Chapter 1141 You Have Ten Minutes

"Jack, what did you say? I didn't get you the first time."

Kaze did not even blink after breaking Jun's leg, he simply talked to Jack on the phone.

Jack gulped nervously and said, "Mr. Lee, I said Jun Joestar has nothing to do with us. You can do whatever you like with him. We will not question your actions at all."

He was sweating profusely, scared of being held responsible even through the phone.

He wanted to slap himself for asking Kaze to spare Jun.

Jun threatened to break Kaze's limbs and he was still trying to ask Kaze to spare Jun.

It might work if it was someone else, but not with Kaze.

No one could get away from Kaze's wrath with just an apology.

Jack was aware his words angered Kaze. That was why Kaze interjected him by breaking Jun's leg.

Kaze did not plan to spare Jack at all.

"Nothing to do with you? Jack, this guy here said that your family will soon become the next top three families with the Vikroms and Logmans. I was thinking, it has only been a few days since the top three families were taken down..."

Kaze spoke most nonchalantly but it struck Jack like a bolt of lightning.

Jack was scared before but now he was horrified.

He knew who took down the top three families.

He said loudly, "Mr. Lee! Please listen to me! We have no such intentions. We've never thought of becoming the next top three families. Just mindless nonsense from the younger ones..."

"Hold up, I don't want to listen to you on the phone. Come to Starocean Hotel with Bernard Vikrom and Peter Logman. I want to hear you talk in person. You have ten minutes."

He then hung up the phone.

Everyone else in the coffee shop looked at Kaze in shock.

Jun dared not even cry in pain anymore. He stared at Kaze as if he was looking at a ghost.

Kaze wanted Bernard Vikrom and Peter Logman to meet him here at the coffee shop in ten minutes.

How powerful was he exactly?

"W-Who are you?"

Jun asked the million-dollar question everyone had in mind.

One phone call and heads of three first-tier families must arrive before him in ten minutes.

Not even the mayor had such power.

Kaze said with a smile, "You can ask your uncle when he arrives. We'll see if he has the nerves to tell you." Jun was silenced. search the FindNovel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

He would be an idiot if he still doubted Kaze's background.

Ten minutes went by in a blink of an eye.

Several expensive cars arrived at the entrance.

A group of people came out of the cars and rushed into the coffee shop.

Three groups of people filled up the entrance instantly.

*Jack Joestar, Bernard Vikrom, and Peter Logman..."

Everyone was in awe of their arrival.

Behind them were the younger family members, including Vicky Vikrom.

She was probably the most famous young one of the three families.

Chapter 1142 As You Wish, Mr. Lee

The high-born young misters and misses, accustomed to living an extravagant and proud life, were meek and submissive.

Their elders wore a strict look on their faces, which was a sign of something severely bad happening.

"Mr. Lee, Ms. Quint.. Search the FindNovel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

The three elders led their juniors to greet and bow at Kaze and Darcy. It was grand and astonishing to witness.

The onlookers had nothing but respect and admiration for Kaze.

He was able to make three first-tier families bow at him with respect. Even with his young age, it was not surprising that people looked up to him.

"Uh... This is..."

Darcy got up from her seat, looking nervous. Her hands were shaking aimlessly, not knowing how to respond.

In the past, she was the one who admired and respected the first-tier families because the Quint family was just second-tier.

Even her grandfather, Master Quint, had to be humble before Bernard, Peter, and Jack.

Yet all three of them bowed at Kaze as if he were their leader.

Darcy had an inkling of what had made them so fearful of Kaze.

When the Lees and Vinlands teamed up to enter Lilyrose's market, the Joestar, Vikrom, and Logman families' businesses were severely affected.

In the end, Kaze teamed up with Jackson, the former mayor, to get rid of the Lees and Vinlands.

In other words, Kaze indirectly saved the three families.

Bernard and the others were grateful for his help.

Kaze signaled Darcy to calm down. He then looked at the three families fronted by the heads.

He nodded and said, "Great. I assumed you would all be upset with me for calling all of you here, even if everyone did turn up. I believed you already knew why I had summoned you here, as you three had now brought all of your juniors with you."

Listening to Kaze, Bernard, and Peter sighed a breath of relief.

Kaze was quite satisfied with their reaction. If they could just hang on and behave, they might make it out alive today.

Bernard said, "We would never complain about anything you do, Mr. Lee."

