Evelyn looked at the video on the computer and looked at Lucas, she was puzzled.

“Why do you let me see that?”

Lucas did not respond to her, but signaled her to continue watching.

Evelyn had no choice, she can only watch it, and then she saw a scene that made her difficult to let go last night.

She saw in the video, Envy helped Lucas get off the car.

She didn't know if it was because Lucas was too tall, Envy was struggling, and she almost fell down while walking, and the two ran into each other.

At this moment Lucas switched to another perspective, which happened to be the time when Evelyn appeared in the hotel lobby last night.

“We didn't k!ss, but Envy can't hold me, and we crashed into each other.”

Lucas explained with a deep voice.

Evelyn watched two videos that were exactly the same at the same time, she compressed her red l!ps.

It seemed that she misunderstood them last night, but this shouldn't blame her.

After all, from this point of view, no matter who looked at it, they can't help misunderstanding.

She was thinking secretly in her heart, but her face was serious.

Lucas looked at her and felt helpless and had to continue playing the video.

The next picture was Envy helping him back to the room.

It was 11:10 p.m when they entered the room, and after five minutes, Evelyn walked out from the next door and stood in front of the door of Evelyn's room, she was ready to knock it.

As a result, she raised her hand in mid-air for a long time and did not fall. The whole person was standing still there, as if she was shocked.

At eleven eighteen, she ran back to the room.

At 11:25, Envy stepped out of the room, went to the hotel front desk, opened another room, and never came out when she entered the room.

After watching all the videos, Lucas looked at Evelyn and raised his eyebrows, "Now let's talk about what just happened."

Evelyn looked at him helplessly, compressed her lips, "What do you want to say?"

Lucas glanced at the time on the monitor, and said coldly, "Add up all the time, it's fifteen minutes. What I can do when I was drunk? Even if I can, you have been with me for so long, you don't know well about my ability? "

When Evelyn heard this, her cheeks became hot.

They were talking about last night's matter, why was the topic coming to them, and he said so ambiguously?

"Lucas Hawk!"

She scolded in shame.

Lucas raised an eyebrow: "I'm just telling the truth, I can't let you misunderstand my ability."

When Evelyn heard these words, she became speechless suddenly, she didn't know how to refute.

Although the moaning from Envy's room at that time was a bit wrong, it could not represent what he was doing something.

When she thought of this, she became more and more certain that she misunderstood.

Especially when she met Lucas's narrow eyes, which made her awkward and a little bit ashamed.

"So you were looking for this just now?"

She took a deep breath and tried to shift the topic, so as not to let Lucas continue this topic.

Lucas naturally also noticed her distress, knowing that if he continue to tease her, she would inevitably be angry, and he converged his bad interests. He said, "Although I don't care, I don't like the feeling of being misunderstood."

He looked at Evelyn after he finished speaking.

"Are you still angry?"

Evelyn was uncomfortable because of his question, and subconsciously refuted: "Who is angry?"

Lucas didn't answer it, but he stared at the breakfast that didn't move much, then he was looking at her with a smile.

Evelyn was so embarrassed now.

Lucas looked at her and showed an unkind smile and let Evelyn stare at him in shame.

He knew that Evelyn was about to be angry. He quickly converged and asked, "Okay, I won't tease you again. We've been busy all morning and eat nothing. Let's have breakfast."

Speaking of this, he walked towards the dining car.

Evelyn looked at the back of him as he walked away, the annoyance in her heart gradually faded, and she followed up.

"Sorry, I shouldn't misunderstand you."

She walked behind Lucas and whispered softly.

Lucas heard the words, he paused and turned his head.

“I can forgive you this time, but next time if this happens again, I hope you can think calmly, it is best to verify the parties!”

Evelyn nodded, she repeatedly promised: “I know, I will never be this again.”

In fact, the reason why she misunderstood, in addition to the angle problem at the beginning, there was the time difference when Envy left later.

The misunderstanding was resolved, and Evelyn also had an appetite.

However, she still felt ashamed and shy in the face of Lucas. After all, she did misunderstand him before.

But she was still a little happy.

At least Lucas was willing to spend time and energy to explain her the whole story!

After the two had finished their meal, Lucas again mentioned the old thing.

“Do you want to go anywhere?”

Evelyn had no misunderstanding at this time, and discussed with him the attractions of the city happily.

“I asked about it yesterday. There are several good scenic spots in this place. I want to go to the nearest Statue of Liberty. I heard that there are a lot of funny places, and there are band performances in the evening.”

Seeing her enthusiastic, Lucas said, “Let’s go there.”

After he finished speaking, he let Evelyn prepare for it and they would go out later.

Evelyn nodded and turned to change clothes.

When she entered the bathroom, she suddenly found that it was like a date, and it was also the first time that they had simply gone out to play for so long.

For a moment, she was full of expectations.

She even dressed up carefully.

After an hour, she finally finished and entered the room.

He saw Evelyn was wearing a light blue camisole dress with a thin sweater on the outside, and the woman's charm in leisure was very good, which was very suitable for play.

She had delicate light makeup on her face, and her slender ink hair lingered around her head.

Lucas was the first time to see such Envy, his eyes flashed a fascination, but he was quickly taken away by him.

"Can we go now?"

Asked politely, he was still wearing a solid black suit.

Evelyn didn't feel anything wrong, and responded.

The two left the room hand in hand and happened to meet Envy, who was also going out.

She looked at Evelyn and Lucas talking and laughing, and her eyes flashed with surprise and loss immediately.

They weren't arguing longer? Why did it look like that they had solved the problems?

She thought silently in her heart, but she did not show it on her face, and smiled and greeted the two: "Are you going out?"

Lucas nodded: "It's rare to come out with Nora and plan to go out for playing."

When Envy heard this, her eyes glanced at Evelyn left no traces, and her jealousy was passing by.

She didn't say something yet, and Lucas urgently asked: "Aren't you saying that you are going to find classmates today? Have fun, let's go."

After finishing his words, he walked away with Evelyn.

Envy looked at the back of their departure, and the words she wanted to say was blocked in her throat.

She stared at Evelyn gloomily, her eyes full of unwillingness and helplessness, she could only turn around and leave.

They left the hotel and drove to the statue of liberty.

It was lively because the statue of liberty was already bustling with tourists and vendors

In particular, there were a lot of people taking pictures around the statue.

Evelyn Davis suddenly wanted to take pictures.

She seemed to have never been photographed with Lucas Hawk since they knew each other.

Even if she had to leave later, she still had a picture to miss him.

She couldn't help looking at the man beside her when she thought that.

But she couldn't say anything when she saw Lucas Hawk's noble appearance.

How could he, such a noble person, take photos casually by the roadside like a civilian?

"What's the matter?"

Lucas Hawk noticed Evelyn Davis's gaze and asked.

Evelyn Davis came to her senses, and then shook her head, "That's ok, let's go over there."

As she spoke, she pulled Lucas Hawk to the other side.

Lucas Hawk looked down at her back. He glanced over where she had been, his eyes flashed, then he stopped.

Evelyn Davis was walking ahead when she noticed that the person behind her stopped walking. She looked back,

“You...”

Lucas Hawk interrupted her before she had finished.

“Come with me.”

Then he pulled Evelyn Davis back toward the statue.

Evelyn Davis followed him wondering what he was going to do.

Then she heard him speaking in English to a couple under the statue.

She could understand what they said.

It was because she understood that she looked at Lucas Hawk in amazement.

He asked the couple to take pictures for them?

“Your girlfriend is really beautiful.”

