Chapter 591 Lilyrose's Pride

"Aster Ferlini, Shelly Fowler, Haiden Ludgram, Wayne Gerome, Zack Centauri, Kurt Ashford... "All the names that I mentioned, tell them to be at the jade Estate tomorrow,' Kaze said. Aster, Shelly, and Zach teamed up with Frank to murder James.

Zach was arrested already but the other two were still roaming free.

As for Haiden, Wayne, Zack and Kurt, they were unimates of James, plus Kaze and Darcy.

A few years ago, they were instigated by Henry to team up with Jessica and Kelly to accuse James, resulting in James' expulsion from the university.

All of them were arrested when the Construction and Material Society dissolved.

Kelly, being closely involved with Henry, was forced off the ledge of Hilfinger Corporation's building by the Lilyrose Three Elites. As for the others, they were released after a few days of detention.

Kaze did not forget about them on James' death anniversary.

"I understand."

Snow nodded and went back to contact the names on the list.

After walking out of No.9 Springville, Snow headed to her car.

Before she could get in, a Koenigsegg arrived in front of the mansion.

Mathias came down from the car and sized up the mansion's gate.

The last time he was here, he was arguing with Snow because of Kaze.

He then walked over to Snow with a smile. "Snow, the inauguration ceremony of Chief Commander Hiden will be held at the Jade Estate tomorrow. My family spent a fortune to get a seat to the ceremony and as my family's representative, I can bring a plus one. Come with me tomorrow."

He believed when Snow saw Kaze there as the Queen family's servant, she would look at him differently.

"No thanks." Snow rejected without a second thought.

Mathias was unhappy with the rejection. He asked, "You don't want to go? The God of War will also be there. Don't you want to see him in person?"

In person?

Snow did not have to go to the ceremony to see the God of War in person. She had been seeing him every day for a while now. "I'll be at the Jade Estate tomorrow but I don't need your company or your invocation," Snow said.

"You are going? Your chairman bought a slot too?"

Mathias found himself in an awkward situation. He forced a smile on his face and said, "Fine. I'll see you there tomorrow." "I still have work to do. Bye." Snow then got into her car and left.

Mathias pursed his lips and left in a sour mood.

Kaze had dinner with the Whites and only went back to Horizon Mirror Mansion after that.

The local radio and TV station were reporting about Albert's inauguration ceremony tomorrow at the Jade Estate and the God of War would attend.

The news anchors and Dus praised and flattered the Chapmans, making them the pride of Lilyrose. The Chapmans spent a fortune to advertise themselves.

If everything went well tomorrow, the Chapmans would be able to use the event to create a value of a hundred times greater than the event itself. They might even rise in status.

Their effort paid off as the entire city was moved. Everyone was thrilled about the event. All the other first and second-tier families praised the Chapmans as well.

Countless common citizens of the city headed to the Jade Estate to have a look at the ceremony.

Even people from neighboring cities came.

Due to the scale of the event, the Jade Estate became off limits to unrelated personnels.

The local police department sent their officers to maintain order at the site.

Even workers were hired to build a stage for the ceremony, just so it looked better.

Every person or vehicle must go through security inspection and would only be allowed entry with a permit.

Chapter 592 Defensive Measures

To ensure the God of War's safety, the airspace above the district had been declared a no-fly zone. Only armed helicopters were hovering above the sky for security measures.

The intersection between Jade Lake and other river streams were also guarded by divers and marine officers.

Every aspect of sky, land, and water was heavily guarded!

The city council of Lilyrose also received an order from the top brass.

“From now on, the Lilyrose Police Department is required to mobilize all officers on duty and stand guard 24/7. The God of War has made too many achievements, that’s why there are many foreign forces trying to remove him.

“Stay on guard at all times. It is not just to ensure the God of War's safety, but it is also to protect the citizens of Lilyrose!” The mayor, Johnson, gave a strict order to his men at the briefing.

The Jade Estate was under heavy security.

