0 5 minutes read

Evelyn Davis's boredom finally went away.

She could not help looking at the man beside her and saw him standing upright in the darkness.

The handsome appearance appeared more mysterious under the rendering of the night, which make people addicted in.

The scene was beautiful, but it was broken by a light breeze.

As the night grew late, the wind grew stronger.

Evelyn Davis, wearing only a thin uniform, was not able to resist the cold.

Soon she began sneezing.

"Atishoo... "

Lucas Hawk, with a slight frown, took off his coat and handed it to her.

"Put it on. Don't catch a cold."

Evelyn Davis looked at the clothes in front of her and did not refuse.

Lucas Hawk waited for her to get dressed, and watched her body wrapped in his big coat, his heart seemed to be stuffed and warm.

"Come on, it's getting late. It's time to rest."

He took Evelyn Davis by the hand and walked back.

Evelyn Davis followed him for a moment, then her eyes fell on the hands they held. The smell of the man came over her.

There is no denying that she very loved this kind of life, even the present man.

But she knew that if Nora came back, she would have nothing to do with this man.

As she thought of this, her heart was cut with a dull knife, and she could hardly breathe.

Not until they came back the villa, did Lucas Hawk find that she was not in the right mood. He frowned and asked, "what's wrong?"

Evelyn Davis returned to herself and quickly hid the mood, "nothing."

Then she urged him, "aren't you going to rest? Go and wash yourself."

Lucas Hawk looked at her thoughtfully but said nothing, then walked back to the room.

Evelyn Davis stopped smiling as she watched him disappear into the doorway.

She came to the bar in the living room and couldn't help opening a bottle of wine.

She wished she could numb herself with alcohol and stop thinking so much.

She did not drink for a long time, but went upstairs when it was late.

But a few drinks were enough to make her drunk. Not to mention the wine Lucas Hawk put on the wine cabinet, it is all good wine which had great staying power.

She staggered back into the room just as Lucas Hawk came out of the shower with wet hair.

"HMM... Why didn't you blow your hair? I'll get you a hair dryer."

She looked at Lucas Hawk and cared about him.

Then she went to the hair dryer.

Lucas Hawk frowned at her apparent drunkenness. As he was about to say something, Evelyn Davis had found the hair dryer and walked back in.

"Why are you still standing? Sit here. I'll dry your hair."

She took Lucas Hawk to the bed and sat down. Regardless of whether Lucas Hawk agreed or not, she started to blow his hair with a hair dryer.

Lucas Hawk could see her serious face through the dressing table opposite. Her white and slender fingers kept moving in and out of his dense hair. Her comfortable strength made his wrinkled eyebrows gradually disperse, and his mind could not help but wander and think of some ineffable images.

He could sense something was wrong with Evelyn Davis tonight, even she made a move on him.

Something struck him. As his eyes flickered, he grabbed Evelyn Davis by the wrist, yanked her into his arms and asked, "what's wrong with you?"

Evelyn Davis looked at his pretty face and his black eyes, as if thinking something through.

Then she let go of the hairdryer and sat in Lucas Hawk's arms around his neck.

Her sudden closeness and unique fragrance made Lucas Hawk freeze for a moment. His dark eyes became impenetrable.

"Do you know what you're doing?" He asked in a husky voice.

Evelyn Davis looked up at him with a smirking smile. Suddenly she leaned close to his ear and whispered, "I want you... "

Then she looked at the Lucas Hawk like a silent invitation.

How can Lucas Hawk resist? In an instant, she awoke the sleeping beast in his body.

Then Evelyn Davis was crushed under him, and he grabbed the lips like a hungry Wolf.

Instead of being shy, Evelyn Davis responded, which provoked Lucas Hawk to do so again and again until finally she fainted from exhaustion.

...

The next day, Evelyn Davis woke up groggy and sore, but her head was worse.

Her cheeks, in particular, were abnormally flushed.

Lucas Hawk, of course, saw this, and his brows furrowed.

“You have a fever.”

Evelyn Davis paused and touched her forehead.

“I do seem to have a fever.”

She stared at Lucas Hawk as if she didn't know what to do.

Lucas Hawk was impressed. He said softly, “you can rest at home today. I'll go outside and see if there's any medicine for your fever.”

He left the room as he said.

Soon she saw him come back with a glass of warm water and an antipyretic.

“Take your medicine first, and I'll have the family doctor come over later.”

She took the medicine but refused his offer. She didn't want to put him in trouble.

“Thank you. Don't call the family doctor. I'll go back to sleep after these pills, and if the fever doesn't subside, I'll call a doctor.”

Lucas Hawk agreed when she insisted.

But he still gave the housekeeper a call to let him send a few people here to take care of Evelyn Davis and asked him to bring some of their usual clothes and articles of daily use. They would work here.

“Don't worry, young master, I will arrange.”

After housekeeper hung up the phone, he began to prepare.

An hour later, when the housekeeper was about to leave the house, he was seen by Amelia Morgan.

She saw the things in housekeeper's hand is Lucas Hawk and Evelyn Davis's. She immediately stepped forward to stop him.

“Housekeeper, are you going to find Lucas? Do you know where Lucas is?”

The housekeeper did not deny it, but replied in a cold voice: “yes, the master said that since Miss Morgan likes the house, he will give it to you. He lives out with his wife and lets us to look after them now.”

Amelia Morgan’s face drooping as she listened, her eyes blazing with anger.

However, the housekeeper did not care how angry she was when he finished his explanation and beckoned the servants directly to follow him.

As they left, the new house suddenly empty up.

Amelia Morgan looked at the empty house and got angry.

It was not the same at all as what she had expected.

However, she did not expect that Lucas Hawk would treat her so ruthlessly and refuse to give her any mercy.

Suddenly, her heart was filled with a terrible rage.

Nora must have instigated Lucas to move out!

Evelyn didn’t know about Lucas’s arrangements at all. After taking the medicine, she has been sleeping in a daze.

At noon, she woke up once, but she felt still very uncomfortable. She felt dizzy and the flush on her face had not abated at all.

Lucas frowned and tested her temperature with his hand. Although it was not as hot as in the morning, she still had a fever.

Evelyn felt his hand was cold and comfortable, then she couldn’t help rubbing on it.

Lucas looked at her unconscious movements and frowned.

He glanced at the clock on the bedside table and got up and went downstairs.

He told servants to make porridge and call the family doctor at the same time.

After a while, he returned to the room with porridge made by the servant.

“Nora, get up and eat.”

He called Evelyn who was muddled in a low voice, and Evelyn frowned. Although she was uncomfortable, she consciously followed his words and moved.

But her consciousness at this time was very blurred, and all her movements were subconscious.

