

Chapter 2778 The Spirit Pills Are More Important

All of a sudden, everyone in the city wanted to chase Camp South Master out.

At that moment, Camp South Master was caught between a rock and a hard place.

Moo!

The roar of Minotaur sounded from the distance.

This time, Minotaur had gotten closer to Camp South, so its call affected the citizens' consciousness. Their heads pounded, and they wavered in and out of consciousness. Some even bled from all their orifices.

Even the unconscious Sunshade almost died because of the cry.

The more powerful a person was, the greater the effects of the moo on that person.

Camp South Master was relatively strong. Hence, he, too, was affected greatly and passed out instantly.

When he finally woke up, he felt dizzy and nauseous.

At that moment, all the citizens in the city knelt before him.

“Please, Camp Master. I'm the breadwinner in my house. I don't want to die.”

“Please leave Camp South for the time being to lure Minotaur away.”

“If Minotaur comes here, we'll be the first to be affected. You won't be able to avoid having a fierce battle with it, either. It's better if you bring it somewhere else. That way, you'll get to kill two birds with one stone.”

Camp South Master felt extremely depressed. Never did he imagine himself getting kicked out of Camp South by his own men. Camp North Master will laugh at me for the rest of my life if he hears about this.

Camp South Master could not afford to bear such humiliation, but he was in a tough spot. He had no other choice.

If he stayed back, it would only cause a greater loss. Even worse, his family would be endangered.

It was better for him to bring Minotaur somewhere else. At least the citizens and his family would be safe.

At that thought, Camp South Master turned to Zeke and said, “All right. I can help you deal with Minotaur, but you mustn't involve the citizens of my city.”

“Of course.”

“Let's go bring Minotaur away, then,” said Camp South Master.

“Please lead the way,” prompted Zeke.

Upon arriving at the city gate, Camp South Master suddenly said, “Aren't you going to give Sunshade the antidote for the cursed parasitic worm you placed in him?”

Zeke made a tossing motion, and a crimson-red pill flew toward Camp South Master. “Take it with warm water.”

Catching the pill, Camp South Master eyed it and warned, “This better be the real antidote, or I'll use all the city's manpower to take revenge on you.”

He then turned to his subordinate and instructed, “Give this to Sunshade.” After that, he left Camp South with Zeke.

Along the way, Camp South Master grew more furious the more he thought about it.

D*mn it. I put so much effort into coming up with that plan and even used hundreds of Heavenly Spirit Stones. Yet, I shot myself in the foot and got kicked out of the city by my citizens. This is so annoying. I won't let this slide! Me? Helping Zeke to get rid of the primordial beast? Hmph! Dream on!

Camp South Master's eyes glinted as he came up with an idea.

He was going to trick Zeke and his men.

Just then, Camp South Master said, “Zeke, that primordial beast is too powerful. We might not be its opponent, even if we combine forces. But I have a plan. Perhaps we might be able to trick the primordial beast.”

“Please enlighten us.”

Camp South Master explained, “Let's lure the primordial beast to the eastern canyon. The canyon has a narrow path, while the primordial beast has a huge body. Once it enters the canyon, it won't have space to move, let alone unleash its powers. The weakest part of the primordial beast is its tail. We can attack its tail when it's trapped.”

With a smile, Zeke responded, “That's a great idea. Let's go to the eastern canyon, then.”

“Come on!”

With that, Zeke and the others followed closely behind, with Camp South Master leading the way.

Along the way, Sole Wolf asked Zeke cautiously, “Zeke, should we contact Ares and tell him to meet us here?”

Ares was currently stealing spirit pills at Camp South.

In response, Zeke answered, “There's no need for that. I've left him a message outside of the city. Once he gets the spirit pills, he should quickly return to our camp and guard them. It doesn't matter how many people we have dealing with Minotaur. The spirit pills are more important.”
