Chapter 951 Truth Hurts

"Hahaha!"

Taz let out a manic laugh.

Ever since Samson expressed his desire to break free from the Lees, Taz no longer revered the family.

Insulting the former heir of the Lees gave Taz an exhilarating rush.

"Hahaha!"

The others burst out laughing.

Gavin looked at Kaze in disdain. "He is nothing without his family. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"That explains why he mooches off his woman and takes his wife's last name.'

The rest sneered and jeered at Kaze, holding him in contempt.

After taking multiple digs at Kaze, Taz felt satisfied and recalled his purpose of being there.

He poured himself a drink and said, "I'm here today to bring a message from my dad, Kaze.

"You have three days to bring Cosmo back to Sunrise City and beg for atonement from the Lee family. "Tomorrow is the last day, but you have not taken any course of action. Are you just going to give up?" Taz's eyes turned sharp as he narrowed in on Kaze.

"Or are you taking my dad's words lightly?"

It dawned on everybody else the reason Taz met with Kaze tonight.

They looked at Kaze with sympathy.

Not only was Kaze disowned by his family, but he was asked to beg the Lees for mercy. That summed up Kaze's sad life. Rose, upon learning of the incident, felt bad for Kaze.

"Say something. Cat got your tongue?"

Taz scoffed coldly.

Kaze changed to a more comfortable position and said in resignation, "You answered your own questions. Need I say more?"

"I broke both of Narian's legs, and I sent Cosmo to prison.

The Sunrise Lees mean squat to me."

Kaz chuckled while looking at Taz amusedly. He said indifferently, "Do you think I will take the words of the Lee's lapdog, your father, seriously?"

"You're asking for it!" Taz yelled out loud.

He smashed his wine glass to the ground.

Gavin and the others looked at Kaze in shock.

It never occurred to them that Kaze would call Taz's father a lapdog in front of him.

They stared at Kaze like he was a dead man.

The Quints' son-in-law was digging his own grave.

"What? Did I say something wrong?"

Kaze remained offhanded and said, "Maybe truth hurts?"

Taz stood there, giving Kaze the death stare.

The veins bulging on his forehead represented his inner turmoil. He was not as calm as he seemed.

With tension thick in the air, the group held their breaths.

Only Billy had the courage to ask, "What can I do for you, Mr. Hobbs?"

Taz took a deep breath and patted Billy's shoulder. "The guy is acting real stubborn, Billy. It's time you show him who's boss." "No problem."

Billy jumped on the opportunity and let out a menacing laugh. "Let's see how long he lasts. I hope he's worth the fun."

Judging by his nonchalant tone, he believed he had Kaze in the bag.

Taz nodded.

His phone then rang.

"Drinks downstairs? Sure."

Taz took the call and quickly hung up. He told Billy, "I have friends waiting downstairs, so I'm heading there now."

"I leave him to you, Billy. You will be rewarded, of course."

Taz pointed at Kaze before heading his way down the stairs.

He had witnessed what Billy was capable of, and Billy lived up to his reputation as the son of Tensor Martial Arts School's principal. Though outnumbered, he defeated the gangsters without breaking a sweat. Surely, it was a piece of cake for Billy to teach Kaze a lesson.

"Just do it, Billy. Beat the loser to the ground!"

"That's right. He's been an eyesore!"

Once Taz was gone, Gavin, Yaryn, and the others clamored, eager to see Billy crush Kaze.

"Hehe. This can wait."

Billy shook his head with a smile, side-eyed Kaze, and added, "I can give the loser a reality check anytime. He's not going anywhere anyway."

Judging by his offhanded tone, Billy believed Kaze was a sitting duck.

The group was stunned.

Billy was not in a hurry to fight Kaze. What was he planning to do?

"Before that, we have something else to talk about."

Billy snickered, his gaze falling on Rose. He said playfully, "Did you hear what Mr. Hobbs. said, Rose? He wanted me to show Kaze who was boss." "Do you have anything to say to that?"

Only Rose stood by Kaze when everybody else in the group had it out for him.

Billy guessed Kaze must mean a lot to Rose.

He took an immediate fancy to Rose, the innocent and beautiful girl.

Billy's lewd eyes lingered along Rose's neck. "That's for you to decide."

"Me?"

Rose looked confused.

Though uncomfortable with Billy's roaming gaze, Rose was too innocent to get the message.

"Don't play dumb, Rose."

Yaryn scoffed. "Billy has made himself clear. What's the point of you playing dumb?"

"Billy isn't asking much. If you take off your clothes and spend the night with Billy, Kaze will be let off the hook tonight with a few slaps and delivering an apology. "If you won't do it, Kaze will get the chop on his limbs.

Rose flushed with rage.

She was unaware of Billy's intention before.

Billy threatened to cripple Kaze unless she slept with him. She would not throw away her self-respect as a woman for him.

"Ew. That's disgusting!"

Rose glared at Yaryn and said angrily, "I'm not like you. I won't sleep with a man to get what I want."

That was a slap in Yaryn's face.

Yaryn's heavy-painted face contorted into a grimace.

"Oh, keep up with your innocent act, and Kaze will get his limbs broken."

Yaryn sneered. "You act like you have your family's best interests at heart, but the moment the table is turned, your selfishness rears its ugly head

Unlike Yaryn, Rose was no good at confrontation.

She looked up and met Kaze's gaze in tears. "Kaze..."

Her voice was filled with hurt.

"Don't listen to her. I know you have my back.

Kaze wiped away her tears and said with a smile, "You don't have to give yourself away just to show how much you care.

"Some people wish you would do it because they have tainted themselves in such acts and want you to join them.

"She's just jealous of you."

Rose nodded and felt liberated.

Yaryn tried to fire Billy up.

Billy did not look happy, but he did not believe Rose was putting on an act.

Rose was a goody-two-shoes with principles, unlike his promiscuous students.

She was untainted, which fueled Billy's desire to get her.

He must have Rose!

"I have never let the woman I want slip away, Rose," Billy said arrogantly.

Billy took strides toward Rose.

Rose stared at Billy with a discolored face, scared stiff.

"M-Master Billy! That's my sister!" Landon stepped forward and shouted.

Despite stumbling for words, Landon stepped up when his sister needed it the most.

Landon could tell Billy intended to use force on Rose. In a desperate plea, he reminded Billy of their student-teacher bond, hoping it would sway him.

"I'm your student. C-Can you not do this to her?"

The last thing on Billy's mind was their student-teacher relationship.

"Get out of the way!"

Billy glared at Landon, giving the latter the creeps.

Still, Landon manned up and said, "This has nothing to do with my sister, Master Billy!

"You can do whatever you want with Kaze. Slap him, break his legs. We don't care!"

With Billy refusing to drop the matter, Landon sold Kaze out without hesitation again.

Despite her fear, Rose was frustrated with Landon.

"You're so ungrateful, Landon. I can't believe you!"

"He's not worth your time and energy."

As the siblings got into a row, Gavin and his friends laughed out loud.

"Haha. Now, that's what I call a drama. Landon wants to sell Kaze out, but his sister comes Billy burst out laughing. It was the same speech he had used successfully on many goody-two-shoes.

Rose's red-rimmed eyes bulged. "Dream on. I will never be your girlfriend."

Billy stopped laughing and said grimacingly, "How long are you going to be stubborn?"

It sounded like something exploded.

A rumble followed, and something knocked the furniture over.

Rose opened her eyes and was stunned.

The place was a mess. The table and chairs, together with shattered plates and bottles, were scattered on the ground.

Billy was lying amid the splintered debris.

He was drenched in food and drinks.

Rose looked up blankly at Kaze.

She did not see what happened, but she knew Kaze had something to do with it.

Gavin and his friends tried to help Billy up.

Billy shook them off in embarrassment.

He shook his dizzy head and ran his fingers along his swollen cheek. Gritting his teeth, Billy smirked.

Reading the aggression in Billy's tone, Rose knew the whole thing had blown out of proportion..

Billy scoffed, scaring Rose to tremble and nearly drop her phone.

Kaze patted Rose's shoulder before walking toward Billy.

"Haha! The loser is wimping out. He's about to kneel."

"Hurry up and do it! He's better off crawling on his knees toward Billy."

Gavin and the others whistled with thrill.

They got a rise out of seeing the arrogant moocher kneel.

"I guess the slap didn't help you get back to your senses, Billy," annoying voices, Kaze approached Billy and said.

The silence was deafening.

Apart from Kaze, everybody looked at Kaze in shock.

The group could explain the first slap happened in the heat of the moment.

However, even an idiot could tell Kaze had planned to hit Billy again.

Judging by Kaze's blank face, they knew that Kaze's mind was clear and lucid when he attacked Billy.

"Holy shit. The guy must be having another episode!"

Landon grabbed his hair, feeling lost.

He did not understand Kaze.

Kaze was not the person he knew.

Nevertheless, Landon was pleased to see Billy get what he deserved for trying to get with

They believed Kaze was an idiot.

Kaze slapped Billy in the face despite knowing who he was.

Billy grabbed a beer bottle from the nearby table.

"Wham!"

The beer bottle fractured into fragments all over the floor.

"Break those bottles now."

Billy pointed at Gavin and his people.

Though unsure of Billy's intention, they did as they were told.

Shards of glass scattered across the floor in front of Billy.

Billy looked at Kaze and pointed at the floor. "See that? I want to beat you up and make you kneel here all night."

"That's creative, Billy."

"That's right. The loser should kneel on the broken glass. That would show him for being stubborn."

Gavin and the others were excited.

Rose, on the other hand, was worried.

Billy was cocky as ever despite the previous attacks. He was convinced that it was a fluke on Kaze's part.

Rose pulled Kaze back. "Why don't we just take a step back, Kaze? I'll call my dad."

Rose was speechless.

She was concerned about Kaze's safety, but Kaze did not seem to see Billy as a threat.

"Crush Billy a dozen times over? That's an unrealistic brag."

"Stop the ambush and fight fair with Billy. He'll destroy you, loser!"

Gavin and the others tore into Kaze.

Billy nodded with gritted teeth. "Since you're eager to die, I will give you a chance to have a fair fight with me, loser.

"Come on. I'm ready."

He rolled up his sleeve and approached Kaze aggressively.

"A fair fight? Oh, really?"

Kaze side-eyed him and slapped him.

Billy was struck in the face once again.

"Ugh!"

Knocked back, Billy coughed out blood and lost a tooth. It took a while after the crash for reality to sink in.

This time, the group had nothing to say.

That was the opposite of what they expected to happen.

Billy was ready and sprung the first attack on Kaze. Yet, he was sent flying before he could get near Kaze.

Jumbo was vice principal of Tensor Martial Arts School and Dwight's right-hand man.

Every time Billy stirred up trouble, Jumbo would be there to sort out the issues without alerting Dwight.

