Chapter 731 Top Three Families' Current Situation

After the top three families were stripped of their power and status, the respective family heads, who could shake the city up with just a sneeze, retired from the scene.

It had just been a few days since then but they looked ten years older. They looked dispirited and less energetic than before. They stood before Kaze with lowered heads and reverence.

Kaze looked at them. "The three of you really did it this time. I confiscated all of your assets but you three still hid something from me. Thump! All three family heads knelt immediately, shuddering in fear.

Sky, Rose, and Landon were stunned when they saw them on their knees. Why would the three family heads be so afraid of Kaze?

"Mr. Lee, we are terribly sorry! We didn't mean to keep it from you."

"With previous experience from Quintessential Group and Shangrila Group, all three of us were afraid of our families being wiped out, so we set up an escrow for Golden Edge a year ago.

Quintessential Group was annexed and Shangrila Group was wiped out. This happened. because the top three families were behind them.

They learned from their experiences and started to segregate a portion of their assets as an insurance to prevent the same from happening to either of them.

Golden Edge was one of the segregated assets.

“You three really know how to play this game well. Even if all three of you had your companies and assets annexed and divided like Quintessential Group, the hidden wealth you control will still be enough for you to make a comeback without any real damage.”

Kaze scoffed. “What happened in the end?”

All three family heads reacted bitterly.

In the end, others took advantage of them after their decline. Winston was nothing but a dog that they had on a leash.

When the top three families fell, the dog turned on his masters.

Even though the top three families still had shares in Golden Edge, Winston sold them off as if they were his own, hoping that he could secure a new support and backup for himself.

Winston even threatened the three of them to stay out of this or else he would call his friends from the underworld to teach them a lesson.

The three family heads were helpless about it because they had even more terrible things to deal with in the past few days.

“Mr. Lee, even the street thugs slapped me and tried to extort us for money. Frank’s legs were amputated and we don’t have money left. We can’t even afford medicine and he has been suffering in bed. He even wanted to take his own life to free himself from the torment,” Flint explained as tears rolled down his cheeks.

“The Everia family also experienced the worst. My grandson is only a hundred days old but we can’t even afford milk powder. All of us squeezed in a small house and we can’t afford gas,” Edward cried.

even

Belarus sobbed and said, "I tried to find a toilet washing job but when they found out who I am, they beat me up and laughed at me. They even tell me to sell my granddaughter away..

In just a few days, the three family heads experienced a living hell. They no longer had power in Lilyrose. Kaze did not order revenge

Sky clenched his fists.

Winnie teared up.

They thought of the terrible days they lived through. "Mr. Lee, we know what we did wrong."

"We are greedy and do not have principles."

"We only know how great our lives were after we experienced the worst."

The three family heads cried and repented their sins.

Chapter 732 Crowdfund

“Stop thinking about the luxurious life. If you help me buy Golden Edge, I'll let you live a normal life. Get up,” Kaze said, The top three families were no longer in power but they were not completely out of the game.

Whether they could make a comeback depended on the young ones.

“Mr. Lee! Thank you for your kindness and generosity! We will do whatever we can!”

The three family heads bowed repeatedly as tears and snot smeared their faces. Compared to their current situation, living a normal life was considered a blessing already. “Winston, has Kaze started eating?”

When Winston came into the meeting room, Harry, who was also eating ice cream, asked about Kaze.

All fifteen young masters, Yume, Juno, and her friends who came by later, were having ice creams in an air-conditioned environment whereas Kaze had to finish a refrigerator of ice cream under the harsh sun.

They were enjoying themselves while Kaze was suffering.

“He’s eating, he’s eating. He wants to come in and ask for your forgiveness. He must be eating now.” Winston nodded and flattered them.

He could not afford to mess with even one of them.

“Awhole refrigerator of ice cream, | bet it looked good!” Juno said viciously.

It was his idea to put Kaze under the sun with a refrigerator of ice cream.

Harry chuckled. "I think we shouldn't tell him to finish it. Even if he didn't die from it, he'd be half dead when he comes up. How are we going to play with him then?"

"Yeah. He slapped Yume, which is an unforgivable sin! We cannot just let him go so easily!"

The other young masters agreed.

