

Guardian 141

Chapter 141 Lee Family Shocked

A huge commotion erupted in the Lee family's living hall.

Someone presented them with a coffin on Karina's birthday?

Some of them even thought they heard it wrongly.

In the next second, two men led a group of four carrying a huge coffin into the hall.

The six of them were Dan's men, the veteran soldiers who came back from the battlefield. The entire hall was silenced.

Every single one of the Lee family was stunned.

After a momentary silence, Narian stood up and bellowed, "Who are you? Why did you send the coffin here?" "Didn't you hear me? The coffin is from Kaze Lee of Lilyrose!"

The leader of the men said coldly and then waved at his men, "Unload it!"

Bang!

The heavy coffin was dropped on the ground, shaking the entire hall a little.

The coffin lid was not nailed down, so upon landing, it slid off.

A pungent smell of blood assaulted the lively atmosphere instantly.

“Arh! There’s a body inside!”

The Lee family was on stage when they saw the body inside the coffin. It infuriated them.

All the guests who attended the birthday party were mortified.

“Master Lee! If you have a family affair today, please excuse us for now! We'll visit on another day!” The guests immediately left.

“Master Lee, Mr. Kaze Lee has instructed me to inform you that a week has passed since the month-long duration he granted you. He hopes to receive the Lee family’s apology and see them kneel before him. Otherwise there will be severe consequences.”

The six men then left the living hall.

Everyone in the Lee family was stunned to the point that they forgot to send their men to stop them.

After a while, the Lee family regained their composure.

One of them went up to check the body in the coffin and was horrified.

“It's Roger Hilfinger! Isn't today the rebuilding ceremony of the Construction and Material Society? Why is he dead?” The entire family was baffled and horrified.

The Lee family did not send any representative over to the ceremony but they had been watching.

Who would have thought that Roger would be killed?

George’s expression turned bitter. “Get on it, right now!”

Awhile later, George's brother, Narian's father, Gregory Lee, came back.

He suppressed the shock and said, "George, an anti-riot operation was carried out in Lilyrose involving the police, the Tiger Fangs, and the Garo Spec Ops Team. More than ten thousand officers and soldiers were mobilized.

"More than two thousand people, including the fifteen board members of the society, were arrested. All the detention centers and prisons were full! Roger Hilfinger was held responsible in association with the gangsters and he killed himself in Universal Tower!

"Then, Ray Forrester led Perfect World Group to take over the Construction and Material Society. Hilfinger Corporation will return to Quintessential Group."

The entire Lee family was silenced by the news.

An anti-riot operation was held on the day of the Construction and Material Society's rebuilding ceremony.

Perfect World Group was much more influential than they had expected for mobilizing the police force and military. "Kaze sent the coffin. Could he be the one who organized the operation?" Narian asked reluctantly.

George grunted. "Impossible. We know who Kaze is. This is definitely Perfect World Group's doing. I've underestimated Ray Forrester and that young chairman!"

Chapter 142 Bully My Wife Again? You Die

From the day Perfect World Group made its debut in the industry, the Lee family had been investigating its young chairman but to no avail.

The reason why the Lee family supported Roger in rebuilding the Construction and Material Society was to test the young chairman's capabilities.

Although now that they had gotten the result, it was far beyond their expectations. They even lost Roger, a loyal follower. The Lee family felt relieved knowing that it was not Kaze.

Back then, they were merciless toward Kaze. If Kaze had grown this strong, it would put them in a difficult situation. Geoffrey said, "But Kaze has sided with Perfect World Group, so it's not good news to us. What should we do, George?" Everyone looked at the coffin at the entrance.

They were infuriated.

Ever since the Lee family became a top family, they had never been insulted this badly.

This would surely make the headlines of Sunrise tomorrow.

"He used Perfect World Group to send us a coffin, trying to scare us? He overestimated himself!"

George pondered for a while and said, "Contact the Everia, Golding, and Chapman families to take care of that punk! Hilfinger Corporation is returning to Quintessential Group. If Quintessential Group seizes the chance and makes a comeback, the three top families would be threatened once more. We'll give them the Hilfinger by WILL RULE.

