Chapter 1101

I Chapter 1101 Social Suicide Leigh's villa sat on the hillside of Landor Lake.

Located on high ground, the residential building offered a birds - eye view of the city.

Rushing to the entrance, Leigh went ballistic upon seeing photos raining down from the city center above.

It would be a social suicide for Darcy if the public viewed compromising photos of her.

The woman, titled the hope of Lilyrose, would become the disgrace of Lilyrose. Leigh would destroy every last ounce of her dignity. I Yet now, his private photos with Loren and others had become public instead.

He was the one experiencing social suicide.

Leigh was foaming. 44

"Smack!" Snapping out of his thoughts, Leigh slapped Max, who joined him at the door, in the face.

"Bastard! Call Loren, the bitch, now and ask her what's going on!" Leigh shouted menacingly.

Max teared up, knowing he was in for hell after the botched job.

Leigh punched and kicked him as he recoiled in fear and pulled out his phone shakily to give Loren a call.

His calls to her went unanswered.

Loren's phone fell into Kaze's hands, and Draco's men whisked it away to copy the photos within.

Max contacted Guilermo, the movie director. "Guilermo, where's Loren? Is the bitch with you? I want to talk to her now." He hated Loren now. The bitch screwed up the task assigned.

“Hello, M-Mr. Kang...” Soon, Loren’s weak voice came on the line.

Max shouted angrily, “Why didn’t you take my calls, bitch!” When Loren woke up on set and realized Kaze had taken her phone, she knew she had messed up.

She did not contact Max right away.

Instead, Loren tried her best to keep things under wraps while doing damage control.

Given Max's anger, Loren knew the cat was out of the bag.

Hence, Loren started wailing. “I’m sorry, Mr. Kang. Kaze stole my phone.

“The bastard stirred up trouble on set, injured the staff, and took Darcy away.

“The photos in my phone gallery landed in the bastard’s possession too.

“Enough!” With Leigh standing with a grimacing look, Max interrupted Loren annoyedly.

“Bitch, everybody in Lilyrose has seen your secret photos with Mr. Glitter. It’s over for you.” I He then hung up. “HR On the other end of the line, Loren fell to her bottom with an ashen look.

She was toast! I Leigh would make her pay for sure! “Bitch! Whore! Hahaha!” Livid, Leigh cursed under his breath before walking back to Kaze. He glared at him with resentment.

“Do you think you can crush me by 4

Members of Four Ocean Commerce GUILT, who were clamoring before, were dumbfounded. Vv

Leigh was strong and the student of a great martial artist in Sunrise. He even smashed a chair with just one kick.

All Kaze was, was a brute amateur.

Yet, he was able to slap Leigh to the ground.

They were not the only ones finding reality hard to accept. Leigh, sitting on the ground, flipped out.

He was destroyed with a single slap after singing his own praises.

Leigh was furious, to say the least.

He got back up from the ground and glared at Kaze. "How dare you ambush me, Kaze!" Leigh could not accept the fact that Kaze took him, a highly trained fighter, out with a single strike.

The idea of a sneak attack gave Leigh some comfort.

Leigh was just lying to himself. 4

Members of the Four Ocean Commerce Guild were relieved at Leigh's explanation.

They believed Kaze was only able to put a dent in Leigh because the latter was caught off guard.

"I can't believe he snuck up on Mr.

Kaze's palms came crashing down on him, striking him to the ground.

“Smack!” “Smack!” Despite Leigh’s effort to shy away, Kaze kept hitting him in the same place. Not too long later, Leigh started coughing up blood and losing his teeth.

his verbal threat meant nothing to Kaze.

With that in mind, Lyon did not waste his time trying to persuade Kaze anymore. He glanced at Pierce, the second-in-command of Lilyrose's finest.

Leigh nearly bit his tongue off when Kaze struck his chin. Even so, the pain was too much for Leigh to bear.

“It's this how you carry out justice, deputy chief? I “Are you trying to tell me that you only hold good guys at gunpoint?” Pierce's expression turned grim.

Lyon said indifferently, “Pierce is about to be the chief of Lilyrose's police force. Get your facts right.” Pierce's heart skipped a beat.

That was his favorite position.

No one would defy him when he did that.

However, Pierce's arm froze before his weapon could touch Kaze's head.

Kaze stood facing the entrance, but Pierce could not get a good look at his face before because of the glare.

Now, he finally saw what Kaze looked like.

Pierce was not expecting the guy to be him.

He felt like his heart stopped.

Pierce had met Kaze more than once.

He had witnessed Don following Kaze in reverence. He had also observed Kaze engaging in conversations with Johnson.

It was hard for Pierce to forget the young face.

~ He had no idea who Kaze was.

However, Kaze was no ordinary man to command respect from Don and Johnson, the former mayor, despite his age.

Pierce's mind wandered to the recent rumor about the new mayor.

It was said that the new mayor was only young and a Lee.

Rumors circulated in communities that the new mayor was an heir, far richer and more powerful than the likes of Leigh.

Chapter 1111

Chapter 1111 Worthy to Be Human

The mayor, who was less than 30 years old, was meant for greater things in the next decade or so.

Pierce suspected the mayor was Kaze.

He had to stop his mind from going down the rabbit hole.

It was at that moment he decided not to make things difficult for Kaze anymore.

The last thing he wanted was to be caught in the crossfire.

Pierce could get himself killed for clashing with the new mayor.

As sweat rolled off his forehead, Pierce stole a glance at Kaze, who kept a blank face, and put away his gun like nothing ever happened.

He then turned around and said, "Mr. Hicks, I need to attend to an emergency now. I believe you are more than capable of handling the situation."

All Pierce wanted was to stay on the sidelines without offending either party.

He could not afford to get involved in a conflict of this level.

An emergency?

Lyon scowled and said in a chilling voice, "What could be more urgent than working for Mr. Glitter?"

"Don't you want to be the police chief, Pierce? Do you want to work for Don for the rest of your life?"

Pierce glanced at Kaze, feeling put between a rock and a hard place.

He wanted to be the police chief.

However, if Kaze was the new mayor, Pierce would risk losing his position as the police chief and his career.

Still, Pierce did not cut ties with the Glitters completely, at least not until he verified Kaze's identity.

He thought about a prominent figure living around the area. Maybe he could get in touch with the individual to run into Kaze and verify his identity.

"Mr. Hicks, it's not that I'm washing my hands of Mr. Glitter, but I really have an emergency. I'm sorry. I will come back to Mr. Glitter on this and make a proper apology."

That was if Leigh lived to tell the tale. Of course, Pierce kept that thought to himself.

Pierce wanted to take off with his men.

*Hang on."

Kaze suddenly uttered, "Who said you can leave?"

"Can I help you, Mr. Lee?"

Pierce turned around stiffly. Kaze's attitude was his cue not to make any reckless move.

Kaze said callously, "You have not answered my question. Why should you point the gun at the good guys?"

*L..."

Pierce was at a loss for words.

"You can't answer a simple question. Are you even the deputy chief?"

Kaze took strides ahead and slapped Pierce to the ground.

Everybody was dumbfounded.

Kaze attacked the deputy chief of police.

He was so brazen.

"Pow!"

That was not the end of the matter. Kaze pulled another punch on Pierce, and the latter spat out blood.

"Do you think you deserve to be the police chief? Answer me!"

"I don't!"

Still, Kaze's slap came down hard on him.

Pierce took the hit without dodging.

"Do you think you live up to your badge and commitment to your colleagues?"

"Do you think you are worthy to be human?"

Kaze kept asking while slapping Pierce in the face over and over again.

*I'm sorry, Mr. Lee. I was wrong!"

Pierce endured the beating.

With his suspicion that Kaze was the new mayor getting stronger, Pierce dared not put up a fight.

"Do you think an apology will cut it?" Kaze asked curtly, his eyes glistening savagely.

If someone else was in Kaze's shoes, Pierce would have shot him a long time ago.

Kaze could not stand the scum who abused their power.

*Thump!"

Pierce fell to his knees and gritted his teeth before saying, "I'm sorry, Mr. Lee. I recognize the error of my ways."

Chapter 1112

Chapter 1112 Another VIP

Pierce humbly knelt before Kaze.

Everybody was lost for words.

The deputy chief of the police force may not have the prestige of a prominent family, but he was not easily manipulated either.

The impossible just happened before their eyes.

Kaze was so unruly despite his lack of powerful connections.

*Thud!"

Kaze kicked Pierce away. Without looking at him, he said, "Get lost."

"Come on."

