0 5 minutes read

As Evelyn returned, Vivian and Envy sat face to face in a cafe in the urban area.

“Have you heard that Nora that b!tch quarreled with Lucas and ran out last night.”

She saw Vivian stirring the coffee in a good mood.

As her words finished, Envy was surprised.

“Really?”

She didn't believe it and looked at Vivian.

Vivian looked back at her and raised her eyebrows, “What? You don't believe me?”

When Envy saw her expression, she believed it.

Then Vivian continued to say: “Truthfully, the woman is really a b!tch, but it 's okay. When she does enough, Lucas will be tired of her someday.”

She finished talking and looked at Envy.

Envy just smiled and did not respond.

Vivian compressed her mouth and urged, “You get along with Lucas every day and night, you should find a lot of opportunities to get closer with him, otherwise you will take a long time to enter the door of our house. ”

Envy was surprised when she heard this.

After all, Vivian's attitude towards her was not this way.

Holding her coffee cup quietly and taking a sip, she responded: “Thank you for reminding me, I will find more opportunities.”

Vivian looked at her unhurried behavior and felt that she did not listen to her words.

After sitting for a while, she directly asked to leave.

After she left, Envy didn't stay longer, and got up and returned to the Hawk Group.

In the afternoon, Envy looked at Lucas, who was devoted to his work, and could not help recalling what Vivian had said to her at noon.

"Lucas, do you want to have a meal together at night, just to discuss the details of the project."

She smiled and sent the invitation, but Lucas stared at the computer without any response.

Envy thought that Lucas was too involved in work and did not hear what she said.

She didn't know that the reason why Lucas was staring at the computer not at work, but in a daze.

His computer page displayed the homepage of Evelyn in a fashion design forum abroad.

The latest news above was the new design that Evelyn just issued.

That design was a set of men's clothing with many elements on it, which looked better than the women's clothing that she designed before.

It seemed that it was designed by her to someone especially?

Underneath this design, there was a rumor of appreciation.

"Is long falling in love? Why did she suddenly start designing men's clothes?"

"Yeah, I find it strange too."

"I think the upstairs is right, the average female designer starts to design male style, most of them are in love."

“I don’t care if long is in love, I want to know if this type is authorized?”

“Same as above, if long is not authorized, our company will discuss the copyright with you.”

After reading those comments one by one, he suddenly felt an inexplicable emotion in his heart, making him unable to tell what it was like.

Envy didn’t know this. When she saw Lucas didn’t respond, she got up and went to Lucas’s desk.

She tapped on the table and said again: “Lucas, would you like to have dinner together at night?”

Then Lucas reacted, he was looking up at Envy, his eyes were puzzled.

“What happened?”

Envy heard the words, and was a little bit confused, but still said it again patiently.

“Let’s have dinner together in the evening and talk about the details of the project by the way.”

Lucas frowned, glanced at the design on the computer somehow, compressed his lips and said, “Not tonight, I still have something tonight and need to go back.”

Seeing this, Envy flashed a loss in her eyes, but she was quickly covered up.

“Okay, let’s date next time.”

Lucas nodded.

Uh ...

In the evening after work, Lucas packed up and drove back to home.

On the way, he had been wondering if Evelyn had returned.

When he got to the new house, he didn’t rush to go upstairs, but greeted the housekeeper to ask.

“Is Mrs back?”

The steward responded: “She is back.”

Lucas suddenly felt relieved when he heard this.

He waved his hand and let the housekeeper away, and he went upstairs by himself.

He didn't expect that when he came to the room, he found Evelyn was packing her luggage inside.

“What are you doing?”

He glanced at the suitcase beside Evelyn's feet, and his face sank.

Evelyn heard this voice suddenly stunned.

She looked at Lucas who appeared at the door, and her attitude was very calm.

“You're back.”

In her indifferent greeting, there's alienation in her tone.

Lucas listened and frowned, he asked again: “What are you doing to pack your luggage?”

Was it because of what he said yesterday that this woman was going to run away from him with anger.

He thought of this, and looked at her for a moment.

Evelyn didn't know what he thought, but she still noticed his discomfort to some extent.

“Here, a designer exchange meeting will be held abroad. Aaron asked me to attend. I want to see it and self-training once.”

She responded softly, her eyes calmly looking at Lucas: “This is also an opportunity, I want to take it well, can you let me go?”

Lucas saw that she was calmly discussing with himself, somehow, he could not say what he wanted to refuse.

But if he agreed in this way, he always felt that there would be something missing between the two.

When he was silent, Evelyn misunderstood.

“If you disagree, forget it.”

She said, taking out the packed luggage from the trunk again, her face was tight, and she was obviously very unhappy.

“No, if you want to go, just go.”

When Lucas saw the unhappiness on her face, and somehow he just said it.

Maybe he didn't want to make her unhappy, or maybe it was to make up for yesterday.

When Evelyn heard these words, she first hesitated before responding.

She was a little puzzled. She didn't know why the man suddenly changed his mind, but she still thanked him with a light look.

“Thank you.”

After that, she started packing again.

Lucas listened to her indifferent thankfulness, and then looked at the back of her packing. Somehow, he was very upset.

He stared tightly at Evelyn, hoping that this woman could say something more.

But Evelyn did not pay attention to his changes at all, and concentrated on packing her things.

Lucas looked at her and became unhappy faintly.

It was like being ignored by someone he cared about.

He thought of this, and suddenly he became stiff.

He even wanted this woman's attention?

He's crazy!

He stared at Evelyn's back in disbelief, shaking his head in his heart to reject the idea.

It was probably the first time he was treated indifferently.

He made an excuse for himself. Although he felt better, he was still a little unhappy.

Because of the indifference of Evelyn, he didn't like this feeling very much.

He always felt that something was changing, and beyond his control.

Lucas Hawk wanted to leave, but he could not.

Meanwhile, Evelyn Davis' luggage was packed.

She pulled the luggage and passed Lucas Hawk with a cold look on her face.

"Where are you going?"

Lucas Hawk grabbed her wrist without thinking and asked.

"I'll leave my luggage in the guest room."

Evelyn Davis responded with a cold voice as she tried to pull out her hand, but it she failed.

"Can you let me go?"

She looked at Lucas Hawk with a slight frown and asked softly.

Lucas Hawk didn't move but glared at her unpleasantly.

“Why did you leave your luggage in the guest room? Are you still angry with me?”

Something flashed in her eyes when Evelyn Davis heard that, but she quickly turned it down.

“No.”

Trying to sound naturally, she said again, “Will you let me go first?”

“No.”

Lucas Hawk responded thoughtlessly and pushed her to the wall.

The heavy luggage fell off from Evelyn Davis’ hands with a loud noise.

But no one cared.

Evelyn Davis even didn’t notice because her eyes were full of the person in front of her.

She didn’t expect Lucas Hawk did that.

“What are you doing?”

Lucas Hawk looked at Evelyn Davis. He leaned in and sprayed her face with a warm breath that instantly revived her.

“I didn’t do anything. Just let me go.”

She struggled with panic in the face of the man close at hand.

Lucas Hawk held her so that she could not free herself.

Evelyn Davis was annoyed.

“What do you want?”

She couldn’t resist staring up at Lucas Hawk.