Tummy u

Back then, the three top families plus the Hilfinger family had annexed Quintessential Group.

Therefore, the three top families would never let them rise again.

“Father, we can crush Kaze easily given our power and status here. Why would you want the three families to do it?” Karina asked, baffled.

Kaze sent the coffin over to ruin her birthday. She wished she could crush Kaze right away.

The other family members nodded in agreement.

The Hilfinger family had always been loyal to the Lee family and now because of Kaze, they lost Hilfinger Corporation.

Even though Hilfinger Corporation was worth around a billion and was not a big deal to the Lee family, it was still money and assets that they would soon lose.

George shook his head. “Narian offended Chief Commander Lang during the distributor conference. To be safe, we cannot show ourselves at Lilyrose now. Listen closely, no one is allowed to go to Lilyrose. We must wait for a chance to apologize to Chief Commander Lang first.”

Everyone else got nervous and nodded in agreement.

Meanwhile, at the Quint family’s mansion back in Lilyrose, Darcy arrived at the front gate because she received a call from her grandfather.

She realized everyone else in the extended family was present, looking at her with anger. Samus bellowed, “Darcy, why didn’t you attend the rebuilding

Coremony: Are you crymy to you us in iudic

Darcy looked at her grandfather whose expression looked grim. She bit her lip and said, "I asked Kaze to attend the ceremony for us. We just need to send a representative."

Master Quint was furious.

"Represent? Since when can a retard represent us?!"

They all blamed Darcy, calling her irresponsible. How could she send the son-in-law to the ceremony to represent the family?

They would be a laughing stock if the news got out.

Darcy endured the criticism.

Then, Deborah mocked her, "Darcy, you have just sent your husband into the tiger's den!"

Darcy's heart skipped a beat and looked at her in shock.

Deborah grunted. "You didn't know? When Henry wanted you to marry him, you chose Kaze the idiot. You practically humiliated the Hilfinger family. The Hilfinger family resented him. Now that he attended in your place, there's no way the Hilfinger family would let him leave in one piece!"

Darcy was struck with realization.

She shook her head in denial. "No! Kaze will be fine! No matter how powerful the Hilfinger family is, they won't commit murder!"

“No? They literally worked with fifteen gangster bosses to cause trouble at all the construction sites. What else they couldn't do?”

Samus cackled. “Darcy, are you trying to get rid of Kaze because you want to remarry? Or are you trying to make yourself look innocent? How wicked of you to send the retard there alone!”

The others mocked her.

They were not speaking for Kaze. In fact, they would be happier if Kaze died. It would be great if Kaze could not come back from the ceremony.

“I didn't. Sorry, Kaze. I shouldn't have sent you there...”

Darcy fell on her knees and cried her lungs out.

“You people bullied my wife again? Do you all have a death wish?” Ashout came from outside the door.

Chapter 143 The Quint Family Is Nothing

Everyone in the Quint family looked outside when they heard the shout.

Kaze appeared at the entrance with a fierce look and stared at them. coldly.

“Kaze? You're alive? How is this happening?”

Samus and Deborah turned pale and instinctively stepped back.

Darcy shuddered. She turned around to the entrance and saw the man's face.

Her tears rolled down ceaselessly. She cried louder than before.

She got up from the floor and jumped into Kaze's arms.

"Kaze! I'm sorry, | shouldn't have sent you there. I'm sorry."

She hugged him tightly and apologized.

"Darcy, I'm okay. You did nothing wrong. | told you | would be fine."

Kaze hugged her and consoled her.

After a while, Darcy finally calmed down.

She checked Kaze from top to bottom and realized he was indeed fine. She finally breathed a sigh of relief. Kaze went up to Samus and Deborah with a cold gaze. "Apologize to Darcy right away!" "Who the hell do you think you are, ordering us to apologize?"

Deborah shouted at him as she stepped back, drawing distance from him.

However, Kaze's slap was faster than her feet.

Slap!

The slap sent Deborah to the floor.

Slap!

Samus also got slapped in the face.

They were slapped on the face but their legs turned weak and they fell on their knees.

