

Guardian 391

Chapter 391 Vista Group

Dave had such thoughts?

“Are you even worthy?”

Kaze’s words pushed Dave over the cliff to the abyss of despair.

“How about I recommend a place for you to go? As for whether you can make it out alive, it depends on how well-connected the top three families are.”

Kaze called Don. Soon, a police siren sounded downstairs.

Kaze handed over the video he had taken of Dave and his men, which recorded the evidence of his crimes. Dave and his men were taken away.

“Watch them. If the top three families got into the police department and silenced them permanently, then we can add another charge on them,” Kaze said to Don.

Don nodded.

Soon, Clover Center’s management was handed over to a company named Vista Management. Vista Management was a department under Vista Group and its chairman was Haste Vista, also a well-known figure in Lilyrose. Haste went to meet Kaze himself and thanked him for what he did.

“Mr. Vista, it’s you. You don’t need to thank me, it’s nothing.”

Kaze waved his hands. He had seen Haste before because the man was one of the companies that invested in Quintessential Group. Of course, he knew who the man was.

“It's nothing to Mr. Lee but it's huge to me. You practically saved my life.”

“Tate Flemming of the Skyline Estates got the support of the top three families and they have been pressuring us. If not for Mr. Lee's assistance, Vista Group would have ended!” Haste expressed his heartfelt gratitude.

He answered Kaze's call to invest in Quintessential Group. Back then, he simply thought of making connections with Kaze so that the man would help him and his company one day.

Now, the little investment he made in the company rewarded him a hundred times.

“The top three families are indeed toxic to the city.”

Kaze shook his head.

The current business world was shaped during Quintessential Group's incident a few years ago.

Two years ago, when Shangrila Group reached its zenith point, the top three families got greedy and teamed up to dissolve James' company.

They got so powerful after that and ultimately grew into the behemoths today.

Skyline Estates was practically the lapdog of the top three families, yet they were still able to monopolize the industry.

It was torture to Vista Group and the other companies.

The companies in Lilyrose had resented the top three families for a long time.

“Just wait patiently. The top three families can jump around for a few more days before they are hunted down like rabbits.”

What Kaze said delighted Haste.

Riley saw everything and she was as shocked as Dave.

As Darcy’s personal assistant, she knew Kaze well. Yet the Kaze. before her eyes defied every expectation she had.

Who exactly was Kaze Lee?

Kaze then shot a glance at her. “Don’t be so reckless anymore. It’s dangerous for you to use a recorder in front of a person like Dave Pamela. No matter what problems Darcy has, just call me.”

Riley blushed before she was drowned in fear. If not for Kaze, she would have fallen to the evil grasp of Dave. “I understand, Mr. Lee,” she said with a nod. If Kaze was this powerful, why did Darcy not call him whenever she had problems?

“Where’s Darcy?”

Kaze asked while Riley was trying to figure out the question in her mind.

She said, "Ms. Quint got a call from Master Quint and went back. They said they wanted to lend her Quintessential Group's building for her office use." "The Quints?" Kaze refused to believe Master Quint was this kind.

When Darcy arrived at Master Quint's place, she double-checked the documents and finally confirmed that Master Quint intended to give her Quintessential Group's building for office use, without any terms and conditions!

Darcy was shocked for quite a while before she finally accepted it.

"Thank you, Grandpa. Thank you, Uncle Rudy..."

Darcy thanked them sincerely.

Quartet Group was blacklisted by Skyline Estates and could not rent an office in Lilyrose.

The Quints offering a helping hand at this particular time was extremely helpful.

"Darcy, you don't need to thank us now. I will lend you the building on one small condition," Master Quint said with a grin.

Chapter 392 Change of Heart "What is it, Grandpa?" Darcy was still carried away by the kindness of her family and did not expect much.

Master Quint sighed and said, "Darcy, we helped you when you are at your lowest because we are family. We all have the same blood flowing in our veins. Am I right?"

"It's great that you view me as a part of the family, Grandpa." Darcy was gratified.

