Chapter 821 Paddington Bear

Zenny resented Kaze.

Speaking of Kaze's name made his expression bitter.

Hudson nodded. "Very well, I'll realize your dream. Do you have any idea how to get Winnie Souffle and her daughter?" Zenny pondered. He might have a way to trick Winnie but Brenda was never close with him.

If he asked Winnie to bring Brenda along, Winnie might suspect something.

Therefore, he had to go after Brenda first.

"Master Hudson, Winnie's daughter is attending kindergarten at Golden Sun Kindergarten and it's time for me as a father to pick her up from school," Zenny said wickedly.

Hudson waved and told his men to bring Zenny away.

When Camry went to the kindergarten to pick up his granddaughter, he saw Zenny coming out with the girl. Brenda looked timid, seemingly afraid of Zenny.

"Zenny?"

Camry was surprised to see Zenny picking up Brenda for the first time.

"Camry, I'm here to pick Brenda up. Just leave it to me."

"Oh, okay..."

Camry watched as Zenny took Brenda away.

On second thought, he decided to call Winnie to inform her of the unusual scene. "Zenny! I didn't tell you to pick Brenda up!"

Winnie called Zenny as soon as she found out.

"Winnie, I have never been a responsible father ever since you married me. Why don't we go watch the new Paddington Bear movie with her? I bought tickets.

He added sincerely, "Come, we are waiting for you in the parking lot of Ginza Mall. You know, Brenda doesn't like me that much, and she's afraid of me. I think you should be with her."

Winnie did not realize Zenny's ulterior motive. She simply thought Zenny had started to change for good and agreed to meet him.

"Ms. Souffle, the chairman told us to stay with you to keep you safe."

The security guards, who were veteran soldiers, followed Winnie when she left the office.

Soon, two cars arrived at Ginza Mall's underground parking lot. Winnie quickly located Zenny's car.

"Mommy!"

The window wound down and Brenda happily waved her hand at Winnie.

Winnie went over and got into the car, but then she realized the driver was a stranger, which alarmed her. "Zenny, who is this?"

Zenny did not answer. He wound up the window and isolated her from the outside world.

The driver then drove the car off.

"Zenny, what are you doing? Where are you taking us? | thought we were going to the movies!" Winnie shouted.

She tried to open the door but it was locked.

"Yes, we are going to the movies but not here. It's Bear."

Zenny grinned wickedly.

"Zenny, you bastard!"

Winnie tried to call for help but Zenny snatched her phone and slapped her. "Aaaa! The bad guy hit Mommy!" Brenda cried.

"Shut up, you little bitch, or I'll slap you as well!"

Zenny poked Brenda in the forehead and then said to Winnie, Tying

Winnie hugged Brenda tightly to protect her.

“Zenny, you bastard! Your father is gone and you lost ie house. If not for Kaze giving met Bipbd wouldn't pay your upid debt! You and your mother almost got killed by the loan sharks and you are still trying to hurt him? You ungrateful bastard!”

Chapter 822 Winnie and Brenda in Danger

“Hmph! Look at you defending him and shit. | know you let him get under your pants and | don't want his money! He fucked my wife and made me look like a fool! I'll skin him alive if | have the chance!” Zenny bellowed with the most ferocious look.

“Y—You sick bastard! Kaze and | are clean!”

“| don't care whatever he sticks inside you anymore! | want him dead today and before he dies, |'ll make him kneel before me!” Meanwhile, the soldiers escorting Winnie had noticed the commotion inside the car.

“Someone is trying to abduct Ms. Souffle. Stop the car!”

Just as the soldiers wanted to stop Zenny's car, several other cars rammed into their car and stopped them on the spot. The doors opened and a group of thugs, armed with metal pipes, came down.

Clank!

These metal pipes were dragged across the asphalt road, causing irritating clanks.

The leader of the group was Kurt Ulanzi.

