Chapter 191 Grand Fireworks The men Toffle brought from the court were knocked down to the ground as well.

As a matter of fact, they did not go through any legal procedures to claim the house. They were simply dragged here by Toffle to bluff Darcy and her family, trying to force them to move out immediately.

Therefore, they were not able to voice their grievances. "Take them away!" the captain said. Toffle was dragged away like a ragdoll.

While he was being dragged away, he bellowed, "Darcy Quint, don't think this is over! My brother, Maurice, has the support of the top three families! He is more connected than you thought! Your company is completely locked out, the bank cutting you off is only the start! If you can't settle the debt, Horizon Mirror will be mine soon! Not even the chief commander can disobey the law... Ouch Toffle got another hit in his stomach before he could finish sentence and finally silenced him.

"The man is right. If we cannot settle the debt, we might have to out of the house. The company will also go bankrupt!" Darcy stood still with a bitter look.

Even though she could still keep her house, she was not in a celebratory mood.

Maurice was ruthless. He had planned everything just to push Darcy and her family over the cliff.

Maybe Darcy and her family would lose their old house and ultimately end up

Darcy did not want to give up but she was drowned by despair and helplessness.

Maurice was the son-in-law of the Everias and he single-handedly pushed Quintessential Group to a dead end.

“Darcy, don’t worry. I’m here with you, no one can defeat you.”

Kaze pulled his phone in front of Darcy and called Ray Forrester. “Did you hear about Quintessential Group?” “Yes, | just heard about it. What do you need me to do, Mr.

Chairman?” Ray asked respectfully.

Kaze said, “The top three families are flaunting their connections, so suppose you are up next. Be prepared and wait for my orders. | want to prepare a grand firework show for my wife.”

Ray had rooted himself in the city for years and he was the only one who could teach the top three families a lesson.

“Mr. Chairman, you flatter me. You are back for only two weeks bu you have made so many connections, even more than me. | think you don’t even know how well-connected you are. I’ll make the necessary arrangements.”

Ray hung up the phone. He then looked at Snow and said, “Snow, go pull some strings and bring in some of the big guns. Snow asked, “With your name or the chairman’s name?”

Ray sighed and said, “The chairman wants to help Ms. Quint in resolving Quintessential Group's problem, of course, it’s his name. Why would he want to use mine? He doesn’t even know how well-connected he is, but you as his assistant should take note.”

“Yes, sir. I’m on it.” Snow nodded.

The chairman of Perfect World Group had always kept a low profile to the point that the top three families looked down on him and put a stop to Quintessential Group's bank loans.

How ridiculous.

"Kaze, who are you talking to? Why are you talking about fireworks? I'm not in the mood."

After the call, Darcy looked at Kaze with a pouty look.

She was bothered by other thoughts and could not understand what Kaze meant.

Kaze smiled but he did not explain himself. "Just wait and see, Darcy. The fireworks will surely surprise you." It would surprise Darcy but it would horrify the top three families.

Outside Skylar View District neighborhood, Toffle crawled up from the ground and tapped the dirt off his face. The chairman of Bersina Group was tossed out by security guard

How embarrassing!

"Fuck! I'll go to the Housing Authority Office to settle the procedures right away! When I become the real owner of Horizon Mirror, not even Chief Commander Lang can throw me out!"

Chapter 192 Startled National Guards

Toffle went to the Housing Authority Office.

When he reached the counter, he revealed his identity and stated his intention. "I am Toffle Toan, the chairman of Bersina Group, the brother of Maurice Toan, the chairman of Lilyrose Bank. I'm also a relative of the top three families. | want Horizon Mirror to be under my name in five minutes!"

He believed with three different identities shown, he would have no problem getting the house. The clerk at the counter was frightened and quickly pulled up the necessary documents to verify the details.

She had no problem verifying Toffle's identities but when she tried to pull up the information regarding the owner of Horizon Mirror, she faced some problems.

She searched the entire system but could not find any info about Kaze. "What's wrong? What's the delay?" Toffle grumbled as he was losing his patience.

The clerk said, "Mr. Toan, there seems to be a problem with the current owner's details. We are unable to search for him in our system.

"What the fuck?"

Toffle shouted and added, "The Quints gave me Kaze Lee's personal details themselves, how could there be a problem? They wouldn't dare lie to me!"

"There's really nothing about him in our system. | can't do anything either."

