0 5 minutes read

They spent the night peacefully.

The next day, Evelyn noticed the movement beside her and got up in her confusion.

After a night's rest, the wound on her body did not turn good, but became more painful. She grinned her teeth and breathed deeply.

“Don't be brave if you are in trouble. Stay at home today.”

Lucas just saw it and blocked the road.

Evelyn shook her head: “No. Now Dale and I just run in well, if I don't come, she will make a fuss about it again.”

Lucas frowned, looking at her grinding teeth, and insisted: “You can work at home, I will deal with that.”

Evelyn listened to his words and looked at him in dismay.

Seeing that there was something in his eyes that could not be refused, she knew that he was in love with himself, and her heart could not help sweetening.

“Well, I'll leave it to you.”

She simply returned to bed, smiling at Lucas.

Lucas nodded his head, then dressed and went downstairs for breakfast.

After his leave, she had a short rest in bed, then got up and washed.

Then, seeing the sunshine outside, she asked the servant to help her carry the tools to the garden. She planned to spend the whole day in the garden.

She didn't know how Lucas handled it. As soon as she was ready, Dale started contacting with her online to continue the work she hadn't finished yesterday.

With their discussion, Evelyn could not help falling into a busy situation.

But she didn't know that someone had taken her every move in his eyes.

Envy stood in the distance and looked at her quietly , whose eyes flashed with unusual light.

Evelyn didn't know that, because she was focusing on her work.

She didn't know how long it took before she ended up with the company's business.

Just when she wanted to stretch out, she saw Envy standing not far away. She was stunned.

“When did you come, Miss Miller?”

Envy heard the words, taking back the sight , and walking past gracefully.

“Just come here. I didn't disturb you because you were busy.”

She did not say that she had been here for a long time, then she looked at her workbench smilingly.

“Have you finished?”

Evelyn was stunned and said, “Almost. All I need to do is colour it..”

Envy nodded her head and looked at the design sketch on the table immediately. She laughed and said, “No wonder Lucas attaches so much importance to you. You really have this ability. I can't help but want to have a suit of this kind of clothes immediately. It's very beautiful.”

She praised, but what she said let Evelyn feel strange.

It seemed that Lucas's emphasis on her stemmed from her ability to work.

But she was very polite, which made Evelyn think that she thought too much?

She looked at the Envy hesitantly and said with a smile, "Thank you. From what you have said, I think you must have known Lucas for many years, right?"

When Envy heard this, she was stunned for a moment.

Maybe she didn't expect Evelyn to be so sensitive.

However, she did not intend to explain. Instead, she said deliberately: "Almost, we grew up together, and then went abroad to the same university. In other words, I have known him since my childhood."

She said, as if she hadn't seen Evelyn's face change slightly. She laughed then, "You might not have imagined that in college, Lucas was more isolated than it is now, and there was no friend who could speak to him. Only I could talk to him."

She seemed to chat about his past, but invisibly showed off these to Evelyn, which was the past she had never participated in.

Evelyn naturally noticed that although her heart was blocked, but she did not show it.

After all, she just spoke in a friend position and spoke politely. If she was aimed at Envy, it seemed that she was narrow-minded.

"Is that right? I thought that according to his handsome, he should be very popular in school. There must be a lot of younger sisters crush him."

She responded, and Envy seemed to be aroused by her words, and began to talk about things when they were students.

"Yes, it's true. Although his character was lonely at that time, there were never less people who liked him. I remember many things happened at that time."

Envy seemed to think of something interesting, and suddenly she laughed.

"I remember that there was a young lady who was very bold and did not fear him to confess. Guess, what happened?"

She talked and did not forget to talk with Evelyn.

Looking at the smile on Envy's face, Evelyn was more distressed. But she had to maintain the smile on her face.

"What?"

She answered subconsciously.

"Lucas refused the school elder sister. Excessively, in order to avoid such a thing in the future, he simply went to the mentor at that time, said that the elder sister affected his study, so that she was recorded a great fault, and since then no one in the school dared to confess to him, for fear of being recorded."

Evelyn heard this and her eyes flashed with surprise.

She could never think of this kind of result. outcome,

For a while, she could not help crying and laughing, while Envy could not help sighing beside her.

"Now the time flies by, I didn't think that the man who was indecipherable before also knew how to love people."

When Evelyn heard this, she did not know what she meant. She could only listen quietly and silently.

Envy looked at her silence, with her eyes flashing, and apologized: "Miss Davis, I am sorry. Sometimes I am in a good mood, I like to talk about the past."

After listening to her words, Evelyn felt a little uncomfortable.

Whether she likes to talk about the past or about the past with Lucas, she was probably the only one who knew.

She said in her heart, but showed nothing on her face: "It's all right. What you just said also let me know about his past. I would like to thank you for telling me that. If not, I would not have known that he had such a wonderful past."

When Envy saw that she had no estrangement at all, she frowned without leaving any trace. She immediately laughed and said, "Just don't mind it. Okay, let's stop chatting. I've been bothering you for a long time. Keep busy."

Then she got up and planned to leave.

Evelyn did not retain her. She watched her leave and then sat down again. At the same time, she pulled down her face.

Although Envy always showed her familiarity with Lucas unconsciously, and expressed that she was only a friend, she always had an inexplicable crisis.

Before she calmed down, there was a sudden sneer in her ear.

“Well, Evelyn, when did your temper become so good that you would not get angry when your husband was coveted. I don’t even recognize you right now.”

Evelyn heard the voice and turned her head subconsciously. She saw Vivian coming out of the path

Evelyn looked at her, after listening to what she had just said, she stopped her movement to greet her.

She knew that even if she greeted her, she would not necessarily be polite to her.

In fact, it was true that Vivian did not want to greet her.

She came to Evelyn, with eyes full of pity, and her mouth curled up ironically.

“What? Are you dumb, or can’t speak after being beaten?”

She contemptuously circled around Evelyn and laughed again. “You can’t even compare to Amelia, but you still want to compare with Envy. You are overconfident.”

Evelyn frowned when she heard this.

Just when she wanted to fight back, Vivian seemed to think of something again and looked at her with ridicule.

“You are not only overconfident, but also very thick skinned.”

When Evelyn heard this, her face became tense and she couldn't help warning, "Vivian, you'd better speak with propriety."

"Oh, are you angry? Or do you think I'm wrong?"

Instead of stopping, Vivian was more reckless.

"But I think what I said is very reasonable. Who admit you besides my father after marrying with Lucas for so long? Not to mention that there is a stand-in now."

Evelyn looked at her coldly.

Vivian didn't care, and said continually, "But it's realistic to imagine that you will be beat down by others someday. It's also silly of you to dream of staying with my nephew all the time."

Evelyn almost burst out laughing by her self-talk.

"I don't know whether it's realistic or not. I just know that as long as Lucas admit me, I can't be replaced by anyone."

She sneered and retaliated, but it seemed as if she was proud and demonstrating in the eyes of Vivian.

Because she thought she was scolded by Lucas before and he also cut off her pocket money, which made her dare not go out in those days.

For a moment, all the hatred which was held back before was stirred up, and she burst into a rage.

"How dare you? Is this your attitude to speak to your elders? Today I'm going to teach you a lesson."

As she spoke, she raised her hand and gave her a spank.

'click', Evelyn was hit in the face.

The original white cheeks swelled up quickly, and there was a trend of becoming black and blue.