Lucas also saw that. He hugged her and fed her a small bowl of porridge. At this time, the housekeeper appeared with the family doctor.

the man was at the age of twenty-eight, wearing a pair of decorative glasses inlaid with gold and a light color suitable leisure suit. He was more like a nobility than a doctor.

“Young master, Mr. Nangong is here.”

Housekeeper ignored Lucas’s rare tenderness and reported.

Compared with his calmness, Nangong Che beside him was wearing a weird look, and he looked at Lucas in horror.

After all, in his impression, he didn’t see such a gentle side of his friend.

He observed, rubbing his chin with interest.

Lucas naturally noticed his eyes, frowning slightly and coaxing Evelyn, who was half asleep and half awake, to lie down.

“Here comes the doctor. He will check on you.”

Evelyn nodded in a dazed way.

Lucas just got up and looked at Nangong Che, and said in a cold voice, “Why are you not coming in? Do you want me to invite you in person?”

Nangong Che pursed his lips because Lucas destroyed his nobility image as soon as he opened his mouth.

“I thought something was wrong with my eyes. Now I’m quite relieved to hear that. It seems that you treat me differently.”

He said, looking at Evelyn on the bed. And his eyes were full of curiosity.

“I’ve heard that you married a wife. But I only heard her name, I never saw her. Now, look at her. She is so beautiful.”

He joked, making Lucas squint dangerously.

He stepped forward, blocked Nangong Che’s view and threatened: “If you don’t check on her, I’ll let the housekeeper send you back now.”

Nangong Che heard the warning in his words and quickly raised his hand to surrender.

“I’ll check on her, immediately.”

Then he opened the medical box and began to check on Evelyn.

About ten minutes later, the result came out.

“There’s nothing wrong with your wife. It’s the fever caused by the common cold. After taking the medicine and sleeping for a day, she’ll be fine soon. She’s OK.”

He said, and began to put away the equipment.

Lucas looked at his movements, and his face was full of disbelief.

“I gave her the medicine in the morning, but she still have a fever.”

Nangong Che saw his worry and said with a smile: “She just took medicine once. It’s not miracle drug that can take effect immediately. Besides, despite your little wife’s body was weak, her health is not inferior to you in fact.”

Lucas was relieved when he heard this. Then he thought of something else.

If there was nothing wrong with Nora's body, why was she not pregnant for so long?

Thinking of this, he asked.

"I want to know why. Can you check it out?"

Nangong Che was surprised when he heard his words.

He didn't expect Lucas to care this matter.

Just when he was going to make fun of him, he saw Lucas's serious face and changed his words directly.

"Or I'll check it for you now?"

Lucas frowned.

"Will it work? We went to the hospital to check before, but there were no problems. "

Hearing that they had all been examined, Nangong Che dismissed the idea of examination and gave him an analysis of the probability of pregnancy.

"Lucas, pregnancy is mysterious. No one can promise you. Sometimes it's just a fate."

He said, seeing Lucas frowning and seeming not to agree with him, and continued: "What's more, sometimes people are under too much pressure, and the more they want child, the easier they can't conceive it. Of course, on the other hand, it's related to diet, but your diet is always healthy and regular. I guess there won't be any problems."

In the last few sentences, he said casually, but Lucas was shocked.

He didn't pay much attention to Nora's eating habits everyday. They ate at the same table so many times, and he knew Nora's taste was more light, and she would drink tonic soup every night.

It is said that it was specially delivered by his mother.

Wait, his mother sent it specially!

For some reason, what he thought of was what had happened recently.

Seeing his face slightly changed, Nangong Che asked, "What's the matter? Do you think of anything? "

Lucas frowned, his eyes were full of wonder.

Because he thought of a possibility, then he thought it was unlikely.

But if it was what he thought.

For a while, his face suddenly became bad, and regardless of his friend Nangong Che, he turned to call Cindy.

"Is there any tonic Soup for young lady during this period?"

Cindy didn't understand why Lucas suddenly asked about it, but she nodded and said, "Yes, I brought it when I came here today."

Lucas heard this, his face taut and said, "Go and get it."

Cindy took the order and immediately brought the ingredients of the soup.

There were bird's nests and ginseng in those bags. They were all good tonic stuff.

Lucas glanced at these things. He couldn't see any problems, so he gave them to nangongche.

"Take these back and check them for me."

Nangong Che looked at the things in his arms and looked up in surprise.

But looking at Lucas's discreet expression, he nodded in response: "OK, I'll go back to help you investigate and give you the information as soon as possible."

Lucas nodded and watched him go.

After he left, Lucas told Cindy to take good care of Evelyn and went to the study to handle business.

At night, Evelyn woke up fresh, but when she saw Cindy beside the bed, she couldn't help but feel upset: "Where is your young master?"

Although she was drowsy during the day, she still remembered that Lucas was the one who stayed by the bed to take care of her.

"Young master is in the study. I'll inform him now."

Cindy said and went to study before Evelyn could stop her.

Then Lucas came over and asked Evelyn how was she doing. When he learned that she was ok, he was relieved and had dinner delivered.

After dinner, Evelyn was still a little tired. Lucas asked her to rest on the bed and went to his study.

But he heard from Nangong Che as soon as he sat down.

"Lucas, the results of those things you asked me to check have come out. In those tonic stuff, someone put a lot of contraceptives in them."

Lucas's face was overcast almost instantly after hearing Nangong Che's words.

So it was not that Nora couldn't have baby at all, it was that she's been secretly given birth control pills.

As for the person who gave the pills, he didn't have to guess who it was.

He could think of no one but his mother.

When he thought of this, his face was more somber.

In particular, his mother made trouble out of Nora's inability to conceive for several times, maybe it was all in her calculation.

Evelyn didn't know that Lucas already knew about the soup.

Probably because she slept a lot in the daytime, she couldn't sleep when she tossed and turned in the bed, and she wanted to eat fruit.

She went to the kitchen to make a plate of fruit and ate some. Then she thought that Lucas took care of her during the day. He was working overtime in the study, so she wanted to bring him some fruit.

When she came to the study, she knocked on the door and went in.

"Are you finished?"

She asked so naturally that she didn't even notice.

Lucas looked at her and pressed his thin lips tightly. He shook his head and said, "Not yet."

The voice was so cold that Evelyn found out something was wrong in a flash.

"What's the matter? You don't look very well. What happened?"

She subconsciously concerned and asked.

Lucas looked at her worried eyes, and there was a bit of complexity in his eyes.

"Not a big deal, some company problems."

When Evelyn heard the perfunctory answer, she knew that he didn't want to say it. She didn't ask too much and put the fruit tray on the table.

"Then I won't disturb you. Remember to eat these fruits. Don't work too late. And have a rest earlier."

Lucas nodded.

Then Evelyn turned and left.

...