"Why don't we go down and have a look? | want to see how he eats all that ice cream." Lyn suggested with her arms crossed. "The contract is ready. Let's sign the contract first before we go down. We still have like three hours."

Harry continued, "We agreed to form a new company to acquire Golden Edge where Yume will be the chairwoman and we will be the board members. We will each give Yume a portion of the shares."

The other young masters nodded in agreement.

It was the result of a compromise.

Each of them had the thought of acquiring Golden Edge and gave it to Yume as a gift so that they could beat the other admirers. However, no matter how rich their families were, they were not allowed to spend billions to acquire a mall to give it to Yume. Besides, neither one of them had that much money, so they had to work together and crowdfund the new company.

In addition, they asked their families for the money as an investment, so they could only give Yume a portion of their shares.

“How romantic! They are acquiring Golden Edge for you! Yume, you are so lucky!” Lyn said with glimmering eyes and overflowing jealousy.

Yume was rather quiet and cold, which was unusual.

She shook her head and said, “I can’t just take the shares without doing anything. The Vinland family has agreed to purchase your shares and everyone can be equals.”

It was her father’s suggestion. With that, the Vinlands would have a common goal with the other wealthy families. If this venture could go well, it might be the start of a massive alliance of wealthy and powerful families.

Winston had an extra glance at Yume. He somehow felt she was completely different from yesterday.

She was no longer the arrogant and unreasonable woman at the mall entrance yesterday.

“Haha, I’m okay with that but Yume has to be the chair

The others nodded and decided to sign the contract. Soon, the freshly signed contract was ready.

“Yume, you have to sign the contract as well. We will ma fae idiabpayy for at heidte yeu ésterday,” said one of the young masters. The “Alright.” Yume picked up the pen and signed her name on the contract as well.

“Hahaha, now that the contract is signed, the deal is aled. Weown Calientes ime owns Golden Edge now!” The “Shangrila Group is nothing but nonsense! How dare they flaunt their wealth in front of us?” Everyone laughed. Even Yume had a smile on her face.

Bang!

Suddenly, someone kicked open the meeting room's door.

“Bunch of useless fools. You have to crowdfund to acquire Golden Edge? What good are you people?”

Chapter 733 | Am Speaking to Your Master

Harry and the other young masters' laughter froze. Lyn and Juno's smiles froze.

Yume's grin froze.

Even Winston's flattering smile froze.”

They all spent three billion in acquiring Golden Edge, which was considered a huge acquisition that would spark discussions in the investment world.

Yet someone laughed at them for crowdfunding.

What kind of crowdfunding could get three billion?

All of them were upset by what they heard.

They turned to the door with furious glares, wondering who had the nerve to challenge them and laugh at them.

“Kaze Lee?!”

Yume narrowed her eyes fiercely.

If not for her admirers, which she had to maintain her image in front of them, she would have jumped on Kaze and bit his face off.

“Kaze Lee! How dare you appear in front of us?!”

Lyn and Juno were furious as well.

“Kaze Lee?”

Harry and the others reacted coldly.

He then asked Winston, “Hey, you! | thought you said he’s eating ice cream outside. Why is he here?”

“Kaze Lee?! How did in? let you in? You didn’t listen to me? Did you take my warning seriously?”
Winston was furious and upset as he charged up to Kaze.

“No.”

“You!”

Winston glared at Kaze.

Kaze looked at him coldly and said, "Move aside. I'm talking to your masters."

"Kaze Lee!"

Winston Lee was furious that Kaze disrespected him.

"You, move aside!"

Harry then stared at Kaze. "I don't care how you get in, but now that you are here, don't even think about leaving. Who gave you the confidence to laugh at us for crowdfunding?"

"Money."

Kaze strutted in and said, "I am buying Golden Edge for my goddaughter, yet you people can't even get enough money to buy a gift for the woman you want to sleep with. So stay out of this and stop embarrassing yourself."

He showed unprecedented dominance, which surprised Sky and Rose who followed him in.

They did not even know him anymore.

He called all the young masters useless in their faces.

If the news got out, it would shake the city.

"Nonsense!"

"All of us here are from powerful families with unimaginable wealth. What gives you the right to laugh at us?" "Golden Edge is just three billion, it's nothing to us."

The young masters felt challenged and tried to argue with him.

