that the ground was a mass graveyard at the beginning, then followed by clarification of the previous announcement at the release conference which would not be built into a resort villa and sold out. But the ground would be jointly developed into a cemetery with the government, and when developed, the cemetery would be built for those unknown wandering souls.

At the same time, in the end, the Davis group also appealed to counterparts to boycott bad real estate business, and prevent from being deceived.

At the end of the letter, the information about the Davis Group bought this ground was posted below to increase the credibility of their words.

I have to say that this operation had calmed down many netizens who were already angry.

Especially those posted materials, had made them hesitate.

Were they wrong?

“These materials present the chapters and the time, the Davis Group should not lie.”

“I think so. If it’s false, the Davis Group will be over once it is found out.”

“This is not necessarily true. Nowadays, the counterfeiting technology is becoming more and more sophisticated. Without the proof of the public security organization, it is still unbelievable.”

“Yes, anyone can say that, and now it is the Davis Group’s self-talk. There is no response from the government. It can be seen that the Davis Group is fooling us.”

“Yes, let us boycott faithfully the black-hearted businessman!”

With the rhythm, the netizens who had already resisted the Davis Group felt that they had been cheated again became more fiercely to fight the Davis Group on the Internet.

“Damn it. We were almost deceived by the black-hearted businessman.”

“Yes, indeed, the traitor is the traitor, deceiving our kindness.”

“I am so angry. I’m going to send a blade to the head of the Davis Group!”

...

There people fighting more fierce, John and Lucas, who are negotiating with each other, had also received the news.

John was gloomy at the moment.

Lucas looked at John with a fake smile.

“Mr. Davis, do you want to stick to your idea?”

Seeing the situation and thinking of that a bunch of inequality conditions, John had no choice but ultimately grinned his teeth.

“Well, I promise!”

Lucas got a satisfactory answer and pressed the inside line to let Cater in.

He whispered a few words to Cater, and then Cater’s eyes were full of surprises.

But he did not say too much but turned around and finish the task.

Soon after, the official accounts of the relevant departments on the Internet admitted their cooperation with the Davis Group.

For a while, there was a moment of silence on the Internet.

Those writers on the Internet hid one by one.

After all, the officials had come out to prove it. If they went on, they would be investigated.

Without their help, the storm of the Davis Group gradually subsided.

But even so, for the Davis Group, their losses were huge.

Many of the company's projects had fallen into the hands of others, and even been robbed by others.

However, all of these, Evelyn did not know.

But as she reviewed the Davis Group's turn after the incident, she still felt that it had something to do with Hawk.

After all, she told Lucas about the matter of the Davis Group only yesterday, but it had been settled today.

And just during a short morning, only he could help the Davis Group to stop the storm and implement the follow-up strong operation.

Of course, she also knew that Lucas would not help the Davis Group in vain. They must have reached some agreement.

The Gorgeous Substitute Wife of Mr. President Chapter 163 - Tips

0 5 minutes read

That was true.

The reason why Lucas helped John was that they had reached an agreement.

The Hawk Group contributed the money to help the Davis Group survive the crisis, while the Davis Group transferred their projects to the Hawk Group.

John was forced to sign the unequal treaty and returned to the company angrily.

"Damn it, Lucas."

He kicked the table angrily, and looked very grim.

In his opinion, the behaviors of Lucas was even worse than those of bandits. He just took advantage of the crisis of his company to rob them.

But he also had no way to refuse. If there is no funds of the Hawk Group, the company would only have a dead end.

He gritted his teeth and bore grudges.

Next time don't let him seize the opportunity, or he would certainly make Lucas pay a price!

Just as he thought, the assistant knocked at the door and came in.

“Chairman, the Hawk Group sent someone over to make the handover.”

Hearing this, his anger rose again.

He didn't realize that he had just returned but the Hawk Group sent someone over.

Were they in such a hurry for fear that he would repudiate a debt?

He thought angrily and snapped, “Just tell them that I'm not here and let them hand over with the relevant departments.”

Looking at his angry look, the assistant dared not say anything more. Nodding, he was about to turn around and leave.

Just as he was about to open the door, John seemed to think of something and stopped him.

“Wait a minute.”

“What else does you want to order?”

The assistant listened and turned around to ask.

“Now you contact the project department and let them pick out all the valueless and expensive projects and give them to the Hawk Group.”

John hummed softly.

Didn't they think he being threatening by them couldn't retaliate them?

The assistant was stunned and understood what he meant.

“I see.”

He nodded in response, and John waved him away.

Half a day later, the handover was completed, and the representatives of the Hawk Group returned to the company with the information.

They sorted out the information and handed it to Cater, who then submitted it to Lucas for reporting.

“President, I don’t expect that the Davis Group looks very terrible but still has many valuable projects.”

Cater came in happily with the information about the projects in his hand.

“What do you say?”

Hearing what he said, Lucas stopped his work to raise his eyebrows and asked him.

Seeing this, Cater handed over the information to him and explained, “Most of the projects given by the Davis group are small projects with little profit, but one of them, I think, although the investment in the early stage is relatively large, but after research and development, the profit is very large.”

Lucas listened to his words and checked the information in his hand with suspicion.

As Cater had said, most of them were small projects with little profit, which he just had a look and put down.

When he turned to the R&D project praised by Cater, he stopped and looked at it with interest.

This project was about the mobile phone chip. If it was successfully developed and loaded into mobile phones, it could improve the functions that existing mobile phones in the market did not have. It could be said that the function was very advanced and close to the new technology.

“This project is really good.”

Lucas really had a vision that he even consider the more long-term profits than Cater.

Once the project succeeded, it was not only for them to make a profit, but also for them to develop a series of products if they continued to research and develop.

And with this technology coming out, they would also reform the whole mobile age, and the company would even make great progress.

Thinking that, he was delighted but also doubtful.

Generally speaking, it was impossible for John to give up such a good project.

After all... He glanced at the unprofitable projects on the table, and suddenly realized.

It might be that that cunning man didn't discover the value of the project at all but regarded it as a burden and threw it to him as the garbage along with those worthless projects.

Once thinking this, he could not help laughing, which made Cater puzzled.

“President, what's wrong?”

Lucas looked at him and said, “It's all right. I just think that this time John was ruined by his own wisdom. He wants to exchange our money for those worthless projects. But he doesn't expect that he has give us the most valuable one.”

As he said, he put down the materials about the projects, and ordered, “You are responsible for this project. Considering that it is an important research and development project, you should do a good job of confidentiality agreements.”