She wanted to hide, but that the injury on her leg prevented her from moving fast, thus she could only get a firm slap.

Vivian was stunned. because she did not expect that Evelyn would not hide.

It was also because of this stunned, she was pushed aside by Evelyn and fell on the ground with all her feet facing the sky.

“Evelyn, how dare you push me? “

She stood up from the ground and looked at her with fury.

Evelyn was not afraid at all. She retorted in a cold voice, “You did it first. I’m just self-perpetuating!”

Vivian did not care about this. She was mad and ran into Evelyn.

Evelyn couldn’t hide at all. She hit the ground hard. Behind her was the pavilion steps. She rolled down directly from the steps, and her forehead hit the corner of the steps.

“Ah –“

She made a cry of pain and then was completely in a coma just in time.

Seeing the motionless people on the ground and the mottled blood stains, Vivian slowly calmed down, but also panicked.

She couldn’t help stepping forward and kicking Evelyn.

“Bitch, don’t pretend to be dead here anymore. Stand up.”

As her words fell, there was still no response from Evelyn on the ground.

Seeing the situation, Vivian immediately became uneasy.

She looked around with a guilty conscience and left the scene in panic.

When Lucas came back in the evening, he found Evelyn not at home, and nobody answered his mobile phone, so he asked the housekeeper.

“Where is Evelyn?”

“Isn’t Mrs. Davis in the room?”

The housekeeper was more surprised, and asked.

Lucas frowned: “You haven’t seen her for a day?”

The housekeeper shook his head.

Lucas frowned tightly and felt a little uneasy.

He thought of the scenes of those accidents, then he hurriedly ordered, “You let the domestic servants look around for her.”

The housekeeper also realized that she might be missing. He took the order to leave and immediately sent someone to look for her.

As he left, Lucas did not stop.

He took out his mobile phone to call home and the company in turn, but all replied they had never seen Evelyn.

Because of this, the grandpa guessed what might have happened and called them over to the main house and asked Lucas what happened carefully.

“Lucas, What’s the matter with Nora? How did she disappear? Is there any news now?”

When he saw Lucas, he was so worried that he asked questions one by one.

Lucas calmly answered the questions with patience.

“I haven’t found her yet. I’ve got everybody looking for her.”

The grandpa’s face turned very bad when he heard this.

Just as he was about to say something, Lucas’ housekeeper hurried in.

“Master, I found her.”

When Lucas heard this, he immediately stood up, with anxious on his face: “Where did you find her? How was her?”

The housekeeper responded, "She was injured in the garden. Now she's settled in the room."

When Lucas heard that Evelyn was injured, his heart lifted up: "Call the doctor at once."

As it turned out, he went directly to his room.

Looking at his anxious leaving back and thinking of what the housekeeper had just said, the grandpa came with him worriedly.

"Let's go and have a look."

Devin suggested.

Sophia and Vivian listened, and they became impatient.

"What a toss!"

Sophia murmured, while Vivian was somewhat guilty.

After a while, everyone went to the room.

By this time, the doctor had arrived and had awakened Evelyn.

When she found the people in the room, she was stunned. "Grandpa, dad, mom, why are you here?"

Lucas frowned at her, especially her swollen cheeks, and asked in a cold voice, "What's the matter? Why did you get injured and fainted in the garden? And what about the injury on your face?"

Evelyn also thought about what had happened in the garden before.

She stirred up her mouth with a sneer, glancing at Vivian, who was trying to threaten her silence at the crowd.

"That's what I'm going to ask Vivian, I do not know what I did wrong that let her mock me. When I just wanted to explain, she began to beat me."

With her words, everyone looked at Vivian.

The grandpa was even more angry and scolded, “Vivian, is that true? You beat her?”

She was so frightened and angry that she quickly retorted.

“Dad, don’t listen to her nonsense. She’s been on bad terms with me all the time. She hurt herself for no reason. She wants to plant stolen goods to me!”

Vivian did not forget to attack Evelyn.

“Nora, who gave you the courage to talk nonsense here!”

Evelyn was very angry. She didn’t expect that this woman would shift the blame on her!

Just as she was about to fight back, Vivian was ahead of her when she was about to say anything.

“There’s no proof to say it. If you show the evidence, I would admit it. Even if I didn’t do!”

Evelyn couldn’t say anything. She was choked.

Evidence?

What evidence did she have?

At that time, the place where she fell was the blind angle of monitoring, which was impossible to proof.

For a moment, her face turned angry.

When Vivian saw her silent for a long time, she was more and more proud.

And this farce also ended because of having no evidence.

...

The next day, just as Vivian was singing happily because she tricked Evelyn, a visitor came to the living room unexpectedly.

“Miss Hawk looks in a good mood.”

Vivian heard the sound, looked sideways, and couldn't help but raised her eyebrows lightly.

“Envy, what are you doing here?”

Envy didn't seem to see the unwelcome emotion on her face. She went straight to the sofa and sat down.

Vivian looked, and just wanted to scold and drive her away. Envy's next words, made her whole person stunned.

“I just want to tell Miss Hawk that I was in the garden yesterday, and I saw how Miss Hawk had dealt with Miss Davis.”

Vivian's face slightly changed and she looked at her gloomily.

“I don't understand what you're talking about. I don't welcome you here. Please go out. “

Envy looked at her and said with a light smile, “If Miss Hawk forgot, I still have a video. I think I can help Miss Hawk find her memory.”

When Vivian heard this, how could she not know her intention? She was furious.

“What? Do you still want to threaten me? “

Envy heard this, but she didn't care. She smiled and said elegantly, “How could I do this? I just want to have a good chat with Miss Hawk, and make friends with you. “

Vivian satirized: “I don't know when you have to rely on threats to make friends?”

Envy frowned, and her eyes flashed coldly. She said with a half smile: ” Miss Hawk's meaning is not wanting to make friends with me? In that case, I won't disturb Miss Hawk. “

After that, she intended to stand up.

How could Vivian let her go? The woman threatened her intentionally.

And she had the evidence on her hand.

In the end, she could only compromised and said, "Stop!"

At the same time, this side of the new house.

Lucas looked at Evelyn who got up with him, frowned slightly, and said in a cold voice, "you'd better be at home today. The injury before is not healed. Last night, you were injured again. Take a good rest."

Evelyn's action was paused. Thinking of yesterday, she was so angry and shook her head firmly.

"Well, I may not have a good rest at home. This time I hit my head. Next time I may have a fracture. I'll go to the company. I'm tired in the company, but at least I'm safe."

With a little anger to Lucas, she did not look at Lucas and turned to enter the bathroom.

Lucas looked at her disappearing back and knew that she was very resentful of yesterday.

Eventually he said nothing but said to send her to the company.

Evelyn didn't refuse. She followed him to the company, but she still got off at crossing.

Lucas had been waiting for Evelyn to enter the company safely at the intersection, and then turned around to head office.

As soon as he entered the company, Cater went forward to report the schedule today.

"Half an hour later, it's a high-level meeting. At 10:30, you and Mr. An have an appointment to have a meal together..."

Lucas listened impassively until Cater finished his report, and then said in a cold voice, "I remember Vivian is the general manager of the branch company, right?"

Cater was stunned then replied, "yes, she has been this position for two years."

Lucas nodded: "very well. Inform that transferring her to South Africa to take charge of the African branch."

Cater was totally confused.