“How dare the two of you talk to Darcy like that? I made you two kneel because you two are part of the Quint family,” Kaze said coldly.

Samus and Deborah were vicious. They accused Darcy of wanting to remarry by sending him to his death, yet it was he who volunteered to take Darcy’s place.

Darcy even borrowed a million to request Dan and Gold Tooth to support him at the ceremony.

To Kaze, Darcy was the best woman in the world and no one could tarnish her name!

“Kaze, do you still have any regard for the Quint family? You're outrageous!”

Rudy was infuriated when he saw his children kneeling on the floor.

Kaze scoffed and said, “I even destroyed the Hilfinger family. The Quint family is nothing to me!”

The Quint family laughed at him.

“Kaze, are you being stupid again? You destroyed the Hilfinger family? If you are that capable, why don’t you fly to the moon?” They would never believe Kaze.

“You’ll receive the news soon. It’s up to you whether to believe or not.” Kaze scoffed.

This marked the difference between a second-tier family, the Quint family, and a top family of the capital, the Lee family. The Lee family, despite being in Sunrise, had gotten the news in just a few minutes and had already known what happened. The Quint family, however, had not gotten anything despite being in the same city.

Kaze then turned to Darcy and held her hand. “Darcy, let’s go home.”

He went back to the construction site and learned that

Darcy Was summoned to the Quint family’s mansion, so he came for her.

Otherwise, he would never set foot in the Quint family’s mansion.

The two of them disappeared beyond the door.

Then, Rudy’s phone rang. He answered the phone and when he got the news, his face turned pale.

“Father, something huge happened! An anti-riot operation was carried out in the city. All fifteen board members of the Construction and Material Society were arrested together with their men. Roger Hilfinger killed himself!”

Everyone was shocked by the news.

It was too much for them to accept.

The Construction and Material Society was powerful in Lilyrose yet they were eliminated within a day.

What happened?

Master Quint asked, “Kaze attended the ceremony, he must know something! Go after him and ask him what happened!”

Everyone went out of the house.

“Darcy, | said | would take back Hilfinger Corporation and | did it. Tomorrow, you can bring Dad and Mom over to take over the company.”

Kaze was telling Darcy the great news outside the gate.

Chapter 144 Visit Brother’s Parents “Kaze, don’t lie to me. How is that even possible?” Darcy rolled her eyes at him. She was grateful that Kaze came back in one piece. She did not hope. for more.

“Kaze, did you really destroy the Hilfinger family? We just received news that the Construction and Material Society is over and Roger Hilfinger is dead!”

Master Quint and the others came running out and overheard their conversation. Darcy looked at Kaze in shock.

Kaze did not even turn around to Master Quint and the others. He explained to Darcy, “I didn’t lie to you. Roger wanted to take revenge on me, so | destroyed him and his family. Tomorrow, you just need to go over and take over his company.”

Master Quint was thrilled. “Kaze, did you report the Construction and Material Society? Hilfinger Corporation is given back to Quintessential Group as a reward, am | right?”

He believed Kaze was not responsible for the anti-riot operation that had wiped out the society.

The most Kaze did was lodge a report to the authorities.

Kaze ignored Master Quint but the man took his silence as confirmation.

Master Quint put his hand on Kaze's shoulder and wore a flattering smile.

"My good grandson-in-law, you did well!

"Darcy, we'll accompany you to take over Hilfinger Corporation tomorrow. It was part of our company a few years ago and now it's time for them to return to us." The other family members of the Quint family were thrilled. If they successfully recovered the core business of Hilfinger Corporation, the Quint family would rise to the ranks of top families.

Kaze frowned and said, "You guys can follow but remember, it is Darcy's family that's getting Hilfinger Corporation back. Darcy deserves the credit and she'll be running the company once it's returned to her!" He then brought Darcy away.

After Kaze and Darcy left, Deborah stepped up and said, "Grandfather, look at them. They did not respect you at all. Hilfinger Corporation is originally part of Quintessential Group. It's only normal for us to take it back. Kaze thought it was his credit!"