“I should have asked you that. What do you want?”

Lucas Hawk glanced back at her. Then he seemed to think of something. He saw the suitcase lying on the ground and said, "Now I suspect that studying abroad is an excuse for you to leave home."

Evelyn Davis didn't expect Lucas Hawk would think that. She just laughed.

"Why should I run away, and am I entitled to run away?"

She responded with anger in her eyes.

"I studied abroad to make preparations to avoid being thrown out of the company."

Of course, she wouldn't tell Lucas Hawk that she was going abroad also to avoid him.

Even though she didn't say anything, Lucas Hawk felt it.

"So, you're still angry."

He couldn't help chuckling, and amused by the duplicity of Evelyn Davis.

Evelyn Davis had no idea what he was laughing about. But she felt embarrassed to be told what she was thinking.

"I said I wasn't angry."

She pushed Lucas Hawk away again, angry and ashamed.

"Get out of the way, I have a lot of things to pack... ."

Before she could finish speaking, Lucas Hawk's handsome face suddenly zoomed in on her.

She widened her eyes and stared at Lucas with amazement.

The touch on her lips held her still for a long time.

Lucas Hawk closed his eyes and kissed her, he was getting madder and madder, sucking her tongue and rolling all over her mouth.

Not knowing how long it passed, Evelyn Davis finally returned to herself.

Her eyes glowed with complexity and anger at the Lucas Hawk.

She didn't know why did he kiss her right now.

Why would he do that when they were arguing?

Especially when she thought of the unkind words he had uttered the day before, her throbbing heart chilled.

He hissed...

Lucas Hawk had been enjoying himself when a sharp pain shot through his lip, which made him let go of Evelyn Davis, and the smell of rust spread through his mouth.

Evelyn Davis was stunned to see the beads of blood rising from his lips.

"Sorry, I didn't mean to. It's just that I'm not in the mood to do that with you right now, so if you want to go to the bathroom, or..."

Evelyn Davis didn't finish, but Lucas Hawk understood.

He was angry and helpless.

The woman let him go out and had sex with someone else just because she was angry.

"Nora Davis, I'll give you another chance to say it again."

He held up Evelyn Davis' chin and made her look at him.

Evelyn Davis suddenly felt grievance as she looked at him, then her eyes turning red.

"What do you want me to say?"

She choked up. She didn't want to cry in front of him, but she couldn't help it.

Lucas Hawk was confused by her sudden tears and wiped them for her.

"Well, don't say anything."

He coaxed Evelyn Davis and apologized subconsciously.

“It’s was my fault last night. I was wrong to blame you for something I didn’t understand. I apologize.”

As he spoke, Evelyn Davis froze.

She looked at Lucas Hawk in tears as if she didn’t expect him to apologize, but she became more upset.

She did not stop but kept crying because of that.

“You don’t believe me when you say I helped the Davis family.”

She couldn’t help telling her grievance.

Lucas Hawk had to cuddle her in his arms.

“It’s my fault. I apologize. It won’t happen again.”

The anger that Evelyn Davis had been holding back as she listened to him finally dissipated, but she couldn’t stop the tears.

Finally she fell asleep in Lucas Hawk’s arms.

...

The next day, Evelyn Davis woke up alone in the room.

She felt lost but relieved.

Memories of the night were playing back in her head.

She didn’t expect that she would fall asleep in the arms of the Lucas Hawk, which made her feel ashamed.

As she repented, the door was suddenly opened.

“Now that you’re up, go downstairs and have meal. I’ll take you to the airport later.”

Lucas Hawk spoke faintly to Evelyn Davis.

Lucas Hawk spoke to Evelyn Davis as if nothing had happened.

Although she was embarrassed, she still nodded and got up.

After a while, they went downstairs to dinner.

Evelyn Davis was silent during the meal and wondered if it was because of last night.

Lucas Hawk sensed her shame and didn't mention the thing, then helped her carry her luggage and took her to the airport.

Approaching the boarding time, he told her, "Pay attention to safety in foreign countries. Let me know if you have anything."

Evelyn Davis nodded and was moved by his words.

She finally landed after a five-hour flight.

Aaron Miller was already waiting outside when Evelyn Davis walked out of the airport with her luggage.

"Nora, I'm here."

He waved to Evelyn Davis so that she could find him in the crowd.

Then they got in the car and Aaron Miller took Evelyn Davis to the hotel.

Evelyn Davis didn't wash immediately after entering the room, but called Lucas Hawk to report her whereabouts.

Hawk's company,

Lucas Hawk, in the middle of a meeting, saw her numbers on the phone, and then he motioned for the higher-ups, who were reporting, to pause.

"Carter Wood, take the notes and I'll review later."

He picked up his phone and headed for the conference room.

As he left, the senior leaders below could not resist whispering to each other.

There was a bold guy asking Carter Wood.

“Mr. Wood, is our President in love?”

There were a lot of people looking at Carter Wood when they heard that. “I think so. Have you noticed that the President’s mouth was broken today? As someone who has lived through it, I’m sure the CEO didn’t bite it himself.”

“We all know. You don’t have to say that.”

As the executives talked, Carter Wood discovered for the first time that the executives at Hawk company were far from being cool as they appeared.

“Ahem... I know you care about the President, but this is his business. Let’s talk about the company first, otherwise, we will all be in trouble when the President comes back and the data is not in order.”

Carter Wood’s gentle cough was a reminder that their chief executive’s gossip was not easy to be searched.

They reacted and returned to work to report back, but they always felt curious.

Lucas Hawk didn’t know anything about this.

He went out of the meeting room and answered the phone on the balcony.

“Are you there?”

He asked, smiling.

“Yes, I’m at the hotel.”

Evelyn Davis talked about her while Lucas listened.

At last, he told her again, “Don’t run around abroad yourself. Be safe.”

Evelyn Davis felt warm as he told her so much.

“I know it.”

They talked for a while before hanging up.

Lucas Hawk took back his cell phone and headed for the conference room with a grin on his face.

When he entered the meeting room, everyone looked at him.

Lucas Hawk didn't notice anything unusual at first, but as time went on, he noticed that many of the senior leaders in the room were always looking at the wound in his mouth, which made him suddenly uncomfortable and confused.

But he didn't say anything and finished the meeting as usual.

After the meeting, he returned to his office.

As he was working, Envy Miller came over with a document.

"Lucas, look at this document. If it's okay, sign... it"

She hesitated at the last word because she saw the wound in Lucas Hawk's mouth.

"What happened to your mouth?"

She questioned him on purpose as if she didn't know it.

Lucas Hawk didn't notice anything strange on her face either.

He touched his lips, and could not help thinking of last night with a spoiled smile.

"Bitten by a cat."

Evelyn Davis looked like an angry cat to him.

Envy Miller looked at the sweet smile on his face and found it especially harsh.

Jealousy flitted across her eyes, and the fingers holding the papers were white with force. "Is that so? Don't forget to take the medicine. Feral cats at this time of year carry the virus."

After she finished, she showed her anxiety and continued, "Otherwise, I will take you to the hospital to get a vaccine later."

Lucas Hawk, of course, couldn't agree.

"I took care of it last night."

Then he did not want to bring it up again, and moved on to the papers she had just handed him.