Pierce wiped the blood off his mouth as his men helped him up. They scrambled out of there right away.

By now, Lyon stared at Kaze cautiously.

He had to admit that he had once again underestimated Kaze.

Lyon was not foolish. Pierce must have seen something in Kaze or at least know who he was.

Pierce's attitude changed completely.

Lyon drew a deep breath and asked solemnly, "I won't ask again, Kaze. Are you going to let Mr. Glitter go?"

His form of address shifted from "boy" to using Kaze's name.

Lyon's approach toward Kaze shifted multiple times.

Kaze's behavior was shocking.

*Bring the chair here, Draco."

Kaze waved his arm at Draco to carry the chair over and sunk his back into the seat.

He placed his foot back on Leigh's chest.

Lyon could not stand to watch.

Kaze said with a faint smile, "I'll release Leigh when he apologizes and pays the damages to my wife.

"You're asking for a lot, Kaze."

Lyon said angrily, "We can do the compensation, but don't you think you're taking things too far by expecting Mr. Glitter to apologize?"

*Mr. Glitter is a scion, an heir of a prestigious family.

"He would be humiliated if anyone were to find out that he apologized to your wife."

Lyon knew Leigh too well. Leigh was too proud to apologize. Search the FindNovel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"Oh, is an apology going to kill him?"

Kaze rubbed his foot on Leigh's chest and said flatly, "Since he's proud, I don't mind putting him down a notch.

"We can stay here. I'm not in a hurry to go anywhere anyway."

Kaze threw his head back and closed his eyes as if he was about to sleep.

Leigh shook with rage under his foot, but he could not bring up the courage to yell at him.

He was afraid that Kaze would step on him again.

Lyon nearly went ballistic.

The way he saw it, Kaze was acting like a thug.

Enraged, Lyon hissed through clenched teeth. "Your threat won't stop me from fighting you, Kaze.

*This is your last warning. I'm going to kill you if you don't let Mr. Glitter go.

"You can kill Mr. Glitter, but I will be destroying you next.

"Once you're dead, the Glitters will go after your family.

*So you want to see who is tougher, huh? I'll show you!"

Lyon intimidated Kaze that he was willing to go down the path of destruction.

Kaze did not bat an eye. "Do it then, but you and Leigh will most likely die in my hands."

"You?"

Lyon smirked in disdain, ready to pull the first punch.

His phone suddenly rang.

After a brief exchange on the phone, Lyon chuckled in delight.

*A VIP is about to arrive, Kaze. Let's see if you keep up with the stubborn act."

Chapter 1113

Chapter 1113 The Former Mayor of Lilyrose "Oh? And who is this VIP?" Raising a brow, Kaze looked at Lyon with intrigue.

He found it interesting.

The Glitters were indeed a prestigious family with an extensive network. They kept sending people his way.

Pierce, the deputy chief, came first, and now a VIP was on their way to the premises.

However, Kaze was not bothered by the supposed VIP.

He would knock all of them back.

Today, Kaze was determined to hit the dignity out of Leigh.

Sensing Kaze's unconcerned demeanor, Lyon said with a smirk, "You'll wipe that smirk off SEARCH THE website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

your face soon, Kaze.

"The individual who is nearly here might not be some heavyweight to the Glitters.

"But the individual is someone huge in a small city like Lilyrose." Lyon got a call from Pierce, who had left a moment ago.

Pierce said that he contacted an individual after leaving who could potentially get Leigh out of the situation.

The person lived in another villa in the area.

His name was Trent Fuller.

Lyon knew who he was from the name.

Trent Fuller was the former mayor of Lilyrose before Johnson.

He was the mayor for two decades.

Trent was a top dog.

Seeing that he had run Lilyrose for twenty years, his influence ran deep in the city.

Truth be told, Trent held prestige in Lilyrose.

His influence even extended further than the city.

If the former governors of the South River 'State wanted to know about Lilyrose's financial situation, the go-to guy was Trent, not the current mayor.

Lyon felt assured by the fact that Trent was a mentor to Johnson.

Johnson had Kaze's back.

Kaze would surely yield to Johnson's mentor.

With that in mind, Lyon laughed in glee. "I hope you can still smile when the VIP arrives, Kaze." Undeterred, Kaze replied with a grin, "Cut the crap. Tell the person to hurry up.

"You talked a big game, but I don't see the individual yet. Is the person too old to get a move on?"

"Hmph! What a rude young man!" A scoff came from outside.

An elderly man emerged at the door.

It was Trent, the former mayor of Lilyrose.

Trent had several silver strands on his head, but he had a ruddy appearance.

He did not deteriorate in health like his peers after leaving a position of power. On the contrary, he was hale and hearty.

a might be old, but I'm fit. I can still move around as you can see." Trent was helped by an arrogant-looking young man, but he shook his hand away and took large strides over.

Lyon went up to him with a smile and said, " Don't be mad, Mr. Fuller. Some youngsters are cocky and have no manners. Don't let him get to you.

"I think you carry yourself steadily. You are as fit as the rest of us who work out. Your age doesn't slow you down."

Chapter 1114

Chapter 1114 Represent the People of Lilyrose "And you are?" Trent's courteous behavior toward Lyon stemmed from either his kind words or the possible influence of the Glitters.

Lyon said, "I am Lyon Hicks, an aide to the I Glitters." I "Ah, Mr. Hicks." Trent nodded and uttered, "I heard the heir of the Glitters has met with some problems. As a neighbor, I thought I should lend a hand.

"This is my grandson, Pete Fuller. Come and say hello, Pete." Trent told the young man in the back to greet Lyon.

His act of kindness was to pave the way for his grandson.

Trent was old. Yet, he was out and about to earn favors for the sake of his grandson Reading Trent's mind, Lyon praised patiently, You have a fine grandson. He's around Mr.

Glitter's age. I'm sure they will be best friends." Though overjoyed, Trent said humbly, "Mr.

Glitter is blue blood. Pete wouldn't dream about being friends with Mr. Glitter.

"He'll be more than happy just to learn a thing or two from Mr. Glitter.

"I wonder where Mr. Glitter is now." Trent looked to the left and right in anticipation.

Sick and tired of their fake pleasantries, Kaze said peevishly, "Under my foot." Lyon grimaced.

Trent pulled a long face.

He was showing Leigh with flattery a moment ago, only for Kaze to dampen the mood.

[twas insulting.

Trent stared harshly at Kaze. "Not only are you rude, but you are conceited too, young man.

"Mr. Glitter is not someone you can humiliate.

It's absurd of you to put your foot on him." Trent noticed earlier that Kaze pinned a bloodied man under his foot.

However, he did not believe the heir of the Glitters to be treated in such a manner, so he turned his nose up at Kaze's response.

Not wasting his breath with Trent, Kaze tapped his foot on Leigh, who was close to passing out from the pain. "Tell him, Mr.

Glitter. Are you Leigh Glitter?" "Argh! Don't move. That's right. I'm the one and only Leigh Glitter." His pride did not matter at this point. Leigh howled agonizingly in tears. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Silence befell the room.

Trent scowled.

The air was thick with awkwardness.

The man, who was trampled under Kaze's foot, turned out to be the heir of the Glitters.

"You're unruly, young man." Moments later, Trent uttered grimly, "Take your foot away and let Mr. Glitter go.

"Mr. Glitter is an honorable guest in our city. A punk like you should not humiliate him." Kaze furrowed his brows while his bottom was still stuck to the ground, his foot tapping on Leigh.

"An honorable guest in the city? I didn't know that. Is it because he belongs to the Glitter family? "Besides, do you represent the millions of citizens in Lilyrose, old man?" Kaze saw no need to respect Trent since the latter called him a punk.

Pete's eyes bulged. "Watch your attitude with my grandpa, bastard! "My grandpa was the former mayor of Lilyrose.

Even the current mayor would show him the utmost respect. I "Why can't he represent the people of Lilyrose?"

Chapter 1115

Chapter 1115 Age as a Weapon "The new mayor of Lilyrose will show the old guy the utmost respect?" Kaze looked at Trent with a pretentious smile. " Oh, really? Who is he? I know nothing about him." He found Pete's statement hilarious because he was the new mayor.

"You're cocky, young man. Who are you?" Trent grimaced. Pierce called Trent for two reasons. In a way, this was his way of apologizing to the Glitters and making up for walking away when Kaze scared him.

He also wanted Trent to find out who Kaze was.

Hence, Pierce left out the information that Kaze might be the new mayor. Heck, he did not even let Trent know anything about Kaze.