The Golding and Everia families were stunned.

The top three families were originally on the same boat, yet the Chapmans stood out from this, making the other two families look like side characters.

In addition, only a limited number of people from the two families were able to attend the ceremony. Since the Chapmans were the host, their entire family could attend the ceremony.

Therefore, the Golding and Everia families sent men to visit Nelson at the Horizon Mirror Mansion, hoping that he could inform the military to allow both families to bring all their members into the ceremony.

Nelson originally thought he had offended the top three families because of Kaze, but when he saw the Golding and Everia families send gifts to him, he was surprised and delighted.

“Very well. | shall make an inquiry.”

He called the person in charge of the ceremony who worked under Lilyrose Strategic Department. The person in charge was an officer from the chief commander’s office.

“No. It’s against the rule. They are only allowed to bring two to three people each, and that’s the number of entries that they are getting.”

Nelson looked at the gifts placed before him. He was unwilling to give up just yet. “Can you do something to make it happen?” “If | make it happen for you and something goes wrong, who’s going to clean up the mess?” The person in charge refused to compromise.

Just when Nelson and the representatives from the two families were disappointed by the answer, Kaze came back and overheard them.

He said loudly, “Oh, | totally forgot about this. Everyone from the top three families have to be at the ceremony to carry the casket, and | mean everyone!”

“Shut up! Retard!” Nelson glared at him. The representatives from the two families glared at him as well. “How dare you!” “Mr. Oceanid, | just got words from my boss.”

Suddenly, the person in charge on the phone said nervously, “Please tell the Everia and Golding families to bring everyone tomorrow. They have to be at the Jade Estate.”

“Huh?”

Nelson looked at Kaze blankly.

What a jinx! The person in charge changed his attitude and answered right after Kaze talked about it. "Thank you, Mr. Oceanid!"

The representatives from the two families did not overthink things and simply thanked Nelson for his help.

They thought it was Nelson who managed to persuade the person in charge.

They left the gifts and went back to inform their respective heads of the family. The two families were thrilled by the reply as well.

Even the extended family members who were living outside of the city came back just for the event.

Nelson also believed maybe because it was his status that made it possible, which fueled his confidence and arrogance.

Then, his direct superior, the vice-commander of the South River Strategic Department, Vanik Clifford, informed him to attend the inauguration ceremony on his behalf tomorrow.

Chapter 593 Recovered Wound Doesn't Feel Pain

Albert had to go to Lilyrose for the inauguration ceremony, so Vanik had to stay back to cover for him while he was away. Therefore, Vanik had to find—a representative to attend the inauguration ceremony on his behalf.

At least he would be able to send someone on his side to meet the God of War.

Upon hearing the news, the Quint and the Oceanid families were delighted.

Darcy also voiced her request. “Uncle Nelson, when you see the God of War tomorrow, can you please say something good for Kaze?”

“Say something good? Sure.” Nelson got carried away by his newly gained prestige, so he said, “You two divorce and I’ll ask the God of War to forgive him.”

Darcy was silenced.

“I guess the recovered wound doesn’t feel painful at all. You seemed to have forgotten about the two hundred copies of the confidentiality manual,” Kaze said as he shook his head. He also texted someone on his phone.

“What are you talking about, you retard!” Nelson glared at him.

He rolled his sleeves up and wanted to slap Kaze.

Rose held her father back and stopped him from going on a rampage. Awhile later, several uniformed soldiers came into the house.

“Nelson Oceanid, we are from the discipline division of Lilyrose Strategic Department and we received a report that you have received bribes and abused your authority. Please come with us for an investigation.”

“Bribe?! What bribe?! Who reported me?! This is slander!”

Nelson was frightened.

“Then what are these?”

The leader of the group pointed at the gifts on the table.

Nelson widened his eyes in fear.

The gifts were from the Golding and Everia families.

He was bragging about the gifts he received to his family just a moment ago.

He stammered but was unable to provide an explanation.

“Come on.”