Snapping out of their trances, Gavin and his group were back in high spirits.

"Hear that, loser? Billy called his people at the martial arts school. They are all his father's students. You're done for."

He took out his phone and glanced at Billy before uttering with a pretentious smile, "If you can call for backup, so can I."

Kaze dialed a number.

"Who is it?"

A while later, an impatient voice came on the line.

Kaze said sarcastically, "Did you forget me already, Principal Tensor?"

Billy was unaware that his big talk reached Dwight's ears.

"Could you pass the phone to him? I promise to rip into him and make him apologize to you."

Judging by Billy's tone, he must be feuding hard with Kaze.

Dwight was afraid Kaze would incapacitate Billy in a fit of rage.

Furthermore, Billy was Dwight's only son.

"Apologize? If the matter could have been resolved with an apology, I wouldn't have called you."

Kaze scoffed and terminated the call.

Dwight called Kaze back several times, but the calls went unanswered.

"It boils down to whether the loser is sensible enough to stop provoking Billy. Otherwise, Rose's night with Billy can't save him."

Chapter 960 The Situation

A group of young men in martial arts uniforms showed up on the second floor.

There must have been hundreds of them.

The leader was a strong, burly, middle-aged man.

His cold and severe eyes, which glinted with a hint of cruelty, could send shivers down everybody's spine.

He was Jumbo, the vice principal of Tensor Martial Arts School.

"Over here, Jumbo!" Billy cried.

He cocked his head back to face Kaze and said with a smirk, "See that, Kaze? They are from my dad's school. They are less than a tenth of our members, but they should be enough to crush you. Jumbo led the students into the place.

Rose and Landon's minds went blank in horror.

On the contrary, Gavin, Yaryn, and the others got on their high horses.

Billy pointed at Kaze. "Where are your people? Don't say I didn't give you a chance. Tell them to get here now. I'm going to destroy them all too."

With reinforcements by his side, Billy was cocky to no end.

Not the least bit intimidated, Kaze said with a pretentious smile. "My people are here. They can crush you too."

The room was filled with a roar of laughter.

"Haha! How long are you keeping up with that act? I don't see anyone on your side."

"Maybe he's playing a game of illusion."

While the group taunted Kaze, Billy had lost all patience with Kaze.

Billy waved at Jumbo. "That's the bastard, Jumbo. Slap him."

He lit a cigarette without looking at Kaze.

Billy did not think Kaze would survive the ordeal.

They started discussing Kaze's bleak future.

Billy frowned and said, "That reminds me, Jumbo. Don't go all out and kill him. No one can handle twenty years of training in one punch." He did not want Kaze to go down so quickly.

Billy wanted a slow death for Kaze after the humiliation he endured.

Jumbo nodded and slapped Billy in the face.

The cigarette dropped as Billy fell flat on the ground.

After the brutal blows from Kaze, Billy had only recovered sensations in his face.

He went numb.

Sitting in a pile of broken shards, Billy stared blankly at Jumbo. The shooting pain on his bottom was the least of his worries.

The bustling second floor fell silent.

Rose's jaw dropped, and her eyes were filled with questions.

Even Landon was dumbfounded.

Gavin, Yaryn, and the others were stunned.

Chapter 961

Chapter 961 Ask Your Dad

No one saw that coming.

Even Billy sat there dumbfounded. It took a while before he could reel in from the shock.

He lifted his head and shouted at Jumbo exasperatedly, "Have you lost it, Jumbo?"

"I told you to hit Kaze. Why did you attack me?"

Billy lost his respect for Jumbo.

Anger and humiliation washed over him.

Billy called Jumbo over to take care of Kaze. However, Jumbo slapped him to the ground instead.

He must look silly and funny, sitting on the ground holding his face.

"Huh? Didn't Billy call you here? Why are you fighting among yourselves?"

"What's going on here?"

As if the situation was not bad enough, Kaze acted confused and asked with a smile.

Kaze's comment got Rose, who was nervous as hell, in stitches.

She quickly closed her mouth in fright, her face blushing as she held back the laughter.

"Ahh! You bastard! I'll destroy you today, or my name isn't Billy!"

Billy went ballistic.

Since he could not throw a tantrum at Kaze, Billy got up from the ground and lashed out, "What's wrong with you, Jumbo?" Jumbo glanced at Kaze, who happily sat on the couch without a word, and felt frustrated that Billy could not take a hint.

As Dwight's confidante, Jumbo could not possibly let Kaze go and hit Billy for no reason.

Unless of course, the order came from Dwight.

Jumbo recalled the phone call with Dwight while on his way to Bay Club, Without another word, he raised his hand.

Jumbo cocked his head and looked at Kaze. Kaze's silence was Jumbo's cue to keep the beating going.

However, Jumbo could not bear to do so. He had watched Billy grow up.

He was worried he might break Billy if the hitting continued.

Jumbo kicked Billy and shouted with rage, "Idiot, why don't you ask your dad why I'm hitting Raising a brow, Kaze opened a bottle of water and took sips without a word.

"My dad told you to hit me? You're kidding me!"

Billy yelled frantically and reached into his pants pocket to search for a while. He finally fished out his phone, which screen had smashed from the multiple falls, and called Dwight. Once the call connected, Billy shouted desperately, "Why did you order Jumbo to hit me, Dad?"

"You have the nerve to ask, bastard!"

With emotions running high, Dwight unleashed hell. "Have you lost it? Why did you send the students to stir shit with Mr. Lee?"

"What were you thinking? Huh?"

Mr. Lee?

Billy hoped Dwight was not talking about the Quints' son-in-law.

Dumbfounded, Billy could not believe Kaze could strike fear in his father.

That was right. Billy detected fear in Dwight's voice.

The horror was evident.

"Mr. Lee must be there, right? Put the call on the loudspeaker, bastard. I want to talk to him." Startled by Dwight's angry voice, Billy fumbled to put the call on loudspeaker. Everybody could hear Dwight's voice.

"Are you there, Mr. Lee? I'm Dwight Tensor.

"I'm so sorry that my bastard son offended you."

The people around heard Dwight's voice loud and clear from the phone's loudspeaker.

They turned to Kaze in disbelief.

Dwight was well-known in the martial arts community. In fact, he was an influential figure in that respect. Yet, he showed Kaze with utmost courtesy and respect.

He even sounded careful in his speech.

Everybody thought Kaze was nothing but a moocher. S~earch the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Gavin, Yaryn, and the others scowled, their limbs shaking.

It did not take them much to figure out that they had messed with the wrong guy.

Fortunately, Billy was there to take the brunt.

"Principal Tensor, your son didn't just offend me."

Sinking his back against the couch, Kaze said indifferently, "He threatened the cousin of my wife that he would crush me unless she slept with him.

"Even when he was rejected, he forced her to get with him.

"It's not a minor misbehavior. He's committing a crime.

Dwight trembled, nearly dropping the phone.

"Bastard! You make me so angry.'

Dwight lashed out.

Knowing that Billy had screwed around with Kaze, Dwight called Jumbo right away and told him not to hold back on Billy at Bay Club. At the very least, Jumbo could pretend to be merciless.

Only then, Kaze might get over it.

Dwight did not expect Billy to make matters worse.

Billy was playing with fire by hitting on Kaze's family in front of him..

Dwight's mind wandered back to when he disrespected Winnie outside Shangrila Group. In the end, Kaze hurled Dwight to kneel in front of Winnie in public. Dwight lost his pride that day. There was no chance to plead Billy's case at that point.

Dwight made his stance known. "I'm sorry, Kaze. I didn't discipline the bastard well.

"I'm on bed rest, so I can't go there now. If you could punish him for me, I would present you with gifts to express my gratitude."

Dwight was a smart cookie.

In a way, Dwight was giving Kaze authority over Billy.

Dwight realized that Kaze's willingness to talk showed that he had no intentions to kill Billy.

It was only right that Dwight took a humble pie.

Anybody else with Kaze's combat competence would have crushed Billy.

Hence, Dwight was grateful to Kaze. He did not harbor any resentment toward Kaze.

Kaze earned that respect.

"Feel free to rough him up.

Dwight's words were harsh.

Billy gritted his teeth, his veins popping. No word escaped his lips.

"You look resentful."

Kaze got up, approached Billy, and slapped him to the ground.

That was the sixth time Kaze hit him that night. Billy coughed out more teeth and blood.

Crouching down, Kaze patted his face and said sternly, "Do you think I wouldn't punish you. harshly because of what your dad said?

"You should thank your dad for persuading me to keep you alive.

"Otherwise, you would've died a long time after all the disrespect."

Billy lifted his head with a struggle and stared at Kaze skeptically.

Despite his intention to submit to Kaze, Billy did not believe Kaze's big talk.

Kaze smiled. He would not disclose his identity as the God of War over such a tiny matter. "Smack!"

However, Kaze struck Billy back to the ground.

"Unlike you, your dad knows when to quit.

Billy knew about these two incidents.

After the humiliation during Shangrila Group's event, Dwight kept a low profile, hiding out in the martial arts school. He escaped the fate of the top three families.

The second incident happened yesterday.

Kaze's help secured their school's reputation in the martial arts community.

Jumbo, who had been staying on the sidelines, said, "Do you know who you messed with now, Billy? If it wasn't for Mr. Lee, your family wouldn't still have a business or a life in the city. "After what you have done to him, Mr. Lee is merciful to just break your limbs."

Billy surrendered to Kaze without resistance.

Kaze raised his brow in surprise. "I guess all hope isn't lost with you.

"Alright then. Since you admit your fault, you can kneel.

"I have some questions for you."

Jumbo was relieved because Kaze was letting Billy off the hook.

Without resistance, Billy said, "Ask away, Kaze."

Kaze sat back down on the coach and sipped the soda before asking, "Did Taz send you to mess with me?"

"That's right. The bastard lied to me, saying that you pissed him n off"

Billy wanted to elaborate further when Kaze waved his arm to stop him.

It did not take rocket science to figure out why the guy on his father's bankroll would attack Kaze. Billy was on board with the idea of assaulting Kaze because Taz probably said Kaze was just a loser. Kaze glanced at Jumbo.. "Send someone to get Taz here."

"You go."

Jumbo pointed at a student right away.

While waiting for Taz, Kaze turned to Gavin, Yaryn, and the others.

Fear sent their hair rising as the group dropped to their knees.

"We were wrong, Kaze. We shouldn't have taken jabs at you."

The group, who act cocky because Billy was on their side, got off their high horses and apologized to Kaze.

Rose and Landon felt like they were dreaming.

"I told you that no one can leave until you slap yourself crazy."

Kaze did not let them off the hook because they asked for forgiveness.

If he had not restrained Billy, the group would have continued to call him a loser.

Kaze waved his arm. "You can start now."

The group grimaced.

