Chapter 31 Swim Back “Darcy, look at your husband! He’s asking me to leave the house!”

Master Quint stared at Darcy coldly, emanating his authoritative aura as the head of the house. “I order you to divorce him immediately!”

“Darcy, you heard Grandfather. Divorce this idiot immediately!”

The Quint family gloated at Darcy’s situation.

Master Quint’s words were indisputable; no one dared to defy his order.

Without a second thought, Darcy said, “Grandfather, I am in charge of my own marriage. No one can decide for me.” Master Quint was furious. “Darcy, do you still take me as your grandfather?!”

While Darcy bit her lip and kept quiet, Master Quint turned to Hecto and Agnes. “You two, make your daughter divorce Kaze immediately!”

Hector did not respond either. Agnes scoffed and said, “Save it, old man! If Darcy divorced Kaze, who else is going to help her? You and your family?”

“When her company faces bankruptcy, you ask her to recover the debt from Pietro. When Ned Brooks took advantage of her, you lot asked her to turn herself in and cut ties with us. Do you really think we, as her parents, will be as cold-blooded as you? We are not going to push her off the cliff like you did!”

Agnes grew agitated as she shouted. Her expression turned vicious as she glared at Master Quint.

She was venting her grievance that had piled up in her heart for years.

She then looked at Bruno and shouted, "Why are you standing there? Throw these people out of my house now!" Bruno was frightened by her shout. He waved at his men and ordered them accordingly.

"Throw them out."

Everyone in the Quint family was chased out by the security guards.

"Kaze, you bastard! How dare you throw us out?!" Samus shouted as he was being pushed out. "Just you wait, you fuck! | will get you!"

Kaze scoffed. "Oh wait, | almost forgot. We had a bet. Now that you lost, shouldn't you jump into the lake and swim back?" "Jump? I'll jump your ass! What bet is that? | have never heard of it!"

Samus feigned ignorance.

"Then let me give you a hand."

Kaze went up to him, grabbed him by the collar, and headed to th lake.

Splash!

Samus was thrown into the lake. He struggled to keep himself afloat and shouted for help.

"Let him swim for a bit before pulling him up," Kaze said to Bruno before he went back inside.

After Master Quint and the others were chased away, Agnes hugged Darcy and cried loudly.

Darcy did not know how to respond. "Mom, why are you crying? They are all gone. You should be happy. We still get the house. You have no idea how fierce you were just now, even | was frightened."

Hector laughed and said, "Your mother is a fierce witch! She has endured them for many years for our family. We have to thank Kaze for this."

"Who are you calling a witch?!"

Agnes jokingly punched Hector and then smiled.

Her little family had put up with Master Quint for years, and they finally stood up for themselves.

They moved into Horizon Sky Mansion that day and prepared a feast as a celebration.

At the table, Agnes said she wanted to host a housewarming party and have close friends over to celebrate. Darcy and Hector disagreed, claiming that she simply wanted to brag.

"Yes, of course, I'm trying to brag. They have gloated in front of me for years and now it's my turn. Why can't | show off for once?"

Agnes sounded firm and righteous. She never had the chance before as with any other human, everyone had a little vanity in them.

Chapter 32 Rebuild the Construction and Material Society Kaze said, "I support that. As long as you are happy, Mother." "Kaze, my son-in-law, you know me best. You two are not as supportive as he is!"

Agnes was delighted to find someone on her side.

“Whatever, Mom. Brag all you want.”

Darcy was happy that her mother finally accepted Kaze as her son-in-law.

They also talked about Darcy’s intention to hire more people for the company.

Since Silver Wind Company suffered a huge turnover a while back and was in a state of manpower.
“From now on, Silver Wind is my career and everything. | best notoring in back on track.”

Darcy looked regretful when she said those words.

She had worked at Quintessential Group since she graduated and devoted all of her life to her work.

my

Moreover, it was her goal to regain the company’s former glory and reinstate her father to his righteous position.

Now that they had broken away from Master Quint and the extended company, she might not be able to remain at Quintessential Group.

Kaze knew what she was thinking. He put a piece of meat on her plate and said, “Darcy, don’t worry too much. I’ll help you get Quintessential Group.”

“After the argument with Grandfather, I don’t think he will let me go back.” Darcy also served a piece of meat on Kaze’s plate.

