

Absolute Great Teacher

- Chapter 1

Chapter 1: If Your Heart Is Clear, There's No Need to Fear Any Wind and Rain!

20

“The Absolute Great Master System has been bound. Please collect the newbie gift pack as soon as possible!”

16

When he heard this voice for the third time, Sun Mo wanted nothing more than to smash the dog head of the other party.

(It was fine if you don't want to extend a helping hand, but is there a need to taunt me like that?)

Gurgle~

Sun Mo's body sank downward. A large amount of lake water immediately splashed on his face, gushing into his mouth and nose.

“If this is a swimming pool, how many mouthfuls of urine would I have drunk?”

18

Sun Mo self-ridiculed, trying to suppress his nervous and scared emotions. If not, he was afraid he couldn't continue preserving.

His swimming technique, the dog paddle, was something self-taught in a small river outside the village. If he was alone, he would be able to persist until he reached the shore. But now that he was pulling a girl through the water, he felt a little helpless.

10

“Save...save me!”

The black-haired girl struggled with all her might as she flailed about.

“Stop moving about randomly or you will die!”

Before Sun Mo finished his speech, he swallowed another mouthful of lake water. The suddenness of it made him involuntarily want to cough.

“The Absolute Great Master System has been bound. Please collect the newbie gift pack as soon as possible!

“F!”

Sun Mo dragged the girl by her clothes and climbed to the shore as he panted wildly. Gazing at the surroundings like a wild dog, he then ruthlessly raised his middle finger, but there wasn't even a single person in the vicinity.

The beautiful moonlight was like silver sand sprinkling on the grass. The Yunting Lake in the distance was glistening like crystal!

“What the hell?”

Sun Mo furrowed his brows. It seemed that they were tight enough to crush a crab. Lowering his head, he cast another glance at the girl he had just saved. The girl was wearing ancient style clothing, and there was even a sachet at her waist!

“Why isn't she Zhou Miao?”

Sun Mo felt a little headache. After he had graduated, he went to No.2 High School to teach. In a short six years, he managed to teach two students who ended up going to Tsinghua and Peking University. His dazzling achievements caused him to take the lead role in high school.

Initially, getting a raise and promotion should have been a cinch, but who knew that a girl named Zhou Miao from the next class had fallen for him. After he rejected her, Zhou Miao started to spread rumors that the two of them were together. She was preparing to make lies into the truth.

Sun Mo didn't want his life to be destroyed. Hence, he had invited Zhou Miao to the park for a detailed chat. When they were rowing a boat in the lake, Zhou Miao suddenly lunged at him. This caused the two of them to fall into the lake together.

14

“What is this place exactly?”

The flames of anger still burned in Sun Mo's heart. He glanced at the plants in the surroundings. The atmosphere was quiet and gloomy, and this seemed to be the outskirts. A look of doubt gradually appeared on his face.

Cough, cough!

The girl lying on the ground started to cough because of discomfort, spitting out a generous amount of lake water mixed with saliva. Her gaze was disorganized and perplexed, and she was gradually regaining consciousness.

“Are you alright?” the girl asked weakly. “Life is so beautiful, please don't commit suicide!”

“Did water just enter your brain?” Sun Mo was depressed. “I have only played the computer I bought for a few thousand dollars a few times. Why would I commit suicide? Do I have nothing better to do?”

“Mn?”

The girl had a stupefied look on her face. “In that case, why are you trying to drown yourself by jumping into the river?”

“Huh?”

Sun Mo suddenly discovered a problem. “Don’t tell me you got into the water because you wanted to save me?”

“Wuwuwu~ Li Ziqi (herself in third person), you stupid fool!” the girl muttered. Her beautiful face turned red instantly. She had originally come to rescue someone, but she ended up being rescued by him instead. How embarrassing.

“The Absolute Great Master System has been bound. Please collect the newbie gift pack as soon as possible!”

The annoying sound rang out once more, causing him to be extremely vexed.

“Ring, ring, ring, can you stop being so annoying?”

Clanking sounds~

A large, shiny treasure chest suddenly appeared before Sun Mo. It was so bright that it almost blinded his dog eyes.

“Do you want to open it?”

The system asked.

Sun Mo glanced around, and his gaze fell onto the girl. After that, he grabbed the chest, seemingly understood that he was the only one who could see this.

20

“Open or not?”

The system continued asking.

“Open, open, open. If there isn’t a mansion or valuable treasures in there, I’m going to bust open your dog head!”

13

Sun Mo was extremely impatient.