After hanging up the phone and washing up, Evelyn tidied up her luggage in her room.

After a night off, her routine returned to normal.

By noon, Aaron Miller came over from work to pick her up for lunch.

They talked about the exchange meeting during the dinner.

"You don't need to be too nervous about this Milan meeting. The main purpose of the party is to make friends with the masters here. It's a good time to show you in the fashion circle and make contacts for your future career."

Aaron Miller introduced Evelyn Davis to the main purpose of the meeting.

Evelyn Davis listened attentively.

Aaron Miller told Evelyn Davis everything he knew, he also gave directions to Evelyn Davis.

"You might be able to get a few directions from your predecessors if you're lucky, which is definitely a benefit."

Evelyn Davis nodded.

Indeed, experience is a valuable asset for designers.

Especially masters who had been famous for a long time, had a unique eye for spotting problems that could take years to spot.

"You are right. I just hope that there are as many of these opportunities as possible to save me from detours."

She jokingly responded to Aaron Miller.

After the meal, Aaron Miller offered to take her on a tour of the company.

Evelyn Davis said yes.

Although RC was a new brand in foreign countries, its internal culture was very unique.

Evelyn Davis also benefited from this visit.

When she got back, she kept thinking about what Aaron Miller had said and what she thought after her visit to Aaron Miller's company.

Suddenly an inspiration came to her, and she could not wait to draw it.

Evelyn Davis flipped through her backpack. She was trying to grab her picture book and pen, but instead she found a USB flash drive.

She looked at the USB drive with wonder and strangeness in her eyes.

Because she didn't remember it in her stuff.

Besides, how come it's in her bag if it's not hers?

She was puzzled.

Did Lucas Hawk put it in her bag?

She studied the USB stick, and she suddenly had this thought, which she soon denied the speculation.

It shouldn't be Lucas Hawk's.

She had never seen Lucas Hawk use any of these, and if he had any files they were kept by Carter Wood.

All of a sudden, she was curious about the USB drive.

She couldn't resist moving the computer over, then plugged the USB drive into the computer to know what was inside.

But the USB drive not only had a password, it also looked high-end.

It's the kind of code that required you to grab your password from a pile of codes, and there was a time limit.

She tried several times, but failed.

She stared blankly at the warning dialog box on the computer screen, and convinced that the USB drive was not hers.

She never used such kind of advanced thing.

Seeing this,Evelyn got even more puzzled.

How could such a high-level thing be in her bag since it was not hers?

She couldn't figure it out. At last,she decided not to think about it any more.She put the U disk away.

At the same time,in the bas.ement of a casino in the far away Country E,though there were shouts of gamblers upstairs all around,if listened carefully,it could still be found that there was a painful gr0an in these voices.

"I'll ask you again.Where is it?"

In a dark space,only a white light shone the middle of the room.

Over there,a man was tied to a stake,with wounds all over his body.

Red bl00d kept falling down to the ground drop by drop.

If Evelyn was here,she would surely find that the bound man was the black man who had hit her in the coffee shop that day.

"I don't know..."

This black man answered feebly.

As soon as he said this,the faces of those who were hiding in the dark became very cold.

“Since it was you who took it out,how could you not know where it is now?Do you think we will believe that?”

He stared at the black man with a cold face and said in a deep voice,“Keep beating him.I’ll see how tough he can be.”

It was almost the moment when his words fell,the sound of flogging was heard again in the room,and the man was gr0aning with pain.

Meanwhile,the door of the room was suddenly opened.A seemingly subordinate person stood at the door and said respectfully,“Boss,there’s news about the U disk.”

When the boss heard this,he stood up immediately.

“Where is it?”

He asked fiercely,and his men dared not answer slowly.

“Just now we received the signal from the U disk and located it.The U disk is now in Milan.”

“Milan?”

The leader’s face became gloomy,as if he had not expected that it would be so far.

“You should bring someone over now.You must bring it back!”

He said in a cold voice.Then,as if thinking of something,his eyes flashed with bl00dthirsty light,“As for those who saw or used it,if necessary,they should disappear from this world!”

“Yes!”

His men answered.

“Remember,do it quickly.Don’t let anyone find us.”

At last,the leader did not forget to remind his men.

They understood,and turned to leave.

As for Evelyn, she had no idea that the U-disk that she didn't know would cause such a disaster to her.

She put the U-disk away, and then devoted herself to the creation.

The next day, Aaron came to see her early.

"How's your living here? Do you feel alright?"

He was concerned and then asked.

"Yes, you can take a seat first. I will change my clothes and go out."

Evelyn greeted Aaron to sit in the living room and entered the room by herself.

After a while, she came out in a light blue dress.

After praising, Aaron talked about today's itinerary with Evelyn.

"The seminar is held in the evening. I'll take you to play around first, and then we'll go modeling at four in the afternoon. What do you think?"

Evelyn shrugged and joked, "Since this is your country, I will listen to you. I just want to learn."

Aaron laughed. They just went out after they talked and laughed for a while.

He didn't go where was far with Evelyn. Instead, he led her around the shopping malls and pointed out the popular trend in Europe and America in recent years.

While wandering and chatting, Evelyn benefited a lot about both creation and management.

"I feel that this trip abroad is so good. It's almost equal to my previous one month's course."

After half a day, Evelyn sighed with happiness.

Aaron looked back at her and said with a smile, "This is just the old saying of your country that there is no end to learning. Right?"

Evelyn looked at him in astonishment, as if she was very shocked that he said such a thing.

"Aaron, I feel that you are more and more skilled at speaking our language now."

She joked, and then they talked for a while, and it was almost time to prepare.

Aaron went to the company with Evelyn and styled her on his own.

He asked his assistant to go to his office and pick up a red strapless blazer.

It could be said that the moment when the dress appeared, Evelyn was amazed.

There was no other reason. This piece almost combined Eastern and Western culture, and the color of the clothing itself broke through the light tone all the time. It boldly was made with red color.

It was colorful but not vulgar. Of course, it was more selective.

"This is my newly designed dress. You can try it."

Aaron did not see the astonishment in Evelyn's eyes. At the moment when the clothes were taken out, she was asked to try them.

"Can I?"

Evelyn returned to her mind. In her eyes, there were happiness and desire to wear it. But she was also afraid that she would not be able to show the essence of this clothes.

"Of course you can. I feel that, besides you, nobody can be able to control it."

In fact, he didn't say that the dress was inspired by her previous retro design.

Evelyn didn't know about it, but after getting his affirmation, she was no longer modest and took his clothes to the dressing room.

In a few moments, the door of the changing room was opened, and she walked out with the full dress on.

All of a sudden, there were sounds of breathing in the whole dressing room, and everyone's eyes flashed with amazement.

They saw Evelyn's snow-white skin shining more and more crystal clear under the red clothes, and her slender waist was straight.

The embroidery pattern of gold and silver silk thread at the skirt seemed to be pretty with her walking.

Especially she was standing still. If it was not for the modern office, it was easy to be regarded as the noble lady at the end of last century.

"As expected, this suit suits you very well!"

Aaron took the lead in returning to his spirit. He looked at Evelyn with appreciation.

With his words falling, there were many compliments around.

Evelyn was almost embarrassed by their praise, but it had to be admitted that the dress, both in size and style, was very suitable for her.