However, he saw his president's cold face and guessed the Miss Hawk had done something which made the president angry and then sent her to such a hard place.

"I see."

He nodded and made arrangements as soon as the elevator opened.

In Hawk family, Vivian received the news later, and she was furious extremely.

"Lucas!"

She went straightly to Lucas' office. She clapped her hands on Lucas' desk and stared at him angrily.

Lucas just glanced at her coldly, ignored her. He continued to read the documents in his hand.

Vivian was ignored, and even more angry.

She took away Lucas' documents directly and asked in a sharp voice, "why did you send me to Africa?"

Lucas looked at the document in her hand, frowning and his eyes were full of coldness.

"I thought you knew it!"

Vivian was almost enraged by his answer.

“What do I know? I didn’t do anything. Why did you let me to such a bad place?”

When Lucas saw that she still refused to admit it, his face suddenly sank and he said in a serious voice, “This order has been known by everyone. You have to go whether you don’t want to go!”

Vivian was so angry.

“I’m not going! No! “

She ground her teeth and stared at Lucas.

Lucas looked at her with firm attitudes in his eyes.

Vivian was a little scared, but she ground and insisted cowardly when she thought of the African environment.

She couldn’t understand why she was sent to such a hard place.

Just thinking, something occurred to her, and then a guess was made.

Lucas must believe Nora that bltch. Did he revenge for her?

In this way, she felt it more and more right.

After all, it was not once.

For a while, her heart was full of anger, and she ground, “I know why you suddenly send me away. Did the woman tell you about it? Lucas, you even prefer to believe an outsider than to believe me!”

When Lucas heard this, he gave her a cold glance.

“I can believe you, but at least you’ll behave as an elder.”

After a pause, he continued: “At that time, there was only you and Nora in the garden. Nora’s injure is not still healed. Could she still go down by herself?”

Vivian was so angry with his questions that she had nothing to say.

In addition, in the morning, she was threatened by the Envy. She immediately became more angrier.

But she couldn't admit it, otherwise she would never get the good results with her nephew's preference.

"It's not me. You still believe that woman's words. I think you are obsessed by that b!tch!"

Finishing, she left the document in her hand and left angrily.

It may be because she was going too fast and hard. She was going to go down the stairs and slid. The whole person...

She leaned forward and fell down the stairs.

"Ah -"

The Gorgeous Substitute Wife of Mr. President Chapter 194 - Tips

The shrill high-pitched scream of a woman cut through the quiet land of Hawk Group in an instant.

The security staff standing at the gate was also shocked by what happened in front of him.

He watched the beautiful girl roll down the stairs, hearing scream of her and the sound of bones dislocation.

After more than ten seconds, Vivian stopped rolling, but her beautiful face became confused and dirty with eyes full of pain.

The security guard was so inflexible that he immediately came forward to help.

"Ah!Ah!It hurts!Do you know how to help others?"

Even if she was hurt,she couldn't restrain her savage nature.

Although the security guard was not satisfied,he still got her sent to the hospital.

Along the way, Vivian didn't even stop. Sometimes she disliked the slow speed of the car and sometimes she got angry for the reason that the security guard got her hurt

Even he was a nice staff with good temper, now he was provoked by her and really wanted to leave her alone.

But if he still wanted to work for the company, he had no choice but to continue to help her because she was a relative of the leader of the company.

Finally, after the security guard took her to the hospital and handed her over to the doctors and nurses, he left without any hesitation.

Of course, he did not forget to let his colleagues inform the president.

When Lucas heard that Vivian fell down and was sent to hospital, he was somewhat surprised.

But he finally left his job and went to the hospital.

Just before he entered the nursing room, the voice of Vivian swearing was heard all the way.

Just as he was about to go in, a few nurses hurried by.

"Ah, she starts again. So hard to take care of such a demanding woman like her. I really don't know what kind of family could bring up such a bch."

"Yes! the nurses in the department were criticized all over by her."

"Stop talking. Just hurry up. If we're late, she will swear again."

Hearing this, Lucas's face was black and he wanted to turn around and leave.

Their family members had always been welcomed everywhere they went and they were never disliked like this.

And let alone those nurses, even if it was he who heard Vivian's swearing, he would feel angry and ashamed.

Anyway, she had the spirit to curse people, so it meant that she was okay.

Just as Lucas was about to leave, he heard the barbarous reprimand of Vivian from the nursing room again.

“What a bad hospital this is! You told me that the hurt would fade in a moment. Why am I still painful now? Just ask your dean to see me. I want to complain that you are using fake medicine!”

Vivian stared angrily at the nurses in front of her and vented the anger she had received from Envy and Lucas.

“And you, how bad your skill of binding up is! This is my hand, not a pig’s hoof. How can I go out and meet people with such an ugly look? Do you know who I am?”

Hearing this, Lucas’s blue veins in forehead kept quivering.

When she was about to use her status to threaten the nurses, Lucas went into the nursing room with a black face.

“Vivian Hawk! You shut up!”

Calling her with her name and surname, it was obvious that he was in great anger.

Vivian was also shocked, then she thought of what he had done. She immediately held up her back and said with unhappiness, “Why do you come here?”

Lucas ignored her word and glanced at her coldly. Then he turned to ask the nurses whose faces were pale over there.

“What’s her condition? Does she need to be hospitalized?”

Doctors and nurses were relieved to see that at last someone could control the patient.

“This young lady has nothing to do but dislocation. She has been fixed and dressed. She just needs to go back for a rest.”

Lucas nodded his head and said some words of thanks to several medical staff, then he turned his attention to Vivian.

“Aunt,let’s go.”

Compared with the courtesy of talking to the medical staff,it is much colder.

Vivian was so angry but she did not dare to vent her anger to Lucas because of the transfer order so that she could only follow him honestly and leave.

After picking her,Lucas returned directly to his family.

They arrived at Hawk’s house without saying any words on the way.

Just as they got off the car,they met Evelyn who was just back from work.

“Lucas.”

When Evelyn saw Lucas and wanted to greet him with joy,she stopped after taking a step.

She looked at Vivian who got out from the car in dismay.

She saw her hands bound up to neck and her hands was still very swollen that looked like soaked pig’s feet.

Vivian also saw her at this time,and her face suddenly became ugly.

Then she followed Lucas into the gate with a sullen face.

Evelyn saw them coming and naturally went naturally to Lucas’s side.

She glanced at Vivian and couldn’t help asking.She pulled Lucas’s clothes and asked in a low voice,“What’s wrong with my sister-in-law?”

Hearing her ask,he glanced at Vivian and said in a cool voice,“She fell down the stairs.”

“Whoo-“

Evelyn couldn’t resist it and burst out laughing.

Vivian was always paying close attention to them,so she didn’t missed their conversation.At this time, when she saw that Evelyn was laughing at her,she immediately got angry.

“What are you laughing about!”

She snapped.

Evelyn looked at her happily without fear.

“I laugh because it’s funny.”

After that, she looked at the hand of Vivian and said, “Looking at your bad condition, I recall an old saying. I don’t know whether you heard of it.”

“What is it?”

Vivian subconsciously asked.

Evelyn raised her mouth with mockery, “Good will be rewarded with good, and evil with evil. I didn’t believe it before, but when I see you now, I believe it.”

When Vivian heard this she was angry and burst into anger.

How couldn’t she understand that Evelyn was telling a satire on her.

“Evelyn Davis!”