The treasure didn’t give Sun Mo enough preparation time and immediately opened. A golden-colored book appeared in front of him, slowly spinning about.

“Congratulations. You obtained the grandmaster-grade ‘Divine Sight’. When you focus your sight, you can read all the data of your target.”

The system’s voice was as listless as a husky resting in the shadows of a roof on a hot summer day. Clearly, there was no sense of ‘congratulations’. It was clearly just conventional polite words.

Sun Mo’s lips twitched and he glanced at the girl who finally sat up. His gaze became focused, and three white large words ‘Li Ziqi’ floated above the head of the girl. This should be her name.

Gradually, other streams of data jumped out of her body. The white words trembled unceasingly, and there were even lines of evaluation at the end.

Strength: 4, level of an ordinary girl. Slightly stronger than someone who lacks the strength to even truss a chicken.

Intellect: 10, numerical value off the charts! When the majority of people are compared to you, it would be a praise to even call them monkeys.

12

Agility: 1, slightly more inferior than a klutz. Suggestion: Do not head out from your house, you face the risk of stumbling and tripping to your death if you walk.

Sun Mo had a stupefied look on his face. What the hell was this?

“Mn..my name is Li Ziqi!”

Upon seeing Sun Mo not speaking, the girl felt the atmosphere was a little awkward. Hence, she found a topic, wanting to alleviate the tense atmosphere.

“Oh!”

Sun Mo continued to ask, “Did you jump into the water because you wanted to save me earlier?”

“Mn”. But she hurriedly shook her head again, blushing furiously. After all, she had failed to save him and almost drowned instead. This was just too embarrassing.

Sun Mo’s lips twitched. (You are someone with 1 point of agility, but you still want to save others? Are you tired of living?)

However, when he thought of how the girl intended to save him, his expression became much gentler.

“Thanks.”

When she heard Sun Mo’s thanks, Li Ziqi was like a rabbit being stepped on. She immediately leaped as her hands continued waving.

“No, no, no need for you to thank me. I got the whole situation wrong and also, you are the one who saved me!”

Li Ziqi was evidently depressed. She didn’t know when she would stop being such a klutz!

In any case, Sun Mo had also been a teacher-in-charge for six years. What sort of students had he not seen before? With his experience and the information gained from Divine Sight, he was able to guess the reason behind Li Ziqi's depression.

“Not all gold is sufficiently pure, and nobody is perfect. You don't have to be so hard on yourself. So what if you are a klutz?”

Sun Mo laughed. “Moreover, you have a pair of good brains, your intellect alone can crush many people.”

“Really?”

Li Ziqi's eyes brightened. She inclined her head and stared at Sun Mo.

“Mn!”

Sun Mo didn't lie. This girl, whose intelligence was off the charts, was a top genius that all his rival teachers wanted. She would never be assigned to his class.

“But...but...”

Li Ziqi suddenly thought of the rumors and gossip targeting her.

“Haha, don't care too much.”

A clumsy young girl really caused people to be fond of them. As Sun Mo spoke, he subconsciously patted her head slightly. “If your heart is clear, there's no need to fear any wind and rain!”

It was only meant to be some words of consolation, but after Sun Mo finished speaking, a golden light suddenly shone around them.

Swish~ swish~ swish~

The strands of golden light were like the rain, sprinkling and scattering out, penetrating Li Ziqi's heart and nourishing it silently.

20

Li Ziqi was shone upon by the golden light, and her body also began to emit golden-light as well. She suddenly felt extremely refreshed and vitalized. Her entire person became more optimistic and cheerful.

“You...you are a great teacher?”

Li Ziqi had a look of astonishment on her face as she looked at Sun Mo. This young man was at most 18 or 19 in age. Yet, he was already a great teacher?

Sun Mo lowered his head and glanced at the clothes he was wearing. He was somehow clad in blue-robos of an ancient style too. Although the time he spent on shore wasn't long, he still understood his current situation. He should have traversed space-time and arrived at another world.

This place was Middle-Earth. There were nine provinces and tens of countries in this world, and each of them was the capital of learning and education. Regardless of which country, great teachers were the most respectable of all occupations.

13

However, it wasn't easy to be a great teacher. One had to have a moment of enlightenment, possess the great teacher halo, be proficient in several types of occupations, and pass a strict test by the Saint Gate.

“Earlier, that was the ‘Priceless Advice’, right?”

Li Ziqi had a look of worship in her eyes. “The effects are very strong!”

A great teacher could transmit the dao and dispel the students' doubts. The great teacher halo was a unique talent all great teachers had. The halos could help the students relax, allowing them to comprehend the teaching with higher efficiency.