Kaze smiled. “He will. Quintessential Group is having its own.

problem. I believe he is not that stupid and knows whether to choose between extending the lifespan of the company or saving his own face.”

After dinner, Kaze took care of the dishes while Darcy and her parents went out for a walk to get to know the neighborhood. They were busy moving earlier and did not get the chance to enjoy the scenery.

After Kaze was done with the dishes, he did some chores. Then, he received a text.

He walked out of the house and saw Snow Frost waiting for him

“What is it?”

“Mr. Chairman, Roger Hilfinger went to meet Mr. Forrester this afternoon, asking him to stop protecting you.” Snow walked up to him and filled him in with the latest news wi bow.

Even until now, Roger Hilfinger thought Ray Forrester was Kaze’s backer.

Kaze scoffed. "What did Ray say?"

"Mr. Forrester did not agree with him. Roger Hilfinger threatened him, saying that he would rebuild the Construction and Material Society. Until then, Perfect World Group will suffer the consequences."

Snow glanced at him and continued, "He will then come after you."

"Come after me? Am I that weak to them?"

Kaze laughed. It seemed like he should make an example out of the Hilfinger family to warn the others who were against him. Then, he saw Darcy and his in-laws coming back from their walk.

He waved at Snow, gesturing for her to leave.

"Kaze, I saw a woman coming out of the house. Who was she?" Darcy asked when she came back.

S.She had seen Snow before this but she did not recognize her this time due to the dim environment.

"A friend. We had a chat," he simply said.

K.Kaze did not want to tell Darcy that Ray arranged for his secretary, S.Snow, to serve Kaze for the time being because he did not want her to misunderstand.

Back at the Quiuistshmansion, Master Quint was with Rudy and his farnily. /.

After being throw/alatalo Horizon Mirror, Master Quint started to develop a sense of didisqst for the mansion he was residing in. The more he looked at it, the more disgusted he was.

It was his dream to move into Horizon Mirror He said fiercely. “Samus, have you contacted King Kong?” Master Quint grunted heavily. He wanted to settle this as soon as possible

Samus said, “Grandfather | have been trying to contact King Kong for the past two days but no one answered i call him again later

Master Quint slammed on the table Samus, contact him as soon as possible. No matter how much | have to pay. | want him to settle this quickly

Samus nodded repeatedly

Chapter 33 Past Samus reached out to King Kong right away. This time, the call got through. He asked King Kong to seize Horizon Mirror Mansion tomorrow and would reward the man with fifty thousand once succeeded.

All King Kong needed to do was send his men to scare Darcy and her family away and they could get the money. It was an easy job, at least from the looks of it.

“Horizon Mirror? That's a high-class residential area. The security guards from the Heavensward Group are professionals from a top- tier security company. This is a difficult job.”

King Kong sounded troubled on the phone.

Samus flattered the man, saying, “King Kong, you are Gold Tooth’s best hitman. No professional security guards are a problem for you. We’ve known each other for so long, can you do me a favor?”

“Fine. I'll take this job. | am only doing this for you and no one else.”

Right before Samus could thank the man, King Kong added, “But, you must pay me more.” “Grandfather, he wants five million!”

Samus covered the phone and asked Master Quint for his opinion.

The others were shocked.

Five million?! King Kong might as well rob a bank.

A moment of hesitation later, Master Quint nodded. “Fine. Five million it is. If he can get the Horizon Mirror for us, five million is a small price to pay. It’s worth it.”

The others immediately gathered the money.

The Quint family was not financially stable at the moment, so forking out five million at once would deal quite the damage to their pockets.

The next morning, Darcy went to the office after having breakfast. She had to interview some candidates for the company. Agnes and Hector went out to do some grocery shopping before a walk while Kaze stayed home to do chores. He was humming a melody while cleaning the house.

“Tsk. If the guys at Imperial Court knew that the God of War is staying at home as a full-time house-husband, they would probably go mad.”

Draco mumbled as he arrived at Kaze’s home, amused to see Kaze in an apron.

The man was in casual clothes and had a pair of glasses hangin his nose. His disguise was to prevent Kaze’s in-laws from recogniz him. Kaze looked at him. “How’s the investigation going?”

When Kaze was forced to fight the war representing the Lee family, Darcy and her family went through a series of unusual incidents.