Angered, the soldiers got rid of the thugs in the shortest time possible but the car carrying Winnie and Brenda had gone off. “Where did you people take Ms. Souffle?!”

The captain stomped on Kurt's chest.

Kurt spat blood and forced a bloody grin on his face. “Master Hudson wanted them at Wuthering Pavilion. If Kaze Lee wants to save them from the Twin Ghosts, he must be there in an hour. And don’t call the police or Lefteria Group!”

Thump!

The captain kicked Kurt in the face, knocking him out.

“Call Sophie and tell her to inform the chairman about this.”

Soon, Kaze received a call from Sophie about the abduction.

“Hudson Vinland!”

Kaze was furious when he learned what happened.

He had arranged for the soldiers to keep Winnie and Brenda safe yet Hudson was able to get to them through Zenny.

Once Winnie and Brenda fell into the hands of the Twin Ghosts, the outcome would be unimaginable. Kaze went out of the house with murderous intent.

“Darcy, | saw Kaze walk out of the house. | thought Miru said we shouldn't go out for the next two days.” Rose went to Darcy with what she saw.

Darcy's expression changed and immediately called Kaze.

Kaze was busy talking to Albert, so he did not answer her call.

“What's going on?”

Darcy was worried.

Then, Miru called. “Darcy, I just received news that Winnie and her daughter were taken away by Kurt Ulanzi and his men, like minutes ago. Hudson Vinland has started to come after you and the people around you. You better keep Kaze at home and don't let him go out.”

“No!”

Darcy's face turned pale. “Kaze just went out. Hudson Vinland MS taken eae ana hot Gaughtér to threate Se Kaze must have gone to save them. Miru, please think of a way to save him!”

“I'm one step late. What can Kaze do there alone? He'll just get himself into more trouble!” Miru was agitated by Kaze's recklessness.

“Master Hudson, Winnie Souffle and her daughter are here.”

Back at the mansion, Hudson received the video call from the driver.

Winnie and Brenda were locked up in with teary eyes.

Both of them were scared and helpless.

“Bitch, you and your daughter are the reason why my Baugh suffers! Yuwie fr What you did to her!”

Hudson laughed and then asked, “Did you spot any cops along the way?”

Chapter 823 | Miss Godfather

Being a diligent man, Hudson always preferred to secure an escape plan.

He was afraid of his location being exposed, so he did not tell his men to bring Winnie and Brenda to the mansion. "No, Sir."

"Great."

Hudson then called in the Twin Ghosts and gave them the tablet.

"You two have done a lot for me and I won't just ask for your service for free. The mother and daughter here are yours for the night. After that, take care of Kaze Lee for me. I want you to torture him."

The Twin Ghosts were not just merciless killing machines, but they were also psychotic sexual predators. When they went after Steve Lee at Melrose, they raped and tortured Sully's wife before killing her.

The moment they saw Winnie and Brenda, they shrieked excitedly.

"Thank you, Master Hudson!"

They bowed and then left for Wuthering Pavilion.

When they arrived, the driver, who drove Winnie and Brenda earlier, welcomed them. "Where's the mother and daughter?"

Dusk wore a wicked grin on his pale and skinny face. His look gave the driver chills.

He forced a smile on his face and bowed respectfully. "This way, gentlemen."

After he led the Twin Ghosts upstairs, he saw a car arriving at the establishment.

Two men came down from the car—Kaze and Albert.

The driver immediately called Hudson to inform him of Kaze's arrival.

"Master Hudson, Kaze Lee is here and he has someone with him."

"Who?"

Hudson frowned.

The driver said, "It's dark outside but I think it's his driver. He opened the door for Kaze."

"That little bastard. Still acting like he matters in times like this."

Hudson breathed a sigh of relief. A driver who could humble himself to open the door for Kaze should not be someone strong or powerful.

"Let them in and tell the Twin Ghosts to torture them."

Hudson then hung up the phone.

Since Kaze had arrived, the conflict had settled.

