Chapter 41 Who Is That Woman

Darcy apologized because she misunderstood Kaze, but she was still jealous. Why did Kaze not bring her to choose the furniture but another woman? “Kaze, the woman who came to our house last night, who was she?”

“She’s Snow Frost, assistant to the Chairman of Perfect World Group, Mr. Ray Forrester. He assigned her to bring me to browse the furniture,” he explained.

He was happy that Darcy was jealous because it meant that she cared about him.

Darcy and her parents were relieved knowing that it was Snow as they had met Snow before and she was indeed Mr. Forrester’s assistant.

Darcy held Kaze’s hand and said, “I’m sorry, Kaze. It’s my fault, I should have trusted you.”

She felt bad and afraid at the same time. It was because of her distrust of Kaze that Kelly took advantage of her and she almost got raped by Henry.

Kaze looked at her and said seriously, “It’s over now. You should really have more faith in me. We are husband and wife. Anyone can hurt you but not me.”

He did not want something similar to happen again in the future.

Darcy noticed his rare serious tone, it was for her own good, so she nodded.

She felt smitten.

Kaze then went to make some food for Darcy. She and Kelly only drank wine in the restaurant and barely ate anything. "Finally, that bastard Henry Hilfinger finally got what he deserved!"

While Darcy was eating her noodles, Hector tapped his wheelchair's handle and laughed.

Agnes asked him what happened.

"The headline on the local newspaper said that a man named Henry Hilfinger and a woman named Kelly Clarkson were having a steamy session in the hotel room but the woman's husband caught them in the act and castrated the bastard!"

Henry and Kelly were in a miserable state with him turning into a eunuch and Kelly was finished as well.

Inside the VIP ward of Lilyrose Prime Hospital, Roger Hilfinger saw Henry, who was unconscious on the hospital bed, as he was being wheeled into the operation room.

He suppressed his anger and asked, "Doctor, how is my son? Can he get his manhood back?"

Henry was the only son of the family, and if he lost his manhood, it would mean that the Hilfinger family lineage was over. "I'm sorry, Mr. Hilfinger. It's difficult. We can't find his penis, so the odds are near to zero..."

The shocking fact put Roger in a dizzy state all of a sudden. He lost his balance and his men helped him up.

He covered his forehead and asked, "What happened?"

"Young Master Hilfinger brought Darcy Quint to the hotel and..."

The Hilfinger family had connections in the police force, so his men.

His men informed him of what happened and it was close to the truth.

“Boss, based on what we got, before the tragedy happened chief, Don Braders, was already at the hotel, but they did young master or prevent the tragedy from happening.”

“And we found out that it was the mayor, Johnson Brooks, who sent the police chief there.”

Bang!

Roger punched the wall. He clenched his teeth and said, “So, you are saying that even the mayor takes the punk’s side?” He was aggrieved. He wanted to castrate Kaze as well as Darcy to be raped multiple times.

However, not only the richest man, Ray Forrester, sided with Kaze, even the mayor, Johnson Brooks was his ally.

How did the punk get this much powerful support?

Roger felt helpless. If he could not avenge openly, then he could do it secretly.

He immediately rang up Gold Tooth and the call got through soon after.

Aman in his forties, Gold Tooth was rotating two chrome steel balls in his hand.

When he opened his mouth, his golden front tooth granted him an intimidating look.

“You want me to deal with Kaze Lee?”

Gold Tooth was surprised by Roger’s request.

“My men just had a confrontation with the punk this morning and let

The con you, 110 3 folum cosy turyst

Gold Tooth told Roger how King Kong and his men were thrown out of Skylar District.

“I’ll pay! Just name the price. As long as I can see Kaze Lee dead, I won’t mind giving my fortune away.” Roger was caught in vengeance. The name Kaze Lee haunted him like a nightmare and he must get rid of it. Gold Tooth’s eyes gleamed. Money made the world go round.

He called his men along and marched to Horizon Mirror with an indomitable aura.

Chapter 42 Arrogant Gold Tooth

Meanwhile, at Horizon Mirror, Agnes was still worried and she told Darcy about King Kong and his men threatening them to move out earlier in the day.

