Chapter 14 Ms. Darcy, Please Head to The Estate

Meanwhile at Lily Rose Court, Darcy put on a new dress and makeup, but she still looked poor.

"Kaze, I'm done. Let's go."

Darcy smiled beautifully. Even though Kaze was not able to give her a grand birthday party, she was happy as long as they were together.

Kaze nodded with a smile. He tried to hold Darcy's hand but Agnes appeared and slapped his hand away.

Displeased, Agnes said, "Are you really going to dinner with this retard? Henry is hosting a party at a five-star hotel for you. Each table costs one hundred thousand dollars!"

As soon as her words subsided, car honks came from outside the house.

Agnes relaxed her brows and said, "It must be Henry. Darcy, cor on!"

When they came down, they saw Henry in a handsome white a large bouquet of roses, leaning against his Maserati.

He strode over when he saw Darcy descending.

"Darcy, happy birthday. Here's your present."

Then, he opened a jewelry box to reveal a diamond ring.

"Henry, this..."

Darcy frowned, seemingly troubled.

"Henry is proposing! You better say yes!"

Agnes was thrilled. She urged and pushed Darcy forward.

"Mother, we haven't even attended the birthday party I planned, why the rush?" Kaze said as he held Darcy back.

"Fine. You really don't know when to give up..." Agnes scoffed.

Henry said scornfully, "Fine, let's go to the party you organized first."

He was eager to see how Kaze made a fool of himself.

"But my car only seats three. How are you getting there? Don't tell me you're going to rent a bike."

"It's okay. Kaze and I will share a ride."

Darcy held Kaze's hand.

The two cars then headed to the suburbs.

As they slowly moved away from the city center, Agnes' expression turned grimmer. She called Darcy, who was in the other car, and scolded Kaze, "Kaze, you stupid retard! You can't even afford a roadside stall so you've decided to bring us to a rural farm?!"

Henry, who was driving, scoffed and said, "Agnes, it's probably n farm. Maybe we're going to the jungle."

Darcy was shocked. Kaze then answered the phone and explaine Agnes.

Agnes angrily hung up the phone.

"Kaze, where are we going?"

Darcy was nervous. She was afraid that Kaze would embarrass himself again.

"You will know when we get there."

The two cars soon arrived in front of the Seven Moon Estate.

The entrance was decorated with flowers and a long red carpet was extended from within. There were countless people lined up on both. sides of the red carpet.

When they got out of the car, Agnes strode over to Kaze angrily.

"Kaze, are you out of your mind? This is the birthday party hosted by the Chairman of Sky High Investment Group! Why did you bring us here? Deborah and the others are here as well, are you trying to embarrass us in front of them?"

With ill intentions, Henry said, "Kaze, are you trying to freeload at the chairman's party? Do you even know who you are? Can you even get in?"

He then said to Agnes, trying to convince her to leave. "Agnes, let's just go to the hotel I booked..."

Agnes nodded.

Darcy turned pale. She did not expect Kaze to disappoint her ag

She would be fine if it was a roadside stall or even a farm, but he brought them here to freeload instead.

"Hey, isn't that Darcy? What are you guys doing here?"

Deborah's voice could be heard from afar.

She was wearing an expensive evening gown and had the Goddess'

Heart around her neck.

With Vincent by her side, she strutted over to Darcy and the ot others.

Deborah scoffed. "You guys are not celebrating your birthday at some random roadside stall? What are you doing here? Trying to ingratiate yourself with Sky High Investment Group?"

Vincent grinned and echoed, "Look at them, a bunch of poor bastards who can't even afford a present. They are not here to get an investment. Look at what we've prepared. This is a white pearl worth millions."

He raved the jewelry box in his hand with a wicked grin.

Darcy was embarrassed. Agnes was so angry that she could eat Kaze alive.

"Who said we're here to ingratiate anyone?" Kaze said.

He held Darcy's hand and felt the cold from her palm.

They were not here to get into the chairman's good books?

Deborah was surprised. "If you are not here to cozy up to Sky High, then what are you people doing here?"

Kaze stared at Deborah coldly and said, "We are here to celebrate Darcy's birthday."

Everyone laughed hysterically.

"You moron! Retard! Who do you think you are? This place by the Chairman of Sky High Investment Group!"

"How can a useless piece of trash like you get in there? You the chance even if you work your entire life."

"Just piss off! You people are a disgrace and it will embarras chairman."

Darcy was shaking as the others insulted Kaze. She was on the br of collapse.

Agnes could not stand the insults anymore.

"You useless piece of trash! Go get a divorce right now! I'm embarrassed to call you my son-in-law!"

Henry looked satisfied when Deborah and the others insulted Kaze.

The other guests who heard Deborah started to criticize Kaze and Darcy.

Then, Master Quint stepped up with his walking cane and scolded, " What is wrong with you? Why did you bring the retard here? Are you trying to embarrass the Quint family?"

"Henry had spoken with me. If you throw Kaze out, Ray Forrester won't come after us! You two are the seniors of the family, shouldn't you know better?"

"Father, I..." Hector wanted to explain but Master Quint stopped him.

"And you, Darcy. What can the retard possibly contribute to our family? He's not even worth a strand of Henry's hair. Today is your birthday and you bring him here to make a fool of yourself?"

"Why do I have such a stupid granddaughter?"

Master Quint was fuming, but Darcy could not argue back. She simply lowered her head, aggrieved.

At the next moment, she looked up with a strong gaze and strongly, "Grandfather, I will not abandon Kaze, even if h me anything, I will never divorce him!"

"You!"

Master Quint almost fainted on the spot.

"Horrible! Such a disgrace to have a stupid girl like you in our fan

Agnes was devastated, wishing she could break down in tears.

Deborah scoffed, "Darcy, it's fine if you want to embarrass yourse but don't drag us down with you. I'll have to slap some sense into you today!"

Deborah raised her hand, but then the crowd got tumultuous.

"Isn't that the richest man, Ray Forrester?"

Everyone was surprised to see the man driving out of the estate in a golden Rolls-Royce.

The car stopped and a stern-looking middle-aged man stepped out.

It was Ray Forrester.

The chairman's birthday party had even the richest man in the city on the guest list.

Ray was in a handsome suit. When he scanned the crowd, he eventually fixed his gaze on someone.

Everyone was silenced by his powerful aura and presence.

Deborah's hand froze in the air, not knowing what to do.

Ray moved forward.

Each step taken was followed by all eyes of the crowd.

Then, something amazing happened.

As Ray walked forward, Giovanni, Jasmine and other influer followed behind him.

Everyone walked tacitly and in silence as if they knew what ea other was thinking.

Ray approached the Quint family, who were shell-shocked and petrified.

Darcy and her parents did not know what to do, their minds went blank.

"It's over! We're all going to die because of Kaze!"

Agnes' face turned pale and almost collapsed to the ground.

Deborah and Vincent gloated at them.

Kaze stole Ray Forrester's premium Black card and became the obvious target.

He was already dead.

Henry grinned. He could already picture the scene of Kaze kneeling before him, begging him for help.

Ray tidied his jacket, wore a serious look, and continued going forward.

His steady footsteps echoed loudly across the silent crowd and somehow synchronized with the rhythmic heartbeat.

Everyone's eyes traced his footsteps.

Ray stood before Kaze and everyone's mind went blank!

"Ms. Darcy Quint, the birthday party is ready now. I'd like to invite you two inside the estate."