She thought after the incident with the Hansers, Master Quint and her uncle had finally awakened and cherished each other more.

As long as they could reflect on their mistakes and treat her parents better, she would forgive them. As Master Quint said, they were family after all.

Master Quint was delighted with her answer. He added, "Now that you are leading Quartet Group, we are worried about you and we don't want others to laugh at you. That's why I hope you can merge Quartet Group with Quintessential Group."

The other family members looked at Darcy eagerly.

Darcy frowned but she nodded. "It can be arranged but it's going to be a lot of work trying to merge the company's structure, HR, shares, and everything. We'll talk about it later."

She did not reject the idea of merging. The name would change but the people would still be the same.

She could give them the name but she must remain in control of the company and its operation. She did not trust her extended family to run the company.

Besides, many things had happened lately and she did not want to focus on the merger of the two companies for now. Her words became an excuse in the ears of the Quints.

“What is the problem? Darcy, you don’t want to merge the companies? You're afraid that we will be mad at you and we won't lend you Quintessential Group’s building for office use?”

“If you want to just take advantage of us, just say it!” The others questioned her decision.

Darcy explained, “I am just telling the truth. The merger can be discussed at a later date. I must let the employees of Quartet Group move into Quintessential Group's building first, and let them start working. Until then, we can talk about the merger

The short-sighted Quints would never trust her.

“That’s what you think. You just want to get the building for your company and then come up with some excuses to brush us off!” “I think she doesn’t see us as her family!”

“Grandpa, if Darcy doesn’t agree with the merger, don’t lend her the office building!”

The others started to voice their disagreement.

Darcy looked at Master Quint and saw a grim look on her grandfather's face.

“Darcy, you should understand the rule of paying when you get your stuff. When the two companies merge, you can use the building however you like, or else don’t even think about it!”

The fondness Darcy felt for her extended family vanished in an instant. She realized they never trusted her from the beginning. They offered her the office building but on a single condition, which was to merge Quintessential Group and Quartet Group. Given their past records and their prejudices against her, once the two companies merged, they would think of countless ways to usurp her position again.

They were not helping, they were taking advantage of her!

They never woke up from the incident with the Hansers and they never saw her as family.

It was all fake.

“Grandpa, if you don’t trust me, then there’s nothing we can say anymore. I’ll go look for another office building.”

Darcy left without pause.

Her extended family continued to criticize her as she walked away.

“Darcy, stop dreaming! Quartet Group is blacklisted by the Skyline Estates! No one in Lilyrose would rent you their office building!”

“Quartet Group is a joke! It will go bankrupt in days!”

“The company deserves to go bankrupt! Look at her, becoming the chairwoman of the company. If not for her idiot husband getting close to Mr. Queen, she would never become the chairwoman.”

Chapter 393 Zero Rental

Darcy clenched her fists as tears rolled down her cheeks.

She did not turn around or cry loudly

The Quints scolded and cursed her because they wanted to see her fail. She refused to show them her weakest side!

Then, the chairman of Vista Group, Haste, strode into the house.

“Ms. Darcy Quint! Vista Group has taken over the management of Skyline Estates and I am here to tell you that we are renting Clover Center’s office unit to Quartet Group. Please come with me to sign the contract...”

The house that was filled with gloating and criticism was silenced instantly.

They knew Haste Vista. He invested in Quintessential Group before.

The man came all the way here just to offer Darcy a rental contract for the office. Was she that influential? Even Darcy could not believe what she heard.

“Chairman Vista, are you joking with me? Clover Center is being managed by Skyline Estates and Dave Pamela just blacklisted me and my company. All the other property companies refused to rent me their office building.”

Haste smiled at her question. “Dave Pamela was arrested for attempted rape on your assistant, Riley, and the management of Clover Center is transferred to Vista Management.”

Darcy's expression shifted immediately.

It had only been a while since she left Dave’s place and so much had happened.

She called Riley to check on her.