Trent knew nothing about Kaze.

Lyon said angrily, "You're the son-in-law of the Quints, Kaze. You were lucky to be the chairman of Shangrila Group thanks to your wife's help. 1 "I don't know how you managed to seek Johnson's favor. So you have a friend in high places.

"Do you think you're untouchable? "I'll be honest with you. Your connections and social status mean nothing to Mr. Fuller.

"You have the audacity to disrespect Mr. Fuller.

"I think the tiny win got to your head." Trent grew angrier.

"The son-in-law of the Quints and the chairman of Shangrila Group? Hmph, I know you." Trent stared chillingly at Kaze and uttered coldly, "I guess you don't know, young man.

"Even your father-in-law, Hector, holds me in high regard.

"You have the nerve to disrespect me." If Kaze belonged to wealth and power, Trent could brush off his rudeness with just a criticism. : However, Kaze married into the Quints, who were upper middle class at best.

When Trent was still the mayor, he would not even spare a second glance at the Quints.

They were not worth his time.

It was senseless of Kaze to act defiantly one too many times.

Feeling backed up, Lyon said smugly, "Hear that, Kaze? Even your father-in-law looks up to Mr. Fuller. Who do you think you are? "Release Mr. Glitter right now. Kneel to Mr.

Glitter and apologize to Mr. Fuller." Trent narrowed his eyes on Kaze, waiting for him to do as Lyon said.

He believed Kaze would not challenge him and let Leigh go once he knew who he was.

The Glitters would then owe Trent one.

"Don't try to act superior because you're older.

Are you really the former mayor of Lilyrose?" Kaze smirked.

He lifted his foot and stomped on Leigh's leg right in front of Trent.

Battered and bruised, Leigh was barely holding on.

Hence, Kaze did not exert much force.

Even so, Leigh cried out in pain.

“Are you crazy, Kaze? Stop!” Lyon shouted in rage.

Even after what Trent said, Kaze still tortured Leigh.

Kaze was an idiot.

Kaze ignored Trent's ashen face and said indifferently, “You're retired. Why can't you just rest and enjoy your final years, old man? “Don't try to kiss up to the rich and powerful, abuse your power, and earn some perks for your family in the name of helping the people.

“It will likely be a waste of your time and effort.”

Chapter 1116 A Reprimand Everybody there was stunned.

um... i It was bad enough that Kaze kept testing Trent's patience. .

Now, he was reprimanding Trent as if he stood on higher ground.

The young man, who was no more than 30 years old, was just a boy before Trent's presence.

The nerve of Kaze. Where did he find the courage to take jabs at the former mayor? The crowd was speechless. It was clear to them that Kaze did not know how to read the room.

Trent smirked in rage. “I have walked this earth longer than you, young man. Who are you to tell me off? “I was the mayor of the city for twenty years, I and the people love me.

“The only thing I heard about you is your reputation as a mooching son-in-law of the Quints.

“I don’t know why you think it’s appropriate for you to give me a dressing down.” Trent’s tone was flat.

He had never met such an arrogant prick.

Kaze smiled callously. “It’s just a nice reminder. SEAR*ch the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

“It’s your business whether you want to take my advice.

“Don’t keep bringing up the past. Your twenty years as the mayor only show your stagnant progression.

“You’re a has-been, yesterday’s news.

“If you continue to dwell on your past and use seniority as your only argument, you risk being shown up.”

Lyon and the others widened their eyes.

Kaze struck a raw nerve in Trent.

Trent was highly respected in the city as a mayor for two decades.

Yet, Kaze made it sound like Trent’s twenty-year tenure meant nothing because he could not even climb higher than a mayor.

No one could put up with his hurtful words.

“Like you’d know what you’re talking about.” Trent shivered in rage while pointing at Kaze.

His eyes bulged as he glared at Kaze. “Yesterday’s news, huh? I’ll show you.” He waved his arm at his grandson in the back.

“Bring me a phone. I want to call Johnson.

“I want to ask Johnson if your attitude stems from his support of you because that’s what the people are talking about.

“We’ll see if he admits it to my face.”

Pete handed Trent the phone, and the latter dialed Johnson's private number, Johnson was attending a training course in Midstate.

He normally would not take calls during the course. However, he knew it must be serious when he realized the caller was Trent.

After sneaking out of the classroom, he took the call with respect. "This is a surprise, Trent." Trent put the call on the loudspeaker.

Once the call connected, Johnson's voice reached everybody's ears.

Johnson, the former mayor with a bright future ahead for getting in the governor's good graces, spoke to Trent on the phone with reverence.

The crowd looked at Trent in awe.

Trent straightened his back and asked, "Do you know a young man named Kaze Lee, Johnson?"

"I do. What's the matter, Trent?" Johnson asked nervously.

Trent smirked at Kaze before asking indifferently, "I heard that you're his friend in high places.

"I want to verify with you whether this is the case."

Chapter 1118

Chapter 1118 Vivid Portrayal "What? You can't?" Johnson's response stirred an uproar.

"Why? Kaze is just the son-in-law of the Quints. Yet, Mayor Brooks defied his teacher for him. Did I hear that right?" "Johnson didn't punish Kaze for upsetting Mr.

Glitter in his name and disrespecting Mr.

Fuller. What is he thinking?" No one could figure out why Johnson would do such a thing.

Kaze was just a loser who took his wife's last name.

Given Johnson's steady rise in politics, he could just say the word to make Kaze pay.

Even Trent could not wrap his head around it.

No one expected Johnson's shocking response.

“You have the nerve, Johnson. I am the former mayor of Lilyrose. Why should I apologize to a loser? “I can't believe you'd say that. Haha.” I Trent smirked in rage. “Are you giving me the snub because you are buddies with the governor now? “The audacity of you to humiliate me with a loser.” I Trent hissed through clenched teeth. I He believed Johnson had a grudge because he used to answer to him.

Now the tables had turned, and Johnson, who was moving up in life, could take his past grievance on him.

Johnson knew then that Trent had lost his mind.

Their past friendship was no more.

Johnson said, “Mr. Fuller, that's hurtful. I wouldn't do that.

“I've said what I said. It's up to you what you do with the advice.” Johnson ended the call.

He then sent a text message to Kaze, telling him he was ready to help when needed.

Johnson knew who was the hand that fed him. SEAR*ch the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Kaze ignored the text message.

He was more than capable of running the city.

Johnson did not need to come back and clean up the mess.

“Hello? Hello? Bastard! I can't believe you hung up on me.” Trent smashed the phone in the heat of the moment.

His mentee, Johnson, terminated the call in front of everybody. Trent was utterly humiliated.

Besides, he acted cocky to Kaze because he was sure Johnson would listen to him.

Nothing went as expected.

Trent's behavior painted a vivid picture that he was indeed yesterday's news. e I Flushed in the face, Trent had never been so I furious.

He cocked his head back to give Kaze the evil eye. "Consider yourself lucky to have an ungrateful friend like Johnson, bastard.

"But do you think I don't have other ways to straighten you out?"

Chapter 1119

Chapter 1119 A Member of the Military

*Johnson just hung up on you. Shouldn't you learn your lesson by now, old man?"

Kaze shook his head. Despite his age, Trent was stubborn and refused to admit he was wrong.

*Hmph! Do you think I care about Johnson?"

Trent said curtly, "He was only the mayor for a couple of years. He didn't even get the hang of the job yet.

*I'll show you whose voice carries weight on the council."

Trent stubbornly thought Johnson was Kaze's friend in high places.

Johnson's statement about not getting in Kaze's business was just his way of washing his hands of the matter and humiliating Trent.

Kaze was not powerful and well-connected as Johnson hinted.

Otherwise, Kaze would not marry into an upper-middle class family and take his wife's last name.

"I can say the word and make the Quints the public enemy, boy," Trent threatened grimacingly. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

He would not let the matter go until Kaze yielded to him.

Kaze furrowed his brows. He was disinterested in going around in circles with Trent.

Darco, who kept quiet behind Kaze, could not hold back his tongue anyway.

He took a step forward and criticized, "You basically have one foot in the grave. Why are you still yapping here after you were proved wrong?"

*Age does not make you wiser at all.

*If I were you, I would get home and pick a coffin to lie in instead of embarrassing myself here.

"Get lost now while you still have a say in choosing a coffin."

Way back then, Kaze could not put up with the way Draco talked.

When they first knew each other, Draco was a loose cannon who did not respect any authority. Kaze had roughed up him more than a few times.

Draco could be mean when he wanted to.