The clerk was so scared that her eyes got teary.

She called her supervisor for help but even the supervisor could not find anything about Kaze.

They tried multiple times and still could not find anything regarding Kaze.

Toffle was losing his patience.

In the end, the chief of the Housing Authority Office, Colin Tulen, was forced to take over the matter.

Colin said impatiently, "Is there something wrong with our database? Ask the tech team to check it right now!" The few of them headed to the tech department and tried different ways to access Kaze's information. Unfortunately, they got nothing.

A software engineer refused to give up. He said, "Chief, w hack into the database and have a look?"

"You have my permission, but don't mess things up."

A minute later, Colin was staring at black screens.

The moment the software engineer hacked the database, the entire system went down and the database was wiped. A red exclamation mark appeared on the black screens.

Everyone was frightened.

A few seconds later, multiple helicopters appeared above the Housing Authority Office.

Ropes were thrown down from and armed masked soldiers roped down immediately, seizing multiple vantage points of the building.

Snipers got into position around the premise and took aim at the Office.

Sirens blared on the streets and a dozen police cruisers came, surrounding the entrance and the back of the building. A police line was pulled up and riot police with riot shields were in position.

Armored trucks came, carrying groups of riot police officers, armed with live rounds.

Countless lasers were aimed at the targets within the building.

Everyone in the building including employees and common citizens who were there to settle housing affairs, were all forced on the ground.

Toffle was horrified.

“What the hell is this?! Is there a terrorist attack in the building?!”

Colin and his men were also afraid.

Before they could find out what happened, chief of police, Don Braders, arrived and signaled his men. “Breach the premise and seize everyone!”

In less than three minutes, more than a thousand people in the building were all apprehended.

After the building was taken under control, two limousines with the city council's plate arrived at the entrance. “Mayor Brooks is here! What the hell happened?”

At of was shocked to them when he can down

A lot of people were shocked to see the mayor when he came down from the limousine.

Johnson strode into the building with a grim look. He went straight to Colin and shouted, echoing across the entire floor.

“Colin Tulen, are you out of your fucking mind? Why the fuck did you startle the National Guards?! Are you trying to get your ass fired?!”

Chapter 193 Toffle Toan Arrested

“Mayor Brooks! | didn’t do anything. What happened?!”

Colin remained baffled and scared.

“You don’t know what you did?!”

Johnson was frustrated. He wanted to slap the man in the face.

“| just received a call from the National Guards that someone in this building is trying to access confidential information of a 5S personnel!

“Multiple warnings were issued but the hacking continued. The National Guards suspected that terrorists were trying to hurt the target and activated the self-destruct program in the database. They also ordered us to exterminate all threats at all cost!”

Colin and the others were stunned upon hearing the mayor.

Classified information of a 5S personnel? No one had ever heard of it before, let alone accessing the information. However, with all the soldiers and police officers pointing the in their face, they were finally convinced.

Johnson shouted, "Tell me who is trying to access the information

"Mayor Brooks, we didn't access any confidential information. We are just trying to search for a nobody named Kaze Lee regarding his housing information. Apparently he's quite well-known in Lilyrose," Colin explained.

Johnson's eyes widened. He slapped Colin in the face and shouted, " Nobody? Mr. Lee is a nobody?! How the fuck can a nobody startle the National Guards?! Colin Tulen, are you out of your fucking mind?!"

He then waved at the police officers. "Arrest everyone involved. Bring on interrogation."

He then said to Colin and the others, "You people better pray that you didn't do it. If we find out that you are somehow involved in terrorism or something similar, you won't be seeing daylight again!"

"Huh?!" Colin collapsed on the floor, horrified. The clerk, the software engineer, and the supervisor were all stunned.

They were just trying to access Kaze's information to make the name transfer, but they were suspected to be involved in terrorism.

Despite their crying and begging, the riot police officers took them away.

Not only them, but the one who started it all, Toffle, was cuffed and arrested as well.

They would then go through a thorough and lengthy interrogation. All the people outside were stunned. What happened?

Even if the chief of the Housing Authority Office committed a crime, there should not be helicopters hovering above the building with masked soldiers jumping down. Soon, the soldiers and police officers retreated and the Housing Authority Office returned to normal. Johnson took over the office for the time being.

The deputy chief was not taken away but he was still frightened. He went to the mayor and asked, "Sir, Toffle Toan's brother, Maurice Toan, called and asked why his brother was arrested. How should I answer him?"