Samus nodded and added, "Yeah. Grandfather, you will be in charge of Hilfinger Corporation. As for Darcy, just let her take care of the construction site. We won't have to deal with her anymore."

With Hilfinger Corporation back, the Quint family no longer cared about the tiny Passion Fragrance District project. Master Quint switched his flattering smile to a frosty grin. He was displeased with Kaze's attitude as well.

He nodded. "It's decided. After we take back Hilfinger Corporation, Darcy won't get any position there."

The next afternoon, after Kaze and Darcy had lunch at the construction office, the Quint family came by.

"Darcy, let's go to Hilfinger Corporation. Just forget about this little project. When we take back Hilfinger Corporation, we can have everything!"

The Passion Fragrance District project used to be the treasure but now Master Quint no longer cared about it. The others were eager as well.

If not for safety measures, they would have abandoned Darcy and taken over Hilfinger Corporation themselves.

"Alright. Let's go now."

Darcy was the calmest of them all.

Kaze then said, "Darcy, you go with them. I have something else to do."

He wanted to visit James' parents.

He originally planned to visit James' grave but Snow informed him that James' parents were not doing well recently. He would be ashamed to face his good friend if he did not take good care of his friend's parents.

After the Quint family's motorcade left, a Maybach arrived at the gate of the construction site.

"Mr. Chairman."

Snow opened the door for Kaze when he came over.

Chapter 145 Black Mail

“What's the address?”

Kaze asked when he got into the car

James' ex-wife, Winnie, told him the address before, but with Snow's capabilities, she would have gotten it already. “To the Old District,” Snow said to the driver.

Awhile later, the car arrived at Lilyrose's Old District.

When the car drove in, Kaze frowned.

Snow told him that James' parents were not doing well, but when he saw the environment of the Old District, he realized that they were. doing terribly.

Puddles of water were all over the street and the houses looked worn out. Due to the rain last night, some of the houses were flooded with muddy water.

It must be a blockage in the sewer that caused the flood.

The air reeked of an unknown smell.

Worn-out advertisements were pasted everywhere.

The walls were filled with graffiti promoting drugs.

There were several clubs and bars located along the street where gangsters hung out in groups outside the entrance. Prostitutes stood next to the street, seeking their next customer.

This part of the city was filled with strip clubs and many other shady establishments.

The dim clubs were filled with all kinds of people doing all kinds of filthy things.

Conflict was not news in this messed up place. Fights and gang wars happened frequently.

As Kaze looked around, the Old District was filled with a chaotic and slate atmosphere. It was like a different world from the other side of the city.

“Living in such an environment is dangerous. It’s not a coincidence that Brenda was kidnapped the other day.”

Kaze looked outside the window coldly.

James and Darcy’s family face a similar situation. Their families started to decline due to some unforeseen circumstances. www

However, Darcy and her parents still had their extended family to rely on for some time. Even though they were treated poorly, at least they could still survive.

James, however, was not so lucky. He was the support of his family and once he died, his family lost their only support. The family then plummeted to the bottom of the abyss.

Now that Kaze had known about the situation, other than providing for his friend's family, to find out the truth about his friend's death.

He swore

He must expose the mastermind hiding in the shadows.

"Mr. Chairman, the road is getting narrow. The car can't drive in anymore," the driver said helplessly.

The Maybach stopped in a dark alley.

Snow said, "It's just up in the alley."

"Let's walk."

Kaze sighed and got out of the car..

Snow and the driver followed him.

Before Kaze got out of the alley, he heard an argument from a house further away.

A bald tattooed man in a singlet led a group of gangsters, blocking the already narrowed entrance of the house.

The bald man shouted ferociously, "Camry, Teresa! You two old hags! When are you going to return the money your dead son owes my boss? Your son owed Scarface twenty thousand!"

An elderly man and woman were inside the house. They were James' parents.

Camry White looked pale as he said, "Zenon, James passed away two years already. How could he owe Scarface money? We have never heard of this before."

They were forced to move to the Old District after James passed away.

They had never heard of the name Scarface at all. Camry knew that the man, Zenon, and his gangsters were trying to extort money from them.