“Yes!”

Cater nodded and responded. And then Lucas assigned his another more tasks and let him leave.

Looking at his figure, Lucas squinted, and raised the corner of his lips, as if he was in a good mood at the moment.

But Evelyn didn't know that an idea she said at will unexpectedly made Lucas gain so much.

Seeing that the crisis of the Davis Group was dealt with, she devoted herself to working wholeheartedly and concentrated on drawing the designs.

Later, when Lucas returned, the servant from the main house came and invited them to have dinner in main house.

At this time, Evelyn remembered that today was the day for the family to have dinner together.

She simply dressed up, and after Lucas washed, they went to the main house.

In the dining room, Mr. Hawk and Mrs. Hawk were all seated.

Looking at Evelyn who was late, Vivian pouted her mouth with dissatisfaction.

However, due to Lucas' presence, she did not say anything.

Evelyn naturally perceived her dissatisfaction, but she did not care, just smiled and greeted the old man.

"Grandpa."

After that, she glanced at Sophia and other people, and said with a faint smile, "Dad, Mom, Aunt-in-law."

Sophia pretended not to hear what she said, and Devin just nodded coldly.

The old master glanced at them, frowning slightly, and was a little dissatisfied.

Originally, he wanted to scold them, but thinking that today was a rare family gathering, he resisted his anger, ignored them and greeted Evelyn with a smile.

"Nora, come and sit down. Don't be so polite."

Evelyn bowed and followed Lucas to the table.

During the dinner, several men talked about matter of the company. Evelyn did not know whether it was because of the previous unpleasant matter that she did not talk with them.

Seeing this, the old man wanted to deliberately take care of Evelyn. Thinking about what happened to the Davis Group in the past two days, he said, "Nora, there have been a lot of things happening to the Davis Group in the past two days. Are you all right?"

Hearing her words, Evelyn was stunned. But she knew immediately that the old man was concerned about her. She smiled and said, "It's all right now. Grandpa, you don't have to worry about it."

As soon as she finished her speaking, Mrs.Hawk sniffed.

"Don't think that I know nothing. If it's not Lucas who helped you secretly, the Davis family will have been over."

Evelyn pouted her lips. It was true that she could not deny that she really should appreciate Lucas.

But what Sophia said really made her unpleasant and uncomfortable.

Just as she was about to say something, Lucas opened his mouth.

"Mom, don't look down upon your daughter-in-law. If it weren't for her advice this time, our company would miss a good project."

Finishing his speaking, he looked at Evelyn with a smile, and then talked about the matter about the research and development of the chip.

The Gorgeous Substitute Wife of Mr. President Chapter 164 - Tips

0 5 minutes read

As Lucas finished his speaking, both Devin and the old master were happy.

Like Lucas, they saw the glory behind the chip at a glance.

"Yes, it's not bad."

Devin nodded and his discontent to Evelyn gradually receded.

The old master laughed happily.

“Nora, if your dad knows that he loses such a profitable project, he will be extremely angry.”

Evelyn smiled and kept silent, but in fact, she was also a little unexpected.

Generally speaking, John could not have given up such a profitable project. Did he make a mistake?

She thought about it for a long but still could not find the answer, so she stopped thinking it and concentrated on eating.

It was Sophia, looking at the people who were eating together harmoniously, who was extremely angry.

Originally, she wanted to take advantage of this matter to get into trouble with Evelyn, but unexpectedly, she made her more powerful.

She could not help being worried.

Seeing that Dad liked the bitch more and more, she didn't know when she could get a chance to drive her away.

Especially when she thought of the Morgan family, with Mr. Morgan's promotion, the Morgan family became more powerful, and more people wanted to marry Amelia.

If Amelia married other people, it would not be a good thing for the Hawk family.

Because in her opinion, the marriage with the Morgan family was a strong alliance, which would make the Hawk better and better.

On the contrary, since Lucas married Evelyn, that broom star, there had been always something terrible happening to the Hawk family.

When she thought about it, she came up with an idea.

She glanced at Evelyn, smiled and said, "Dad, it's been two months since Lucas came back. It seems that the relationship between them is very intimate. I think your wish is coming true soon."

After she finished, she turned to Evelyn and asked, "Nora, have you been to the hospital recently for an examination?"

Evelyn was slightly stunned. As soon as she realized that she was asking about pregnancy, she noticed the old master's eager eyes.

She knew that the old man had been expecting to have his own grandson, so she could only look at him apologetically.

"Sorry, Grandpa, I'm not pregnant yet."

When she finished, she saw a sense of disappointment in the old man's eyes.

Just as she was going to say something to comfort him, Sophia frowned with dissatisfaction.

"How can it be that? These days I have sent a lot of supplements to you, you and Lucas are intimate with each other all the time, how can you still not be pregnant?"

She made Evelyn feel a little annoyed by telling directly her private thing..

The old master didn't pay attention to it. He was more concerned about pregnancy.

He looked at Evelyn with concern and said, "Nora, what's the matter? Is it because of the pressure recently? Or something else?"

Hearing his inquiry and then looking at Sophia who was very proud, she sneered in her heart.

She clearly knew that Sophia was going to trouble her with the thing of the child. She was really unwilling to let her go.

Sophia did not know that Evelyn had guessed her intention.

Seeing that Evelyn was still silent, she pretended to be worried and said, "How can you still not be pregnant? Lucas is the only son of our family. If he has not a child, our family can not be inherited."

As she finished, the old master frowned.

At this time, Vivian seemed to be inspired by something. She echoed, "My elder sister-in-law said very well. Evelyn, our family does not require you to give birth two children like others in two years, but at least you should give birth one. It is not proper for you not to be pregnant all the time."

Seeing that Vivian was so adhering to herself, Sophia was happy

Seeing that Evelyn looked more and more grim, she raised the corner of her lips with evil intention.

"Nora, although the words may make you feel uncomfortable, but we just want to have our grandchildren early. I know you, young people want to have your own private room, or the two people's world. But you are not pregnant for the first year, can not you be pregnant in the second year?"

Hearing their words, It was impossible to for Evelyn not to be angry.

Why can't she conceive? She didn't believe they didn't know.

Thinking this, a sense of mockery flashed through her eyes, and then she pretended to be embarrassed, "Mom, what you said is right. In fact, I also think it is very strange that why I can not conceive. I have gone to the hospital with Lucas, but there is nothing wrong with us."

Sophia had no idea that they had been to the hospital for the examination, so she looked stunned.