“Ms. Quint! Mr. Lee came and saved me and then he called the police on that bastard! | would jump off the building if he did not come in time...”

Riley cried on the phone.

Darcy breathed a sigh of relief and was glad that Riley was fine.

She took the contract from Haste and checked the details.

When she saw the rental part, her expression shifted once more.

“Chairman Vista, what does this zero mean?”

Was Haste trying to trick her like Dave?

However, as she checked the other terms and conditions, everything seemed fine and there was no wordplay involved.

Haste said, “Ms. Quint, Clover Center is yours, why would | take your rental? Don’t worry, | dared not trick you. | have to thank you. If not for you, Vista Group wouldn't be able to secure that many project management rights.”

Haste was quite baffled as well.

Darcy had a capable husband and could become the queen of Lilyrose if she wanted. Why would Darcy be afraid of him tricking her?

After making sure the contract was safe, she signed her name on it.

She thought because of Riley, Vista Group was able to secure the management of Clover Center. As a token of gratitude, Haste gave her a year off on the rental.

She did not know that Clover Center belonged to her family.

Why would Kaze take rent from his wife on their property?

After Darcy signed the contract and said she would tell her employees to move into the building right away, Haste left.

The Quints reacted bitterly to the situation.

They took advantage of Darcy because she was blacklisted by Skyline Estates, but now Darcy overcame the problem again. The Quints were left with an empty company with no people and money.

Now that they had completely messed up the relationship with Darcy, what would they do in the future?

They started to regret their actions.

“Darcy, congratulations for taking Clover Center! When Quartet Group is back on track, you will achieve even more!”

“We were wrong to say all those things to you. We prayed for you and hope you can do better. Our prayers were answered...”

Chapter 394 Darcy Shows Off With Rudy in the lead, the Quints went up to Darcy, trying to flatter her.
“Hold it right there!”

Darcy stopped them and waved the contract in their faces. “You guys have nothing to do with me renting Clover Center. It’s all because of my husband, Kaze, the one you guys looked down on! He got me this contract!”

She looked at everyone proudly and then left the house without pause. Rudy and the others were stunned on the spot.

“That idiot again? Why is he ruining our plan every time?”

“| wish | could strangle him!”

They vent their anger on Kaze as he ruined their plans.

All of them cursed Kaze without holding back.

Darcy ignored them. She decided to visit Riley to check on her.

Riley was fine and was not terribly traumatized by the attempted rape. Darcy breathed a sigh of relief and promised to compensate her two million.

“Ms. Quint, | made the company lose two million, how can | ask for compensation now? Besides, Mr. Lee saved me...” Riley praised Kaze for his heroic actions.

She talked about how heroic Kaze was when he beat up Dave and how calm he was in the face of a crisis.

She did not tell Darcy that Kaze changed the management of Clover Center and Haste was grateful for his help. She thought Darcy knew all of it already.

“Just take it. It's a little compensation the company has for you. If not for you, we won't be able to get Clover Center as our new office building.”

Darcy then left, leaving Riley stunned and baffled.

It seemed like Darcy did not know Clover Center was Kaze's property.

Darcy returned home with a bright mood. She dragged Kaze to her mother and praised him for what he did. She looked proud of her husband.

When the family learned that Kaze saved Riley from Dave and helped Quartet Group save two million worth of rental, they were all shocked.

Agnes looked at Kaze strangely. She knew it was a counterblow from her daughter for her attempt to separate them the other day.

Darcy wanted her mother to know Kaze was not good for nothing!

“Hmph! He saved two million. So what? It's not like he can save that amount of money every day. He can't get a job and still freeloads in our house.”

Agnes glared at Kaze before she left. “Kaze, just ignore her. She's just being stubborn.”

Darcy held his hands and said, "You did great this time. | went to Riley just now and she's praising you like there's no tomorrow! She became your little fan! | think if not because of me, she would have married you already."

She laughed at her own joke.

People always looked down on Kaze, including the people around Darcy.

