

The Gorgeous Substitute Wife of Mr. President Chapter 3 - Tips

0 7 minutes read

The next day, the sun softly came through from the window.

Evelyn slowly opened her eyes, her brain also had a dull pain.

She pinched her eyebrows and slowly raised herself.

She just moved a little, and felt all her bones ache. She frowned with pain.

Until now, she regained consciousness

She thought the thing of last night that the lingering in bed like fire, and the man's insatiable plunder. She's kind of in a trance.

In fact ... Not a dream!

The man really came back!

She had thought that she could peacefully spend a year in Hawk family. Unexpectedly, she just came here for the second day, she lost her virginity.

It was her wedding night.

Evelyn's heart was full of sour, but didn't dare to show something on her face .

She can remember very clearly that John Davis's requirement before she came here.

"No matter what happened in the Hawk family, you only can accept it and cannot resist it. you must endure very family member no matter what they did to you. I won't give you a dime if you are exposed!"

Evelyn clenched her fist abruptly, pressing all bitterness in her heart.

She was Nora Davis now, the wife of Lucas Hawk. It was normal that a couple have sex!

It wasn't easy to calm the mood, Evelyn ready to wash herself, but the bathroom door was opened.

Lucas came out of it.

He had just taken a bath and was wearing a loose bathrobe, revealing a large burly chest. And the water was still dripping from his black hair. His handsome face had inherent indifference. His bright eyes exactly looked into hers.

Evelyn slightly startled.

She can't help thinking of John Davis's information about Lucas Hawk.

It's said that this man is a uncommon business talent.

Five years ago, the Hawk Group fallen into crisis and almost went bankruptcy. Then Lucas Hawk took it over with less than a year, suppressed the ambitious clansman, and saved the Hawk group. And in just four years, the company business expanded to the world.

Today's Hawk family, was the leading tycoon in Jingdu, possessing significant powers.

This man right here was even more out of reach!

Evelyn didn't know what to say, had to take back her sight, and her body shrunk under the covers.

Lucas thought the thing of last night that a girl had se.x for the first time, and her painful expression. But he can't forget her sweetness, so he subconsciously slowed his tone, said: "Well, wake up?"

"Yes." Evelyn nodded as a response.

Although they had se.x, they were not familiar with each other actually, so they just can say a few words. And Lucas was a man of few words originally, after this, they immersed in awkwardness.

After a moment, Evelyn was the first one to break the silence.

"You..... Why do you come back so suddenly?"

According John Davis's information , Lucas resided at abroad all year, won't come back.

Why did he come back after the first day she came here?

She was totally confused!

Lucas wasn't too surprised by her question.

He returned in a little hasty, few people know it.

"This time, I came back to finish my grandpa's instructions that get you pregnant as soon as possible. He talked about his great-grandson every day."

Evelyn listened to this, secretly frowned. She complained in her heart, damn it, you came back when Nora was absent!

Lucas didn't notice her face, just quietly went to the tea table, took a black card from the wallet, handing to Evelyn.

"What's this for?" Evelyn was puzzled.

Lucas lightly said: "this is a infinite card, taking to buy whatever you want ."

Evelyn didn't react at all, staring at the card for a long time, and a feeling of satire rose up from her heart.

Why did he do this?

Because she's going to give him a baby, so he rewarded her with money?

It's the way of the rich, everything can be solved with money!

"No, I don't lack of money!"

Evelyn took back her eyes with anger, she didn't want to talk with him more than half a sentence, directly wrapped herself in the sheet, and went into the bathroom.

The door closed with a snap..

Lucas was surprised for a moment, his eyebrows rose highly!

This is... Angry?

She was really as bold as the hearsay, dared to be angry with him!

At this moment, the knock at the door interrupted his thoughts.

Lucas regained his composure and went to open the door.

Outside the door stood Cater Wood with a respectful face."President, Mr. Hawk is looking for you."

Lucas squinted his eyes and looked at him with some unkindness. He said: "You said that the Evelyn liked to buy famous brand clothes, cosmetics and high heels, is it a lie to me?"

“Ah?”

Cater Wood was puzzled and couldn't react well. "This... I didn't lie to you. According to the past consumption records of Mrs. Hawk, she would go shopping once in two or three days. She must buy a lot of things every time. What happened? What's wrong?"

He snorted and said: "It seemed that your business ability had dropped recently. Even this information could be mistaken, and one month's bonus was deducted for punishment."