Yaryn and the other women could not accept their punishment.

They might be tacky, but they relied on heavy makeup to get their men. The multiple blows to the face would leave them with nothing.

"We were wrong, Kaze. Please see it in your heart to forgive us," Yaryn pleaded with a sad face. Kaze felt sick to his stomach. He turned around and patted Rose's shoulder. "Do you think it's worth forgiving them, Rose?"

Rose glanced at the group, her gaze falling on Yaryn's pleading face.

In the end, she gnashed her teeth and shook her head firmly. "No."

The girl was naïve, but she knew how to tell from right to wrong.

Yaryn was mean and ugly.

If it were not for Kaze, Yaryn would have found a way to make her sleep with Billy.

Jumbo grabbed Yaryn by the hair and slapped her repeatedly.

The sound of slapping went on.

Soon, the group's face was bruised and battered.

"Hey, Billy. Has the loser given in yet? I hope you didn't kill him."

A voice came from the stairwell.

Taz swaggered up the stairs with a smile.

He saw Billy kneeling on the ground and Gavin's party slapping their own faces.

Kaze, who was supposed to be in Billy's position, sat on the couch, alive and well.

The smile on Taz's face froze.

That was not what he imagined would happen.

Kaze smiled pretentiously at Taz and asked teasingly, "Surprise, Mr. Hobbs."

It took seconds for Taz to process what was going on.

He stared at Kaze with a grimace and nodded his head. "Hehe. Props to you for sorting Billy out.

"Did you call me here to show me this?"

"What? Do you think you will scare me by defeating a lapdog?"

While talking, he patted Rose. "You should wait for me at the door, Rose."

Things were about to get gory, and he wanted to spare Rose the sight.

"Wham!"

Billy kicked Taz in the belly and yelled menacingly, "Kaze even attacked the heirs of the Lees. Your dad is just one of the Lees' lapdogs. As if that counts for something.

"I can't believe you used me, bastard!"

Kaze admitted to crippling Narian.

That was the reason why Billy went after Taz.

Come hell or high water, Kaze had Billy covered.

Without any reservations, Billy punched and kicked Taz.

He had nothing against Kaze. Due to Taz's instruction, Billy got a beating from Kaze.

Billy took out all his anger and resentment on Taz.

Taz was covered in bruises in a minute. He did not even have time to catch his breath.

"J-Just you wait! My dad will make you pay! The Lees will not turn a blind eye to this!"

Even so, Taz did not yield to Kaze.

Kaze was impressed with the boy's tough act. He got up, drew close, crouched down, and patted Taz's face. "You urged Billy to go after Rose, right?" "That's right. It was me. Do you have a problem?"

"I slipped up today, but you won't be so lucky next time."

Taz said grimacingly, "But there is no next time for you.

Sure, it would only be a couple of blows to cripple Taz as he did to Narian, but Kaze could not be bothered to do it himself.

"Carry him out. Call the emergency line to pick him up and contact Lee Investment."

With the wave of Billy's arm, the martial arts students held Taz up.

Taz whimpered in pain from the bumpy ride of being carried out.

Kaze had washed his hands clean and walked out of Bay Club.

A crowd blocked the entrance.

Close to a hundred martial arts students entered the club. Worried about a potential fight breaking out, the patrons ran out in fright so as not to be caught in the crossfire. They curiously looked inside and chatted among themselves.

The incident happened on the second floor, so Kaze's presence did not attract anybody's attention.

The crowd had no idea the ordinary man was the cause of the bloodshed tonight.

Kaze's keen senses picked up on Rose and Landon, who were waiting for him by the road. Nevertheless, the siblings seemed to have run into trouble.

"Uh... That sounds like Mr. Hobbs.

Taz's friends were dumbfounded.

"It really is Mr. Hobbs."

"Are you alright, Mr. Hobbs? Oh, my goodness. Why are your legs broken?"

Snapping out of the shock, the crowd approached in a fluster and stared at the badly mangled man with both legs contorted out of his joints. They could not associate him with the usually proud Taz.

"You must be his friends. Perfect timing. Take him to the hospital. At least, we don't have to contact his family," the martial arts students said before taking off.

"K-Kaze, did you do that to Taz?"

Not too far away, Landon looked at Kaze in terror, his lips quivering.

Kaze let out a harmless smile. "Am I violent to you? Billy did it."

"H-Hehe..."

Landon laughed dryly, his scalp tingling.

Despite Kaze's honesty, Landon grew skeptical.

He witnessed Kaze whipping Billy into shape just moments ago.

His opinion of Kaze had changed completely tonight.

Kaze smiled without a smile. Intimidation worked best to set rude kids straight.

His phen rang.

Agnes' mean voice came on the line.

"Where are you, Kaze? Get home right now!"

Kaze frowned. He did not get under Agnes' skin this morning when he left home. What happened now?

Even though Kaze was clueless as to what happened, he took Rose and Landon home right

The tension was thick at home.

Agatha was chatting away with Agnes with a gloating smile. When she cocked her head back, she had no more reason to smile.

"Jesus, Landon. What happened to you? Did you fall, or did someone hit you?"

Agatha rushed over to hold her son.

At closer inspection, Agatha noticed the handprints on both sides of his cheeks and his bloodied lips.

Judging by the footprints all over his body, Landon must have taken a severe beating. "Oh, my poor Landon."

Agatha hugged Landon and cried. After the tear shed, she yelled at Kaze, "Landon went out with you, Kaze! How did he get injured on your watch?"

"You're such a loser. You can't do anything right.

"I'll make you pay if anything happens to Landon!"

Kaze went to pour himself a drink, not wanting to waste his breath with her.

He was blamed for not watching out for Landon. Yet, Agatha never taught Landon to respect him.

At the end of the day, Agatha was just looking for someone to point her finger at because her son was battered and bruised while Kaze was unharmed. Rose explained, "Don't yell at Kaze without getting to the bottom of the situation, Mom. Do you know what type of person Landon is learning from?"

"He's the son of Tensor Martial Arts School's principal. He's an arrogant prick.

Darcy would get worried if she were to find out that Taz's legs were crippled.

Kaze said indifferently, "I know Dwight, so I gave him a call.

"Dwight was pretty mad to learn what his son did. He asked me to discipline his son for him, and everything turned out alright in the end."

That was one mystery solved.

"How did you know Dwight, Kaze? Why did you ask you to discipline his son?" Darcy asked doubtfully.

Kaze could not say that he destroyed James and saved Dwight because he would make Darcy even more worried.

He replied,

We go way back."

As Kaze was once connected to the Lee family, Darcy nodded without saying more. She turned to ask Agnes, "Why did you call me back urgently, Mom?" Struck by the thought, Agnes glared at Kaze.

“Your grandfather favors Adam the most. Don’t make Adam angry, okay?”

Chapter 971

Chapter 971 Professor Whiteman Attends “Darcy, your Uncle Adam is a proud man. You better choose some good words in front of him and make him look good,” Agatha said to Darcy and Kaze.

She even revealed that even though she was the youngest, which supposedly was the beloved child, her status was nowhere near her brother.

Their father loved the son more than the daughters.

“Got it, Aunt Agatha. Mom, we are going out.” After assuring her mother and aunt, Darcy brought Kaze out.

She and Kaze went to Sky Ocean

Corporation to choose a gift for Adam.

The office was filled with expensive presents, given to them by other companies who worked with them.

Darcy accepted the less expensive but decent ones.

In the end, Darcy picked a branded pen as a gift for her uncle.

She and Kaze then headed to Noble Hotel.

Adam came to Lilyrose for a business trip. Delivering the message from the Lees, demanding Kaze to release Cosmo was purely out of convenience.

He was working as the vice chief of the Sunrise City's Ministry of Health and Welfare, and he came to Lilyrose to inspect the medical institutes of their operations.

Since he represented the capital's Ministry of Health and Welfare, the others who ranked lower than him were cautious and afraid of him.

Some representatives of local medical and pharmaceutical institutes had decided to host a welcoming party at Noble Hotel to receive him.

There were many representatives of famed hospitals and CEOs of famous pharmaceutical companies who were eager to meet Adam.

Adam arrived at the hotel in an Audi A6 and he was warmly received.

"Mr. Otter, welcome. Be careful of the steps." "Your specialty and contribution to the medical field is unrivaled and if anything happens to you, it will be a huge loss to the entire medical field!" Adam was welcomed with flattering cheers.

The Otters were a family of doctors. SEARCH THE WEBSITE to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Adam started as a doctor but switched his path to politics after a few years in the field.

His background granted him a privileged status and he was able to accelerate his political career without hindrance.

He was also a skilled doctor and surgeon.

“Mr. Otter, now that you are here, you enlighten us for the better and point out what we should improve!” “Yes, Vice Chief Otter. Do tell us if you find anything unsatisfactory.” The people continued to bombard Adam with flattery.

“That’s enough. I’m deeply flattered.” Adam gestured to calm them down before looking at the organizer of the welcoming party, Teddy Roots.

“Vice Chief Roots, has Professor Whiteman agreed to attend the party tonight?” He came to Lilyrose to carry out two tasks, assigned to him by the Lees.

One would be demanding Kaze to release Cosmo and the other one would be asking Professor Whiteman to treat Narian’s legs.

Teddy, the vice chief of Lilyrose’s Ministry of Health and Welfare, stepped up.

“Vice Chief Otter, I have contacted the professor’s student, the director of Lilyrose Wholeness Medical Center, Rowan Lowe. The professor knew it was you who invited him, so he agreed to attend, but he will be late because he’s with his students at the moment.” Upon hearing Teddy’s revelation, the others continued to flatter Adam.

“Mr. Otter, you are indeed influential.

Professor Whiteman never attends social gatherings, yet he agreed to attend because of you.” “Yeah. Only the vice chief is powerful enough to invite the professor.” Adam was over the moon to learn the news. C He kept his composure and said, “As long as the professor can attend, it’s okay for him to be late...” Before he even finished, a Maserati drove over and stopped in front of the hotel.

Darcy, in her white one-piece and beautiful makeup, came down from the car.

Chapter 972 Family

Chapter 972 Family The people surrounding Adam ~~ recognized Darcy immediately as she caught their attention.

“Isn’t that Darcy Quint of Sky Ocean Corporation? She’s here for the party as well?”

“Ms. Quint, I have heard a lot about Sky Ocean Corporation lately. Even Professor Whiteman agreed to be your ambassador for Mountain Dew Estate...” Darcy’s status in the business world skyrocketed ever since she acquired both Quartet Group and Sky Ocean Corporation.

Even the influential figures in the medical field dared not take her lightly, «J +10 BONUS let alone the representatives from the hospitals and pharmaceutical companies.

All of them wished to form a connection with Darcy, the rising star in the business field.