Two soldiers grabbed him by the arm.

“I-I have to attend the inauguration ceremony tomorrow! My boss sent me to meet the God of War! You can’t take me in now!” Nelson started to argue and tried to frighten off the soldiers using his boss’ name.

“You are a suspect now and you are still thinking about meeting the God of War? What is going inside your mind?” The soldiers then brought him away.

Everyone in the living room was still shaking after the soldiers left.

Awhile later, Agatha glared at Kaze and shouted, "You! You dimwit! You reported Nelson! Did you?"

"Aunt Agatha, | did nothing wrong. It's not like | wrongly accused him."

Kaze smiled and continued, "Thankfully, Uncle Nelson didn't take a lot of things. and it's not that serious either. At most two days of retention and a self- reflection essay, or something like that.

"I'm saving him from falling into the abyss. This is to prevent him from making the same mistake again."

Agatha glared at Kaze with clenched teeth. She cursed at him inwardly but could not find the words to argue back. The others found Kaze's explanation reasonable as well.

The others calmed Agatha down and simply let the incident slip.

On the next morning during breakfast, Kaze said to Darcy, "Darcy, today is James ' death anniversary. Why don't you skip work for the day and we visit the Jade Estate? We can also see how the top three families apologize and pay their respect."

"Dad, Mom, why don't you two come along as well?"

No one believed Kaze at the Jade Estate yesterday, Darcy and Agnes even scolded him for this.

Today, he wanted to prove to his family that he was a man of his word. "What? Why should we go? To make a fool of ourselves?" Agnes grunted. She did not want to embarrass herself in front of others.

"The Jade Estate was locked down by the army yesterday. We can't go in

now. Why don't you go there yourself? Mathias will come to pick you up soon," Darcy said.

She wanted to go to watch over Kaze, preventing him from being rude in front of the God of War, but Mathias only agreed to take Kaze there.

"Mathias is here to pick me up?"

Kaze was confused.

Darcy explained, "The Queens got an entry slot and I persuaded him to bring you along."

Chapter 594 How Did You Get In?

"Remember to behave in front of Mathias. He's a little tough to get along with but he's the only one who can help you now." Darcy said seriously, "When—you see the God of War, remember to behave yourself. He is not just an important person, he's also the hero of the country."

"I got it."

Kaze saw the concerns on her face and how she worried that he would say something wrong, so he was forced to nod. Darcy and her family refused to go, so there was nothing Kaze could do.

At 9:00 AM, Kaze and Darcy waited in front of their house.

Awhile later, a speeding Maybach arrived before their gate.

The driver came down and opened the rear door for Mathias.

“Mathias, thank you so much,” Darcy said.

-Mathias waved his hand nonchalantly and then looked at Kaze. “Get in.”

“Kaze, remember what I told you. Behave...”

Darcy gave her final reminder before she drove her own car to work.

“As a man, your wife sure does worry about you a lot. I got to give it to you.”

Mathias was just beside Kaze in the car and he could not help but tease him.

“Jealous that I have a good wife?” Kaze said.

A hint of awkwardness flashed on Mathias’ face.

Kaze’s words literally spoke his mind.

After he went back yesterday, he kept thinking about his encounter at the café and his fondness for Darcy grew stronger.

He came from a wealthy and powerful family and had gotten used to all kinds of loveless marriage that was purely based on benefits. He had also seen how a couple could trick and lie to each other for their own selfish gains.

The more he knew, the more he appreciated a woman like Darcy.

What else could a man ask for?

“Kaze, is this how you talk to your master?”

Mathias grunted and said, “Please know your place. You are now a servant who works for me!”
“Servant?”

Since when did he become Mathias’ servant?

“Darcy didn’t tell you? What a thoughtful woman. She cared about your fragile pride at all times.”

Mathias continued, “Today, you will be attending the inauguration ceremony as my servant. Don’t feel bad about it. If not for Darcy, you might not even get close to the Jade Estate.”

Kaze was helpless.