Even Lyon and the others believed the insults could drive them up the wall.

Trent turned flushed and shook in fury.

He raised his arm and pointed at Draco shakily. "How dare you scold me, bastard!"

*Scold you? Can I beat you up then?"

One to act on his emotions, Draco rolled his sleeves up to hit Trent.

*Don't you disrespect my grandpa, jerk!"

With tempers flaring, Pete ripped Draco a new one.

*Stop, Pete!" Trent yelled.

Pete looked back disgruntledly. "Why did you tell me to stop? I want to set the jerk straight for yelling at you."

"I told you to stop talking," Trent shouted without looking back, his eyes fixating on Draco.

More accurately, Trent was staring at Draco's shirt underneath his lifted jacket.

His green shirt had brass-buttoned cuffs.

Trent's gaze traveled to Draco's collar, and his expression turned grim. He stared at Draco and asked solemnly, "Are you in active service, young man?"

Lyon and members of the Four Ocean Commerce Guild looked over.

Draco came with Kaze and kept to himself, so they thought Draco was Kaze's sidekick and paid him no mind.

Trent's words made them frown.

The man with the foul mouth was in the army.

Draco scoffed. "I guess you're not all that blind, old fart."

Chapter 1120

Chapter 1120 Put the Slap on His Tab

The military had always been an extraordinary existence in Arcadia.

Even the most prominent families would put their attitude down a notch in the face of the army.

Trent's heart skipped a beat when Draco admitted he was serving.

Even Lyon frowned and observed Draco in silence.

"Which branch of the military do you serve him, buddy?" Trent asked, even taking a more amiable form of address.

Draco kept the vile attitude. "I serve Lilyrose Strategic Department. Just cut the crap and get to the point."

Lilyrose Strategic Department!

He was from Lilyrose Strategic Department.

Trent and Lyon's hearts sank.

Lilyrose Strategic Department governed the military in five states.

The local council answered to Lilyrose Strategic Department, not the other way around.

Lilyrose Strategic Department was prominent in the South River State too.

Trent stared intently at Draco's arrogant face as some bad times came to mind.

As the mayor of Lilyrose for twenty years, Trent often got his way, and no one would say no to him.

The only exception was Lilyrose Strategic Department. Trent had to put up with the military for two decades.

Lilyrose Strategic Department was on a different level, and they were involved in national security.

Trent had to respond to the department's needs and disputes when he was the mayor.

He had to keep his mouth shut and take the abuse from the military if they were unhappy.

The awful experience in those twenty years was a trauma he did not want to revisit.

Without knowing Draco's rank and position in the military, Trent already was fearful of him.

If Trent were to find out that Kaze commanded Draco, the chief commander of Lilyrose Strategic Department, Trent would probably wet his pants. Search The website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Draco's eyes bulged. "Why are you still standing there? Get lost!"

Trent snapped out of his thoughts and shuddered.

"Alright, I'll get lost now."

As the crowd watched in shock, Trent nodded at Draco and turned to drag his grandson away.

Trent regretted getting involved.

Kaze was not someone important. The Glitters would crush him eventually.

However, even Lilyrose Strategic Department was involved.

For all Trent knew, the military could be trying to take the Glitters down.

He could have gotten himself killed for engaging in the mess.

Trent did not want to stay a second more.

*Hang on. I didn't say you can leave."

Draco suddenly pointed at Pete and went up to slap the living daylights out of him.

*This is to teach you about basic respect before you have anything to show for."

While talking, Draco glanced at Trent. "I'll put your slap on the tab, old fart. If I hit you now, you might just die. "Now, beat it!"

Ashen in the face, Trent grabbed Pete and scrambled out of the villa.

It was pin-drop silent in the villa.

Everybody stared at Draco with their jaws dropped. They did not expect him to be as cocky as Kaze.

Draco attacked Pete right in front of Trent and even reserved one for Trent.

He was a savage.

Stunned by Draco's aggression, Lyon nodded courteously at him.

*Can I have your name, buddy? What kind of work do you do in Lilyrose Strategic Department?"

Chapter 1121

Chapter 1121 Patch Up

Lyon tried to find out more about Draco before he made any decisions about the next move, but Draco did not even answer him.

"Who do you think you are, talking to me?"

With that, Draco strutted back and stood behind Kaze.

Lyon and the others were surprised by Draco's reaction.

The man from Lilyrose Strategic Department seemed to assume Kaze as his leader.

Who exactly was the useless son-in-law of the Quints?

Lyon was a smart man who could read the room. He knew that before he identified Draco's identity, it would be better to patch things up with him.

As for what would come after this, it would be a matter for a later date.

He took a deep breath and went over to Kaze. He bowed and nodded, saying, "Brother, I'm sorry to have offended you in any way. How about we put this little misunderstanding aside?"

When the words escaped his mouth, Lyon was drowning in his own grievance.

Since he was one of the martial artist Gareth Hornberg's best students, and also affiliated with the Glitters, he had always assumed a more superior stance. He could punch people to death if he wanted to.

Now, he was forced to lower himself to speak to Kaze and even requested a ceasefire before things went out of control.

He had never been so aggrieved.

Fortunately, he just had to save Leigh from Kaze and it would be over.

Kaze's reply, however, surprised him.

He looked at Lyon and said, "What gives you the idea that you can patch things up with us?"

Lyon's eyes were burning with rage but he quickly extinguished them.

He said heavily, "My fellow brother, I know Leigh has done wrong but since you have tortured him to this extent, believe you have nursed your grievance. It's always better to stand behind the line rather than cross it without qualms..."

Kaze stopped him and said, "Stand behind the line? You mean I should stay put and wait behind the line so that you can kill me next time? Too bad. I was hoping that you would fight me so that I could have an excuse to kill you and that bastard altogether.

*But since you lowered yourself now, how am I going to kill you two?" Kaze said as he shook his head.

He then stomped on Leigh's forearm, breaking it completely. SEARCH THE FINDNØVEL.NET website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Leigh was barely conscious but the pain brought him back, causing him to twist and twirl on the ground like a fish out of water.

"Don't you cross the line, Kaze!"

Lyon widened his furious eyes at Kaze. His fists were tightly clenched.

If he did not know Kaze had the intention to kill Leigh, he would have fought Kaze.

"I like crossing the line, what'chu gonna do about it?"

Kaze got up from the chair and went over to Lyon, tapping on his face lightly to insult him.

"Not only did Leigh Glitter cause the car crash just to harass my wife, but he even tried to take nudes of her and sleep with her. Don't you think that's crossing the line?"

"He threatened me to kneel, apologize, and deliver my wife to him. Don't you think that's crossing the line too?" Kaze tapped Lyon's face lightly with each word he spewed.

Emotional damage!

*Kaze, you!"

Lyon had never been insulted like this before. His body was shaking furiously.

Slap!

Kaze slapped him all of a sudden.

"What? Finish your sentence."

Slap!

Kaze slapped Lyon again.

"If I were you, I wouldn't even hold back. What's wrong? Scared?"

Slap!

Slap after slap, Kaze humiliated Lyon in the worst way possible.

Slap after slap, Kaze exerted more strength, which caused Lyon's face to swell.

Lyon's eyes were burning with the flames of rage and they were on the verge of erupting, but he managed to keep his fists to himself.

"So you're this coward even when you have the Glitters behind you? You don't even dare to raise your fist at me? I won't have the excuse to kill you. How boring."

Kaze grew tired of slapping Lyon. He turned around and kicked Leigh in the stomach again. "Mr. Glitter, let's continue talking about how you sent your men to thrash my wife's car. How do you plan to settle that?"

Leigh never thought he would be beaten up so badly.

He was barely alive after all the torture and it grinded his intention to resist to nothing.

He just wanted to get this over with and escape Kaze's evil clutches.

He weakly said, "Just tell me a number, I'll pay..."

"I don't need money. I need a car. I see you have many cars in your garage.*"

Kaze signaled Draco. "Draco, go pick a car for Darcy."

"Aye, boss. I'll pick one that Darcy will love."

Draco whistled as he went off.

Right after Draco went off, Lyon's men put on their vicious looks and glared at Kaze dangerously.

They were all Lyon's disciples. Content belong to NôvelDráma. Org.

Insulting their master would be insulting them; slapping on their master's face would also be slapping on their faces.

The moment Draco left, who they assumed was the most threatening, they could barely keep their anger at bay. "Kaze, even if you have someone from the strategic department with you, we are not afraid of you. We can still wreck you!"

*Even if it will cost us our lives, the Glitters will make sure our families are well-compensated!"