She gritted her teeth and screamed. She even wanted to beat her now.

Seeing this, Lucas knew that they were going to quarrel again. He frowned and berated coldly, “Vivian, how can you say such words to your sister-in-law?”

Evelyn thought that the man was going to help Vivian again, but when she saw that his face was intentionally harsh but his dark eyes were full of smiles, she knew what Lucas wanted to do immediately.

Obviously, he was just acting like he was angry.

“Well, I’m wrong. My dear sister-in-law, I shouldn’t laugh at you like that.”

Vivian was stunned by her apology.

Before she could respond, she heard that Evelyn continued to say, “Since it’s my mistake, I should be punished. Now I’ll go back to my room and reflect on it. Bye bye, my sister.”

After that, she winked her sly eyes at Lucas and turned around and ran straight away.

Lucas watched her leaving behind, and his cool face could not help softening down.

He did not expect that this woman had such a naughty side. He just stared at the direction that she left and laughed slightly.

It was also this laughter that made Vivian regain consciousness.

Looking at her nephew who seemed to be in a good mood beside her and the bad woman who had run out of sight, she realized that she was being tricked by the little bch Evelyn.

Suddenly, she became furious and unable to contain her anger.

Vivian stared at Evelyn leaving, scolding angrily.

“Damn it! Don’t let me find a chance to deal with you! “

When Lucas heard this, he coughed.

“Vivian, I’m still here.”

He warned Vivian. His meaning was very clear if Vivian wanted to deal with Evelyn, he wouldn’t allow it.

Vivian was shaking with rage.

She tried to vent to him several times, but the lesson before and the order he didn’t take back made her bear it.

“Get out of the way!”

Can’t she hide from them when she couldn’t win in tongue?

She pushed Lucas with her unharmed hand and turned to walk towards her yard.

Lucas looked at her back, with narrowed eyes, and then went back to the new house hiding his real thoughts.

When Vivian returned to her yard, her anger could not be vanished and she hated whatever she saw.

She was kicking the sofa out of anger, but unfortunately she was kicking on the leg of the sofa, which made her tears shed because of pain.

“Hiss – damn it, even the sofa dare to bully me. somebody throw this sofa away!”

She ordered furiously. After that, regardless of follow-up, she went straight to the room.

She just entered the room, the mobile phone ringing.

She took it out and saw that it was Amelia, so she answered directly.

“What’s wrong?”

Her angry voice sounded.

Amelia was stunned and asked, “who made you angry?”

Vivian responded angrily: “In addition to Nora, who else in this family can offend me?”

Amelia listened, and she was eager to know what Nora has done. However, Vivian was angry now, and she did not make her annoyed again. Instead, she appeased her.

“Well, don’t be angry. Don’t be angry with someone who isn’t worth it. Be careful yourself.”

Vivian calmed down gradually under her comfort, remembering that Amelia had not yet said her intention of calling.

“Amelia, we’ve talked for a long time and I still do not know why do you call me?”

Seeing that she didn't seem so angry, Amelia said what her purpose.

"In fact, it's nothing. I haven't been with you for a long time. I want to ask you out to go shopping tomorrow."

When Vivian heard this, she pouted and said, "I'm not going. I don't want to move when I'm hurt."

Amelia was surprised.

"How did you get hurt?"

Vivian listened, and her anger rose again.

"It's because of Nora, that b!tch."

She said, as if thinking of something, and reminded: "Amelia, if you really want to get the position of a young mistress, you'd better to please my eldest brother and sister-in-law. Otherwise, not to mention Nora, Envy is a hard bone for you to deal with."

Amelia was aware of the crisis, so she wanted to contact with Vivian to inquire about the news.

At this time, when she said, Amelia felt urgent again.

"I see. Thank Vivian for thinking about me."

She thanked Vivian and made her happy and then she hung up the phone.

As the phone was hung up, there was a grimness in her eyes.

However, she quickly covered, took out the cell phone and redialed a number.

"How are you, Sophia? I'd like to ask you out to go shopping. "

She said to the person on the phone in a clever tone.

Sophia loved Amelia. Naturally, she would not refuse her.

Two people said a few words, and agreed to meet the place and time. And then they just hung up the phone.

...

The next day, Sophia and Amelia met at the appointed place.

“Sophia.”

Amelia concealed the dissatisfaction in her heart, holding her closely as before.

Sophia didn't notice her difference. She took her to the mall.

Until the two were tired and went to a coffee shop to sit down. Amelia saw that she was in a good mood, and then began to carefully feel her out.

“Sophia, I heard that Envy is staying in Hawk family recently. Do you want her to be your daughter-in-law instead of me?”

Sophia was shocked to hear this.

She looked back at the uneasiness and seriousness on Amelia's face, and shook her head with a smile.

“Amelia, you misunderstood me. although Envy is good, I don't want her to be my daughter-in-law. I let her come here, just because of Nora.”

After she finished, she sighed: “since the last time, I found that the relationship between the woman and Lucas seems to have progressed. They stay together every day. I'm afraid that Lucas would be obsessed by her, so I have to do something. At the same time, I want to use the excellence of Envy to let Nora realize that she doesn't match Lucas at all, so that she can leave on her own initiative.”

Amelia didn't expect that Sophia thought so. She was shocked. When she collected herself, the smile on her face became real.

“Sophia, you are so kind to me. I misunderstood you.”

She pestered Sophia to be coquettish, and the two talked and laughed for a while. She thought of her present condition, and could not help frowning.

“Sophia, since the last time, Lucas didn’t want to see me. Now I can’t get close to Lucas at all. How can I regain Lucas?”

Sophia’s face was also upset when she heard this.

Let alone Amelia, even she was alienated by that boy.

She could not help sighing when she thought that.

“If only we made it the last time, so that you could have a baby. As long as you have a baby, nothing will happen.”

Amelia was not willing to listen. She also didn’t want to lie down.

Yes, it was so nice if they made it the last time.

She thought of this and hated Nora even more.

This b!tch destroyed her plans again and again!

She would never let her go easily.

But before that, she still had to find a way to conceive Lucas’ child.

She drooped her eyes to think. Suddenly she had an idea, eyes flashing calculation.

...

At the same time, Hawk group.

Lucas was processing documents in the office. Cater knocked on the door and came in.

“President, you’ve let us to investigate the gangs and now we’ve gotten some information.”

He said and looked respectfully at Lucas.

When Lucas heard the words, he frowned and stopped his work.

“Who is behind?”

Cater listened to the report sweetly “er... The people behind are very careful. We have traced back to the source of the remittance, but the remitter we found in the end is just a completely irrelevant person. “

Then he looked at Lucas carefully.

“President, I think this person should be someone we are familiar with, so he will try my best to hide his real identity.”

Lucas has been serious since he said the first sentence.

Especially after listening to the last sentence, it was dark enough to drop ink.

Obviously they were being held by the man who was the behind.

But even so, he had to keep investigate.

“You continue to investigate, and let people stare at the remitter. He must know something, otherwise how can he help the remittance!”

Cater took the order and immediately began to arrange.

As Cater left, Lucas sat on the chair in his office with a cold face.

No matter how deep he hid, he would try his best to find out the man.

Otherwise, this time it was Nora. Next time he didn't know who was the target in Hawk family.

While he sent Cater to find out, Amelia received a message from the assistant.

“What did you say? Lucas hasn't given up the investigation yet? “

She held her cell phone and said unbelievably.

