

Guardian 681

Chapter 681 Taken Again

“You father can’t walk?” Professor Whiteman asked.

“He can. His condition has stabilized lately and he can walk just fine.”

Clank!

Sully lit a cigarette and then said, “I don’t know what condition he is in. Why don’t you go have a look at him at Melrose?” “If he can walk, why don’t you bring him here to see me? | don’t think he is that old either.”

Professor Whiteman fanned the smoke away with furrowed brows.

“My father is living in seclusion and he doesn’t like to move around. Coming here is too troublesome. It’s better for you to come with us.”

Sully pointed outside the window. “The car is ready outside.”

“Im not going.”

Professor Whiteman picked up his glasses. “I have an operation at Sunrise City tomorrow and | have to go back later tonight.” He believed Sully was the son of some powerful family.

People like him cared a lot about ostentation, yet Professor Whiteman disliked such an attitude.

“What operation is so important that you have to do it yourself? Just send someone else.”

Sully was losing his patience.

Professor Whiteman was agitated knowing that he was dealing with someone from the Lee family. He said, "I believe your father isn't terribly ill either, so why me? You can also find someone else."

"Professor Whiteman, are you refusing to come along?" Sully narrowed his eyes dangerously.

"I won't repeat myself." Professor Whiteman then raised his voice. "Please leave. I have to check on my patient now!" "That isn't up to you anymore!"

Sully grunted and raised his voice. "Get in here and take this old man away!"

The men that he brought from Melrose barged into the room.

Professor Whiteman did not expect Sully to get rough. He slammed on the table and shouted, "What is the meaning of this? Stop this at once! This is a hospital!"

The two men had a glance at Sully before walking over to Professor Whiteman. They managed to seize Professor Whiteman despite his resistance. The two men seized him by his arms, pinning him down.

Sully frowned. "Take it easy on him. Professor Whiteman isn't rough like us. He's fragile. If he's hurt, you guys won't be able to take accountability."

He seemed to be warning his men but it was meant for Professor Whiteman.

Professor Whiteman was shocked and furious, and he ultimately gave up his struggle.

He knew the men before his eyes were brutes who preferred violence over speech.

Agnes and Hector were grateful for Professor Whiteman's care, so when the men tried to take him away, Agnes tried to help. "Professor Whiteman isn't young anymore, you guys shouldn't be rough..."

Slap!

Sully slapped Agnes in the face and slammed her to the wall. She let out a painful grunt.

One of the men kicked Hector in the knee, where his injury was.

Hector fell to the ground and groaned excruciatingly.

“Piss off! This is no place for you two old fags!”

Sully glared at the two of them and then signaled his men to take Professor Whiteman away from the hospital.

Back at Horizon Mirror Mansion, Kaze just came back from Sky Ocean Corporation. Before he even entered the house, he heard Agnes' cries from the living room.

“Darcy, you must think of a way to bring Professor Whiteman back. He came here to treat your father yet he's taken away by some brutes...”

“Mom, calm down. Miru is already here to help,” Darcy said. Miru was making a call with her hands crossed.

“Darcy, what happened to Professor Whiteman?” Kaze asked.

“Some guys from Melrose came and took Professor Whiteman away from the hospital. They said they wanted him to treat some VIP in Melrose.”

Chapter 682 Invincible Lee

“They were rude and arrogant. They simply took Professor Whiteman away and even beat up the security guard on the way out. “Mom and Dad were beaten as well,” Darcy said with teary eyes.

“Treat someone? That means Professor Whiteman is going to be fine for now.”

Kaze breathed a sigh of relief, but he was still angered by the incident.

Someone took Professor Whiteman away under his watch.

“Do you know who took the professor?”

The priority would be to recover the professor first.

Kaze knew the professor well enough to know that the man would not do as told no matter the threats. Once his abductor went out of patience, he would be in danger.

If the abductor was able to take Professor Whiteman away in broad daylight, then they must have strong support. “The man said his name is Sully Lee and he took Professor Whiteman treat his father,” Agnes said.

away to

“Sully Lee... I'll find him and tell him to bring the professor back. I'll make him apologize to you two.”

Kaze's expression turned grim when he saw the slap mark on Agnes' face.

“Stop bragging, Kaze.”

Miru put down the phone and looked at Kaze. “Do you even know who Sully Lee is?”

“Miru, you found out who this man is?” Darcy asked.