On the contrary, Lucas, who had never said anything, discovered something wrong.

He looked down and meditated. No one knew what he was thinking. Suddenly, he looked up at Evelyn.

Evelyn happened to make an eye contact with him, and couldn't help being stunned.

Before she could think about what Lucas meant, she heard that he was helping her to explain.

“Being pregnant can not be decided by us, let it be natural. And now the company is just stable, and I still need Nora to help me in many aspects.”

After that, he seemed to think of something and added, “Nora has a lot of talent in designing. As time goes by, she will be very outstanding and famous in the design field. She should not be ignored and become a housewife with such talent.”

As he said this, both the old master and Sophia frowned.

“Lucas, I know what you mean, but this matter can not be delayed. When the baby is born, there are many people in the family. If Nora likes her career and wants to go to work, I won’t stop her.”

The old man disapproved, “Anyway, I do not care how you want to start a business, the matter of children, must not be delayed.”

Lucas and Evelyn looked at each other. Obviously, the old master insisted on it very much.

Neither of them knew what to say, but they could only keep silent.

Sophia was not satisfied.

Because she didn’t achieve what she wanted.

She glanced at the old master and the silent Evelyn, and changed the topic and said, “Since Dad is so anxious, let me see. I happen to know a doctor who is an authority in this field. He has just returned from the United States and is very famous in the medical field. I will take Nora to her for an examination.”

After that, she looked at Evelyn and laughed very kindly.

“Although you has been checked in the hospital, it will inevitably make mistakes. Let’s have another examination again.”

Evelyn looked at her and frowned.

Somehow, she always felt that Sophia had some other intention to put forward this matter at this time, but when she saw the old master agreed her proposal, she could not refuse but agree.

“Well, when we go to the doctor, please let me know in advance.”

Seeing that she agreed, Sophia pretend to smile. She said softly, “Don’t worry, I’ll arrange it as soon as possible.”

Evelyn could only nod when she hears her words.

Evelyn didn’t know whether it was that Sophia had achieved her goal or not, Sophia didn’t trouble her any more, and the atmosphere was back to harmony.

It wasn’t long before the family finished their meal.

After dinner, the old master went to play chess with his old friends, and the crowd left.

Evelyn followed Lucas back to the new house.

Just as she was about to go upstairs, behind her came Lucas’ voice.

“You didn’t have to promise Mom to check just now.”

When Evelyn heard this, she stopped and said, “It’s all right. It’s just an examination, and it won’t hurt the body.”

The Gorgeous Substitute Wife of Mr. President Chapter 165 - Tips

0 5 minutes read

Hearing that, Lucas looked at her for a while. Then seeing that she really had no reluctance on her face, he turned his gaze.

“As long as you are not unwilling, it’s fine. Now it is late. Go upstairs, have a bath and have an early rest.”

Evelyn nodded and asked subconsciously, “What about you?”

“I still have work to do.”

Lucas responded without any hesitation.

Hearing that, Evelyn was a little disappointed.

“Oh, so... I'll go upstairs first.

She said weakly, but did not move.

Looking at this, Lucas raised his eyebrows and naturally discovered the disappointment in her eyes, and came forward with a smile.

“What is wrong? You dare not sleep alone?”

Evelyn was shocked by his sudden approach and subconsciously retreated.

However, the strong and tall figure, just like a huge mountain, made Evelyn feel stressed, especially the male hormone that invaded into the tip of her nose, which made her very worried.

“Who dares not sleep alone?”

She annoyedly retorted, reaching out to push away the man in front of her.

But as soon as she reached out, she was firmly grasped by Lucas, and then, with Lucas increasing his strength, she fell all over him.

Suddenly, she was held by a powerful arm around her waist.

“Is that right? What do I think that you are lying?”

Lucas deep voice sounded in her ears.

And his voice was so fascinating that Evelyn could not help shivering.

For a moment, some unspeakable pictures flashed through her mind, and her cheeks became hot instantly, and she began to attach to Lucas softly.

Noticing the change of her body, Lucas looked at her charming eyes, the light flashed through his eyes, as if something had been awakened.

Then he lowered his head sharply and kissed her attractive red lips.

The fragrant fragrance which only belonged to Evelyn filled his whole mouth all the time, so that he kissed her deeply and just wanted to ask for more.

Evelyn had no resistance and let him crazily kiss herself.

They kissed each other until the last breath of oxygen was exhausted.

At this time their eyes were full of lust.

Lucas changed his previous idea, holding her directly and walking towards the room.

What happened was without extra effort.

Evelyn was just like a lone boat drifting in the sea, drifting with the waves.

She listened to the low breath in her ears, and her originally obsessed consciousness became clearer and clearer.

Every time when the heavy breath came out, she got excited.

It seemed that that feeling was going to be branded in her heart, making her suddenly a little nervous.

Because she found that she, who just originally disguised herself as Nora, became more and more empathy recently, but... She would leave after all!

Thinking this, she couldn't help counting the time. There was less than ten months.

She knew that as soon as the time came, she would have to leave the man.

Suddenly, her heart seemed to be pricked by a needle, and she was so depressed that her breathing was painful.

At this moment, Lucas noticed her distraction. He stopped and asked, "What's the matter?"

Regaining her consciousness, she looked at the handsome face in front of her, with an indescribable emotion in her eyes.

Lucas was aware of it, and wanted to ask again, but Evelyn suddenly took the initiative.

She plucked down Lucas and clumsily learned his previous movements and k!ssed him.

This unsk!llful k!ss, coupled with Evelyn's rare initiative, made Lucas be stunned and indulge her stimulate his desire.

When he responded, he did not want to worry about the accident just now. He just wanted to love the person like a goblin under him.

Evelyn did not know how the overnight passion ended at last.

...

The next day, when Evelyn woke up, her whole body ached as if she had been crushed by a car.

She knew that it was a sequel of excessive indulgence, so she stayed in bed for a while since she didn't have to go to the company today.

But when she thought of last night's madness, her heartbeat sped uncontrollably, even more throbbing.

However, the joy did not last for a long time, then she thought of the reality, and suddenly she was in no good mood.

She swallowed bitterness in her mouth and kept hypnotizing herself.

Evelyn, didn't think about it any more. It was just a deal!

You should think about the mother who still needed your help.

She didn't know whether her hypnosis was effective or not, her confused heart gradually calmed down.

And she got up to wash herself in order not to let herself think anything any more.

Just as she washed and went downstairs for dinner, Cindy came over.