The men were prepared to give up their lives, so without a second thought, they jumped on Kaze.

They attacked with the fiercest moves, aiming for Kaze's weak spots.

Lyon stood confidently and watched his disciples jump on Kaze.

Since his disciples took the initiative to jump on Kaze, he did not mind using the chance to test Kaze's real strength.

He had not confirmed Draco's identity and if he was just a nobody at the strategic department, he could very well crush Kaze without a second thought.

Nevertheless, it was a golden opportunity that he could not miss! He was willing to take the chance.

Lyon curled his lips into a vicious grin.

He trained his disciples personally and they all went through vigorous training. All of them had taken lives before and once they surrounded Kaze, there was no way Kaze could make it out alive.

Kaze would be killed on the spot.

Bang!

Following a heavy thud, the grin on Lyon's face froze.

Kaze grabbed one of his disciple's ankles and swung the man onto the ground.

The disciple crashed onto the ground with blood flowing from his mouth.

Lyon's heart skipped a beat.

The smash alone broke almost all the bones in the disciple's body.

If the disciple was lucky enough to be alive, he would be crippled for life.

Despite being surrounded by a group of vicious men, Kaze easily knocked out one of them.

Exactly how powerful was he?

Lyon felt chills running down his spine when he saw the grin on Kaze.

Now he realized Kaze was the main threat and the moment Draco left, the beast was unleashed.

*Stop it..."

Lyon wanted to stop Kaze but before he could finish his sentence, a mind-blowing scene happened right before his eyes.

Chapter 1123

Chapter 1123 To the End Kaze did a sweep kick, sending the other disciples flying and spitting blood.

They crashed into walls and the furniture around them.

They were knocked out instantly, falling to the ground like a lifeless slug. All they could do was cry in pain.

They were all crippled by just one kick! Lyon swallowed nervously. He was stunned.

He could also take out his disciples but definitely not as easy as Kaze had done it.

The room fell into silence. Kaze wiped his hand with a tissue and then said, "Bunch of trash. Can't even take a hit. Is this what you plan to ambush me with?" Kaze scanned over the disciples and no one dared to answer his questioning gaze.

Lyon then shouted madly, "Kaze Lee, you bastard! Leigh has agreed to give you a car, yet you diverted your friend away just to lure my disciples to attack you? Why?" His heart was bleeding. He raised his disciples with care yet Kaze defeated them easily.

Kaze scoffed. "Because I suddenly realized that the Glitters are bullies. Even if I agreed to settle this now, you can't guarantee that they won't come after me and my family in the future.

“That's why I decided to go all the way since we are at it. Take out a part of the Glitter family's forces first and we'll see in the future.

This isn't difficult at all, I didn't even break a sweat.

“Besides, I did nothing. Your disciples are the ones who jumped on me. Stupid.” Kaze's insulting tone fueled Lyon's anger.

“Kaze Lee! You fucker! You dirty fuck!” Lyon shouted like a madman.

He suddenly realized that underneath the arrogant demeanor was a meticulous and schemeful persona.

Kaze's actions might seem shallow at first but they were all pieces of a bigger puzzle, pieced ~ together just to lure Lyon into the trap.

It was much more difficult to deal with him than an extremely powerful brute. SEAR*ch the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

How could such a man be the useless son-in-law of a middle class family? It did not make sense.

Kaze looked at Lyon and scoffed. “Lyon Hicks, you saw through my plans but you didn't stop your disciples from jumping on me. Which means, you are hoping that they can beat me up or even kill me.” “Lyon felt the murderous intent in Kaze's gaze and it sent chills down his spine.

He scoffed. “What is it now? Are you coming after me? I'm a disciple of Gareth Hornberg, the martial arts grandmaster of Sunrise City.

Are you sure you want to challenge me? Aren't you afraid that I might wreck you?” There was nothing else for Lyon to lose. The more he stepped back and humbled himself, the more Kaze would take advantage of him.

If Kaze wanted his life, there was no way he would sit back and let him do it.

Even if Leigh's life was lost during the process, the Glitters would not be able to pin the responsibility on him.

Kaze was the one forcing him by threatening to take his life.

He would not go down without a fight.

Kaze scoffed. "Killing you isn't difficult at all.

You are no different than your stupid disciples." "He strode over to Lyon as he spoke, obviously ready for a fight.

Crack! Lyon cracked his neck and grinned at Kaze. " Kaze, you are strong. I'll give you that. But I'm an expert who can take lives with my bare hands, you are nothing to me. If you have a death wish, I'll grant it to you."

Chapter 1124

Chapter 1124 Weak "Master, kill him!" "Master, avenge us! Kill that brutal bastard!" Lyon's disciples cried and asked their master to avenge them.

They relied on muscles to make a living but they were all crippled by a few moves from Kaze.

Their futures were ruined! They resented Kaze.

Max and the others from the Four Ocean Commerce Guild remained on their knees, afraid to even move. Deep down, they prayed for Lyon to kill Kaze on the spot.

Only with Kaze's death could they nurse their grievance, "As your master, I will avenge you all!" Lyon grinned at Kaze and said, "Punk, be ready. I don't want others to say that I am ambushing you."

Hal Following an explosive cry, he darted at Kaze like a bullet. S~earch the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Lyon was fast. He was like a human bullet in motion.

|| His previous opponents were all intimidated by his rapid movements and fierce attacks.

"Kaze, I'm not going to ram you over. I'll just break a few bones on you." Lyon scoffed when he got closer to Kaze.

Kaze's face was void of fear. He smiled and said, "That's it?" "He moved. He moved at a ridiculous speed that before Lyon could even reach him, he had already gotten close enough for the attack.

They ran into each other and the impact caused a heavy noise.

Bang! Lyon cried painfully as his body was bounced away by the tremendous force. He was sent flying backward like a loose kite.

Bang! He crashed onto the ground.

“Aaaaargh!” Lyon cried excruciatingly. His expression turned bitter as his bloodshot eyes widened.

He struggled and moved his hands around, trying to get himself up on his feet, but he failed no matter how hard he tried.

The impact must have broken some of his supporting bones, robbing him of the ability to stand again.

On the other hand, Kaze stood tall and firm as if nothing happened. He did not even flinch.

“No! How could this happen?” “Impossible!” Lyon's disciples were crying in pain.

Their master had failed to avenge them and ended up like them, crippled.

Now, they could no longer get their revenge.

Leigh, Max, and the others from the guild fell into despair right away.

If even Lyon was defeated so easily, then they would not stand a chance.

Kaze could do anything he wanted to them.

“Boss, I picked the car.” Then, Draco came after the car selection. He did not even spare a glance at the bloody bodies on the floor.

It was like he already knew this would happen.

‘Kaze nodded. He then signaled Max and said, “ Come here.” Max dared not stand up. He crawled over to Kaze like a tortoise.

“M-Mr. Lee, please don't kill me!” He freaked out after what happened. He kowtowed repeatedly at Kaze, begging for mercy.

“Shut up!” Kaze bellowed.

When Max finally looked up, Kaze smiled and said, "Since when did I kill anyone? Do I look like a murderer with blood on my hands?"

Chapter 1125

Chapter 1125 Koenigsegg One:1 "N-No..." Max was horrified when he saw the frosty but bright smile on Kaze's face.

Kaze was like the devil, smiling at him.

He put his smile away and said, "Don't worry, I'm not going to dirty my hands with your blood. I want you to do two things for me.

"First, I want that car to be under my wife's name. You may decide when to make the transfer, but don't wait until I come after you." Max nodded repeatedly.

Kaze put two of his fingers out and continued, "Second, tell the Glitters they can come at me whenever they want. I crippled Leigh Glitter today and I know they won't just sit quiet on this.

"But, before they can kill me, they better stay away from my wife or my family, or else I will rain hell on them regardless of how powerful or rich they are." Given how the Glitters did things, they would not sit back quietly now that Leigh had been tortured.

Reputation and image were more important than anything to a family of that scale and status.

They would not care about Kaze's background or who he was affiliated with, they would come after him for revenge just to protect their image.

If the Glitters went after Darcy and her family, Kaze would certainly wipe them off the face of the earth.

With that, Kaze walked away before Max could give a proper reply.

"Draco, tell your men to bring the officers to the hospital," Kaze said to Draco once he exited the mansion.

Draco nodded. He then pointed at the silvery black supercar outside the porch. "I picked one out of the bunch. I believe this one is suitable for Darcy." Max carefully followed Kaze and Draco to the exit and when he overheard Draco and saw the car he had chosen, he almost passed out.