First, the former person in charge of Quintessential Group, Hector, got into a car crash and broke his leg. Then, Agnes was caught in a medical incident at the hospital she worked in. She was then fired and had been jobless until now.

Quintessential Group, which was the rising star company back then, got into a series of trouble. The management was dissolved and the group almost closed down.

Now that Kaze had returned, he swore to find out the person behind all these so he could bring justice to Darcy and her family. “I got some clues.”

Draco swapped his frivolous manner for a serious look and said, “ When you were enlisted, the Lees from the capital, Sunrise City, got the Hilfingers of Lilyrose to set up a series of traps for Quintessential Group. The company’s partners left one after another, and it caused a major loss.”

Kaze narrowed his fierce eyes. It seemed like Henry Hilfinger and his family were lackeys to the Lee family.

There was no way Kaze would spare them now.

“Many of Quintessential Group's businesses were dissolved and absorbed by other companies. The core business of Hilfinger’s company is built upon the business that they absorbed from Quintessential Group back then.”

Many companies and families teamed up to annex a majori businesses of Quintessential Group.

The Lee family gave the order and the companies in Lilyrose to dismember Quintessential Group piece by piece.

As for Hector’s car crash and Agnes medical incident, both were from years ago and someone sabotaged the details regarding bot incidents. They required more time to investigate.

Kaze believed the Lee family had a huge part in either of the incidents.

“Then we shall use the Lees and the Hilfingers to uproot all the other companies and families who were responsible for dismembering Quintessential Group,” Kaze said with a cold expression.

Hector and Agnes came back from shopping.

Before they went inside the house, they saw a mob of gangsters march into the compound.

They were dragging a security guard of the Skylar View District by the hair. The poor man was beaten up terribly.

The leader of the group was a man in a yellow jacket. He had multiple ear studs on both his ears and there was a cigarette hanging on his mouth. The scar on his face that resembled a centipede looked terrifying. The man was King Kong, Gold Tooth's best hitman.

Chapter 34 Afraid King Kong shouted, "You two! Hold it right there!" Agnes was terrified by the mob of gangsters in front of her house.

King Kong strutted over and bellowed, "Are you two old hags Hector and Agnes Quint living in Horizon Mirror Mansion? You and your family are moving out today!"

"Why must we move out? This is our house!"

Despite her fear, Agnes tried to reason with the man, but the gangsters were not there to reason with her. Slap!

King Kong slapped her in the face and bellowed arrogantly, "I don't care whose house it is. You move when I tell you to!" "What if we refused?"

Kaze and Draco came out of the house when they heard the commotion.

When he saw Agnes covering her face, his eyes turned bloodthi

"Oh? Here's a stubborn one."

King Kong looked at Kaze with a grim look. "Get him! | want ten slaps on his face!"

One of the gangsters went up to Kaze, looking fierce as he raised his hand.

Thump!

Before he could touch Kaze's face, a powerful kick landed on his abdomen and sent him flying.

The thug was around seventy kilos yet he was sent flying like a ragdoll and fell into the lake.

The kick was so powerful that it crippled him for life.

All the gangsters, including King Kong, were shocked by the sudden attack.

They all looked at Draco who stepped in front of Kaze.

They were vicious gangsters who bullied the weak and they had never seen someone as fierce as Draco. "You dare raise your hand at my boss? You must have a death wish."

Draco strode over.

King Kong was afraid. He faltered backward and stammered, "I-| am Gold Tooth's man! Are you not afraid to die?!" "| don't care about Gold Tooth or Silver Tooth!"

Draco grabbed King Kong's arm which was used to slap Agi and snapped it like a twig.

er

King Kong screamed in excruciating pain putting a miserable his face.

Draco did not stop there, he wanted to deliver the killing blow.

"Enough, Draco."

Kaze stopped him. He looked at his in-laws who were petrified with their faces as white as a sheet, and simply said, "Let them go."

Draco tossed King Kong back to his men.

King Kong got up with the help of his men and quickly fled the scene.

Before they left the neighborhood, King Kong turned around and want to die, move out of Horizon Mirror Mansion by today!"

He had no idea that he had just escaped death yet he was still shouting arrogantly. Kaze grunted. He shot a gesture at Draco and said, "Make them swim back."