“Young lady, there’s just someone coming from the main house, who let you come over.”

Evelyn nodded to show that she knew.

But she did not move, still eating slowly.

Because at this time there was someone to invite her, she naturally knew that there was no one else except Sophia who was finding her.

And once it was she who found her, there must be no good thing.

She would go there after being full.

In this way, she finished her meal slowly, and then went to the main house with a languid face.

In the main house, looking at the late Evelyn, she was undoubtedly angry.

“Evelyn, you are so arrogant. You let me wait for you so long. Do you think that once Lucas supports you, you won’t take me in your eyes?”

She scolded Evelyn angrily, but Evelyn just responded with a pretentious smile, “Mom, what you said is wrong. I don’t mean to let you wait. I just had dinner when Mom asked me to come here. If I come directly, in case I got hungry, it will influence being pregnant, which is very unworthy”

Sophia didn’t know what to say, and she didn’t expect that Evelyn would use this matter directly to respond her.

She gritted her teeth and stared at Evelyn. She could not find some words to refute her for a while. Finally, she took a deep breath and murmured, “Forget it, I don’t care about it with you.”

Seeing the situation, Evelyn raised the corner of her mouth coldly, “Thank you for your generosity, I do not know why you call me here today?”

Hearing this, Sophia remembered her original intention and coughed lightly. “I’ve already made an appointment with the doctor. If you have nothing to do, come with me to the hospital for an examination now.”

Evelyn was somewhat surprised.

She thought originally that the examination would be made after two days, but the woman arranged it only after one night.

For a moment, she looked at Sophia hesitantly, and did not know what was her intention.

But sooner or later she had to go to have the examination, and she didn't intend to refuse, so she nodded and said, "OK."

Then they came to the hospital. After speaking out their names, a nurse took them to the gynecological director's office.

"Dr. Lamb, your patient is here."

The nurse knocked at the door and brought the two in and left.

In the office, a woman about forty looked at her affectionately. She was very kind in her white coat.

"That's the person you said who needs to have an examination?"

She took the initiative to greet Sophia and Sophia nodded.

"Trouble you to help me and give her an examination."

After she finished, she turned to Evelyn and said, "This is my friend who is good at gynecology. You can follow her to have the examination."

The Gorgeous Substitute Wife of Mr. President Chapter 166 - Tips

0 5 minutes read

Evelyn heard without saying any words. After greeting Doctor Lamb, she followed her to have a check-up.

Pre-pregnancy examination just had several fixed processes. It finished quickly.

Because Doctor Lamb had something to cope temporarily so she did not come back with her.

Just when she was going to the office to find Sofia, unexpectedly, Evelyn saw her talking on the phone at the end of the corridor.

She went by unconsciously.

Sofia did not know that Evelyn had come. She was comforting Amelia.

“There’s nothing to worry about. You just rest assured that nothing will happen. That b!tch will not know that it’s your aunt who examined her. As long as we make sure that she can’t have the baby, even if the old Mr. Hawk likes her, it’s impossible for him to see the family break its bond.”

On the phone, Amelia listened to her confident words, and her worries were gradually lowered.

After all, her previous failures have cast a shadow on her.

“I hope so.”

She said and didn’t forget to flatter Sofia: “Thank you, Sophia. You spare more effort to my affairs.”

Amelia had a higher social status now but she was still close to herself. Sofia was very satisfied with that.

“It doesn’t matter. After you become my daughter-in-law, you can treat me with filial respect.”

She teased her, and Amelia was shy.

The atmosphere was harmonious as if they were real mother-in-law and daughter-in-law, letting eavesdropping Evelyn sneer.

Obviously, the inspection was deliberately arranged by them for her to give a position to Amelia.

As for the inspection result, judging from their conversation just now, was only that she couldn’t have the baby.

Ah, in order to get rid of her, they did everything they could!

She thought of it with a sneer in her heart.

However, she pretended she hadn't heard anything and stood in the distance and cried, "Mom, I'm all right."

When Sofia heard her voice and froze for an instant, she immediately said something to Amelia on the phone. And then she hung up with a faint look and walked towards her.

"Finished?"

Evelyn pretended not to find anything. She nodded and said, "I've done, but the report hasn't come out yet."

Sofia listened and waved her hand indifferently.

"The report will be sent to home. Now that the inspection is over, let's go back."

She took the lead to leave.

Evelyn looked at her departure. Her thin lips were slightly compressed. She followed her saying nothing.

They returned home silently.

"Mom, if there's nothing else, I'll go back first."

After getting off, Evelyn said goodbye to Sofia.

Sofia would not like to see her. If it hadn't been for examination, she would not see her in order to avoid being unhappy.

"Go ahead."

She waved impatiently and Evelyn nodded her head to leave.

The cell phone beside her rang as Evelyn returned to the new house and planned to have a good rest .

It was John's phone number. Evelyn frowned slightly.

The crisis of Davis Group has passed, and it was not the reporting day. Why did he call her?

Evelyn didn't know but she finally answered the phone.

"What's the matter?"

There was a cold voice of John from the cell phone, "I heard that you went out with Lucas's mother today. What did you do?"

Evelyn heard this and the surprise flickered in her eyes.

Unexpectedly, John was quite well-informed.

When she thought of it, her eyes were full of unpleasantness. It was obvious that the man was watching her.

"Nothing. We just went to the hospital."

Her indifferent reply made John frown.

"How did you get to the hospital? What's the matter?"

Evelyn saw he wanted to know that as well as she thought of Sofia's plan. She decided to tell what she had heard in the hospital.

After all, John made her stay at Hawk family. It was him who should solve the problem.

"I haven't had the baby for two months, and Mrs. Hawk intends to make an issue of it."

She paused and continued to say. "Today she took me to check for having an excuse so that she could make a big fuss next. Then she can force me to divorce Lucas. And then Lucas can marry Amelia."

John listened to her words and couldn't help sneering.

"These people are really calculating. They want to step on Davis family, it also depends on whether I agree or not. What is the name of the hospital?"

Evelyn knew that he was going to intervene in this matter.

“The hospital is Lixin hospital, a private hospital.”

She said, recalling the doctor’s identity, and reminded him, “By the way, the doctor who examined me was Amelia’s aunt. If you want to do anything, you’d better avoid that doctor.”

John squinted and said fiercely, “I see. I’ll deal with this. You should also pay attention. Don’t let people find your fault or reveal your identity.”

Evelyn listened to his warning. She suddenly felt very tired.