The couple looked at Evelyn Davis and complimented her.

Lucas Hawk looked at Evelyn Davis, put his arm around her shoulder and replied, “she’s my wife.”

Evelyn Davis’s was as sweet as honey when he introduced her as his wife.

The corners of her mouth went up and Lucas Hawk noticed. He hugged her with a smile and motioned for the couple to take a picture.

In a moment their pictures came out. Evelyn Davis thanked the couple and took the photo from them.

As she looked at the picture of them embracing, the corners of her mouth rose again.

“Happy now?”

Lucas Hawk looked at the photo and turned his eyes on Evelyn Davis.

Evelyn Davis was embarrassed when she thought of her loss after he said that.

“No.”

She denied it, but carefully put it in her purse.

Maybe that’s her only desire.

She looked at the pictures of them and thought sadly.

Then she shook her head to stop herself from thinking about the unhappy things on this happy day.

So she pressed down all her worries and pulled Lucas Hawk around wildly.

After half a day, both of them were a little tired, so they found a cafe to have a rest.

“Lucas, what would you like to drink?”

After a half day on the town, Evelyn Davis seemed to let go of all her worries and got intimate with Lucas Hawk.

Lucas Hawk was about to respond when he looked around the corner across from the cafe.

He saw three big black men standing on the corner, their eyes always fixed on them vaguely.

At first, he thought it was his own delusion, but soon realized it wasn’t.

They really were tailing after them.

Evelyn Davis didn’t know Lucas Hawk had noticed something wrong, and then she looked up at him.

“Lucas ? ”She asked.

Lucas Hawk drew his gaze back to Evelyn Davis.

Without explaining, he grabbed Evelyn Davis by the wrist and led her toward the door.

“I’ll drink it with you next time.”

Then he took Evelyn Davis out of the cafe and immediately turned down an alley.

The black man who had been staring at them saw them go and followed them.

Evelyn Davis didn’t know what’s going on at first, and was led off by Lucas Hawk.

By the time she realized that Lucas Hawk was leading her down the back streets, she knew something was wrong.

Especially when she saw Lucas Hawk’s serious face.

But she didn’t immediately ask, she tried to keep up with Lucas Hawk without dragging him down.

Lucas Hawk took her down several lanes before he got rid of the negroes.

Both of them were gasping for breath and stood still at the intersection.

“What’s the matter?”

Evelyn Davis couldn’t resist asking.

Lucas Hawk looked at her, “don’t worry. You’ll be fine with me.”

Then he took Evelyn Davis and walked again.

They were going to a hotel this time.

And the reason he didn’t tell Evelyn Davis was because he didn’t want her to get involved in.

He had many rivals abroad over the years.

Soon they arrived at the hotel.

Lucas Hawk released Evelyn Davis and walked over to the balcony to make a phone call when they came back to the room. Evelyn Davis didn't hear what he said.

But she saw that Lucas Hawk's face was very serious, and guessed it might be difficult.

She sat on the couch to wait for Lucas Hawk in silence.

A moment later Lucas Hawk came in after a phone call.

"Nora, tidy up. We're not staying here tonight."

Evelyn Davis asked, "what about miss Miller?"

She didn't expect that the gravity of the situation to need them to leave.

Lucas Hawk answered, "I've contacted Envy and told her not to come back. As for her things, I'll have someone picked them up."

Evelyn Davis nodded and went to pack her things.

Fortunately, there were not many things, and she was ready in less than ten minutes.

Then Lucas Hawk whisked her away from the hotel.

But they had just left the hotel when they were targeted again.

"Sit down!"

Lucas Hawk immediately ordered Evelyn Davis and speed off.

It was the first time that Evelyn Davis had experienced anything like this, so she became nervous.

Especially the speed made her face became pale.

Lucas Hawk had noticed. After making sure he had shaken off his pursuers, he pulled out a hand and patted Evelyn Davis' white fingers appeasingly.

"Don't worry, it's all right."

When Evelyn Davis heard the words, she turned her head to look at him. She was calmed down by his words.

In the evening, Lucas Hawk took Evelyn Davis to a suburban villa.

"This is my temporary residence abroad. We are staying here for a few days. You go upstairs while I go to the study."

Lucas Hawk led her into the living room, told her briefly and then walked upstairs.

Evelyn Davis watched him leave and looked around.

The villa was, as Lucas Hawk says, a temporary home.

The decoration of the villa was very simple, but very clean.

Evelyn was going to find Lucas after tidying herself simply.

As soon as she went out the room, she saw Lucas coming up the corridor with another strange man she didn't know.

The man had a square face. Although he was somewhat inferior in front of Lucas, he was also a very handsome young man.

And he had a respect look in front of Lucas, but they looked more like friends, which made Evelyn a little confused.

"Lucas, are we having a visitor?"

She smiled and stood in the hallway, asking Lucas, and did not forget to nod to the man as a greeting.

“Yes, this is Mo Zhui. We have something to discuss. If you are tired, take a rest first.”

Lucas briefly introduced Mo Zhui and motioned Mo Zhui to follow him to the study.

In the study, Mo Zhui thought of the gentle woman he has just seen and looked at Lucas in surprise.

“Brother, is that sister-in-law? She looks very gentle, and doesn’t look as bad as the hearsay.”

Lucas nodded, not intending to talk more about Evelyn. He shifted the topic and asked, “Have you found out what you were investigating?”

When Mo Zhui heard this, his face turned cold and said seriously, “Yes.”

He said, with doubts in his eyes: “The man who followed you and sister-in-law in the afternoon seems to be from Xiuluotang organization.”

When Lucas heard this, he couldn’t help frowning.

He has heard of Xiuluotang. It was a underworld, so they belonged to different worlds.

“How could it be them? We don’t seem to have contact with this organization, do we?”

Mo Zhui replied, “It’s true, so there must be something wrong.”

He said, looking at Lucas. Then he said in a deep voice, “And I found out that there seems to be some conflicts between this organization and the Shiyang Organization recently.”

After hearing this, Lucas looked serious.

He narrowed his eyes dangerously and said in a cold voice: “You send more people to watch them these days and report their movements at any time. I will arrange to return home as soon as possible to avoid trouble.”

Mo Zhui nodded, “I see.”

Then Lucas told him again, "By the way, conceal my these days' whereabouts."

Mo Zhui took the order and left.

After he left, Lucas sat alone in his study for a while before getting up to go to the bedroom.

In the room, Evelyn was drawing a design sketch.

When she heard the movement behind her, she put down her brush and turned around: "Are you done?"

"Yes. Why don't you have a rest?"

Lucas asked, taking off his coat and looking at her.

"I can't sleep."

Evelyn came forward and took his coat with her unharmed hand.

Originally, she wanted to ask about the thing happened in the afternoon. Before she could open her mouth, Lucas apologized.

"It happened suddenly today and you didn't enjoy yourself enough. I'll take you out next time."

Evelyn was confused and looked at Lucas in a daze.

Lucas saw this and told her his plan: "I plan to go back tomorrow."

Evelyn frowned and worriedly said, "Is it serious?"

Lucas said with a smile, "It's not that serious. It's just for the sake of safety. We'd better go back earlier."

Evelyn got it.

Anyway, she was injured. In case of any more accidents, She was afraid that she would be Lucas's burden.

Thinking in this way, she was a little worried.

“Will there be any problem?”

Knowing what she was worried about, Lucas reassured her, “No, I will take care of everything.”

As he said this, Evelyn let go of her worries. The next day early in the morning, they got up early and planned to go to the airport.