Kaze did not want to be calculative with the woman. He simply kept quiet.

“Sully Lee is the son of Melrose’s kingpin, Steve Lee.”

Miru’s expression turned heavy. “This man, Steve Lee, is even more powerful and experienced than my godfather in the underworld.”

Melrose was surrounded by mountains and it was a gray area of the law.

The people of Melrose were fierce and strong and it was a well-known fact across the South River State.

When Steve was younger, he participated in many gang fights and he relied on his machetes to build his underworld kingdom. Now that he had retired, he no longer cared about the underworld.

He left his only son, Sully, to take care of the family business.

Despite Melrose being a breeding ground for crimes and gangsters, no one was able to challenge Steve's position for as long as he was in power.

“There’s a saying in Melrose that as long as Invincible Lee is alive, no one would be able to take over Melrose.” “Invincible Lee?” Kaze scoffed.

“That's Steve's nickname in the underworld.”

Miru looked at him and scoffed. “It’s the same name as the God of War, who you always impersonate.” Invincible Lee was just an alias Kaze used during his service in the army.

Therefore, the whole country thought it was the God of War's name.

Miru said to Darcy, "Anyway, we should think about how to solve this problem peacefully. As for apologizing, don't even think about it."

"Miru, you just have to think of a way to bring the professor back. We are worried about him."

Darcy teared up and pursed her lips. "As for what happened to Dad and Mom, consider ourselves unlucky."

Her parents were beaten up and she could not do anything about the did it. She felt helpless and terrible. person who Agnes and Hector nodded reluctantly. After learning who Sully was, they dared not ask him to apologize anymore.

"No. No one can slap our parents without apologizing. I'll make him," Kaze said coldly. "Kaze, don't even think about causing trouble! You are no match for Steve Lee!" Agnes glared at him. Miru scoffed and did not want to talk to Kaze.

"I'll go see Steve in Melrose now. Even if he doesn't respect me, he'll respect my godfather," Miru said.

She then left in a hurry. Kaze wanted to go with Miru but was stopped.

"Don't even think about going. Stay here and watch the house!"

Chapter 683 Riverside Estate Agnes did not allow Kaze to go to Melrose because she worried he might cause trouble with his recklessness again.

"Miru can go alone. Her godfather is Alan Cunningham. | bet that Steve Lee will show her some respect," Darcy said, agreeing with her mother.

Kaze shrugged and simply stayed home, waiting for Miru's news. The Mel River was the biggest river in Melrose and it penetrated the city geographically. Beside the Mel River was an estate with a classic architectural style, located at the edge of the woods.

There were picturesque buildings and beautiful structures in the estate and the path that led up to the main building was basked in sunlight.

Some tourists who passed by the place might have mistaken it as a tourist spot and wanted to go in for a tour.

They would be stopped by suited men with earpieces and would only be released after the men checked their cameras and phones for any photos or videos they had taken.

The men would then inform the tourists that the estate was a private property and trespassing was not allowed. The tourists would always be shocked.

Who was rich enough to own such a big and beautiful estate in such a spacious location?

Some of them would ask the local taxi drivers.

"That estate? That estate belonged to the local kingpin, Invincible Lee."

"Same name as the God of War? So what? This man is invincible in Melrose and when in his own turf, he's more influential and powerful than the God of War himself.

"Have you heard? It's Invincible Lee's words that decide whether the city could operate. Even Melrose's mayors from different times wanted to form a connection with him just so they could govern properly.

“Shane Blanc is more famous than him? | bet you didn’t know that an underworld informant would visit Invincible Lee’s estate once every month just to pay respect.”

Steve Lee's name was well-known in Melrose.

The people of Melrose grew up listening to his stories.

From toddlers to teenagers, from young adults to middle-aged men. Everyone knew Steve as the kingpin and he remained strong after ruling the city for decades. There was a spacious pond inside the estate and a white-haired elderly was feeding the fishes casually.

“Dad, you're feeding the fishes again? These carps don’t grow big enough to eat, why feed them? You should get some fish that we can eat.”

Sully came over with a cigarette hanging at his mouth, looking frivolous.

He knew the carps were his father’s favorite and he purposely teased him.

The teases annoyed Steve. He grunted and said, “Where have you been? Did you cause trouble again?”
“| did not. I’m not out causing trouble. | went away to do some serious business.”