She was like living in a palace play every day.

She gave a deep `uh’, and thought that she hadn’t visited her mother for a long time and mentioned it.

“I want to see my mother.”

John frowned and refused without thinking.

“It’s not the right time. We’ll talk about it in a few days.”

Evelyn felt that John had deliberately refused to let her visit her mom.

“Why is it not the time? Don’t forget, we made a deal that if I want to see my mother, you can’t stop me.”

John suddenly became impatient.

“Exactly. But is the present situation suitable for you to meet her? Are you responsible for the consequences of being found out by Hawk family?”

He gave a stern warning while Evelyn bit her lips.

“I will response by myself.”

When she finished, she heard John’s voice becoming horse on the phone. Knowing that it was a sign of John becoming angry, she quickly said, “You stopped my mother’s medicine before. I should know my mother’s current situation. Who knows if you have taken good care of my mother?”

John choked. Obviously, Evelyn was determined to go.

He knew that if he obstructed her, the woman may be able to think fantastically, which would made her not being in his control at that time.

“OK, I’ll arrange for you to meet.”

He finally agreed.

Evelyn took a sigh of relief and said, “I hope to see her in the near future. Don’t let me wait too long.”

John said coldly that he knew, and then hung up the phone directly.

Evelyn looked at the hanging mobile phone, and pouted her mouth. She did not care.

John, after hanging up, immediately called his assistant to arrange the affairs of Evelyn’s physical examination.

This matter could not wait. It must be dealt immediately.

“Now you go to Lixin Hospital.”

He gave his assistant a cheque and told him what he wanted.

Although the assistant was surprised after hearing this, he was John’s henchman. He knew a lot of things. He didn’t ask much at the moment, but went out to work immediately with the cheque.

As he left, John was sitting in his office chair in a leisurely state.

The position of young mistress in Hawk family belonged to his Nora. Nobody can rob it!

When he thought of it, he could not help missing his daughter who was far away from home.

Just as he was going to make a phone call to ask about Nora’s latest situation, the phone rang again.

The Gorgeous Substitute Wife of Mr. President Chapter 167 - Tips

0 5 minutes read

John looked at the number displayed on his mobile phone. His cold face softened instantly and became extremely kind.

“Dear daughter, you are finally willing to call Dad.”

Yes, the phone was called by real Nora.

From his attitude, it could be seen that John treated his two daughters in two different way.

“Well, if I don’t call you anymore. Will you give the company to others?”

On the phone, Nora asked in a spoiling tone.

“How come?”

John coaxed her like a normal father.

“My dear, do you hear any gossip? How could Dad give your stuff to anybody else?”

Nora sneered”You still deny it. I heard that many projects within the company have been robbed by the Hawk Group. And this idea came from Evelyn that b!tch.”

When she finished, the anger fl!ckered. “Dad, how can you let that b!tch to do this?”

Hearing this, he knew what Nora was talking about.

“Sweetheart, you calm down firstly and listen to your father to explain, okay?”

He pacified her and was surprisingly patient.

If Evelyn were here, she may mistake him for a ghost.

Nora was not satisfied, but she calmed down and said in a cold voice, “Okay, I’ll give you an opportunity to explain. What’s the matter?”

John hastened to talk about the company’s damages.

Finally, he has not forgotten to slander Evelyn.

“It’s the fault of Evelyn that b!tch who can’t attract Lucas and can’t be accepted by him.”

He stopped, as if to think of something, and laughed: “Although the company has sustained some losses, but I am not a stupid man. The project I giving just has a little interests and no room for appreciation. It is not much of a loss. The most important thing is to maintain the current balance. Until you come back, all these are yours, including seal besides Lucas.”

Nora understood his meaning after listening.

However, she still felt a little uncomfortable, but did not say much. Instead, she talked to John about the latest situation.

Turning to Evelyn, she did not know that the real Nora had called.

After a short rest, she began to work.

That evening, Lucas came back, knowing that Evelyn and Sofia went to the hospital during the daytime. He asked about the situation casually.

“How was the inspection?”

Evelyn fl!ckered and responded, “I don’t know. It’s said that the report will come out tomorrow.”

Lucas nodded and said nothing.

Then they finished their meal. One went to draw a design, while the other went to the study to work, which was harmonious.

The next day, as soon as they got up, Sofia asked Lucy to here to say something.

“Young Master, young lady, Mrs. Hawk invites both of you to the main house for meal.”

Lucas frowned. Just as he was about to ask what was going on. Lucy seemed to understand him and continued, “Madame said that Grandpa Hawk was there too. Hope the young master and the young lady not keep Grandp a Hawk waiting for a long time.”

Now, they could only swallow what they wanted to say. He nodded, "I see. We'll be there in a minute."

Lucy got the exact answer. She nodded and left away.

After she left, Evelyn looked at Lucas subconsciously. She always thought that it was no good things waiting for them when Sofia let them come.

"Why Mom let us come there?"

She inquired curiously and Lucas shook his head.

"I don't know, but we will know as soon as we come there. Let's go. Don't let Grandpa wait for us."

Evelyn could only nod and go with him.

After a while, they arrived at the main house and found everyone sitting in the living room.

Grandpa Hawk saw they two arrived, and looked at Sofia with a slight frown. He did not understand, "Big Daughter-in-law, you called us in this morning. Is there anything you want to say?"

Sofia glanced at Evelyn when she heard the words.

Evelyn noticed her eyes and felt subconsciously that it was related to her.

Just when she guessed what it was, she saw Sofia suddenly said in a serious tone, "Dad, the day before yesterday I let Nora went to hospital to have a physical test. Yesterday we went and today the inspection report came out. The result was the reason that I had to call everyone here."

As she said this, people showed a different looks.

Grandpa Hawk and Lucas were stern, but only Vivian's eyes were full of happiness.

But she didn't make a sound, so she sat on the sofa and waited for a play.

Evelyn was relieved to hear that.

Because she already knew what Sofia was going to say.

She thought of it, pretending to be nervous.

“What’s the problem?”

Sofia looked at her uneasiness. Arrogance flickered in her eyes but she soon overwhelmed it.

She ignored Evelyn, but put the report on the table. She said uprightly “Fortunately, I asked my friend to check again. Otherwise you can not afford it!
It is related to our offspring”

She said as she looked at Evelyn fiercely, “Dad, this is the report from the hospital this morning. Look at it.”

Grandpa Hawk heard the words and glanced at Evelyn and Lucas, but he did not move.