The next day, she felt better and got up with Lucas to go to the company.

She did look better than yesterday and Lucas didn't stop her.

After all, Evelyn was the director of the company and also the part-time chief designer. She had a lot to manage.

“If you have any discomfort. Call me and don’t try to be brave.”

Lucas sent Evelyn to the branch office, watching her get out of the car and reminding her.

Evelyn listened to his concern, and her heart was as sweet as drinking honey water.

“I see.”

She nodded in response. Lucas didn’t say anything anymore and turned to the head office.

Evelyn watched his car disappear on the road and turned into the company.

After two days’ absence, the accumulated work was so heavy that Evelyn worked like a gyroscope all morning, turning all the time without a moment’s leisure.

Fortunately, in the middle of the day, most of the things were handled, which allowed her to take a breath.

As soon as she relaxed, Evelyn felt something was wrong.

She looked at Bessy beside her and asked, “Bessy, don’t you think there is something missing today?”

Bessy was confused by her.

“Miss Davis, what do you think is missing?”

Evelyn looked at her and hesitated, “Don’t you think this morning is too quiet?”

Bessy blinked and recalled the scene in the morning and the previous pictures. She laughed and said: “Miss Davis, are you addicted to be finding fault by Miss Bush? She didn’t come today. While You are not used to it. “

When Evelyn heard her joke, she realized that what she thought was missing was Dale's faultfinding.

Just as she wanted to ask how Dale was doing these two days, she heard Bessy brought it up on her own initiative.

"After the last time, Miss Bush seems to have put away her sharpness and seldom come to find us fault."

Evelyn raised her eyebrows and blinked in surprise.

Although she didn't believe that she could get rid of her temper, it was good to be quiet.

Otherwise, she would often make trouble, and the whole company would not have peace.

In this way, Evelyn left the matter behind and went back to work.

As it said before, the design of new brands has been completed, and at present the focus was on the location of physical stores.

Evelyn found several good addresses, and that afternoon he took Dale to check them.

"Designer Bush, I think this address is the best one we choose. The north and South have high flow of customer, and the light is abundant, and the vision is good. You can see it at a glance."

After visiting several sites, Evelyn finally got a favorite. She asked Dale, "What do you think?"

Because of what happened before, Dale was a little uncomfortable with Evelyn, but it was related to her work at this time. She didn't mix her personal resentment and carefully looked at the store.

It can be said that even she, a picky person, couldn't find any problems with the store.

As the woman said, this store had superior conditions. If the physical store was opened here, it would be a bright spot.

"I have no problem with it."

She looked around and agreed.

Evelyn was stunned by the neat answer.

However, thinking of what Bessy said to her in the morning, she quickly regained her mind. Then she contacted the person in charge of the shopping mall, and finalized the lease contract with the fastest speed.

After that, she planned to take the contract back to the relevant departments of the company for approval.

Along the way, she looked at the contract carefully several times and was relieved to make sure that there were no problems or loopholes.

Dale took all her actions to heart.

Although there were many things she did not like about this woman, but in her work attitude she had to say that she was more sober and calmer than she was.

Evelyn didn't know that her image in Dale's mind was slowly changing. She went back to the company to hand in all the materials that should be handed in, and then went back to the office to continue to deal with things.

In the evening, she went back from work and Lucas was back.

After a simple wash, they sat down in the dining room.

"Cindy, where's my tonic soup today?"

Evelyn asked, finding there was no soup on her side.

But before Cindy could answer, Lucas took the lead in saying, "I told someone to remove it. You'll be well here. Nangong Che said it was not suitable to be too nourishing."

Evelyn was stunned. At first, she thought Lucas was aware of the problem of the soup. But when she heard the words he said later, the idea was dismissed.

...

At the same time, in Hawk family.

Amelia stayed in the empty new house for two days. She was very unhappy.

Especially when she thought of Lucas and Nora that b!tch out there having fun, she was going to lose her mind.

Maybe Nora that b!tch was unpredictably proud.

The more she thought about it, the more reluctant she was, but she couldn't do anything to Lucas.

Just when she didn't know what to do, the little maid who had been loyal to her came to her.

"Miss Morgan, although young master didn't come back, we can cheat him back with the Battered-Body Trick."

Calculation flashed through Amelia's eyes when she heard her idea.

At ten o'clock that night, the little maid suddenly stumbled to the main house.

"Madam, bad news. Miss Morgan fell down and she is crying for stomachache."

Evelyn did not know the idea of Amelia.

After she left with Lucas, she kept saying nothing.

Lucas noticed the silence of the people around him and could not help but look at her.

"What happened, are you not happy?"

Evelyn reacted and looked back at him.

"No."

She pretended to be okay and responded with a smile.

But in fact, she was very uncomfortable.

But she did not have a position to show it.

To be honest, she was always just an outsider.

She was not really Nora. When this happened, she had no qualifications, except to represent Nora to deal with those matters.

Not to mention, to ask Lucas that was Amelia really pregnant with his children.

Her heart was very clear about her position, but she can't help but feel sad.

Especially her heart, as if it was not under her control, she did not know when to start that she gradually began to pay attention to everything about this man.

At first she noticed, but she didn't care about it, because she had the confidence to control her heart, but the result was still...

Just as Evelyn was flustered and found her inner real thoughts, Lucas noticed that she was in a daze, and he could not help but reach out and touch her.

"Nora..."

But before he finished the words yet, and Evelyn seemed to bounce off like a conditioned reflex, and there was resistance in her eyes.

Even if she converged quickly, she was still caught by Lucas.

Lucas immediately sank his face and asked coldly: "What do you mean?"

When Evelyn saw it, her heart could not help but tighten.

"I don't mean anything else. I was thinking about things just now. You are too sudden. I was scared, it's just the instinctive reaction."

She explained, and Lucas looked at her coldly, as if he was analyzing whether she was telling the truth or not.

Evelyn forced herself to calm down and let him look.

Lucas looked at her for a long time, and finally did not say anything, he just compressed his lips and continued to drive.

Evelyn looked at him and couldn't help but breathe a sigh of relief.

When the two returned to the seaside villa, Evelyn was tired because of the previous events: "I am a little tired, I want to go back to the room to rest."

When she finished, she did not care about Lucas's attitude, she just went straight upstairs.

Lucas looked at the back of her departure, then his eyes became unpredictably.

In fact, after coming out of the Hawk family, he obviously felt that Evelyn was wrong, but he couldn't say what was wrong.

In the end, he could only put everything in his heart and follow her to upstairs.

.....

On the following day, Evelyn did not go to the company.

Because her situation at this time can not let her work well.

She looked at the empty houses around, and seemed that everywhere had a memory of Lucas.

And these memories were so oppressive that she was going to suffocate.