She looked at her beautiful self in the mirror. Not knowing why, she thought of Lucas.

She asked Aaron to take a picture for her and sent it to Lucas without thinking.

At this time, Lucas was working overtime at the company. When he heard the sound of cell phone, he saw that it was a message from Evelyn.

When his message was opened, he couldn't help but feel refreshed by the contents.

He saw the photos of Evelyn in the mobile phone. The rose red tight skirt not only perfectly set off her skin, but also made her look more like the queen and more amazing.

Lucas looked at it, and even he himself didn't find that now his eyes were full of gentleness.

But when he looked at the cell phone as if it were a factory page, he thought of Cater's cell phone screen that he had accidentally scanned, and he always felt that he had something missing.

Lucas frowned and fiddled with his mobile phone. He didn't feel satisfied until he set Evelyn's photo as his desktop wallpaper.

Lucas looked at the mobile phone with satisfaction, and really planned to lay down and resume work. But the phone rang suddenly.

He glanced at the note above, his brows could not help but frown.

He saw that the call was from Mo Zhui.

"What happened?"

"Lucas, the group of people you're staring at has acted."

Mo Zhui reported on the phone the situation on his side. Lucas could not help but become gloomy when he heard his words.

"What did they do?"

Mo Zhui responded: "Our people here have found that they have sent someone to Milan."

He said so, then he thought of something again, and asked: "Brother, have you been in China for the past two days, haven't you been out?"

Lucas frowned.

"I have always been in China."

Mo Zhui heard this and made a sigh of relief.

"It's good, so they are not for you."

He was grateful, but reminded Lucas.

He saw Lucas's expression changed instantly and his heart sank.

"I'm not in Milan, but your sister-in-law is in Milan!"

When Mo Zhui heard this, the smile at the corner of his mouth froze instantly.

"Shouldn't it be such a coincidence, right? And what can she have relations with that group?"

He tried to hold on to luck, but Lucas didn't believe there was luck in this world.

"If there is any relations or not, it's not up to you or me. Take someone to Milan now, and I'll be there later. Before I arrive, make sure Nora is not in danger!"

He sternly commanded, and Mo Zhui didn't dare to make fun, and immediately prepared for this.

As he hung up the phone, Lucas couldn't continue to handle the work anymore. As long as he thought that Nora would be in a dangerous state, his heart was very worried.

"Cater, come in."

He pressed inside line and called Cater in: "Give me the fastest flight to Milan."

After saying this, he had started packing.

Although Cater was confused, he also noticed his solemn face and did not dare to neglect it, so he also followed immediately.

It was just a phone call, Cater booked a ticket.

"President, the air ticket has been arranged, the plane will be in an hour, do you pass now or ..."

Before he finished speaking, he was interrupted by Lucas with his deep voice: "Send me now."

Cater nodded and turned to go to the garage to drive.

But the two didn't expect that when they walked out the office, they met Envy.

"Lucas, are you going to come off work?"

She looked at Lucas joyfully: "Would you like to go with me?"

Lucas glanced at her, and apologized, "I'm sorry, Envy. I need to go abroad immediately for something. You can go back by yourself."

After the words were over, he gave Cater a look and hurriedly walked towards the elevator.

Envy looked at the back of his anxious departure, frowning, his heart full of doubts.

She thought that nothing could make Lucas like that, who had always been calm, anxious.

Uh ...

At the same time, the Milan Designers Conference was held at 7pm on time at the Castle Hotel in Ireland.

When Aaron arrived with Evelyn, many people had already arrived at the hotel.

The long streets were already full of vehicles, and many reporters were squatting around.

Aaron took the lead to get out of the car, and then he gently came to Evelyn's side and opened the door for her to hold her off.

As they appeared, the reporters all around were attracted by the beauty of Evelyn.

"Oh my god, this oriental doll is so beautiful!"

"Hurry up, take a picture, this is definitely the brightest being tonight."

“I’ve never seen anyone wear a bloody red dress so stunning! Who is this woman?” Evelyn listened to the discussion around her, subconsciously straightened her back, but stiff.

She was nervous and timid inside.

Because of this grand exchange meeting, she had never participated in it before, and she was worried that she would make some mistakes.

Aaron felt her nervousness, he was comforting her: “Don’t be nervous, just look it as take part in a school discussion.”

Evelyn also knew that the more nervous she was, the more likely she was to do bad things, and she was trying to mediate herself.

When they entered the banquet hall, Evelyn had adjusted herself.

At this time, she and Aaron had become a striking pair in the entire banquet hall.

Not to mention the appearance of the two, it was Evelyn’s dress that surprised a lot of people.

It can be said that tonight’s Evelyn was too beautiful.

Later, many designers came to greet Aaron who were familiar with him.

Each time Aaron will generously introduce them to Evelyn’s identity.

Especially, when he said Evelyn’s identity on the forum, he surprised those designers.

“Is she really long?”

“Yes, I am long, thank you for your appreciation”

Every time at this time, Evelyn acknowledged generously and talked with them.

Within a quarter of an hour, the entire venue knew that the mysterious long was coming.

Even the organizer, the famous international designer-Martha. Klaus also knew it.

She had always paid special attention to the growth of newcomers in the industry, and the emergence of long was her biggest concern.

Because each long's creation can surprise her, let her conclude that this long's future achievement will never be lower than herself.

She originally wanted to meet long, but unfortunately long in the forum was very mysterious, and there was very little time to go online.

She failed to find her several times, which made her very sad.

She did not expect this meeting, she came.

She walked over happily.

But Evelyn didn't know these.

When she saw Martha. Klaus, she was shocked.

"Mrs. Martha!"

She greeted her quickly and respectfully.

Martha. Klaus waved her hand: "Long, don't be so nervous. I came here to talk to you. I admire the design you create."

Evelyn looked at her in disbelief and couldn't believe that she was praised by the master.

And her expression also made Martha. Klaus feel funny.

"Why, don't you believe me?"

She raised an eyebrow and looked at Evelyn, she was joking.

Evelyn didn't deny it, she nodded honestly.

"It's a bit unbelievable indeed."

Martha saw this, she shook the wine glass with a chuckle and encouraged: “Don’t underestimate yourself, don’t doubt my vision, believe me, with your current talent, as long as you are willing to work hard, your future achievements will never lose anyone present and will be even better than them! ”

Evelyn stunned directly.

She didn’t expect Martha. Klaus’s evaluation of her would be so high, and there’s a sudden surge of emotion in her heart.

But it was pressed by her soon.

“Thank you so much, and I will take you as my goal and strive to create better works.”

She responded modestly, but she did not mean to be modest forever, she also showed her ambition appropriately.

It was also her honest and motivated attitude that made Martha. Klaus couldn’t help but have a completely new appraisal of her, and her heart’s affection for her increased.

“Fine, I wait for you to surpass me!”

Martha. Klaus looked at Evelyn in admiration and drank a toast.

Evelyn felt as if encouraged, she cheers with her and drank the wine in the glass!

Evelyn and Martha. Klaus had a nice talk.

She was even getting more experience from Martha. Klaus.

She also drank a lot of wine.

After the meeting, Evelyn was already in a state of drunkenness, and she can't walk stably.