Samus was punished the same way yesterday and he almost froze into a popsicle when he reached the shore. Draco nodded. He went after King Kong and his men and tossed them all into the lake. "Swim back to the entrance. Whoever comes up midway will have a taste of death."

It was winter and the water was freezing, yet the gangsters had to swim in the lake.

They would suffer from hypothermia even if the water did no them.

The gangsters cried miserably in the water.

"Kaze, who is this?"

Agnes was already hiding behind Kaze when Draco came back the lake.

She was more afraid of Draco, who was tall and merciless, than the gangsters.

"A friend of mine. It's okay now."

Kaze calmed her down and patted her shoulder..

Agnes finally breathed a sigh of relief.

However, when she thought of King Kong's threats, she grew anxious once ayam.

"We're done for! They are Gold Tooth's men! I heard of the man before, he's a vicious gangster here in Lilyrose. Now that they are after our house, we might have to move."

"Mother, this is Skylar View Residential District. No Gold Tooth can cause problems here. Don't worry. No one can make us move."

Chapter 35 An Encounter During Interview

Kaze talked to Hector and Agnes quite a bit to calm them down.

He sent them back into the house to rest after what happened.

When he came back out, Bruno and his men came over in a hurry.

"Mr. Lee. I am so sorry about what happened. It is the security's mistake to let those gangsters in here. It is our responsibility." Bruno bowed and apologized to Kaze.

"The security guards are really useless," Kaze said coldly.

The security personnel were not some old men part-timers; they were hired from professional security companies, yet they were unable to hold back a bunch of gangsters.

"Mr. Lee, they were frightened by the name Gold Tooth. I gave strict order and requested more men to guard the place. If the gangsters return, the security guards will stop them with their candidates.

"Next," Darcy said to her assistant.

A female candidate entered the office. "Good morning, Ms. Quint. I'm Kelly Clarkson... Darcy Quint?!" Kelly was in shock, looking at Darcy behind the desk. Her expression turned pale.

She lost the job as Bruno's assistant the other day and had been looking for another job in the past two days. She accidentally saw Silver Wind Company hiring, so she applied for it immediately.

"Y-You are Silver Wind Company's boss?" Kelly asked with a complicated look on her face.

A few days ago, Kelly was acting superior to Darcy, and now interviewing for Darcy's company. How ironic. "Yes. Kelly Clarkson isn't it? Do you still want to continue with th

Kelly was in the lobby when Darcy came down.

Darcy shook her head. “No, thanks. I’m having lunch at the company cafeteria.”

Kelly showed an unusual eagerness and held Darcy’s arm. “Darcy, are you still mad at me? | have no idea your husband was that capable. | was doing it for your own good. Why don’t | buy you lunch as a token of apology?”

Darcy surrendered to Kelly's shamelessness, so she agreed to have lunch together. A few minutes later, Darcy and Kelly were sitting in an expensive mentioned how she was rejected by multiple companies in the past two days. Her husband was just fired and she had to look for a job to keep her family afloat.

Darcy was a kind person. She believed Kelly did all those things out of desperation and started to feel bad for her.

Little did she know that Kelly was actually trying to lower her defense.

When it was time, Kelly then said, “Darcy, | saw your husband buying furniture at Saika Furniture when | went for an interview at

Chapter 37 Collude

“Kelly, you've really done it. Darcy isn't a drinker, yet you got her drunk.”

Henry looked at Darcy's blushing face and licked his lips pervertedly.

It had been years since he tried to sleep with Darcy, and now with Kelly's help, he was able to make his dream come true. “It wasn't my doing, she finished all the wine on her own.”

Kelly was delighted. “Henry, now that I've helped you get Darcy, don't forget to refer me to a good job.”

“You little wench. As if you don't want to take revenge on Kaze Lee.”

Henry held Kelly by the waist and grinned. “Don't worry. It's just a job. Piece of cake.”

After Darcy's birthday party, Henry got in touch with Kelly, hoping to establish a connection with Sky High Investment Group. However, Kelly was fired and she was no longer a useful pawn to him.

The frequent contact, however, got them together.

Henry knew Kelly used to be Darcy's classmate, so he thought of using her to get to Darcy.

That was why Kelly waited for Darcy in the lobby earlier.

Henry looked at Darcy lustfully. He held the urge to ravage her on the spot and waved his hand. “Take her to a hotel room. Book a room under your name. I'll be there soon.”