Their son used to be the chairman of Shangrila Group. Although he had passed away and the company was taken away, many believed he had left a fortune for his parents.

When Camry and his wife, Teresa White were living elsewhere, they had already been harassed by other gangsters, trying to extort money from them. "Fuck you, old man. I make the calls here. James White borrowed twenty thousand from my boss, Scarface!"

The bald man had a cigarette hanging in his mouth. He yelled impatiently, "Give us back the money now! You two are the parents of the chairman of Shangrila Group, how could you have no money? Are you fucking with me?"

"Zenon, we don't have any money. We only have a few thousand left. and the tuition fee for Brenda." The man and woman started begging.

Camry and Teresa had used up their money just to survive for the past two years.

They did not have twenty thousand with them, but the bald man was extorting them regardless.

"You owe money, you return money. Are you trying to fuck with me?"

You old fuck!”

The bald man’s eyes widened ferociously. He swung his hand at Camry..

“If you hit that man, you will die right away!”

Then, a cold voice came from behind Zenon.

Chapter 146 Camry White, Teresa White The slap was a few millimeters away from Camry’s face.

Zenon turned around with a ferocious look and stared at Kaze in the front yard. “Punk, do you know who | am? How dare you threaten me? Piss off and stop being nosy!”

“Mr. and Mrs. White here are my friend’s parents, so | intended to be nosy.”

Kazy strode into the front yard. The place was already messed up. Even Brenda’s little bicycle was broken.

Before he arrived, Zenon and his men had wrecked the place.

“So, you are James’ friend?”

Zenon grinned viciously after a slight pause. “You can be nosy then. Since these two old fucks can’t give me the money, you’ll pay for them!”

Kaze’s expression turned grim when he heard Zenon curse James and his parents.

“You should be slapped!”

He went up to Zenon and slapped him in the face, causing his face to swell.

“You little shit!”

Zenon did not expect Kaze to slap him in front of his men.

Infuriated, he threw a punch at Kaze.

Kaze threw a punch at him as well.

The two fists clashed and a loud crack sounded.

Zenon was punched away, crashing onto the wall. He slid down the wall like a pile of meat. His arm was broken!

He looked at Kaze who was unscathed, in disbelief.

“Why are you guys standing there? Get him!” Zenon held his broken arm and shouted at his men. The gangsters regained their composure and charged at Kaze.

Before they could get close to Kaze, Snow and the driver intervened.

They easily defeated the gangsters in less than a minute.

The driver was also an expert.

“Piss off!”

Kaze stared at Zenon and shouted.

Zenon shuddered and quickly led his men away.

“Just you wait, you little shit! My boss is Scarface! You and that two old fucks are dead!” Zenon’s voice could still be heard outside the front yard.

Kaze did not care about him or Scarface but he knew they would come back.

“Snow, call Gold Tooth and Dan. Ask them why the Old District is this messed up. Should I replace them with someone else?”

He gave Gold Tooth and Dan one day to reorganize the underworld and set some new rules to bind the illegal activities. However, the Old District remained as chaotic as ever!

Zenon even came to James’ parents and extorted them for money. He was displeased with Gold Tooth and Dan’s performance.

Snow went out of the front yard and made the call.

were

After that, Kaze looked at the elderly couple who terrified. “Uncle Camry, Aunt Teresa, I’m James’ friend, Kaze Lee. I’m here to visit you.”

The elderly couple was afraid of him after seeing him break Zenon's arm.

When they heard that Kaze was a friend of their son and he seemed friendly, they finally breathed a sigh of relief. "You are James' classmate, Kaze Lee? He used to talk to us about you."

Camry and Teresa finally felt relieved.

When James was still alive, he talked a lot about Kaze, which left an impression on them.

"James said you are his benefactor and you owned half of Shangrila Group. Now that he's gone, the company is taken away."

Teresa wiped her teary eyes when she talked about her son. Her son's friend came to visit them but her son was no longer alive.

Camry felt sad as well.

Chapter 147 | Will Take Care of You

"Uncle Camry, Aunt Teresa, now that James is gone, let me take care of you. You can treat me as your own son. | will do whatever | can to take back Shangrila Group."