Unexpectedly, before they left for the airport, Lucas received a phone call and then his face changed.

“What happened?”

Evelyn looked at him and asked.

“There’s something wrong with Envy.”

Lucas darkened his face and pressed his lips.

Envy was kidnapped when she went back to the hotel to pack up.

“You wait for me here. I’ll go and see what’s going on.”

He told Evelyn this and hurried out of the door.

Evelyn looked at his anxious back and felt a little sad.

However, she didn’t stop him. After all, Envy may be implicated because of them, so Lucas should go to rescue her.

The only thing that bothered her was that she was afraid Lucas would get hurt.

So she waited in the villa worriedly.

As darkness fell outside, she still heard no news from Lucas.

Evelyn wanted to make a phone call to inquire about the situation, but was afraid to cause more trouble to Lucas. At last, she could only walk around the living room anxiously, and look at the door from time to time.

After a long time, she finally heard the sound of a car outside. She ran towards the door with a smile on her face.

However, when she ran out of the living room, the person she saw was not Lucas, but Mo Zhui, who met her yesterday.

“Sister in law.”

Mo Zhui saw her and greeted.

Evelyn saw him, but she didn't see Lucas. She couldn't help but was anxious.

“Mr. Mo, do you come back alone? Where is Lucas? Did you find Miss Miller?”

She couldn't help asking worriedly.

Seeing this, Mo Zhui quickly talked about his purpose in coming.

“Don't worry, sister-in-law. Miss Miller has been saved, but Lucas is injured. I'm here to pick you up and send you to hospital.”

When Evelyn heard this, her pulse throbbed in her throat.

“How did he get hurt? Is it serious?”

She was anxious to inquire and followed Mo Zhui to the hospital.

On the way, Mo Zhui appeased her all the way, saying that Lucas was OK and was only hurt a little.

But Evelyn hasn't seen him, she wouldn't believe it.

Fortunately, the hospital was not far from the villa. Within 20 minutes, the two arrived at the hospital.

This was a private hospital. It was very quiet around at night.

Evelyn cannot attend to look around and followed Mo Zhui to the ward.

Just as she was about to push the door in, she saw the ward through the glass on the door. Evelyn was crying with Lucas in her arms.

“Lucas, you scared me to death.”

Envy was really scared. She looked at Lucas with blurred tearful eyes.

Lucas was held by her with a frown.

He unconsciously tried to push Envy away, but Envy held him so tight that he could not do that. So he only pulled open a little distance and said, “Alright, I’m okay.”

When Evelyn saw this, her action of opening the door suddenly froze, and she didn’t dare to push the door in.

Mo Zhui stood behind her and saw this. His brows were slightly raised, and he didn’t say anything.

At this time, Lucas found Evelyn standing outside the door. He was nervous and then pushed Envy away.

After being pushed without warning, Envy stumbled for two steps to stand still, then looked at Lucas incomprehensibly.

“Lucas, what’s wrong?”

Lucas ignored her, only looked at the door and said in a deep voice, “Why don’t you come in? Are you going to be the door god there?”

When Envy heard this, she followed his sight line and found Evelyn and Mo Zhui. Dark light and unwillingness flashed through her eyes.

Seeing that Lucas had found her, she had to push the door and go in.

“Sorry, I was so worried just now. Miss Davis, don’t get me wrong.”

Seeing her coming in, Envy wiped the tears on face and deliberately mentioned what had happened just now.

Evelyn looked at her and showed an unpredictable expression, shaking her head, "It happened suddenly, so it's normal for Miss Miller to worry."

When she finished speaking, she looked anxiously at Lucas.

"Are you OK?"

Lucas shook his head, "It's OK. Don't worry about me."

Although he said it was nothing, his face was not very good, and his lips were obviously pale.

All these were seen by Evelyn.

Especially when she saw his injured shoulder which was covered with bandages, and there was blood oozing out, she was even more worried.

She looked at Lucas and subconsciously wanted to ask how he got hurt.

But before she said, Lucas smiled, "Envy, since Nora is here, you should go back early. Today you are also scared. You should have a good rest."

Hearing this, Envy's face was frozen for a moment.

She looked Evelyn. Though she was reluctant, she nodded.

After all, she had done a lot in these two days. If she insisted on staying, she was afraid that Lucas would notice something.

After Envy left, Evelyn could not help but walk to Lucas's side and asked nervously, "How did you get hurt? Did you fight with someone?"

Lucas didn't want to say more. He replied vaguely, "Almost."

But Evelyn was not satisfied with the answer and continued to ask, "What is the meaning of ALMOST? Didn't you say you would take good care of yourself? How did the other side hurt you? What kind of injury it is? Did the doctor say anything?"

Lucas looked at Evelyn who was so worried and anxious, and suddenly he didn't know how to answer.

Evelyn couldn't wait for his response, so she drifted away her mind and guessed.

"Why don't you talk? Are you bruised? Or is it a knife wound?"

When Lucas found that she wouldn't stop until she got the answer, he hesitated and said, "It's the gunshot wound."

Evelyn was shocked when she heard the words.

"Gun... Gunshot wounds?"

She couldn't believe it and kept looking at Lucas.

"You don't have to worry, it's ok now, and it's just a small injury. It's treated in time and won't affect me at all," Lucas comforted her when he saw she was scared.

He explained, but Evelyn didn't listen.

At this time, she was a little confused.

After all, gunshot wounds and guns were far beyond her reach.

Besides, she also wondered why Lucas had been involved in such things that she only had seen on TV.

Especially when she thought about the shooting scenes on TV, she couldn't help shuddering and her face quickly turned pale.

When Lucas saw this, he knew that this young lady was deeply scared. He quickly put his arms around her and patted her back to comfort her.

"Nora, don't think about it. This time it's just an accident. It won't happen in the future any more."

As he said, he lowered his head and kissed Evelyn's forehead. At the same time, his kiss went all the way down the brow, and at last their lips were close to each other.

This kiss was not as eager as before, but very touching.

Not knowing how long they had been kissing, they separated when they were a little short of breath.

Evelyn leaned on the arms of Lucas. Her face was crimson and her eyes were full of ripples.

“Lucas Hawk!”

She glared at Lucas in anger and shame. She didn’t understand how this could happen.

She was actually asking about his wound.

“OK, don’t be angry and don’t worry, I’m really OK.”

Lucas looked at her angry appearance, chuckled and coaxed, “Wipe my body. I haven’t washed since I was injured. I feel so dirty.”

Evelyn listened and looked at him helplessly, but she still went to get half of the basin of water as he said.

After all, her hands were not fully healed, so she couldn’t take something that was too heavy.

She did not let Lucas move when she took back water. She twisted a towel to wipe his exposed skin.

Originally, she wiped Lucas with the thought of taking care of him.

However, when she wiped his face and saw the pretty face close to her, especially the dark eyes that were looking at her closely, she breathed hard and her heart beat like a drum. She was completely nervous.

“Don’t look at me.”

She was forced to hold back the emotion in her heart and said with shame and displeasure.

Lucas looked at her cheek gradually turn to red, and his eyes flashed with surprise. He soon seemed to understand something and chuckled.

He put his uninjured hand around the waist of Evelyn and exerted a little force to bring the woman closer to him.

“Are you shy?”

During the conversation,his moist breath sprayed on her ear,which made her legs soft and felt tempted.Subconsciously,she retorted,”I am not shy!Do you want me to wipe your body?Let do it quickly.”

Lucas looked at the fire under her eyes and knew that she could not be teased any more.He simply let her go.

“Well,you’re not shy.”