Lilyrose Bank was a mixed-ownership company between Maurice and the city council. Therefore, Maurice had to report to Johnson as well.

However, he used his identity and the support from the top three families to strengthen his position and had never taken the mayor seriously.

The news of Quintessential Group losing the banks' support made headlines. Johnson heard of it and cursed Maurice from the bottom of his heart.

He said, "There's no way we can cover something this huge anymore. We'll tell the truth but keep everything about Mr. Lee a secret. Just say that the information the Quints provided is false."

Meanwhile in the chairman's office of Lilyrose bank, Maurice almost fell from his chair when he heard the reply.

Toffle went to the Housing Authority Office to settle the transfer procedure of Horizon Mirror yet somehow he got involved in terror and was arrested by the National Guards?

“It must be Johnson Brooks who got my brother arrested! It’s not news that he’s against me!”

Maurice slammed everything within his reach to the floor, but he could not do anything to Johnson. Toffle was gone for good for the time being. Even common procedures would take a day or two. It would be even longer since the National Guards were involved.

Maurice put the blame on the Quints as well. If they did not provide false information, Johnson would not be able to get his brother arrested. Maurice called his men into the office.

“Get the two hundred million back from the Quints. Make them pay us an extra hundred million. I want the money to get my brother back.”

Chapter 194 Two Hundred Million Gone “We got Kaze’s information from the local psychiatric ward, how could it be wrong?”

The Quints were shocked when they were informed by Maurice’s men that the information regarding Kaze they provided was wrong.

Master Quint slapped Samus and bellowed, “You little useless shit, how did you get the information? Look what you’ve done!”. Samus covered his face in grievance. He had no idea what went wrong.

“Cut the nonsense. Give us back the two hundred million. And you have to compensate us another hundred million because Toffle was arrested by the National Guards!”

Maurice's men were impatient and annoyed. The entire Quint family was silenced. Master Quint tried to argue but when he saw the vicious look on the men's faces, he gulped nervously.

"Guys, please inform Mr. Toan that we will return the two hundred million. For the other hundred million, we'll compensate him in the future. We don't have enough money..."

He lowered his voice and started begging.

Maurice got the news and agreed for the Quints to compensate him at a later date. Master Quint then handed over 190 million to the men.

He then looked at Samus and Deborah and asked, "Where's the other ten million? Hand it out!"

Samus and Deborah were shocked.

It was their idea to sell Horizon Mirror to Toffle, and the ten million. was a reward from their grandfather for making the deal happen.

Samus and Deborah had spent the money on luxurious cars and purses, leaving nothing. The sad thing was that they had not even got the car.

They quickly called the agent and requested a refund but were rejected. Once the order was made, the money could not be refunded.

"We are from the Quints! Do you have a death wish?! Give us a refund!" Deborah shouted into the phone. "So what? Ms. Quint, just because you threatened me, you won't be able to get the car as well, let alone get a refund!" The car agent turned on them and hung up the phone immediately,

The Quints were doomed, so no one respected them anymore.

Samus and Deborah were devastated.

Before their family's decline, they could still live like princes and princesses in a luxurious world.

Now, anyone on the street could look down on them.

Deborah called Vincent for help but his phone was not in service.

They knew they could no longer keep it a secret, so they told their grandfather the money was no more. They had spent ten million in just a few short hours.

Master Quint was so frustrated that he slapped the two of them.

Maurice's men were still waiting for the remaining ten million.

73

Master Quint pleaded once more, begging for mercy from Maurice.

"Mr. Toan said to show some respect and because of you, Master Quint, we'll just take one leg each from them." Maurice's men pointed at Samus and Deborah.

"H-How dare you!" Master Quint almost passed out due to anger.

The Quints had declined and no one would respect Master Quint anymore.

In the end, Rudy and his wife sold off their house and cars to fill the remaining gap.

They beat their children up as punishment.

The family was forced to move back with Master Quint. On the bright side, they could take care of him at all times now.

“It's all Kaze's fault. His details are fake, that's why we lost two hundred million! We must make Darcy pay the one hundred million compensation!”

Master Quint dared not blame Maurice for being ruthless, so he shifted the blame to Darcy.

Chapter 195 Humiliation

“Since the company owed three hundred million, another hundred million won't hurt.”

Meanwhile in Horizon Mirror, Darcy was unusually calm when she received a call from her grandfather. Master Quint blamed Kaze for everything, which rendered her speechless.