“Thank you everyone...” Darcy smiled and nodded at everyone politely even though she did not know any of them.

Bang! While the people were trying to flatter Darcy, there was a loud bang from the closing car door behind.

Kaze, in a set of handsome suits, came down from the car.

His presence silenced everyone at the scene.

Kaze was somewhat of a famous figure in Lilyrose himself. Many of the representatives knew him.

Even if they had never seen him before, they had heard of him because he was the infamous son-in-law of the Quints.

Everyone was surprised that Darcy would bring him to attend the social event.

To them, Kaze had no right to attend the welcoming party. SEARCH THE website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

However, due to Darcy’s identity, no one said anything but their disgust and contemptuous expressions betrayed their true thoughts.

Darcy was annoyed by their reaction.

she ditched them and went straight to Adam, who did not say a word.

She bowed to him and then presented the gift she had prepared. “Uncle Adam, we have a little gift prepared for you.” Uncle? Darcy calling Adam uncle was surprising to everyone.

Other than the veterans in the medical field, no one knew that Darcy’s mother came from a medical background.

Adam never planned to show any respect to Darcy but when the others tried to flatter her because of her identity, he decided to change his mind.

He smiled and said to everyone, "This is my niece, Darcy. Her mother is my older sister."

Everyone was struck with realization.

Teddy of the Lilyrose Ministry of Health and Welfare said, "No wonder I see a hint of resemblance in you two.

You guys are family." "Vice Chief Otter is polite and humble; Ms. Quint is beautiful and elegant. I can see the similar traits as well." "Yeah. Ms. Quint is successful for her age, which puts us men to shame. It explains a lot now that we know she's family with Mr. Otter." The others continued to flatter the two of them.

Adam's grin widened.

He accepted the branded pen from Darcy and gave her a warm smile.

"Darcy, you are the chairwoman of two companies now. You made our family proud. Don't get ahead of yourself.

Keep working hard and don't let the Otters down, get it?" Adam started to act like a senior and advised Darcy.

Chapter 973 Who Let Him In

Chapter 973 Who Let Him In? Adam's condescending tone annoyed Darcy, but since Agatha and Agnes prepared her for this, she was ready for the worst.

She said, "Uncle Adam, thank you for your advice." Seeing how Adam talked to his junior in public, everyone revered him even more, which was what he wanted from them.

He might be in his early 40s but in his field, he was considered young.

The others were veterans in the field and no matter how much they tried to flatter him, they never truly respected him.

Through acting like a senior to Darcy, I with TV BUNS Adam was able to erect a powerful image in their minds, Kaze then saw the glance Darcy shot him and he quickly went up to Adam.

“Uncle Adam.” Adam’s smile disappeared instantly.

He disregarded Kaze and then said to Darcy with a hint of annoyance, “Who let him in?” Kaze really wanted to walk away.

Darcy knew his temper. She quickly tugged him and held him back.

If Kaze walked, Adam would be infuriated.

Even though she did not care either, she would have a hard time explaining the situation to her mother later.

Kaze thought of the possible situation that Darcy might face, so he endured the insult.

“Uncle Adam, you called my mom, asking to meet Kaze in person,” Darcy said politely.

Adam grunted heavily. “I want to see him in private, not in public, especially at a place like this. He does not fit anywhere here.” His contempt and disdain for Kaze was obvious.

The others who disliked Kaze quickly took Adam’s side and echoed along.

“That’s right. Ms. Darcy, we are all friends here, so forgive me for being I SV 719 BONUS straightforward. It’s really inappropriate for you to bring the useless trash here tonight.” “This is just a small gathering and only friends are invited. All of us here are people with a status, yet he doesn’t even have a seat.” “But since he’s your husband, we can’t just ask him to leave either. Should we give him a seat or not? You put us in an embarrassing situation.” “Ms. Quint, if you don’t mind, he can sit with the drivers. We all have our drivers here and I think he should fit just fine since he drove you here as well.” “Hahaha...” Darcy’s expression turned grim as the irritating laughter assaulted her ears.

Adam curled his lips strangely.

When Kaze was still with the Lees many years ago, the entire Otter family tried to win favors by flattering him and the Lees.

Adam had no good impression of Kaze since the first time they met.

Back then, Kaze simply nodded at him and went off to talk to others, which made Adam feel neglected.

Though Kaze treated everyone the same since the Otters brought the entire family to the Lees.

Nevertheless, Adam held a grudge against Kaze since then and it had been in his heart for many years.

Wr "9 BONUS Kaze, it excited him.

Darcy already expected them to humiliate Kaze but she still felt terrible.

Kaze barely reacted and remained nonchalant.

To him, these so-called influential figures of the medical field were like Gavin and Yaryn at Bay Club.

He did not care about them or what they said.

Chapter 974 Goal

Chapter 974 Goal! Kaze's nonchalance, however, became submission to them.

"Ms. Quint, don't sulk. Your husband isn't all that useless either, at least he can take humiliation better than us." "Yeah. If I were him, I would have freaked out." "Ms. Quint, your husband is like a sponge to humiliation. He can absorb everything without showing any reaction. I admire that." "Hahaha..." The group cackled.

Darcy had a hint of anger on her face.

Adam spotted it. He wanted to use Darcy to set him off and highlight his success at the party, so if she walked away due to the humiliation, he might lose the chance.

"That's enough. Kaze is still my niece's husband. Don't be too harsh on him. The party is starting, we shouldn't be out here.

"Darcy, you should bring Kaze inside as well. More VIPs are coming, and it's a great chance to introduce him to them. It will do you more good than harm." Adam spoke strictly, seemingly defending Kaze from the others.

The others toned down their laughter but they still did not take Kaze seriously.

Darcy had the perfect excuse to leave.

She nodded stiffly.

She held Kaze's hand tightly and said, "Kaze, don't mind them. Let's go in." Kaze did not even care about what the others thought.

He went inside with Darcy, disregarding the contemptuous gazes of the others.

"What a useless guy." Adam grunted and headed into the hotel as well.

Everyone went to the banquet hall on the third floor of the hotel, which already had a large crowd.

All of them were representatives from different hospitals, pharmacies, and medical-related companies in Lilyrose.

The welcoming party even invited some guests from different cities, like Sunrise and others.

Darcy's entrance attracted a lot of attention.

Whether the guests knew her or not, they were captivated by her alluring figure and exquisite beauty.

Some even showed a perverted expression on their faces.

Darcy's presence overshadowed the female guests' presence, which made them jealous.

about who Darcy was.

"Plus-one? No one in Lilyrose can make this woman his plus-one!" The locals found it amusing.

Someone explained, "She's the famous Darcy Quint of Lilyrose. You've heard of Quartet Group and Sky Ocean Corporation right? She's the chairwoman of those companies." The two companies were worth billions and their reputation had gone beyond Lilyrose for a while now.

The revelation intrigued many of them.

Darcy was beautiful, rich, and powerful.

It would be great if someone could have her as his wife.

“Don’t even think about it. She’s married. Her husband married into her family and she even brought him here.

Look, there he is. That useless trash must have saved the universe in his past life.” The locals pointed at Kaze as they explained, showing nothing but contempt and jealousy on their faces.

Some of them were disappointed.

Since Darcy was married, they would not stand a chance.

However, not everyone was discouraged.

There was a man in his 30s who seemed adventurous and bold. He looked at Kaze with a meaningful smile.

“There’s a goalkeeper, but it doesn’t mean I won’t take the shot at the goal.” = “A Chapter 975 One Million to Divorce “If she’s married, she can divorce. This Kaze Lee doesn’t look great at all. Since he married into her family, I bet he lived like a dog at her house.

“I think calling him the goalkeeper is too much for him.” The young man grinned and said firmly, “From now on, Darcy Quint will be my woman!” The others were surprised by how confident the young man was.

They wondered what fueled the man’s confidence.

Then, they realized the man was just more than just bold words.

He stepped forward and walked over to Darcy and Kaze, which further intrigued the others.

They were hoping for something interesting to happen.

Darcy was chatting with people w' had her surrounded.

Even though she had to handle a larger crowd compared to outside, she was able to chat with everyone politely and professionally.

Kaze was happy for her.

Making her the chairwoman of Quartet Group and Sky Ocean Corporation did not just boost her status, but it also gave her a chance to grow and improve.

In time, she would grow into a powerful figure in the business world.

Kaze sat down at the side and simply watched Darcy. He had no intention of interrupting or stealing her limelight.

He just wanted to protect her from the shadows.

Unfortunately, being a trouble magnet, Kaze always ran into trouble.

The moment he sat down, someone tapped on his shoulder.

Surprised, Kaze looked at the man in front of him.

The young man was in his early 30s, wearing a handsome suit, and possessed a decent disposition, making him look confident.

He seemed like a successful young man with a rich background.

“Yes?” Kaze did not know the man, so he simply smiled as a reply.

The man smiled and then pulled out a bank card from his wallet. He looked at Kaze with a grin and then frivolously tossed it into his hand.

“There’s a million in that card. Let’s make a deal.” Despite being away from Darcy, being her husband, Kaze had many eyes on him.

In addition to the man’s confident and strong voice, it attracted even more attention.

Another middle-aged man, who was closer to them, explained, “Friend, do you know who he is? Let me introduce: he’s Darcy Quint’s husband. I bet you already know who Darcy Quint is.

“Ms. Quint is the chairwoman of two companies that are worth billion< ” He scoffed.

He then looked at Kaze. "A million and you are trying to make a deal with Ms.

Quint's husband? You are insulting him." He sounded like he was defending Kaze but it felt strange.

It further attracted attention from the surroundings and a crowd started to gather.

The people who were talking to Darcy were forced to cease the conversation and turned around.

The young man said with a smile,

"Thank you, sir. I know who this man is. He's Darcy Quint's husband. I think a million isn't insulting at all. In fact, it's too much for him." Chapter 976 Segore Pharmaceutical Chapter 976 Segore Pharmaceutical The man's words silenced the entire hall.

Darcy was beautiful, seductive, and extremely rich and powerful for owning two companies.

She was the perfect woman for any man.

Everyone believed Kaze was not worthy of Darcy, but such thoughts remained as thoughts, yet the young man made his thoughts verbal.

In fact, the young man voiced his thoughts in front of a crowd and challenged Kaze in front of Darcy.

Everyone looked at Kaze with interest and disdain. They wondered how the infamous trash of Lilyrose would react.

Kaze was surprisingly calm.

“Who are you?” he asked after shooting a glance at the man.

His frivolous manner surprised the young man.

The young man thought Kaze would be infuriated by his provocation.

The angrier Kaze got, the more incompetent it would make him look.

The man would then have a chance to stomp over him, metaphorically.

Despite the strange reaction, the man believed Kaze was just acting.

Darcy came over to have a look after ending her conversation with someone else.