Koenigsegg One:1.

A super rare supercar. Only six of them exist on the face of the earth.

The Koenigsegg One:1 was Leigh's new toy and he got it from the previous owner for fifty million. He shipped the car to Lilyrose just so he could use it to pick up girls and it had just arrived today.

Draco's selection cost Leigh fifty million, a limited edition car that could not be bought anymore.

"I guess. It looks expensive. I think when Darcy drives this to work, no stupid idiot would want to harass her anymore." Kaze nodded. He knew nothing about cars but he believed the car was suitable for Darcy based on the design and color.

"Let's go." He got into the car and left.

Quartet Group.

Darcy received a call from a representative of a company in Sunrise City, asking for a collaboration.

The company was quite big in Sunrise City and the representative was the CEO himself.

She was traumatized back on the set and should be resting at home but since she did not want the potential partner to have a bad impression of the company, she got out of the house and went back to work.

"Tao? You are the representative?" When he saw the man in her company's waiting room, her expression turned bitter.

She had no good impression of Tao at all.

I

Tao tricked her to get her to the company.

“Darcy, I contacted you a few times but you ignored my calls, so I have to use this way to © meet you.” Tao showed no shame at all. He said, “I heard you got into some trouble with Leigh Glitter and things turned out bad. Do you need my help to settle it?”

Chapter 1126

Chapter 1126 Coffee? “No thanks. It's solved.” Darcy rejected Tao immediately.

She did not want anything to do with the man, let alone owe him a debt of gratitude.

However, now that Tao mentioned it, she was more or less worried about Kaze.

Kaze said he wanted to reason with Leigh about her car being thrashed and he had not come back for a while.

Could something have gone wrong? “It's solved?” Tao chuckled and added, “I don't think so. You guys called the police to arrest Leigh Glitter. Although he was released soon after, he and his family won't just let his slip. I heard that Leigh Glitter is an infamous bully back at Sunrise City. He will come for you and your family.” Tao emphasized the severity of the situation, trying to scare Darcy.

Darcy's expression turned heavy.

She knew Leigh would not just let this slip so easily. That was why her car was thrashed.

People like Leigh acted however they wanted without abiding by any law or rules and they would not just rest so easily.

Noticing the change of expression on Darcy's face, Tao continued, “Darcy, don't take it lightly. The Glitters aren't what you think. Your family is quite strong in Lilyrose and has connections to the city council, plus owning a few high-potential companies.

“But, the Glitters' history dates back a few generations ago. They have rooted themselves across the entire South River State. Your family is nothing to them.” Tao added an unnecessary hint of disdain in his words. It was as though the two rejections from Kaze did not happen at all.

“We are living in a modern society. People have laws to abide by. No matter how strong the Glitters are, they can't possibly break the law,” Darcy said anxiously. She wanted to stop him from affecting her.

“Laws? Rules?” Tao curled his lips into a smirk.

“If you feel better by telling yourself that, go ahead. The chief of police, Don Braders, locked up Leigh Glitter for only an hour. Isn't that enough?” Darcy was silenced. She knew Tao's words made sense. ; The Glitter family was a terrifying titan.

She wanted to solve the problem peacefully but Leigh forced her hands.

Tao grinned and was delighted when he saw Darcy's silence. SEARCH THE FINDNOVEL.NET website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

He said, “Darcy, I know Leigh personally and I can help you get this through.” “What are your terms, Tao?” Darcy was moved but she knew his help did not come for free.

Tao looked at his expensive watch and said, “

This is not a place to talk about that and it is going to be a detailed and lengthy conversation. Let's talk about it over a cup of coffee.” Darcy was cautious.

She knew Tao had ulterior motives for her since the first time they met, but his ways of doing things made her sick.

Besides, after the incident with the guild, she did not want to go out alone with Tao.

Sensing Darcy's caution, Tao said, “What's wrong? Afraid of me? My family and the Otters are long-time friends and partners. Besides, the coffee shop is just next to your office. Do you really think I'll hurt you in broad daylight?” Darcy finally lowered her guard. She reluctantly nodded and said, “Fine. Let's go get coffee then.” 1 Soon, they arrived at a coffee shop next to the office building.

Chapter 1127

Chapter 1127 Love at First Sight? Or Just Horny?

“What are your terms, Tao?”

Darcy sat opposite Tao with her hands around the cup of coffee.

*There's no rush about that. Why don't we talk about Kaze?" Tao lifted his coffee with a smile and continued, "I heard he was originally from the Lee family but was kicked out and has a history of mental illness.

"He's incapable of anything but somehow got lucky and became the chairman of Shangrila Group. He likes to bluff and because of that, your family got into trouble multiple times."

Tao did not have any qualms about counting Kaze's embarrassing history in front of Darcy.

He continued, "I don't understand. What do you see in him?"

Darcy was extremely unhappy that Tao criticized her husband in front of her.

This is none of your business. My relationship with Kaze is my personal affair. We are not that familiar to have this discussion.

If she was not worried about Kaze and wanted to reach an agreement with Tao, she would have walked away the moment Tao spoke.

Tao smiled and said, "Darcy, your mother's family and my family are long-time partners and friends, how is this none of my business? Since Nobel Hotel, I have fallen for you at first sight. Can't you tell?"

Tao spoke with utmost affection and even tried to hold Darcy's hands.

*Tao Segore, stop it!"

Darcy pulled her hands away and glared at Tao furiously.

She was no longer naïve and she could tell whether Tao had fallen for her or was just horny.

She would never fall for his words.

Even if he had feelings for her, she had no good impression of him, let alone feelings.

*Tao, let's get back to business. If you continue to divert the topic, this ends right away," Darcy said coldly.

She even got up from her chair, which attracted the attention of the few customers in the coffee shop.

Tao's expression turned strange and he was slightly embarrassed.

He came from a great family and had achieved many great accomplishments at a young age. Women would be lining up to get into his arms, yet he was rejected multiple times by the woman in front of him.

Nevertheless, Tao suppressed his negative emotions and pretended nothing happened. He said, "Fine, let's get down to business then."

Darcy sat back down and waited for Tao to list his terms.

Tao said, "Darcy, if you want me to help Kaze, you must first divorce him."

"You prick!"

Furious, Darcy wanted to walk away. She did not expect Tao to name such a shameless condition.

Tao continued, "Why don't you hear me out first? Based on what I know, your conflict with Leigh isn't that serious. It was just a small accident and paying him would be over. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 1128

Chapter 1128 Just a Trade "I'm not afraid of you being mad at me, so I just made it clear to you. With Kaze's status and identity, he's no match for Leigh.

"He's childish, immature, and always puts you and your family at risk. He's a ticking time bomb. He never considered you and your family's safety or how much pressure you are facing..." @ Tao suppressed his eagerness to shorten the distance with Darcy and chose to diminish Kaze's value instead.

Darcy listened without making a noise.

Tao was right.

When Leigh forced her into the tight situation, it was Kaze who saved her but undeniably, it was also Kaze's actions that escalated the situation. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

“Darcy, Leigh is mad at Kaze. You and your family will be collateral damage. If you divorce him now and cut him off, with my help, plus a little compensation, Leigh and the Glitter family will spare you.” Tao was confident.

He met Kaze twice and both meetings ended on a bitter note with him embarrassed and humiliated.

He resented Kaze. He instigated Darcy to divorce Kaze based on real factual incidents and how things might turn out but deep down, he simply wanted to see Kaze losing everything.

He would wear a grin to bed every night if that happened. Unfortunately, the answer he got was disappointing.

“You know what? You might be telling the truth, but you were wrong. Kaze offended Leigh because of me, and if he had not intervened, god knows what might happen to me.

“You have no right to criticize him for being childish and immature because that’s the only way out of that situation. What do you expect me to do to get out? Sleep with Leigh? I will never divorce Kaze!” Darcy gave a strong and firm answer and it somehow made Tao jealous.

Tao was burning in the flames of jealousy.

He could not understand how a useless trash like Kaze could win the heart of a rich beauty like Darcy.

“Waiter, bill please!” Darcy finished her coffee and then got up.

While she grabbed her purse, she said, “Tao, if you want to continue this little deal, you can just tell Leigh to put this aside and let Kaze go.

You can get financial rewards including investment from Hudson Investment Firm. I can ask Miru to give you a reasonable amount.

“But, if you want me to divorce Kaze, forget about it.” Tao's expression turned grim.

Darcy paid for her own cup of coffee, which was a sign of her not wanting to further the discussion with him.