Now that another woman admired Kaze and was fond of him, the first feeling she felt was not jealousy but happiness.

It clearly stated that her husband was amazing and not as useless as everyone said. "As long as you are not mad at me," Kaze said with a smile. He was thinking how to make her happy but now it seemed like he did not have to worry about it.

Darcy hummed and said, "Oh, and don't push yourself too hard on finding a job. Just go slow. Maybe the companies will give you a call and ask you to go to work. | have to go back to work now."

Kaze wanted to tell her that he did not need to find a job anymore but Darcy already left. She came back just to praise Kaze in front of her mother.

Kaze smiled helplessly as he watched Darcy hop away like a happy little girl.

He was not in a hurry to explain himself either.

Then, his phone rang.

Kaze picked it up and saw an unregistered number.

“Mr. Kaze Lee? | am the HR of Golden Shield Security Company. We saw your resume and we believe you might be a suitable candidate. Do you have time to come for an interview?”

Chapter 395 Golden Shield Security Company “Interview? | never submitted my resume.” Kaze was confused.

“Did | get the right number? The number stated on the resume is correct. Are you Mr. Kaze Lee? K. A. Z. E. L. E. E?” the woman asked.

The woman was also confused after she got confirmation from Kaze. “Why don’t you give me an address and your number. I’ll come to have a look.”

Since Kaze had some free time to kill, he decided to go have a look. Who helped him in applying for a job? Or was it part of a bigger scheme against him?

After he got the address, he went off.

Beside Golden Shield Security Company was Lefteria Building, which was the headquarters of Lefteria Group. He came here before when he dropped Miru off the other day.

“Are you Mr. Kaze Lee? | am the HR of Golden Shield, Pauline West. You applied for our security guard position, is that right?” Kaze finally saw the woman who called him earlier.

Security guard? Kaze did not discriminate against the occupation but he would not be a security guard.

“Can | have a look at my resume?”

If someone made the effort to prepare a resume for him, maybe he could find clues from there.

Pauline gave Kaze the resume.

At first glance, Kaze already knew it was Darcy. He did not know whether to laugh or cry.

The resume decorated him like a heroic figure.

“Hard-working, high tolerance, and able to work under pressure. Righteous and always help people. Practice martial arts, have a famed teacher, powerful and possess explosive strength...”

It was total nonsense.

It started off reasonably but slowly went out of control.

Kaze was good at fighting, so Darcy described him as a martial artist and was taught by a famed teacher. Darcy did not mind lying just to get him the job.

He found it amusing and was moved by it.

He could already imagine how Darcy came up with all his strengths.

“Mr. Lee, you didn’t write the resume yourself?”

Pauline noticed the strange look and she thought he was unhappy with the job.

“Yeah, my wife wrote it for me. It’s all made up,” Kaze said.

Pauline said, "I understand if you don't want to be a security guard. You are still young and it's going to look bad. But the security guard of Golden Shield is different. If you are not willing to take up the position, we won't force you either..."

"No. I am willing to take up the position. That's why I am here. Can we have the interview now?" Kaze asked.

Darcy wrote the resume for him despite her busy schedule.

She even sent the resume to Golden Shield Security Company without letting him know just because she did not want to hurt his pride.

Kaze did not want to disappoint her.

"Sure, but I won't be in charge of the interview. We have a high requirement for our security guards and you will be tested physically. I will arrange for the interview now."

Pauline wanted to make some calls but then the desk phone rang.

She answered it, nodded a few times, and then put it down. She looked at Kaze in shock. "Mr. Lee, you don't need to go through the interview anymore. You are accepted already."

Kaze was surprised but he did not say anything. He then signed the employment contract and got a set of security uniforms.

"The security guards here are paid twenty thousand per month. Insurance and everything else are covered. We also have meal benefits and allowance."

It was not just different, the pay and benefits were ridiculously good.

Kaze was wondering why the company would pay a security guard so high.

He was then brought into a room and his question was answered.