Lucas took the report and read it.

Everyone looked at him, of course, except for Evelyn.

After all, she knew what the report was about. It was just that she couldn’t have the baby and so on.

But that didn’t affect her. Even if Sofia said that she couldn’t firmly. She knew that John had a way to prove that she could have the baby.

Even so, she pretended to be nervous and waited for Sofia finding her troubles.

Who knew, instead of waiting for Sofia find troubles, she waited for Lucas’s voice full of doubts.

“Mom, did you make a mistake? The examination shows Nora is healthy. She is good.”

He said, looking at Sofia puzzled.

“How is it possible?”

An unbelievable voice was from Sofia.

Even Vivian, who was originally waiting for a good play, froze with a smile.

Grandpa Hawk looked at her strange face and asked Lucas to show him the report form.

“No problem. Old daughter-in-law are you mistaken?”

Grandpa Hawk and Devin confirmed that together. They looked at Sofia.

Sofia didn't believe it and grabbed the report form Devin.

“That's impossible!”

She looked at the word “health” on the report, and she was stunned.

When she collected herself, her face sank.

Others looked at her expression and thought she was very strange.

“Daughter-in-law, what's the matter?”

Grandpa Hawk asked again.

When Sofia thought what she had just said, her face changed slightly and she struggled, “Maybe I mistake.”

She was going to minimize it , but Evelyn didn't intend to let her go so easily.

She pretended to be concerned and said, “Mom, what's wrong? Why do you look unhappy?”

When Sofia heard this, she ground. But in front of Grandpa Hawk, she could only force her to laugh and say that it was all right.

The Gorgeous Substitute Wife of Mr. President Chapter 168 - Tips

0 5 minutes read

Because this accident, this breakfast could regard at the most hardest thing since Sofia married into the Hawk family.

If it weren't for the old Mr. Hawk, she would like to leave and rush back to her room to call Doctor. Lamb.

She wanted to ask how she did it and why the results were different from what she expected.

But she couldn't.

She sat at the dining table in great boredom, listening to the conversation between the old Mr. Hawk and Evelyn.

"Nora, since you are in good health, I just wait for your good news."

Evelyn smiled awkwardly and did not know how to answer. She looked at Lucas for help.

Lucas received her signs, wiped his mouth and smiled, "Grandpa, this is no need to worry. I asked the doctor, the child is connected with fate. The more you think about it, the less possibility it will come. But sometimes you do not think about it, it will come."

When Mr. Hawk heard this, he also knew that.

"Well, I won't urge you, but you can't neglect it. I'll wait."

As his words came to an end, the topic was turned, and three men talked about the company.

Evelyn listened to their conversation, thinking of Lucas's answer just now. She couldn't help but raise the corner of her mouth.

She didn't know when the man asked the doctor. She has never heard of such a statement. It must be his irrationality.

Well, that was it.

Relative to the harmony on their side, Sofia and Vivian didn't have mood to have breakfast.

Fortunately, it didn't take long for them to get through the grinding breakfast.

After seeing off the crowd, Sofia could not wait to return to her room and make a phone call to the hospital.

"Mr. Lamb, what are you doing? Why you hasn't changed the report sending to me?"

Mrs. Lamb did not respond to this sudden rebuke for a moment.

Then she was on earth, thought about what was going on, forbore her discontent and explained, "Why wasn't it changed? Last night I put the fake report in the case."

Sofia sneered, "But the report I have on my hand shows she is totally healthy."

Doctor. Lamb frowned and guessed.

"It was changed by others?"

Sofia frowned when she heard this.

It was impossible to be know by others. They did it in secret... Wait!

She remembered that Evelyn suddenly appeared behind her when she called in the hospital yesterday.

Did the woman hear that?

She guessed and shook her head again.

If that woman had known it, she would not have been so nervous just now.

She could see that it was not pretending, but she was really upset.

Thinking of this, she thought it should be an excuse for Mrs. Lamb to do things unfavourably.

For a moment, she was furious and trembling with anger.

She was not afraid of God-like opponents, but afraid of a goose-like teammates.

It was such a good plan but destroyed by this woman.

"Even if it was changed, it's because of your problems. I won't involve in this problem any longer. Now, because of you, it's totally screwed up. You just explain it to Amelia yourself!"

When she finished, she did not give Mrs. Lamb a chance to speak. She hung up the phone directly.

At the same time, Evelyn, who left, after Lucas went to work, sat at her workbench thinking about the thing which happened in the morning.

Judging from Sofia's attitude, she could guess that the inspection report should have been changed.

As for who did this, the answer was self-evident. Except John, nobody would do this.

And that was true.

Last night, Mrs. Lamb put the fake inspection report into the case file, but John asked the assistant to buy over a nurse in the hospital and changed the report.

Afterwards, Mrs. Lamb did not even think about checking it again, and sent it to Sofia directly, so that there was the accident in this morning.

Evelyn did not know the details of the matter, but she could guess the general situation. She couldn't help laughing and said, "Go for wool and come home shorn."

Just then, she remembered what John had promised her yesterday and called to confirm it.

"What's the matter?"

After a while, there was John's indifferent voice in the phone.

Evelyn has become accustomed to it and asked indifferently, "Yesterday you promised me to let me meet my mother. When do you arrange it for me?"

John was impatient.

"If you're free now, go ahead and I'll inform the hospital."

After that, he hung up directly.

Evelyn looked at the black screen of the mobile phone on her hand and raised her the corner of her mouth ironically.

She was not angry. After all, she knew that her mother and she were nothing in John's eyes.

She put all these unpleasant things aside for a moment, stood up and tidied herself up, and then went to the hospital.

...

At the same time, Amelia also got a telephone call from Mrs. Lamb.

"What's wrong, aunt?"

She asked cleverly, and Mrs. Lamb said with some guilt.

"Amelia, that, I screwed up what you asked aunt to do."

When Amelia heard this, the smile on her face froze instantly.

If it hadn't been for her strong self-control ability and remembering that the person who was speaking on the phone was her elder, she would have been furious.

She took a deep breath and ground and asked, "What's the matter? How could it be screwed up?"

Mrs. Lamb did not recognize her enduring anger and told her what had happened with guilty.

"I don't know what's going on. Obviously, I have put the fake report in, and the result is sent to the Hawk family, it has been changed."

Amelia listened to the whole process, and her first thought was as the same as that Mrs. Lamb guessed.

If her aunt had put the fake one in, someone must have changed their report.

Thinking of this, she thought of another thing.