This 'Priceless Advice' was able to let the logic of the great teacher influence the students. It would allow them to not forget this for several days and maintain the same state of heart.

If a student hated studying and the great teacher used 'Priceless Advice' to persuade the student, the student would be infused with 'fighting spirit' and work hard in their studies for several days.

16

Staring at the strange gaze of little sister Li Ziqi, Sun Mo didn't know how to say the words he had been about to say – 'I just gained a flash of enlightenment earlier'.

At the same time, the system's notification rang out.

Ding!

Favorable impression from Li Ziqi +3.

Prestige connection with Li Ziqi unlocked. Current state, neutral (3/100)!

Remark: Put in more effort and gain the first enthusiastic fan-student on your path to be a great teacher!

"Which academy are you from?" asked Li Ziqi while blinking curiously.

"Central Province Academy!"

Sun Mo tidied up the memories in his mind and didn't know whether to laugh or cry. The situation of his host was truly terrible. No wonder his 'past-self' would want to head to the outskirts to relax.

After his past-self in this world had graduated, he luckily entered the Central Province Academy. It was just that the other graduates in the same batch as him had all become teaching assistants, while he was tossed to the logistics department.

“Wow, the Central Province Academy! You are so awesome to be able to teach there!”

The worship in Li Ziqi’s eyes became even more fervent. That was one of the nine great academies in Middle-Earth. The Central Province Academy was extremely famous and had an outstanding reputation.

“Hehe, you don’t need to praise me.”

Sun Mo didn’t know what he should say. 300 years ago, the Central Province Academy had experienced a huge calamity, and all the great teachers and genius students died completely. From then on, that setback led to total collapse. It gradually declined and only had its past reputation to depend on now.

In the nine provinces of Middle-Earth, there were over thousands of academies. They were divided into different grades based on their size and number of qualified teachers. Currently, the Central Province Academy had already fallen to the ‘D’ grade. In the league tournament this year, if it continued to be ranked at the bottom, it would be delisted and removed from the education system.

“If I didn’t remember wrongly, it would soon be the student recruitment meet for the Central Province Academy, right? I’ll go there and support you!”

Li Ziqi’s smile was very sweet. Her adorable dimples seemed to be filled with honey.

“Ding, mission issued. Please make Li Ziqi wholeheartedly take you on as her teacher within half-a-month. Reward: 1 mysterious treasure chest.”

The voice of the system rang out in Sun Mo’s ears, and it caused him to involuntarily curse silently in his heart. “Now, I’m just a part of the logistics department. I basically have no qualifications to take on disciples!”

Chapter 2: Favorable Impression +1

The night was already late, the bonfire swayed gently in the wind.

Li Ziqi, who was a budding beauty, emitted a dense air of innocence only teenage girls would have. This was especially so for her melon-shaped face. It was beautiful and adorable.

Although she wasn't an adult yet, she already possessed the immature charm of one. A few years later, she would definitely rank among the top ranks of beauties and become famous throughout the world.

Yet, Sun Mo had no time to admire her beauty. His brain was busy searching through the Great Absolute Teacher System.

“The system can help the host to become a great absolute teacher. The host can gain an increase in favorable impressions through the system guidance and targets set.

“Favorable impressions can be transformed into gold coins and be used as the currency to purchase items from the system shopping store.

“Merchandise sold includes but is not limited to various spells, secret treasures, alchemical pills, absolute arts, and blueprints...”

Sun Mo read silently and chose to open up the system shopping store. A shop's shelf made of sandalwood appeared before his eyes. However, nothing was on it other than a glowing dark-red fruit at the right corner.

“Starmoon Fruit, price 1,000 favorable impression points. After consuming it, it will increase your level.”

Sun Mo’s expression became unsightly.

“Are you kidding me? Where’s the bunch of good stuff promised? Why is there only one item? Do you believe that I’ll smack your face?”

In the continent of nine provinces, spirit qi was in abundance, and some distinguished sages had created various cultivation methods. If one trained their cultivation to the extreme, they could achieve eternal life and shatter the void. Up until now, tens of thousands of years had already passed in this world, and it had become a mature system.

The first realm for cultivators was known as the body-refinement realm. Next was the spirit-refining realm.

Energy was stored in your pores, transforming into spirit. When all 108 acupoints were cleared, the cultivator would step into the blood-ignition realm followed by the divine force realm. As the name implied, cultivators at the divine force realm had the strength that surpassed mortals.