“Mr. Lee, Golden Shield Security Company is a subsidiary of Lefteria Group. Your job is to take care of Lefteria Group’s security.” Pauline brought Kaze to the building next door and handed him over to the security manager, Lester Rayark.

Lester looked at Kaze with a hint of hostility. “So, you are the one who got in via the backdoor.”

Chapter 396 | Want To Be a Security Manager

Lester was tall and buff. His muscles almost broke the security uniform that he was wearing.

His wide face made him look ferocious as well. He was the perfect candidate to guard the doors of Lefteria Group.

“Manager Rayark, I’m Kaze Lee.”

Despite the hostility, Kaze remained humble. He did not go against the man either.

Since he had to work as a security guard for a while, there was no point in ruining the relationship before it even formed.

Lester was right about him getting the job via the backdoor. He was called to interview and was accepted without even going through the tests.

Before he knew it, he was already a security guard of Lefteria Group, taking a twenty thousand salary per month. It was the exact definition of getting a job via the backdoor!

Darcy must have asked Miru's help to get him this job.

Since his wife went through so much just to get this job for him, he was forced to accept it.

"I don't care who you are. Even if I call you punk, you have to answer me. I am your direct superior and I will decide if you can get paid this month!" Lester said with a loud grunt.

"Come with me!"

The man then brought Kaze out of the office and into a room with a plate named 'Training Room' on the door.

A burst of sweaty testosterone assaulted Kaze's face when the door opened.

The spacious training room was filled with all kinds of gym. equipment.

Adozen naked men were pumping irons and training.

"Go stand over there!"

Lester pointed at a space in the training room.

Kaze went over and stood still.

Lester then said loudly, "For this whole month, your job is to be a punching bag here for the others to train. You are to come when requested and you cannot miss it. You can't be late or go back early. Break one rule and you are fired without pay!"

"Woohoo! Another punching bag!"

The naked men screamed excitedly. Everyone looked at Kaze eagerly. A human punching bag? Or more precisely, someone to take punches and not talk back.

Kaze's expression turned cold. He said heavily, "Manager Rayark, I am here to be a security guard, not a human punching bag." "Woohoo!"

The men got even more excited.

"This little boy here is a stubborn one! He's talking back to Lester! We are in for a show!"

"He has to be sturdy if he wants to be stubborn! I wonder how good he is!"

"No matter how good he is, it's not enough. Lester is a famous expert here in Lefteria Group. He used to be a coach in a martial arts school. His hands could break rocks, let alone kill a man with one slap!"

"I think Lester can slap the shit out of this punk here."

All the men were official security guards of Lefteria Group.

Since they were paid handsomely, they were quite strong themselves.

However, none of them dared to talk back to Lester like Kaze.

They all were taught a lesson by Lester's giant hands and they all obeyed him like his lackeys.

Lester wore a ferocious look in response to Kaze's words. "The security guards of Lefteria Group exist to protect the employees of the company and also the chairman's safety. If you can't take a hit, what can you do for us? You really think we are paying you so high to just stand at doors?

"You can get the position without interviewing but you have to be fit for the job too!"

The other security guards shot Kaze multiple contemptuous gazes when they learned he got the position via the backdoor. "He got the position via the backdoor? He isn't strong enough!"

"Piss off! You are not welcome here!"

The security guards scolded Kaze.

Lester grinned coldly and did not stop his men from bullying Kaze.

Kaze looked at Lester and said, "Manager Rayark, it seems like the fist speaks the loudest in here, including you. | believe you are the manager because you are the strongest?"

"Of course! | am the manager because they all obey me! Those who refuse to obey are forced to obey, by my own hands!"

Lester proudly swung his massive fists in the air.

‘Not bad. | like being straightforward.’

Kaze nodded and then smiled. “Then | think | can become the security manager as well.”

Chapter 397 Swift Move

“What did you say? Say that in my face one more time!”

Lester glared at Kaze ferociously. He thought he heard Kaze wrongly. Kaze looked into his eyes and said, “I said, | want to become the manager of the Security Department!”