“Darcy, those men said they would come back in the afternoon. I think we should move out.” Even a housewife like Agnes had heard of the notorious Gold Tooth.

“Mom, if they come back, we’ll just call the police. I believe they aren’t above the law.”

The Horizon Mirror was their home, why should they move?

“Sigh. If only calling the police works.” Agnes remained nervous. “It’s not going to be easy dealing with those crooks. Haven’t you read the news about the terrible things they did?”

“They won't lay a finger on you, they won't kill you or burn your house but they will consistently harass you, making your life a living nightmare. Even if the police come, they won't be arrested.”

Darcy started to feel nervous as well.

She looked at Kaze and said, “Kaze, other than violence, is there another way to get rid of the gangsters? This is our home, I don't want to move.”

Kaze was happy that Darcy asked him for his opinion.

“Of course there is. Don't worry, Darcy, we won't move out of this house.”

“Really?”

Darcy was doubtful when she heard Kaze's quick answer.

Then, the family heard clamors outside the house.

“Darcy! Hide! Those gangsters are here, and there are a lot

Agnes' panicked cry came from outside the house.

There were more than a hundred men in the mob of gangsters, an with knives and baseball bats, marching into the mansion. Agnes was terrified when she saw King Kong and a dozen of his men earlier in the day. However, Draco was there to help them in the morning. He was so strong that he got rid of the gangsters by kicking them into the lake.

Without him, they would not be able to get rid of the hoodlums.

Unfortunately, he was long gone and Agnes was alone with her family.

“Old woman! | thought | told you people to move? Why are you and your family still here?” King Kong roared as he emerged from the mob of gangsters.

His arm that Draco broke earlier was in a cast, so he raised his other hand and was about to slap Agnes.

“If you slap her, your neck will break next instead of your arm.”

It was then Kaze came out from the house.

King Kong was frightened and immediately retracted his hand.

He cautiously stared behind Kaze but he did not spot the man in glasses. He instantly felt relieved.
“Darcy, bring Mother inside.”

Kaze ignored King Kong and told Darcy to help Agnes, who was mortified, into the house.

“You be careful. Don’t do anything crazy. If things can’t work out, we’ll just move.”

Darcy whispered into his ear before she brought her mother i house.

“Oh ho? Big words from a punk. You dare threaten my man in front of me?”

A frosty voice came from behind the hoodlums as they split into two sides to make way for their boss. Gold Tooth came forward with the pair of chrome steel balls in his hand.

“Kaze Lee, am | right? King Kong asked you and your family to move. Why are you still here?”

The moment he opened his mouth, his sparkling gold tooth shone brightly.

His expression turned grim as he said, “Should | tell my men to level your house to the ground, break your legs, and throw you away?”

Kaze did not say a word. He pulled his phone out. “Where are the Tiger Fangs? | want them here in Horizon Mirror now!” Gold Tooth was frightened when he heard the term. He looked at Kaze doubifully.

Chapter 43 The Tiger Fangs

Tiger Fangs Militia was a famous military group in Lilyrose City.

The Commander of the Tiger Fangs was Shin Scarlet, a man who had the same level of influence and authority as the mayor. One phone call and Kaze could summon the Tiger Fangs to his aid?

King Kong said, "Master Gold Tooth, this punk is just bluffing. The punk from earlier is a little better at fighting but now this punk is alone. Nobody's around him now and I don't think he can summon the Tiger Fangs to his aid."

Gold Tooth's pounding heart calmed down. He teased, "Punk, trying to bluff me? Fine, I'll see who will come to save you. I'll give you ten minutes. Once the time is up, you either move out, or I make you after I break your legs."

"No need for ten minutes. They are already here," Kaze said.

Gold Tooth confirmed that Kaze was simply bluffing. He cackled, "What? You think they flew here?" As soon as his words subsided, the loud noise of a propeller resounded in the sky.

Everyone looked up and saw several attack helicopters approaching.

One of the gangsters ran up to Gold Tooth with a pale face. "Master Gold Tooth, our brothers from outside the residential district said they saw armored cars belonging to the Tiger Fangs coming our way!"

Gold Tooth was a cautious man or else he would not live for so long after all the crimes he had committed.