All of a sudden, Agnes cried loudly in her room.

“Who? Who made rumors like this? They are being ridiculous! My daughter is not like this! They are trying to drive us nuts!” Darcy and Kaze went over, then Sky.

Agnes was on the floor, crying and panting.

When she saw Darcy, she handed her phone over. "Darcy, look!"

Darcy looked at the phone, petrified. Her face turned as pale as p

"The COO of Quintessential Group tried to bribe the director of Lilyrose Bank with her body but failed. She then Instigated her psychotic husband to beat him up!"

"Lilyrose Bank will sue them for the sake of their director and executives."

"The accused's university classmate will testify in court!"

All kinds of online news bombarded her eyes and it stunned her.

Darcy's head was photoshopped into many naked women images to capture attention.

The headline of the beautiful COO of the company trying to bribe the released, it went trending on multiple platforms.

Darcy's name became the hottest topic of the Internet and the impact spilled over into the real world. People called her a whore, a slut, and other dirty names.

Most of them did not care about the truth as they just wanted a target to vent their emotions.

The vicious comments scared Darcy away.

On the contrary, Joy, who turned on Darcy, became the angel of justice.

She even posted a video of Darcy in the VIP room online, eventually becoming famous by feeding off the views. She already got a million views on the video.

Darcy's phone was bombarded by unknown calls.

"Darcy, I'm your university friend! You used to be my idol but you've disappointed me! I'll delete you!"

"Ms. Quint, I'm a reporter from Taoya News. Care for an interview? Why did you bribe the director with sex? Why did you ask your husband to beat the director..." "Darcy, how could you go for a filthy man like Liben Radar! Come suck me off and I'll give you the money!"

Darcy turned off her phone to stop the harassment calls. She sat down calmly but her eyes lost the energy that she used to have.

Agnes hugged her daughter to calm her down. "Darcy, don't scare me. Be strong. They are trying to ruin your reputation! I know you didn't do it! Our family is clean! Don't take it the wrong way!"

"Mom, I know what to do. Even if I jump off a building, those people won't stop," Darcy said with strong disappointment.

Compared to physical death, sentencing her reputation to death was more terrifying.

Even if she died, she would carry the humiliation to the afterlife.

"Come with me."

Kaze put his hand on Sky's shoulder and then brought him out of the house.

Sky teared up and begged Kaze, "Kaze, you have to clear Darcy's name! You are all she has left."

"Don't worry. No one can ruin Darcy's name."

Kaze wiped the boy's tears off and said, "You stay here and look after Darcy. I'll clear her name."

"Alright. We'll wait for you."

Sky wiped his tears away. He trusted Kaze more than ever now.

Kaze left the house. He then called Snow and said, "Tell Don, Go Tooth, and Dan to locate Joy Soothe as soon as possible."

Chapter 196 Joy Wants to Be an Influencer

Kaze sounded as cold as ice.

He was furious.

Snow shuddered after the call. She immediately called Don and the others to relay the message. Soon, both the police and the gangsters received a picture of Joy and their task would be to locate her.

Meanwhile, in the Old District, Joy and her husband, Hugh Cocker, arrived at an old and shabby clinic. Both of them wore shades.

“Joy, | saw the girl’s picture. She’s beautiful. | believe she can help us give birth to a beautiful baby.

“But the fee for a surrogate mother is too expensive. Five million for a baby?! Chairman Toan gave us ten million and if we pay this, we're left with only five million. We still have to buy a car and a house. We can't just spend the money like this.”

Hugh was having a hard time convincing himself to spend on a baby. “Hugh, you are as short-sighted as ever!” Joy rolled her eyes husband.

She then pulled her phone out and showed him her fans on her page. Look at this. | already have more than two million views and a hundred thousand followers! | will soon reach five hundred and then a million followers because of Darcy!

Just spend the ten million however we want. | can be an influencer aand can earn a lot of money! I'll earn more than ten million!”

Betraying Darcy earned her more than ten million, it even made her famous and secure a new source of income.

Even her social status would rise.

She did not regret her action at all. Her friend was nothing compared to a comfortable future..

Hugh gulped nervously. He was still reluctant. “But having a surrogate mother is risky, especially in this country, which strangely still prohibits surrogacy. If people find out about you getting a surrogate mother just because you don't want to bear the child, what would people think of you?