Lester’s square face looked grim.

The dozen security guards looked at Kaze as if he was an idiot who forgot to take his medication. Why would he say something so ridiculous in Lester’s face?

All of them were the same as Kaze when they first arrived. They all tried to challenge Lester’s position but they were all defeated and were convinced by the man’s fists.

“This punk doesn’t even look buff and he’s challenging Manager Rayark? The fool is brave.”

“He thinks he can become the manager just because he got in via the backdoor?”

“Manager Rayark, teach this punk a lesson with your fists and throw him out. Embarrass him and make him afraid of us!” The security guards mocked Kaze.

Lester took his jacket off, revealing his black vest.

He cracked his fists and grinned ferociously. As he approached Kaze, he said, “Punk, if you apologize now and become the human punching bag, I'll spare you!”

“Apologize? | thought this place followed the law of the jungle. If the strongest holds the position of a manager, then | should be the manager,” Kaze said.

The security guards laughed at him.

Lester lost his patience completely.

Furious, he charged toward Kazy and threw a punch at him.

“Punk, | will show you what true strength is...

He wanted to slap the shit out of the little punk.

Before he finished, he realized Kaze threw a slap at him.

Lester instinctively raised his arm to block it but he shockingly realized Kaze's slap carried an indomitable force. It felt like a mountain fell on his arm

His arm was pressed down and the slap landed on his face.

Bang!

Lester was sent flying, crashing into one of the punching bags further away.

Bang!

The punching bag burst and sand fell on the floor.

Lester tried to get on his feet but he lost balance and fell on his knee

He looked at Kaze with disbelief.

“You ambushed me?!”

He could not accept defeat and simply blamed Kaze for ambushing him.

The other security guards looked at Kaze in disbelief. They were shocked by the scene as well.

Kaze scanned at the other security guards who tried to sneer at him. | know no one would agree if | want to be the manager. You'd blame me for ambushing you, so why don't all of you come at me together? | don't want to waste time.” The security guards exchanged a baffled look before they agitated.

were

“You're taking us as fools! There are a dozen of us here and one of you. One slap from each of us and you are dead!” “You ambushed Manager Rayark. We didn't even see you slap him!”

“Fuck. Just get him!”

The security guards jumped on Kaze together.

Kaze smiled. He kept one of his hands behind his back and stepped forward to throw a slap at the first security guard. Slap!

The security guard could not even dodge. He felt like an iron whip struck his face and sent him flying.

He could not even feel pain as his whole face was numb.

Kaze shuttled around the security guards and fought with one ha only. He swung his slap like a whip at every security guard who jumped on him.

Slap! Slap! Loud slaps echoed across the training room. Each slap sent a security guard flying away.

The slaps continued and went on for quite a while.

Chapter 398 Convince With Fist

A minute later, no one other than Kaze was standing in the training room.

Kaze held back in his slaps or else all the security guards would suffer heavy injuries. The slaps were punishment for them to look down on him earlier.

“Lester Rayark, do you think I am qualified to be the manager here?”

Lester looked at Kaze blankly.

He refused to accept defeat when Kaze slapped him but after what happened to his men, he believed the slap was the most merciful way of defeating him.

Given Kaze’s strength, he could kill Lester in the blink of an eye.

As he sweated profusely, he bowed repeatedly and said, “Yes! Yes!! will give you the position of manager!” “Huh?”

Kaze looked at him coldly and it frightened him.

He shook his hands and corrected his words, saying, “No, no! I mean you are supposed to be the manager, not me giving it to you!”

Kaze then looked at the other security guards. “What about you guys?”

“We have nothing to say. We are no match for you so you can become the manager.”

“Yeah! You are freaking awesome, of course, you are the manager!”

The security guards quickly expressed their acceptance.

If Kaze was just slightly stronger than them, they might not accep him so easily.

However, Kaze overwhelmed them with his strength and it wiped away their grievance and unwillingness.

