

Chapter 2790 The Awakening Of Fortuna

The moment that mouthful of blood came into contact with the air, it went up in flames. The flames then released rays of light and covered Minotaur.

Moo!

It was as though the rays of light had a mysterious way of immobilizing their target. Minotaur was in distress, and it kept roaring as it tried to get away from the rays.

Despite its struggles, the rays' energy was far too powerful for him to break. Minotaur felt as though a mountain had dropped on it and prevented it from moving.

The most it could do was shake slightly.

Fortuna had just burned its essence, and agony was written all over its face. "Quick! Make your move. I-I can't hold on any longer!"

Hearing that, Zeke immediately used his energy to force Camp South Master toward Minotaur's anus.

Camp South Master was moving so fast that he had arrived in front of the anus in the blink of an eye.

Upon seeing the filthy anus, Camp South Master vomited on the spot. F*ck! This is so nasty! It's even dirtier than the restrooms!

He fell into utter despair when he remembered that he was going in there shortly.

Before he knew it, he was stuffed into Minotaur's anus, and everything turned dark.

Minotaur roared when that happened. What the f*ck! That man is inside of me! Why does it hurt and feel good at the same time?

Zeke then used his energy to detonate Camp South Master's life force.

Boom!

The power of a Camp Master's life force was not to be underestimated.

With an earth-shattering bang, Minotaur's anus was blown up instantly. While its tail was seen flying off, one of its legs was turned into a bloody mound of flesh.

Minotaur bellowed loudly in response and tumbled to the ground after losing its balance.

When its body fell against a cliff behind, it nearly toppled the mountain itself.

Obviously, Zeke managed to use his energy to form a shield to protect himself and the others from getting smashed by the rocks from the mountain.

Minotaur knew it was in trouble, so it wanted to escape.

However, Fortuna quickly wrapped itself around Minotaur's limbs. Minotaur struggled to break free with all its might.

Fortuna felt its body getting torn apart, and its scales were falling off of its body. In fact, it was also having trouble breathing.

Indeed, both parties were suffering due to the gruesome fight.

Right then, Zeke yelled, "Focus your attacks on Minotaur's wounds! Don't let it rise to its feet!"

"Die!" Everyone proceeded to attack Minotaur's wounds with their energy.

Minotaur was groaning miserably as chunks of its flesh flew everywhere.

However, its groans grew weaker after some time. In the end, it died.

The odd thing was that after Minotaur died, its body shrunk and became the size of a regular buffalo.

Seconds later, a light yellow fireball floated out from Minotaur's mouth.

Zeke and the others gaped at the sight and stared at the fireball excitedly. Is that Minotaur's spirit pill? So, a primordial beast's spirit pill is in the form of a fireball! Is this what Fortuna talked about? Is this a fire seed? I've found you, fire seed!

At that moment, Fortuna looked like it was drawing its last breath.

It then widened its mouth and swallowed the flame.

In the next second, its wounds were rejuvenating at a speed visible to the naked eye. At the same time, new scales were seen growing on its body.

Most importantly, its body was expanding.

In the end, Fortuna was exuding a terrifying aura that even Zeke felt intimidated by. That's a strong wave of aura! Fortuna is now a few times bigger than it used to be. If it were to face Minotaur again, it could definitely defeat Minotaur with ease.

Looking as energetic as ever, Fortuna glanced at the primordial region on Theos Island and roared, "I'm back! The ruler is back! I'm going to kill you traitors! I'm taking back all the fire seeds! Traitors shall die! Haha!"