Although he said that,his facial expression obviously didn’t mean that.

Evelyn looked at him and really wanted to throw the towel on his face.

But it was also this fight that made Evelyn less worried.

At least,Lucas’s injury was not so serious because he still had energy to joke and tease her.

But even so,her heart was still palpitating.

When she took care of everything,she couldn’t help asking,”Do we still have to go?”

She did not ask about the situation of Lucas’s hands.

It was not that she didn’t want to ask,but that she knew that even if she asked,Lucas wouldn’t tell her.

So she simply didn’t ask.When Lucas was willing to tell her,he would do it.

Lucas didn’t know what she was thinking.He was relieved to see that she didn’t ask for specific things.

After all,he didn’t want Evelyn to be involved.

“I may have to train for a few days and even if we want to go back home,we have to wait a few days.”

Evelyn nodded to show her understanding.

In the next two days.Evelyn took care of Lucas in the hospital.

She did everything herself, which led to the closer relationship between the two.

During this time, Lucas's impression of Evelyn changed a lot.

His attitude towards her had become more and more gentle.

And the two of them became more and more like the old husband and wife when they got along with each other..

Seeing this, Envy was in great anger but could do nothing at all.

Now she could only come to the ward every day and care about Lucas's physical condition as a friend.

Every time she came, Evelyn kept silent. Even after she left, Evelyn's mood couldn't get better.

Lucas saw all this in his eyes.

That day, when Envy came again, he found an excuse to let Envy go home first.

"We have been abroad for so long, and no one at home is watching the research and development of the project. And we don't know how it is going. Anyway, I have nothing to do now. Envy, I hope that you can go back and watch first, and I will take over later."

Envy was reluctant to hear this.

How could she be willing to leave them here?

But she couldn't find any excuse to stay, so she finally agreed to leave.

After Envy left, Evelyn took care of Lucas in the hospital for a few days, and the two started their journey back home.

For the sake of safety, they took the private plane this time and directly flew to the seaside villa.

As soon as they got off the plane, before they had time to wash, the housekeeper hurried over and knocked on their door.

“Young master, someone is coming from the old house.”

When Lucas heard this, he frowned slightly, but he went downstairs to see this person with Evelyn.

“Young master, young lady, madam asked you two to come back to the main house. Madam and the master are worried about you.”

The man from the old house was a driver. He transferred Sofia’s words to him.

After listening, Evelyn looked at Lucas subconsciously.

Lucas didn’t refuse. After all, he got injured abroad, and his parents would worry about him.

“I see. You wait a moment. I’ll wash with young lady and then go with you.”

The driver took the order and turned to wait outside.

An hour later, they took the car to Hawk family.

Evelyn looked at the solemn and grand Hawks’ house, and she had complex feelings.

She pressed down all the emotions in her heart and followed Lucas in.

However, she heard the laughter just when they entered the living room.

She saw that there were not only the Hawk family in the living room of the main house, but also Envy and her parents.

The three were dressed very formally, and there were many gifts on the table.

Evelyn saw Mrs. Miller, and her expression froze.

She couldn’t forget the domineering manner of Mrs. Miller that day.

Lucas perceived Evelyn's change and silently held her hand as if to tell her that he was here with her.

At the same time, the several people who were originally chatting noticed them under the notice of the housekeeper.

When they all looked back, they saw the hands of Evelyn and Lucas holding together. Then they had different looks.

Sofia saw this, and she was annoyed in her heart. However, she did not show it, but greeted them.

"Lucas, this is Mr. Miller and Mrs. Miller. You don't have to be reminded, do you?"

She looked at Lucas and ignored Evelyn directly.

"Your uncle Miller and aunt Miller know you're back tonight, so they came here to thank you."

She explained the intention of the Miller family.

Lucas actually had a guess when he saw the Miller family.

He glanced at the Millers and said with a smile, "Uncle Miller is over polite. It was not a big deal."

As he said, he took Evelyn to the sofa and sat down.

The hands they held together have not been loosened. Vivian looked at them with raising her eyebrows, and looked at Envy with some gloating.

Naturally, when Envy saw the irony in her eyes, her heart sank .

She glanced at Evelyn without leaving any trace, and said with a smile, "Lucas, I don't agree with you. It was a big deal. At that time, it was so dangerous. If you didn't risk your life to save me, I might be dead now. I don't think it's enough to say thank you."

What she said was grateful, but other people couldn't help thinking more about it.

Of course, Evelyn was the only one who would think more. After all, in the eyes of the Miller family and the Hawk family, Lucas and Envy have always had a good relationship.

It was inevitable for Lucas to save Envy.

In this way, the two families had a heated conversation on this topic.

Evelyn sat next to Lucas and listened to their conversation in a daze and couldn't cut in at all.

And others seemed to have deliberately forgotten her existence.

Evelyn looked at them coldly, and her eyes were full of self mockery, but she was also happy to be left alone.

In this way, they finished their meal in a harmonious atmosphere.

Shortly after the dinner, Envy's parents left. Sofia saw them off and immediately returned to the living room.

Although she has been talking and laughing with the Miller family just now, she still worried about Lucas's injury.

She couldn't wait to call the family doctor as soon as the guests left.

Lucas saw what she did and was helpless, but he did not stop her.

The whole family sat in the living room waiting for the doctor.

Lucas thought that Evelyn didn't eat much at the dinner table just now, and asked: "Are you tired? Or I tell someone to send you back to have a rest, and I'll go back later."

Evelyn was stunned. She responded and looked around and was about to nod. Devin on the opposite side suddenly opened his mouth.

"If Nora is tired, she can go back to the new house to have a rest. I have something else to tell you."

Evelyn heard this and took a look at Lucas.

She knew that father Hawk wanted to keep them, so she didn't refuse and then nodded.

"Then I'll leave first, mom, dad, and sister-in-law, Miss Miller. Have a good night."

She got up to say good-bye gracefully.

Then she left under the indifferent gaze of these people.

When she got out of the main house, she could not help but stop to look back, and then walked towards the new house.

After a while, when she arrived the new house, she looked at these changed furniture, and her feelings were complex.

They haven't come back since Amelia lived in.

At present, all the furniture in it have been replaced, which gave her a presentiment that they may come back to live again this time!

She thought of this and went back to the room with inscrutable look to wash her face.

She didn't know how long it has been. In her room, she couldn't wait for Lucas to come back, then an uneasy and worried feeling came to her.

She could obviously feel the rejection of Hawk family. Otherwise, they would not let her leave when Envy this outsider was here.

Obviously she couldn't even compare with an outsider.

She thought about it, laughed at herself and went out to the balcony to get some air.

At a glance, the main house was still brightly lit.

It reminded her of the atmosphere at the dinner table at night. If Lucas was injured because of her, she would probably only be condemned endlessly. She would not be like Envy, nothing happened to her, and even the two families could sit down and eat with smiles on their faces.

She thought, taking back her sight line ironically. However, she saw Envy and Lucas walking in the garden downstairs.

In the moonlight, they seemed to be dyed with a layer of white light, which was very beautiful and romantic.

In particular, the man was handsome and the woman was pretty, as if there were golden couple, which were well matched.

Evelyn looked at them and felt worse.

She just felt that the air around her seemed to be thinner.

She forced herself not to care about them, and turned back to the room resolutely.

Not long after she was in bed, Lucas pushed the door in.

When he saw Evelyn lying on the bed sideways, he thought that she was asleep, so he moved cautiously without any noise.

He didn't know Evelyn was just pretending to be asleep.

They didn't speak for a whole night.

...