Tao leaned back on his chair and said, “Darcy, if you don't want to divorce that man, then you should prepare for Leigh's retaliation.

"If Leigh can put this aside, that would be great; if not, catastrophe will befall you and your family." Knowing Leigh, Darcy knew Tao was not just trying to scare her.

"Thank you for your reminder." Her face turned slightly pale but she got her purse and walked away.

Speaking to Tao would not get her an answer.

She might as well go back to the office and try to find another solution.

When she turned around, she saw a familiar face entering the coffee shop and was striding toward her.

She was surprised and delighted. "Kaze? You're back!" I

Chapter 1129

Chapter 1129 PDA "Kaze!" Tao looked up and saw Kaze coming over to Darcy as well.

The surprise on his face lasted for a split second before he grinned coldly. He said, "You messed with Leigh but you chose to stay in Lilyrose instead of running away? Do you have a death wish?" Tao assumed Kaze would want to run away after calling the police to arrest Leigh.

However, it was meaningless because Leigh could find him no matter where he ran.

However, Kaze walked on the street in broad daylight and entered the coffee shop without any scruples.

He must not know catastrophe had befallen.

Kaze did not even spare a glance at Tao. He went up to Darcy and then stroked her soft cheek.

"Darcy, how many times have I told you? You are too beautiful and there are too many horny men in this world. You shouldn't meet with a stranger alone.

"Even if it's business talk, you are the chairwoman of two companies. People who want to meet you must go through your assistant or at least make an appointment.

Not all Tom, Dick, and Harry can meet you whenever they want." Darcy drowned in warmth and sweetness when Kaze "lectured" her.

She knew Kaze must have gone back to Quartet Group to look for her after he settled the problem.

When he found out that she had come here with Tao, he rushed over immediately.

“Alright. I promise, no more next time.” Darcy shyly moved her face away. SEARCH the FINDNOVEL.NET website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Tao's jealousy almost erupted like a live volcano.

Kaze and Darcy displayed affection in public just to agitate him.

Slam! Tao slammed the table and bolted up. He glared at Kaze and bellowed, “Kaze Lee, who are you calling Tom, Dick and Harry? I know you are talking about me!” The few customers in the coffee shop were attracted by the sudden shout.

Tao disregarded his image and demanded an explanation from Kaze.

Kaze glanced at him and said casually, “If you think I'm talking about you, then I'm talking about you.

“Come on, Darcy. Let's go.” He then held Darcy's hand and wanted to leave.

Tao was infuriated. He shouted, “Stop it right there! Did I say you can leave?!”

Kaze did not even stop.

No one could tell him what to do or stop him from doing anything he wanted.

Tao was deeply aggrieved.

If Kaze brought Darcy away holding her hands, Tao would not have been able to sleep tonight.

“Stop it right there!” Tao went up to intercept them and scoffed. “ Aren't you curious what I told your wife while we were having coffee?” Kaze frowned.

Tao harassed Darcy multiple times and tricked her out for coffee.

Originally, Kaze did not want to be calculative with a petty person like him, but Tao was as annoying as a fly.

He raised his brows and said, “Tell me, what did you guys talk about?” “Just forget it, Kaze. Let's go.”

Darcy did not want Kaze to know the diminishing things that Tao said. She was afraid that it might hurt Kaze's pride. Kaze held her hand tighter and said with a smile, "Well, just let him speak. He can't possibly kill me with his words." "Hmph! If you want to know, I'll tell you!" Tao grunted and scoffed.

Chapter 1130

Chapter 1130 Wifeman "I told your wife that you were kicked out of the Lee family and you bluffed your way into becoming the chairman of Shangrila Group.

"A piece of trash like you won't stand a chance against Leigh. Your wife and her family can only escape this when she divorces you. But your wife is too kind to abandon you, so I told her the only way out of this is if you kneel to Leigh and let him beat you up." Tao spewed everything he told Darcy earlier.

In the end, he scoffed. "Kaze, your wife did so many things for you, what do you have to say for yourself?" "Kaze, don't listen to him! I don't care about what he said..." Darcy was afraid that Kaze could not take it, so she quickly consoled him.

"Don't worry, Darcy. I won't listen to nonsense ~ from some John Doe."

Kaze smiled and said to Tao, "Thank you. I know my wife is good to me but after listening to what you said, I realized even if the sky falls, the love she has for me remains strong.

"If you want to use this to provoke me or ask Darcy to divorce me, I believe you will be disappointed. I will only love her even more and hold her tighter." Tao was shaking terribly when he saw the happy smile on Kaze's face.

"Kaze Lee, you shameless bastard! If not for your wife, you are nothing! Yet you don't feel a hint of shame for putting her through much trouble! "You offended Leigh! I'll be waiting to see how you deal with that! Get the hell out of my face!" Tao shouted madly as embarrassment and anger consumed him.

He could not bear looking at Kaze and Darcy showing public affection anymore.

"Why should I listen to you?"

Kaze released Darcy's hand and went over to Tao.

Tao said coldly, "What are you trying to do? I said get the hell out of my face! Do you want me to slap you?" Slap! Kaze slapped him without saying anything.

Tao cried in pain. He covered his face and shouted, "You fuck! How dare you..." Slap! Kaze slapped him once more, sending him to the floor. Both his cheeks were instantly swollen.

"Kaze, stop it!" Darcy did not expect Kaze to slap Tao all of a sudden.

Cough! ~ Tao sat himself up and shouted, "Kaze Lee! How dare you slap me! You are fucking with the wrong person!" Kaze was unfazed when Tao called him useless.

Yet the man that he called useless slapped him in public.

Tao wished he could bury himself away from the embarrassment he felt from the onlookers in the coffee shop.

Bang! A powerful stomp landed on his chest.

Tao grunted in pain before he saw Kaze looking at him coldly.

"You harassed my wife many times, tricked her out and I haven't even gotten you for that.

Now you thrash talk me in front of her, instigated her to divorce me and repeated it in front of my face. You had it coming."

Chapter 1131

Chapter 1131 Jun Joestar "Now that you are practically asking for it, shouldn't I grant your wish?" Kaze said condescendingly as he pressed his foot on Tao's chest.

Even the other customers in the coffee shop believed that Tao had it coming after what he said. ; "He's the one who started it by harassing someone's wife and he trash-talks like a whiny ass. Cheap." "He dresses properly but he behaves like shit." "He really had it coming." I Tao was drowned in his own anger and embarrassment when even the customers commented on his actions.

He came from a prestigious background, was successful, and had a bright future. He had never been humiliated like this before, especially by someone he deemed trash.

“Aaaaaa! Waiter? Anyone?! Get this fuck out of the coffee shop! Where's the security? I'm friends with Jun Joestar, the hotel manager of Starocean Hotel, your boss! If anything happens to me, all of you will be fired!” The waiter and the manager, who refused to be involved at first, were afraid.

The coffee shop operated under Starocean Hotel. The manager was Jun Joestar.

“Call Mr. Joestar now!” the manager told the waiter.

He then went over to Kaze, looking pale, and said, “Sir, please stop. Please use your words to solve problems, not your fists. We condemn all forms of violence in this establishment.” Kaze nodded and lifted his leg from Tao's chest.

The manager spoke nicely and did not try to side with anyone. Kaze did not want to put him in a difficult place either since he was just doing his job.

“Kaze Lee, are you afraid now? If you don't apologize to me today, this won't be over so easily!” Tao got up on his feet, looking miserable. He wiped his face with his handkerchief as he continued to challenge Kaze. The customers, the manager, and the waiter saw the little conflict. If he did not try to get back at Kaze, he would feel embarrassed. Kaze wiped his hand with the paper towel on the coffee table and asked, “Whatever friends you have here or there, just bring them all here. Please hurry because I have to bring Darcy home.” Tao was speechless. Kaze's nonchalance provoked him even more. Even the customers believed Kaze was being arrogant. “Hmph! Who do you think you are, hurting my friend in my establishment? Since when does Lilyrose's house be a house to such an arrogant bully?”

A frosty voice came from outside.

A pair of strong hands moved the customers to the side, paving the way for their owner. A man in his early 30s, wearing a formal suit and a pair of glasses, strutted in.

However, the arrogance in his eyes somehow canceled out the elegance of his attire. “The hotel manager of Starocean, Jun Joestar!” Some of the customers recognized the man.

The coffee shop was operating in the hotel's premises.

Tao was delighted. He said loudly, “Jun, this bastard here slapped me twice! Due to my status, I can't just fight him. This is your turf, how should we settle this?” Kaze found Tao's struggle to be amusing. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

What's so funny? You hit my friend in my hotel and you are smiling? What the fuck?”

