

Chapter 2756 Ferocious Sole Wolf

As a matter of fact, five Legatus had been assigned to the city wall.

When the captain of the guards spotted Sole Wolf on the city wall, he jogged over and greeted, “Master Sole Wolf, you're here! Please take a seat. Men, prep the tea for Master Sole Wolf!”

However, Sole Wolf waved his hand dismissively and said, “No need for that. You and the rest of the guards can leave now.”

Huh?

The captain of the guards was dumbfounded to hear that. “Master Sole Wolf, what... what did you just say? Did you... just asked us to leave?”

Sole Wolf nodded. “That's right. I'm asking you to stand down.”

The captain of the guards was stumped. “Master Sole Wolf, you must be joking with us, right? We're currently in danger, and the army of beasts might attack us anytime. They'll endanger the tens of thousands of lives in the base. We'll be neglecting their safety by leaving. How can we possibly do that?”

“It's fine. I'll be guarding this entrance myself,” Sole Wolf reassured him.

Alas, the captain of the guards shook his head. “I'm sorry, Master Sole Wolf, but I can't do that.”

He knew that Zeke could guard the entrance by himself, but Sole Wolf was only Zeke's subordinate.

He did not believe that Sole Wolf could be as powerful as Zeke.

If Sole Wolf was truly that powerful, he could not even begin to fathom how powerful Zeke was then.

He might even possess the ability to destroy planets.

Sole Wolf was getting impatient. “Hey, why are you so pedantic? I'm helping you with your work, but you're being so unappreciative. Do you have a loose screw?”

The captain of the guards continued to insist, “I have to be responsible for the lives in the base, so I mustn't leave my post.”

“Fine. You can stay, but none of you are allowed to intervene when the beasts come. They're all mine!”

The captain of the guards was rendered speechless by Sole Wolf's order. Where did you get the confidence to say that?

Meanwhile, the same scene was happening at the three other city walls.

Killer Wolf and the others were ordering the guards not to intervene when the beasts attacked.

No way am I going to let you all steal my chance to get some good exercise.

The act of killing fifty beasts was, at most, an exercise for Killer Wolf and the others.

Even though the guards on the city wall were confused, they said nothing. They were sure that Killer Wolf and the rest would seek their help once they found out how ferocious the beasts were.

It will be a good idea for them to find out first-hand how tough it is to fight against the beasts.

Boom! Boom!

Thunder sounded in the distance, but they were continuous and coming closer and closer to the base.

Then the city walls began to shake.

The captain of the guards at the main entrance bellowed, “It's the beasts! The beasts are attacking! Everyone, prepare for battle!”

What? Everyone was bewildered. The beasts are here? How many beasts are there this time? Their footsteps are thunderous! There are at least two to three times more beasts here than in the previous wave!

Finally, the group of beasts was much closer, and the shaking of the city walls was much more intense. In fact, a large crack had appeared on the ground as if an earthquake had occurred.

The beasts were rushing toward them like lava overflowing from a volcano.

It was a sight that would instill fear in those who saw it.

There were at least a hundred beasts in the group, and they were much fiercer than the ones in the previous wave.

Both parties had yet to exchange blows, and they were not even face-to-face yet, but the humans were starting to dread the battle.

How are we going to fight them? How are we going to win this?

Suppressing the panic in his heart, the captain of the guards forced himself to look calm as he cried out, “Archers, get ready!”

The archers quickly lifted their bows and rushed to the edges of the walls to fire their arrows.

Right then, a figure leaped off the wall and flew toward the beasts.

All the guards on the wall were stupefied by that.

What the hell? Who just jumped off the wall? Even if he survives jumping off this height, he's going to be crushed by the beasts!