It was like a man would be jealous of his colleague for having a few thousand more salary than being jealous of the richest man.

Lester went over to Kaze with an attentive look and said, "Mr. Lee, Brother Lee, sir! Today is your first day but you are already the manager, | wonder what the top brass would say. Should | update the Security Department?"

The man was tall and buffed but he was also a man with quick wits.

He even called Kaze his brother.

"As you wish. | don't mind if it's still on probation. | just want to be the manager here," Kaze said and then he laughed. The situation reminded him of the days when he first joined the military. It was the same.

Back then, Lester's role was played by Draco.

Draco was the strongest in his battalion back then but he was forced to become the second strongest by Kaze's fists.

"Brother Lee! You are our boss now!"

"Brother Lee! How are you this powerful? Your muscles are not obvious but you are ridiculously strong..."

The other security guards came over to Kaze and tried to bond with him.

Lester quickly wrote a report and handed it over to the vice manager of Lefteria Group. 25 RON The vic manager was Leo, who met Kaze once before.

“Kaze Lee? He's a security guard here at Lefteria Group?”

Leo checked Kaze's resume on his computer at his desk. A bitter look appeared on his face. He recalled what happened at Lilyrose Prime Hospital, where Kaze slapped him to his knees.

After that, Leo found out that Kaze saved Sandy from the Queens and the Queens owed him a debt of gratitude. The Queens repaid Kaze by helping Darcy and then cut ties with him.

The idiot was useless, slightly stronger, but still useless.

Leo was furious and he wanted revenge. Now he got the chance.

“He messed with me and he came to my company? | wouldn't let go of this opportunity!”

He grinned viciously before he strode out of his office.

Soon, Leo and a group of men appeared at the Security Department.

“Mr. Lionel, | sent you a report about Kaze taking over the manager's position. Your reply...”

Lester went over to Leo with an attentive look.

Chapter 399 Leo's Revenge

Leo was the chairman's godson, a prestigious person in the company and also someone Lester was trying to flatter. "Where's Kaze Lee? Tell him to meet me and we'll talk about it."

Leo smiled as he took the report from his men.

Soon, Kaze came out.

"Brother Lee, this is Vice Manager Leo Lionel."

Lester introduced Kaze to Leo.

"Leo?" Kaze was surprised.

"I bet you didn't expect me to be your superior," Leo said with a grin.

Then, he shredded the report that Lester sent him into pieces.

Everyone else was surprised and baffled.

Leo then said coldly, "An idiot with a mental disability getting a job here at Lefteria Group? Who recruited you?" Kaze had a mental disability?

Everyone looked at Kaze in shock, including Lester.

Lester stammered, "M-Mr. Lionel, I don't know what happened.

Pauline from HR brought him to us and told me to help him start work."

Pauline, the HR from Golden Shield Security Company, was brought over.

“You are from Golden Shield? Well, you are fired!” Leo said.

Golden Shield Security Company was a subsidiary of Lefteria Group and as the vice manager of the company, Leo had the right to fire anyone he wanted. Pauline was frightened. She teared up and stared into the void blankly. She did not know what happened yet she was fired.

“Leo, you can come at me if you want revenge, why trouble the girl?” Kaze said coldly.

“You? Why must I go after you? Who do you think you are? | am the vice manager of Lefteria Group and you are just a security guard on his first day! You joined Golden Shield via the backdoor, not Lefteria Group. Do you have any idea the difference between us?!”

Leo looked at Kaze with disdain.

Kaze chuckled. “I don’t know the difference between us but | know | slapped you to your knees the other day and you were not as loud as today.”

Everyone cried in shock but quickly zipped their mouths when Leo glared at them. “You are on my turf and you dare to be loud?” Leo glared at Kaze.

He tapped Lefteria Group's HR director's shoulder and then left.

"Fire this idiot! Send out a notice to all subsidiaries and partners to not hire him!" Leo's voice echoed across the lobby.