She knew that she had some problems at this time, and she urgently needed a calm environment to let her ease herself.

Almost the first time, she thought of her mother.

She took out her mobile phone and called John Davis.

"I want to see my mother."

She had no nonsense, and she had to say what she wanted.

"I told you before, remember? Don't go to the hospital."

John refused and was trying to hang up the phone, but he was stopped by Evelyn's words.

"I must see her, if you don't want our cooperation to fail, it is best not to stop me."

This was the first time that John had heard Evelyn use such a serious tone.

He pondered for a moment and finally agreed.

After all, he can't let Evelyn fail, otherwise, the loss was the future of Cora.

"I know, I will send someone to pick you up tomorrow."

Evelyn did not expect to wait for another day, but she still agreed.

Fortunately, the next day John did send someone to pick her up.

Half an hour later, she arrived at the hospital and saw her mother in the ward.

"All of you, please go out."

She called out the caregiver, and she personally looked after her mother, while talking about her heart.

"Mom, you must be better, otherwise I may not be able to hold it any more."

She looked at her mother carefully, and she didn't know if she was in talking about her heart, at this time, she calmed down a lot more than the previous two days.

Anyway, for her mother, she will hold it.

Even the last... She still lost herself in this transaction.

Evelyn was clear now, and she gradually recovered her spirits.

She stayed in the hospital for a day, then she made people send her back.

On the way back, she remembered the matter of Amelia and couldn't help but call John.

“A few days is the day when Amelia checks DNA. Do you have an idea over there?”

John said: “Reassured, I will make someone arrange it.”

Evelyn heard this and rest assured.

She thought that since John intervened, even if Amelia wanted to do something, it was not so easy for her.

The next few days were calm, but more like the tranquility before the storm.

This day, Amelia finally went to check.

It can be said that the Morgan family and the Hawk family valued it very much.

The two families moved together, Lucas also returned to the family with Evelyn and followed them to the hospital.

As for this hospital, it was appointed by Mrs. Hawk.

Evelyn did not know at first, and after knowing this, she couldn't help but frown.

She did not forget the things that she had checked before, and worried that Mrs. Hawk would cause trouble for her.

Thinking this way, she looked at Lucas uneasily.

“Is there a problem here?”

Lucas glanced at her and Mrs. Feng and others. The final sight fell on Amelia, and the eyes were dark.

After a long while, he only regained his sight. He said: “Reassured, there will be no problem.”

Evelyn saw that he was calm, and he had a well-thought-out plan. She thought that he had a way to cope with it.

However, she still had some concerns. After all, Amelia and Mrs. Hawk were the one who can do everything for their purposes.

She was worried that the two women will have plan B.

Lucas naturally saw her expression in his eyes. He knew that she was still worried and he can't help but stretch his hand and hugged her.

"I'm here, don't worry."

He said in a deep voice, let Evelyn stunned, she looked at him, and after a long while, she reacted that the man was comforting her.

"I know."

She couldn't help but curve her lips and respond sweetly.

She didn't know that her smile greatly stimulated Amelia.

She walked behind the two and saw the interaction of them in her eyes. The heart was jealous, and even more so, she really wanted to tear Evelyn apart.

However, although she was angry, she had a faint uneasiness in her heart.

In particular, she just noticed the eyes of Lucas, and his indifferent eyes seemed to see her deeply, and she was embarrassed.

Even let her have a feeling that he had known everything about her.

She slammed her head and left behind these unrealistic thoughts.

Not to mention that this plan was so perfect, it was impossible for Lucas to know their plan.

That was, she will never allow the plan to fail.

Thinking like this, her eyes flashed a trace of resolution.

Because Sophia had made a reservation, it could be argued that they could be checked immediately when they arrived at the hospital.

After they accompanied Amelia to draw blood, they were waiting in the corridor for the doctor's result.

"Sophia, the blood sample has been sent to check. The result will come out in three days at the soonest, please come back in three days."

After Sophia heard it, although she was not satisfied that the result could not come out immediately, she nodded and agreed.

The doctor didn't continue saying too much and then turned around to do something else.

"Ok. Now, we just need to wait for the result after three days. Mrs. Morgan, let's go back first."

Sophia said to them.

Everyone nodded with a dour look.

Just as they were about to leave, Amelia walked over to Lucas.

"Brother Lucas, after three days, if the result shows that the child is yours, would you marry me?"

She looked at Lucas longingly, completely ignored Evelyn next to him.

Lucas looked at her coldly and said perfunctorily, "Let's talk about it when the result comes out."

When Amelia heard that, her face was full of loss.

The Amelia's mother and father were also very dissatisfied with Lucas's attitude.

When Sophia looked at this, she hurried forward to be a peacemaker and persuade, "Amelia, don't worry. As long as it is proved that the child is his, I will let Lucas marry you!"

Evelyn saw that she had no scruples about saying such words, she could not help sneering in her heart.

At the same time, her mood which was not easy to hold down churned again.

If Lucas married Amelia.....

She had just come up with the idea, but stopped it at once.

Her heart was like being bitted by thousands of ants, which made her dare not continue thinking.

.....

Meanwhile, in the Hawk home.

Vivian stayed at home because she was injured and was inappropriate to go where there were many people.

She saw Envy who was in the vein for drinking tea in the garden in the yard, she couldn't help but walk over.

"Miss Miller, you really have good spirits. Amelia has been pregnant with Lucas's baby. I didn't expect you to continue staying here, do you think you still have a chance?"

She walked up to Envy and looked at her condescendingly.

Envy looked at the sarcasm on her face, she didn't care about it and said with laughing, "Is there any chance, no one can say, isn't it?"

Vivian was very angry when she looked at the look that Envy didn't care about anything.

Just as she was about to say something, Envy seemed to see through her and said with a faint smile on her face, "And, the check result haven't come out yet, isn't it? Are you so sure Amelia is carrying Lucas's baby?"

Vivian snorted coldly without thinking, "Naturally, Amelia can't possibly like other men except Lucas."

After saying, she looked at Envy critically and then said, " And I advise Miss Miller to be self-aware. Although I admit that Amelia may not be better than Miss Envy, my elder sister-in-law likes Amelia very much. If my elder sister-in-law chooses one of you as her daughter-in-law, she will definitely choose Amelia, so you might as well not continue staying here to ask for her humiliation.”

These words were what Vivian deliberately said to stimulate Envy.

She did not forget how she was threatened by her before.

Now, with such a good opportunity, she would definitely pay back for what she did to her.

Envy looked at the satisfaction of her eyes and must knew the thoughts in her heart, she smiled and took a sip of tea.

“Miss Hawk, please forgive me for not agreeing with you.”