"Yeah. We brought our juniors here so they can learn from you, practice your teachings so they can live as proper human beings instead of having unrealistic goals or dreams," Peter said.

The two of them were smart and cunning.

It all started with Jun messing with Kaze and it was nothing serious to them.

Kaze could squash Jun a hundred times over with his pinky.

However, when Kaze requested Jack to summon all of them and even mentioned the top three families, they instantly knew what Kaze wanted to say.

The moment they were alerted, they knew they had to bring everyone in their family, to express their stand to Kaze clearly.

Otherwise, if Kaze was unhappy with them, one word from him and they would end up like the top three families- stripped of power and erased from history.

Out of the three, Jack had had it the worst.

It all started because Jun, his nephew, got into a conflict with Kaze.

On top of that, he even chose the wrong words in front of Kaze, which challenged Kaze.

They knew better than anyone that Kaze destroyed the top three families single-handedly and it was nothing personal at all.

He simply did not want the top three families to oppress the people and leech off the city.

Since Bernard and Peter had made their stand clear, Jack bit the bullet and said, "Mr. Lee, all of Joestar juniors are here. All of us, including me, will accept any kind of punishment wholeheartedly!"

Everyone was shocked by Jack's words.

The Joestar family went all out. Jack practically placed his family's fate in Kaze's hands.

Jun was completely devastated upon listening to his uncle.

He messed with the wrong person. Not only did he mess up badly, he even dragged his entire family into this mess.

Everyone looked at Kaze, waiting for him to drop his sentence.

*It's nothing personal. Before I say more, let's just comb through the details here."

Kaze got up and went over to Jun. He said coldly, "I slapped your friend on your hotel premises, and you want to avenge him-I understand that.

*However, you did not bother finding out about the truth, or ask who started it, and you came up to me, trying to oppress me with your status and background. You even threatened to break my limbs and said your family, plus the Vikroms and Logmans, would be the new top three families. Did I miss out on anything?"

Other than the Joestar family, the Vikrom and Logman families were speechless as well. They all looked at Jun with the coldest glare.

They had the thought of replacing the previous top three families; it would be a lie to say it never crossed their minds.

However, Jun was an idiot for voicing it, and worse, in front of Kaze.

Had he not known that Kaze was the one who took down the top three families?

He felt extremely pressured by the gazes as if those looks could kill him.

*Yes!"

Jun struggled to get himself up and knelt before Kaze. "I am sorry, Mr. Lee! I was wrong! I shouldn't have tried to use my background to oppress you or have the wrong thoughts about becoming the next top three families. *You slapped me and broke my leg because you are trying to educate me. I have no scruples about that. I will live a proper life from now on and I will never repeat the mistake anymore!"

Jun teared up. He deeply regretted his actions.

The reaction of his uncle and the other two family elders scared him.

He knew his family would be destroyed with a word from the man before his eyes.

Kaze nodded. "As long as you're aware of your mistakes. However, I am a man who always gets my revenge."

He went up and broke Jun's other arm.

Jun threatened to do the same to him, so he had to return the favor at least.

Jun clenched his teeth in pain and dared not make a noise.

The scene scared everyone in the coffee shop, including the three heads.

Everyone looked at Kaze with reverence.

Kaze glanced over everyone and said, "You people saw what happened to Jun. I don't care if you are afraid of me, but I hope you can learn from what you see now. Live with your head held high and harbor no ill thoughts.

*Your families can expand and make a living but do not think of oppressing the people. I might not be able to oversee everything but as long as I am alive and in Lilyrose, there will be no more top three families!"

Kaze spoke strongly and loudly, like a hammer pounding on the hearts of everyone in the three families. The customers were deeply impressed by Kaze's speech.

Kaze was not only arrogant and powerful but also fair and righteous.

Kaze then shot a glance at Jack and said, "As punishment, all the hotels under your family shall be closed for one month!" SEARCH THE Findnovel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 1144 Take A Ride Home

Hotels were the Joestar family's main business.

Many hotels in Lilyrose, large or small, were under their company's banner.

A while ago, Jack gave Kaze Lily Garden Hotel because of what his son, Ren, did.

It was nothing much to the Joestar family but now, all of their hotels were ordered to suspend operation for a month.

The loss would be unimaginable.

However, it was not the worst. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

At least they did not end up like the top three families and could recover from this.

Kaze's order was considered merciful.