The HR director was a woman named Ruby Lindsay who was close with Leo. Some even said she had an affair with him.

Ruby looked at Kaze coldly and said to Lester, "Manager Rayark, didn't you hear Mr. Lionel? Get this man out of here."

"Ms. Lindsay, I..."

Lester found himself in a difficult position. He had no scruples to fire Kaze since they just met, but Kaze was too powerful and if he threw Kaze out, he was afraid Kaze would come after him.

If Kaze was fired, he could just walk out himself.

Ruby's expression turned cold. She said fiercely, "This man here offended Mr. Lionel and he wants you to throw him on the street! Literally! Can you understand the simple order?!"

Lester felt more difficult than ever.

He and his men in the Security Department were no match for Kaze, how could they throw him on the street? While the situation reached a stagnant state, a group of people came in from the main entrance.

“Mr. Chairman!”

Respectful voices sounded as everyone bowed.

Alan came in with a blank look until he saw Kaze.

He was surprised. “Mr. Lee? To what do I owe the pleasure of your visit to my company?”

Everyone then looked at Kaze in shock and confusion.

Chapter 400 Can't Handle

“I thought even Mr. Lionel looked down on him. Why would the chairman be so polite to him?”

“Is he some mysterious VIP?!”

Everyone looked at Kaze in shock.

They knew their chairman well. Alan was a notorious underworld lord twenty years ago.

He retired from gang life and turned his company legitimate, yet he remained a man of his word in the city.

Even the mayor would have to be humble before him and call him Mr. Cunningham.

If a man like Alan treated Kaze with such humility and politeness, then Kaze must be someone important. Kaze said, “Mr. Cunningham, I am not here to visit, I am here to work.”

“Mr. Lee, you really know how to make a joke.”

Alan did not believe him at all.

The chairman of Perfect World Group and Shangrila Group working at his Lefteria Group? Who would believe it?

Kaze shot a glance at Ruby. “If you don’t believe me, you can ask your HR director. Before you came in, she wanted to fire me and ask the security guards to throw me out on the street just to embarrass me.”

Ruby shuddered in fear and her face turned pale.

“I am so sorry, Mr. Lee! | was wrong! | was blind! | shouldn't have +25 BC looked down on you!” She bowed and apologized to Kaze repeatedly “Really?”

Alan glanced at Ruby and said, “Mr. Lee, don’t worry. | will give you a satisfactory explanation later. Why don’t you come to my office and we can have some tea?”

Ruby fell into despair when she heard the chairman.

She was an executive of the company yet the chairman ignored her completely because of Kaze. In other words, Kaze was an important person to Alan.

She could already foresee her terrible future.

“Sure.” Kaze nodded.

“This way please.”

Before Alan left, he looked at the others and said, "Zip your mouths. Do not spill a word of what happened just now." He knew Kaze used the alias of Jesse White to deter the top three families.

To the top three families, Kaze was still the retard son-in-law of the Quints.

He ought to play along with Kaze's plans and told his men to not leak a word about what happened. He would not want the world to suspect Kaze's real identity. Alan was a man of his word. Everyone took his warning to heart.

They reached Alan's office and Alan started making tea.

"Mr. Lee, are you joking with me? Why are you working here at my company? My humble company seems too modest for someone of your rank," Alan said with a bitter smile.

He even suspected Kaze came to Lefteria Group with ulterior motives, yet considering Kaze's identity, he did not need to infiltrate the company to achieve what he wanted.

"Have me or not, | have to start working here at the company."

Kaze then told Alan about how Darcy asked Miru to arrange for a position for him at Golden Shield Security Company. “I didn’t tell Miru about your identity and I thought she knew,” Alan said as he laughed.

Kaze did not want to talk about the self-righteous woman and switched the topic.

“Mr. Cunningham, please do me a favor. Just let me work here.”

Alan nodded and agreed. “Why don’t I make you vice manager, nominally of course. You don’t need to do anything at all. You are Darcy’s husband and the position of security manager is a little inappropriate for your status.”