She shook her head and looked at Vivian, saying calmly, “How do you know Sophia won’t like me? Like I said, before the result comes out, everything is unknown. Of course, even if the result comes out, it will not deviate from my plan. So, Miss Hawk, it’s too early for you to say these words.”

After saying, she stared at Vivian dourly, the coldness in her eyes made Vivian shiver.

But she didn’t want to show her timidity in front of Envy, so she was holding on.

“Why are you still deceiving yourself now?”

Envy looked at her grudging look and then curved her red lips with a faint smile on her face.

“I don’t know if I deceive myself, but one thing I can tell Miss Hawk clearly. You don’t have to think about using these words to stimulate me again, or you will regret it one day sooner or later.”

Vivian sneered loudly as if she had heard a joke.

“Regret? How can I regret it?”

When Envy saw this, she glanced at her lightly.

“Because sooner or later you’ll be in the same boat as me.”

After saying, she saw Vivian's face suddenly change, she seemed to want to retort, but she did not give her a chance.

"If you don't believe it, we can wait and see!"

After Vivian heard this, the words that were supposed to deny her were immediately blocked in the throat, she was very hopeless.

She stared at Envy with gnashing her teeth, but she couldn't do anything to her. Finally, she was so angry that she stomped away.

Envy looked at the back of her leaving, she squinted slightly, her eyes were mysterious and elusive.

.....

In the three days of waiting for the result, whether the Morgan family or the Hawk family, the atmosphere was very heavy.

During this period, Evelyn also received news from John.

"You meant that there are at least three groups of people watching the check result in the hospital?"

She said in surprise, her eyes were full of worry.

"Then the report is tampered easily, isn't it?"

When John heard her word, he snorted coldly and said, "Easy? Who told you it was easy?"

He continued saying and did not wait for Evelyn's inquiry, directly talking about the specific situation inside.

"Although there are so many people watching it, only one group is from Amelia, the other two groups are from the old man of the Hawk family and Lucas."

When Evelyn heard this, she couldn't help but breathe a sigh of relief.

She originally thought that one group was from the Morgan family, the rest was from Sophia. After all, this woman had been trying her best to let Amelia marry into the Hawk home, she would not allow this report to go wrong.

So she didn't even think of the old man of the Hawk family.

Listening to John's analysis now, she felt reasonable.

If Sophia did something at this time, Lucas would surely know it, which would be a powerful excuse for Lucas to retort.

So according to Sophia's cleverness, she was impossible to do so.

"So the report is safe."

John didn't deny her.

"Although it looks ok on the surface, I'll also let people watch it. You also need to pay attention to the movements of the Hawk family these days."

Evelyn nodded, then they said a few words and hung up.

Evelyn saw the cell phone hang up, she just felt tired suddenly.

Fortunately, there was no worry in her heart.

After all, John was watching.

Because it was impossible for him to watch someone ruin his daughter's good life.

Because of this, Evelyn gradually ignored this matter.

But she didn't know that the hospital was full of undercurrent these days.

Several forces were watching, they all knew each other's existence, but they dared not act.

They were afraid that a slight move in one part might affect the whole situation.

Among these people, the most anxious was the Morgan family, was Amelia.

In Morgan family

Amelia also knew that there were different people staying at the hospital. With the result getting closer and closer, she was more and more anxious and angry.

“Dad, can we bribe the doctor or not?”

She came to her father’s study room and asked urgently.

“Now the hospital is full of people of the Hawk family and Lucas’s. What can we do?”

After Mr. Morgan listened to her words, his face was also sinking.

He naturally knew the situation of the hospital and was also aware of the seriousness of this matter.

But he did prepare in advance.

He thought of this, and his eyes passed through a cunning light.

“Amelia, don’t worry, even if they stare at us, we also have a way.”

Amelia looked at her father, and she was a little calmer.

“Dad, what can you do?”

She couldn’t help but ask.

Her father sneered: “Do you still remember Dad’s old alumnus?”

Amelia stunned and reacted with joy and said: “Do you mean Uncle Zhang Heng who has become a famous authority in the medical field?”

Mr. Morgan nodded coldly.

“Yes, I heard that he had to go to the hospital for a temporary consultation in two days, and the doctor who was responsible for testing the DNA happened to be his student.”

Amelia heard this, and her heart had already known her father’s plan.

However, she did not say it, but she looked at her father with joy and waited for him to speak.

“Reassure, I have already explained to Uncle Zhang, and there will be no problems in the inspection report.”

Mr. Morgan knew what she was thinking and directly explained the follow-up plan.

After Amelia listening his words, the worry in her heart suddenly fell.

“Dad, you are so good.”

She held the father’s arm and smiled, and her eyes were full happiness.

.....

At the same time, Hawk Group.

Lucas knew about the movement outside the hospital, he called Cater and ordered something.

“In the past two days, you send someone to notice what happened on the hospital. Don’t let make others make the trap.”

He said this and narrowed his eyes dangerously: “Especially the doctor, anyone who comes into contact with him must do an investigation, and don’t give anyone the chance!”

Cater beheaded and said with seriousness: “Boss, you can rest assured, I will handle it well.”

When the words fell, he immediately turned and left.

At the same time they acted, in the Hawk family, Lucy also asked Sophia.

“Madam, the results will come out soon, do you want to...”

She didn’t finish the conversation, but she knew that the lady would understand what she meant.

And the truth was the same.

Sophia listened to the words she had not finished, and knew what she meant.

She lowered her eyes and no one knew what she was thinking. After a long time, she said coldly: "You let them just watch the hospital, no one is allowed to do anything."

Although Lucy did not know why the lady would do so, she still acted as her wishes.

In the next two days, they spent the dark current.

This day, they finally reached the date of Zhang Heng's visit to the hospital.

The hospital attached great importance to this temporary consultation. The dean personally greeted him. The doctor was examined as a disciple and was directly appointed as a temporary assistant by Zhang Heng.

At the beginning, all people who were concerned about the hospital paid attention to the two.

However, they soon discovered that the two were simple teacher-student relationships, and the content of the conversation was related to the case, and they gradually lost their attention.

But they didn't know, just after they withdrew their eyes, Zhang Heng found out that and his eyes flicked through the scornful smile and greeted the doctor to his temporary office.

"Teacher, what happened?"

After the doctor entered the door, he asked questions.

Zhang Heng heard his question and said his request directly.

"I heard that you have received a list of DNA tests here. I want you to change the results. Do you understand what I mean?"

He looked at the doctor with his deep eyes.

The doctor was surprised and stared at Zhang Heng's lips.

But before he could speak, he heard the threat from Zhang Heng.

“I remember that you are the candidate the top ten professional models at the end of the year. If you do this for me, I will do that for you. And in the next year, your position can be upgraded.”

When the doctor heard this, he couldn't say what he had already wanted to say.

