Chapter 2757 Visually Impactful

When everyone looked closely, they realized with a shock that the other party was Sole Wolf.

Sole Wolf even bellowed at everyone, "No one is allowed to attack the beasts without my order! They're mine, so no one interfere!"

The archers gazed at the captain of guards with troubled expressions.

In response, the captain took a deep breath and said, "Never mind. Don't interfere for now. We'll see how it goes."

Everyone refocused their attention on Sole Wolf.

He landed steadily on the ground.

Upon landing, Sole Wolf launched himself in the beasts' direction. "Haha! I shall entertain you pups today."

What the h*ll?

Everyone was shocked as it appeared Sole Wolf was planning to charge the beasts head-on.

The beasts' greatest strength was none other than their massive and tough bodies.

When comparing men and beasts, the former's most distinctive weakness was their fragile physique.

Pitting one's weakness against another's strength was undoubtedly a recipe for disaster.

The archers' palms turned sweaty as they prepared themselves to fire their arrows at any time to assist Sole Wolf.

The leader of the beasts was a massive and muscular rhinoceros.

Rocks disintegrated, trees fell, and the earth shook and cracked wherever it passed.

Sole Wolf targeted the rhinoceros.

Boom!

Under the crowd's watchful gazes, Sole Wolf and the rhinoceros collided.

Right when everyone assumed Sole Wolf would be crushed into a pulp, the rhinoceros grunted and flew backward.

In the end, the rhinoceros' heavy body crashed into a huge tree. The tree broke and collapsed on the spot.

"What the f*ck!" A series of exclamations reverberated in the air.

A human had won against a powerful, vicious beast in a clash, and he even knocked the rhinoceros backward.

Most importantly, Sole Wolf didn't suffer the slightest injury.

The turn of events was utterly outrageous.

Most of the onlookers even wondered if their eyes were playing tricks on them.

The next instant, the group of beasts surrounded Sole Wolf.

He grasped a giant python by its tail and swung the serpent like a whip.

The wild animals around him were either sent flying away, killed, or cut in half after getting hit by the python.

Subsequently, the dust Sole Wolf whipped up due to his violent movements entirely clouded the battlefield, rendering others unable to view the ongoing fight.

However, from time to time, some beasts would be thrown out of the fray, their bodies bloodied and mangled.

One-third of the hundred-beast army attacked the main entrance of the city while the rest scattered in the remaining three directions.

The situations in the other three areas were similar to Sole Wolf's.

Dust clouds billowed in the air as intense battles raged on.

After only five minutes, silence ensued.

Countless animal carcasses were strewn across the land nearby the Centuria's camp.

Most of the beasts were dead, while some were barely clinging to life, having lost their ability to resist or even stand up.

Clouds of dust lingered in the air, obscuring the center of the battlefield from view.

When the dust settled, everyone noticed Sole Wolf standing in the middle of the field. His clothes were still clean and tidy. He wore a smile and appeared uninjured.

Even his hair remained neatly combed.

Being relatively satisfied after engaging in the exhilarating fight, Sole Wolf grinned from ear to ear.

However, in the beasts' opinion, his smile was more menacing than a devil's.

He scanned his surroundings and demanded, "That's it? I haven't had enough fun yet. Come at me again!"

The few beasts nearby him, whose lives were hanging on by a thread, seemed to understand Sole Wolf. They instinctively backed away, wanting to distance themselves from him.

Sole Wolf moved forward and booted those fleeing wild animals.

"What a bunch of trash." Noticing the animals couldn't put up a fight anymore, Sole Wolf shook his head and sighed. "I haven't even warmed up my body yet."

Everyone at the scene was utterly astonished, and their hearts raced after they witnessed what had happened. Brutal! He's too brutal!

They could only think of using the word "brutal" to describe Sole Wolf at that moment.

Zeke eliminated the assaulting beasts with his energy by casually waving his hand. As a result, his fighting style wasn't visually impactful.