“Doesn't it go against your image as the angel of justice or whatever? Your body is fine, we can have a baby on our own. There's no point in spending the money on a surrogate mother!”

“Nor”

Joy shouted, "You have no idea how hard it is to carry a baby for nine months. I won't sacrifice my beauty and my body to bear a child. I want to be beautiful. If people can do it for me, why must I do it of my own?"

She sounded righteous when shifting the responsibility of bearing her child to another woman. It was as if her beauty and physique were more important than her responsibility of being a mother.

"Hugh, if you keep being like a pussy, I'll go find a real man with a huge cock!" Joy shook his hand off and strode into the clinic.

Hugh was startled but he went after Joy immediately.

"You're here."

There were several masked figures inside the shabby clinic waiting

Joy knew the clinic was just a front for the people doing shady businesses. She had agreed to pay them five million for a surrogate mother.

"Where's the girl? I want to see her in person," Joy said.

"Bring her out here."

The boss of the place clapped once.

Then, a terrified girl was pushed out of the door behind them. Her hands were tied behind her back and she seemed to be doing this against her will.

The girl was around 18 years old. She was in a mess but she had pronounced facial features that even Joy was jealous of. She was happy with the surrogate mother.

“Alright. It's her!”

Joy added, “Is she okay with it? What if she ran away or happened in the process?”

“Don't worry. Our organization is strict and she won't have a to run. If she dares to run, then...”

The boss chuckled grimly.

The girl shuddered and cried.

“Alright. I'll pay you a million as a deposit first.”

Joy asked Hugh to take his backpack off for her to take the money. To keep the surrogacy off the books, she decided to deal in cash. “Joy, | wonder how it feels to spend the money that you earned from Douayny curvy:

It was then a frosty voice came from behind her.

Kaze strutted in casually.

Chapter 197 Vicious “Kaze, how did you get here?” Kaze’s arrival shocked Joy.

She was scared of him after what happened at Lily Garden Hotel. Kaze was ruthless when he punished Liben and the others and it left an impression on her.

Darcy's idiot husband would transform into a ferocious monster once angered.

"It's easy tracking you down. You stink like a bitch. Not even the sewer in the Old District can cover that," Kaze said.

He did not hold back with his words at all.

Ever since he came back to Lilyrose, he met two bitches. One was Kelly, but she was already dead. The other one was Joy. Joy oy was furious. She shouted, "How dare you call me a bitch? Yo fucking retard! You are a retard and Darcy still marries you!" "I'll slap the shit out of you for calling my wife a bitch!"

Hugh was infuriated as well and his first reaction was to throw a punch at Kaze.

Kaze did not even look at him. He lifted his leg and kicked Hugh to the wall.

The impact broke a few of Hugh's ribs. Hugh slid down the wall like a pile of meat.

He held his chest tightly. It was too painful for him to make a noise.

"Hugh!" Joy screamed.

The shady doctors were shocked when they realized Kaze was strong.

“Joy, Darcy was good to you. Why did you betray her? Why did you accuse her?” Kaze asked coldly.

Joy instinctively stepped back and stared at Kaze with clenched teeth. She refused to answer the question.

Instead, she scoffed. “What now? Trying to threaten me so that I’ll reveal the truth? Are you recording with your phone? If so, you will be disappointed. I’m not that stupid. It’s the digital era, where live and posts are the mainstream media. You and Darcy are no match for me!” Kaze raised his brows. The woman was not as stupid as he thought.

Joy noticed his silence. She grinned and added, “Can’t wrap your head around what I said? That’s right, this is my social media account and I will reach one million followers soon! I will earn a lot of money while Darcy’s company is going bankrupt! She will die before clearing her name!

“Just you wait, Kaze! This is just the start! I’ll go live soon and expos all of Darcy’s dirty secrets. I want her to be my catalyst to boost me into fame! You and your wife will end up in jail and watch me squeeze every value out of her body, and you won’t be able to do anything!

“This is the power of social media! So what if you can throw a punch? Throwing a punch is outdated!” Joy pointed at her head and looked triumphant.

Kaze looked at Joy coldly. How could a woman be this vicious?

He had never seen such a vile and vicious person even on the battlefield.

“Kaze, get the fuck out of here. Go back and prepare to be jailed with Darcy for me, thank her for making me who I am now! Hahaha!”

Joy laughed hysterically.