He looked at Zhang Heng's cold face and knew that he had no choice.

“I understand.”

In the end, in humanity and reality, he chose the reality.

Zhang Heng was very satisfied with his choice. After he made some orders, he let the doctor out.

In the afternoon, the DNA results came out.

The doctor took the results to the office at the first time.

He looked at the results of the report and his eyes flashed a trace of surprise.

In conjunction with the conversation of the family on that day, he understood why the teacher asked him to replace the report.

Thinking of this, he looked at the report's and full of complexity.

He didn't know if it was because I did things that violated professional ethics for the first time. When he changed the report results, his hands kept shaking, and he did not put the fakes into the file bag several times.

After a few minutes, he did everything, but he didn't know that his actions were seen by a nurse outside the door.

She waited for the doctor to put the report on the list and waited for a while before she lowered her eyes and knocked on the door.

“Doctor, there's a new patient, you need to see him by yourself.”

“Okay, I get it.”

The doctor didn't think much about it, and got up and left.

When the nurse waited for him to leave, she immediately went to his desk, re-returned the report that he had just changed, and returned everything to the office without hesitation.

And the DNA report that was exchanged was sent to the Hawk family at 4 pm.

At this time, everyone was gathering at the Hawk family.

The old Mr. Hawk was sitting in the upper position with a serious expression. On his left hand was Devin's father and on his right hand was Lucas.

As for the Morgan family, they were sitting opposite them.

Amelia sat next to her parents. Because she knew the arrangements made by her father, she was not nervous. Instead, her eyes were hard to hide her happiness and she was bound to gain.

As long as the results were announced, Lucas must marry her.

As for Nora, she will never let Nora go, she must let Nora experience what was live death!

Evelyn did not know how Amelia had already thought about how to deal with her after marrying Lucas.

She knew that today was the day when the results were announced, but because of the company's business, she can't go back.

Therefore, she had no thoughts on her work at all, and all her heart was the results.

Although her performance was so calm and she seems to rest assured, but it was really this time, she was worried.

After all, she had experienced Amelia and Sophia's means.

She thought of this and was uneasy, then she went to the floor-to-ceiling windows in the office, and waited for them to inform the results.

Actually, she didn't have to worry about it too much.

Not to mention that she was not really Nora, that was, John will never give up the Hawk family, and he will never ruin Nora's good future!

In Hawk's house, everyone there looked at the inspection report on the table, and no one was anxious to open it as if they had made an agreement.

Especially the people from Morgan family. They not only didn't worry but also started to talk with Hawk family.

"Old Mr.Hawk, before the results are announced, I want to ask you a question."

Amelia's father looked respectfully at Old Mr.Hawk and said with a smile, "I wonder if Lucas could marry my daughter after the result is announced?"

As he said this, there was a brief silence in the living room.

Sophia wanted to say something, but when she was about to speak, she was stopped by Devin by her side.

He motioned to her to look at the Old Mr.Hawk and Lucas.

"My dad and Lucas have always known your thoughts. if you don't want to mess things up, let's just keep silent now."

He advised softly.

Sophia also understood his meaning and held back the words she wanted to say.

It was really not the right time for her to talk.

She repositioned herself on the sofa and waited.

Naturally, Old Mr.Hawk did not miss their movements of them. Seeing that Sophia was silently sitting there, he looked up to Lucas with satisfaction.

He wanted to know what his grandson was thinking about.

But Lucas was lowering his head, which made Old Mr.Hawk unable to see the expression in his eyes.

He coughed lightly and said perfunctorily, "it's not clear what the result is so it's too early to say anything now. Let's see the result first."

Amelia's father's face became a little gloomy when he heard this refusal.

He glanced at the old man with cold eyes and scolded this old fox.

However, when he thought of the result, his eyes were full of calculation, and he said with a smile, "Yes, I agree. Let's just see the result first."

The old man nodded and said in a deep voice, "Lucas, you are the party to this matter, so you should announce the result."

When Lucas heard this, he looked around and nodded with a cold face.

He stood up and picked up the papers on the desk.

As he moved, everyone looked at him.

The joy in Amelia's eyes was almost about to gush out..

When these bystander had different expressions, Lucas did not hesitate to open the document and draw out the inspection report.

Suddenly, everyone seemed to be holding their breath and waiting for him to announce.

As for Lucas, when he saw the result of the report, he became slightly grave and serious.

Morgan's family members saw each other without leaving any trace, and their eyes were full of pride.

Amelia, in particular, hung a triumphant smile on her face.

At present, it was a matter of certainty for her to marry Lucas and become one member of Hawk family.

Sophia and Devin also found their looks changed. They thought things were progressing as they had expected, and urged Lucas to publish the results as soon as possible.

“Lucas, why does it take you so long to see the results? Don’t you know that we are still waiting? What’s the result?”

When Lucas heard this, he looked up from the report.

He stared at Sophia who was a little excited and his expression was somewhat unpredictable, “Mom, I am afraid that it will let you down.”

Hearing this, the smile on her face was stiff, which showed that she couldn’t believe what she heard.

She ignored Lucas and directly grabbed the report from him and checked it.

At this sight, her face suddenly changed, and even Devin beside her also got gloomy.

Seeing that they started to be surprised and thinking of what Lucas said just now, Morgan’s Family couldn’t help but feel something wrong.

Amelia couldn’t help asking directly.

“What’s the matter, Sophia?”

Sophia looked at her with a complicated face and didn’t know how to answer. In the end, Devin handed over the report with a gloomy face.

“Look at it yourself!”

Amelia’s parents looked at Devin and Sophia’s attitude and words as if they were aware of something, and their faces slightly changed.

At the conclusion of the list, it had been written that there was no blood relationship between the child and Lucas.

Amelia also saw the result, she suddenly felt her head was shocked.

“No! It is impossible! How could it be!”

She looked up at Lucas with scare and couldn’t believe this result.

“Lucas, this is not true. You have to believe me. My baby is yours!”

Then, as if thinking of something, she cried out loudly, “Someone must have changed our inspection results!”

Lucas looked at her near madness and couldn't help laughing.

“Well, if there is really someone that has changed this paper, I think you should know clearly who this one is.” He sneered.

After saying that, he glanced at Amelia's parents and said in a cold voice, “I don't want to say anything more about this matter. One calculation is enough. If you dare to make plots again, I won't be merciful and forgive you easily granted that you and my parents are old family friends.”

This was the first time that Morgan couple was threatened by their younger generation. Their faces immediately became gloomy and bad.

Amelia didn't care so much. Her head was full of the report results now.

“Brother Lucas, why do you say that? It's because you don't want to admit that the child is yours, right?”

She dragged Lucas and asked him to give her a statement.

