Chapter 82: Thought of Someone

Zach was shocked.

That aloof and arrogant Benson had changed!

When Juliana finished eating, Benson accompanied her to the courtyard.

There was a huge tree in the courtyard, which was century-old as the mansion.

Wolfy, the dog, was resting under the tree, next to his luxurious doghouse.

Juliana sat on a bench in the courtyard, looking up at Zach quietly without urging him on.

Benson came out with grapes and sat next to Juliana. He urged on Zach as he started to peel the grapes, "Come on, a man can afford to lose."

Zach didn't dwell on it. He was a man who could afford to lose, so he rolled up his sleeves and started climbing the tree.

He had been working out and climbing the tree was not difficult for him. He climbed up very easily.

When he came down, his face was flushed. Then he looked at Wolfy.

Zach held his breath for a moment before he barked, "Woof! Woof!"

After that, he ran away immediately. It was not that he felt humiliated.