Sully flickered the ashes of his cigarette into the pond. “Your medical conditions have been haunting you for a while now, so | went to Lilyrose to get a doctor to see you.”

“Which emperor’s royal doctor is it this time?” Steve scoffed.

Sully hired many doctors in the past to treat his father but all of them were charlatans. He got so mad that he broke all of their arms and tossed them out.

"I assure you this is no charlatan," Sully said.

"The man's name is Sam Whiteman, a highly accomplished professor in the field. He's even on national TV, he's not the same like the others."

"Sam Whiteman? Professor Sam Whiteman?"

Steve frowned. "I heard the Sunrise Lees got a private jet to bring him there to heal Narian's legs, but then Albert Hiden, the chief commander of the South River Strategic Department, took him away. It's on the news. How did you get him here?"

He stared at his son.

Chapter 684 Can Be Treated, but Not Going To

"Really?" Sully was surprised. He then chuckled and said, "Poor bastard. Albert Hiden took him yesterday and I took him today..."

Siap!

Before he could finish his sentence, a slap landed on his face, leaving behind a reddish mark. "What? Why did you slap me?!"

Sully covered his face and looked at his father in shock.

"I slap you because you are being careless. The man is a national icon and has connections to many other powerful families, yet you took the man here by force. Can't you find someone else to do it? You really think we are still invincible outside Melrose?"

Steve lectured his son.

"That's not a big deal. That old man didn't even cause any trouble when Albert Hiden took him. He's just a fame chaser, I bet he will not want to cause a scene," Sully grumbled.

Steve grunted and somehow agreed with his son.

He asked, "You don't even know he was taken yesterday, how did you know he's in Lilyrose?"

Steve was known for his ferocity and machetes but if he was just the brawn without brains, he would not last for decades.

He sharply noticed something was wrong.

"The Sunrise Lees told me. What about it?" Sully asked.

Slap!

Steve slapped him again.

"Idiot! You were used and you don't even know? Once I die, you will surely lead our family into the grave in less than two years!" Steve instantly knew what the Sunrise Lees had in mind.

He was angry at his son for being a fool, not knowing that someone had used him. He was not overly concerned about Sully taking Professor Whiteman back by force.

He waved his hand helplessly and said, "Let's go meet this professor."

Professor Whiteman was brought to the VIP lounge of the estate.

Since he was already here, there was no use fighting back anymore.

He calmed himself down, closed his eyes, and started to listen to the sound of the surroundings.
“Professor, how’s my estate?”

A bright and loud laughter came and echoed across the lounge.

Steve strode into the lounge.

“A peaceful oasis in the bustling city, a good place.”

Professor Whiteman praised as he opened his eyes.

He knew who the man was.

Sully, who was behind his father, scoffed when he heard the professor.

While in Lilyrose, the professor refused to comply and even resisted them, yet now he started to enjoy the surroundings already. “If you want to, you can stay here for as long as you like,” Steve said with a smile.

He then introduced himself.

“I am Steve Lee. I am terribly sorry for what my son did. I did not know he would take you here in broad daylight. I have already taught him a lesson.”

He pointed at Sully’s face with the red mark.

Sully grunted.

Professor Whiteman chuckled. He was not concerned about the truth at all. He said, “Then please send me back, Mr. Lee.”

Steve narrowed his eyes.

"I'm sorry about my son's recklessness, but he did it because he cared about me. | wonder if you can have a look at my condition and cure me? | will repay you handsomely."

"| can't do it." The professor shook his head.

Sully pointed at the professor angrily and shouted, "Old man, you can't do it or you don't want to do it?"

"I can do it, but | won't do it."

Chapter 685 Disastrous Professor Whiteman shook his head, which infuriated Sully even more.

"Old man, the news said that you are as amazing as Jesus, but you don't want to cure my father just because | took you here by force? You call yourself a doctor? Hmph! You lousy fame chaser!"

Steve did not react to the professor's rejection, nor did he*stop Sully. "There's a code that | follow, especially as a doctor. | do not treat the evil," Professor Whiteman said. "You old geezer! You're asking for it!"

Sully shouted, "You are on my turf and you think you can just reject me? Go ask who is Invincible Lee and who is he here in Melrose."

"Invincible Lee?" Professor Whiteman scoffed. "You better change the nickname or it will bring nothing but disaster to your family."

Up until this point, not only Sully was infuriated, but even Steve's expression turned grim. "Professor, what did my title do to you that you want me to change it?" he asked coldly. The title Invincible Lee was earned from many years of massacre and slaughter in the underworld.