Once the Twin Ghosts had him, he would not be able to escape.

Kaze brought Albert into Wuthering Pavilion and saw the driver at the entrance.

The driver grinned and said, “Kaze Lee, you are here. | admire your courage.”

“Is Hudson Vinland here?” Kaze asked calmly.

u

“Who do you think you are to have Master Hudson wait for you?” The driver scoffed. He was not afraid that Kaze would leave because Winnie and Brenda were held hostage. “Too bad.” Kaze shook his head.

If Hudson was around, he would put an end to the old geezer’s life.

“Where’s Winnie and Brenda?” he asked coldly.

“| just sent the Twin Ghosts upstairs. | think they should be having fun with the mother and daughter.” The driver widened his grin.

Kaze’s widened eyes were overflowing with murderous intent.

He went up to the driver and seized the man by the neck.

“Which floor? Don’t make me kill you!”

The driver’s face flushed and his eyes rolled back. He managed to squeeze the words out of his choked throat. “F—Fifth floor...” Bang!

Kaze slammed him on the ground and went upstairs.

“Argh!”

Albert stepped on him and went upstairs as well.

The driver spat blood as his spine was snapped by Albert's stomp.

Suddenly, a scary voice came from the back and a hand grabbed by the neck to move him away.

"Ugh!" Zenny turned around and was frightened by what he saw. He fell on his butt and cried.

He recognized the creepy men with ferocious gazes Brenda cried even louder when she saw them.

"W-What are you trying to do?"

Winnie got up on her feet and held Brenda behind her. She was | S kingasctie wir Ghosts approached her.

She never thought a person could look so terrifying.

They were like ghosts trying to take her life away.

“Master Hudson said you two belonged to us tonight. Little girl, you are adorable...” Dusk laughed wickedly and jumped on them.

Chapter 824 Break Dusk

“Get away from me!”

Winnie cried as loud as she could and tried to resist.

“Godfather! Aaaaah!”

Brenda sobbed louder as fear consumed her.

Neither of their cries could soften the hearts of those two monsters. Quite the opposite, their distressed cry aroused them. They giggled as they approached the mother and daughter.

“You two are dead!”

Suddenly, the door was kicked open with a bang.

The loud bang frightened Zenny. He felt like his soul was scared out of his body..

However, to Winnie, it was the horns of the cavalry arriving.

“Kaze!” she cried.

‘Kaze? Kaze Lee?’

The Twin Ghosts paused and turned around stiffly, staring at Kaze and Albert with their creepy eyes.

Dusk grinned and said, “He’s here.*

Dawn widened his eyes and said, “Master Hudson said we must torture him, so don’t kill him just yet.”
Dusk widened his grin.

“Why don’t we break every bone in his body? | like to listen to people scream,” he said ferociously.
Winnie was horrified when she heard them. She put Brenda aside and jumped at them.

“Kaze, run! I’ll hold them back!”

She mustered all her courage to hug one of them just to buy time for Kaze to run.

Kaze had helped her family too much and she owed him a lot. She did not want Kaze to die because of her. Slap!

Dusk slapped her away.

“Dumb bitch.”

“Mommy!”

Brenda cried as she squatted to check on her mother.

“Twin Ghosts, I'll make sure you two are real ghosts after this!”

Kaze was furious. His eyes were overflowing with murderous intent.

Zenny widened his eyes in shock. He was impressed by Kaze's courage. “I have to give it to you. You are going to die yet you are still provoking them.... Aaaarh!”

Kaze kicked him to the wall, knocking him out easily.

Right before Kaze could take out the Twin Ghosts, Albert stepped up.

“Sir, let me.”

Albert jumped forward and charged toward the Twin Ghosts.

“Hehe! It's rare to find a worthy opponent!”

Dusk knew at first glance that Albert was powerful, which excited him more. His eyes gleamed as he stared at Albert, like he had found his prey.