Kaze consoled the two of them.

Camry and Teresa were happy enough to have their son's friend visiting.

As for taking back Shangrila Group, they never thought of it before and did not dare to rely on Kaze to do it.

They knew the person that James offended was powerful, someone that they could not afford to mess with..

After the little reunion with Kaze, Camry and Teresa realized the problem at hand had not been solved.

“Kaze, you better leave now. Zenon’s boss is Scarface. He’ll definitely come back with more men!”
Camry said anxiously. Before Zenon scuttled away, he said he would bring his boss back for vengeance.

Scarface was the gangster boss who ruled the Old District for years.

He had a dozen ferocious men working under him and he controlled the local strip clubs and bars.

He even operated a loan company and owned several underground casinos.

Gambling addicts always lost money at his casinos and then borrowed money from his loan company. In the end, those addicts lost their houses and cars to Scarface.

Under Scarface’s rule, the Old District was practically a lawless land. No one dared to offend him.

Once there was a businessman who borrowed money from him to start a restaurant but failed to pay back in time. Scarface sent his men to recover the money.

His men did not beat anyone or cause any trouble, they simply stood in front of the restaurant, scaring customers off. Soon, the restaurant lost customers and went out of business.

Since it was just a private dispute, the police officers could not do anything either.

Ultimately, the businessman was forced to return the money to end the dispute.

While dealing with common citizens with no financial support, violence would be the first option.

There was a family who failed to pay back the money and Scarface's men broke the man's legs.

"Don't worry. Let him come. I can help you settle the so-called debt as well."

Kaze was not concerned about Scarface at all.

"Why are you being so stubborn? Scarface is a gangster, we cannot afford to mess with him. Just leave!" Teresa cried and pushed Kaze away, urging him to leave.

Everyone in the Old District knew how ferocious Scarface was.

The elderly couple did not want to get their son's friend involved. They were prepared to suffer Scarface's wrath on their own. Kaze knew they did not trust him, so he said, "Uncle Camry, Aunt them to negotiate with Scarface. Everything is going to be fine." "Really? Are you sure about that? Are you just trying to bluff us?" Camry and Teresa were dubious about Kaze's words.

Kaze pointed at Snow. "See, that beautiful woman there is my assistant and the other one is my private driver. It's normal for me to know one or two gangster bosses."

Snow blushed as it was her first time receiving praises from Kaze.

She nodded and said, "Hi. I'm Snow Frost, Mr. Chairman's assistant."

The elderly couple breathed a sigh of relief and stopped urging Kaze to leave.

Teresa wiped her tears and said, "James used to be a chairman as well. If he's still alive, we wouldn't be in this situation." Kaze reminded them of their late son.

"Uncle Camry, Aunt Teresa, I'm here now. Your days of suffering be over soon," Kaze said.

Awhile later, hurried footsteps came from the alley.

A dozen ferocious men arrived at their gate.

Zenon, the bald man, came in first. His broken arm was bandaged and hanging over his chest.

"You two old fucks and that little shit that broke my arm, get the fuck out here! My boss Scarface is here!"

Chapter 148 You Won't Walk Out of the Old District

Aman with a grimace strutted into the front yard.

There was a huge scar on the left of his face, from his temple down to his chin.

The scar looked like a giant centipede crawling on his face, making him look vicious and scary. His presence alone was terrifying.

The man was the notorious Scarface of the Old District.

Scarface had a cigarette hanging in his mouth, his eyes narrowed as he glared at the elderly couple who came out from the house. "Camry White, where is that little shit that broke Zenon's arm?"

Camry and Teresa were frightened by his shout.

Even though Kaze told them that he was a chairman of a big company and had gotten two other gangster bosses to deal with Scarface, they were still afraid of Scarface when they saw him in person.

"Scarface, Kaze is my son's classmate. He visited and thought Zenon was harassing us, that's why he broke his arm. Please forgive him, we'll pay for Zenon's medical fee!" Camry bit the bullet and begged.

"Medical fee? Do you have a million to pay us?"