He left men outside to keep watch and inform him as soon as the side happened

"He actually called the Tiger Fangs?!"

Gold Tooth looked at Kaze but Kaze did not say a word.

He clenched his teeth and bellowed, "Let's go!"

He was about to lead his men out of the residential district when Kaze scoffed coldly with his hands behind his back.

Skylar View District was not a place where Gold Tooth could come and go as he pleased, especially after he threatened Kaze and his family.

Ropes were hurled from the attack helicopters and armed soldiers swiftly slid down from the ropes.

Gold Tooth and his men ran but the armored cars had arrived. These war machines could crush the street gangsters with ease. "Master Gold Tooth, should we swim back to the entrance? We were forced to swim back earlier!"

Gold Tooth looked at the lake after hearing King Kong's suggestion.

It was winter and his body could never survive the icy temperature.

"There's no time to hesitate, Master Gold Tooth, we won't make it if we don't go now!"

King Kong grew nervous.

Gold Tooth clenched his teeth and led his men to the lake.

Splash!

It was then a camouflage tactical speed boat appeared on the lake, carrying soldiers armed with loaded guns. Soldiers were in the air, on land, and in the water, blocking every

Gold Tooth was devastated. He and a hundred of his men immediately squatted and placed their hands over their heads.

They stared at the legendary Tiger Fangs in fear and awe.

Soon, they saw the man himself, the Commander of the Tiger Fangs, Shin Scarlet.

Shin strode up to Kaze and saluted him. He looked at Kaze with respect and excitement.

“Commander of the Tiger Fangs Militia, Shin Scarlet, reporting for duty!”

The guardian of Lilyrose City and the God of War, Kaze Lee, was his idol.

Gold Tooth’s mind was blown away when he saw Shin saluting at Kaze.

He looked at Kaze in horror and his body started to tremble. Who the hell was Kaze Lee?

Why would the Commander of the Tiger Fangs salute him?

Darcy had come back out after settling her terrified mother. She was just in time to see the grand and jaw-dropping scene, sharing the same question as Gold Tooth.

She walked up to Kaze and asked softly, "Kaze, you called all these soldiers here?"

Kaze nodded.

Darcy widened her eyes in disbelief. Her mind went blank.

Kaze could summon the Tiger Fangs to his aid?

Who exactly was her husband?

Chapter 44 Gold Tooth's Afraid

Kaze returned the salute and said, "Bring those men back."

Shin shot a gesture at his men.

Gold Tooth and his men were apprehended and brought back from the lake to Kaze.

Thump!

Gold Tooth knelt in front of Kaze. His men were terrified by the astonishing scene and when they saw their boss on his knees, they lowered their heads too. Their bodies were shaking ceaselessly.

Shin glared at the bunch of gangsters with disgust. He grunted and said, "Audacious bunch of bastards, I see. How dare you cause trouble at Chief Commander Lang's place? With that many restricted weapons, what are you people trying to do? Assassinate Chief Commander Lang?"

Before Shin arrived at the scene, Draco informed him to never Kaze's identity, or else the city would be in peril.

reveal

Shin took Draco's advice to heart and made no mention of the God of War.

The bunch of gangsters were already trembling in fear,

Gold Tooth looked up with a horrified look and said, "Commander Scarlet, we know Chief Commander Lang lives here, but this is not his house. This is Kaze Lee's house. What does he have to do with the chief commander?"

For the sake of his own life, he had to muster the courage and reason with Shin, or else he would die ten times over with the charges against him.

Shin pointed behind the man and said, "The residential area behind you all is the chief commander's place, so the entire Skylar View District is categorized as a restricted area from today onward. The Tiger Fangs are now taking over the security operation here.

"You and your men came into the restricted area, armed with weapons, and have already broken the law." Thump! Gold Tooth collapsed to the ground. His men were terrified as they prostrated and shivered ceaselessly

They were probably abandoned by Lady Luck; ordered to evacuate Kaze from the house but they just had to trespass into a restricted area which happened to be the chief commander's house.

“Commander Scarlet! This is a misunderstanding! I dared not cause any problem for Chief Commander Lang even if I have the balls!”

Gold Tooth prostrated like his men.