Professor Whiteman shook his head. "I have nothing against it. I am just giving you a friendly reminder. Also, please send me back to Lilyrose, or else..."

"Or else what?" Sully interrupted him. "Or else, it will be disastrous for your family," Professor Whiteman said. He knew how powerful and domineering the young man from Lilyrose could be.

"Mr. Sully here took me away in broad daylight and I bet it has already made the news in Lilyrose. If you send me back now, maybe you can still save yourself."

Professor Whiteman sounded serious but Sully did not take it seriously.

Steve frowned.

Then, a middle-aged man rushed in.

"Sir! The goddaughter of Alan Cummingham, Miru Scarlet, is here and she wanted to see you."

"Miru Scarlet?"

Steve then looked at Professor Whiteman. "Professor, is this woman here for you?"

"Maybe. Maybe not."

Professor Whiteman was unsure. He knew Kaze would certainly come for him after knowing that he was taken away. Maybe Miru was sent by Kaze.

"Then bring her in," Steve said as he waved his hand.

Soon, Miru strode into the lounge.

Sully was captivated by her looks and his eyes widened.

Miru went up to Steve and bowed. She said respectfully, "Master Lee, on behalf of my godfather, I am here to pay you a visit." "What brings you to me, Miru?"

Steve sat down in the main seat and took a sip of tea without looking at her.

Miru shot a glance at Professor Whiteman and said, "I am tasked by my godfather to bring the professor back. Please, for the sake of my godfather, let me take him back..."

"Alan Cummingham?"

Steve interrupted her before she could finish. He said casually, "I refused." Miru's expression turned stiff. She did not expect such straightforwardness. Before she could say anything else, Steve looked at her.

"I refused to answer your godfather's request, but I can make an exception for you."

"What do you mean by that, Master Lee?" Miru was confused.

Steve shot a glance at his son and laughed. "After my son divorced several years ago, he had been alone. If you can become his wife, we will be family and of course, I can answer your request."

Chapter 686 That's It?

"I have fallen for you at first sight, Miru!"

Sully did not expect his father to know him this well. He nodded immediately.

“Master Lee, this is not funny.” Miru’s expression turned grim.

Sully was a few years younger than her godfather and even Sully’s son was only a few years younger than her. It was a blatant humiliation!

“If you don’t want to be his wife, then please leave,” Steve said without being concerned.

“I am bringing the professor back today no matter what.”

Miru was agitated as well.

Steve grunted. “Who do you think you are? Even Alan would have to show me some respect and you are just his goddaughter. How dare you talk to me in that tone?”

Then, two rows of suited men came in and locked onto Miru.

“Ms. Scarlet, this way please,” said the leader of the group.

“Master Lee, I won't forget this. I'll be back!” Miru grunted.

She then turned around and left without pause.

When she arrived at the estate, she already knew that the place was filled with Steve’s men, more than a hundred of them. If she wanted to get rough, the men she brought would not be enough to bring the professor away. Instead, she would be caught. Since the professor was fine, she decided to go back first and think of another way.

“Why is she leaving? Get her! I’m marrying her tonight!”

Sully quickly ordered his men to chase after Miru when he freed himself from Miru’s charms.

Slap!

Steve slapped his son’s head from the back. “Idiot, | am letting her go because this is just a warning to Alan Cunningham. | did not plan to go to war with them!”

Sully pursed his lips and gave up on the thought. He was still unhappy with the outcome.

He then turned to the professor and said, “Professor, you said disaster will befall our family. Is this it?”

He thought the backup Professor Whiteman had was Alan Cunningham.

Alan was a kingpin in Lilyrose but Steve was also a kingpin in Melrose, with even more experience and a stronger reputation. Professor Whiteman sighed. He knew his words could not penetrate Sully’s thick skull.

He turned to Steve and said, “Mr. Lee, | have said what | wanted to say. If you don’t want disaster to befall your family, you should send me back to Lilyrose immediately.”

Steve scoffed. "Professor, you better worry about yourself first. Since you like this place so much, why don't you stay for a few days? I'd like to see what kind of disaster would happen to our family and I want you to be a witness."

He then walked away. He was also a stubborn one. The more the professor threatened him, the more he decided to test it out. Back at Horizon Mirror Mansion, Darcy received a call and it changed her expression.