"Senior Martha, goodbye."

She talked to Martha. Klaus and said goodbye.

Aaron supported her aside, and nodded to Claus and immediately took her away.

He just wanted to leave, but not very successfully.

He said before that Evelyn would be very noisy when she was drunk.

"Who are you, where do you want to go?"

She was so drunk that she didn't know Aaron. She patted Aaron's hand which was holding her, she watched him vigilantly.

Aaron suddenly became speechless.

He did not expect that Evelyn would be so annoying in the end.

"I'm your friend, Aaron."

He answered with a smile, Evelyn blinked and looked at him.

"Oh, I remember, Aaron, that mixed-race handsome man."

She said, immediately put down her defense, she stretched out with a queen's posture: "Go, Aaron, help me return."

Aaron looked at her like this and stepped forward with a smile, intending to help her back first.

Who knew, as soon as he approached, he heard a stretch of breathing.

He saw that Evelyn even fell asleep like this!

Aaron didn't hold back immediately and laughed.

However, he still carried Evelyn back from the venue.

But he didn't send Evelyn back to the hotel, but took her to his apartment.

After all, she was drunk like this, he was not assured that she was alone in the hotel.

When they got home, he let her in the guest room and helped her to take off her shoes and cover the quilt. Then the gentleman exited the room.

Evelyn knew nothing of these and slept extra sweetly in bed.

As Aaron left, he returned to his room to take the shower.

After a while, he came out in his robe, and suddenly remembered that Evelyn was living here tonight, without changing clothes tomorrow morning, so he called his assistant and asked him to pack up her luggage, then took it here.

The assistant took orders and hurried to the hotel.

After arriving at the hotel by car, he went directly to Evelyn's room.

In the room, Evelyn's luggage was still packed. He just needed to organize and take it away.

So within ten minutes, he left the room with her luggage.

He found when he came out of the elevator and there're several lines of sight on him.

He looked around the hotel lobby calmly, and found suspicious characters wandering around the rest area, the gate, and the safe passage.

Even if they pretended that nothing was happening, the assistant could detect that they were staring at him.

Assistant thought for a while and couldn't help but become nervous.

He forced the tension in his heart, calmly carried her luggage out of the hotel, and quickly got on the car.

Those people watched this, they looked at each other, and passed on the message silently.

After a while, he saw several cars coming out of the street and followed the car driven by the assistant.

Although Assistant drove a car, he also paid attention to those suspicious people.

Then he noticed that several cars were following him, and for a while, his face became more serious.

He didn't go to the apartment of Aaron according to the original route. Instead, he took those people around Milan in a smart way, and the people who saw him could not help but wonder.

"Did this guy find us?"

"Don't let him run away, no matter if he find us or not, otherwise the leader will never let us go."

The leader's deep voice ordered, and his face was serious.

While others heard this, they also looked dumb.

Because they thought of the means of the leader, this operation can only be succeed.

Assistant did not know that the person who were following him had made a firm decision.

At this time, he saw that he had hang around for a long time and those people still followed him, he was frowning frantically, picking up his cell phone to call Aaron.

"Director, I may not be able to go there."

He told his troubles, Aaron's face changed suddenly.

"If you can't come here, just forget it, but you have to pay attention to safety, it is best to find ways to get rid of those people."

"Ok, I know."

Assistant responded and had an idea in mind.

Uh ...

The next day, Evelyn didn't know what happened last night.

She woke up with a hangover and got up from bed with a headache.

She found out that she was not in a hotel room, and she was stunned for a moment.

She carefully thought about what happened last night, but found that she had no memory at all, and immediately checked her clothes nervously.

There was nothing strange about her. The clothes were the dresses of last night, but after a night, they became extremely wrinkled.

Just when she was relieved, the door was knocked.

"Nora, are you up?"

Aaron's voice sounded.

Evelyn instantly figured it out. It should be that last night, Aaron should have watched her drunk, he was worried that she was alone in the hotel, so he brought her back.

"I'm up, wait a minute."

She responded with a smile, and immediately got out of bed and simply sorted out herself before leaving the room.

"Aaron, thank you so much for last night."

After she went out, she thanked Aaron embarrassedly.

He smiled and shook his head: "It's nothing, there is still something, I must tell you."

He said, his expression became serious.

Evelyn looked at it, and her heart was a little bit stunned, thinking that she was drunk last night, so she caused some troubles?

"Did I do anything last night?"

She asked carefully, Aaron shook his head and talked about what happened last night.

“Did you offend anyone? Last night, my assistant went to help you get your clothes and was followed by several black people.”

After listening those, Evelyn looked at him blankly.

“I’ve only been here for two or three days. Most of the time I’m in the hotel. I didn’t offend anyone.”

Aaron heard her words and frowned.

“Why would anyone stare at you then?”

He murmured in doubt, and Evelyn was also puzzled.

“Forget it, since the hotel is not safe, you live with me first.”

In the end, Aaron didn’t understand, so he planned to keep Evelyn staying here.

At the same time, Lucas also arrived in Milan.

He immediately rushed to the hotel where Evelyn was staying.

However, when he rushed to the room, he found no one in the room.

And the decorations around him had been turned around, and the mess had made him lift his heart instantly.

He immediately took out his mobile phone to contact Evelyn, he was very worried that he could not contact her.

Fortunately, the phone could get through, so he was slightly relieved.

After a while, the phone was connected, and Evelyn’s soft voice rang out, which made him feel relieved.

“Nora, where are you now?”

She didn’t know that Lucas had arrived in Milan, but she still answered truthfully.

“I’m with Aaron.”

When Lucas heard these words, he was completely relieved.

“Waiting for me, I’m going to find you right now.”

In a word, he hung up the phone and left the hotel.

Evelyn looked at the call hanging up and was still in a daze.

Lucas came here?

Aaron looked at her stupefied look, couldn’t help worrying to ask, “What’s the matter? Is something wrong?”

Evelyn regained her mind and shook her head, “It’s okay, I’m just a bit surprised, my husband has arrived Milan.”

After hearing it, Aaron was also a little surprised, but relieved.

He told Evelyn to go to the restaurant to eat and wait for him.

Just after they finished eating, Lucas arrived at the Aaron’s apartment.

As soon as he entered the door, he stared at Evelyn up and down.

Evelyn sensed his concern and felt warm.

“Why are you here?”

She asked him with happy senses that couldn’t be hidden.

When Lucas saw that she was ok, he was relieved to respond.

“Something happened, I worry about you.”

Lucas didn’t know what to say, he had intended to say it briefly.

However, Evelyn thought of last night.

“Is it because of the gang last night? You know what happened?”

She looked at Lucas in surprise. Aaron, who had not spoken, couldn't help looking at him.

“I know a little something about it.”

Lucas frowned and said what he knew.

“The news I got was they lost something, but I don't know exactly what it was.”

After speaking, he paused and then talked about the present situation.

“I have asked Mo Zhui to lead those people away, but in order to avoid accidents, I must take you home immediately.”

Naturally, Evelyn would not refuse him, but she thought of another thing.

“If we leave, will Aaron be involved in?”

She looked anxiously at Aaron, asking Lucas.

Lucas frowned slightly.

Before Lucas could speak, Aaron said with a reassuring smile, “Don't worry about me, I will be ok.”

