

Chapter 2750 Refreshing

As the spiritual energy entered Maulwurf's body, it nourished every pore in his body and strengthened every inch of his skin. I can feel my power soaring, and it feels so good!

Out of nowhere, someone knocked on his door.

Why is someone bothering me right now? Annoyed, Maulwurf asked coldly, "Who is it?"

Alp shouted, "Open the door, Maulwurf! I have something I need to speak to you about!"

Maulwurf frowned. Why is he visiting me so soon after we met? Did something happen? Hmm, I should probably lie to him. "I'm sleeping right now, Alp. Can we leave the talking for tomorrow?"

Silence then filled the air, causing him to sigh in relief.

Just as he did that, the door was kicked open.

Alp barged into the room with Scar Face and the three brothers.

Shocked, Maulwurf put his spirit pill away. "What are you all doing? Who allowed you all to come in?"

However, it was too late.

The moment Scar Face and the others entered the room, they saw the glowing spirit pill.

When they noticed him hiding the spirit pill, they knew there was something peculiar about it.

Gazing at Maulwurf, Scar Face interrogated, "What are you holding?"

Maulwurf shook his head. "It's nothing. Aren't you all afraid I'll tell Commander Williams about this and have him punish you all?"

However, Scar Face ignored his threat and demanded, "Show me what's in your hand right now!"

Maulwurf reflexively turned around to escape through the window.

However, the other four had already anticipated him employing that maneuver. They pounced on him and pressed him to the ground.

Scar Face used that opportunity to snatch the spirit pill away.

That treasure is something that'll change my fate! I won't allow anyone else to take it from me! Maulwurf was on the brink of breaking down as he roared, "Give it back to me, Scar Face! I'm willing to give you anything else in exchange—"

A punch from Alp instantly rendered Maulwurf unconscious.

Holding the spirit pill, Scar Face scrutinized it. "You four, do you know what this is? It feels good just to hold it."

The others shook their heads. "We've never seen it before."

"Since none of you know what this is, it's safe to assume it's incredible. Maybe it's a reward from a Camp Master?"

The others nodded in agreement.

"Let's not waste any time and bring these two to Mr. Williams. He'll decide what to do with him and the pill."

The group promptly dragged Maulwurf to Zeke's room.

Alp's punch was so powerful that Maulwurf was still out cold when they arrived at Zeke's place.

As Scar Face presented the spirit pill to Zeke, he said, "We found this in Maulwurf's house. Do you know what this is, Mr. Williams?"

Before Scar Face even showed the pill to Zeke, the latter already felt there was something extraordinary kept on the former's body.

What a strange, refreshing aura. This will no doubt be helpful in physical cultivation. I've never seen something like this before. Zeke picked up the pill and studied it in detail. That refreshing effect is even more substantial when I'm holding it. I'm honestly bewildered. If this thing can be mass-produced and given to all martial artists in Eurasia, the country's combat prowess will no doubt reach a higher level! Where did Maulwurf get this?

Spirit pill! Spirit pill! Excitedly, Fortuna reappeared and devoured the spiritual energy released from the spirit pill.

Zeke was shocked. Spirit pill! It seems that Fortuna knows what this thing is!