With more than a hundred billion in assets, they were qualified to be considered wealthy and powerful at state-level.

Even the newer families like the Lees had about twenty billion in assets, let alone those with a longer history.

Yet they were being mocked by Kaze in terms of wealth. They could not tolerate such humiliation.

Kaze pointed at Harry. "If three billion isn't a problem, c quyaloné ¥5tk opst ee

Harry stammered. He could not fork out the money alone.

No matter how rich his family was, they would never let him spend three billion on wooing a woman.

"Can you?"

Kaze pointed at Lambert.

Lambert scoffed. "The Webbers have a "on history. Three

"So no." Kaze then pointed at "What about you?" kept quiet.

He was the CFO of Maple Corporation and had access to al large sum of money to him but he was unable to fork out that much money alone. The Kaze pointed at the rest of the young masters and all of them were silenced.

“None of you have the money, but I do. If that doesn’t make all of you useless, what are you?” Kaze then signaled Winnie. “Winnie, sign the contract.”

“Sign what contract? I am not selling Golden Edge to you!”

Winston finally seized the chance to speak. He stared at Kaze and scoffed. “I have the shares, so I decide who to sell to!”

“Kaze, forget about it! The contract has been signed. You are too late!” Lyn scoffed with delight. “Yeah!”

Winston took the contract and waved it in front of Kaze. “See this? Ms. Vinland already signed her name on it. The ink is still wet! I’m not selling to you! What can you do about it?”

Everyone was amused by Winston’s exaggerated expressions and movements when he teased Kaze, especially considering his large physique.

Winston finally felt relief after being ridiculed and disrespected by Kaze earlier.

“Let me have a look.”

Kaze reached out to the contract.

Winston scoffed and handed him the contract.

“No need to look at it anymore. The contract is in effect. There’s nothing you can do even if you read it a thousand times.” Everyone in the room laughed at him.

“What nonsense is this?”

Kaze tore the contract in half and threw it on the floor.

Winston was infuriated. “What is the meaning of this?! You tore the contract? You really think tearing it will void the contract?” “Dumb ass!”

Harry and the others laughed at him.

“Winston Carter, the shares of Golden Edge still belong to the three of us. You are just an escrowee, a nominal one. Your contract isn’t even valid from the start!”

Then, the three family heads came in.

Winston was stunned before his expression turned grim. “You three old geezers, how dare you show up in front of me? Do you want to die?!”

“One word from me and all three of you will suffer ten thousand times worse than now! The young masters have my back. If you dare to challenge me, you three are dead!”

Winston used to be loyal to the three family heads but now he disrespected them. “Them?”

The three family heads looked at Harry and the other young masters. They scoffed. “They are no one. Like how we used to be, they are a bunch of fools who do not know who they are messing with.”

The young masters were simply courting death by messing with Kaze.

Flint, Edward, and Belarus could already picture the scene where the young masters' families came forward to bow and kneel before Kaze.

In just a few more days, there would be a dozen more wealthy families who ended up like them.

"Why are you talking to a dog? Do your job," Kaze said.

"Yes, Mr. Lee."

The three family heads nodded and then looked at Winston. "We are now canceling you as our escrowee and we are selling the shares to Mr. Lee!"

"Don't you dare!" Winston shouted.

"Why can't we? We even got people from the court here."

Belarus signaled the officer from the court.

"Mr. Carter, the shares wate supervision haya heerttakén ack."

A piece of document was shown to Winston by the court officer.

"You old geezers! You are messing with the wrong people!"

No matter how loud Winston shouted, he could not change the outcome. "Sign it."

Kaze nodded at Winnie.

Winnie then signed the contract with the three family heads in front of everyone. He

“From now on, Golden Edge belongs to my goddaughter.”

Kaze took the contract and blew the ink dry. He then

Harry and the others glared at Kaze.

Their cheeks flushed due to excessive anger.

Wasted their printing cost?

How much could printing the contract cost?

Kaze was obviously mocking them!

They came from all over the country, and did all those things to snatch Golden Edge away but their efforts fell short in the end. Acquiring Golden Edge and humiliating Shangrila Group, everything became a big fat joke! “You stupid dog! You tried to sell the shares that are not yours? Just you wait!”