And then there was jealousy that was hard to hide.

The reason why Lucas paid so much attention to it must be because it was related to Nora.

She thought of this and what Sophia had said to her before.

The two of them were affectionate like one person in this period of time. If it continued, did she have a chance to interrupt?

For a moment, she raised the alarm in her heart.

“You take a sum of money and let the gangs leave for a while.”

The assistant took order, and then hung up to do it.

Amelia looked at the phone, still uneasy.

She had to do something to distract Lucas.

Otherwise, if he knew the truth, Lucas would only hate her more. At that time, she would not even have the chance to ask for forgiveness.

She looked down and pondered how to divert Lucas' attention.

All of a sudden, a plan gradually formed in her heart.

She took out her cell phone and dialed a number...

That night, she dressed up a little and drove out.

After a while, she stopped at a bar called Cather.

She walked in with no expression on her face, turning a blind eye to the chaos inside, and walked straight to the corner.

There was a well-dressed man sitting in the corner.

“Austin, how are you? I haven't seen you for a long time.”

She greeted coldly and then sat down opposite.

Austin saw her, eyes darkening.

“What do you want me to do?”

Austin looked at her warily. After all, there was no friendship between them.

Amelia said with a smile, "Don't you want Nora?"

When Austin heard this, something flickered in his eyes.

"What do you mean by that?"

Amelia leaned back in the chair with a smile and said, "I know you like Nora, while I like Lucas. It's a knowing thing in our circle. I want to cooperate with you. I'll help you get Nora. And then you let Nora stay away from Lucas and she'd better disappear from Lucas eyesight forever."

Austin frowned.

"Have you forgotten that Nora and Lucas married?"

He reminded but Amelia didn't pay attention at all.

"So what? If you believe me, in a few days, she won't be the young mistress of Hawk family. "

Austin was surprised and asked, "why?"

In the dim light, Amelia raised the corner of her mouth in a evil way.

"Because I am pregnant with Lucas' child."

Austin was shocked.

Without waiting for him to collect himself, he listened to Amelia's words continuously, "I am liked by Lucas' parents. With the old Mr. Hawk's stress to future generations, it's impossible to allow the children of the family to be out. Do you think it's necessary for Nora to stay here?"

Austin was on earth now, looking at her thoughtfully.

"In that case, what else can you do with me?"

Amelia looked at him with a half smile.

“I’m looking for you just to be sure completely. Why? Don’t you agree? “

Austin was silent. He stared at Amelia for a long time, and compressed his lips: “You are sure there will be no problem?”

Amelia heard that. Her smile was more clearer and nodded confidently.

“Sure!”

“Then I will trust you once.”

Finally, Austin nodded and agreed.

...

At the same time, Evelyn did not know their plan.

She was still working overtime in the company now.

Just as she was so busy, the phone rang on the desk.

“Lucas, why do you call me so late? What wrong?”

Yes, it was Lucas who called her.

“Are you still in the company?”

He asked softly.

Evelyn looked at the semi-finished product on the table and shook her head.

Lucas’ eyes narrowed slightly when he heard the words.

“So you didn’t have dinner again.”

It was not a question. He affirmed.

Evelyn stuck out her tongue shyly”er... Forget it. “

Lucas has guessed that. There was a flash of helplessness in his eyes and the doting he didn’t find.

“You go downstairs now.”

As soon as he said this, Evelyn was stunned.

“Are you coming to pick me up?”

Lucas chuckled, “I’m downstairs. I’ll give you three minutes. I’ll see you at the door.”

With that, he hung up.

Evelyn looked at the phone that has been hung up. Although she thought this man was domineering, she was happiness.

She tidied up her work very soon and left the company with her bag.

When she got in the car, Lucas drove her directly to the restaurant.

During the dinner, Evelyn really wanted to know why he came to pick her up.

But she was afraid that if she asked, it would seem that she thought too much. So she was of two minds about that.

Lucas looked at her expression and asked, “what’s the matter?”

Evelyn shook her head: “it’s OK.”

When Lucas saw the situation, it was not good to ask again, so he asked about the company’s cooperation.

At the beginning, Evelyn reported to him seriously. However, when she said the design, she was talkative and talking freely.

Lucas was a very good listener. He gave one or two suggestions occasionally, but he could catch the point, which was manna for Evelyn.

When they got back to Hawk’s, Evelyn was also very excited. She talked a long time with Lucas again, and she just found that it was too late.

“God, it’s so late. I’ll go wash. There will be a meeting tomorrow morning.”

She said, rushing to the bathroom with her pajamas.

After a while, she finished and came out in her pajamas.

Although the pajamas were conservative, she had quite a good figure, especially her bare legs, which were long and white.

Of course, the missing was the injury on her leg.

These days, the wound on her leg was better and started to scar, but it looked like the scar might not disappear.

Lucas saw the dark scar, and his eyes were dark.

He took an ointment out of his briefcase and handed it over.

“This is the scar removing medicine. I took it from Jacob. It’s said that the scar removing effect is good. You remember to use it every day.”

Evelyn took over, a little surprising on her face.

“Isn’t Mr. Collins a psychologist?”

“Can’t a psychologist do anything else?”

Lucas asked, letting Evelyn choke.

Seeing Evelyn’s silence, he urged her to use the medicine.

Evelyn looked at the ointment in her hand, then looking at the cold man who was kind in front of her. For a while, she felt sweet like drinking honey water.

Just as she was administering medicine, Lucas thought of something. He stared at her and asked, “By the way, it’s your birthday in a few days. Have you thought about how to spend it?”

The Gorgeous Substitute Wife of Mr. President Chapter 197 - Tips

0 6 minutes read

Hearing this, Evelyn’s action stopped suddenly, and she was stunned for a while.

She had always spent her birthdays with her mother in former years.

In the past, whenever her birthday came, her mother would make a table of dishes and buy her a big cake to celebrate.

But this year.....It seemed impossible.

Thinking of this, she felt lost and down for a while. The thought of having a birthday party also vanished.

As a matter of fact, if it hadn't been mentioned by Lucas, she would have forgotten her birthday.

And now she was playing the role of her sister Nora. She didn't know what Nora's birthday would be like.

Maybe she would hold a big birthday party or go hanging around with her friends?

She could not guess, nor did she know how to answer.

Finally, she chose to keep silent in order not to be exposed.

Lucas raised his eyebrows and asked,"What's wrong? Haven't you made an idea?"

Evelyn was shocked, and immediately nodded her head to act like thinking and said, "I've been very busy lately.I think I will just let it go."

She said, climbing into bed to rest.

Lucas looked at her figure of lying on her side and thought about it.

According to previous surveys, every year, Nora's birthday party was more important and had higher profile than any other thing in this family.

First she would hold a party,a banquet, then she would have a night out with friends.

But just now he saw that there was confusion in this woman's face.

What was the matter?

He frowned and thought, but had no idea. Finally, he put it down and went into the bathroom to wash.

.....

The next day, the first batch of ready-to-wear design drawings of the new brand have come out because Evelyn and Dale rushed to work these days.

Lucas planned to visit the company today, so he let Envy just stay at home.

“Well, I have followed you to the company these days, and I didn’t accompany your mother very well. I’m afraid she was upset for my being absent.”

Envy concealed the loss and unhappiness of her eyes, and answered him liberally and dignifiedly.