Darcy never believed him and she even asked Mathias to bring him to the Jade Estate.

“Kaze, remember to behave at the place. Keep in mind at all times that you are just a servant!” Mathias continued to act like a master who had just bought a slave.

Kaze simply smiled it off.

Mathias would find out very soon.

Soon, they arrived at Jade Estate.

After the little renovation, the Jade Estate looked more beautiful than before.

There were many armored trucks lined up at the entrance with soldiers lining up in front of them. They were not just common soldiers, they were the elites that were handpicked from Lilyrose Strategic Department. Being able to be at the inauguration ceremony was an honor to them.

The waiting area of the estate was crowded with people.

The top three families, representatives from different families, and a few hundred people were waiting to go inside.

There were also a few reputable individuals who bought the entry slot with a few hundred millions.

All of them were wealthy people.

“Mathias Queen of the Queen family is here!”

“Mr. Queen, welcome!”

Mathias’ arrival sparked quite the commotion.

Several family heads surrounded him instantly and chatted with him. Kaze did not follow Mathias.

“Kaze? You are here as well?”

Several young men and women came by with an unfriendly tone.

“How did a piece of trash like you get into this prestigious place?”

Chapter 595 Torture

Haiden, Wayne, Zack, Kurt, Aster, and Shelly.

The six people that Kaze informed Snow to contact yesterday had appeared before him. "Since when did you six get together?" Kaze asked without answering Shelly's question. The two groups of people should not know each other.

The six of them were intrigued when Kaze started the topic.

"Many of the attendees today, be it Mathias Queen of the Queen family or the famous superstar, Taylor Swan, or even the top three families, all bought entry slots with money."

Haiden said with a grin, "Only the six of us are invited by the Lilyrose Strategic Department!" "It's said that this is the God of War's personal invitation."

"I also heard that the God of War Palace is recruiting talents, that's why as the elite representatives of Lilyrose, the six of us caught the God of War's attention!"

"From today onward, we will reach the peak of our lives!"

"The best tend to group with the best, don't you understand?"

All six of them seemed happy to be invited.

They thought their capabilities caught the God of War's attention and they would reach a new height in their career. Kaze saw the excitement on their faces and laughed.

When they learn the truth later, they might not even have enough tears to cry.

“Kaze, don’t switch the topic! What is a piece of trash like you doing here? There’s no way you'd be invited!” Shelly asked with her arms crossed.

“Tell us how did you get in here?!”

“Yeah! Don't try to fool us!”

“How can a piece of trash like you be at the same event as us elites? We must get you out!” The others echoed and tried to intimidate Kaze with their status.

“| just walked in,” Kaze said.

He did not have the mood to talk with idiots.

“You walked in? You're lying! You must have a permit to enter this place!”

Suddenly, another group of people, more than a hundred, marched in.

They were from the top three families, and the leader was the family head of the Chapmans, Belarus! The one who spoke was Belarus.

Kaze was bombarded with all kinds of gazes but he remained calm. “The permits are prepared for people like you. As for me, | don’t need one.”

Everyone laughed at him. No one believed a word he said. “Kaze, | hope you can continue to brag after today!”

The members from the top three families then stepped aside to make way for Frank, who was in a wheelchair, and Taylor.

Taylor was wheeling Frank whose legs were in heavy casts. His face looked reddish and his forehead looked sweaty. He seemed to be in pain.

Kaze was not deterred by his words. He said with a laugh, "Frank, | thought the doctors said they have to amputate your legs? What are you doing here?"

"| have to be here to see you kneel before me and cry!". Frank clenched his teeth furiously as he glared at Kaze with endless resentment.

"Your apology won't work anymore! It's meaningless now! | will use the cruelest torture method to break your body and mind! | will make your wife a sex slave and suck on my dick while you watch!

"Then | will cut off your limbs, tongue, ears, and dig out your eyes before shoving you into an urn but | won't kill you yet! I'll keep you alive so that | can continue torturing you!