She said, as if thinking of something, and then said seriously, “However, if it really like what Mr. Hawk said, if these people can't find anything, they will definitely come to you. To be safe, you'd better go back to Z country first. You are the people of Z country and protected by law. These undergrounds dare not act in Z country.”

After hearing that, Evelyn no longer hesitated and followed Lucas to leave.

It was calm and tranquil on the road.

The calmness always made Evelyn think it was the peace before the storm.

Lucas was the same as she thought.

In fact, that was a fact.

As soon as they crossed the expressway, they would arrive at the airport.

But when they just drove on the expressway, a few cars suddenly appeared around them. Their originally closed windows were rolled down instantly, leaving the muzzles of the guns outside.

“Bang, bang.....” The countless bullets hit the car Evelyn was in.

“Oh——”

Evelyn was frightened and screamed subconsciously, but soon she covered her mouth with her hands.

Although she was afraid, the more nervous she was, the calmer she was.

Because she knew that it was useless to scream, but it might affect Lucas.

Originally, Lucas focused on avoiding the surrounding cars that were attacking him. When he found that Evelyn only screamed and then there was no sound, he was worried about whether she was injured and couldn't help looking at her distractedly, and saw Evelyn covering her mouth, cleverly leaning on the seat, clutching the door handle of the car tightly.

For a moment, a smile flashed in his eyes, but he quickly put it away.

He looked straight ahead with the cold look and glanced at the cars that pressed his car hard on both sides.

“Grab the handrail!”

With that, he stepped on the accelerator to the limit.

In an instant, the car shot out like a rocket.

Evelyn had never been in such a fast car before, holding on to the handle firmly. Her fingertips had been strained to pale, she looked very bad.

But even so, their pursuers kept close behind them and gunshots kept on.

Just then, the car suddenly skidded.

The harsh friction sounded suddenly.

The tire of the car they were driving was burst by the bullets.

Lucas's look suddenly changed and quickly controlled the car.

But it didn't seem to work very well, the brake seemed to have lost its function.

Lucas found it and looked terrible.

So was Evelyn, she was dazed by inertia in the back seat.

Before she could regain her mind, she heard the sad news from Lucas.

"Nora, get ready. We're going to jump!"

As he spoke, he unfastened his seat belt.

Evelyn looked at his actions, and before regaining her mind, she was frightened by the direction the car was going.

The out of control car was heading for the guardrail of the expressway.

Thud!

"Oh——"

At this moment, Evelyn couldn't help screaming, and at the same time she felt she was falling.

Pit-a-pat! The car was submerged in the sea.

And Evelyn's screams disappeared instantly.

She choked on the seawater several times. In a panic, she suddenly felt that someone was pulling her wrist, and she had no time to think about it, holding it instinctively. Then she was pulled out of the car.

When Lucas saw that she was pulled out, he did not notice her flushed face, but observed the people on the bridge through the seawater.

He found that the foreigners who surrounded them on the bridge tried to jump down to find them, his look changed and he took Evelyn to swim to the distance immediately.

But as he swam, he found that the people he was holding were getting heavier and heavier.

He couldn't help looking back, only to find that Evelyn had fallen into a coma.

His look changed a little and he quickly pulled her over. He bowed his head and kissed her pallid red lips, giving her the mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, and at the same time he did not forget to find the place to go ashore.

.....

When Evelyn woke up again, she found herself lying in a strange place.

What happened before her coma echoed in her mind like a movie replay.

"Lucas!"

After thinking of them falling into the sea, she cried in panic and wanted to get out of bed at the same time.

Just then, Lucas outside the door heard the movement and immediately pushed the door to come in.

"You're awake."

He looked at Evelyn with obvious concern in his eyes.

When Evelyn saw him, she became stunned and couldn't help saying happily, "Are you ok?"

When Lucas saw it, he knew that what had happened before had greatly frightened her. He went forward and took her into his arms and comforted her, "I'm ok, don't worry."

Evelyn grasped the corner of his clothes tightly, feeling his fiery body temperature, and then her flustered heart was completely settled.

"Since it's okay, where are we now?"

When she calmed down, she thought of their present situation and asked him with concern.

Lucas didn't conceal it and answered it truthfully, "This is a small town 200 meters away from Milan. I've contacted my friends and we'll stay here before they come to pick us up."

Evelyn nodded, but couldn't help worrying, "Will those people come here?"

Lucas's look changed and said with frowning, "It's inevitable that they will come here, but as long as we are careful, it will be ok."

When Evelyn Davis heard that those people would come back, she began to worry again.

But she didn't show it for fear of putting pressure on Lucas Hawk.

Then they stayed in the room all day.

Lucas Hawk was fiddling his computer in the living room.

Evelyn Davis sat idly opposite him, staring out of the window.

Lucas Hawk was not used to the silence.

He glanced at Evelyn Davis who was in a trance was pale, he felt love dearly.

He seemed to think of something and bent his head again to work on the computer.

A moment later, there was a knock at the door.

Evelyn Davis was awakened, mistook it was the gang, and looked nervously at Lucas Hawk.

Lucas Hawk sensed her difference and soothed her.

"Who's there?"

He went to the door and asked.

“It’s something you ordered online, Sir.”

The foreign accents of English sounded outside.

With a flash in his eye, Lucas Hawk opened the door and signed for the delivery man.

Evelyn Davis knew that she had made a mistake.

She was embarrassed and curious.

“What’s that?”

When the Lucas Hawk closed the door, she couldn’t resist walking over.

Lucas Hawk looked at her mysteriously.

“You’ll see in a minute.”

Then he returned to the room with his belongings, and Evelyn Davis became more puzzled.

What is this man doing? He’s so mysterious.

Curious as she was, she did not pester him. She sat back in the living room and waited for Lucas Hawk to come out.

She waited about ten minutes.

The closed door opened again, but it wasn’t Lucas Hawk.

He’s a half-breed.

A golden frame hung from the bridge of his nose, and his golden hair shone in the sun. The depth of his eyes was demoralizing.

But even then, Evelyn Davis recognized him.

“Lucas, why are you dressed like that?”

She asked with surprise.

Lucas Hawk did not immediately respond, but dragged Evelyn Davis into the room, "Can you use these?"

He asked, pointing to the wigs and other costumes on the table.

Evelyn Davis didn't understand, but she nodded.

"Yes."

"Change it, I'll wait for you outside."

Then Lucas Hawk left the room.

Evelyn Davis looked even more puzzled at the closed door.

Was Lucas Hawk changing this to prevent those people from finding them?

She could not help guessing, but she did not stop her hands and began to change herself.

In a few moments, she was finished.

Her dark hair had turned into large brown waves, and her face had been modified to conceal her appearance.

She looked at her new self in the mirror and made sure it was all right before she left the room.

"I'm done."

Lucas Hawk, who had been reading a magazine, looked up at her with satisfaction.

"Let's go, then."

He got up, straightened up, and walked over to Evelyn Davis and pulled her through the door.

Evelyn Davis had no idea what he was doing.

Out of the hotel, she was tense and saw that everyone looked like the people who had followed them.

“Take it easy. We’re safe now.”

Lucas Hawk knew what she was thinking, so he comforted her.