"What's wrong, Darcy? Got news from Melrose?" Agnes asked.

Hector and the others looked at her as well.

Darcy put the phone down and said helplessly, "Miru is at Melrose and saw Invincible Lee, but she was asked to leave."

"What? Then what about the professor?" Everyone was shocked that Miru was asked to leave!

Miru was the goddaughter of Alan Cummingham, the kingpin of Lilyrose! Darcy sighed. "The professor is fine. He's not hurt, but they are not letting him go either. Miru said she will think of another way and will be at Melrose for now."

"We have failed the professor. He came to treat Hector's legs but now he's taken away," Agnes cried.

Hector shook his head and sighed as well. Kaze reacted coldly when he heard Darcy's update.

Chapter 687 Shane's Message Kaze felt helpless because Darcy grounded him. Otherwise, he would have gone to Melrose to meet Steve in person.

With all options exhausted, he pulled out his phone to call Snow. "Tell Shane Blanc to talk to Steve Lee. Tell the man to send the professor back before dinner tonight."

"His son also hurt my in-laws at the hospital, so I want him to apologize to them. If they hurt the professor, the Lee family of Melrose will be erased for good." After he put down the phone, he realized the living room was exceptionally quiet. Everyone was looking at him strangely.

“Hahaha! Kaze, you are funny. Not even drunk Nelson would say something like that,” Agatha said as she cackled. Agnes wished she could escape the embarrassment.

“Kaze, the professor is taken away and you are still joking? Where is your conscience?!” she bellowed. “Kaze, it’s really inappropriate for you to say that!”

Even Darcy was mad.

“I know you guys don’t believe me, so just wait and see.”

Kaze was helpless.

On the other hand, Snow had contacted Shane and delivered Kaze’s message.

The news of the professor being taken made headlines in both cities.

When Shane got the call and found out that Kaze had to intervene, he was over the moon.

“Steve, o’ Steve. You have poked the hornet’s hive this time. Why would you mess with that person?”

He quickly calmed down and thought of a way to convey Kaze’s message while maximizing his benefits. He also wanted to lure Steve into a trap.

As rumored, Shane would have to visit Steve once in a while to pay respect.

For many years, Shane had looked up to Steve and referred all the city’s matters to him.

To the outside world, Shane and Steve were close.

Deep down, Shane never liked Steve and refused to live under the man's shadow... Moreover, Stéve was a stubborn and fierce man and he had treated Shane badly in the past.

He asked Shane to secure information but refused to pay after the service, and that was just one of the terrible things he did to Shane.

Shane had always dreamt of removing Steve from power. Now, he was finally given the chance.

After some meticulous consideration, Shane went to Steve's estate.

Miru was on standby near the estate and when she spotted Shane, she went up to him.

"Shane Blanc? You are here for the professor as well?"

"Madame Miu. I'm here to deliver a message to Invincible Lee and make him send the professor back by today." After the logistic park incident, Shane knew that Miru was Albert Hiden's cousin, so he tended to respect her. "Message? Whose message?" Miru was curious whose message was powerful enough to deter Steve. "Shane, Master Lee has agreed to meet."

Before Shane could explain, the guard opened the gate and invited him in.

"Madame Miru, I'll see you around."

Shane nodded as he walked in.

"I'll come with you."

Miru decided to follow Shane inside.

The guard hesitated for a moment but did not stop her.

Awhile later, they arrived at the lounge again. Steve, Sully, and the professor were all there.

“Shane, someone said our family will see a disastrous future. Are you the bringer of ill fate?” Sully teased Shane.

Shane had a glance at Steve. The man was sipping on his tea.

“Of course not. I am here to deliver a message to Master Lee.”

Chapter 688 VIP Is Invincible Lee Shane bowed.

“Master Lee, the person wanted me to tell you to send the professor back to Lilyrose before dinner tonight. At the same time, Sully and his men must go to Lilyrose’s Horizon Mirror Mansion and apologize to the couple that they hurt.

“If you hurt the professor, then the Lee family of Melrose will be erased.”

Professor Whiteman laughed when he heard Shane. He knew Kaze had intervened.

Miru frowned in confusion because she heard the same words from Kaze before.

She now realized that the important person who asked Shane to deliver the message to Steve was Kaze. As for Steve and Sully, they reacted terribly to Shane’s words.

“Shane, are you trying to mess with us?” Sully bolted up and shouted furiously.