Kaze chuckled. “Joy, you are really smart, but not enough. You are just full of yourself.” “Fucking retard, what are you talking about?”

Joy stopped laughing and looked at him scornfully.

“I am saying, quick wits are nothing before absolute power.”

Kaze put his smile away and said, “Show it to her.”

Chapter 198 Don't Need To Record As soon as Kaze's voice subsided, loud buzzing noises came from outside the building. Drones descended from the sky and hovered outside the clinic. There were at least a hundred drones lined up in a formation.

The loud buzzes attracted all the attention of the street. Many people came out of their houses to see what the commotion was about..

Snow came into the clinic and handed Kaze a tablet. Kaze tapped on it.

“But the fee for the surrogate mother is too expensive. Five million for a baby?! Chairman Toan gave us ten million and if we pay this, we're left with only five million. We still have to buy a car and a house. We can't just spend the money like this.”

“You have no idea how hard it is to carry a baby for nine months. I won't sacrifice my beauty and my body to bear a child. I'm beautiful. If people can do it for me, why must I do it on my own?”

Familiar voices were heard from the tablet. Joy's expression shifted. It was the conversation she had with Hugh outside the clinic.

Kaze tossed the tablet to Joy and said, "Now you know how I locate you right? From the moment you and your husband step out of your house and come all the way here to the Old District, every move, every word that you say, it's all captured by the drones. I don't even need to record whatever you say."

He did not need her to confess that she accused and betrayed Darcy

He just needed to release the clip with her finding a surrogate mother and her image would be tarnished instantly. Joy held the tablet in horror. The delight on her face was gone and replaced by paleness. Her body shook terribly. She knew what this meant for her life.

Thump!

She smashed the tablet on the ground.

"Boss, get him! Force him to delete the video and then kill him! I'll give you a million! One million!"

She shouted at the shady doctors behind her.

The boss and the shady doctors stared at Kaze with dangerous gazes. They already wanted to eliminate him when they heard him earlier.

Once the clip was posted, the clinic would be wiped out by th authorities as well.

“Ms. Soothe, don’t worry. We handle more than surrogacy mat also deal in organ-related matters. Since there are two of them there’s no reason we wouldn’t take them. Hehe...”

The boss of the shady doctors grinned. He waved at his men and said, “Get them! Harvest the guy’s organs and make the woman. another surrogate mother! She’s beautiful, I’m sure she’ll be popular with the rich ladies.”

Then, his men jumped on Kaze and Snow with intense hostility.

One of them went after Snow.

The others surrounded Kaze, who had revealed himself to be

They armed themselves with sharp scalpels that could cut through veins with the slightest swing.

“Professionals, | see. No wonder Dan and Gold Tooth didn’t flush your guys out when they took over,” Kaze said as looked at the men and women. Fortunately, he did not send Gold Tooth and Dan’s men to settle the matter, or else they would all be killed. The Old District was the best hiding place for the vile and vicious.

Chapter 199 Make Her Viral

Kaze remained calm and showed no signs of attacking.

When the six men and women approached him and Snow, six ferocious men barged into the clinic. They were Jackal and team!

The six of them each revealed a tri-dagger knife and flung it at their opponents.

Swoosh!

The six tri-dagger knives flew like bullets and struck the opponents' heads.

The men and women widened their eyes in shock and disbelief and died before they could even make a noise. Blood and brains oozed out from the hole that the tri-dagger knives punctured.

The boss gasped in shock when he saw his men died altogether looked at Jackal and team in horror. The six of them, expressionless, went up to the dead bodies and retrieved their weapons.

After wiping off the blood and brains on the doctor's robes, they turned to Kaze.

"Sir, what should we do with this one?" Jackal asked while showing his back at the boss of the gang. He did not take the man seriously.

"Kill him," Kaze said.

Jackal flung his tri-dagger knife at the boss' face without even Splat!

The boss of the gang was killed!

Thump!

Joy fell onto her knees and cried, "Kaze, | was wrong! Please don't kill me! | shouldn't have betrayed Darcy! | shouldn't have accused her!"

She cried and kowtowed repeatedly, almost knocking her brains out on the floor. She dared not challenge Kaze anymore now that all the shady doctors were dead.

Her mind was drowned with fear, stopping her from thinking properly.

Who exactly was Kaze?

Why would he have a beautiful woman as an assistant?

How did he get a hundred drones to watch her?

How did he get the six ferocious men to work for him?