Scarface scoffed and added, "Tell that little shit to come out right now. I don't care who he is. He broke Zenon's arm and I'll make sure won't walk out of the Old District alive!"

He was the most powerful gangster in the Old District and because of his notoriety, no one dared to move against his men.

If he did not make an example out of Kaze, he would face more challenges in the future.

"I'd like to find out how you are going to stop me from walking away."

Kaze came out and looked at Scarface expressionlessly.

Scarface giggled. "You little shit. You broke Zenon's arm right? It seems like you can put up a fight but that won't save you!" He waved and said, "Get in here!"

A dozen of his men swarmed in immediately, filling every space of the front yard.

"Kaze, we're so sorry. You should have left when you had the chance."

The elderly couple was horrified by the overwhelming number of gangsters.

"He ain't leaving! He won't be leaving the Old District alive!"

Scarface cackled. "Little shit, open your eyes and see for yourself. You are only powerful when you have men working for you. What can you do alone?"

"Your men are not enough," Kaze said scornfully. Scarface was angered. "Still acting tough, huh? Go, break his arms!"

Camry was terrified but he stood in front of Kaze with his hands raised. "Scarface, please let him go! If you want to break arms, you can break mine!"

"Uncle Camry, stay back. No one is breaking my arms today."

Kaze pulled Camry behind him and threw punches at the gangsters who jumped on him. "Aaargh!"

Excruciating cries sounded as the gangsters were sent flying backward.

Scarface was shocked when he found out how strong Kaze was. He stomped his foot and shouted, "Get him! All of you! Get him! He can't beat all of us!"

“Boss! Boss! There are a lot of people outside! They must be from other gangs!” One of the gangsters keeping watch outside came in hurriedly and informed Scarface of the situation.

Scarface’s expression shifted.

“Other gangs? | thought all the gangster bosses were arrested yesterday!”

He heard of the news. Fifteen gangster bosses and their men were arrested during the anti-riot operation. Now, other than Dan and Gold Tooth, there were practically no gangster bosses left. However, the Old District was a worn-out place with zero opportunities. Why would they send their men over?

Scarface did not know what happened but he had to check it out.

“Let's go. We'll deal with this little shit later!”

He glared at Kaze and then led his men outside the front yard.

The moment he stepped outside, he was stunned.

The scene before his eyes sent chills down his spine.

Chapter 149 Hit a Snag

The alley was filled with people, from the house’s front yard to the end of the alley.

There were around a few hundred people at first glance.

Scarface and his men were stunned. Some of them were shaking and even peed themselves. "What the hell? Why are there so many people? Are they here for me?" Scarface wiped the sweat off his forehead. The men in the alley automatically split up, opening a path in the center.

Two sets of hurried footsteps came.

When Scarface saw the owners of the footsteps, his heart skipped a beat.

He went up to them with flattery and said, "Gold Tooth, Dan, what are you guys doing here?" Scarface saw the two of them before during the gathering of the gangster bosses.

After fifteen gangster bosses were arrested, Gold Tooth and Dan were the only ones left..

He also heard that the two of them took over the properties and resources of the other gangs, making them invincible. "Who the hell are you? Get the hell out of my face!"

Dan slapped Scarface away and then asked one of his men, "Is this where Master Lee mentioned?" 10

"Yes, Boss. It's that house there."

Dan and Gold Tooth exchanged a quick look and then strode into the house.

Scarface's men dared not stop them at all. They quickly made way for the two of them.

Scarface did not even complain despite being slapped.

Gold Tooth and Dan ran over to Kaze and bowed. They apologized in fear, "Master Lee, we're sorry for not following your instructions carefully! We were wrong!"

Master Lee? Who was Master Lee?

Why were Gold Tooth and Dan so afraid of the man and even bowed at him?

Scarface and his men were shocked

Then, everyone started shuddering, especially Scarface. His hands and legs were trembling uncontrollably. He threatened to break Kaze's arms and said he would not be able to leave the Old District in one piece. "Fuck, fuck, fuck. We've hit a snag!"

Scarface pushed his men away and made his way to Kaze. He knelt immediately and said loudly, "Master Lee, | shouldn't have offended you! | shouldn't have told my men to extort money from Mr. and Mrs. White!"