The man saw her and his eyes shone { with interest. He smiled and said, “Ms.

Quint, let me introduce myself: I am Tao Segore, an entrepreneur. I am I currently the CEO of Segore Pharmaceutical in Sunrise City.” “Segore Pharmaceutical? The company has been making names in the past two years and has been expanding rapidly.” “Tao Segore started from nothing and reached this height in just two years.

He must be powerful...” People who had heard of Tao’s company started to whisper with interest.

how much potential Tao and his company possessed.) “Mr. Segore. Nice to meet you. What is going on here?” Darcy simply nodded. She was not in the medical field, so she had never heard of him before.

Her frivolous attitude irritated Tao.

He was young and successful. Even if Darcy owned two companies, she should at least show some respect to him.

However, he understood her feelings because he just insulted her husband in front of everyone.

“Ms. Quint, I hope you don’t mind.” Tao apologized and then explained, “I am a straightforward person and I like to speak my mind. With your beauty and capabilities, any man who is not him is a better fit for you. Your husband is not worthy of you.” He might be apologizing but he did not mean it at all.

“Ms. Quint, Mr. Segore is right. You are young, successful, and a rising star in the business world. Why is that piece of trash worthy of you?” Like Tao said, many of the guests shared his thoughts.

Since Tao already started it, others stepped up and agreed with his opinion.

“Marriage should be equal, not like this. The successful businesswoman and the useless retard is more like a fairytale.” €9 I “Ms. Quint, if you insist on being with him, you will hinder your career and also affect your public image...”

Chapter 977 Old Friend

Those who spoke were the younger ones, who also had ulterior motives toward Darcy’s beauty and status.

However, they hid their thoughts well and it sounded like they were concerned about her.

Before they even knew it, they already formed a tacit union to target Kaze, trying to remove the obstacle from their goal.

As for who had the chance to go for the shoot, it would depend on their respective capabilities.

“Ms. Quint, you heard them. That’s what everyone thought. I am just making it verbal.”

Tao believed he would be the one who got Darcy. His confidence remained sky-high.

Before they even came into the banquet hall, Darcy was already annoyed and irritated.

Now that Kaze was being insulted, it put a gloomy look on her face.

“You people are so free that you have the time to poke your nose into someone else’s business,” Darcy said coldly.

“My marriage is a private affair, my own business. It has nothing to do with you people, and I don’t care about my public image or my future status. I attend the party with Kaze because we are here to meet Uncle Adam, and that’s it.

“I can talk business with you but if you are bugging me and poking your nose into my private affairs, please stay away!”

Darcy showed no courtesy at all with her words as she was infuriated.

Those who spoke up felt embarrassed and jealous.

They thought Kaze had no power or status in the Quints, they literally took him as Darcy's plus-one.

Yet Darcy protected him in public and lashed out at everyone because of him. It made the people look at Kaze with more hostility and jealousy.

However, since Darcy was still around, no one dared to continue giving Kaze a hard time.

Then, Adam came back from the washroom and noticed the awkward atmosphere.

Confused, he asked, "What's wrong? Where's the lively atmosphere from a while ago?"

"Uncle Adam!"

Tao noticed Adam's confusion and went up to him.

The welcoming party was held for Adam, which stated how prominent he was.

Tao called Adam uncle as well, which somehow made the others look at the young man with a hint of reverence.

If he could call Adam uncle, he must be close with the vice chief.

"Tao, you're here."

Adam nodded and smiled. "I have someone that I would like to introduce you to. Darcy, come here."

He waved at Darcy.

"Uncle Adam."

Darcy went over upon being summoned.

Adam smiled and introduced Tao to Darcy. "This is Tao Segore. His family and us are long-time friends and we have been close like forever. Tao came to Lilyrose to seek out an investment for his company. Since you are practically the biggest businesswoman here, why don't you give him a little help so that everything goes well for him?"

He tapped on Tao's shoulder throughout the introduction, which stated that he liked the young man a lot.

"I understand, Uncle Adam."

Darcy nodded emotionlessly.

Adam felt embarrassed by the poor reaction. He grunted and asked, "What's wrong with you, Darcy?"

"Uncle Adam, I think I might have said something that upset Ms. Quint here," Tao said.

He then looked at Darcy and continued, "Ms. Quint, I apologize for what I said but I meant every word. Your husband is not worth of you."

Chapter 978 Not Worthy of my wife

Chapter 978 Not Worthy of My Wife With Adam on his side, Tao was no longer afraid of Darcy being angry with him.

He apologized and re-emphasized his words from earlier.

Darcy's expression turned grim. She said coldly, "Mr. Segore, this is my private affair. It's none of your business!" Tao did not expect Darcy to voice her anger out in front of Adam.

His expression turned gloomy as well.

"Darcy, where are your manners?!" Adam was unhappy with Darcy's response either. He said coldly, "Tao's grandfather and your grandfather are like brothers and our families have been close for generations! Tao spoke the truth because he is concerned with you and you show him your temper?!" Kaze heard Adam and his eyes turned cold.

Adam was obviously biased toward Tao, and Kaze did not mind. However, he berated Darcy in public because he was full of himself.

Kaze got up and wanted to speak but Darcy quickly stopped him by shooting him a warning glance because she had promised her mother to get along with Adam.

She took a deep breath to calm herself and said, "Uncle Adam, I understand what Tao is getting at but this is my private affair. I don't want anyone poking their noses into my own business." Adam felt better after seeing compliance from Darcy.

He had a glance at Tao, who had eager eyes at Darcy, and he had a thought in mind.

He smiled and then said, "It's okay."

Tao is just being kind. Besides, he doesn't rely on his family and founded Segore Pharmaceutical all by himself.

He's the rising star in the medical field back in Sunrise City. Forgive him for being proud and looking down on Kaze." He had a glance at Kaze and continued, "Compared to Tao, Kaze is really nothing impressive. Impressive people should be together. Since Tao is still single, it wouldn't hurt if you two see each other more." Adam had obviously taken Tao's side and started to lobby for him.

Darcy took another deep breath to calm herself down.

The other guests also realized that Adam was comparing Kaze to Tao, which was an obvious move to belittle Kaze. They knew what Adam was trying to do.

"vice Chief Otter is right. Impressive people should be together. Tao, young and ambitious, is a lot better than the useless man. They are heaven and earth apart." "Being a useless guy, he doesn't even speak up when people are humiliating him and he has to rely on his wife to protect him..." Those who mocked Kaze earlier continued to insult him.

They tried to make their stance clear to Adam by belittling Kaze.

The more the guests belittle and insult Kaze, the prouder Tao got.

He looked at Kaze and said, "You heard everyone. As Darcy's husband, don't you feel embarrassed? I know she's a kind woman and insists on bringing you to such a party even though she would have to bear all the criticism.

"Yet you are so useless that you keep quiet. She continued to defend you and did not give you up. As a man, don't you think that's a shitty move? Don't you feel tired that your woman has to do this for you? If I were you, I would have left her because she deserved better." Tao did not hold back on his criticism at all. Chapter 979

Chapter 979 Not a Penny Worth of Investment Kaze spoke with utmost contempt and disdain, which surprised everyone.

Where did the useless trash gain his confidence to speak up against Tao? Soon, the people realized that his source of confidence was Darcy.

Darcy owned two companies that were worth billions.

Only less than a handful of men were worthy of her.

“Hahaha, and here I thought how capable is this useless trash to look down on Mr. Segore. It was his wife...”

Everyone burst into laughter.

Kaze ignored the people’s laughter and looked at Tao. With a serious look, he asked, “Tell me, what gave you the confidence that made you believe you are worthy of Darcy?” Tao was infuriated by Kaze’s disdain.

He grunted coldly and said proudly, “I have to admit that Ms. Quint is indeed an amazing woman but I'm not half bad either. Do you know why I'am here in Lilyrose? That's because I'am getting a billion worth of investment from Hudson Investment Firm.” Tao looked at Darcy and said confidently, “With this investment, my company will continue to expand rapidly and in the near future, it will surpass your companies’ combined net SEARCH THE FINDNOVEL.NET website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

worth.” Everyone was surprised by his revelation.

“A billion worth of investment? That's big news!” “With such a high amount of investment, even a start-up can become top 500, let alone Segore Pharmaceutical!” Everyone looked at Tao with jealousy and admiration, including the veterans in the field.

One billion worth of investment was a huge deal in the business. It would make headlines for weeks.

“Congratulations, Mr. Segore!” “Hudson Investment Firm is said to have more than ten billion worth of funds. If you get their investment, you are going to the moon!” “Tao, don’t forget about me!” Everyone started to flatter Tao and drown him in praise.

Tao looked at Kaze with utmost disdain. “Trash, what about now?” “Mr. Segore, you shouldn’t lower yourself to his level. It makes you look bad.” “The trash is humiliating himself. I don’t think he has words for himself now.” Everyone looked at Kaze with contempt.

“pao Segore, so this is where you got your confidence.”

Kaze smiled brightly.

He had no idea that Tao gained confidence from acquiring an investment from Hudson Investment Firm.

With Kaze’s current influence and status in the firm, he should be informed of any big investment.

He called Sophie immediately.

“Sophie, I heard that Segore Pharmaceutical is acquiring a billion investment from the company.” “yes, Sir, but they have only submitted the application. We haven’t started the inspection process and background check, Who told you that they already got the investment?” Sophie was a dutiful assistant and she had already gotten used to the investment firm’s operation.

“This is just a paper application. Even § if we cleared them in the end, the most they could get is a hundred million.

“Mr. Chairman, I suppose you have heard about how people like to boast about investment in this field. Ten million would go up to a hundred, and a hundred would go up to a billion so that it will make them look good and they can attract more investors.

“Whoever believes them are idiots. And [didn’t mean you, Sir...” Kaze did not mind Sophie’s choice of words.

He had a glance at Tao, who was scrutinizing him coldly.

Kaze grinned and said firmly, “Sophie, Segore Pharmaceutical is not getting a penny from our company!”

Chapter 980

Chapter 980 Casual Kaze's words sparked commotion across the banquet hall.

The guests were amazed not because they took him seriously but because of how ridiculous he sounded.

"What is he talking about? Does he really think he can stop a billion worth of investment?" "He's a patient in the psych ward. I bet he's going crazy again." "Ms. Quint, why don't you bring your husband to the hospital, or have one of the doctors here to check on him? I'm sure there are brain specialists here..." Everyone mocked Kaze and looked at him and Darcy as if they were the biggest joke.

Darcy felt embarrassed.

"Kaze, stop fooling around!" Darcy tugged Kaze and angrily whispered, "You are on your first day! No one would listen to you!" She knew the call Kaze made was real because Kaze was the CEO of Hudson Investment Firm.

However, Miru clearly told her that Kaze was just the nominal CEO with no authority whatsoever.