Lucas was also annoyed by her. He shook her hand and broke away.

“Miss Morgan, are you sure you want to continue the discussion with me?”

He asked in a cold voice, but Amelia didn't realize the danger in his words and just wanted him to be responsible for her.

“Shouldn't you explain this to me?” Amelia cried and asked.

She looked at Lucas stubbornly.

Lucas sneered, “OK, since you want an explanation, I'll tell you that before the DNA was sent here, the DNA had been verified in several major hospitals in Jingdu, and all the results are like this!”

After hearing this, Amelia was stunned.

Lucas didn't care about her. He took out a stack of test results from the sofa and threw them on the table.

"These are all the results I received today. If you don't believe me, you can check it yourself."

Amelia's face turned pale suddenly.

Her parents' faces were even gloomier.

Just as they wanted to speak, Lucas said again, "If these are not enough, I still have other evidences."

He said, looking at Amelia ironically.

"More than a month ago, you appeared in room 3102 of Lijing international hotel for three consecutive days, met with a mysterious man and stayed in the room for three nights. Afterward, all the monitoring of the hotel was erased by you. How do you explain this?"

As soon as he said this, Amelia's face suddenly changed, and there were confusion and scare in her eyes.

Her parents also changed their faces in an instant.

Sophia looked at Amelia incredibly.

"Is it true? Tell us, Amelia!"

Looking at Sophia's gloomy face, Amelia wanted to explain, but she didn't know how to speak.

Even if she wanted to find an excuse to go through the motions, she had to worry about whether Lucas would unmask her.

As she didn't respond, Sophia guessed the result. Her face was full of disappointment and anger.

"Amelia, you really let me down. I believed in you so much, but you...you just lied that other's baby is Lucas's."

She angrily scolded Amelia, and finally found that she could not find words to describe her, so she could only stare at Amelia and her relatives fiercely.

Amelia Morgan was anxious being stared by Mrs. Hawk, and she knew that all previous efforts would go up to smoke if she didn't explain it.

"Sophia, can you trust me please? That's Lucas' baby, I didn't do anything with that man, nothing .....

She explained and wanted to hold Sophia but was avoided by her.

She panicked at Sophia and moved her lips to say something but before she spoke the words out, she was interrupted by a powerful shout.

"Enough, you guys have a limit !"

The old Mr. Hawk sat in the upper position, clutching the crutches and pounding the floor," Amelia Morgan, although I have never interfered your things, it does not mean that I don't know."

He said while he swiftly swept Morgan family and finally looked at Amelia Morgan.

"From the beginning, you have been deliberately trying to destroy the marriage between Lucas and Nora, Now that you are talking the unborn child, it seems that I have tolerated you for the sake of the child, but my tolerance is limited. We will have to stop the relationship if you say more."

Then, Mr. Morgan, who wanted to give Amelia an injustice, had to shut up.

At the same time, they also knew that they had already failed.

Suddenly, their hearts were full of unwillingness.

No one could accept the result after preparing for so long and was about to succeed.

But they had to accept, after all, the old Mr. Hawk had already put the words on.

It could be said that this time they were miscalculated.

They did not expect that Lucas Hawk behaved so carefully.

They already erased the record of the Lijing hotel and they thought that they did it very well but still caught by Lucas Hawk.

“You are right, it ours fault this time.”

Although Mr. Morgan was angry, he could only bow his head and admit his mistake in order to maintain their relationship.

Amelia Morgan heard the words of her father and knew that they were on the decline, then she slammed back.

She was reluctant and looked at Lucas Hawk with red eyes and rushed to grab him.

“Lucas, why do you treat me like this ?”

She looked at Lucas Hawk madly and questioned him, “ Why don’t you give me a chance, obviously we grew up together, can’t it compare with the relationship that you get along with Nora for only few months?”

Lucas Hawk listened to her stern question and frowned.

He disgustedly pulled open his arm that was caught by Amelia Morgan.

“Don’t compare her to you because you can never win her, at least Nora is not as scheming as you are, who can try everything to achieve your goals.”

Then, he didn’t looked at Amelia Morgan, just said goodbye to Old Mr. Hawk.

“Grandpa, since things are clear now, I have to go, the company has something to do.”

He left without looking back after said that.

Amelia Morgan looked at his back and her mind was all his words, as if she lost herself in consciousness.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan knew that they needn't to stay here, otherwise they would only make their situation more embarrassing.

Mr. Morgan gave Mrs. Morgan a gesture that let her to hold Amelia Morgan and then said goodbye to Old Mr. Hawk.

“Old Mr. Hawk, we go back now.”

Mr. Hawk sneered and didn't reply him.

Mr. Morgan was gloomy, eventually he said nothing and left with Mrs. Morgan.

Old Mr. Hawk stood up with a cane after they left.

He looked at Sophia, “Look at what happened today and have less contact with Morgan family, or our family will be destroyed by you.”

Being reprimanded and smothered, Sophia's face became dark and embarrassed. .

Old Mr. Hawk ignored her and left directly supporting with crutches in anger.

.....

At the same time, Evelyn Davis, who was in the company waiting for the news, also received a phone call from Lucas Hawk.

She picked it up almost at the moment of the bell.

“Is the result coming out?”

She couldn't wait to ask.

Even if she knew that John Davis had intervened in this matter, he would certainly not let Morgan family succeed, she couldn't help but want to ask and listen to Lucas telling her.

“Yes, it's out, the child had nothing to do with me.”

Lucas Hawk noticed the tension in her words and slightly raised lips to simply say what happened before.

Evelyn Davis did not know what to say after listening to it.

She didn't expect Amelia Morgan to do such a crazy thing in order to have Lucas Hawk.

With the child of other people planted to Lucas Hawk.

Just when she was silent, Lucas probably guessed that she was shocked and told her, "you don't have to think about it, it's over."

Evelyn Davis sighed but the mood still didn't ease.

Lucas frowned and continued to appease, "Don't worry, there will be no such thing in the future."

Evelyn Davis stunned and reacted that Lucas was comforting her and she couldn't help but laugh.

In fact, she did not care but somewhat emotional.

However, she did not intend to tell Lucas.

"I know."

She replied with a chuckle and Lucas apparently heard the difference in her words, knowing that she had already seen it and didn't say more.

"ok I'd better to let you go to work and I will pick you up for dinner at night."

"That's good."

Then they hang up.

At the same time, in the back garden of Hawk family.

Vivian Hawk squinted and sat face to face with Envy Miller.

Compared to her anger, Envy Miller was much more leisurely.

"Does Miss. Hawk still believe Amelia Morgan?"

She took a sip of tea and stared at Vivian Hawk with a smile.

Vivian Hawk clung to her thin lips and said with indignation, "Even if I don't believe her, I would never support you."