The next day, Evelyn got up with Lucas.

Looking at Evelyn, Lucas thought of his parents' words last night and said, "Nora, we will live at home later. I'll tell the housekeeper to move our stuff back."

Evelyn heard this, she paused and was not surprised at all. Then she said, "Got it."

Lucas saw this and frowned slightly.

Although Evelyn didn't say anything, he still vaguely felt Evelyn's strangeness.

He stared at Evelyn's back, looked unpredictable, but said nothing.

As the conversation ended, the room fell into silence.

But it didn't last long before Lucas broke it.

"I have tidied up. I'll go down first."

With that, he turned out of the room.

As he walked farther and farther away, Evelyn turned her head and stared at the empty door. Her eyes were full of complexity.

She didn't let Lucas wait long and soon went downstairs.

The two dined in silence.

When they finished eating, Lucas was ready to go to the company, but he found that Evelyn was dressed up, as if she was also going out. He frowned and said, "You are going out?"

Evelyn nodded, "I haven't been to the company for several days. I'm going to have a look."

Actually, she didn't want to stay at Hawks' house, so she decided to go to the company.

Although her hand has not recovered yet, it didn't affect her work.

Lucas wanted her to have a rest at home, but when he saw the persistence in her eyes, he changed his mind: "Then I will send you there."

"I'm fine, I'll take a taxi. You go first."

Evelyn refused without thinking.

With that, she left, ignoring Lucas's bad look.

She thought a lot last night.

Now that she was back, she couldn't live in fantasy. She should face the reality.

And recently, she has been worrying about gain and loss, which made her feel that she didn't live like herself.

From today on, she needed to be self-reliance again and focus on her work. In the future, she may not be hurt too much.

Lucas didn't know what she was thinking, but he could also perceive her attitude change and feel her estrangement.

He couldn't understand why she was OK yesterday, and she became like this today.

He could not figure this out and only could let the matter go temporarily.

In the next two days, they returned to their peaceful life.

Evelyn went to work every day. Although the previous incident of beating people has subsided, she was repulsed by many people and was treated with contemptuous looks all day long.

Evelyn didn't care. The more they treated her with this attitude, the more she wanted to prove herself with her work.

Fortunately, her pay and gain were in direct proportion.

Although she was not welcomed in the company, the clothes she designed sold well in the company.

Many people were jealous and hated her when they saw the result.

But they didn't dare to do anything, let alone the strength of Evelyn. The company kept her after she made two big troubles. Everyone knew that someone was behind Evelyn, and they didn't dare to offend that person easily.

Not mention that Evelyn was one of the shareholders of the company.

Of course, they didn't know about it, otherwise they wouldn't dare to reject Evelyn like this.

On this day, it was the meeting of the design department once a month.

Ji Yi organized all the people in the design department to meet in the conference room and talked about the main purpose of the meeting.

"The company plans to let our design department undertake a project, which is said to be medical protective clothing, and its fabric requirements are very strict. If we can do it well, then the protective clothing will be issued in the country, or even abroad, and the company will also give our design Department a point of turnover as a bonus according to the final performance."

As soon as she said this, everyone in the meeting room was getting excited.

A point of turnover. Although the number was small, it was total turnover. When it was distributed to them, it would be equal to their income of two or three months.

"Director, please rest assured, we will ensure the perfect completion of the project!"

No one would hate money. Many people guaranteed immediately.

Ji Yi listened to the crowd and motioned to them to be quiet: "Naturally, I believe we can do it well, but there is a problem that needs us to solve together."

When they heard this, they all looked serious at once. They asked "What's the problem, director?"

"It's the fabric of the protective clothing. At present, only one domestic company has it. If we want to make this protective clothing, we have to find their company to purchase it."

Ji Yi told them the problem, looked around and continued: "The other party is also a clothing company, Lowell Group."

When Evelyn heard these two words, she felt a little familiar.

Before she thought of it, Ji Yi said again: "As far as I know, Clyde, who is in charge of the clothing market, is the eldest son of Lowell family. He is an famous elite man in our city. I want to know if anyone sitting here knows that person. If we have a relationship, we may have a better negotiation."

When they heard this, they looked at each other.

"Is that OK, director? We both are clothing companies. "

It meant that they had great horizontal competition. If they went to the Lowell Group and disclose this project, they would lose more than gain.

"Yes, director, I think it needs to be serious considered."

"I don't think it's possible for them to snatch this project away. After all, our company has already taken it, just in case they take the opportunity to raise the price."

Evelyn listened to their words, and felt surprised.

Because she remembered that Clyde was the one who wanted to invite her to work as a designer in their company just when Lucas came back home..

When she thought of this, she suddenly felt embarrassed.

But thinking of the company's project, she raised her hand.

"I...I've met him several times. Maybe I can have a try."

As soon as she said this, everyone looked at her in amazement.

"Oh, you know the person again. Nora, you really made a lot of friends."

Chloe didn't expect Evelyn to know such an important person. She immediately mocked her jealously.

Evelyn's face sank when she heard her meaningful words.

"Who I know is none of your business."

She talked back with a cold voice.

Ji Yi glanced at them and frowned slightly.

Actually, like Chloe, she didn't want Evelyn to do it.

However, she couldn't take her ideas and reality into consideration, so she had to choose the latter.

After all, she has just entered the company, and this is the first project she took over, so she must not mess it up.

"Stop it. Designer Davis will try this."

She had a decision in her mind and announced it directly.

Chloe was not convinced. She wanted to refute, but before she could get out, she was blocked by Ji Yi's words.

"If you are not convinced, you can do it, but you must accomplish it."

All of a sudden, Chloe was quiet.

Ji Yi saw her quiet, then turned to Evelyn, warning: "Although I entrust you this project, you should not forget the lessons before. If you mess up the company's project and get everyone involved again, no matter who comes to protect you, I will not tolerate you to stay in the company!"

Evelyn was a little uncomfortable when she heard this.

But when she thought of what happened before, she was soon relieved.

"Don't worry, director Ji, I won't allow myself to make mistakes this time!"

She said so because she has decided to focus on her work and achieve something.

Because of Evelyn's statement, Ji Yi could not say anything more.

After the meeting, everyone left.

Chloe was very upset to see that Evelyn take a project again.

She stared at Evelyn's leaving figure, and turned to the corridor alone.

"Amelia, I really take up the cudgel for you. Evelyn was reused by the company after making another trouble."

She reported what happened in the meeting to Amelia with her cell phone.

Then told Amelia about the latest situation of the company.

"However, although the company attaches great importance to her, her situation in the company is not so good. Now the company is full of people who dislike her."

At the end of the words, she couldn't help laughing.

When she finished laughing, she found something wrong.

Because she said so much, Amelia didn't respond.

"Amelia, are you listening to me?"

She asked in confusion with her mobile phone.

A long time later, Amelia's weak voice sounded on the phone.

"Yes."

Chloe immediately recognized something wrong and said, "Amelia, what's wrong? Your voice is weak."

On the phone, Amelia pressed her lips and didn't want to talk.

During this period of time, because of pregnancy, she suffered a lot.

It can be said that she was tortured to death by the child.

However, hearing the news from Chloe, she felt a sense of anger rising in her heart at once.

Especially when she thought of that bitch Nora, she brought troubles for several times and wasn't driven out by Lucas. But she made one mistake and was dismissed by him mercilessly.

This showed that Lucas still cared about that b!tch!

When she thought about it, she was already engulfed by Envy.

Why!

Why could she get everything without doing anything!

In particular, she sacrificed herself to get Lucas, and even she has been tortured at this time, she couldn't get the pity of Lucas.