A billion worth of investment was huge and it was not something Kaze could cancel with just a call.

Him making the call and canceling it in front of everyone was pure embarrassment.

"Darcy, I'm not messing around. I am in charge of Hudson Investment Firm now," Kaze said patiently, but Darcy did not believe him.

She rolled her eyes at him and looked away.

Tao noticed the little interaction and curled his lips in disdain. "Ms. Quint, your husband isn't all useless. He likes to brag and bluff. I'm sure he always embarrasses you." Darcy did not argue with him this time as she was upset.

"Darcy, send him back and stop embarrassing us here!" Adam said strictly.

He originally planned to threaten Kaze so that Cosmo would be released and returned to the Lees but seeing how incompetent Kaze was, he believed it was not necessary.

Adam shot a glance at Kaze and said, "After you go back, go to the..." "Mr. Segore! This is bad!" It was then a young woman in professional attire came into the banquet hall hurriedly.

Adam was irritated that someone interrupted him, and so were the other guests.

It was a gathering of elites, not a club that everyone could barge in unannounced.

The woman's unannounced entry annoyed everyone. Tao looked embarrassed because the woman was his secretary.

She was mostly just there to set him off with her looks and maybe charm someone once in a while, yet she embarrassed him in front of Adam and many other veterans in the same field. SEARCH the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Tao bellowed, "Is the world ending? What did I tell you? Even if it's the end of the world, calm down!" "I'm sorry, Mr. Segore!" the secretary apologized immediately.

"What is it?" Tao casually raised his hand at his secretary and then shot a glance at Darcy.

"Mr. Segore, we just got a phone call from Hudson Investment Firm that our application is denied and we have been blacklisted!"

Tao was stunned on the spot.

He staggered backward and knocked over the vase behind him.

"Mr. Segore, are you okay?!" The secretary went over to him immediately.

"W-What did you say?" Tao asked with a horrified look.

The secretary repeated what she said.

"W-What? H-How?! Why?!" Tao's face turned as pale as paper and he no longer looked nonchalant and casual.

Chapter 981

Chapter 981 Identity Exposed The news from the secretary not only shocked Tao, but it also surprised and confused the other guests in the hall, especially those who gave Kaze a hard time by insulting him.

They wished they could bury their embarrassment in the ground.

A moment ago, they were humiliating Kaze. Now, Segore Pharmaceutical had just lost a billion worth of investment.

They felt like they were slapped in the face for what they said.

Even Darcy looked at Kaze with surprise.

Kaze had just been the CEO for one day, an nominal one, yet he was able to stop such a huge deal with just a phone call? Hudson Investment Firm was filled with investment elites in the business field, so why would they listen to him? "Out of my way!" Tao pushed his secretary away and darted over to Kaze. He glared at Kaze with fierce eyes.

"Is it you? You useless trash! It was you!? Don't tell me you have anything to do with this! It's all a coincidence, is it?!" His heart was bleeding as he had just lost a billion worth of investment.

Only he knew how important the investment was to his company. Once he got the money, his company would

Now, it all went down the drain.

He could not accept that it all happened because the useless trash that he looked down upon had made a call.

His pride was stomped into the ground by a useless trash with just a phone call.

Tao was eager to prove that Kaze had nothing to do with it, or he would lose his mind.

Unfortunately, what Kaze said delivered an impactful blow to his confidence.

"Unfortunately, it really is me." Tao was shaken.

"No, impossible!" He shouted like a madman.

The others found it unbelievable as well.

One call from Kaze and Tao lost a billion worth of investment.

How terrifying was it? “How is it not possible? Do you know who the CEO of Hudson Investment Firm is?” Darcy then pointed at Kaze and said proudly, “It’s him. Kaze Lee, my husband!” She had never been so proud even when she was flattered by the others.

Despite being confused and baffled because she did not know why Kaze was able to stop the investment, she knew it was him and only he could have done it.

“What? He is the CEO of Hudson Investment Firm?!” “A useless trash?” Everyone was shocked.

They all looked at Kaze with utmost disbelief and shock.

Adam’s expression turned bitter; Tao’s expression looked horrified.

No matter how they tried to understand the situation, they could not believe that a useless man who married into his wife’s family would become the CEO of an investment firm with ten billion funds! Darcy said coldly, “If you don’t believe me, just go check on their official website. The new CEO is indeed Kaze.” Everyone quickly pulled out their phones and went online. Even Tao did it.

“It’s really Kaze Lee!” “It’s him!” The voices of disbelief and shock sounded in succession across the hall.

Everyone looked at Kaze differently.

The contempt and disdain they had for him were quickly replaced by reverence and admiration.

Chapter 982

Chapter 982 You Are Not Worthy Now “You fuck! You ruined my investment!” Tao was devastated.

He gripped his phone tightly and glared at Kaze angrily, hoping that he could skin him alive.

“You are the one who ruined your own investment. You have just submitted the paper application and you made it sound like you have already gotten one billion.

“The funniest thing is that you used it to boost your confidence and thought you were worthy of my wife.” As he spoke, Kaze bent over and picked up the bank card that Tao tossed at him earlier.

He flicked off the dust on it and tossed it back at Tao’s face. ENE “Now, you are not worthy.” Spat! The card fell off his face and hit the floor.

It was not even painful but the insult was heart-wrenching.

“You fuck! I’ll kill you!” Tao shouted like a frenzied animal. He raised his fists and wanted to hurt Kaze. SEARCH THE WEBSITE TO ACCESS CHAPTERS OF NOVELS EARLY AND IN THE HIGHEST QUALITY.

“Enough!” Adam bellowed loudly, pulling Tao back from his frenzied trance.

“Tao, leave at once and stop embarrassing yourself!” When he saw the angry look on Adam, Tao finally realized he had lost everything tonight.

He glared at Kaze before he reluctantly walked away.

All the other guests were in awe.

Those who shared the same thoughts as Tao were afraid as well. The more they insulted him, the more horrified they were.

If they stepped forward like Tao, they would be clowns as well.

Kaze smiled it off as he was not concerned by a piece of trash.

Adam had a fierce glance at Kaze but even he had to swallow his grievance.

He too tried to trample Kaze’s pride in front of the guests just to set off Tao.

Now, Kaze turned the tables around and embarrassed Tao in front of everyone.

Adam felt like he, too, was insulted by it.

However, he was able to recover his composure quickly and looked at Darcy. With slight annoyance, he said, “Darcy, are you planning to keep this from me? Why didn’t you tell me about Kaze being the CEO of Hudson Investment Firm?” He was a man who knew how to read the situation.

When he found out Kaze was the CEO, no matter how much he disliked Kaze, he would never show his disgust on his face. — Quite the opposite, he had to lower himself to form a better connection with Kaze and Darcy.

With the current scale of Hudson Investment Firm, Kaze, as its CEO, could easily attract attention wherever he went, in a good way.

“Uncle Adam, today is Kaze’s first day in the office and I did not have the chance to tell you.” Darcy might not prefer her uncle being biased toward Tao but since the man lowered himself, she decided to talk to him peacefully.

“I see...” Adam smiled as a way to escape the embarrassment. He then looked at Kaze with surprise and praised him, saying, “Kaze, today is your first day and you can already make decisions to stop a billion worth of investment? You seemed capable.” “It’s just my colleagues doing all the heavy lifting,” Kaze said.

“Regardless, you are able to command them on your first day, which means your leadership capabilities are strong.” Adam nodded.

Then, he switched the topic and said, “There is a VIP on his way. This VIP is from Paladia’s royal family and he is supported by one of the top ten multinational companies in Paladia.”

Chapter 983

Chapter 983 Piss Off “Woah!” Many of the guests were surprised by Adam’s revelation.

A VIP from the royal family, backed by one of the top ten multinational companies in Paladia? Such a background was revered and respected regardless of location.

Many of the guests were eager to meet the VIP, but not Kaze.

He reacted with a strange look because the first person that came into his mind was Danny.

Adam could not see through Kaze’s mind, so with his boastful manner, he continued, “The VIP is here with a great project. Many companies in our country wish to be a part of it or even invest in it. Coincidentally, he is my good friend.

“Kaze, you are the new CEO of Hudson Investment Firm. I believe you also want a good project to invest in so that you have something to show to the company. Why don’t I introduce you to him later?” Adam then stood confidently in front of Kaze, waiting for him to speak.

Kaze being the CEO of Hudson Investment Firm somehow pressured Adam and this was the only way he could maintain his superiority.

“Thank you but no thanks.” Kaze subtly rejected the offer.

Adam did not expect such a direct rejection. He was both surprised and angry at the same time.

He said to Darcy, “Darcy, is it because I sided with Tao earlier and now Kaze is angry at me? I am doing this for your own good!” “Kaze, don’t be calculative with Uncle Adam,” Darcy said as she tugged Kaze’s sleeve.

Kaze helplessly smiled. He said, “I have already forgotten about that guy.

It’s just that I am not interested in the project that you mentioned.” Adam’s expression turned grim. He believed Kaze was trying to embarrass or belittle him.

“It seems like you don’t know who the VIP is yet. You will know later.” Since they were unable to converse properly, Adam grunted and walked away to talk to the others.

The others saw the chance to approach Kaze.

“Mr. Lee! I have heard a lot about you! I am Lorenzo Lunderbar of King Pharmaceutical! Nice to meet you!” “Mr. Lee, you are young and capable! You are the perfect match for Ms.

Quint! I’m the director of the hospital...” Kaze became the center of attention all of a sudden.

“Get out of my face!” Kaze bellowed at everyone.

Those who mocked him and gave him a hard time had the nerve to flatter him now that they knew his status.

“Uh...” The smiles froze on their faces. They did not expect Kaze to be this fierce.

Since they were all social elites, no matter what they had in mind, one should always read the situation and try to maintain a peaceful manner of conversation. SEARCH THE website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

However, Kaze bellowed at them.

“Hmph! Stupid. He’s just some investment firm’s CEO.” “Let’s see how long he can be CEO!” The people, disappointed, walked away with a sulky face.

Darcy pinched Kaze with a pouty look.

“Kaze, you are now the CEO of Hudson Investment Firm, you can’t be who you used to be anymore! Don’t offend I people, especially in the business world. Can you be a little bit more mature?” Kaze knew Darcy was concerned about him. He held her hand and said, “I just don’t like them because they mocked me earlier and made you mad. They are not children yet they play up to us when they learn we have power. Don’t worry, those fools won’t hurt me at all.” “yeah. Yeah. Yeah. You are already the CEO of the best argument.” Darcy rolled her eyes at him.

It was then that Adam came back and said loudly, “Everyone, the VIP is here.

Please come with me and welcome

I him!”

Chapter 984

Chapter 984 Finance News Anchor Judging from Adam’s reaction, he must have valued the VIP a lot.