"| will torment von for at lose

Chapter 596 Cruel Punishment Frank's resentful words sent chills down many people's spine, including the members from the top three families.

After Kaze broke Frank's legs and made him handicapped, Frank seemed to have lost his sanity. The only thing that kept him alive was vengeance!

Kaze noticed Frank's current state of mind as well.

He smiled and said, "Frank, I'm not a psychopath like you. The only thing | can do is keep you alive and what you just said will never come true."

Keeping a devastated person alive, making them live in eternal darkness without hope, was the cruelest punishment. "Fuck!" Frank shouted.

If he could walk, he would jump on Kaze and bite his face off!

His family members held him back, trying to stop him from getting too riled up.

Everyone knew that Frank's only motivation for living was Kaze.

Flint felt bad when he saw his son's current state. He said coldly, "Tell the person in charge to get this retard out of the premises!" "Flint Golding, who gave you the nerves to throw my servant out?"

Mathias came over.

"Mathias Queen?!" Flint was surprised by Mathias' intervention. "Since when did Kaze become your servant?"

The others looked at Kaze suspiciously.

The retard seemed to have gotten close with the Queen family again.

"Kaze came in here as my servant," Mathias said.

"Servant?"

Everyone looked at Kaze with contempt.

"No wonder he's able to come in here. He's working for Mr. Queen now.

"Yeah! He already married himself to the Quints, there's no dignity in him anymore."

Everyone sneered at Kaze.

Belarus then said, "Mr. Queen, we do not intend to oppose the Queen family but Kaze is our arch-enemy. It's either him or us!" "After today, we will go after him with everything we got!"

Edward and Flint nodded in agreement.

"Whatever."

Mathias was not concerned at all.

He would not want to make enemies out of the top three families because of Kaze either, especially the Chapman family. After today, the Chapmans might be richer than ever and their status would skyrocket.

The three family heads were delighted by Mathias' answer.

They all looked at Kaze as if he was a dead person.

"Just you wait, Kaze!"

The three family heads glared at him before they walked away.

"Kaze, I will hold my private concert tonight and I'll dance in front of James' grave! Just you wait!" Taylor taunted Kaze before she wheeled Frank away.

"Kaze, look at what you have gotten yourself into!" Haiden, Zack, and the others gloated at Kaze.

"After today, the six of us will be the most popular elites in the city. Even the top three families would have to show us some respect!"

“Kneel and beg us and we can consider saving you. Haha...”

After the insults and sneers, they too left and followed the top three families into the venue.

The inauguration ceremony was being held at the main square outside the Jade Estate, right in front of Jake Lake. The army segregated a corner to build an audience seat for the visitors to watch the ceremony.

“We spent a few hundred million and this is where we are seated. It’s so far away from the main stage. | can’t even see the person’s face!” someone ranted.

Chapter 597 Inauguration Ceremony

“Sheesh! Are you trying to get yourself in trouble?”

“It’s good enough to get an entry slot. How many people on earth can get the chance to see the God of War?” “The Chapmans are the host and they too are seated here. They didn’t even complain.”

Everyone was grateful to be able to attend the ceremony.

After all, the inauguration ceremony should be an internal affair of the military and according to the rules, the ceremony should not invite outsiders.

There was no roof above the audience’s seat. All the audience was only seated on the simplest chairs and there was no service of beverage or food.

All the attendees in the audience seat were wealthy people who had gotten used to the luxury of life. They had never been in such a terrible situation before, especially Taylor.

She was sweating profusely and her skin turned red due to exposure to the sun, yet she sat down obediently like a child and dared not make a noise.

There were armed soldiers around the venue, maintaining the order and watching the audience.

“Mr. Queen, where’s your servant?” someone asked when Mathias came over, “Someone from the chief commander’s office took him away,” Mathias said.

Deep down, he was already apologizing to Darcy.

He was a man of his word. Since he already received the shares from Darcy, he would try his best to let Kaze meet the God of War.