"Yes, sir! Thank you, sir!"

Jack nodded instantly, not having the courage to argue.

"You're dismissed." Kaze sent them off.

All three heads of families nodded and bowed at him before they left with their respective families.

Jun was sent to the hospital and Starocean Hotel was shut down by Pierce's men.

Kaze and Darcy also went home.

*Hey! Why are you throwing me out? I'm your manager's friend!"

When Kaze and Darcy exited the hotel, they saw Tao, in his miserable and swollen face, getting pushed out.

*The manager is no longer in charge and the hotel is closed for a month. Get out now!"

The staff showed no patience and respect for Tao.

All the hotel employees were affected since the hotel was ordered to close for a month.

Fortunately, Kaze ordered Jack to keep the employees and pay their salaries on time.

They were grateful for Kaze's kind gesture but they had no good impression of Tao, the one who started it all.

"What?! Jun is no longer the manager? Why? Why is the hotel closing?"

Tao was stunned. He rang Jun but the call did not get through.

After Jun got his treatment at the hospital, he would be grounded at home for life.

Jun wished he could skin Tao alive, but he was beaten up by Kaze and dared not act recklessly anymore.

Otherwise, he would have destroyed Tao for getting him into this situation.

Tao was stunned as he was thrown out.

He was getting his face treated when everything went down, so he had no idea what happened.

Suddenly, he saw Kaze and Darcy. With a gloomy look, he went over to them and said, "Kaze Lee, is it you? Starocean Hotel is now closed. Tell me, what did you do? What did you do to suspend the entire hotel's operation?"

Tao knew Kaze was close with Don and was not entirely surprised that Kaze could do it.

"Darcy, let's go home."

Kaze did not even want to talk to the idiot.

Tao was furious. He chased after them and shouted, "Kaze Lee, you really think getting rid of Jun and this will be over? This isn't even the start! You messed with Leigh and disaster will befall you and your wife's family! Kneel and beg me and I might help you..."

Slap!

Kaze slapped him away.

*Get the hell out of my face."

Tao was slapped to the ground and his already swollen face worsened.

He glared at Kaze viciously but dared not stop the man anymore.

Beep!

When Kaze and Darcy arrived at the parking lot, they heard a car honking at them from behind.

It was Tao in his Lamborghini. He wound down the window and said with delight, "Darcy, need a ride?"

"Your useless husband can't even buy you a new car after yours was destroyed. He's probably going to get a cab to drive you home."

"How is he the chairman of Shangrila? I think he's just the janitor! Why are you wasting your time with this useless"

Darcy had enough of Tao's bullshit. She said coldly, "Shut the hell up, you bastard. Even if we are taking a cab home, it's none of your stupid business."

"Darcy, we are not taking a cab home."

Kaze smiled and took out a car remote control key to press it.

The luxurious Koenigsegg with silver and black stripes responded. Its engine fired up and doors opened automatically.

Chapter 1145 Troubled Times

"Wow!"

The moment the Koenigsegg's door opened, even the passersby were astonished.

A small crowd gathered to take pictures and video of it.

The Koenigsegg had a futuristic design. Even professional car vloggers would be in awe of its existence.

"Is that your car?" Tao was stunned.

Even a layman knew that Koenigsegg was much more expensive than Lamborghini.

Despite being supercars, the two brands were entirely different.

Kaze said, "Does it have anything to do with you?"

Tao's expression turned sour.

He drove his Lamborghini over to tease and insult Kaze in front of Darcy, yet Kaze countered him with a Koenigsegg.

"Wait, isn't that the Koenigsegg One:1? That's Leigh's new car!"

Tao suddenly recognized the car.

When Leigh got the car, it caused quite a commotion in his social circle.

Tao, as one of the supercar club members, knew about it and had seen it before.

"Kaze, why did you have Leigh's car? Did you steal it?" Tao questioned.

His jealousy consumed him.

Tao looked down on Kaze from the bottom of his heart and he knew Kaze could never buy it with whatever money he had.

Kaze did not want to talk to the idiot.

Darcy was worried as well when she found out it was Leigh's car. "Kaze, why are you driving Leigh's car? How did the meeting go?"

Only then did she realize she totally forgot about the meeting.

They got into a conflict with Leigh and Kaze went to talk to him.

It was already amazing that Kaze came back unscathed.

Now, Kaze had the key to Leigh's car, which was unfathomable.