He was a cautious man. He told Kelly to do so because if something were to go wrong, he could escape without any evidence pointing to Kelly nodded obediently and carried Darcy away to a nearby hotel.

Darcy's phone was left on the table and it rang.

Henry saw Kaze's name on the caller ID, and he picked it up. He answered it, saying, "Kaze? What is it?" "Henry Hilfinger?"

Kaze's voice turned cold instantly. "Why is my wife with you?"

"You should ask her yourself, but she's not available at the moment," Henry said cheekily.

"Don't worry. | will take care of your wife when I reach the hotel. She is safe with me."

He emphasized the word "safe".

Back at Horizon Mirror, Kaze stomped on the tile.

It cracked and a split was formed across the floor.

He was furious. "Henry Hilfinger, | am warning you. Lay a finger on Darcy and | will send you and your family to hell."

“You? Find me first and we'll talk. Don't be late, or else I'll be done with Darcy. | heard you haven't fucked her since you two got married right? Thank you, Kaze, for giving me your wife's first time.”

Henry then hung up the phone. He did not take Kaze's threats seriously because he knew Kaze could not even find him.

Kaze called Snow immediately, “Contact Johnson Brooks right away and tell him to mobilize the police. | want them to locate Henry Hilfinger's phone right away. Update me when you have any leads.”

Before Snow could reply, he hung up the phone already. 26

“Kaze, what's wrong? Did something happen to Darcy?”

Agnes overheard Kaze and it made her worry.

“Yeah, but I'm on it. Don't worry.”

Before he could explain more, he darted into the garage and drove his SUV out of the house. Meanwhile, at Wonder Square Hotel, room 908.

Darcy woke up.

“Darcy, you're awake.”

She heard Henry's voice once she regained consciousness.

Darcy was frightened. She sat up immediately and looked at the man cautiously.

She checked herself and realized she was still properly dressed. She' felt relieved.

"What are you doing here, Henry?"

Henry answered gently, "Kelly called me here and offered you to me. She wanted to take revenge on Kaze, but I will never take advantage of you. I didn't even touch you the whole time you were asleep. I want you to surrender to me willingly."

Darcy frowned. She saw through Henry's lies immediately but she was alone and dared not make him mad.

Chapter 38 Darcy in Danger "Thank you Henry, but I have to go back to the office."

Darcy got out of bed and wanted to leave, but she was stopped Henry before she could get to the door. He caught her by her arm.

"You reek of alcohol. How can you work like this? Take a shower before you leave." Darcy tried to break free but she was not strong enough.

She knew she could not anger him or else she would be in grave danger.

She nodded. "I'll go take a shower then."

Henry then released her arm.

Darcy took a deep breath to force herself to calm down as she walked to the bathroom.

The bathroom had frosted glass, which prevented a clear view from outside. She locked the door as soon as she went inside. She searched her pockets for her phone but she did not find anything on herself. "What are you looking for? Is it this?"

Henry's voice came from outside the bathroom.

He waved Darcy's phone and grinned.

"Henry, why is my phone with you?"

Darcy's expression turned pale.

"Your darling called you many times. | thought he was worried, so |

sol

thanked me. It seemed like he was okay with you being with me."

Did Kaze really say that?

Darcy's mind was still heavy and there was no time for her to think. about it now. Her phone was confiscated and she had no way to contact anyone.

The only thing she could do was stall and find a chance to escape.

"Henry, please go away. | am taking a shower," she said angrily.

“It's okay. You can shower, I'll just watch. We are going to have sex later, so there is nothing to be embarrassed about,” Henry said, knowing Darcy was stalling.

“I know about Kaze having a sugar mommy. He did not only betray your marriage but also did something so disgusting, so don't be burdened by what we are about to do.”

Henry hit her where it hurt.

Darcy's heart sank and she started crying.

“Darcy, if I were you, I would get back to him using the same method.

Come on, let's have a shower together.”

Henry held the door knob. He tried turning but it did not open.

His expression turned grim. “Open the door!”

Darcy's expression turned ashen. She held the door with her hands.

“Open the door!”

Henry was a short-tempered man and Darcy was grinding his patience away. He lifted his foot and kicked the door.

Kaze arrived at Wonder Square.