As for whether Kaze could be forgiven, it was not something Mathias could decide. Just before he wanted to bring Kaze to the seat, the guards from the chief commander’s office brought Kaze away.

“Haha! They must have arrested the retard for impersonating the God of War! The chief commander is after him!” “Maybe the chief commander is interrogating him.”

“That useless shit keeps bragging and he finally got himself into some deep shit!”

The audience laughed.

There were more than a hundred people at the audience seat and a majority of them wished Kaze would just drop dead. Kaze was an enemy to them after all.

“Silence!”

The guard shouted and silenced everyone.

Vrooom...

Suddenly, the ground started to tremble.

More than a hundred tanks drove in in a straight line with their barrels pointed high in the sky.

Soon, the tanks entered a massive formation in front of the square, coupled with their respective platoon soldiers and tank drivers.

They were all ready for the God of War's inspection.

The inauguration ceremony officially started.

Everyone in the audience seat was nervous.

They widened their eyes at the stage, afraid that they would miss a single detail. A number of generals and soldiers came on stage.

From the Lilyrose Strategic Department, Shin Scarlet, the commander of the Tiger Fangs Militia and Koga Atlas, commander of the Garo Spec Ops Team.

From the South River Strategic Department, Johnny Tsuda, commander of the Armored One Battalion.

All of them had the same level of reputation and status as the mayor of Lilyrose, Johnson Brooks, and they were all lined up neatly on stage, seemingly waiting for someone. "Chief Commander Albert Hiden!"

The audience seat cheered as Albert came on stage in his uniform.

Albert was surprisingly young, yet he was already promoted to chief commander of South River Strategic Department. It was not exaggerating to say that he was the chosen one.

All the young men in the audience seat, including Mathias, felt inferior before him.

Albert then stood beside Shin, Koga, and Johnny without saying a word.

He too was waiting for someone.

Then, a tall and buff man appeared on stage.

“Chief Commander Draco Lang!”

Cheers came from the audience again.

Draco looked fierce and powerful.

Even when the audience was several hundred meters away, they could feel his intimidating aura.

The No.1 general under the God of War’s command!

He once led the Battle Dragon Troops onto the foreign battlefield and fought enemies with overwhelming numbers. He defied the odds and won the battle, hence expanding the country’s border.

It was that battle that made him famous.

He was also promoted to Regional Commander and Chief Commander of Lilyrose Strategic Department, governing over soldiers in multiple states.

Even Albert had to respect him. However, Draco stood beside Albert and said nothing.

Then, the soldiers at both sides of the stage stood straight and saluted as their eyes turned to the passageway to the stage..

At that very moment, be it the soldiers in formation or the audience, or even the generals and commanders on stage, everyone looked to the passageway with utmost anticipation.

Then, a rather slender figure appeared and stepped on stage.

Chapter 598 Deal With Private Matters

“That’s the God of War? | can’t see his face but why does he feel so ordinary?”

“Mind your words!”

The little grumble from one of the members of the top three families attracted. side eyes from the others. “Yilon Musk is also the richest man in the world yet he looks like a crazy man and tons of people admire him.” “Yeah! Judging a book by its cover? How shallow!”

“The God of War is not someone who we can understand!”

Even though they could not see the God of War's face up close, they showed respect to the hero of the country. “Salute!”

Draco’s voice echoed loudly across the square as he lifted his arm.

Everyone, on stage or off stage, raised their hands to salute with utmost respect and excitement.

The God of War simply replied with the same salutation and said, "Let's begin."

He did not use the mic but his voice was heard across the square.

"Why does the God of War sound so familiar? It sounded exactly like the useless piece of trash from the Quint family!" someone in the audience seat asked.

"Are you joking? That piece of useless trash isn't even in the same league as the God of War!"

"Are you trying to get yourself in trouble? Don't even compare the God of War to someone like that! It's humiliating!" Despite the criticism, everyone shared the same question but no one wanted to believe it.

How could the God of War have the same voice as the useless trash of the Quint family?