Before Dawn could move, he jumped forward. “Hehe, I'll shove your head into your shoulders and suffocate you!”

Dusk swung his leg around like a whip, breaking the sound barrier. The kick contained power that could crush a rock and it was aimed at Albert's heart.

Albert narrowed his eyes coldly and simply countered with a grab at that leg.

Dusk was infuriated.

The simple counter was an insult to him.

However, in the next second, an anger was

Before he could attack, Albert swung him around in a circle. "Aaaah!"

Dusk cried aggrieved as he was swung around like a ragdoll. Bang!

He was then slammed into the ground, and he rolled around the room upon crashing.

"Aaaaah! Dawn, my bones are broken!"

Dusk bled profusely as he was embedded in the neck of his chest, making it look gory.

He shrieked like a ghost being exorcized.

He could no longer move as all his bones were broken.

Chapter 825 Break Dawn

"Aaagh! Fuck!"

Dusk cried in pain on the ground. His ferocity was replaced by fear that everyone shared when hurt.

“Dusk!”

Dawn shouted angrily, his eyes bloodshot.

The two of them relied on their fists and ferocity to reign in the underworld and kill all who got in their way. Yet Dusk did not even last a hit in front of Albert and was crippled.

It was more terrible than killing him off.

Dawn’s heart was bleeding.

For the first time in his life, he felt fear and it was from Albert.

Albert pointed at him.

The tables had turned. The predator became the prey.

Dawn clenched his teeth and said, “Wait, I’m sorry. We were wrong! Please let us go and we assure you this will be over! We won’t come after you anymore!”

His ferocity was completely gone and was replaced by a calm and sane look.

“You brothers aren’t as crazy as rumored. It seems like you are just pretending to satisfy that sick fetish of yours.

Albert strode over to Dawn and said coldly, "You are in no position to negotiate with me. Your words have no weight as well." He did not plan to release Dawn at all.

"We'll see about that!"

Dawn wore his maniacal expression again. He moved, not toward Albert, but toward Winnie and Brenda.

He decided to go all out. He cackled and said, "If you are not going to let me go, I'll drag this woman and her daughter to hell as well..."

Before he could finish, a heavy strike hit him on the back.

Splat!

Blood gushed as he fell to the floor.

"You!"

He turned around and looked at Albert in absolute horror.

How could Albert move that fast?

Albert expressionlessly stomped on Dawn's chest.

Splat!

Dawn's ribs were all broken.

Albert stomped on his chest again and again and only stopped after a full minute. Dawn was badly hurt. There was not a piece of intact body part on him.

Like Dusk, he lay on the ground, lifeless.

The Twin Ghosts were completely crippled and it was much more tormenting than killing them off.

“Godfather!”

Brenda jumped into Kaze’s arms and cried as loud as she could.

Her tiny arms hugged his neck tightly and refused to release him.

“It's okay, Brenda. It’s all fine now.”

Kaze tapped the girl’s back to calm her down.

He then looked at Winnie, who got up with Albert’s help. “Can you walk?”

“Yeah.”

Winnie's hair was messed up but she was fine. She strong.

Dusk did not hold back with the slap earlier and she was still dizzy. “Let's go to the hospital. We'll get that old geezer after that.”

The few of them then left Wuthering Pavilion.

After they left, several expensive cars arrived at the entrance. Hudson, Dexter, and Jake came down from the cars.

They resented Kaze. When they found out Kaze had fallen into their hands after Twin Ghosts, they wanted to come have a look and insult him to vent their grievance.

Hudson was afraid that the Twin Ghosts would kill Kaze by accident, so he came as well. Since Kaze was apprehended, he was no longer afraid of exposing himself. He said, “Master Hudson, Darcy Quint contacted us through “That bitch caused Lyn to be disfigured! When she’s here later, I’ll make her kneel before us!” Dexter and the others laughed loudly as if they had gotten their revenge.