Evelyn Davis was relieved, but she was still worried.

“Didn’t you say we’d stay at the hotel and wait for someone? Why are we coming out? What if they find out?”

Lucas Hawk paused when he heard that.

“Aren’t you bored at the hotel?”

When Evelyn Davis heard this, she was shocked as if something had hit her heart.

Before she could get back to her senses, Lucas Hawk continued, “I looked up the town on the Internet, and there are some great views around. We can go and see them just to make up for not taking you around in country E.”

Evelyn Davis had no idea how she felt after she heard that.

Moved, surprised.

In particular, Lucas Hawk’s tenderness and indulgence for her made her heart wall collapse again.

She knew she was wrong, but she could not help sinking.

For the last time, she wanted to be happy with him.

She looked at the Lucas Hawk’s back with complicated eyes and redefined herself.

Evelyn Davis was relieved and followed the Lucas Hawk around town for the next two days because this decision.

Lucas Hawk also found Evelyn Davis’s change in him as if it returned their previous intimacy, which caused the knot in his heart to drop.

Two days passed in a flash.

While Evelyn Davis wanted to continue, Lucas Hawk's men had already arrived.

They walked back to the hotel hand in hand to find a group of well-trained security guards outside.

A tall woman in a tight leather dress stood in the doorway.

Her figure was very se.xy under the tight leather.

She looked at the Lucas Hawk, and then her cold face softened.

"Sir!"

She strode excitedly toward the Lucas Hawk, but stopped at a three-step distance, "are you all right, Sir?"

"I'm fine. Are you alone?"

Lucas Hawk looked at her and then at the bodyguard behind her, he asked.

"Mo Zhui is dealing with those people. He asked me to pick you up first."

She looked at Lucas Hawk quizzically, "Sir," she asked, "why are you dressed like this?"

Lucas Hawk didn't want to say anything, "nothing," he said. "Let's go."

The woman nodded and moved to Lucas Hawk.

She just saw Evelyn Davis. Her eyes were filled with something but quickly stopped. She deadpanned as she greeted Evelyn Davis, "Miss Davis".

Lucas Hawk told Evelyn Davis, "This is Mo Li. She's my subordinate, just like Mo Zhui."

Evelyn Davis nodded, then she smiled to Mo Li, "Hello."

She nodded coolly, not a smile but a faint hint of hostility in her eyes.

Evelyn Davis was stunned, and then she stared at Mo Li closely.

But she had lowered her eyes to report Lucas Hawk about Mo Zhui.

Evelyn Davis was confused. Was she wrong?

She thought for a moment and realized that she was probably mistaken.

After all, she and Mo Li just met for the first time. She couldn't have offended her in any way.

Evelyn Davis ignored the illusion and followed them back to the room.

By this time Mo Li had almost finished reporting.

“Sir, Mo Zhui has arranged it. We need to wait for him to lead them away.”

Lucas Hawk frowned.

He did not speak, but Mo Li knew that he was worried. “Don't worry, Sir, there won't be any problems this time,” she promised.

Lucas Hawk raised his eyebrows slightly and looked at her.

When Mo Li saw this, she couldn't help smiling. “He asked me to escort you back to China because he was worried about you. After you return to China, I'll stay with you for a while.” She said.

Lucas Hawk nodded.

After all, he knew what she was capable of, and it would save him a lot of trouble to have her around.

“Nora, get ready, we're going home.”

He turned his head and spoke gently to her.

As Mo Li watched, her se.xy red lips tightened.

But no one noticed that they were finally on their way home that evening under Mo Li's escort.

Of course, for safety's sake, they didn't fly in civil aviation. They fly in Hawk family private plane.

They finally returned home after a few hours.

It was daylight in the country.

They didn't relax until they got on the bus.

Evelyn Davis was also visibly tired.

Lucas Hawk lovingly clutched her in his arms when he saw her.

"What are you doing?"

Evelyn Davis sensed his movement and struggled shyly when she thought of Mo Li and driver in front of the car.

"Now that you're tired, don't move. Lean on me and rest for a while. You may not have time to rest when we go back."

Lucas Hawk rustled her head and whispered.

When Evelyn Davis heard that, she thought that Mrs. Hawk would have to interfere because they had been out for so many days, so she didn't really have time to rest.

She nodded, then she leaned over Lucas and fell asleep.

Mo Li sat in the passenger seat. There was a flash of jealousy in her eyes as she looked back through the mirror.

They arrived at the Hawk's house in half an hour.

Lucas Hawk woke Evelyn Davis up and took her out of the car.

The housekeeper was already waiting in the garden.

"Young master, young mistress."

He called respectfully.

Lucas Hawk nodded.

“Pack up rooms for them.”

The housekeeper nodded and went to work at once.

“Mo Li, follow the housekeeper.”

Lucas Hawk told her.

She looked at him and there was resistance in her eyes when she saw the hand he held with Evelyn Davis.

But before she could retort, Lucas Hawk took Evelyn Davis upstairs.

They had planned to wash up and rest for a while.

But as soon as they had washed, Mo Li knocked at the door.

“Sir, madam ask you down.”

Evelyn Davis frowned when she heard that.

She felt strange. It is the housekeeper who should be the messenger, not Mo Li.

But when she realized that Mo Li was also a subordinate of the Lucas Hawk, she let go of the weirdness.

Then they went downstairs and found not only Mrs. Hawk but also Envy Miller in the living room.

After seeing them coming down, Mrs. Hawk ignored Evelyn Davis and paid attention to Lucas.

“Lucas, what made you so anxious to go abroad? She couldn’t explain when Envy came back that day, and I couldn’t get in touch with you when I called. I worry about you.”

As she spoke, Envy Miller watched Lucas Hawk with concern.

“Nothing. I was worried that Nora was alone in a foreign country, so I went to find her.”

Lucas Hawk didn't want to tell the truth.

But he didn't know that his words immediately caused the Mrs. Hawk's dissatisfaction.

Because it seemed to her that Lucas Hawk was covering for someone.

“Don't make it simple. Do you really think I know nothing?”

She said angrily. Then she glanced at Evelyn Davis.

“I think it's highly of you for being a troublemaker. You will get into trouble wherever you go with our whole family. Nora Davis, I'm telling you I'll never forgive you if something happens to Lucas!”

Evelyn Davis was coached to be speechless.

It also made her aware that something was wrong.

Then she realized that they were actually coming for her.

Her eyes filled with doubt at the thought.

Why would they come after her?

She was thinking about it and she didn't care about Mrs. Hawk's scolding.

But Lucas Hawk can't stand it.

“Mom, I said it's nothing to do with Nora.”

He spoke up for Evelyn Davis, and said, “I'm a little tired, mom. You go back and give me a break. I've got work to do later.”

Mrs. Hawk was going to berate him for defending Evelyn Davis, but she loved him when she heard him say he was tired.

“All right, I'll go back. Have a good rest.”

Then she left with Envy Miller.

“Lucas, I’ll go back with auntie and talk to you about the project later.”

Envy Miller was embarrassed to stay longer and then she left with Mrs. Hawk.

Lucas Hawk nodded.

Mo Li stood behind the Lucas Hawks and looked at them all. She finally looked at Mrs. Hawk , and then her eyes changed.

“I’ll see her out, Sir.”