What kind of lame joke was that?

"I bet that useless trash heard the God of War's voice before and started to mimic the same voice. That's why they sounded the same."

Everyone seemed to accept the explanation.

It was widely known that the useless retard was impersonating the God of War.

As the whispers continued among the audience, the inauguration ceremony began on stage.

"I hereby announce that Albert Hiden is officially the chief commander of South River Strategic Department..." The inauguration ceremony was simple and lasted only for a few minutes.

Albert teared up when the God of War made the announcement.

“Thank you, God of War!”

Back in the training camp on the foreign battlefield, due to the sudden mission, Albert's inauguration ceremony was canceled and it had been a regret in his career. Now, he finally got what he deserved and eradicated the regret from his career!

Albert stepped back.

The God of War then inspected the soldiers in formation and then gave a brief speech.

“All of you are the elite soldiers of Lilyrose Strategic Department, but you are nothing if you are on the foreign battlefield.

“Only soldiers who survived that place can be a true soldier and be promoted to generals. After this, I will tell Chief Commander Lang to select a few brave soldiers to train at the front line.”

“Yes, Sir!” The soldiers replied with a thunderous voice that pierced the clouds. The God of War's speech impacted them.

They felt aggrieved but not mad because it was the truth.

The battlefield was much more cruel and only that place could prove one's courage and value.

The upcoming selection would be a fierce one.”

“Now that my speech is over, I'd like to settle some personal affairs,” the God of War said.

The soldiers and generals did not react, but the audience was surprised before they were excited.

“Personal affairs? Does it mean the God of War is going to call us now?”

“It must be! The God of War used the Jade Estate as the ceremony venue and it must be because of us!”

“Maybe the God of War would teach that useless Kaze a lesson too!”

The members from the top three families were excited.

This would be the chance for them to elevate their social status and wealth!

Chapter 599 Meet the God of War Mathias was also intrigued. His family wanted him to get close to Albert and expand their business into the military.

However, if he could get to know the God of War instead, then it would be a great surprise to him and his family back in Butterworth.

Taylor wiped off the sweat on her forehead and quickly fixed her makeup.

Asking for the God of War's forgiveness was crucial to her career. Whether she could rise to stardom or be completely blacklisted, it all depended on the God of War!

She even fantasized about dating the God of War! She thought it was possible because the God of War was young and she was beautiful. It might work! She could even settle as the God of War's secret mistress or even just a one-night stand!

Any kind of skinship with the God of War would boost her value, making her the most popular celebrity in the entertainment industry.

As for Aster, Shelly, Haiden, Zack, Kurt, and Wayne, all six of them breathed heavily as he lifted their chin.

They believed the God of War would want to see them the most compared to the others. After all, they were invited by the Lilyrose Strategic Department.

They were right.

“Aster Ferlini, Shelly Fowler, Haiden Ludgram, Zack Centauri, Kurt Ashford, Wayne Gerome.” The God of War’s voice came from the stage once more.

The six of them were flattered, thrilled, and over the moon.

After the initial blank reaction, the six of them cheered loudly.

“It’s us! The God of War wants to see us first!”

They got up immediately and headed to the stage.

The heads of the top three families, Mathias, and Taylor made way for the six of them.

The audience looked at them with nothing but jealousy!

The six of them felt confident.

They shuffled through the formation of the soldiers and tanks and arrived before the main stage. “God of War!”

The six of them bowed and shouted. Then, they looked up to have a look at the God of War’s face. They saw a familiar face looking at them with a faint grin.

Their eyes widened in disbelief and their bodies shook violently.

The God of War was Kaze, the one they called useless trash!

How? How could it be?

Their minds went blank and unable to think properly.

Aster even coughed blood due to the shock.

Kaze said, “Aster Ferlini, so shocked to see me?”

Thump!

Aster fell on his knees, shaking. “G—God of War, I...”

He was too shocked to complete his sentence.