Steve did not say a word.

Thump!

Shane knelt immediately and said, "Master Lee, those are not my words. | am just delivering the message and | did not alter the meaning of the message."

"Who is the person that asked you to deliver the message? I'll chop him up!" Sully shouted. "Shut up!"

Steve stopped his son from going on a rampage and then looked at Shane heavily. "Shane, who is the person that you are working for?"

"That person's name is Invincible Lee and he's in Lilyrose."

Shane looked up and paid close attention to Steve's expression.

The moment Steve heard the name 'Invincible Lee', his body shook and fear appeared in his eyes. Invincible Lee? The God of War?!

"Shane, you are messing with us, aren't you?! My father is Invincible Lee, who else dares to use that title?!" Sully was still furious.

Miru sighed after hearing Shane. She already knew what happened.

Kaze impersonated the God of War again.

"Miru, do you know this I-Invincible Lee?"

Steve was great at capturing reactions and he saw the unusual look on Miru's face. "| have never heard of him. Maybe it's a prank." Miru shook her head.

She disliked Kaze but for Darcy's sake, she did not want to hurt him either.

Shane was delighted because with Miru's denial, he did not even need to set the lure for his trap. "Invincible Lee of Lilyrose? I've heard of him before."

Suddenly, a voice sounded in a ridiculing manner.

It was Gregory from Sunrise City and he was striding into the lounge with his men.

When Miru was thrown out of the estate for the first time, Gregory knew it was time for them to intervene, so he came over from Sunrise City.

“Oh, Greg. You heard of this Invincible Lee before?” Steve asked with blinking eyes.

He and Gregory were around the same age.

“Of course. Everyone in Lilyrose heard of this person.”

Gregory scoffed. “Everyone in Lilyrose knows that this person likes to impersonate the God of War. The God of War’s name is Invincible Lee, and this person is trying to scare you with the name!” He then revealed Kaze’s identity to Steve.

He did not expect Kaze to impersonate the God of War in front of Steve.

Steve would surely retaliate and hunt Kaze down! As expected, Steve’s expression turned grim.

“Shane, who would have thought that the biggest underworld informant of Melrose would deliver false news?” He teased Shane.

“Master Lee, I...’

Shane looked bitter but deep down, he was thrilled. Gregory’s arrival assisted him in setting the trap.

He knew Steve would eventually suffer the consequences.

As expected, Steve got up on his feet and kicked Shane away.

“Go tell this Invincible Lee to come here before dinner and kneel before me, or else | will erase him from the face of the earth!”

Chapter 689 Embarrass the Lee Family

Shane was tossed out of the estate,

Miru tried defending Kaze but Steve rejected her as well.

“He dares to challenge me? Imbecile fool! No one can protect him now!” Steve was infuriated.

Auseless son-in-law of the Quints impersonated the God of War and made him look like a fool.

He almost became the joke of the city!

“Hahaha! Steve, that useless trash is but an ant that you can kill with one pinch, why so angry?” Gregory said with a bright laugh. Steve asked expressionlessly, “Greg, what are you doing here?”

“I am here for the professor. Steve, please let me take the professor back to Sunrise City, for the sake of the family.” Gregory even smiled at the professor.

Little did he know, Professor Whiteman was laughing at him inwardly when he called Kaze useless.

Professor Whiteman did not respond to his kindness at all.

“Take the professor away? No! No one is taking the professor away today!”

Gregory thought that once he helped Steve solve the problem, he would be able to take the professor away.

He did not expect the rejection at all.

Gregory's expression turned grim. “Steve, we are relatives, can't you just do us a favor?”

“So what if we are relatives?” Steve grunted and got up on his feet. He pointed at Gregory and said, “You really think I don't know? Sully took the professor here because you used him, and you strode in here and wanted to take him away? Who do you think I am?”

“Everyone knows that I have the professor and I'm wondering who can take him away from me! No, I am not letting you take him away today! I don't care if we are relatives. Your family in Sunrise City has no power here!”

Since the Sunrise Lees had used him, he ought to use them back to boost his reputation.

Gregory's expression turned bitter.

He did not expect Steve to turn on him, even if they were relatives.

Steve even exposed his little plan of using him to get the professor,

Now it would be even harder to ask the professor to heal Narian's legs, unless he put a knife at the professor's neck. "Steve, this isn't over! Just you watch!" Gregory left angrily.