Lucas Hawk nodded without thinking.

“This way, please, Mrs. Hawk.”

She went to Mrs. Hawk’s side to lead the way.

Mrs. Hawk’s face softened for she liked her politeness, thought of her as her son’s best man, had seen her several times and was impressed.

“Haven’t seen you for a long time. Have you been busy lately?”

She asked casually, which was a reference to her son’s concern for his subordinates.

“I am not very busy, but the master has not been short of people, so it has been a long time.”

Mo li responded with a smile.

Envy Miller walked beside Mrs. Hawk. She listened with alarm to their conversation.

She knew from their conversation that this woman had been working with Lucas Hawk.

She was shocked.

Lucas Hawk had never had a female staff in her memory.

Mo Li was also looking at Envy Miller with precaution when Envy Miller was curious.

She thought that she would be the only woman by his side all the time, but when she went on a mission, she didn't expect that he had a wife and even had someone who admired him.

How could this be!

She had secretly admired him for years before these women showed up. How could she let him go!

How could she let these women get her sir, her god!

As Sophia left, the new house returned to quiet.

Evelyn was still thinking about those people. It was told from her face that she was pondering.

Lucas went to give Evelyn a comfort since he thought what Sophia said made Evelyn upset.

"Don't take what she said so serious. Have a rest."

Evelyn collected herself from pondering. She saw the back of Lucas going upstairs and she realized that he was misunderstanding but she was still glad since she knew that Lucas was caring her.

Even though she did not take what Sophia said seriously, it was making her uncomfortable anyway.

However, with his comfort, it was completely different.

She went upstairs with smile, but she found that Lucas had already changed clothes.

"Are you leaving? You said have a rest, didn't you?"

She frowned and asked. Lucas nodded.

" I just received a call from the company. They need me to deal with something."

After he said, Lucas had dressed up and he was ready to go.

" Wait."

Evelyn held him instantly.

" What's wrong?"

Lucas was confused. He turned his side to her.

" I would like to know how you found out that those people were coming for me? You knew the reason why they were coming for me, didn't you? I can't make it clear, besides, I don't even know them and I did not offend anyone. Why they were coming for me?"

Evelyn planned to ask those questions on the bed but she did not have the chance so she could only make them short.

Lucas frowned. He did not expect that Evelyn was still thinking about those.

" I asked people to protect you since you were tracked last time. Therefore, I would know at the first time if you have a trouble. As for the reason they were coming for you, I have not got a clue so don't think too much. I would make it clear."

Lucas knew that Evelyn would be more panic if he says nothing so he told her all the things he knew meanwhile, gave her a comfort.

Evelyn was disappointed when she heard what Lucas said, but she still let go him sensibly.

" That's so kind of you."

Lucas frowned. He seemed disliked her distant words. But he did not say anything else. He just nodded and left.

Lucas met Mo Li who just came back after sending Sophia away when he just walked to the yard.

" Are you going out, sir?"

Lucas nodded, "Yes, I got business."

Mo Li was excited when she heard that.

"Let me to go with you."

She followed Lucas as she was saying.

Lucas frowned and looked at Mo Li. He refused with a cold voice, "You stay and protect Evelyn."

He left directly after he said.

Mo Li was immediately disappointed and she could only watch the back of Lucas leaving.

...

In the room, Evelyn could not fall asleep after Lucas left.

Even with Lucas's comfort, she could not be in ease.

She did not offend anyone but it did not mean that Nora did not, either.

They changed their identities with each other anyway and that woman was always arrogant and aggressive. That was well known!

Evelyn got up from the bed and called John.

"What's the matter, again?"

Lucas met Mo Li who just came back after sending Sophia away when he just walked to the yard.

"Are you going out, sir?"

Lucas nodded, "Yes, I got business."

Mo Li was excited when she heard that.

"Let me to go with you."

She followed Lucas as she was saying.

Lucas frowned and looked at Mo Li. He refused with a cold voice, "You stay and protect Evelyn."

He left directly after he said.

Mo Li was immediately disappointed and she could only watch the back of Lucas leaving.

...

In the room, Evelyn could not fall asleep after Lucas left.

Even with Lucas's comfort, she could not be in ease.

She did not offend anyone but it did not mean that Nora did not, either.

They changed their identities with each other anyway and that woman was always arrogant and aggressive. That was well known!

Evelyn got up from the bed and called John.

"What's the matter, again?"

John's impatient voice came through the phone.

"Tell me, did Nora offend any gangsta before?"

Evelyn queried.

There was a pause in the other side of the phone after Evelyn asked the question.

After a long while, John's voice came through again but his tone and voice were odd, "Why you ask that? Everything's good, isn't it?"

Evelyn did not find out that. She queried again, "Just tell me that."

John pursed his lips and his tone was impatient again, "How could she? You are being unreasonable. Just hang up the phone if there is nothing else."

He tried to hang up after he said but was interrupted by Evelyn's yell.

"John Davis!"

John's hand trembled, he got mad, "Where you get the ball to yell at me?"

Evelyn ignored his rebuke. She clenched her teeth, "You made me do that. You'd better explain frankly. Did Nora offend anyone?"

She found that John was trying to escape from the question even mad at her.

In fact, he was.

John stayed in silent after Evelyn queried again.

"Why you are not talking? Tell me, I have the right to know!"

Evelyn rebuked when she realized that there must be something John and Nora trying to hide from her.

John was disgruntled when he heard what Evelyn said.

" Why should I tell you about Nora? Just do your job."

He contradicted but Evelyn sneered.

" Why? Because my life is in danger now!"

She said with anger in her eyes.

" John Davis, don't forget, that is not in the contract we made before. Listen, you and Nora would not be in ease if any accident happens to me. You have my word!"

John's face suddenly became gloomy when he heard Evelyn's threat.

" You are more and more aggressive now. You are even not satisfied with one threat. What? Are you making my compromise a ticket of you being unreasonable?"

He warned Evelyn with a sense of danger in it.

Evelyn trembled but she still struck back," You compelled me!"

She did not expect that the thing will come to this but those father and daughter bullied her too much.

They would be eaten by them if she doesn't resist!

" You have my word anyway. You and Nora would not be in ease if anything bad happens to me or my mother!"

She was giving those harsh words holding her phone tight in her hand.

John understood that she was not joking. He could only compromise again.

" You have no right to know those things about Nora. But I could send people to protect you and your mother in the dark."

Evelyn knew that was the best he could compromise. She stopped tangling and said," You'd better keep your word."

She hung up directly after she said.

Evelyn sat on the bed and took a deep breath to calm down after she hung up.

She could not fall asleep at all so she just simply went out to the garden since she found the weather was good.

But she found Mo Li was standing outside the door when she got out the room. She was frightened.

” What are you doing here?”

Mo Li just glanced at her but she did not talk.

Evelyn could not help frowning.

She found that Mo Li was rejecting her so she did not say anything else and left.

She did not want to be ignored when she was showing kindness anyway.

But Evelyn did not expect that Mo Li followed her everywhere she went.

She looked at the person standing behind her and frowned hard.

” Why you following me?”

Mo Li was still in silent.

Evelyn looked at Mo Li’s indifferent expression. She could not endure anymore and queried again,” What do you want?”