She was not able to answer all the baffling questions wit mind.

"Don't worry. | won't kill you."

Kkaze's confirmation made Joy happy and worried at the same time. She looked at him with an apologetic gaze and asked, "You won't kill me! Thank you! Thank you so much! I'll do anything if you don't kill me!"

"Killing you is considered a mercy now."

Kkaze didn't even look at her and walked out of the clinic.

His voice could be heard outside the clinic, saying, "Edit the video, post it on her social media. She wanted to be famous, so let's make her viral."

A few minutes later, a video appeared on Joy's page.

She was already at three hundred thousand followers.

Her followers were urging her to share updates about Darcy and other dark secrets. When the video was posted, her followers tapped on it to have a look but the content shocked them.

The video revealed the conversation of her and her husband in front of the clinic and how she wanted to use her new found fame to earn money.

Then, the scene switched inside the clinic where the boss of the gang introduced her to the girl that would be her surrogate mother.

Even though the girl was obviously forced, Joy chose to pay the money.

In the end, she even confessed what she did to Darcy.

After she was exposed by Kaze, she instigated the boss and the shady doctors to attack Kaze and Snow. Other than Kaze and Snow whose faces were censored, every scen was crispy clear.

Joy's vile nature was exposed online.

Her followers felt cheated!

Chapter 200 Opinion Turned Around

Joy's followers' rage spread across her social media in an instant and reached almost every corner of the internet. She became the common target, replacing Darcy's place.

The netizens believed what they saw instead of the rumors that Joy spread. With the clip, it was more convincing that Joy framed and betrayed Darcy.

"The guy in the video was right! Joy is a bitch! A fucking bitch!"

"Darcy is wrongly accused! | won't believe the word Joy type anymore!"

"Darcy's husband cleared her name for her! How could such a good man be a psychotic maniac? Let's just wait for the plot twist..."

Instantly, Joy became the talk of the town. Netizens bashed her mercilessly and did not hold back at all.

She finally got a taste of her own medicine.

She was sentenced to death, socially, and there was no way for her come back from that. Her followers, her fame, and her dream of making money-everything went down the drain. Ironically, she switched places with Darcy after the truth was revealed.

Some netizens even suspected that Liben and his men were not beaten up at all and it was all a fake story to frame two good people.

Even Kaze, who had his face censored and did not reveal anything online, caught some attention because he was Darcy's husband.

The plot twist was just the beginning. Soon, Joy was taken by the police.

She provided false testimonials, slandered, and defamed Darcy's name. Given the country's laws, engaging in surrogacy could lead to punishment. Furthermore, she had instigated the shady doctors to kill Kaze and Snow.

Her fate was sealed. She would spend the rest of her life behind bars.

There, she could watch Darcy rise to prominence and live a life that she dreamt of, and she could not do anything to change the outcome.

Meanwhile, in the chairman's office in Lilyrose Bank's headquarters, Maurice stared at his phone with a grim look.. He had played the viral clip multiple times. "That bitch. Why is she so stupid? Why spend money on surrogacy?!" he shouted and smashed his phone on the floor.

His men gave him a glass of water and said, "Sir, we've contacted the police station. Since Joy Soothe is now the public enemy, the mayor has urged the police to press charges against her immediately to recover the city's image. She will not be testifying for us anymore.

Maurice's expression turned grimmer.

His mood was already ruined when his brother, Toffle, was arrested by the National Guards. Now, Joy was arrested as well.

It was difficult for him to sue Darcy moving forward.

Even though Liben and the others were injured and they could still sue Kaze, it would also be difficult because of his mental disability.

The news did not mention Kaze's mental disability, making it difficult for the court to determine if he acted with a clear mind when he beat up Liven and the quiero,

More importantly, Maurice never took Kaze seriously. His target had always been Darcy.

He might be the son-in-law of the Everias but he had no rights within the family.

Even Eliot never took him seriously. Aside from not calling him uncle, Eliot always treated him like a servant.

Darcy was the one who put Eliot in a coma and because of that, Maurice was hellbent on making Darcy submit to him. It was to fill the emptiness in his heart.

"Hmph! This is not over. Darcy Quint, with my connections, | can still find ways to get to you!"

Maurice grinned all of a sudden. He then looked at his men.

“Contact all the banks and tell them to urge the Quints to pay up! | don’t believe that woman can print money out of her pockets!”