Sun Mo felt like the cultivation realms were the same as learning; both could grow based on cultivating oneself through the system. No matter what, he was still a postgraduate student. He didn’t feel that cultivation would be difficult. Hence, compared to the Starmoon Fruit that could be used to increase his level and realm, he wanted an absolute art more.

“Don’t need to be in a rush. The other items would gradually be unlocked!”

The tone of the system wasn’t fast nor slow.

“Is there something like the Art of Nine Negations? How about the Six-Meridians Divine Sword?”

Sun Mo was a cultured youth. Usually, he would be reading novels on his phone in his idle time. When he had the feeling, he would even write some stories himself.

“No!”

The system was as calm as ever. “But there are better absolute arts than that.”

Sun Mo and the system were squabbling, neglecting Li Ziqi at the side. However, she wasn't impatient and was staring at Sun Mo in interest.

“He is quite good-looking!”

Li Ziqi bit her lips. Usually, people would always smile after looking at her. They would use all sorts of topics, trying to compliment her. But this young man didn't even glance at her directly.

Ding!

Favorable impression from Li Ziqi +1.

Prestige connection with Li Ziqi. Current state, neutral (5/100)!

“Don't be nervous, I won't bite.”

Sun Mo squeezed out a smile, feeling puzzled in his heart. Why did her favorable impression of him increase? According to the system's explanation, he thought that he needed to provide teachings and guidance before the target's favorable impression of him would increase?

“That's a great teacher's words and actions. The way they sit and walk can be considered role models. Your demeanor can also stir the hearts of students, causing them to generate respect and worship.”

The system's explanation was very detailed. It felt a little like a caring older sister.

“What is a prestige connection then?”

Sun Mo asked.

“Host’s level is too low. Unable to reveal the information.”

The system rejected him.

Sun Mo continued to explore the system’s functions as he felt his headache growing increasingly painful. When he first arrived, the memories in his brain were in chaos. Also, because he went into the water to save someone earlier, he expended quite a large amount of strength. He was incomparably weary and soon fell asleep involuntarily.

Kua! Kua!

A frog jumped onto Sun Mo’s face without any regard for him. After leaving two wet prints, it leaped off again.

“The dream last night was so long. But that girl was quite beautiful.”

The slightly cool dewdrops wetted his body, making him extremely uncomfortable. Sun Mo casually wiped his face and when he turned, he directly knocked his head into a locust tree next to him.

Bang!

The sensation of pain drifted over.

“It wasn’t a dream!”

Sun Mo rubbed his forehead and searched for Li Ziqi. However, at the bonfire that was already extinguished, there was no one at all. Even so, there was a pink-color handkerchief tied around his left wrist.

“Ten days later, see you at the student recruitment meet.”

The beautiful-looking words exuded the gentle aura of a girl from a wealthy family.

When Sun Mo thought of his terrible situation, he couldn't help but smile bitterly. If he was to let this girl know that he was just a logistic staff, wouldn't her disappointment shoot through the roof?

He went to the lake's side to wash his face first. This face of his was 80% similar to him in his previous world, but it was slightly more good-looking with a few hints of delicateness and immaturity to be seen. On his countenance, no confidence was emitted, there was only trepidation.

“No way!”

Sun Mo was very satisfied. Everyone wanted to be more good-looking. In his past world, his handsome face had added some impression points for him before the vice headmaster. After all, there would always be more opportunities for good-looking people.

The Jinling City was the ancient capital of the Six Dynasties. Although its bricks and tiles were covered with moss, the city had a rich historical background.

He walked to the end of Hongwu Street, which was the location of the Central Province Academy. A majestic and gigantic stone gate exuded a feeling of tyranny and solemnness as it stood there.

Sun Mo rushed back based on his memories. It was already close to noon.

“Where did you go?”

Mister Qin who was guarding the gate immediately stretched his head out when he saw Sun Mo.

Sun Mo nodded and then quickly entered the campus.

“Li Gong wanted you to go to the logistics department and look for him straight.”

Mister Qin had a very loud voice. No matter how he listened, Sun Mo could hear a gloating tone over his misfortune in his voice.

The passing students also began to mumble to themselves as they pointed at Sun Mo. He was probably the most famous person in the school now. It was just that rather than fame, it was infamy.

After he went up the office building and pushed open the logistics department door, a smell of cigarette smoke assailed his nose. Sun Mo hadn't seen anyone yet, but a scolding voice already rang out.

“Where have you gone to? Do you know that during lesson times, you are not allowed to leave the campus for no reason? Do you think you are a great teacher?”

