Chapter 855 Dissing Lil Dee

“A manager named Kefier raised the question to get you the best chalet but was fired for it.” Taz twisted the story to rile Lil Dee up.

“Fuck! What the hell?” Lil Dee cursed in an outburst. Obsessed with image, he meticulously crafted his portrayal wherever he went. Mountain Dew Estate's lack of VIP treatment infuriated Lil Dee.

“Hello, Lil Dee. I am Nancy Braus, the general manager of Mountain Dew Estate. On behalf of all the employees here, I welcome you and your team to Mountain Dew Estate.”

Nancy approached Lil Dee with her staff members.

As Nancy stood a distance away, she had no idea that Lil Dee had an ax to grind with the resort upon arrival. “Is this the welcome I get from Mountain Dew Estate, Ms. Braus?”

Discontent was written all over Lil Dee's face.

Startled, Nancy had no idea why Lil Dee was pissed.

She said, “Lil Dee, did we do something wrong?”

Lil Dee scoffed and said with a smirk, “I heard that your fanciest and best chalet is given to someone else while I get second— class accommodation.

“What? Am I not good enough as a guest because I'm an influencer?”

Lil Dee had low self-esteem, stemming from the contempt businesspeople held against influencers. These capitalists would only collaborate with influencers with huge followings.

Influencers were only tools for businesspeople to make money. “Don't say that, Lil Dee. We work in the service industry. We will never think you are not good enough.” Nancy glanced at Taz, knowing that he had said something to Lil Dee.

She explained discreetly, “You might not be aware that the resort has more than one luxury chalet. We have reserved two chalets for you and your team, as specially requested by the owner.” The direction did come from Kaze.

Since Darcy invited Lil Dee to be the ambassador and urged Kaze to show good hospitality, he would make sure to do a good job.

“That's more like it.”

Lil Dee felt better, but he soon scowled due to another issue Taz pointed out. “Ms. Braus, | heard that Sky Ocean Corporation assigned a man, who has taken his wife’s family name, to entertain me. What? Do | not deserve respect?”

IONUS It appeared to Nancy that Lil Dee’s insecurities ran deep. However, Nancy kept the opinion to herself.

She explained, “You got the wrong idea, Lil Dee. Mr. Lee is Ms. Quint’s husband, and they are close. Ms. Quint made sure Mr. Lee would attend to you. Besides, he is the general manager of Hudson investment Firm.”

Given that Nancy and Darcy got along well, they often bonded over things that were going on in their lives. Darcy had brought up to Nancy about Kaze.

Lil Dee scoffed in disdain. “Just about anyone can be a general manager these days. | don’t want a loser to provide me with service. It will reflect poorly on my reputation.”

“Um...”

Nancy swallowed her anger. She was grateful to Kaze to the position.

However, Darcy invited Lil Dee to be the brand conflict.

Lil Dee said with a smile, "Here's the thing. | heard that Ms. to show me

d time here. Kaze can get lost, for all | care."

Having seen a photo of Darcy, Lil Dee was interested in the beautiful chairwoman.

"Ms. Quint is in Lilyrose right now, Lil Dee. She would need to travel for hours to get here." With Lil Dee pushing his luck, Nancy was about to lose it.

Taz stepped forward to smooth things over.

"Let Kaze entertain you, Lil Dee. His wife can keep us company at a later time."