As long as that man didn't allow her to have abortion, it put her teeth on edge to think about it.

She was not reconciled!

"I know what you said. I will deal with it. You continue keeping an eye on her in the company."

With that, she hung up directly.

Then she sat on the bed and squinted at the scorching sun outside the window.

If she remembered correctly, Clyde seemed interested in Nora at the beginning.

And Clyde's fiancée was a close friend she knew.

Maybe she could start here.

From what Chloe just said, she knew that the company attached great importance to these protective clothing. If she let Nora screw up again and the loss exceeded the company budget, she didn't believe that Lucas would spare no efforts to protect that b!tch again!

Anyway, she would not allow anyone to get the person she couldn't get, especially Nora!

Evelyn didn't know that the plot against her was coming again.

After the meeting, she went through the Lowell Group information immediately.

She went to Lowell Group in the afternoon after she has known enough about it.

"Hi, I'm Nora Davis, a representative of ZARY company. I'd like to visit Mr. Clyde Lowell, your marketing representative."

She politely told her intention to the little girl at the front desk.

"Please wait a moment."

The front desk girl responded with a formulaic smile and then picked up the phone on the desk to call Clyde.

"Mr. Lowell, there's a miss Nora Davis downstairs who wants to visit you and she said she is the representative of ZARY."

Clyde was surprised for a while to hear Nora's name.

"Tell her to come up."

He said in a deep voice.

When the front desk girl got the reply, she took Evelyn into the elevator.

After a while, the two arrived at Clyde's office.

Evelyn was led into the office by Clyde's assistant.

"Mr. Lowell, Miss Davis is here."

He knocked on the door and went in. He bowed out after he informed Clyde.

After that, there were only two people left in the office.

Evelyn was the first to greet, "It's been a long time, Mr. Lowell."

Clyde looked at Evelyn with a smile, and his eyes were full of amazement and appreciation.

He only felt that the Evelyn he saw this time was more capable and confident than before.

He saw Evelyn in a decent business suit, with a light makeup on her face. Her look was a combination of strength and gentleness.

"It's true. I haven't seen you for a long time."

He responded with a smile, then asked Evelyn to sit down.

"May I know what's your visit for?"

When Evelyn was seated, he asked her intention.

Evelyn saw this and didn't beat around the bush. She told him the purpose of her visit directly.

"I'm here to talk about a cooperation with you."

"Oh? What cooperation?"

Clyde asked after hearing what she said, and his eyes flashed with interest.

"I heard that there is a kind of cloth production line in your company that can be used to make medical protective clothing. Our company just took an order that needs this kind of cloth, so we want to cooperate with your company. This is a win-win situation. Both our companies can make money."

With that, Evelyn smiled at Clyde and waited for his response.

She thought that Clyde, as a businessman, would not refuse this kind of door-to-door business, who knows that the reality and imagination were totally different.

She saw Clyde frown slightly. It seemed that he was in a dilemma.

"Does Mr. Lowell have any different views?"

Evelyn, with a straight face, asked nervously.

“I don’t have any ideas. It’s just our company is actually producing this protective fabric, and it’s our key product. But we plan to use this fabric ourselves, and it’s not for sale.”

Clyde said that and looked at Evelyn apologetically.

Evelyn was stunned. It seemed that it never occurred to her that Lowell Group produced the cloth for its own use.

“Well, I hope Mr. Lowell can consider it. Our company is very bullish on your fabric, especially the reputation of Lowell Group in the industry, which impresses us a lot. We hope that through this cooperation, we can have a long-term cooperation with your company.”

She tried to persuade Clyde, but Clyde’s look didn’t change much.

“Could you please consider carefully?”

She asked again without giving up.

Clyde heard this and slightly frowned.

he could see that Evelyn was really looking forward to cooperation, but the company’s board of directors clearly announced that this fabric was not for sale.

Thinking about it, he had another idea in mind.

“Miss Davis, how about this? I know that you want to cooperate with us because you took over the order of protective clothing in medical institutions. I’ve heard that this business is very huge. Although your company is supported by Hawk Group behind, it’s still a new company just entering the business. Its factory should not be able to produce finished clothes within the specified time, but our company has the ability. If your company is willing to subcontract this to us, I think we can cooperate.”

After hearing this, Evelyn frowned and thought about it deeply.

She had to admit that Clyde was right.

Apart from the lack of cloth, their production line would also be a problem.

But it was not her final say.

“I understand Mr. Lowell’s proposal, but I need to report it to the company before I can give you a reply.”

Evelyn Davis stood up and responded. Clyde Lowell had already expected this.

“Well, I can wait for your company’s results.”

Evelyn Davis nodded, and then she was about to leave.

Clyde Lowell personally sent her back.

After Evelyn Davis left, she returned directly to the company and went to Ji Yi to report her conversation with Clyde Lowell just now.

After she reported, she spoke again.

“I think Mr. Lowell’s proposal is also feasible. As far as matters are concerned, our production line is indeed ...”

However, before she finished her words, she was interrupted by Ji Yi.

“Miss Davis, have you forgotten the original intention of asking you to talk this with Clyde Lowell? He said that we have no ability and then you believe that? When the company accepted the order, it means that the company can finish it.”

In the end, she looked sarcastically at Evelyn Davis, “I’m asking you to talk about fabrics, not to let him persuade you and divide the company’s interests. If you don’t have this ability, you should not say that you know Clyde Lowell at the meeting in the morning! ”

Evelyn Davis heard her harsh words and frowned.

She thought that she hadn’t done her job properly, which caused Ji Yi’s dissatisfaction, so she held back her unpleasant and explained again.

“The company took the order and it meant that it indeed has capable of finishing it, but if we want to deliver within the time expected by them ...”

She tried to tell Ji Yi the company’s current disadvantages, but Ji Yi did not give her the opportunity to say it out.

“Nora Davis!”

She shouted and stared at Evelyn Davis coldly: “Did you forget that you are no longer the director of the company? These issues do not need you to remind me of it. Can I complete it or not? Am I not clear? You just want to make excuses for yourself! ”

When Evelyn Davis heard these words, she suddenly felt angry and helpless.

She looked back at Ji Yi and immediately gave up communication.

“Ok, then I won’t participate in this matter. Director Ji can find someone else.”

She was about to leave, but she was stopped by Ji Yi.

“What’s matter?”

Evelyn Davis held back her anger and asked.

Ji Yi suddenly said with satire: “What’s the matter? Don’t you know? Do you want to leave after you get us in trouble? It seems that you are really the same as the hearsay. You just want to get advantages from the company!”

She said with an angry expression: “I just don’t understand why Lucas still keeps you in the company till now!”

After listening to her, Evelyn Davis immediately felt angry.

“Director Ji, what do you mean by that? I stay in the company because of my own ability!”

She fought back, but she didn’t expect that Ji Yi sneered.

“Your ability? I admit that you do have some talent, but this ability is not directly proportional to your ability to get into trouble. I heard that the company lost tens of millions because of the inferior poor fabric provided by your family. If there isn't Hawk Group supporting the company, the company will close down because of you. ”

Evelyn Davis heard the words, and she furiously clenching her fists, but she could not refute.

“I don't deny some things, but you'd better not cut off the whole thing. You should know what the matter is and what the result is!”

Ji Yi didn't speak, because she knew the follow-up results.

Although Evelyn Davis caused losses to the company, the profits she brought could be said to have made up for it.

“Anyway, I will report to Lucas today's event. You go out!”