The guests at the scene followed him to the entrance of the hotel.

Adam worked for the government and basically had no common topic with the VIP from the royal family.

He was planning to drag Darcy along, using her beauty and status to form a connection with the VIP.

He turned around and noticed Darcy barely reacted, which made him frown.

“Darcy, what are you doing standing there? Don’t you want to meet royalty?”

Darcy was not interested in meeting any royalty, yet her uncle insisted. She was forced to follow along.

Kaze did not mind. Quite the opposite, he was curious about what Danny prepared for the night, so he followed Darcy as well.

Soon, footsteps came from the corridor and marched toward the entrance.

Other than Kaze, Darcy, and several others, all the other guests lifted their chests and looked as smart as possible to leave a good impression on the royalty.

Adam, as the man of the night, stood in the center and looked proud.

Then, a man with blonde hair and sapphire eyes walked in.

As expected, it was Danny, whom Kaze had met and taught a lesson.

Danny was in a set of handsome suits that set off his royalty status.

Beside him was an Arcadian woman with beautiful makeup and branded attire, looking stunning. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Her arms were curled around Danny's arm as she strutted in proudly. Her chin was highly lifted, allowing her to peer down at everyone condescendingly.

Then, she spotted Darcy. Her judgmental gaze scrutinized Darcy from top to bottom.

Darcy was uncomfortable being looked at but she maintained her manners and smiled at the woman.

The woman did not react and simply looked away.

Darcy frowned but did not say anything.

"Mr. Danny Tulip, thank you for joining us at my welcoming party! I'm honored to have you! We have been waiting for you!" Adam walked up to Danny for a handshake.

Danny pulled his attention back from Darcy and then said, "I'm glad to be here." "I wonder who is your plus-one for the night?" Adam did not mind Danny's proud demeanor. He smiled and scrutinized the woman beside him.

He clearly remembered Danny being a married man and his wife and children were here in Arcadia.

"A local friend that I met a while ago," Danny said but did not introduce her.

In fact, he did not even remember her name.

He might be married and had kids but he was a playboy.

His wife was also a player, so they both had different lives separately.

Since he arrived at Arcadia, women had been lining up to accompany him.

The woman beside him was just a new partner that he got recently and like the others, he would ditch her when he got bored. There was no reason for him to remember her name.

Just when Adam found himself in an awkward position, some locals recognized the lady.

“Mr. Otter, this is Lilyrose’s superstar, the financial news anchor of the biggest local TV station—Sherry Zauer.” “Yeah. Sherry Zauer is famous for her professional knowledge and beauty.

She might be young but her news segment is popular...”

Chapter 985

Chapter 985 Common Face Sherry was not the biggest star in Lilyrose.

Darcy and Kaze had never seen or heard of her before.

Those who recognized her called her a superstar because they were trying to make Danny look good.

Other men showed admiration on their faces.

Sherry was considered beautiful and with her background as a news anchor, she became quite attractive to the professionals and elites.

A woman like her would never be interested in a man whom the common people considered successful.

In fact, not even the representatives and doctors at the scene were able to catch her attention. = However, she was willing to be with Danny, a married man who could not even remember her name.

It made the other men jealous.

Danny and Sherry were instantly flooded by flattery.

Sherry was able to remain calm and cool. She nodded and smiled at everyone, but her frosty demeanor distanced herself from the others.

If not for her curling her hands around Danny's arms, people might take her as a living statue.

"Mr. Tulip, let me introduce you to some friends," Adam said.

He then pointed at Teddy and said, "This is the chief of Lilyrose's Ministry of Health and Welfare, Teddy Roots. He is the one who organized the party tonight." "Nice to meet you, Mr. Tulip." Teddy went up for a handshake and a bow. "I heard Mr. Tulip is looking for an investment for a great project backed by Tulip Corporation. May I ask, is it medical-related? If it is, the Ministry of Health and Welfare will do whatever we can to assist!" He was eager and passionate.

Even though his intentions were despicable, he was flattering Danny for the potential benefits that he could seize.

Tulip Corporation was one of the top ten companies in Paladia.

If Teddy could make the deal happen, this achievement alone would boost his career to a new height.

"Mhmm. I do have such considerations. Let's talk about it later." Danny gave a standard reply. He did not even shake Teddy's hand.

Teddy's hand was left hanging in the air. All he could do was smile awkwardly and not voice out his complaints.

Quite the opposite, he believed Danny had the background to ignore his existence altogether, let alone the handshake.

"Mr. Tulip, if you are looking for a smaller investor, Greenlight Pharmaceutical can invest a few hundred million. Please consider us." One of the representatives stepped up and tried to appeal to Danny.

Danny nonchalantly said, "A few hundred million is too little, but if you are serious about it, I can think about it » "Yes. Please do consider us. We are very serious about this," the representative said.

Then, all the other representatives did their best to appeal to Danny, hoping that he would consider their companies.

Danny looked nonchalant throughout the entire conversation.

To the others, his nonchalance SEARCH THE website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

reflected his powerful background from the royal family.

Many of the representatives shared the same thoughts as Teddy.

“Guys, this is enough. Let’s give Mr.

Tulip some air. He will be in Arcadia for awhile and you guys still have the time to secure the deal.” Adam quickly held the crowd back when he spotted the annoyance on Danny’s face.

After the crowd dispersed, Danny moved his attention to Darcy.

“Mr. Otter, you forgot to introduce this beautiful lady.”

Chapter 986

Chapter 986 Too Much? Darcy was the only one who did not try to flatter Danny, which annoyed and intrigued him at the same time.

Danny had the strange urge to dominate Darcy because she was the only one who defied his presence.

Being Danny’s plus-one, Sherry’s expression turned gloomy but she remained silent.

Her eyes looking at Darcy were filled with jealousy.

“This is my niece, Darcy. The chairwoman of Quartet Group and Sky Ocean Corporation. I was just going to introduce her to you.” Adam was happy that Danny was interested in Darcy.

He turned around and spoke to Darcy in a commanding manner. “Darcy, Mr. SEARCH THE website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Tulip wants to meet you. Come over I here!" Danny was surprised. His eyes were glued to Darcy when he found out that she was not just pretty but also the chairwoman of two companies.

It was at that moment that he made up his mind to obtain Darcy and her I companies.

He wanted them all! "Ms. Quint, this is great! You didn't even say a word and Mr. Tulip noticed you! He doesn't even care about us!" "Ms. Quint, go! Mr. Tulip is waiting for you!" "yeah! This is a great chance to meet a member of the royal family!" The women around Darcy started to 4 voice their jealousy and urged her to step forward.

They wished they were Darcy and that Danny would be interested in them.

Darcy frowned. She sensed Danny's invasive gaze on her.

Even though she could not read his mind and ill thoughts, it made her uncomfortable.

However, if she did not answer, she would probably offend Danny.

Darcy did not want to make enemies, especially against someone with a powerful background and immunity in Arcadia.

Just when Darcy wanted to step up, Kaze beat her to it and pulled her back.

"Darcy, why should you greet some foreign trash who wants to meet you? Isn't it too much? Shouldn't he come to you?" Kaze's words silenced the entire hall.

Everyone looked at Kaze in disbelief.

Danny was a member of the royal family from Paladia and was backed by one of the top ten companies in the country.

Yet Kaze called him foreign trash in front of everyone, insulting Danny brazenly in public.

Was he not afraid of Danny's retaliation? Almost everyone in the banquet hall believed that Kaze had lost his mind.

He may be the CEO of Hudson Investment Firm, but to insult Danny publicly would mean making an enemy out of the Paladian royal family.

"What is the meaning of this?" "Are you insane? How dare you call Mr.

Tulip that?" The first one who reacted was Adam and he shouted at Kaze.

He then turned to Darcy. "Look at you husband! You did not greet Mr. Tulip and your husband called him foreign trash! Where are your manners? Where is your respect?"

Darcy wanted to explain but Kaze beat her to it again, saying, "You are right.

We have no respect for foreign trash." "You bastard!" Adam pointed at Kaze angrily, speechless.

He turned to Danny, apologizing. "Mr.

Tulip, please do not mind him. He's crazy and he speaks gibberish..." "Mr. Otter, you don't say. I might know him better than you do." Danny stopped Kaze with a wave of his hand and glared at Kaze coldly.

"Kaze Lee, the abandoned son of the Sunrise Lees, and the CEO of Hudson Investment Firm. Am I right?" Danny's voice was as frosty as ice and his explanation surprised Adam.

"Mr. Tulip, you know him?"

Chapter 987

Chapter 987 Exposed on the Spot "Of course I know him." Danny touched his face.

He was insulted by Kaze twice, and he could never forget the humiliation.

His hatred for Kaze was apparent in his eyes and it felt like they could materialize at any moment.

Danny grinned and said, "Not only do I know him, but I also know that he's a useless piece of trash. He became the CEO of Hudson Investment Firm because of his wife's best friend. He relied on his wife to become the CEO and he's here at the party I'm attending!" He looked at Adam and said coldly, "Mr. Otter, you disappoint me. This is an insult to the royal family!" His voice shook Adam.

Adam turned to Kaze with a bitter look. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

“Darcy, this useless trash relied on you to become the CEO of Hudson Investment Firm?! Why didn’t you tell me about it!” He was drowning in regrets. He should not have told Darcy to bring Kaze to the party, which led to Kaze offending Danny in public.

The others at the scene looked at Kaze strangely as well.

Their gazes were filled with contempt and disdain again.

“] knew it. How could someone like him be the CEO of a huge investment firm and control funds worth a few billion? It’s because of his wife!” «He used his status to pressure Tao from Segore Pharmaceutical and stopped the investment. How amusing.” “Ms. Quint wanted to save face, that’s why she didn’t expose him!” «Trash is trash, and some trash being CEO is still trash!” Insults ensued, and they were from the people whom Kaze declined earlier.

They felt embarrassed for having the thought of flattering Kaze earlier.

Therefore, they insulted Kaze with harsh words and did not hold back at all.

Darcy remained silent but her expression was frosty.

It was Miru who arranged for Kaze to be the CEO and this was an undeniable fact.

«Mr. Tulip, this is my mistake. I shouldn’t have let the trash be on the same premise as you. His presence contaminated your noble status. I throw him out immediately!” Adam then turned to Darcy with a fierce gaze. ‘Why are you standing there? Get your stupid husband out!” Darcy was disappointed in her uncle who switched sides swiftly. She sulked and wanted to bring Kaze away because she had had enough as well.

“Wait, Mr. Otter. you're just letting him go like that? Aren’t we going too easy on him?” Danny said coldly.

Adam nodded. “Mr. Tulip, you are right. What do you want to do about him?” Danny looked at Kaze with a cold grind.

“Kaze Lee, you insulted me twice and I did not have the chance to get my revenge until now.