A middle-aged man sitting at the corner stood up and limped over. He pointed at Sun Mo and began cursing at him.

“He isn't a teacher, but he is the fiance of the headmaster. So what even if he skipped work? Do you dare to interfere?”

A taunting voice that was exceptionally ear-piercing rang out.

Sun Mo swept his gaze over; this voice belonged to a short-haired middle-aged man. He had a teapot in his right hand and would occasionally throw a few taunts over. Sun Mo remembered that this man was named Liu Tong.

“I don't care whose fiance you are. If there's a next time, you will immediately be fired!”

Li Gong scolded and his tone was filled with violent anger. “Now, scram and go clean up the storehouses. I will do a check tomorrow morning.”

Sun Mo then retreated.

“Wait a minute. Your salary for this month will be reduced by half.”

Li Gong added. After that, he impatiently waved his hand like he was trying to chase a fly away.

“You guys bully him so much. What if this brat really resigns?”

Chen Mu who had a headful of white-hair felt some worry. He was afraid that they might be implicated. "I heard that Headmaster An personally wrote a letter of appointment to hire him."

"Oi, he is just someone who lives behind a woman's backing. What are you afraid of?"

Li Gong was filled with disdain. In any case, if the headmaster came down on them, there would be people above the headmaster protecting them. Besides, the faster Sun Mo was fired, the quicker he would be promoted.

After an intern came to the school, they would be assigned to an experienced teacher. They would start from a teaching assistant and learn from the teacher. However, Sun Mo's situation was terrible. He was assigned to Li Gong.

Li Gong wasn't a teacher. He was a foreman in the logistics department, and he did odd jobs for the school like repairing the tables and chairs. Basically, those with judgment could already tell that the chance of Sun Mo becoming a teacher wasn't great.

"Hmph, with me around, forget about being a great teacher, he won't even be able to be a teacher in his life. If my mood is good, I can still teach him woodwork. At the very least, he would be able to fill his stomach."

Li Gong drank a mouthful of tea and had a complacent look on his face. To him, he didn't have many chances to 'fix' intern teachers.

Chen Mu opened his mouth, but he swallowed back the words he was about to speak. Forget it, he didn't want to interfere. Currently, many worrying matters were affecting the school, bringing plenty of troubles. It was best for him to protect himself and idle away while receiving his salary!

Standing in the corridor, Sun Mo's expression was gloomy. He was never a person to turn the other cheek after being slapped. If it wasn't for him still not being familiar with this body and not understanding the concept of spirit qi, he would have definitely sent a punch over and taught the lame Li Gong why the flowers were red.

“Li Gong? I’ll let you boss around for now!”

Sun Mo made a note about this lame cripple in the notebook of his heart. “Also that fiancée of mine? She seemed to be very fickle with this relationship.”

Three years ago, the old headmaster of the Central Province Academy had failed to obtain the laurel of a Saint. Although he didn’t die, he was still unconscious now.

His son wasn’t filial and had escaped his responsibility. Thus, his granddaughter An Xinhui had no choice but to step up temporarily and bear the headmaster’s role.

An Xinhui had peerless looks and a pure heart. She had graduated from the Heavenly Mystery Academy of Cloud Province. That academy was different from this ‘famous school’ that had long since fallen to the ‘D’ grade. It was one of the nine top famous schools in the world.

Even in the Heavenly Mystery Academy of Cloud Province, An Xinhui was still the cream of the crop and had obtained an outstanding reputation. During her first year, she had already made her way into the Devastatingly Beauty Rankings.

However, being a headmaster and a student was two different things. In these three years, An Xinhui worked her heart out but was still unable to prevent the Central Province Academy’s decline.

After Sun Mo arrived at the school, he merely saw An Xinhui from afar during a meeting. In fact, they didn’t even have any private communication.

His past-self had come to the Central Province Academy after graduation because he wanted to help this fiancée of his who was childhood sweethearts with him. His goal was to let the Central Province Academy return to the top nine famous schools in the world. However, all of a sudden, people started labeling him as a ‘soft-rice guy’. Also, he was tossed into the logistics department. Leaving aside getting a good position, he didn’t even manage to become a normal teaching assistant.

“As a soft-rice guy, didn’t I lose out too much?”

Sun Mo was speechless.

“Ding, new mission available. Please become a teaching assistant in one month.
Reward: One silver chest.”

The system’s voice rang out with no prior signs.

Note:

Art of Nine Negations and Six-Meridians Divine Sword are both ultimate-level martial arts in Jinyong Novels.

Soft-rice guy: A guy that lived off a woman.