Kaze chose to be frank with his wife.

He said, "Leigh destroyed your car, so I talked to him about the compensation. He agreed to give you this car and the ownership transfer will be done soon."

Leigh agreed to compensate so easily?

Darcy was slightly skeptical.

"Kaze Lee, you are lying! Leigh's Koenigsegg is at least fifty million! Your wife's car is at most two million, why would he compensate you that much?" Tao scoffed.

He did not believe a word Kaze said.

Kaze shot him a frosty glance and said, "You are right. That's why I broke him and made him compensate for what he did."

Tao had chills when he saw Kaze's frosty look. His heart raced.

Kaze broke Leigh?

"Darcy, let's go."

Kaze ignored Tao and brought Darcy over to the supercar.

The Koenigsegg then drove out of the parking lot.

When they arrived at Horizon Mirror, Kaze received a call.

It was from Will, the police officer of the Southend station who got beaten up by Leigh.

He said weakly through the phone, "M-Mr. Lee, we are waiting for treatment at the ICU in Victoria International Hospital but no one is tending to us.

"One of us is having a terrible time. After your friend sent us here and paid for the hospital bill, he left and we don't know who he is. That's why I have to call you for help..."

Chapter 1146

Chapter 1146 Send Someone Competent

Kaze frowned at Will's words.

He instructed Draco's driver to take Will and the others to a nearby treatment facility.

The driver registered the patients and paid for the treatments before reporting back for duty at Lilyrose Strategic Department.

There was nothing more to it.

However, the staff conduct at Victoria International Hospital was appalling to refuse treatment to the seriously injured.

Kaze had to wonder if the Glitters played a part in it.

If that was the case, things were not looking good.

With that in mind, Kaze thought he should pay a visit to the hospital.

Leigh's attack on Will and the others was somewhat related to Kaze.

Besides, Will and his team were government servants. In a way, they worked for him. "Alright. I'll be there."

Kaze ended the call and told Darcy before heading off. SEARCH THE website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Not too long later, he arrived at Victoria International Hospital near Landor residential area.

The medical center looked rather grand, taking after the classic Paladian-style structure.

The building would stand out to those unfamiliar with Paladian culture.

A giant poster was on the hospital's wall, featuring a full-length portrait of the spokesperson.

The spokesperson was someone Kaze knew-Lil Dee.

Kaze had an idea about what to expect from Victoria International Hospital.

The supposed international hospital was one of the medical centers acquired by Lee Investment to break into Lilyrose's market.

Without much thought, Kaze stepped into the hospital and arrived at the emergency room.

Will's family members and the others arrived before Kaze and gathered around the nurses' station.

"My husband has been here for almost one hour, but he hasn't received any treatment. What's your policy on waiting times?"

"My son is covered in injuries. His injuries might get worse if he doesn't get timely treatment. Are you going to take responsibility when that happens?"

With emotions running high, the family members criticized the two nurses at the station.

It was understandable.

Will and his team needed immediate attention for their wounds.

The paperwork was done, and the bill was paid for in advance.

Yet, they were not attended to even though they were rushed to the emergency room an hour ago. The two nurses at the station were just fiddling with their phones.

The family members urged and pressed the nurses to do something, but the nurses stressed that the doctors were on their lunch break.

Anybody would be furious in the same situation.

One of the nurses grew annoyed.

Rolling her eyes, the nurse said without looking up, "it's pointless for you to shout at me. Didn't I tell you that the doctors are on their lunch break? What's wrong with waiting a little?"

She then went back to her phone.

One family member said frustratedly, "We are fine with waiting, but this is the emergency room which is designed for emergencies.

"Besides, our family members are injured, but as nurses, you should patch them up or stop the bleeding at the very least."

"Sony, I can't do that."

The other nurse responded without lifting her head, "We are only in charge of filling and paperwork. We can't deal with injuries.

"What if something goes wrong? Are you going to take accountability?"

The nurse was rather convincing, putting the family members in a tough spot.

No one could do anything to get the ball rolling.

Thud!

Kaze suddenly approached and slammed the counter.

The loud noise scared the nurses, and one of them dropped her phone on the ground.

Jesus Christ. Why did you slam the counter? Are you crazy?"

The nurse, who spoke earlier, retrieved her phone from the ground before jolting to her feet and screaming at Kaze.

Kaze stared her down and said solemnly, "Since you can't do anything, just send someone competent."
