

Guardian 864

Chapter 864 Sue Him Darcy was forced to side with reasons this time.

She said, "Alyssa, I'm sorry for what happened. I'll talk to Kaze to find out what happened and I will call you back."

Alyssa scoffed. "You can take all the time you want. Lil Dee has decided to terminate the contract. You will be receiving our lawyer's letter soon."

The call ended on an abrupt note.

"Ms. Quint, what happened?"

Ash and the other executives looked at Darcy eagerly, hoping to learn the truth as well.

After a slight hesitation, Darcy decided to be honest with the executives. 1

Even if she tried to cover for Kaze, it would soon reach the public's ears.

The executives were baffled after learning what happened.

The chairwoman devoted her effort and time to rebrand Mountain Dew Estate, yet her husband beat up the ambassador the company hired.

Now that the ambassador had terminated the contract, the company would also be sued. Kaze caused more trouble for the company with his recklessness.

All the executives held grudges against Kaze's actions.

The company did a lot of things to push the project forward yet with a punch and a kick, their efforts all went down the drain.

"The marketing campaigns for Mountain Dew Estate including newspaper, social media and television, are starting soon. The marketing department has invested a fortune into this campaign yet our ambassador terminated the contract. What will people think of us if this news spreads?"

"Aside from the terminated contract, the cause of this incident is terrible. If word gets out, people will think Sky Ocean Corporation is a terrible company, and tourists might stop visiting Mountain Dew Estate anymore.

Quint, we have to make things right with Lil Dee. If this exacerbates, the Mountain Dew Estate project would be over before it even starts."

"Yeah. It was your husband who started it and it puts us in a difficult position. Not only Mountain Dew Estate is our company's priority project but it is also part of the city's tourism project. The city council has helped us a lot and we must at least play our part right."

The executives voiced their opinions.

It was clear that even if they had to put Kaze behind bars, they must provide a satisfying explanation to Lil Dee and his team.

Darcy clenched her fists, her face looked slightly disheartened.

+15 BONUS She found herself at a crossroads. Must she really report Kaze to the authorities?

Even if she must, she could not do it.

Darcy took a deep breath and said, "Calm down everyone. I'll call Kaze and listen to what he has to say. I believe he won't beat someone without a valid reason."

The meeting room was instantly filled with disappointment and sighs.

All the executives were unhappy with Darcy's decision and found her to be weak.

Everyone in Lilyrose knew Kaze as the useless son-in-law who was good at wreaking havoc. They could not understand why Darcy was so protective of him.

"Ms. Quint, we have to solve this problem as soon as possible m Sometimes the truth doesn't really En. matter."

Ash voiced her opinion in a stern tone. She knew Darcy was facing a dilemma.

Darcy's face turned pale. She nodded stiffly and called Kaze to come back immediately.

When Kaze received the call, he knew it must be about Lik Dee) so he came back as fast as he could.

Two hours later, he finally arrived at the meeting room of Sky Ocean Corporation.

"Kaze, tell us what happened last night," Darcy said after a glance at the executives.

Kaze briefly told them what happened.

"Lil Dee wanted me to pimp them but I said no.