“Very well. I want to meet her as well. Tell Darcy to come here,” Hudson said to his man.

His frosty eyes looked ambitious. His target was never Kaze but the companies that Darcy owned.

Now, he was one step closer to achieving his original goal.

“Winnie Souffle is in my hand, so Shangrila Group is mine as well. So are Quartet Group and Sky Ocean Corporation. Not bad.” Even with his usual calm disposition, he could not help but be delighted by the outcome.

'Granduncle Hudson.'

Darcy came to Wuthering Pavilion with Miru, who wore a heavy look on her face.

She originally did not want to take the risk because the Twin Ghosts traumatized her.

However, since her friend decided to risk it all to save Kaze, she had to tag along because she could not just let her friend jump into the tiger's mouth.

"My grandniece, what brings you here?" Hudson asked casually.

Now that he had the situation under control, he could speak with more confidence.

"Hudson Vinland, stop pretending! We are here to save Kaze and Winnie and her daughter.

You should not have gone after Winnie's daughter! How could you order the Twin Ghosts to go after them?" Miru shouted angrily but her gaze was unusually calm.

Hudson glanced at her and saw through her thoughts. He said frivolously, "Now, mind you. I didn't order the Twin Ghosts to go after the mother and daughter."

"You old fox!"

Miru was furious.

Being as diligent as ever, Hudson always had a backup plan. Not even the local police had enough evidence to arrest him. "Miru, stop it."

Darcy stopped her friend. She then took out a stack of documents from her briefcase and said, "This is the share transfer contracts of my companies. I hope you can release Kaze and Winnie and her daughter."

Her eyes dimmed out when she handed over the share transfer contracts.

She was surrendering her entire career over. All the hard work that she had done would be in vain.

However, the hesitance and disappointment were quickly replaced by determination because she was doing it for Kaze. "Hahaha!"

Dexter and the others laughed.

"See! Darcy finally surrendered! If you know this is coming, why resist us from the start?"

"If you just changed your last name to Vinland and gave Master Hudson your companies, this all wouldn't happen." Everyone sneered at her but she endured all of it.

"Since you've learned your lesson, then I suppose I can spare Kaze Lee this time."

Hudson ordered his man to take the share transfer contracts.

"Wait!"

Darcy put the contracts behind her and said, "Release Kaze first, and I'll give them to you!" "Fine."

Hudson did not mind since he assumed everything was under his control. He was not afraid of Darcy walking back on her words either.

“Come on, let’s go upstairs.” The group went upstairs.

“Darcy, when you see your husband lying in his own

“He’s unlucky because the Twin Ghosts got to him. Consider it lucky if he’s still alive.”

Dexter, Jake, and the others continued to scare Darcy.

“Darcy, it’s not that Master Hudson didn’t keep his promise. It’s just that no one knows what would happen to the victims of the Twin Ghosts.”

“You know Dan Niners and Gold Tooth, right? | watched when the Twin Ghosts broke all their bones. Hahaha!” Darcy's face turned pale as she continued to listen. ‘Kaze, please be alright!

She prayed hard in her heart. She was prepared to see Kaze lose all his limbs or even be crippled like Dan or Gold Tooth. All she hoped for was that he would stay alive.

The group finally reached the fifth floor.

When they arrived at the room, they saw Zenny, unconscious in his own puddle of blood. "This guy is hurt too? It seems like a fight broke out here. Stupid idiot."

Dexter and the others were surprised to see Zenny hurt and unconscious but were not overly bothered.

Kaze obviously challenged the Twin Ghosts and they assumed he would not end well. "There are two bodies on the floor! It must be Kaze and the driver he brought!"

Jake had a look inside the room and started laughing. The floor inside the room was damaged and there were two bloody bodies embedded in it, gasping for air!

"The Twin Ghosts are scary! It looked like they stomped Kaze and his driver on the floor, causing the little crater around them. There's not a piece of intact bone on them now. Even if Professor Whiteman is here, he won't be able to save them."