At this point, she already knew what happened in the living room and her heart was shocked, she had not calmed down so far.

Looked at her appearance of rejection, Envy Miller not only did not get angry but laughed.

“Now Amelia Morgan has lost power, why don’t you support me? or do you prefer Nora Davis ?”

Her eyes narrowed when she said that, “If I remember correctly, you are in bad relationships.”

Vivian Hawk listened to her and knew that Envy wanted to convince her.

But.....

“Envy Miller, you don’t have to irritate me, it’s useless, support you and deal with her are two different things.”

She raised her chin proudly and responded to Envy Miller.

Envy Miller raised her eyebrows and chuckled, undeniably saying, “ Even if they’re two things, I believe that you will support me someday.....”

Vivian Hawk did not expect her to be so confident after her refusal and she was annoyed and panicked.

She knew that she was not able to compare her mentality and she planned to leave first to avoid being trapped by her.

Vivian Hawk slyly glanced at Envy Miller and was very angry at her calm attitude.

“Hum. I guess Mrs. Miller haven’t woken up yet, don’t you think you talk too big?”

She was going to left after said those words sarcastically regardless of whether Envy Miller had something to say.

At the same time, she didn't forget to secretly curse Amelia Morgan in her heart.

This stupid woman dared to make such a shameful thing and even lied to her.

Even though she usually had a good relationship with Amelia Morgan, she was always a member of Hawk family and stood at Hawk Family's side once something happened.

Amelia Morgan didn't know that she lost another powerful helper after her plan failed.

At this time, she followed her parents back to Judd family and couldn't help breaking the unwilling feeling in her heart.

"Dad, you said it was foolproof but why such a result?"

Her roar to Father Morgan made his face look dark.

However, he didn't have time to rebuke Amelia Morgan but contacted Zhang Heng while he thought of what happened in Hawk family.

"Mr. Zhang, it's me, I asked you to help me change the results, why hasn't it been changed?"

He asked heavily.

Zhang Heng was surprised to hear that.

"I have already confessed it.....wait a moment, let me ask."

Then there was a silence on the phone.

Mr. Morgan didn't hang up and waited quietly.

Zhang Heng spoke after a while.

"Mr. Morgan, I am so sorry, the students here just found that the report we changed had been changed back by someone."

Mr. Morgan was sluggish with gloomy eyes.

He didn't expect that someone else would count them all.

"Well I know it, thanks for your help."

He hang up the phone.

Then Amelia Morgan asked early.

"Dad, what did uncle Zhang said ? why did things become like this ?"

Mr. Morgan looked at her in a hurry and was anxious for her to improve.

"Amelia, don't mention this again and I suggest that you give up, it's impossible for Hawk family to accept that you marry to Lucas Hawk because such a thing happened."

He still couldn't bear to get angry with her and just persuaded.

Then he suddenly thought of another thing and looked at Amelia Morgan,

"Oh right, who is the child in your belly? Now that the plan has been ruined, either let the other party be responsible, or you go to take off the child."

Amelia Morgan was completely stunned when she heard these words.

She unconsciously flashed a handsome face in her mind and couldn't help but shudder.

If the man was told that she was pregnant with his child, would he allow her to take the child off ?

She frowned and thought, feeling irritated.

Amelia Morgan just thought this was another trouble.

.....

In the evening, Evelyn Davis finished her work and worked off on time.

At that time, Lucas Hawk had drove to the street and waited for her.

Evelyn Davis just saw his car when she got to the intersection.

In an instant, she subconsciously couldn't wait to walk forward to him.

Lucas Hawk started the car after she sat down.

"Where are we going ?"

Evelyn Davis subconsciously asked.

"Don't you say that you want to eat the dishes of the Hong Guan ? I have already made a reservation." Lucas Hawk respond with a smile.

Evelyn Davis surprised and the smile on her face could not help but slowly expand.

She did not expect that he remembered the words she said casually.

Moreover, the Hong Guan was a famous Chinese restaurant in Jing Du, and it was not so easy to book.

However, she didn't asked too much, just remembering this kindly feeling in her heart.

They arrived after a while, Lucas Hawk gently opened the door for Evelyn Davis and took her to get off.

Evelyn Davis saw the courtyard in front of the antique when she looked up.

The reason why the Hong Guan was famous not only because of its cuisine, but also its decoration here.

It combined ancient and modern architecture into a completely different world inside and outside.

Evelyn Davis used to see this interior decoration only in magazine reports, and now it was the first time she had been there, only to find that the reports were not exaggerated.

Especially she was also major in design, although the architectural was different from the fashion design, many of the ancient ornaments in it gave her a lot of inspiration.

Lucas Hawk also saw her high interest and told her about the Hong Guan while taking care of her meal.

It was a very harmonious meal for them.

As the topic came to an end, Evelyn Davis suddenly thought of the thing happened at home during the day.

“Oh by the way, Lucas, will things happening during the day affect the business of Hawk family and Morgan family ?”

Lucas Hawk stunned and said indifferently, “it has some impact but there is a lot of business links between Morgan family and Hawk family, their relationship should not deteriorate but Hawk family can still afford it if it gets worse.”

Evelyn Davis heard this and suddenly let out a sigh of relief.

She nodded and then got up to the bathroom.

She found that there was a woman in their table when she came back.

The woman wore a sleek gray casual uniform with narrow waist and hips.

She wore exquisite makeup, and her facial features excellent, making her looked mature.

Evelyn Davis felt surprised but more familiar with her, it seemed like she had seen that woman somewhere.

She frowned.

Lucas Hawk found her and waved her to his side.

“Evelyn, just right, let me introduce you to a senior.”

He kept Evelyn Davis in her arms and said, “this is my senior sister when I was in college, Ji Yi, who is a fashion designer like you, she is very famous abroad and has won many awards, have you heard of her?”

Evelyn Davis stunned and immediately got an impression of Ji Yi and looked at her with surprise.

She did hear something about Ji Yi.

It was said that she was the first designer to combine many classical elements in the shape of the West, and the works designed were highly sought after in foreign countries. Many international masters who had been famous for a long time praised her.

“Senior Ji, it’s my honor to meet you here.”

Her reverence greeting was with the respect of the younger generation to the predecessors.

Ji Yi was stunned by her respectful appearance and said with a smile,

“Lucas, how did you find such an interesting person ? “

She looked at Lucas Hawk and asked, as if she didn’t see their ambiguous movements.

Lucas Hawk didn’t notice the strangeness in the words, but said smilingly, “This is my wife, Nora Davis.”

Ji Yi had a moment of stagnation but quickly recovered when she heard that.

She looked at Evelyn Davis without leaving a trace and joked, “ I thought you might keep being single for a lifetime, but I didn’t expect that you got married before me.”