“Young Master Harry, no! It’s not like that. I have to deal with the old geezers! Just give me some time, I’ll get my gangster friends to get rid of them!”

Winston pointed at the three family heads and shouted, “You three old geezers, just you. wait!”

Flint, Edward, and Belarus simply scoffed at him.

With Kaze on their side, no one would dare to touch them.

Kaze laughed when he heard Winston. “Winston Carter, I have no idea what you have been doing in Lilyrose all these years.” “What do you mean?”

Winston glared at Kaze furiously. He hated Kaze to his core.

Kaze said with a smile, “Everyone knows that my wife and Miru Scarlet are BFFs and you claimed you want to get your gangster friends to get rid of the three family heads in front of me?”

He did not reveal that even Miru worked under his orders because no one would believe him, so he mentioned Darcy instead. 1/3

Winston's expression shifted when he heard Kaze.

Cronus had escaped from the city and Alan Cunningham had retired, so Miru became the only kingpin in Lilyrose.

In addition, she even took over Steve Lee’s position in Melrose a few days ago.

Miru became the strongest woman in the underworld of both cities.

Winston dared not mess with her at all.

Kaze then called Alan, "Alan, release the news. If anyone dares to trouble the Everia, Golding, and Chapman families, tell them to disappear from Lilyrose on their own."

"Thank you, Mr. Lee! Thank you so much!" The three family heads bowed and thanked Kaze for his mercy. With Kaze's words, the three families would be able to live a normal life.

Even though they could never return to their luxurious lives because they had offended Kaze and caused James' death, being able to live a normal life was great enough.

"You can go now."

Kaze signaled the three of them, sending them back.

Winston petrified. His eyes glued to Kaze as his body shook violently. His eyes showed nothing but fear.

Kaze behaved confidently and exerted dominance the moment he stepped in. He was able to overwhelm all the young masters single-handedly.

Winston was moved. Could it be that Kaze was more powerful than all the young masters combined? Clap! Clap! Clap!

Harry slowly clapped all of a sudden and looked at Kaze with praise.

"Not bad. Three billion and you didn't even flinch. You commanciis m underwerigyiked's Jobrown biekVard. Kaze Lee, | have underestimated you." The

"You still have to apologize to Yume for slapping her yesterday!"

The other young masters looked at Kaze coldly.

The contempt in their eyes was brazen.

All of them were from powerful and wealthy families, and their families were extremely influential in their respective cities. Even politicians, famous businessmen, and gangster bosses were afraid of the elders of their families.

The young masters had met many influential figures. Kaze's little show did not deter them at all.

"Kaze Lee, you can't just slap Yume and get away with it. For should art slapping urself ten tikadd and we'll talk about your real punishment." The

Chapter 736 Bully

"Slap yourself ten times to entertain Yume first."

“Who do you think you are? How dare you slap Yume?”

“Ten slaps is just a game. If we don’t destroy you today, we will be wasting our time to come here.” “If you don’t do it, we will crush you. You know how powerful we are. Each of us can single- handedly crush you.” The young masters threatened Kaze.

They came here to avenge Yume and they would not just walk away with just ten slaps from Kaze.

Like they said, it would be a waste of their time if they did not destroy Kaze.

Sky did not expect the young masters would still target Kaze after he bought Golden Edge. Seeing the ferocious looks and murderous intent on them, Sky’s face turned pale.

“You people are simply taking advantage of us because of your family background!”

Rose shouted at them as she wiped her tears away.

“Even without our family background, we all have a better academic level, capabilities, and influence than him. Either one of us can easily beat him, he’s not even in our league.”

“Who gave him the nerve to hit the woman | like?”

“A useless shit like him only knows how to raise his hand at a woman. He hit Yume, which makes him trash among men!” Harry and the others scoffed at Kaze.

then let me tell you what happened last

“If all of you blamed Kaze for hitting a woman, then let me tell night.”

Winnie stepped up and explained what happened last night. She could not bear watching the young masters mock Kaze.

After the explanation, she questioned them, “She knocked my daughter down and didn’t even apologize. Because of an ice cream, she wanted to slap me in the face.

“My daughter and I are women too and Kaze was protecting us. He stood up for us. He did nothing wrong! If you think he did something wrong, then I have nothing to say. It seems like the young masters of the wealthy families don’t have any manners.”