“So you guys come to my house to cause problems?” Kaze said coldly. “Take aim!” Shin bellowed.

He hated criminals and crooks who disrupt the harmony in society. People like Gold Tooth and his men were criminals and even if Shin were to shoot them all, there might still be more of them. Besides, they were audacious enough to force Kaze to move out of his house.

They were not to be forgiven!

The Tiger Fangs loaded their guns and aimed Gold Tooth and his men. “Don't kill me! Don't kill me!”

Gold Tooth and his men continued prostrating on the ground and cried as loud as they could.

“Kaze, can you tell Commander Scarlet to stop? It scares me.”

Darcy's face turned pale as she turned Kaze's arm. She sounded afraid.

Kaze never planned for a bloodbath in front of his house either. It would only make a mess and tarnish the beautiful scenery. “Tell them to stand down.”

Shin then waved at his men and bellowed, “You heard the man, stand down!”

The soldiers put their guns away and the hooligans were finally freed from the intense pressure that could kill them. They felt like they had just escaped death.

Gold Tooth knew it was Kaze who saved him from going to hell.

He kowtowed repeatedly at Kaze.

“Thank you Master Lee for sparing my life! Thank you, Master Lee!”

Kaze said, “Your life is spared but you are still going to be punished. You said you wanted to level my house to the ground?”

Chapter 45 Confiscated “Master Lee, it was only but a joke! A joke!” Gold Tooth was flustered and nervous.

Kaze did not want to waste time on him. He said, “If you want to destroy someone’s house, then you should be prepared for your own house to be destroyed. Surrender all your assets, and count them properly before handing them to the Tiger Fangs.”

Shin was surprised by the suggestion. He said, “S-Sir, this isn’t appropriate...”

“There’s nothing wrong with this, it’s dirty money anyway. Just confiscate them. If someone holds you responsible, tell them to come to me,” Kaze said indubitably as he waved at Shin.

Shin dared not defy the order. He knew the God of War returned from a foreign, lawless land whereas, no one is above the law in this city.

Gold Tooth was horrified. He had been accumulating his wealth for twenty years and he was going to lose them all just because of a word from Kaze.

However, he dared not defy Kaze either.

Being able to survive the guns of the Tiger Fangs was already merciful.

“I’ll calculate all my wealth and surrender them to the Tiger Fangs,” he said obediently.

Kaze nodded. He then asked, “Who ordered you to force me out of my house?”

“Master Lee, it’s Sarnus of the Quint family. He contacted me and can take the 10 book by Luny,

Gold Tooth dared not keep any more secrets as well, so he a Master Lee, it's actually Roger Hilfinger. He’s trying to avenge his son.”

“Will you still serve him if I release you?” Kaze asked.

Gold Tooth trembled. “No! I will never listen to that man anymore!”

Even though he did not know Kaze’s real identity and the Tiger Fangs coming here on a phone call because the residential district had been restricted, he saw how Shin saluted and respected Kaze. There was no way he would defy or offend Kaze anymore.

“Piss off.” Kaze waved. Gold Tooth and his men immediately got up and fled the scene.

After they left, Shin called most of the Tiger Fangs back except for a small group, who would be stationed at Skylar View District as security guards to maintain order.

Darcy breathed a sigh of relief.

She glared at Kaze and said, “Kaze you knew this place has been a restricted area because of Chief Commander Lang, why didn’t you tell us? We were so worried and Mom was scared out of her mind.”

Despite her grumbles, she was still happy about the outcome.

Her family did not need to move and no one would disturb them anymore.

Darcy went in to inform her parents.

They were thrilled to learn the news.

Agnes exclaimed, “Chief Commander Lang is our guardian angel! Find u way una sonu am yine UVCI.

“It's okay. It's his duty to protect the people,” Kaze said.

“Kaze, you should learn to be grateful. How can you say it’s the ch commander’s duty? Better not let others know you said that.” Agnes softly punched Kaze as he smiled helplessly and simply nodded.

At the same time at the Quint family’s mansion, Rudy and his family were with Master Quint.

Samus just received a call from King Kong, saying that he was on his way to the mansion.