Shelly, Haiden, Zack, Kurt, and Wayne got down on their knees as well.

They felt terrible as if they were going through the harshest torture.

The audience further away saw the six of them kneeling before the God of War and they laughed.

The God of War barely said anything yet one of them coughed blood and all of them knelt.

They gave the God. the God of War a terrible first impression.

“Taylor Swan, Alisa Bridge.”

Kaze ignored the six of them and continued to call the next group.

Alisa was Taylor’s manager and she was with the Golding family as well. The two of them went to the main stage with a wide grin on their faces. “God of War... What? How? You?!”

Thump!

The two of them fell on their knees before they could spew out a proper sentence.

They looked even more wretched than the other six.

“You Call that a celebrity? Taylor's fans always knelt before her and worship her. Now when she’s in front of the God of War, she’s worshipping him.”

The audience laughed at her.

Chapter 600 What Did You Do Wrong

“Mathias Queen of the Queen family from Butterworth.”

Kaze called the next name on stage.

Mathias was much calmer compared to the others due to his experience.

He looked up and wanted to have a good look at the God of War’s face, but before he even reached the stage, he already collapsed on his knees.

“You call that a young master from a powerful family? Hahaha, he’s nothing at all! All he has is the looks!” “Chapman, Golding, and Everia families.”

Under the lead of their respective family heads, more than four hundred people marched toward the stage proudly. However, halfway there, the family members started to kneel group after group;

Everyone was on their knees!

Belarus, Flint, and Edward were unaware of their family members kneeling behind them as they were carried away by excitement..

When they arrived in front of the stage and looked up, their expressions shifted greatly. “Kaze Lee?!”

All their family heads cried in shock.

Thump!

The three of them spat blood and collapsed on their knees.

Their energetic looks turned pale and horrified and made them look ten years older.

The three of them were speechless and stunned.

Kaze grunted coldly and then looked at Aster and the other five of them.

“You guys had a few minutes of buffer already, can you all speak now?”

“God of War! We’re wrong!”

The six of them prostrated repeatedly and dared not look at Kaze.

“What did you guys do wrong?” Kaze asked.

“We shouldn’t have betrayed James and abused his kindness! We shouldn't side with Frank to force him to jump off the building! We also shouldn't sell company secrets and technology...”

Aster and Shelly confessed everything.

“We shouldn’t bully you or accuse James just to flatter Henry...” Haiden and friends confessed and apologized as well.

“Now you people know what you did?”

Kaze scoffed. “But I clearly remember you people weren't like this before. I thought you people said you were elites invited by myself. No?”

The six of them regretted everything they said. Kaze then turned to Taylor and her manager, Alisa. “What about you two? Why are you on your knees?”

“We used your name to create a buzz online and spread fake news. We even accused you of impersonating yourself...” Alisa confessed as her tears rolled down.

After all that she did, she was accusing the God of War himself. She was so obsessed with money and fame that it blinded her.

Taylor, on the other hand, could not think properly anymore.

She borrowed a few hundred million and slept with Frank to get an entry slot. She gave up her body and got herself into a heavy debt just to find out that Kaze was the God of War! “Mathias, what about you?” Kaze looked at Mathias.

“I made you my servant to serve me and I took 20% of company shares from your wife. I know that with just one word from you, my father would come here right away to apologize. I shouldn't have looked down upon you, I was wrong!”

Mathias was scared out of his mind. He prostrated repeatedly and hit his forehead. on the ground until it bled. He asked the God of War to be his servant! Such disrespect!

Even without looking back, he could feel the soldiers looking at him with hostility. and murderous intent. Kaze's gaze turned cold.

Now only he knew how much Darcy gave up just to get him into the Jade

Estate. He grunted coldly and said,

“From today onward, you are my servant!” “Yes, yes, of course! It is my honor to be the God of War's

servant!”

Mathias was thrilled to have escaped death. Kaze then looked at the three family heads.

“I believe not even you three know how many crimes you and your family have committed. Let me list it down for you.”