Winnie had always been a timid person due to the pressure in life. She had gotten used to tolerating injustice to avoid conflict, yet she decided to step up and speak up with harsh words.

It surprised Kaze.

Juno argued, “Shut up, woman! Who knocked your daughter over?” “Didn't you apologize to my daughter last night?”

Winnie silenced Juno with a single sentence.

“Shut up, bitch. Your daughter got ice cream on Yume’s dress! Do you know how expensive the dress is? It’s more than two hundred thousand! Yet you didn’t apologize, that’s why I have to slap you,” Lyn shouted.

Winnie argued, “Dynasty Hotel has surveillance footage, why don’t we bring it here?”

Lyn pursed her lips in silence.

Some of the young masters were silenced, but most of them were embarrassed

“I don’t care what happened. It’s Kaze’s fault for slapping Yume!”

“Yume is kind, she’s never calculative. She’s just protecting a friend that’s why she chose the Kafsher words. Kaze resolved in violence, so he must give us a Satisfying answer today!” The “Slap yourself ten times and we’ll talk!”

“You better think of the consequences of messing with us all!”

Harry and the young masters pointed at Kaze, forcing him to slap himself.

Juno and Lyn scoffed wickedly.

Yume barely spoke today. She maintained her icy cold image in front of her admirers. She looked at Kaze blankly but the delight in her eyes gave it away.

Kaze smiled. “A bunch of useless guys trying to be Chapter 737 Equal Rights The young masters reacted grimly when Kaze called them useless.

“Yeah, we are taking advantage of you. Either one of us can crush you like an ant. It’s your honor to have us all here to bully you like a boy!”

“Slap yourself, don’t talk nonsense! We’ll destroy you today!”

Harry and the others continued to mock and looked down on Kaze. Lyn and Juno urged him to stop wasting time.

Yume maintained her icy goddess image by staying quiet.

“Yume Vinland, do you remember what | said yesterday?”

Kaze looked at her and started walking to her.

Yume frowned and did not understand his question.

“Kaze, stop wasting time. No one can save you now! Slap yourself!” Lyn and Juno continued to urge him.

Kaze ignored them and went up to Yume. “I said yesterday that | would slap you in front of your admirers. Have you forgotten about it already?”

As he spoke, he grabbed Yume by the collar. “What are you doing?!” Yume shouted in panic.

She did not expect Kaze to be so bold. She had more than fifteen admirers on her side, all extremely wealthy and powerful, yet Kaze dared to be physical with her.

Before she could react, she was already seized by the collar.

No matter how she struggled, she could not break free.

“You idiot! Let go of Yume! If you lay a finger on her again, I'll crush you and your family!” Lyn and Juno shouted as they went up to Kaze, trying to push him away.

“Get off me!”

Kaze performed a low kick and tripped the two of them.

“Kaze Lee, let go of Yume now! If you touch her, I'll wreck you!” Harry said loudly with obvious threats in his words. Kaze looked at him before he threw a slap at Yume's face.

Slap!

Yume cried in shock

Her fair cheek was turned red by the slap mark

The room was silenced.

No one thought Kaze would slap Yume after Harry threatened him.

Harry shuddered angrily.

Not only did Kaze physically slap Yume, but he also embarrassed Harry in front of everyone. It was a blatant provocation!

“Kaze Lee!”

Harry shouted angrily, “I assure you no one can save you now! I'll fucking wreck you! You have no idea what the Lokeman family can do!”

Slap!

Kaze slapped Yume again on the other side as if he was replying to Harry's threats. “WHAT THE FUCK ARE YOU DOING?!”

Harry lost his mind.

The other young masters were astonished and baffled as well.

Some of them went up to Kaze.

“Kaze, let go of Yume! Don’t challenge our patience, or else...”

Slap!

Kaze slapped Yume one more time.

The young masters were heavily provoked. No one had ever disrespected them like this. “Kaze, calm down. Let Yume go.

Micheal changed a softer approach and continued, “You should know this will only put you in a difficult situation with us. There's no benefit...”

Slap!

The answer Micheal got was another slap on Yume’s face.