Everyone assumed King Kong had settled the dispute with Darcy and her family and they were celebrating “Haha! | knew it. King Kong will get it done. Now Darcy and her parents must move out. Grandfather, the five million is well spent,” Samus said happily.

This little achievement boosted his status in front of his grandfather.

“Worth it, it’s worth every penny. | have ordered the servants to pack our things. When they move out, we’ll move in,” Master Quint said as he happily stroked his beard.

Beside the table were bags and boxes, with some belonging to Master Quint and some to Rudy and his family. “King Kong is here, I’ll go bring him in!”

Samus raised his phone with a little wave before he ran out happily..

However, he came back in after a few moments looking disheartened and aggrieved with bloodshot eyes.

His cheeks were red and footprints were all over his body.

He was beaten up badly!

Behind him was King Kong, seizing him by his arm from the back, followed by a bunch of vicious-looking gangsters.

The Quint family had a feeling that things went wrong. This was certainly not what they had expected.

Chapter 46 Twenty Million Compensation Rudy carefully asked, "You must be King Kong. What did my wrong that you had to beat him up?" King Kong glared at everyone in the house and grunted coldly.

"It seems like you people are trying to get me killed! You want me to take back Kaze Lee's house while Skylar View District has been listed as a restricted area because of Chief Commander Lang.

"When we went there, Kaze called the Tiger Fangs Militia on us and we almost died there!" "What? Is Skylar View District a restricted area? We had no idea!"

Master Quint and the others were shocked.

"So you're saying that I'm lying? Look at this, I broke my arm at Horizon Mirror!"

King Kong then shouted, "I want twenty million as compensation!"

One broken arm for twenty million?

He might as well rob the bank!

"King Kong, we have already paid you five million and you promised to get the house! Now you've failed to take the house so you should. give us back the money! How dare you ask us for compensation?"

Master Quint bellowed, "This is blackmail! You really think us Quints are harmless sheeps you can take advantage of?" King Kong then pointed at Deborah. "Get Samus and that woman!"

His men then lunged forward to seize both of them.

“Money or your family, you choose.”

King Kong looked fierce and serious as he continued, “If you don’t want to pay, then I’ll make a gigolo and a prostitute out of them. Th will have to work until they earn twenty million before | release the

Deborah and Samus were horrified. They turned to their grandfather and started crying. “Grandfather, pay them! | don’t want to be a prostitute!” “Grandfather, | don’t want to sleep with old women and gay men! I’d rather die!”

Even Rudy and his wife started to beg. There was no way Master Quint would let his grandchildren be gigolos and prostitutes. It would ruin the family name for good.

However, the family only had ten million left in their bank. Where could they get the remaining ten? With no options on the table, Master Quint transferred their last ten million to King Kong from their family bank account.

“| said twenty million! Why only ten? I’m not a fucking beggar!” King Kong bellowed with a frown. He looked feral as if he could swallow them alive.

Master Quint was frightened and he almost lost his balance. He trembled and said, “King Kong, we will think of a way to gather the rest of the money for you. Can you come back tomorrow morning...”

King Kong nodded happily with Master Quint’s assurance and brought his men away.

The entire family was in a bitter mood.

Deborah suggested, "Grandfather, why don't we make that bitch pay? They bought thirty million worth of furniture and they got the pre-sale certificate. Ten million is nothing to them."

Deborah was actually jealous of Darcy doing well.

Samus nodded in agreement. "Darcy has been wanting to return to Quintessential Group. We can just offer her a position and she'll pay!"

Master Quint stayed silent. His face remained grim.

He was the master of the house and had absolute authority, yet he might have to beg his own granddaughter and share his authority. He was aggrieved, but it could not help the situation.

Only Darcy could save them now.

He called Darcy and said feebly, "Darcy, can you come back to the mansion tomorrow? I'll make an announcement for you to return to Quintessential Group, but you will have to provide us with ten million."

GET IT NOW

Chapter 47 Why Is the Money With Darcy?

Meanwhile at Horizon Mirror, Darcy was stunned when she received her grandfather's call.

However, she did not have the ten million to offer, nor did she know to accept or reject the offer.

After the phone call, she talked to Kaze about this.

The next morning, the two of them arrived at the meeting room in Quintessential Group Headquarters. Master Quint and the other executives of the company, plus Rudy's family, were there.