He heard Henry mention a hotel, but there were a couple of them around the massive square. Then, he received a call from Snow.

“We have located Ms. Quint. She's in the Wonder Square Hotel.”

The mayor, Johnson Brooks, learned what happened and had given orders to the police chief, Don Braders, to send his officers to the scene. Kaze hung up the phone. He quickly spotted the hotel and dashed into the lobby.

“What are you doing? You must register before you can go up!”

The security guard saw Kaze charging in like a bull and was shocked. He quickly stepped up and blocked Kaze from going up. Kaze grabbed the security guard by the collar and asked, “Did you see a drunk woman being brought in here?”

The security guard tried to break free and said, “No! Even if there was, I’m not telling you! Who the hell are you? Let go of me or I will break you!”

“Piss off!”

Kaze kicked him to the wall, knocking him out.

The receptionist screamed in shock.

Kaze strode over and punched on the table.

“Hand over the booking records!”

The receptionist was shaking when she surrendered the document.

Kaze did not see Darcy's or Henry's name on the list but there was a name that caught his eye.

Kelly Clarkson.

He recognized the name and she just checked into a room here.

Room 908.

Kaze headed to the elevator.

When the elevator door opened, a woman came out.

"Kaze Lee? What are you doing here?!"

Kelly was shocked to see Kaze in the hotel.

"You're here for Darcy? Well too late, she's with Henry and they are having sex right now!"

Chapter 39 I'm Here

"Fuck off!"

Kaze did not have time for Kelly. He slammed her against the wall and strode into the elevator.

Bang!

Henry easily kicked open the frosted glass door.

Darcy was knocked to the wall and got hurt. She winced in pain.

“If you don’t want to shower, then come out with me!”

Henry grabbed her hand and pulled her out.

“Let go of me! This is not right! It’s illegal!”

No matter how hard Darcy struggled, she could not overpower a tall man like Henry and was hauled out of the bathroom. “Illegal? | make the rules around here!”

Henry tossed her onto the bed. He pulled out a strip of blue tablets and took one.

His debaucherous past had taken a toll on his body and he suffered from erectile dysfunction. Finally, he got his hands on his dream prey, so he was prepared for this.

Off went his shirt and he stared at Darcy lustfully.

She was in a disheveled state-afraid, helpless, and in despair. Her pitiful look, however, aroused Henry even more. “I heard you haven’t had sex with Kaze since you two married. Are you

roving your virginity

For some reason, the mention of Kaze lit up an ember of hope in Darcy’s heart. She screamed, “Henry, if Kaze knows about this, he will never let me go!”

“That piece of shit? We’ll see if he’ll even manage to find this place!”

Henry jumped on her. He grabbed her chin and shoved a pill into her mouth. He wanted her to be as sexually aroused as he was.

“Let go of me! Let go...”

Darcy struggled as hard as she could.

Bang!

Suddenly, the door was kicked open.

Henry screamed in shock and quickly got out of the bed.

He turned to look at the entrance and saw Kaze!

Kaze was exuding a hostile and grim aura as if he was a demon from hell. Henry's pupils shrank in fear, feeling scared and angry. He shouted, "How? How did you find this place?" He did not expect Kaze to locate him this soon.

"Kaze, save me..."

Darcy cried when she saw Kaze.

Before she realized it, she had already viewed Kaze as her guardian angel.

His arrival put her at rest.

"It's okay. I'm here now."

Kaze felt hurt when she saw his wife in a disheveled state. He walked over to her and hugged her in his arms. After patting her back to calm her down, he pinched the back of her neck to put her to sleep.

What happened next would be horrible and he did not want Darcy to witness it.

Kaze laid her down on the bed and turned to Henry with a cold look.

His eyes showed no anger but frostiness, a spine-chilling glare.

Henry was terrified.

As Kaze approached him, he screamed, “W-What are you doing? | am Henry Hilfinger! Touch me and you and Darcy will be dead!”

“Killing you is an act of mercy.”

With his strong hand, Kaze caught Henry by the neck.

Henry tried to pry open Kaze’s hand, but Kaze used his other hand to break Henry’s thumb. Crack!

Henry screamed in excruciating pain. His thumb was snapped and that was just the beginning. Kaze broke every finger on his hands as Henry wailed in pain.