Chapter 1132

Chapter 1132 Confidently Arrogant Tao grinned when Kaze successfully made Jun angry.

He had to admit that Kaze had some influence in Lilyrose. As an outsider, Tao could not gain any advantage over Kaze, so he had to seek help.

Jun was a member of the first-tier family in Lilyrose, the Joestar family.

Ever since the top three families were taken down, the Vikrom, Logman, and Joestar families were the strongest.

Jun's status saw an upgrade following the fall of the top three families.

Given the Joestar family's history and roots in Lilyrose, it would not be too difficult for them to crush Kaze. SEARCH THE website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"Kaze Lee, if you don't kneel and apologize, this won't end well for you. Jun is my bro, and he has a bad temper. If you know what's good for you, you should be on your knees now"

"Jun Joestar? Never heard of you. I do know a few people from the Joestar family," Kaze said with a smile.

Jun was a proud man. Kaze's nonchalance made his expression turn gloomy.

He pushed his glasses slightly and said with an evil grin, "It's fine that you haven't heard of me. A few minutes later, my name will be your worst nightmare." He showed strong confidence in his tone.

Kaze frowned. "Are you sure you want to intervene before finding out what happened? You don't even care who's right and who's wrong?" "It seems like you really haven't heard of me," Jun said.

"I, Jun Joestar, do whatever I want and I never care about who's right and who's wrong. I just know that you hit my friend on my turf and that's enough for me," he added.

He glanced at Tao and said, "Tao, go take care of your face. When I'm done, we'll go have a beer. I will make sure you are happy with the outcome. Other than kneeling and apologizing, how about one more slap and ten million?" Jun was a hotelier and since he met a lot of people in his field, his eyes were sharp.

When he arrived, he had been scrutinizing I Kaze and Darcy and he knew that the couple were rich.

Therefore, he suggested taking a ten million compensation.

"Bro, you are in charge. I don't care about the money. I just want to save face," Tao said with a nod.

Jun hummed and then signaled one of his men. "Take Tao away and take care of his injuries." "Mr. Segore, this way please." The hotel employee humbly escorted Tao away.

Kaze watched with piqued interest. He said to Jun, "It seems like you are quite a meticulous person. You don't seem like a boorish boar.

'But since you don't care about who's right and who's wrong and only care if the person involved is someone you know, then it's pure arrogance." I Crack! I Jun lit a cigarette with his lighter, took a puff, and spat a cloud of smoke.

He stared at Kaze and said with a grin, " Thanks. Arrogance requires confidence and you should know who you are dealing with.

"The moment I saw you, I knew I was richer than you, which fueled my confidence. You, on the other hand, looked down on me the moment I came in. I'd like to know what gives you confidence?" Jun's expression became blurry due to the lingering smoke on his face.

Kaze smiled and said, "I am arrogant because I am confident and I don't care who I am dealing with." "Interesting." Jun curled his lips into a meaningful grin and added, "It's been a while since I met someone more arrogant than me. I'd like to see if you are confident enough to face me."

Chapter 1133

Chapter 1133 I'd Like to Have a Go Jun looked at Kaze with interest but did not take him seriously.

Deep down, he was angry.

The nonchalance and the frivolous attitude were subtle but Jun was able to sense them.

He was no idiot. If Kaze was able to stand before him casually and with such calmness, it must mean that Kaze had a strong support.

Jun said strongly, "Punk, this is your last warning. There are only less than a handful of people in Lilyrose who I am afraid of.

"If you apologize to my friend and compensate twenty million for the two slaps, this will be over; if you insist on opposing me, then you will pay more than twenty million." Darcy had been observing Jun from the moment he came in. She saw his brazen arrogance and absolute confidence, which were signs of him having a powerful background.

Kaze had just offended Leigh and it was already pressuring enough.

Darcy wanted to settle this dispute before the matter escalated further. However, she could not accept the terms listed by Jun. She said, "Mr. Joestar, you are demanding too much. Two slaps for twenty million? "I don't think your hotel can earn that much in a year too!" Jun scrutinized Darcy and was amazed by her beauty. He smiled and said, "Miss, you are wrong. Your husband hit my friend in my hotel.

Twenty million is a small price to pay. You have to live with the decisions you make." Darcy's lips moved but before words could escape her mouth, Kaze stopped her.

He said, "Darcy, he insists on siding with Tao, words won't work anymore. There are only two things we can do now.

"We either agree to pay him or crush him." A hint of viciousness flashed in Jun's eyes. He sensed the obvious murderous intent in Kaze's tone.

"Punk, you keep opposing and provoking me.

Aren't you afraid of what's to come? I said there are only a handful of people in Lilyrose who can crush me," Jun said, with obvious murderous intent as well.

"Really?" Kaze turned around to the man. He then sat down with Darcy and crossed his legs, saying, "I would like to find out more about that." "You asked for it!" Jun laughed arrogantly. He was infuriated after Kaze provoked him multiple times.

He glared at Kaze and said coldly, "I hope you won't regret..." "Cut the crap!"

Kaze raised his hand, interrupting Jun. “ Whatever you want to do, just do it. After I crush you, I still have to bring my wife home.

Just hurry up with it.” Jun scoffed. “Very well. I don’t think my hotel security is needed now. Since you hit my friend in my hotel, I’ll bring someone in from outside the hotel.

“If you can handle the person, I’ll let you go and I promise to never come after you anymore; If you can’t, then don’t blame me for getting rough. You challenged and provoked me, and you will pay for what you have done.” Kaze looked at his watch and said without looking at Jun, “Your nonsense wasted 30 seconds of mine. I’ll mark that down so that I can crush you harder later.”

Chapter 1134

Chapter 1134 Not Over Jun”s eyebrows twitched. His expression turned grim and then pulled out his phone for a call.

“Bro, someone started a fight here in my hotel and he’s not apologizing. I need you here to help me with the situation. I’ll buy you a beer after this.” The man Jun called seemed to be someone with power.

I “I see. No problem. It’s a piece of cake. I just I came back from the hospital and the doctor told me to stay clear of alcohol for a few days.

We’ll drink another day. I’m on my way to your hotel now, give me around ten minutes.” A bold and strong laugh came from the phone. Search The website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

“Alright. I’ll mark that down!” Jun then put his phone down and grinned at Kaze. “Hear that? My bro is coming in ten minutes. He’s one of the most powerful people in the police force.

“I’m giving you a chance to make whatever call you can get and use all your connections to get help.” The other customers present at the coffee shop were surprised.

One phone call and Jun was able to bring forth a powerful police officer.

He must be influential! Based on Jun”s description, the police officer that he contacted must be one of the most powerful people, not just in the police force but city-wide. Even the big families might not dare to oppose someone like him.

Could Kaze handle the situation? Many of the customers shot Kaze a compassionate gaze.

Someone even said, "Friend, you hit the guy in the coffee shop, his hotel. Why don't you just give in for once?" I "Yeah. That bastard is despicable for CL harassing your wife but you chose violence and if the police are involved, you might not get away from this." "Your wife seems like a good person, why not be more considerate? You don't need to stand up for your ego and destroy yourself like this." "This hotel manager seems powerful. Why are you even opposing him?" I The customers were trying to dissuade Kaze.

They saw what happened from start to end I and they had a good impression of Kaze for standing up for Darcy, so they did not want I anything bad to happen to him. I Darcy looked worried as well. "Kaze, why don't we just pay him?" 2 Jun felt smug when he heard the customers trying to dissuade Kaze.

He had the status and power to stand tall in Lilyrose, and he wanted others to be afraid of him.

I He wanted to make an example of Kaze and warn other Tom, Dick, and Harry to refrain from causing trouble at his hotel, or his turf.

"Hear that? Even your wife is telling you to back down. I'll give you a chance since your wife is so beautiful but you still have to pay for what you said to me just now.

"Why don't you slap yourself for each time you provoked me? I'll let you go after that," Jun said condescendingly.

"Darcy, others might not trust me, but you should trust me with your heart. Don't worry, it's going to be fine." Kaze tapped Darcy's hand to calm her down and then looked at Jun. "I said I will crush you today and this isn't going to be over before I do it. I don't need to call anyone. No matter who you call, I'll crush them as well." He sounded absolutely confident.

Some of the customers were in awe of how arrogant Kaze was.

Was he really powerful or was he full of himself?

"You're going to regret this." Jun's grin faded as he grunted heavily.