"Let us begin. I hereby announce that Darcy will be appointed COO of Quintessential Group, with full authority to run the company's operations."

For the sake of ten million, Master Quint directly made Darcy the COO, which proved that he was ready to go all out with this bet. Fortunately, many including Rudy and family breathed a sigh of relief when he did not make Darcy the CEO.

If the strict and honest Darcy became the CEO, the vermins in the company would be exterminated.

It seemed Master Quint was cautious against Darcy and not handing her the key to the company just yet.

Darcy was calm and barely reacted to the appointment.

She had seen through it all and the titles were nothing but empty names. As long as Master Quint felt like it, he could easily take her title away and fire her once more,

Only by acquiring total control of Quintessential Group that she could have the power to bring the wind of change to the company.

Darcy retrieved the bank card that Kaze gave her yesterday.

"Grandfather, this is the ten million you requested."

The moment Master Quint got the card, the meeting room door was kicked open.

King Kong and his men barged in, which frightened Master Quint, Rudy, and his family. They thought of the insulting scene from yesterday.

“Old Master Quint, where is my ten million compensation? Give it now!”

King Kong grinned and continued, “Or I will raze this place to the ground!”

Master Quint was furious and helpless. His hands were shaking as he surrendered the bank card. Ten million left his hands just like that.

To everyone’s surprise, King Kong then handed the bank card back to Darcy.

“Ms. Quint, this is the compensation for our disturbance yesterday.”

She knew King Kong returned her the money because he and his gang were taught a lesson by Chief Commander Lang and the Tiger Fangs yesterday.

She called the finance manager of Quintessential Group and handed him the bank card.

“Transfer this money to the Passion Fragrance District project.

Without my permission and signature, no one can withdraw a single ponry, unucitantu

“You can’t transfer the money into that account! | need to use it!” Master Quint got up and argued.

“Grandfather, you can have whatever you want, but why do you ev need that much money?”

Darcy was angry. She did that for the company’s good, but her grandfather was being narrow-sighted. The company was having difficulty in cash flow yet he still desired the money for personal use.

Master Quint argued strongly, “This money belongs to our family, not the company. If not for you guys, King Kong wouldn't have extorted the money from us! Why are you parking the money in the company’s account?”

“Grandfather is right. You broke King Kong’s arm and asked him to extort us. Otherwise we wouldn't even need to pay that much.”

“The money has always been regarded as compensation to Ms Quint. Who dares to take it from her?!”

King Kong stepped up and glared at Master Quint and the others.

Master Quint was aggrieved but he dared not voice out against the gangster. He simply glared at his granddaughter. Darcy sighed. The man was her grandfather after all.

She said, “Grandfather, the money is exclusively for Passion Fragrance District project fund. | won’t spend a penny of it.” “Hmph! Whatever! | don’t care anymore.”

Master Quint stomped his walking stick to conceal his helplessness.

The granddaughter whom he had controlled all her life had broken away from his grasp.

Since when did this start?

It started the day Kaze came back to the Quint family.

Master Quint resented him.

Darcy knew her grandfather was not satisfied with her. She felt helpless but chose to remain silent.

Then, Samus came over and said fiercely, "Darcy, don't you dare think you can make all the decisions in the company just because you have opposition now. Don't forget that the company's executives are all my father's men, who he had handpicked and promoted himself."

"Yeah. Besides, the person in charge of Passion Fragrance District project Randal Song, is a man with a short temper. Be careful or else he'll ruin your pretty face," Deborah said with a grin.

Passion Fragrance District used to be a project by Quintessential Group but it ended up in Darcy's hands because it had been losing money.

Kaze said coldly, "don't mind ruining your pretty face first, Deborah."

Deborah covered her face immediately. "I'm just offering a piece of advice! You ungrateful bastard!"

The Quint family then left the meeting room.

"Don't bother with them," Darcy said coldly.

All she wanted was to go home with Kaze to have lunch and inform her parents about the good news.

“Kaze, can you get the car from the parking lot? I'll wait for you at the entrance.” Darcy said as they went to the meeting room.