Evelyn Davis gave her a glance, and she didn't take Ji Yi's words seriously.

In her opinion, even if Lucas knew it, he would agree with her idea.

After all, in her opinion, this was a good way to maximum the profit of the company.

“Whatever!”

She said indifferently and she turned to leave the company.

Ji Yi looked at the back of Evelyn Davis' departure, and she was so angry with Evelyn Davis' attitude.

She frowned, then picked up the phone on the desk and dialed a number.

...

After work that night, Evelyn Davis returned to Hawk's new house.

Lucas Hawk was waiting for her to have dinner at home.

During the meal, Lucas Hawk thought of the report received in the evening, glanced at the Evelyn Davis in front of him, and said in a deep voice, “Ji Yi said that you were consulting with the Lowell Group. How is it going?”

Evelyn Davis heard this, and she was not surprised.

She stopped the action, telling Lucas Hawk the conversation with Clyde Lowell. Moreover, she also said her thoughts again.

“I personally think Mr. Lowell’s proposal is feasible.”

She said and looked at Lucas Hawk, but she didn’t expect that she saw his angry face, so she swallowed back her words immediately.

“What’s wrong? Am I wrong?”

She asked uneasily.

Lucas Hawk glanced at her, and said coldly, “Are you really thinking it is good for the company? Isn’t it good for your Davis Group?”

When Evelyn Davis heard it, she was confused.

“Does it have any business with Davis Group?”

She looked at Lucas Hawk puzzledly.

Lucas Hawk sneered: “Of course, Your dad called me today and asked me to let him participate in this project. After he told me, you went to the Lowell Group to negotiate. And you said that they requested outsourcing. It is the purpose of you and your father, isn’t it? After all, it is better to give the outsourcing to your company. ”

The last word he said was extremely ironic.

Evelyn Davis could not notice his ironic and she was completely surprised.

She didn’t even know that John Davis called Lucas Hawk.

“I don’t know about this. I went to the Lowell Group because the company needed it.”

She tried to justify herself, but Lucas Hawk couldn’t listen to her at all.

“The company needs? The company needs you to give the company’s interests to others?”

He looked at Evelyn Davis sarcastically, especially he thought of what John Davis said to him, and that even made him feel angry.

“Nora Davis, is it because I am too petting you and it will make you have the illusion that you can do whatever you want? I tell you. Hawk Group is Hawk Group. Don’t try to use the resources of the Hawk Group to supplement your family!”

Evelyn Davis listened to this and her face turned pale.

“I never thought of subsidizing Davis Group at all. I said I don’t know about it at all. If I knew, I would never go to negotiate with Lowell Group!”

She looked at Lucas Hawk with some tears in her eyes. She was filled with grievances.

Lucas Hawk saw the grievances in her eyes, feeling a little moved.

But he thought that Evelyn Davis might pretend that on purpose to let him softhearted, so he was even more angry, forcing himself to calm down.

“I don’t care if you know it. You tell John Davis it’s absolutely impossible!”

After he said that, he stared at Evelyn Davis coldly and continued, “Don’t get involved in this matter any more. There are already many people in the company who are dissatisfied with you. If anything happens, you will lose your job and you can’t be a designer anymore in the company! ”

After Evelyn Davis heard this, she held her chopsticks tightly, and because of it, her fingertips turned pale. She was so sad and it was like that her heart was caught tightly by an invisible big hand, making her breathing difficult.

She could feel that Lucas Hawk didn’t trust her at all.

Especially, this matter was about John Davis, so she couldn’t explain it clearly.

“Sorry, I’ve caused you so much trouble. I won’t get involved in the company’s decision-making in the future, and I will be in my position and be a designer.”

She took a deep breath, looked at Lucas Hawk and made her promises.

Lucas Hawk listened to these words, feeling some weird and strange somehow.

He frowned slightly. When he was about to say something, Evelyn Davis stood up without giving him any chances.

“I’m finished. Enjoy yourself.”

After she said, she left the dining room directly.

Lucas Hawk looked at her back, and suddenly he was a little mad.

He originally intended to say something to comfort her, but at this time it was even impossible to say it. He even felt that Evelyn Davis was haughty because of his love.

However, he didn’t know that Evelyn Davis didn’t mean it at all.

After Evelyn Davis left the dining room, she didn’t return to the room but walked out of Hawk’s House.

At this time, she didn’t want to stay in Hawk’s House. She was afraid she could not help crying in front of Lucas Hawk.

She felt wronged.

She considered everything for the company, but no matter how she explained it, as long as it involved Davis family and John Davis, Lucas Hawk thought she was helping Davis family make profit.

With that, she finally couldn’t hold back the tears and cried out.

She thought of what happened during this time. It seemed that no matter where she was, she was always the one who was suspected and abandoned.

No matter how hard she tried and how she proved herself, the final result had never changed.

For a moment, she felt tired as never before.

She was tired of such a life.

She walked along the road, looking forward with tears. However, she didn't know where to go.

She even began to miss her previous life.

At that time, her mother had not had an accident. Although they were poor, they were warm and happy.

With these warm memories, she felt less uncomfortable, but she missed her mother more.

However, she knew that it was impossible for John Davis to take her to the hospital at this time, so she took a taxi and went to the rental house where she lived with her mother.

The rental house was in the old town. Although it was simple, everything in the room was arranged by her and her mother.

Evelyn Davis stood at the door and looked at the familiar things, and her uneasy heart settled instantly.

She was also more relaxed.

This was her home. It belonged to her and her mother ...

She sighed and looked around, then she went to the bathroom to get a basin of water and started to clean up the house.

Because she didn't come back for a long time, the furniture fell a lot of dust.

After an hour, Evelyn Davis finally finished cleaning, and the sky outside was dark.

But she didn't plan to go back.

She came to the room where she lived with her mother, lying on the bed. She smelled the familiar taste, which finally made her cold heart warm.

It was as if her mother was with her.

She just curled up quietly, but she couldn't sleep.

At the same time, Hawk's House.

Lucas Hawk stood up after dinner and he went back to the room, but he did not see Evelyn Davis, so he asked the steward.

"Mrs. Hawk went out just now."

The steward answered truthfully, but Lucas Hawk frowned.

He didn't expect that Evelyn Davis was so naive to play this kind of game with him. He became even more angry.

"Mr. Hawk, do you want to send someone to find Mrs. Hawk?"

The steward watched him angry, and asked carefully.

Lucas Hawk looked up at him and squinted: "No."

In his opinion, Evelyn Davis went out from here, and she must return to Davis' house, so he was not in a hurry to find her.

...

The next day, Lucas Hawk woke up and he found that there was no person around him. Somehow, he was not used to it.

He sat on the bed, and looked at the place belonged to Evelyn Davis for a few seconds, then he went to wash his face with vexation.

Half an hour later, after eating, he originally planned to go to the company, but he asked the driver to divert and went to the b.ranch to inspect.

He soon arrived at the b.ranch, and Freya Lee was already waiting for him at the door.

She followed Lucas Hawk and reported the situation of the company to him.

Lucas Hawk listened to her and took her to the design department.

“Good morning, boss.”

Everyone in the design department saw him and stopped their work to stand up and say hello.

Lucas Hawk looked around, but he did not see the person he wanted to see, so he was a little annoyed

Because of his bad expression, it made the already nervous design department overwhelmed. They looked at each other, wondering why their president became angry so suddenly.

Freya Lee also noticed that the atmosphere was wrong, then she looked up at Lucas Hawk.

“Boss, is there anything wrong?”

She asked carefully.