"Yeah. He's done for."

"The mother and daughter aren't here. I bet the Twin Ghosts are having fun with them somewhere else." Dexter and the others saw the mortified look on Darcy and they started gloating at her. "As long as he's still alive."

Hudson then extended his hand to Darcy. "Darcy, can take your husband away." "Kaze!"

“Hahaha! Darcy, you should have given me your companies and this wouldn't happen.” Hudson went through the documents and it put a wide smile on his face.

“M-Master H—Hudson...”

Suddenly, one of the bloody bodies on the floor whimpered.

“Wait, why is this voice so familiar?”

Hudson's smile froze. He looked at the bloody person closely.

“Let me have a look.”

Dexter went over and squatted for a better look.

“What?! Dawn of the Twin Ghosts? How?!”

He fell back on his butt as if he had

Jake checked on the other person and cried out loud.

“No! No! Impossible! How could it not be Kaze?!”

Hudson shouted and faltered back in shock. He had goosebumps all over. His expression turned bitter and he sweated profusely.

“What is going on here...”

Darcy and Miru were shocked as well. They could not believe their eyes. The two bloody bodies were Dawn and Dusk of the Twin Ghosts. They were badly hurt. Slap!

Now she could finally get her revenge!

She pulled her phone out.

Dexter, Jake, and the others were horrified upon hearing Miru.

“Master Hudson, we must leave now! We can't stay here in Lilyrose anymore!”

“We'll get her in the future!”

Hudson was frightened as well. He feigned reluctance as the others dragged him downstairs. Soon, the cars at the entrance drove off.

“That old dog is good at running.”

Miru put her phone down and scoffed. She was just trying to scare off Hudson.

Hudson was a Vinland. If she called her men on him and hurt him, it would mean declaring war with the Vinland family.

“Strange. Who beat up the Twin Ghosts? Kaze? Doesn't seem right. He's quite strong but not a match for the Twin Ghosts.”

Darcy and Miru walked downstairs together.

Darcy did not care who beat up the Twin Ghosts. She only cared about Kaze's whereabouts, so she called him.

At the same time in the hospital, Brenda held onto Kaze's hand as she looked at the doctor, asking, “Uncle Doctor, is my Mommy going to be okay after the medicine? Is her face painful?”

“Don't worry. She will be fine after some treatment,” said the doctor who was applying medicine to Winnie's face.

He then looked at Kaze coldly and bellowed, “How can you hit your wife like that? This is domestic violence! I'm going to call the police!”

Winnie blushed. She tried to explain but Brenda beat her to it.

Then, Kaze's phone rang.

He had silent his phone earlier and only turned the volume back on just now. He noticed there were a lot of missed calls and a dozen texts from Darcy. Feeling guilty, Kaze quickly answered the call.

"Kaze, where are you? Where's Winnie and Brenda? Miru and I are at the Wuthering Pavilion but we didn't see,

there," Darcy asked.

"I'm at the hospital with Winnie and Brenda. Winnie was hurt, so the doctor is looking at her." Kaze then asked, "You guys are at the Wuthering Pavilion? Did you see Hudson Vinland?" He knew Hudson must have called them over.

Darcy breathed a sigh of relief and said, "Miru scared Hudson waa think he' Cinkd home after you send Winnie back."

"Yes, Sir!" Albert left to carry out the order.

He was speechless at Miru's actions. They were planning to go after Hudson after the hospital visit but Miru scared Hudson away.

Chapter 829 Dallas Moneylender's Revenge

With Kaze's order, Albert left the hospital lightning fast and brought his men to chase after Hudson. At the same time, Hudson's car had gone up the freeway, away from Lilyrose.

"We lost a lot in Lilyrose. | really don't want to just go back to Chrysant on a bitter note!"

Dexter, Jake, and the others were aggrieved.

They were confident when they followed Hudson to Lilyrose and did not take the locals seriously. They thought the moment they arrived in Lilyrose, the locals would kneel to them.

