

Chapter 2722 What Rewards Do You Want

Camp South Master's plan had officially begun.

Heavenly Stones were actually Spirit Stones that had been cultivated with wild beasts' essence, energy, and blood.

They were tempting to wild beasts. One Heavenly Stone could lure dozens of beasts to it.

Therefore, the ten Heavenly Stones that Sunshade threw into the Centuria camp would be able to lure up to a hundred wild beasts into the camp.

Of course, Camp South Master was not expecting the beasts to annihilate Centuria, for that was impossible.

He would throw in more Heavenly Stones over time so that the people at the Centuria camp would kill more and more beasts.

Once they killed a certain number of beasts, the primordial beast would be lured out.

The primordial beast was something neither Camp Masters could win against.

As a matter of fact, Theos even needed to use Theos Island's rules to suppress the primordial beast.

If there were too many primordial beasts, even Theos would not be able to keep them under control with Theos Island's rules.

It showed how powerful the primordial beasts were.

When Sunshade reached the Centuria camp, he threw the Heavenly Stones into a corner before fleeing the scene.

He had heard about how powerful the newcomer was. Although Sunshade did not think of the newcomer as a match for him, he saw no point in getting into unnecessary conflicts with the newcomer.

All he needed to do was carry out Camp South Master's tasks.

Coincidentally, right as he threw the Heavenly Stones into the camp, Scar Face soon came to that corner.

Scar Face was collecting Heavenly Stones five kilometers away when he sensed a powerful wave of aura of Heavenly Stone.

Scar Face was surprised because the aura had appeared suddenly as if the stones had just been abandoned by someone.

Furthermore, the intensity of the aura was stronger than the Heavenly Stones he usually sensed, so he was certain that it was quite a number of Heavenly Stones together.

After a moment of hesitation, Scar Face came all the way to that corner of the camp by following the aura he sensed.

Soon, Scar Face noticed the ten Heavenly Stones.

He leaped in excitement.

These are Heavenly Stones! They really are! And there are even ten here! There are more here than what I usually get outside! I'm rich! I'm rich! If I give these Heavenly Stones to Mr. Williams, I'm sure Mr. Williams will start valuing me.

Scar Face quickly picked up the Heavenly Stones to deliver them to Zeke.

On his way there, he thought about how Zeke was going to praise him.

As he was thinking, a burning pain shot up his arm.

It was Theos' Mark that was burning him.

Scar Face's heart lurched. He knew Theos' Mark was only burning him because the thoughts of betraying Theos had formed in his head.

Hastily, he lied to himself, "I'm not betraying Theos! I'll never betray Theos! I can't meet Theos, so I'm thinking of handing these Heavenly Stones to Zeke so that he can surrender them to Theos. I'm not about to betray Theos."

After repeating that a few times, Scar Face gradually believed in his own lie, so Theos' Mark stopped burning him.

He ran to Zeke's room and gently knocked on the door.

Zeke, who was focusing on forging divine weapons, shouted impatiently, "Come in!"

Scar Face cautiously pushed the door open. "Mr. Williams, it's me."

"What's the matter?"

Scar Face showed him the Heavenly Stones. "Mr. Williams, I just picked up ten Heavenly Stones. Please take them."

Heavenly Stones!

Zeke was thrilled. He quickly took the Heavenly Stones and let his senses study them.

Sure enough, the Heavenly Stones were far better than a normal Spirit Stone, regardless of the condensation of spiritual energy, the spiritual iron content, or the purity of spiritual iron.

It would be impossible to forge a lousy divine weapon with Heavenly Stones like these.

Alas, ten Heavenly Stones were too little. It was not even enough to forge one-tenth of the divine weapon.

Nevertheless, Zeke patted Scar Face's shoulder and said, "Good job. Keep up the good work. Tell me, what rewards do you want?"