Lucas Hawk reacted, but he held back his annoyance and said coldly, “No.”

After that, he turned away from the design department and walked towards the office.

Freya Lee quickly caught up to him.

After they entered the office, Lucas Hawk asked about the progress of the protective clothing.

“The order is already in the design, but the most important thing is the fabric problem at the moment. We have got news that Lowell Group does not plan to sell this fabric.”

Freya Lee answered truthfully.

Lucas Hawk listened to her, and his fingers knocked the desktop from time to time.

“Apart from Lowell Group, is there no other company producing this kind of fabric in our country?”

Freya Lee shook her head.

“None of the companies in our country products this kind of fabric, except Lowell, unless we look abroad.”

Speaking of this, she looked up at Lucas Hawk and saw him thinking thoughtfully, and she continued: “According to my investigation, in abroad, there are some companies producing this kind of fabric, but the price is generally high, and the performance of the fabric is almost the same as Lowell Group, and even almost worse than Lowell Group. ”

Lucas Hawk frowned after he heard this.

“Show me the orders of this item.”

Freya Lee did not dare to let him wait too long and she immediately asked the secretary to send detailed information.

“Cater Wood, you can convert this order based on foreign prices. Can we take the order and how much will it cost?”

Lucas Hawk did not look through the detailed information, but ordered Cater Wood to do it.

Cater Wood nodded and looked at the information.

However, after he looked, he became more gravely.

“Boss, we may not be able to finish the order.”

After a few minutes, he looked gravely.

After Lucas Hawk heard it, he frowned and looked at Cater Wood in surprise.

Cater Wood immediately explained: “Aside from our current shortage of fabrics, this is a mass production, our company can’t complete it alone.”

Lucas Hawk squinted and he remembered what Evelyn Davis said to him last night.

“Why did this happen?”

The assistant heard and he told Lucas Hawk the current situation of the company: “Although our company has several production lines, including those that cooperate with others, the quantity of the order is too large. Even if all our production lines produce all day and all night, we may not complete within the time specified by the other party, unless outsourcing continues. ”

Lucas Hawk’s heart sank when she saw that.

He glanced at Freya Lee and asked in a cold voice.

“Why didn’t anyone report it to me?”

Freya Lee stunned and quickly replied, “JI Yi reported it yesterday that the Lowell company had asked for half of the production to be outsourced to them, so they were willing to provide the materials. I discussed it with the management this morning and found it feasible. I was just about to report to you.”

Lucas Hawk stared at her and didn’t say anything.

Freya Lee couldn’t figure out what he was thinking, so she went on explaining.

“I have thought that Lowell company is the top apparel manufacturer in China. Their manufacturers can guarantee both production and quality, and we can make the required quantity within the specified time with their participation, so that we don’t have to pay the penalty.”

Lucas Hawk could confirm that Evelyn Davis was talking to him about business last night and didn’t try to make a profit for the Davis family.

And every consideration she made was for the sake of the company, but he said something so outrageous...

There was an indescribable complexity in his mind.

“Since then, do it as Nora’s suggestion.” He said distractedly, pulling at his bow tie.

Freya Lee was a little surprised.

Wasn't Ji Yi in charge of this?

Lucas Hawk added before she could say anything, "Since we want to work together, make it clear to the Lowell company that we want them to do it within the time that the customer wants."

Freya Lee could only nod.

Then Lucas Hawk gave a few more instructions and left with Carter Wood.

As he got out of the elevator, Ji Yi came in through the company gate.

She was surprised as Lucas Hawk approached with a grim face.

"Lucas, are you at work?"

She took the initiative to say hello and the smile on her face frozen before it was fully aroused.

Lucas Hawk didn't even look at her as he walked past her.

She watched in disbelief as Lucas Hawk walked away.

She didn't know that Lucas Hawk was thinking about Evelyn Davis' face when she left last night.

...

At the same time, in the rental house.

Evelyn Davis spent the night in the rental house and still didn't want to leave.

She cleaned up what she had left unfinished yesterday, ordered takeout and sat on the sofa.

Then she grabbed her phone and began to read the foreign design forum.

The phone started vibrating as soon as she got into the account.

The page prompted her that there were a lot of people to give her comments.

She glanced around and clicked on the homepage.

She had millions of fans on her page.

“Gosh, lots of fans.”

She couldn't help exclaiming when she saw the number, and she couldn't help scrolling down to find a lot of comments.

“Long, when will your design go on sale?”

“I love your design. It's so excellent!”

“Long, why haven't you been sending designs lately?”

“Oh my god, Long, you can't break the update. We want the latest design.”

“I want to see the latest designs for inspiration.”

Evelyn Davis's pent-up feelings slowly dissipated when she saw the messages.

Her red lips, which had been so tightly pressed, began to curl slightly.

She couldn't help laughing when she saw many new designers playing cute for her latest designs, and she also thought about the latest designs.

Suddenly she thought of something. Then She quit the homepage and found a design drawing from the photo album of the phone design drawing, edited it and sent it to the homepage of the forum.

After it was sent, her phone started vibrating again less than five minutes.

“Long, are you back?”

“Oh, my god, this is a great design.”

“Yes, I really want to buy one for my boyfriend.”

“Long, when do you have your fashion show?”

A lot of comments immediately appeared under the design drawing.

It had even attracted many famous designers.

They reviewed Evelyn Davis's design with professional quality.

"The style is very new and it breaks the definition of men's wear."

"Indeed, the pop elements were added to it are also very harmonious."

"You have said all I want to say, and now I can only praise her. It seems that Long has made great progress in her studies during her absence."

Evelyn Davis was really happy to see the comments.

She replied one by one, and she felt that she was a designer and not Nora Davis in the company who was questioned and denied everything she did at this time.

As she was communicating with her predecessors, a private message popped up.

It's from Aaron Miller.

"I didn't expect you to publish on the forum."

Evelyn Davis replied "Yes."

A moment later, Aaron Miller sent another message.

"In a bad mood."

Not questions, but affirmations.

When Evelyn Davis saw that, she was suddenly moved.

She was in a good mood when she replied, but Aaron Miller still felt it.

"A little." She responded.

No sooner had the message send out than Aaron Miller called.

"Why are you in a bad mood?"

Aaron Miller asked with concern.

“Nothing. Something happened at home.”

Evelyn Davis didn't want to say much, so she simply responded.

Aaron Miller couldn't help worrying, “Is it serious? Can I help you?”

Evelyn Davis was stunned. She knew that Aaron Miller had misunderstood and laughed. “it's not serious. It's just something unhappy. Just forget it.”

Aaron Miller knew he was thinking too much, and he stopped asking questions and changed the subject.

“Do you want to go abroad for a break? A designer conference will be held recently and you can get to know some her predecessors if you come.”

Evelyn Davis was stunned and didn't immediately respond as if she was thinking.

Aaron Miller continued, “You don't have to answer immediately and you can think about it for a while. I just think it's a rare opportunity, and it will help you in your future design career.”

Evelyn Davis thought that she would benefit from attending such an exchange.

In particular, she was free now.

It's good for her to leave Lucas Hawk, so she didn't get bogged down.

It was time for her to focus on her career so that she would be able to take care of her mother when Nora Davis came back.

Evelyn Davis had a decision in mind.

“Aaron Miller, please sign me up. I'll go.”

Aaron Miller nodded, “ok, I'll arrange it for you. You can set off as soon as you are ready. The meeting is at the weekend.”

Evelyn Davis nodded, and they talked for a while before hanging up.

After the phone hung up, Evelyn Davis planned to return to Hawk's house to pack up.