Dan and Gold Tooth stared at him ferociously.

Dan shouted at him, "So, you little piece of shit disrespected Master Lee? Do you have a death wish?" "Sorry! Sorry! I'm so sorry!"

Scarface was mortified. He was no match for Dan because the man was known for his ferocity.

"Stop crying!"

Scarface's crying vexed Kaze. He frowned and shouted to silence the man.

He then looked at Gold Tooth and Dan. "What's with the Old District? | told you two to reorganize the underworld. Why is the Old District still so chaotic?"

Slap! -

Gold Tooth slapped himself and said in fear, "Master Lee, it's my fault! The Old District is worn out and there's nothing much here. No powerful gangster bosses were interested in this place, so we kind of forgot about this place."

Dan also slapped himself to express his apology. The two gangster bosses slapped themselves because of one word from Kaze. "Kaze, why are they so afraid of you? Are you a gangster boss as well? Don't go down that path. | saw the news yesterday and more than a dozen gangster bosses and their men were arrested," Teresa said, expressing her concerns.

Being a gangster boss might seem cool and powerful but with one misstep, it might end up badly. Camry and Teresa viewed Kaze as one of them already. They did not want him to walk the wrong path at such a young age.

Chapter 150 Sent Begging at the Train Station

"Aunt Teresa, I'm not a gangster."

Kaze was amused, but it was difficult to explain the situation clearly to her.

Fortunately, Gold Tooth read the situation and said, "Madam, it's Master Lee who arrested the gangsters yesterday." "Yeah. Master Lee is the commander of the anti-riot operation yesterday!" Dan echoed.

Camry and Teresa were surprised. No wonder Gold Tooth and Dan were so afraid of Kaze. They could be arrested if they defy Kaze!

Scarface and his men were mortified.

Rumors of the fifteen gangster bosses were circulating the city. It was said that the fifteen of them would be executed.

Kaze then looked at Scarface. "So, James owed you twenty thousand?"

"No! No, Master Lee! I was wrong! James White didn't owe me any money! This is a misunderstanding!" Scarface ordered Zenon to extort money from Camry and Teresa even though James did not owe anyone money,

Two years ago, if James was still the chairman of Shangrila Group, Scarface would never dare. "No? Then it's settled."

Kaze nodded.

Just when Scarface thought he was off the hook, Kaze's face turned you wwe the wine Tummy.

He heard from Camry that it was not the first time Scarface extorted money from them.

The gangsters would ruin their house every time and take whatever they had at the moment. Even Camry and Teresa were beaten up a few times.

One time, one of the men even slapped Brenda and threatened to sell her away as a beggar. The girl was horrified and got sick for a week.

Kaze asked, "Brenda White was kidnapped by a human trafficker. I supposed it is you?"

Scarface was horrified. He prostrated before Kaze and said, "Master Lee, it's not me. It's Zenny Ningle! He gave me some money to stage the entire act, so I told my men to arrange for it to happen..."

Zenny was Winnie's new husband.

Kaze simply asked but he got a surprising answer in return.

No wonder Zenny was so furious when he brought Brenda to the police station. Kaze simply thought Zenny disliked Brenda. "Zenny Ningle, that bastard! How could he do something like this!"

Camry and Teresa were in disbelief as well.

Kaze consoled them, "Uncle Camry, Aunt Teresa, I've punished that guy. He was fired from his job."

"Fired? What about Winnie? Winnie would suffer his anger!"

The elderly couple were worried about their former daughter-in-law.

Kaze was not worried at all since Winnie was not a responsible mother. He said to Gold Tooth and Dan, "Break Scarface's legs and arms and throw him at the train station to beg.

"As for his men, break each of their arms and legs and make sure they can never pick up a weapon. Then throw them out of the city. From now onward, you two are in charge of the Old District."

Kaze finally announced Scarface's punishment. Soon, Scarface and his men were dragged away and peace returned to the house. "Kaze, thank you. If not for you, we don't know what would happen to 'b Camry and Teresa were grateful for his help. If not for Kaze, the house might be destroyed!