Evelyn listened to her words and always felt strange.

But she just couldn’t find where was strange. So she could only say goodbye under the pressure of discomfort in her heart.

Envy watched the two of them left and her face became mysterious and arcane.

She watched over there for a long time. And after the car faded away in her view, she turned around and went into the house.

“Envy, didn’t you go to the company today?”

Sophia just sat in the living room and saw her. She was surprised and asked.

“Lucas will go to the branch office with Evelyn to deal with the new brand today. I don’t think that there is a necessity for me to go there. I just wanna stay at home with you. I’ve been following Lucas to the company these days, but I haven’t accompanied you very well.”

She responded with a smile, but it made Sophia wrinkle slightly.

“It’s unnecessary and boring to be with an old lady like me. You young people should be together.”

Otherwise, it would be no meaning for her to ask Envy to come here.

Although Sophia did not say it, Envy could still feel her dissatisfaction with her choice, and her eyes flashed for a moment.

Just as she was about to say something, the housekeeper came in.

“Madam, Amelia comes to see you.”

As soon as the housekeeper finished speaking, Amelia came in from the door.

“Aunt Sophia, I am coming to see you.”

When she finished saying, she had already come to Sophia and held her hand intimately.

“Why did you come here? And you didn’t tell me in advance, or I could ask the driver at home to pick you up.” She asked, nodding her forehead with love.

Sophia was so happy to her intimacy.

“I just heard that Vivian was hurt, so I come to see her. What’s more, here is my home. Do I need to notice anyone when I come back?”

When she finished speaking, she looked as if she had just seen Envy sitting on the opposite sofa and was surprised, “Oh, Miss Miller is here too. Sorry, I just was so excited to see aunt Sophia that I didn’t notice you.”

Envy looked at her affected pose, stayed calm, and said in a gentle and courteous way, “It’s all right.”

Sophia saw that these two girls got along well. She was relieved to be so calm because she had thought that they would quarrel or even fight when they saw each other.

She asked Amelia to sit down beside her and asked about her recent situation.

“Recently, I am okay. I’ve been doing nothing every day. I’m a little bored.”

What she said was true. She was really bored at home.

When Envy saw the situation, she raised her eyebrows and said, “I heard that Miss Morgan had been helping Lucas manage the company before. Why didn’t you do it after that?”

She asked innocently, but Amelia felt that she talked about this topic purposely.

“Dear Lucas was afraid that I would be tired, and aunt Sophia has always been at home alone, so he hoped I could accompany aunt Sophia more at home.”

She deliberately said vague words to stimulate Envy, but her face was still unchanged. To Amelia’s surprise, she even praised her.

“Miss Morgan is very filial. You deserve aunt Sophia’s love.”

Envy said as if she was an elder of hers, which made Amelia extremely uncomfortable and irritated.

She wanted to find fault but this word was really correct, and finally she could only hold her breath, looking at Sophia.

“Aunt Sophia, do you have someone clean my room? I want to go up and have a rest.”

When Sophia heard this, her face was frozen and she did not know how to tell Amelia for a moment.

Because the room which had been originally for Amelia now belonged to Envy.

Maybe Envy saw her dilemma, so she took the initiative to solve the siege, “Miss Morgan, I am afraid that you have to rest in the guest room because your former room now has been lived by me. I put many things in that room. It may take a long time to spare some space for you.”

Hearing such words, Amelia suddenly got in great anger and her face looked so sombre.

It felt like something important of one’s own has been replaced by others.

Sophia also saw her bad face, and this thing was really done by her. She was afraid of being criticized by Amelia, so she simply excused herself to go out.

“I’ll see what’s in the kitchen. Amelia, you just for dinner in the evening.”

Of course, Envy knew that Sophia was escaping, but she didn't say anything. She smiled and politely watched her go out.

With the departure of Sophia, Amelia could no longer resist the anger in her heart and shouted sarcastically, "Envy, how hypocritical you are in front of Sophia! I know clearly about what kind of person you are."

Envy raised his eyebrows and said with a light smile, "So what? Don't forget that you've lost now, and I can stay in Lucas's office every day and talk with him and work together."

Hearing this, Amelia burst into a fury.

She once had also dreamed about this. But the dream had never come true.

Envy clearly saw her anger, then she continued to sneer as if it was still not excessive," I heard that someone played a lot of tricks, especially the way of dedication. It is good, but it is easy to mess up, let alone in front of a person like Lucas. Look at you now. I, guess you must have learned many lessons from this?"

Sneered by Envy, Amelia's face turned green and white. Then she laughed angrily as if she thought of something and said, "Oh, are you really sure that you have the advantage so you will absolutely win? Envy Miller, I will tell you by truth who the real winner is!"

Envy looked at her aspirations in a certain way, and her eyebrows could not help wrinkling up.

There was nothing happened in next two days.

Evelyn didn't want to celebrate her birthday. She didn't pay attention to it. In addition, the company had a lot of things, so she soon left it behind.

This day, just as she was about to go back from work, she received a call from John, asking her to meet him.

Evelyn didn't want to see him at the bottom of her heart, but due to the original agreement, she could only go.

"What's up?"

She went to the appointed café and sat down directly without greeting John then she came to the subject.

John frowned because of her attitude.

"What's your attitude? Don't you know greeting when you see a man?"

He positioned as an elder to scold, but Evelyn interrupted him impatiently.

"If you call me just to teach me a lesson, I'm sorry I don't have so much time."

With that, she got up to leave.

John was too angry: "stop!"

Evelyn stopped, raised her eyebrows and looked at him, "do Mr. Davis want to say?"

John was angry. However, when he thought of the next thing, he can only bear it.

"Sit down!"

He glared at Evelyn and ordered.

Evelyn was not stubborn. She sat down.

After all, if they really argued, she was the one who has suffered.

"Come on, what can I do for you?"

She asked again in a cold voice.

John looked at her coldly and talked about the purpose of today.

"A few days later is Nora's birthday. Every year, I will give her a very grand birthday. Last year, when she married Lucas, it was even more grand!"

He said that, pausing: “so this year the party must not be bad, especially when Lucas is back. It must be very well. At that time, all the famous people in Jingdu would be invited. With the name of Hawk family, these people will attend.”

Evelyn listened to him talking about the birthday party. She was very upset.

They two were his daughters, but he didn't realize that one was living in the heaven and the other was living in the earth.

She told herself not caring too much. After all, she had already known that.

But she couldn't help but feel ironic.

She looked at John in a indifferent way and said, “it's useless for you to tell me so much. Now I am in Hawk family. It's all a matter of the Hawk family. Only Mrs. Hawk can decide how to manage it.”

John choked when Evelyn said that.

Then he understood. After all, Evelyn was the daughter-in-law of Hawk's family. It was impossible to ignore it.

Evelyn saw that he agreed with her words and gave up the idea of charging the birthday party. She was relieved.

Otherwise, she would go on as he asked, for fear that she would be ridiculed by Mrs. Hawk and other people.

And then she thought of another thing, compressing her lips, “and on my birthday, I want to go to the hospital to see my mother.”

When John heard this, he frowned slightly and refused without thinking.

“No way. Don't forget your present identity and the thing before which was almost exposed!”

Evelyn bit her lips and wanted to fight for it. But before she could speak, she was interrupted by John.

“And that’s an important day for Nora. You can’t make any mistakes playing her now!”