"Aunt, when you sent the report, didn't you check it again?"

"Er... I was a little busy. I forgot."

Mrs. Lamb was even more guilty now.

And Amelia was too angry to speak.

She was afraid of her own outrage, the image of a good girl in the hearts of her elders collapsed. She controlled her anger, and said reluctantly, "Forget it. I thought it was unrealistic at the beginning. Sophia had to insist on it. Since it was screwed up, we just pretend we have not done it. Aunt, you should not think much about it. I have something else to do so I hang up first."

After that, she did not give Mrs. Lamb a chance to speak, but hung up the phone directly.

"Shit!"

As the phone hung up, she could not help grinding her teeth and scolding at the phone.

Such a good plan was screwed up by her, and it may even be known by Evelyn.

Yes, in her heart, there were no other people else who could change the report except Evelyn or her family.

At present, they alarm the two, for fear that it would be more difficult to calculate them later.

Just as she was thinking, Mr. Morgan's assistant, led by her servant, hurried into the garden.

"Miss Morgan, before you let me watch Nora, I found some hints here."

When Amelia heard this, she immediately was aroused interest, "Oh? What hints?"

"The following people found Nora secretly went to the hospital. She seemed to meet someone. And she is very careful."

The Gorgeous Substitute Wife of Mr. President Chapter 169 - Tips

0 5 minutes read

After the assistant said this, he looked at Amelia carefully.

“Young madam, shall we let someone inquire?”

Amelia heard his words, squinting.

“Sure. But you can’t alert them.”

As she said, she had an idea to beckon to the assistant.

She whispered a few words in the assistant’s ear, and the assistant nodded constantly.

“I understand. Young madam can be at ease.”

Amelia said with a smile: “Go ahead, as long as you can get the goods on Nora, I will let you get more benefits!”

The assistant nodded and turned away.

Evelyn did not know her whereabouts was known by Amelia. She finally met her mother in the special ward under the leadership of the medical staff.

She saw her mother was still unconscious lying on the sickbed. But her complexion was much better than last, a little less pale, a little more ruddy. If one did not know that this was a patient, she was just regarded as falling asleep in this state.

Evelyn knew her condition and she could be ease now.

Obviously, the previous withdrawal did not affect the mother’s condition.

She took a look and went to find the attending doctor to know when her mother would wake up.

“Now the patient’s body is recovering. I’m not sure when she will wake up, but if someone often talks in her ear, maybe she can wake up.”

When the doctor learned her intention, he gave a general information about Katherine’s condition.

Evelyn frowned tightly.

In the past, she could have plenty of time to accompany her mother, but now, she had to go to the hospital with John’s permission.

She thought whether she could discuss with John that she hoped to come the hospital twice a week.

She had the idea and asked for other things to pay attention to before leaving the doctor's office. And then she returned to the ward.

She stood beside the sickbed and looked at her mother lying peacefully on the bed, bending down and gently combing her broken hair at the temples.

"Mom, you've slept a long time."

"Mom, you want to see your daughter shine in the design world, don't you? Now I have started to work in the company, and several designs which were published abroad have been favored by the masters. They all invited me to work with them abroad. Look, I am competent. Right?"

"Mom, I've done what I promised you. When can you do what you promised me? Wake up quickly."

...

She talked a lot and hid some things at the same time. Then she went to the bathroom and took a basin of water to nurse Katherine.

"Young madam, it's time to leave."

Just after she had finished nursing, a nurse came to remind her.

Evelyn heard this, and her action suspended slightly. Then she responded, "I know. I'll go right away."

After that, she tidied up and left the ward reluctantly.

After she left the hospital, she planned to leave by car.

When she was ready to get into the car and leave, she found to a car carelessly from the corners of her eyes.

It seemed that the car had come when she came to the hospital. Why was it still here?

She got on the car thoughtfully and then gave the taxi driver her address.

The taxi driver started the car, but Evelyn paid attention to the car she had just seen.

The car followed them when they started.

Obviously judging from the direction, the car followed them.

In an instant, she realized that someone was following her.

When she thought of it, her heart sank sharply and she was a little nervous.

Because she didn't know who ordered the people in that car to follow her.

And when she went to the hospital, the people who followed her were bound to go in and investigate.

No way. Didn't let them know the existence of mother.

Otherwise it was all over!

She thought, took out her cell phone and contacted John.

He was the only one who could handle this right now.

"What's the matter again?"

Soon the phone was connected and John's impatient voice sounded.

Evelyn compressed her lips and then told the story of being followed.

"It seems that I'm being followed up. They should go to the hospital to investigate. You'd better let the hospital pay attention to it. Don't divulge my mother's story."

John had a straight face when he heard this.

"Can't you do anything right? You even be followed in a hospital!"

He scolded. Evelyn was angry but could not say a refutation.

After all, it was her who was careless.

Just when she was going to say something, John was already impatient.

“Okay, I’ll arrange this. You’ll have less hospital visits in the future, so as not to arouse suspicion.”

When he finished, he hung up without giving Evelyn an opportunity to explain.

Meanwhile, in the hospital.

As soon as Evelyn left, the assistant of Amelia’s father came to the front desk.

“Hello, I just saw a girl dressed in purple, so tall. She came to the hospital to see who or to have a check-up?”

He described the look of Evelyn. Although the front-desk nurse knew who he was asking, there were hospital rules.

“I’m sorry, sir. Our hospital has rules that do not disclose information about patients and their families.”

The assistant did not give up when he heard this.

“I know your rules, but I and she are friends. I just happened to see her in the hospital. I am afraid that she will not tell me when she is ill.”

He spoke with reason and emotion.

The nurse became hesitation, and just then the head nurse came over.

“Are you talking about our young madam? She came to see her cousin.”

When the assistant heard this, he could not hide his disappointment. He thought he could get the goods on her originally.

Thinking, he said a few words perfunctorily and then found an excuse to leave. He went back to report to Amelia.

Amelia knew that it was the own gaol and she was very angry.

“Shit, sh!t!”

She was furious and scolded, especially when she thought that the thing in the morning had failed too.

“In the future, you’d better make things clear and then report to me. Otherwise I’ll doubt your ability!”

She scolded the assistant.

The assistant was innocent. How did he know that Nora had made it so mysterious that she just went to the hospital to see a cousin?

Even so, he nodded honestly and assured, “Don’t worry, young madam. It won’t happen next time.”

At the same time, Evelyn also received a call from John.