He could not do anything to Steve at the moment.

"Professor, now that Gregory has left, I believe no one else would come to cause trouble anymore."

Steve laughed as he looked at the professor. "You can stay here without being disturbed."

Not only did he want the professor to treat his condition, but he also wanted to use the professor to erect a strong image. Professor Whiteman sighed. "Gregory Lee might be a bastard but he's right. Just you wait and watch."

The news spread like wildfire.

Professor Whiteman was taken away by Sully.

Leteria Group, Shane Blanc, and even the Sunrise Lees attempted to bring the professor away but were rejected and thrown out of the estate.

Both Melrose and Lilyrose were shocked by the news. "The kingpin is that arrogant? Can someone do something about him?"

"Even the Lees of the capital were rejected. Who else could do anything to him?" Everyone was indignant because someone as prestigious as the professor was taken away in broad daylight. O

It was wrong! Back in Horizon Mirror Mansion, Kaze received Shane's call. Shane updated Kaze of what happened.

“Master Lee, I have delivered the message but Steve Lee said you have to go there and kneel before him before dinner, or else he will erase you from the face of the earth...”

Chapter 690 Watch and Learn

“Oh? He said that?” Kaze scoffed.

“I see. I understand.”

Kaze then hung up the phone.

Darcy then came over with a pale look.

“Kaze, I grounded you but it seems like I have to seal your mouth too.” She glared at Kaze.

“What's wrong, Darcy?” Agnes asked.

“He really told Shane to deliver the message. He’s impersonating the God of War again, and now Steve Lee wanted him to be there before dinner to apologize!” Darcy said helplessly.

“Kaze, are you trying to get yourself killed? Even if you want to save the professor, you don’t need to impersonate the God of War again. When would you learn?” Agnes twisted Kaze’s ear.

“Agnes, I really have no idea how you deal with such a freak.”

Agatha did not expect Kaze to really do it either.

“What are you going to do now? Saving the professor is troublesome enough and now you are wanted as well. What are you going to do?!”

Agnes angrily poked Kaze on the chest. Kaze said, “What else? Steve Lee wanted me to be there, so let me go there and meet him.” He sounded casual and nonchalant, which infuriated Agnes even more.

“Do you know what is happening? You really think Steve Lee would let you go after you delivered yourself to him? He isn’t even afraid of the Lee family of the capital!”

She then looked at Darcy. “Darcy, what did Miru say? Will Steve Lee forgive Kaze if he apologizes?”

Kaze was the one who brought the professor back to treat Hector’s legs, which made a good impression on Agnes. Agnes appreciated his effort and she did not want anything to happen to him either.

“Miru said Kaze should go there first and she’ll help however she can. She won’t let them hurt him.”

Darcy then gave Kaze the car key. “You can go to Melrose now. I want to go with you but Miru said I should stay home. She said Steve’s son, Sully, is a pervert and my presence might cause unwanted trouble.”

“Alright. Just wait for me to come back for dinner.”

Kaze was finally free. He grabbed the keys and went off.

“He’s still thinking about having dinner? He better make sure Steve Lee will forgive him!” Agnes was having a headache. She did not know how Kaze could think about dinner now. Kaze drove to Melrose and at the same time called Albert.

“Move out!”

When Albert got the news, he already contacted Kaze and was on standby, ready to deploy his men to Melrose to level out Steve's estate.

“Yes, Sir! Johnny Tsuda of Armored One Battalion is ready for deployment,” Albert said strongly. Kaze arrived at Melrose after a while. “Kaze, why can’t you change your bad habit? | am thinking how to save the professor and you just have to make things worse.”

The moment Miru saw him, she scolded him.

“Who made things worse? You are the one giving me trouble.”

Kaze sighed and said, “Look at you, being arrogant and stuff but you can’t even deal with Steve and got thrown out. If you are more capable, | wouldn't have to come to Melrose myself.”

Kaze believed it was time to make Miru stronger so that she could carry out her duties better.

Her influence in Lilyrose was strong but not enough when she left the city. “Kaze, how dare you blame me!”

Miru was upset and furious that Kaze blamed her instead.

“Cut the nonsense. Watch and learn how | deal with this Steve Lee.”

Kaze did not want to waste time with her since Albert was already at the scene. Albert and the Armored One Battalion had arrived.

He saw Kaze standing in front of the estate, so he pointed at the signage with Steve’s name on it.

“Take down that signage!”