After the words, he turned back and changed his clothes, and then left without returning.

When the calm footsteps went away, Evelyn moved out of the bathroom.

She looked helpless and depressed.

What a loss this time!

Not only lost her innocent body, but her also had to live with Lucas for a long time.

If this continued, could she really hold on a year?

Evelyn's mood suddenly became chaotic.

Just then, the doorbell was ringing again.

Evelyn thought it was Lucas who returned back and didn't intend to pay attention. She didn't expect to hear a sweet voice coming from outside. "Brother Lucas, have you got up? It's me, Amelia"

When Evelyn heard this name, she was shocked slightly and immediately turned out the matching information from her mind.

Amelia Morgan, the young lady of Morgan family in Jiangnan.

Because they were friends with the Hawk family, they were respectable and lived here several years ago. For others, she was called Lucas's sister. In fact, everyone could see what kind of thoughts she had about Lucas.

See, Lucas just returned home, she could not wait to find him.

Although Evelyn did not want to be with her, but her current identity was Nora Davis, so she could only barely tidy up her appearance and go to open the door.

When Amelia Morgan saw that the door was opened, she immediately raised a bright smile and said, "Brother Lucas, when I heard you were back, I came to see you in a hurry, you....."

But only half of what she said, Evelyn's figure suddenly broke into her sight.

"Nora Davis.....why were you here?"

Amelia Morgan's smile suddenly froze and her eyes stared at her with a slightly disgusting anger.

Evelyn leaned on the door frame and asked, "How could I not be here? I had not been sleeping in this room all time?"

"Not the same, now Brother Lucas was back, how did you still have a face to stay? Get out!"

Amelia blamed sullenly and her eyes were burning.

"Why? I was his wife, what was wrong with sleeping in his room?"

Evelyn responded with aggressive look and no compromise at all.

At this time,her style of doing things basically imitated Nora Davis.

According to the information, Nora Davis had been quarreling with this Amelia more than once.

Amelia always bright and stealthily wanted to take off her wife's name and replace her.

"Nora Davis, didn't be too proud. Didn't think I don't know your broken things. Just your wanton character and personality of engaging in love affairs with others?!You just don't deserve Brother Lucas .

Amelia said with grinding her teeth,there was some satisfaction in her eyes.

It seemed that this woman was busy reporting when she came early in the morning.

Evelyn frowned eyebrows,with a slight stern look and a fierce voice,she said:"Amelia Morgan,to make it clear,who was wanton and engaged in love affairs with others?"

"Still pretending!Did I have to show you the evidence?"

Amelia ironically ridiculed the l!ps,took out two photos from her pocket and slammed them into the c.hest of Evelyn,"Took a careful look."

Evelyn took a look and saw her who in the photo was shouldering a shoulder with a handsome man, the scene was particularly intimate.

She did recognize the man, the elder son of the Wilson family, Austin Wilson!

Also with extraordinary birth and distinguished status!

Evelyn frowned and thought to herself. "It seemed that Amelia Morgan was not speaking or acting on hearsay evidence, she really got the evidence of Nora Davis's chaos, it seemed that I had to take the blame for others"

But at the moment it's impossible to acknowledge it.

"Miss Morgan, just casually made a few composite photos, who were you cheating? Did you think Lucas would believe?" Evelyn threw the photos back with a smirk.

Amelia did not expect that she would be so calm, she was very angry.

This b!tch woman! Instead, she played a good show!

Still did not recognize at this time.

Did she think it's possible to escape?

Just dreaming!

"Nora Davis, You really couldn't see the coffin without tears. Waited for me until I listed all the evidence of your derailment. Then I would see how you can argue!"

After Amelia finished speaking, she angrily turned to leave.

Evelyn stood in the same place, twisting her eyebrows and suddenly felt a slight crisis.

This subst!tute did not seem to be as good as she imagined.

Not only to worry about the disclosure, but also to face all kinds of aim and difficult.

It's not a good thing to go on like this.

It seemed that she had to ask John Davis what the hell was going on with Nora Davis and when she would appear. She also can be assured.

Thinking of this, Evelyn immediately returned to the room and gave John Davis a call to ask.

Unexpectedly, John Davis just said coldly, "Didn't ask what you shouldn't ask, just played your role well, didn't forget your mother's medical expenses.

After that, he hung up without waiting for Evelyn's reaction.