She wanted to grab some documents from her office as she would like to go for a site visit directly after lunch.

t

Kaze nodded and headed to the parking lot while Darcy grabbed the required documents and made her way downstairs.

While waiting at the main entrance, a limousine rolled over with several trucks.

A bunch of workers unloaded boxes of fresh roses from the trucks and arranged them into a heart shape.

It was facing Darcy!

“Woah! 99,999 roses! Who's the rich guy confessing? This is so grand and romantic!”

While the passersby were in awe, the limousine stopped in front of Darcy.

The door opened and a man in a handsome suit with neatly combed hair came out.

“Ren Joestar?”

Darcy frowned. The man was the young master of a first-tier family, the Joestars. She saw him once during her birthday party.

Ren walked up to Darcy and stared into her eyes affectionately. “Ms. Quint, I’ve been in love with you since the day I saw you at your birthday party. I was attracted by your aura.

“I think of you everywhere. I can see you even when I close my eyes. I think I am deeply in love with you.” The crowd surrounding Darcy screamed in excitement.

99,999 stalks of roses, a motorcade of expensive cars, and a romantic scene for a confession-awe-inspiring.

Being on the center stage, everyone was jealous of Darcy.

Darcy blushed. Ren saw the expression shift on her face and was thrilled.

He came to Quintessential Group with such a splendid motorcade and a romantic setting because he wanted to surprise Darcy in hopes of winning her heart.

However, he was ahead of himself. Darcy was not blushing, but feeling embarrassed. She did not like being watched as if she was a monkey in a circus. If not for Ren’s background, which she could not afford to offend, she would have walked away.

“I’m sorry, Mr. Joestar, I’m married. I can’t accept all this. Please take your roses away. This is a business district, where people work,” Darcy said calmly and politely.

Ren did not expect Darcy to be so forthright with her rejection. His expression turned grim.

“Ms. Quint, everyone in Lilyrose knows that your husband is just a retard who has just recovered. He won’t give you a happy life and you will only be a laughing stock.

“As for me, I’m different. The Joestars are a first-tier family. If you come with me, we can offer you a lot of help.”

Chapter 49 Give an Expensive Car

Darcy looked disheartened when she heard Ren badmouthing Ren then pointed at the roses behind him and said, “Look at the 99,999 roses, I prepared them for you! If you look closely, you can even see your name.”

Darcy got a closer look and actually saw her name in the color gradient on the petals. The workers must have arranged it without her knowing but she was not impressed at all.

Ren’s method would work if he was trying to make some little girls happy. “Thank you for your kindness, Mr. Joestar, but I can’t accept them. Please leave.”

Darcy shook her head and looked even more disheartened.

“Say yes! Say yes! Say yes!”

“Be together! Be together! Be together!”

The crowd started cheering. They saw Darcy blushing and shaking her head, so they thought she was too shy to accept the confession, so they began the chant.

Ren used the opportunity and said, “Ms. Quint, look. They want you to say yes. Why don’t you say yes first, otherwise it might look shameful on me.”

If Darcy agreed to play along and hugged him, he could make the headlines tomorrow and everyone in the city would know. If Kaze did not want to be the stupid husband whose wife was taken away, he would have to divorce Darcy.

Darcy got nervous. She did not want to play along but she could not afford to make him mad either.

She believed Kaze had a way around this.

'Kaze, where the hell are you? What's taking you so long to drive t car over?' Darcy was grumbling inwardly.

Then, a white Audi A4 dashed out from the basement parking lot and roared its way to the entrance.

The spinning wheels ran over the roses on the ground mercilessly.

Countless roses were destroyed by the tires.

Some even flew away and hit the nosy crowd, which caused them to complain loudly.

Gid

The car did not stop. After a beautiful drift, it turned around and ran over the roses again.

The love-shaped roses were squashed and turned into an X shape. It looked scary.

The driver seemed to be expressing his disagreement.

"Who the hell is that? How dare you ruin my confession!?"

Ren was fuming, his expression was furious. As the crowd continued to curse the driver, the car reversed. The door opened and Kaze came out of it, looking angry as well.

“Which idiot put all the roses here at the entrance? It’s an obstruction to traffic.”

Ren was speechless. He, as the young master of the Joestar family, was called an idiot.