He said, and then continued in the tone of almsgiving: “anyway, if it’s not for Nora, how can you have such a grand birthday party? I think you’ll just one time in your life. Enjoy it. Behave yourself and not make any trouble for me.”

Evelyn trembled with anger when she heard the humiliating words.

She grabbed her handbag, jumped up from the sofa, sneered at John and said, “I’m sorry, but I don’t care about what you said!”

After that, she left regardless of John’s terrible face.

All the way home, she was still in a bad mood.

Especially thinking of John’s humiliating words, she was so angry that she couldn’t even eat, so she went directly to the back garden pavilion to stay.

She wondered if she had been wrong in the first place.

She shouldn’t have come to this man.

Without him, she had no way to save her mother.

And when she promised the man to replace Nora, she knew it was an unequal cooperation.

So it was all she expected that she would be humiliated now. She had nothing to be sad about, did she?

Evelyn’s anger disappeared with this self comfort.

She wished time could pass quickly, and to let her end this terrible cooperation earlier.

She looked up at the night overhead and sighed.

She seeing that sky, the stars were all over. They were shining, twinkling and very good-looking.

She gazed at the distance, and the wind was blowing slowly by her side. It seemed that her disappointment in her heart was blowing away.

Just as she was going to pace back slowly, she saw a slender figure coming towards her.

She saw the man slowly approaching, he showing his flawless face.

The yellow street lamp behind him shone on him, as if giving a layer of golden light on his body, making people unable to move their eyes.

Evelyn looked at him fondly until he came to her.

“I listened to the housekeeper that you didn’t eat at night again. What’s the matter?”

Evelyn collected herself, and the chagrin flickered in her eyes.

She saw him every day. How can she was stunned because of him?

She pretended to be calm and cover up: “nothing, just creation in the daytime. I have no inspiration, so I am a little upset.”

Lucas had no doubt. He knew that designers were very annoyed when they had no inspiration.

“Don’t worry. Take your time. The company is stable now. Don’t push yourself too hard.”

He comforted her. Evelyn knew that he was caring about herself, and her heart was touched.

“I know.”

She responded with a smile.

Just as she was going to go back with Lucas, she heard that he suddenly mentioned her birthday.

“By the way, I’ve told the housekeeper to do this. Do you have any requirements?”

Evelyn was stunned. Looking at the seriousness in his eyes, her feeling was very complex.

“There’s no requirement. Let the housekeeper do on his own decision.”

When Lucas heard this, he frowned slightly and seemed to be dissatisfied with the answer.

He always thought that Evelyn's attitude to the birthday party was not as positive as that in the information.

But Evelyn didn't notice. At this time, she was immersed in her own thoughts and couldn't extricate herself.

Of course, she should be happy when Lucas was about to give her a birthday party, but she couldn't laugh.

Because she knew that the reason why Lucas held it was because she was Nora, not Evelyn.

She felt sad and lost when she thought about it.

Wake up, Evelyn. Why were you upset and sad?

She felt that she was seriously ill and deeply involved in this play. She knew that all these were not belonging to her, but she was eager.

Evelyn, didn't think about it. These didn't belong to you at all!

Whether Lucas or the birthday party, it was not what she should think.

And in the past years, she and her mother also lived in this way. Why were you so greedy now?

The Gorgeous Substitute Wife of Mr. President Chapter 199 - Tips

Evelyn stopped her inner fluctuation, shook her head and thought out all her thoughts.

"Go back."

She greeted Lucas and took the lead went out of the garden.

Lucas looked at the back of her leaving, and there was a faint light under his eyes.

They went back to the room, and went to sleep after a break wash.

They spent the night silently.

In the next few days, it was so peaceful that Evelyn was not used to it and felt uneasy.

But the reality can't bear her to think more, because she had been so busy these days, just like the spinning top.

Now that the first drawings of her and Dale's designs had been published, they should start to look for stores, and then they would do propaganda in all aspects.

And all this needed to do by herself.

This morning, when she arrived at the company, Bessy came in with a stack of materials.

"Mr. Davis, this is the addresses we selected these days. Have a look."

Evelyn took over and started to check.

She saw the locations on it were all good which were all located in the business center, they were not far away from each other, and they would not affect each other's business.

"Put it here. I'll go to the store and have a look later."

Just then, the door of the office room was pushed open suddenly.

"Nora!"

Dale angrily walked to the desk, put her hands on the desk with an angry face and stared at her.

"Why does one of the designs I gave you appear in God forum?"

Evelyn was stunned by her sudden question, then frowned: "I don't understand what you are talking about?"

Dale saw that she didn't understand, she was furious again.

“Don’t understand? Besides you, who else in this company has my design draft? Why do you put my design draft out! “

Evelyn understood what she said and was shocked.

“I haven’t moved your design yet.”

“You didn’t move it? Obviously, it’s sent from your email. How can you say no. Nora, what you did is like theft! “

Evelyn’s face suddenly changed. She quickly turned on the computer to check it, and immediately found that the manuscript was really coming out of her computer.

When she saw this, her face suddenly turned black.

“Dale, I don’t know why it’s leaked from me, but I promise I didn’t do it.”

Dale didn’t believe her at all. “Who else would do it except you?” she sneered.

She seemed to think of something, said sarcastically, “it’s not the first time that your company divulges design works. I heard that your company has many bad behaviors since you establish. I can’t understand how Aaron can cooperate with people like you.”

Hearing her sarcastical words, Evelyn was so angry that her chest fluctuated.

Especially her slander of the company annoyed her.

“I said it wasn’t me.”

She looked at Dale with anger, and said, “and now everything has not been found out. Is it too one-sided for you to make such an arbitrary conclusion? Give me some time to find out the reality, and I will definitely give you an account!”

Dale looked at the insistence in her eyes and was touched.

Although she only got along with Nora for a short time, she still had thought about the woman’s temperament.

If she did it, she wouldn't say like that.

"Well, you need time. I'll give you time, but I don't believe you. It's must be done by your superiors!"

Evelyn was relieved to hear that she agreed to investigate it.

"OK, let's go to the general manager's office now."

She took the lead out of the office.

Dale watched her and followed her went out.

Bessy looked at the back of their departure with worries in eyes.

After a while, they came to Freya 's office.

Evelyn knocked on the door.

"General manager."

Freya looked at the two people came in, she was puzzled, and immediately found the emotions on their faces and then she felt headache.

She thought they two may had quarreled again about something.

"What's the matter?"

She asked with no apparent inquiry.

Evelyn was about to explain, but was preempted by Dale.

"Miss. Lee, your company must give me an account of this matter, or I will sue your company for theft!"

When she heard this, she looked surprised and immediately looked at Evelyn.

"Director Davis, what happened?"

Evelyn has no choice but to tell the matter of the leakage of the design draft.

"I don't know what's going on. The draft that she gave me leaked out from my computer, but I don't know at all."

Freya's face suddenly changed when she heard that the design draft was leaked.

Anyone who works with clothes knows how important it is for every company to have an unpublished design.

It can be said that this is the first opportunity to seize the market.

She quickly straightened out Evelyn 's words, then she found something wrong, and immediately scolded: "It leaked from your computer, why don't you know that, aren't you the only one who uses the computers?"

When Evelyn heard this, she thought that Freya also suspected that she let it out.

Just as she wanted to explain, Freya didn't give her any chance.

"Miss Bush, this matter is very serious. Our company will definitely pursue it for you."