“It’s settled. You’d better be careful when you go out later. Not every time I can clean the mess for you!”

He gave a cold warning.

Evelyn agreed gently and now she was ease.

John then said a few words and hung up the phone.

Evelyn returned home because of no work and spent a peaceful day.

The next day, when she was drawing at home, she received a call from Aaron.

“Miss Davis, I’m going back to headquarters.”

Evelyn was surprised to hear what he said.

“When? Why didn’t you mention it before?”

“The plane in the afternoon. It is also a provisional decision.”

Evelyn frowned: “OK. And then let’s have lunch together at noon. I will treat you as the last meal between us before you leave.”

The Gorgeous Substitute Wife of Mr. President Chapter 170 - Tips

0 5 minutes read

Aaron naturally would not refuse Evelyn's invitation and nodded his head.

Then they made an appointment with a downtown Chinese restaurant and then they just hung up.

After hanging up the phone, Evelyn began to make up and change her clothes.

After a while, she walked out of the room with her handbag.

Within half an hour, they met in the restaurant.

Aaron looked at the efficient Evelyn, and the appreciation flickered in his eyes.

"As I haven't seen you for a few days, I feel that Miss Davis is more beautiful."

He boasted and immediately pulled the bench for Evelyn as a gentleman.

Evelyn thanked him and sat down. She joked "Enjoying the meal with a handsome man like Mr. Miller, I should dress up."

Aaron was stunned, and then understood that he was being played back. He could not help laughing.

"Miss Davis, thanks for your compliment."

Evelyn also was not conservative, "Well, you just praised me too."

In this way, the two people talked and laughed for a while. After they ordered the dishes, they began to talk the topic.

"The things of the cooperation has not been completed. Mr. Miller why are you anxious to go back?"

Evelyn questioned.

Aaron also expected that she would ask about it, put down the tableware and explained, "The company temporarily assigned me an important design, so I need to rush back to finish it."

He said, with some apologies on his face, "I'm sorry that I can't design brand clothes with you this time."

Evelyn saw that and waved, "It's all right. We still have another chance in the future."

When Aaron thought about it, he put aside his regret and talked about the follow-up arrangements.

"Although I go back, the company will send designers to your company. This is the information of our new brand. You can see it."

When he finished, he took out a document from the briefcase beside him.

Evelyn looked at it carefully.

The new brand was named ZV Feifan. It still went to the customized high-level market, which was similar to their Zary so that there was no need to worry about differences.

After reading it, she closed the file and asked, "When will the designer come at the latest?"

Hearing this, Aaron knew that she had no opinion on the positioning of the new brand.

"Our designers will come about a week, and then I will ask them to cooperate with you as much as possible."

When Evelyn heard this, she understood what he meant. He intended to let her be responsible for the main design.

"You don't have to do that. Some one in these designers should have better qualifications than me. It's better to work according to the ability."

When Aaron saw she deny, he shook his head and laughed, "No. I know your ability better than anyone else, and I can rest assured only if I give it to you."

Evelyn heard the words and knew that it was too overdoing if she refused again. So she accepted generously.

"Well, then I won't refuse any longer. I hope I won't let you disappoint in the end."

Aaron smiled, "I'm sure I won't be disappointed."

He said, as if thinking of something. He looked at Evelyn and sighed.

"To be honest, I appreciate your talent and feel that you are more suitable for the international arena than staying at home. It is too condescending for you."

Evelyn listened. A slight of bitterness flickered in his eyes.

How did she not know that foreign countries were more suitable for her development, but she could not leave because of some reasons.

Despite her momentary loss, she quickly adjusted.

"In fact, design has no borders, although there is a good development abroad, my foundation is weak now. Even if I go abroad, I maybe not have a better development than that I stay at home."

She said this. Her eyes were full of firmness.

"And I have thought that when I am famous at home and then go abroad, I can enter our field by myself instead of being appreciated by another one."

When Aaron heard this, he knew that Evelyn did not want to stay at home all the time. She had her own plans and self-esteem.

This made him appreciate Evelyn more.

But he didn't say anything more, instead. He talked about his design experience.

They chatted happily until the afternoon. When Evelyn took him to the plane, she returned to the company.

Freya was very satisfied with the report of Evelyn.

"This time, the two companies can cooperate with each other. Miss Davis have made the most contribution. The establishment of a new brand at present requires you to deal with it. Well, you are the acting director of the design department. You will be the director after a while."

She spoke calmly, but Evelyn was shocked by her.

“That maybe not good.”

She wanted to talk about qualifications, and the director was not in her turn to do it.

But before the words were out, Freya seemed to know. She laughed, “This is not only what I mean, but also what the president’s idea.”

Although Evelyn was a little surprised, she still took the position.

Freya saw she agreed and told her something about her work. And then she let Evelyn go out, and at the same time, she did not forget to issue a transfer order to the Personnel Department.

All of a sudden, the company knew about Evelyn’s promotion.

Chloe and Helen were dissatisfied when they heard the news.

As mentioned before, in terms of seniority, Evelyn was not enough to get the position of director.

And they have been staring at the position of director since Amelia left. They often compete with each other secretly. But now Evelyn got the position, which made them unhappy.

Evelyn came back and they stared at her thoughtfully.

Evelyn naturally noticed their eyes. She knew the reason at once and ignored them.

“Bessy, come and help me.”

She waved to Bessy.

After promotion, she could move to the director’s office without being squeezed into this narrow space.

Chloe was furious and unwilling when she saw her walk away in the office.

Why did such a b!tch get the position since she has not worked here for a long time?

She glanced at the frowning Helen and gritted her teeth to the general manager's office.

"General Manager, I want to know why Nora became director?"

When Freya saw her break in, her eyebrows frowned and unpleasant emotion flickered in her eyes.

Before she could speak, Chloe continued to question aggressively.

"In terms of qualifications, Helen and I are more suitable. During this period, the company has happened so many things just because of her. It is OK that the company did not punish her. But why you give her promotion? This is not fair!"

Freya listening to her words, her face suddenly cooled down.

"Designer Field, are you oppugning me? Or the company's decision?"

Chloe was shocked so that she could calm down and had a little fear.

Even so, it could not offset her inner unwillingness.

"I'm not. I just want to know why!"

Freya looked at her and said seriously, "First of all, although the loss of the company was caused by Director Davis, she has made a rescue, and also brought cooperation with RC for the company. Secondly, the decision promotion was decided by the president personally. If you have any comments and think you have outstanding ability, you should mention it to the president yourself."