Darcy could not help but laugh at Kaze’s little prank.

and held her hand.

“Darcy, come on.”

“Wait!”

Ren stopped the two of them.

He then walked to his white limousine and opened the door. He gestured at Darcy as an invitation to get in the car. “Ms. Quint, you are now the COO of Quintessential Group. That Audi A4 doesn’t match your status.”

He retracted his contemptuous gaze from the Audi and pointed at his own car, “This Maserati Quattroporte is the second gift | prepared for you!”

The crowd cheered once more when they heard Ren.

If the roses were appetizers, then the lavish car was the main course of the confession. Ren looked at Darcy eagerly. He believed she would not reject his second gift.

To his surprise, Darcy's expression turned grim.

Chapter 50 Your Car Is Not Safe Enough

Darcy bought the Audi A4 with her own money she earned from starting a company. It was her family's only car during the fina crisis.

It was her family's blood and sweat yet Ren made it sound like trash, which was an insult to her effort. She walked to the Audi A4 without saying a word.

Ren was confused. "Ms. Quint! What is better in that Audi A4 than my car?"

Kaze was annoyed by the buzzing bug. He let go of Darcy's hand and walked up to Ren.

"Do you know why Darcy doesn't like your car? It's because it's not safe enough!"

Ren was stunned before he laughed loudly as if he heard the funniest joke.

"Do you even know anything about cars? You are saying that my car worth two million is not as safe as your thirty thousand dollar car..."

Kabaam!

Aloud thump stopped Ren's sneers.

Kaze punched the Maserati Quattroporte's hood and black smoke. erupted from the engine.

The back of the car bounced up before it fell back down.

Ren's expression was frozen, and so was the crowd. They all stared at the brutal scene with their jaws on the ground.

Was he even human?

"Was | wrong to say your car is not safe enough?"

Ren heard Kaze and felt like he was insulted.

"N-No..."

Ren gulped nervously. He was afraid that Kaze would punch his head like how he punched the car. His head would explode like a watermelon! Kaze was a monster!

"Get rid of the junk and clean the place. Better do it yourself and don't give the street cleaners trouble, understand?" Kaze said before he drove off with Darcy.

"Kaze, how did you do that?"

Darcy finally recovered from the shock after they left the scene.

She knew Kaze was a good fighter but his punch on Ren's car was too strong and scary. "I go to the gym if I have time," Kaze smiled. The punch was not a big deal to him.

Back at the main entrance of Quintessential Group, Ren called his men over to clean up and a tow truck to transport his car to the workshop.

"Don't let that man frighten you. He's just a little stronger. Violence won't solve anything nowadays. One's background and money speak louder than fists!"

The other young men who accompanied him to the confession consoled him.

The irony was that Ren's lips were still trembling.

"As if you guys weren't frightened by what just happened."

Kaze actually slapped him cheekily earlier and he dared not ever move. It was so embarrassing.

"But you guys are right. Nowadays, violence is no use, money everything. I'll hire some expert martial artists to protect me. I won't have to be afraid of him anymore!"

He then thought of Darcy after he recovered his composure.

The beautiful face, the voluptuous body, and the feminine aura she exuded; he did not want to give up on her just yet. "I must get Darcy on my bed no matter what it costs!" he said angrily.

But it's not easy trying to go after that woman. "I think you have to start with her parents," one of his friends said.

Ren then told his men to research Darcy's parents to find out what her parents desired or needed.

When Darcy returned to Horizon Mirror, she told her parents about being appointed as the COO of Quintessential Group.

As for the other annoying matters, she did not disclose them because she did not want to affect her parents' mood. Hector and Agnes were happy.

During the dinner, Hector even had some wine and Agnes also poured herself two glasses.

"Mom, are you still drinking? Are you both that happy?"

Darcy did not know whether to laugh or cry because Agnes had not drunk for years.

To Darcy's surprise, Agnes' expression shifted drastically after what Darcy said. She put the glass of wine down and got up.

"I'm going to rest. You guys continue."

She then wore a grumpy look on her face and returned to her room.

"Dad, what happened to Mom?"

"Sigh. It's because of the housewarming party," Hector said with a sigh.