She looked at Dale and said.

In fact, she didn't really want to scold Evelyn just now. She just wanted to show it to Dale.

After all, other people don't know Evelyn 's identity, she knows.

Dale didn't know what she was thinking. Hearing this, she said in a strange voice, "I'm afraid you'll find out and cover up the murderer."

After she said that, she glanced at Evelyn, whose face is not good.

Evelyn felt angry.

"I said I didn't do it."

She said, glaring at Dale.

Freya looked at the two women are about to quarrel, and immediately stopped.

"Miss Bush, this matter has touched the bottom line of the company. Our company can never shield anyone, including director Davis. If the investigation result is really her problem, we will punish her severely and give you a satisfactory explanation!”

Dale was pleased to hear that.

She glanced at Evelyn, whose face was dark, and hugged her chest with both hands, and said, “OK, I’ll give you three days. If you don’t give me a satisfactory answer after three days, don’t blame me for reporting to the company and going through normal procedures to deal with it.”

Freya listened to her threatening words and was very unhappy.

But the problem is happened in their company, so she can only smile.

...

At the same time, the head office of Hawk group, Cater received the news and immediately reported it to Lucas.

“President, there’s something wrong with the new company again.”

He said the matter briefly, Lucas frowned.

“How could this kind of things happen again?”

The Gorgeous Substitute Wife of Mr. President Chapter 200 - Tips

0 5 minutes read

Evelyn didn’t know that Lucas had known about this matter.

With the mediation of Freya, the matter was put to rest for a while.

Sullen, she returned to the office, staring at the computer on her desk with her mind wandering.

What’s more, her computer had a password, and no one else knew the password as well as no one else used her computer.

Wait a minute, Bessy also knew the password of her computer. When she was busy, she would ask Bessy to use her computer to do some work.

Could it be Bessy?

Since she could not help doubting Bessy, she wanted to call Bessy in and ask Bessy.

But in the end, she gave up.

Not to mention that this was her own guess, she had no proof

When she thought about the evidence, it occurred to her that there were surveillance videos in the office. All she had to do was check the surveillance videos to see who used her computer yesterday, and she'd know who did it.

When she thought of this, she immediately went to the control room. She found out all the surveillance videos from yesterday, examining them carefully one by one.

The surveillance videos showed that several people stayed in the company to work overtime at ten o'clock last night, but she didn't know who went to her office.

The fact that the office was out of reach of surveillance made her investigation more difficult.

Who on earth would frame her like this?

But no matter how she investigated, she had no clue, and as it was late outside, she had to pack up, going home.

Sitting in the taxi, she felt tired and rubbed her brows, feeling dizzy.

She searched for a day, but found nothing. As there were only two days left, she was restless for a moment.

When she arrived at the Hawk family, she got out of the car wearily, walking towards the bridal chamber.

When she got back to her room, Evelyn saw Lucas, who had come back early. As Lucas had washed up and changed into his home clothes, Evelyn was stunned for a moment.

"You're back."

She said with a smile.

Lucas nodded, and he noticed that she was tired, he frowning.

He knew Evelyn had spent the day investigating why the design was leaked, and it seemed like it wasn't going well.

"Haven't things figured out yet?"

When Evelyn heard this, she thought to herself that he might be asking about the design. She shook her head, saying. "Not yet." Lucas frowning, he looked so enigmatic that it's hard to see what he's thinking.

When Evelyn looked at him like this, thinking about all the things that had happened since she joined the company, she felt helpless and guilty.

"Sorry, I seem to be getting you in trouble again for making the company this way."

Lucas, listening to her dejected words, suddenly felt a little strange.

He felt as if it were a little stuffed in his heart, feeling a little stuffy.

Instead, he preferred to see her in a combative mood.

With this in mind, he looked at her, saying coldly. "You should know clearly that I don't need your apology. What I need is to find out the mastermind of this matter as soon as possible. Otherwise, this matter will affect the reputation of the company."

Evelyn, of course, knew it too, so she didn't dare stop looking into it.

"I know. I'll wash up and continue my investigation."

She said, putting down her handbag and heading for the bath with her nightgown.

Lucas looked after her until she disappeared into the bathroom with a flash in his eye.

He turned to his study, taking out his cell phone to make a call.

“Have you found out what you were told to look into during the day?”

Carter immediately reported to him. “We have a clue, but it will take some time. We’ll find out by tomorrow at the latest.”

Lucas responded.

“I want to know the result tomorrow.”

Carter agreed, hanging up the phone to continue to investigate.

Lucas put down his phone, starting his work.

Evelyn had no idea that Lucas was already helping her with the investigation.

She didn’t see him when she came out of the bathroom, and she didn’t care. After all, since they had been together for so long, she knew that even if Lucas came back early in the evening, he would deal with business affairs for a long time in the study.

She wiped her hair, and when it was almost dry, she turned on the computer, continuing to watch to see if there was anything she had missed.

For two hours, her eyes were sore, and she couldn’t see anything missing from the surveillance videos, let alone anyone who looked suspicious.

She was suddenly agitated for a moment.

She got up from the workbench and went to the balcony for a breath of fresh air.

Though it was night outside the balcony, the garden of the Hawk family was still bright. The yellow lamplight was matched with the dark night, looking especially attractive.

Looking at the scenery outside with the breeze quietly, she was no longer impetuous, gradually calming down.

And she was thinking about the design again.

She thought she might have been in the wrong direction. Although the time of the email showed last night, it could have been the day before yesterday or even before that.

After all, BBS releases could be timed.

With that in mind, she immediately went back to her desk to contact people at the company, so as to ask them to send her the previous surveillance videos.

With the surveillance videos in hand, she checked the surveillance videos of the previous two days, finding that there were many people in and out of her office.

She went through them all, finally suspecting a female cleaner who was cleaning her office.

When the female cleaner entered her office, the female cleaner looked around, and especially when the female cleaner looked at the surveillance area cautiously, it was obvious that she was going to do something bad.

Especially when the female cleaner came out, she looked guilty

If she's not guilty, why did she check the location of the surveillance area so often?

And if it were as simple as cleaning up, the female cleaner would look as natural as everyone else.

It's fair to say that the behavior of the female cleaner didn't stand up to scrutiny, so Evelyn had confirmed that the female cleaner was definitely suspect.

Still, she stared at the surveillance video, re-recording all the details.

Just as she was doing this, Lucas came in from the outside.

As he watched Evelyn stare at the computer, he reached over and bent over as she continued to take screenshots.

"Did you find something?"

Evelyn was startled by the sudden sound of his voice.

She subconsciously turned around, seeing his handsome face next to her, and smelling a kind of fragrance after bath from him.

As Lucas did not find her in a daze, he found that she did not answer his questions for a long time, he looking down at her with puzzled eyes.

“Huh?”

As Evelyn heard his se.xy twang, she came back to her senses in frustration.

She couldn't help but peek at Lucas.

Seeing that there was no other expression on his face, she was relieved that he had not noticed her spoony behavior.

She repressed her palpitating feeling for him, pointing to the computer in order to say what she had found.

“I did find that. You see here, this female cleaner. When she came in and out of my office, she didn't look right. She looked guiltier than anyone else, she staring at the surveillance area in my office constantly.”

She said, zooming in on her screenshots. “I suspect she is involved in this matter, so I want to screenshot these, planning to start the investigation from her tomorrow.”