To their surprise, their children were beaten up and they got slapped in public.

More importantly, they had to flee Lilyrose like losers.

"It's all because someone defeated the Twin Ghosts. | wonder who in Lilyrose is that powerful?" They suspected Kaze at first but quickly denied it.

Kaze might be strong but he was no match for the Twin Ghosts.

No matter how they pondered, they could not think of anyone who could defeat the Twin Ghosts.

Hudson was the most depressed of them all as the Twin Ghosts were his last chip on the table.

Old Madam Vinland had made it clear that he was off the family's business. If he could get the five companies, he could make a comeback.

Now, all hopes were lost.

He wished he knew who defeated the Twin Ghosts so that he could cut them into pieces.

However, he stayed quiet throughout the journey.

He wanted to maintain his image before Dexter, Jake, and the others to continue his control over them.

His words might still carry some weight when he returned to the Vinlands.

He sighed inwardly. He was not sure if it would be meaningful to continue his control over his men.

"Forget about it. At least we are out of Lilyrose. We can regroup and make a comeback. Until then, I don't care who stands in my way, I will destroy them!" he said with feigned calmness.

"Master Hudson is right. At least we are still safe. We can regroup and make a comeback!"

Dexter, Jake, and the others consoled themselves to feel better about the defeat.

Suddenly, the driver turned around and said, "Master Hudson, a few cars are tailing us. Something is not right." The driver's words made the others panic.

"Miru Scarlet really sent her men after us! She must be out of her mind!" Dexter cursed, but the fear on his face betrayed him. "Calm down!"

Hudson then looked at the driver. "Step on it! We'll be safe once we reach Chrysant's border!"

"Yes, Sir!"

The driver accelerated, and so did the cars tailing them.

The cars caught up to their limousine and tried to force them to stop, on the freeway!

Bump!

One of the cars bumped into Hudson's limousine..

If not for the driver's amazing skills, the car would "Stop the car!" Hudson could no longer keep his calm before death. As soon as the limousine stopped, the other cars had them surrounded.

A group of suited men came down with ferocious

"Lefteria Group? We'll go after them soon," the leader said.

He added, "We are from Dallas Moneylender."

He then seized Hudson's neck with a knife through the window. The sharp blade drew a crimson line on Hudson's neck.

"Hudson Vinland, did you get my father and my cousin killed?"

Chapter 830 My Instructor Won't Forgive You

Soon, Hudson, Jake, and the others were dragged out of the car and pushed to the ground. They finally knew who the man was.

The man was Thedeus Rich, the son of Dane Rich.

Thedeus squatted. He waved his knife in front of Hudson's eyes.

"Thedeus, I have been your father's friend for many years! I didn't get him killed!" Hudson explained as he was being pressed to the ground by Thedeus' men.

"Nonsense!" Thedeus bellowed, "Before my father died, he texted my uncle and told him to find you for revenge." "Thedeus, it's not like that!"

Hudson was horrified. He shouted, "Someone is trying to sow discord! I did give your father the idea of extorting money from Darcy but the one who killed your father and his men is Lefteria Group!"

Thump! Thedeus punched Hudson in the face, knocking his teeth out. "You used my father and you said like it's not your fault."

Thedeus' eyes gleamed coldly. He said, "But you are right. Someone is trying to sow discord. If that's the case, I'll take down Lefteria Group first. As for Miru Scarlet and Darcy Quint, I'll take them as my sex slaves!"

Hudson was delighted..

“Yes, yes! Go after them! There’s also a guy named Kaze Lee, he’s Darcy’s husband! He’s the one who started all of this! You can’t let him go! I know everything about him and I can go back to Lilyrose with you!”

He knew Thedeus would never let him go so easily and he would have to pay a heavy sum to free himself. However, if he could get revenge, he was willing to pay the price.

“Great. Lead the way then.”,