Then, Snow arrived followed closely by Don Braders, the chief of police, and his officers. They arrested Kelly and brought her up.

When they saw Henry's miserable state, they were shocked.

Kelly screamed, “Chief Brader, look at that! Kaze Lee is a lunatic! He is torturing Henry!”

“Then should | be arrested?”

Kaze looked at them and kicked Henry on one of his knees.

Crack!

Henry's knee was broken instantly.

Chapter 40 Eunuch

“N-No, you will not be arrested!”

Don bowed immediately and sweated profusely.

Kaze then looked at Kelly.

“You, come over here.”

Kelly was shaking when she noticed Kaze was not afraid of the police chief. She finally knew she was in huge trouble. “Kaze, I am sorry! It was Henry’s fault! He told me to sow discord between you and Darcy, and bring Darcy here.” Snow said coldly, “He demands you to go over there.”

Kelly walked fearfully.

Kaze slapped her and she landed on the bed. He then picked up the pills from Henry and shoved half of them into Kelly’s mouth while the rest of them were forced down Henry’s throat.

“Uh...”

Don and his officers were stunned. They knew what Kaze was trying to do.

With that many pills in their system, Henry and Kelly would suffer tremendously even if it did not kill them. "It's almost time. Call the woman's husband here. After that, send Henry back to the Hilfinger family." Kaze then carried Darcy out of the room and closed the door..

"Chief Brader, | hope | didn't put you guys in a difficult position."

Don shuddered. He nodded and understood what Kaze meant.

Awhile later, loud moans came from the room.

The discontinuous moaning lasted for a long time.

Then, a man holding a knife barged into the room.

He was Kelly's husband.

When he saw the scene inside the room, he was furious. He aimed the knife at Henry's crotch and swung with full strength.

The officers came in and held the man back, saving Henry's life.

Henry might have escaped death but he was crippled and castrated.

Kaze and Darcy returned to Horizon Mirror.

"Kaze, what happened to Darcy? Why didn't you protect her?"

Agnes cried miserably when she saw her daughter unconscious and spotted the injuries on her wrist. Hector said, "Don't jump to conclusions. Kaze went out as soon as he received the call. It's not his fault. Kaze put Darcy on the bed and tucked her in before explaining what happened to his in-laws.

Both Agnes and Hector were relieved after learning the situation, but they were furious as well.

"That bastard! How could Henry do something like this? Did you call the police on him? We must make him pay!" "Don't worry. He already paid a heavy price. This is just the start, | will not spare the Hilfinger family." Kaze's eyes were glinting with killer intent.

Both his in-laws did not take his words seriously. They thought Kaze had called the police on Henry, so they breathed a sigh of relief.

The three of them stayed by Darcy's side.

"Kaze, save me..."

Awhile later, Darcy woke up from a nightmare.

Kaze said, "It's okay, Darcy. I'm here. You are already home."

The nightmare brought her back to the horrible scene with Henry. She dreamt of the monster ripping her clothes off and ravaging her.

When she saw Kaze and her parents, she knew that she was truly safe.

She buried herself in Kaze's arms and cried.

“Kaze, thank you. Thank you.”

“You are my wife, it’s the least I can do,” Kaze said gently as he hugged her tight. Darcy's body froze when she remembered what Kelly said to her earlier.

Kaze noticed her unusual reaction. He asked, “Darcy, what did Kelly say to you?”

Darcy let go of him. There was sorrow on her face when she retold what Kelly said.

In the end, she added, “Kaze, I thank you for saving me and I know you are good to me, but I can’t accept it.”

His in-laws berated him as well.

“You little prick! Have you ever considered Darcy's feelings? You’re a monster yourself! Throw the set of furniture away!”

Agnes even beat him as she cried.

She knew Kaze loved her daughter because he dashed out immediately when he knew something bad happened to Da. However, she could not accept what Kaze did just for a set of furniture.

Asugar mommy? How could a man accept money from a sugar mommy?

Kaze said, “Darcy, don’t you understand? Kelly said all those just to get you drunk and sow discord between us. There’s no sugar mommy or anything.”

He was speechless.

Darcy looked at her parents.

On second thought, no matter how rich the sugar mommy was, there was no way she could be so generous with a sugar baby. Giving the sugar baby thirty million?

If it was that easy, all men on earth would rather be sugar babies instead of working.