All the young masters zipped their mouths this time. ly Yurde’s dies cpuld peheard ffi the The

Some of the young masters agreed to let Kaze go, but their eyes were still burning with the flames of rage. It was just a way to stall and trick Kaze to free Yume.

The moment Yume was freed, they would jump on him and rip him apart.

"Let

time go? Won't come after me?"

Kaze scoffed. "How arrogant. Who allowed a bunch of useless trash like you people to speak to me like that?" He slapped Yume again.

"You!"

The young masters were agitated and scared.

They did not expect such stubbornness from Kaze.

They already softened their tone and showed signs of a peaceful retreat, yet Kaze slapped Yume again.
“Okay! Okay! We were being rude! Stop, and we'll apologize!”

Harry forced a smile on his face and tried his best to express his intention.

“Apologize?” Kaze looked askance at him.

Micheal said, “What are your terms? Name them.”

“You said it.” Kaze grinned.

“All of you, go out and stand under the sun for three hours and eat as much ice cream as you can.”

“Not going to happen. Anything goes wrong and we might be dead,” Micheal argued. They did the same to Kaze just because they wanted to humiliate him.

Now, Kaze demanded the same.

The others glared at him, refusing to accept his terms.

“So, you people are trying to get me killed?”

He slapped Yume again.

“Stop slapping Yume! What does she have to do with this? It was our idea!” Harry shouted.

Kaze scoffed. “All of you are young masters from powerful families, who | cannot afford to mess with, so | didn’t slap either of you. That’s why I slap Yume. Since | slapped her before, one or two more slaps don’t matter.”

Slapped her before?!

Harry, Micheal, and the others were infuriated. They refused to believe Kaze was afraid of them. He was blatantly mocking them.

“Enough!”

Suddenly, Zephyr raised his voice.

He had been rather quiet since Kaze came in but he finally decided to step out. He looked at Kaze and said, “I am Zephyr Farland, my father is Loid Farland, governor of the South River

State.”

“Loid Farland? Hmmm, I’ve heard of his name but | have never seen him before,” Kaze said after a quick ponder. The others scoffed.

Kaze made it sound like he could see the governor whenever he wanted.

Zephyr frowned but he did not want to be calculative. He said, “Release Yume and walk away. | assure you that Harry and the others won't come after you.

Harry and the others grunted but did not argue or disagree with him. As the governor's son, Zephyr's words carried weight.

Slap!

Yume was slapped again. Zephyr's expression turned gloomy.

Kaze looked at him. "You seemed to have misunderstood, something his 1st place winner should be the

It was because of Zephyr's wrong use of words that Kaze slapped Yume again. All the young masters were running out of patience.

Kaze took great advantage of them.

Zephyr said expressionlessly, "Let Yume go and we will walk."

"I don't believe either one of you," Kaze said.

He slapped Yume again.

Yume had lost her mind after the consecutive slaps. She shouted and struggled. » Aaaaar } é Lee, you piece of fuck! I'll fuck you up! I'll wreck you! The Yume screamed and cursed Kaze loudly.

She dropped her frosty image and cried like a wretched hag.

Even Zephyr and the others frowned at her sudden change of behavior.

They understood that she was furious and agitated but the words that came out of her mouth were entirely different from her usual personality.

“Finally, she stripped her disguise.”

Kaze scoffed. “Do you know why | keep slapping you? | want your admirers to see your true nature.”

He slapped her two more times before he released Yume.

“Finally, ten slaps.”

Kaze tapped his hands and then looked at Harry and the others, who were still infuriated. “ You people want me to slap myself ten times, so | slapped Yume ten times. Happy now?” Harry, Micheal, Zephyr, and the others reacted grimly.

Yume was on the floor, screaming like a witch.

“Kaze Lee! You fuck! Your wife’s grandfather and his family had changed their names to Vinland. | will torture them every single day and let them know what it’s like being a Vinland’s dog!”

“Oh, then | have to thank you for that,” Kaze said with a smile.

“Then I'll go after your wife!” Yume screamed.

Kaze looked at her blankly. “If you want to die, go ahead.”

“You, you,

and

you. Bring Yume to the hospital and get her checked.”

Harry pointed at Lyn, Juno, and a few more of them and ordered them to take Yume away. No one dared to defy him, so they quickly brought the crying Yume away.

Kaze glanced at him. “So why are you people still here?”

“We are not leaving before we crush you!” Harry said fiercely.

The others agreed with him.

“Harry, step aside.”

Hank extended his strong hand and moved Harry to the side to seize the front spot. Harry grunted.

“What's wrong? Not happy about it? Suck it up!”

Hank said without even looking at Harry, “You useless shit. You’ve been playing with him for so long and he’s still fine. I said it before, it’s better to use your fist to deal with this kind of simple-minded retard than to use your words. Beat him to his knees and he’ll submit.”

He then rolled his sleeve up and stared at Kaze.

Hank was taller and stronger than the others. Even his shirt could barely contain his bulging muscles underneath. His veins were visible across his arm. He looked fierce and tough.

Someone else nodded. “Yeah, Hank's right. Get him, Hank! We'll deal with him later!”

“The retard looks like he can fight too. Can you deal with him?” Harry asked.

Since they were all love rivals, there was no way they would wish each other well.

many times do you think you'll have left after I am done?" The

"No!"

Sky and Rose were horrified.

Suddenly, Hank's phone rang.

He frowned and decided to answer his phone first.

After a brief moment, he hung up the phone and pointed at Kaze. "Consider yourself lucky today) the venue right now. When I get through the selection, I'll come after you!" The Chapter 740 Preliminaries Everyone waited for Hank to punch Kaze but he left in a hurry after a phone call. No one understood what kind of selection was more important than avenging Yume.

"Selection? I heard the Lilyrose Strategic Department is selecting soldiers to be sent to foreign battlefields. All the ace soldiers from different strategic departments wanted to join, but there were only so many slots."

"My cousin who served the Spec Ops Team for many years didn't even get a slot, but Hank got it?!"

Harry looked at Hank in surprise.

Hank said proudly without looking back, "How hard is it to get a slot in the preliminaries? Your cousin is useless."

Harry grunted but he did not argue.

Hank served the main Spec Ops Team of the South River Strategic Department. He served directly under the highest command. Those who were given a slot in the preliminaries were all ace soldiers.

Hank was able to secure his position among the elites and he even became a team leader, not just a common soldier.

He was more capable than he looked.

"Hank, if you can get through the preliminaries and the other rounds, you can get recommended to serve on the foreign battlefield. You'll be famous then!"

"Yeah, I heard the preliminaries are different from previous years. It's unusual because the God of War ordered it himself. Once you qualify, it means you serve directly under him! You'll surely see a bright future!"

The other young masters were jealous. "Albert Hiden is a great example."

Even Zephyr, who was confident a moment ago, sighed. He said, "Albert Hiden trained directly under the God of War and achieved many war merits. With such experience, he easily became the chief commander of the South River Strategic Department at such a young age. He sat in the same row as my father during important council meetings."

The others were more jealous than ever.

Even though they were from wealthy families, they dared not fantasize anything about the military or Albert. However, Hank had the opportunity.

Kaze heard the young masters and he frowned.

“Who told you that you will have a bright future once you get selected for foreign battlefield? Who told you that Albert Hiden became the chief commander because he trained under the God of War?”

Kaze was unhappy with their misconception. Albert fought bravely on the foreign battlefield and was a constant challenger of death.

His body was covered by scars. His badges were merits and proof that he served his country, which also strengthened his foundation as a chief commander.

No one should question him, yet someone had a different opinion about his hard work.

People were saying that Albert became chief commander because of Kaze.

It was an insult to Albert and Kaze himself.

The young masters did not expect Kaze to argue with them on this particular topic and sounded overbearing. They all looked at him strangely.

Harry scoffed. “What do you know, you useless shit! This is common sense in our circle. Too bad my cousin didn’t get the slot or else he would have a chance as well.”

“Do you know how massive this selection is? Not only Lilyrose Strategic Department but even other strategic departments competed fiercely for a slot in the preliminaries. Everyone knew this would be a great chance to change their fate completely!” Micheal added.

"I'm driving to the base."

Hank just completed a call before looking at Kaze and scoffed. "What are you guys arguing with a narrow-minded idiot? Only a few who have the privilege can know the truth. He obviously doesn't know about it yet.

"I have to maintain my best shape, and I don't have time to take care of you, I'll come back and teach you a lesson!" you. When I'm