“Get over here. Kneel and apologize, and I will let this slip. Or else, T will make you regret that you've ever lived!” Danny’s eyes were frosty and his tone sounded assertive.

Adam then realized Danny and Kaze met before and Kaze had insulted him twice already.

This did not escalate because Kaze merely called Danny foreign trash.

“Kaze, you stupid idiot! How dare you offend Mr. Tulip twice?” Adam pointed at Kaze and shouted, “You heard him! Get over here and apologize!”

Chapter 988

I Chapter 988 Former-Soldiers Bodyguards = Noticing Kaze’s lack of response, Adam looked to Darcy.

“Darcy, your stupid husband is not behaving and you too? Make your husband kneel and apologize to Mr.

Tulip! If he doesn’t forgive you, then I’ll beat the two of you!” Upon hearing her uncle, Darcy’s expression turned cold.

Her own uncle disregarded her feelings and wanted her to make her husband kneel before Danny in front of a crowd.

Was it purely because Danny was a member of the royal family?

Darcy was disappointed.

It was then that Kaze held her hand tight. “Darcy, don’t be mad at people who are not worthy of your time. Just take it as dogs barking. I’d like to see who can make me kneel and apologize tonight.” Kaze sat Darcy down and poured her a glass of water like nothing happened.

He got himself a glass of water as well.

He started sipping nonchalantly as if everyone was invisible.

Adam was infuriated by Kaze’s disrespect.

The most useless person with no status offended Danny in public.

It was suicidal!

“Danny, the two of them did not take you or Tulip Corporation seriously...” Sherry suddenly spoke, not taking Kaze seriously but her attention was on Darcy.

She gloated because Darcy and Kaze challenged Danny’s pride openly and Darcy had a husband who would drag her down.

Be it her looks or status, Sherry was no match for Darcy at all and it made her feel pressured. SEARCH THE website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

However, after how things turned out, there was no way Danny would want Darcy anymore.

“He's digging his own grave!” Danny’s eyes turned cold upon hearing

Sherry.

He glared at Kaze fiercely as he clenched his fists. i From the moment he set foot in Arcadia, he had been under the spotlight and was surrounded by people who admired him.

However, Kaze was different. The useless trash challenged his pride over and over again, and called him foreign trash in front of a crowd.

“Kaze Lee, if you want to die, I'll make it happen!” Danny grinned and then pulled out his phone. “Get in here!” Bang! A deafening bang came from behind as the wooden door was kicked open.

The planks of the door, each weighing more than a hundred kilograms, hit the wall due to the impact. 4 The entire banquet hall shook for a split second.

The guests were all doctors, businessmen, and some politicians, and they were strangers to violence.

The sudden bang shocked them, causing their face to turn pale.

When they saw more than a dozen burly men marching into the hall, their bodies shook terribly and they looked terrified.

More than a dozen tall and buff foreigners marched in immediately.

I They had glasses on and wore professional suits.

Each of them looked emotionless and emanated a terrifying aura. 3 The atmosphere in the banquet hall instantly became tense.

Sherry curled her hands tighter around Danny's arm. She then grinned at Darcy, saying, "These are Danny's professional bodyguards from a multinational company in Arcadia, which is owned by the royal family. All of them are ex-soldiers who returned from the battlefield!" &»

Chapter 989

Chapter 989 I Want Quartet Group "Darcy Quint, your useless husband is dead!" Sherry's voice was sharp and vicious.

Danny grinned at Kaze in silence.

After being insulted twice, Danny grew smart. He used his connections to hire bodyguards to protect him.

Everyone else gasped in shock when they heard Sherry.

One bodyguard was more than enough to take down a common man, yet there were more than ten of them.

Everyone could already picture the devastating end for Kaze with his limbs torn and bones broken, begging Danny for forgiveness.

They gloated at him. B Darcy was afraid as well.

She tugged Kaze's sleeve and whispered, "Kaze, stop offending that man. There's no point in winning the argument here. We have to figure a way out of this. Don't worry, I won't let him make you kneel. I'll just find a way to compensate him, with money or whatever." Darcy knew Kaze had a stubborn personality and would never bow to violence.

Before Kaze could speak, she got up and apologized on his behalf. "Mr.

Danny Tulip, Kaze is concerned about me, that's why he said what he said. I wonder if we could solve this peacefully. Kneeling is a bit too much.

"We can make amends in some other way." oo Danny grinned when Darcy took the initiative to lower herself.

He scrutinized Darcy pervertedly.

Darcy's heart skipped a beat. She had a feeling that he would make a ridiculous demand. €& Danny's expression turned frosty and he said, "If you can fulfill my request, I can forgive what your stupid husband said to me." The bad feeling in Darcy's heart grew stronger, but she had to bite the bullet and agree. "What will that be, Mr.

Tulip?" "It's simple. I heard you are the chairwoman of two companies. Give me Quartet Group and this will be over right away," Danny said with a grin.

The moment he saw Darcy, he decided to acquire her body and her companies.

He was not in a hurry to acquire her body, and since she gave an inch, she could give a mile more.

He had many other ways to make Darcy succumb to his evil deeds.

Once he obtained her companies, starting with Quartet Group and then Sky Ocean Corporation, he would be able to demand Darcy to satisfy him in bed.

"Quartet Group?" The guests were in awe once again.

They did not expect that Danny, who seemed like a gentleman from the royal family, would be so demanding: Quartet Group's assets were valued at more than a billion.

Danny's demand would not only take away Darcy's company, it would also cripple her career.

The guests did not know that this was Danny's plan all along. Kaze's actions gave him the perfect excuse to execute it.

Many of them felt bad for Darcy. SEARCH THE website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

She must feel aggrieved to have such a useless husband who acted recklessly.

His mistake cost her a company that was worth more than a billion.

"Mr. Tulip, that's a little too much,"

Darcy argued with a hint of anger. Her face looked slightly pale.

She knew Danny was taking advantage of her but with his background and the ferocious bodyguards, she felt unprecedentedly pressured.

Chapter 990

Chapter 990 Have a Death Wish? “Ms. Quint, actions have consequences. Your husband chose to oppose me and challenge Tulip Corporation, so you have to prepare for retaliation.” With bodyguards around, Danny was extremely confident and arrogant.

He grinned and said, “Of course, you can choose not to accept my terms, but I hope you and your husband can bear the consequences.” He waved his hand at his bodyguards and they took a step forward.

Even though they were wearing shades, Darcy could feel their ferocious gazes ripping her and Kaze to pieces.

A murderous aura filled the room, the kind of intense air unique to veterans who had been on the battlefield. It did not only scare Darcy but also pressured all the other guests. Search The website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

The atmosphere in the hall grew so tense that it felt like a huge fight would break out at any moment.

‘Offending Danny had severe repercussions,’ a thought shared by many in the hall.

“Darcy, don’t worry.” Kaze went to stand in front of Darcy casually, blocking the murderous aura away from her.

The bodyguards’ bloodlust, which could render the guests numb and shaking, was ineffective against Kaze like water off a duck’s back.

The bodyguards stared at Kaze more intensely to intimidate him.

To their surprise, Kaze was still unfazed as if their attempts were absorbed into a black hole and turned into nothingness.

“Have a death wish?” Kaze looked at the bodyguards.

Thump! The bodyguard in front of Kaze spat a mouthful of blood due to shock and his body faltered.

As he bellowed, all the other bodyguards were affected and it canceled their murderous aura.

They all instinctively took a step back, looking at Kaze with fear and disbelief.

als

“What's wrong with you!?” Danny said to the bodyguard who spat blood.

“I-I don't know!” He was confused as well.

All he knew was that Kaze glanced at him and his gaze pierced his shades and punctured his soul.

The other bodyguards did not notice anything strange from Kaze either.

No one in the hall knew what happened.

Kaze retracted his gaze from the bodyguards and switched his attention to Danny. “Foreign trash. First, you targeted my investment firm and now you are going after my wife's company? Don't even think about getting Quartet Group.

“However, if you're still asking for slaps and insults, I can give you a few more. Don't worry, I will make sure to leave a mark on you that you'll never forget. The fact that you went after my wife is unforgivable.” Kaze sounded calm and flat, but he was provoking Danny, which amused the man.

“Hahaha! Monkey! You are crazy! I have never seen such a crazy Arcadian before!” @

Splash! Sherry grabbed a glass of wine from the table and splashed Kaze's face.

"You useless piece of trash! Danny has agreed to spare your life yet you are still challenging him? Kneel and apologize or you will be destroyed!" she bellowed fiercely.

"Hey! You! This is too much! Kaze didn't even offend you!" Darcy argued.

She quickly grabbed some napkins to wipe the wine off Kaze's face and suit, Sherry crossed her arms and looked at Darcy proudly. "You stupid woman.

You married a useless man and got yourself into this. You will only dirty Danny's bed even if you're allowed on it. You better worry about the consequences of offending Danny before coming after me." She berated Darcy because she wanted Danny to lose interest in Darcy.

"You!" Darcy pointed at Sherry angrily.

Her personality and background would not allow her to speak Sherry's kind of filthy words without any qualms.

"Darcy, calm down." Kaze wiped his face with the napkin calmly and said, "I will make this woman kneel and lick the wine off my shoes." Darcy knew Kaze was angry as well, especially at Sherry.

No matter how much Kaze hated a person, he would always slap the person and things would be over.

Now, Kaze was threatening the woman instead of swinging a slap at her.

"you? You useless piece of trash!" Sherry grunted in contempt and did not take Kaze's words seriously.

Kaze glanced at the woman and said, "you're only this loud because of this foreign trash. I will make sure you kneel before me for what you did." He glanced at his suit.

He might be able to wipe some wine off his suit jacket and shirt, but they were already wrinkled and stained.

"Darcy ordered this suit for me to celebrate my first day in Hudson Investment Firm. This is also my first day wearing it.

"Danny Tulip, you have no idea what your woman just did or how it will cost you. I will give you a chance to tell your consul to apologize to me on his knees, or I will make sure you never get back to Paladia on your feet.” He was calm yet fierce. His words shocked the entire banquet hall.

Everyone looked at Kaze as if he was crazy.

“Kaze Lee, are you out of your mind? Listen to what you are saying! Do you know who the consul of Paladia is? Why don’t you ask Jesus to apologize to you?” “The consul of Paladia represents the country and you want him to apologize to you? Are you trying to make us laugh?” “The idiot is a goner. His words will spark a diplomatic disaster.” Countless criticisms and mocks flooded Kaze instantly.

Kaze might be pretending when he challenged and provoked Danny, but when he demanded the consul of paladia apologize to him, the guests strongly believed he had lost his mind.

Chapter 992

Chapter 992 Harrison Other than the embassy, Paladia’s highest authority in a foreign country would be the consulate in Arcadia.

There were a few consulates of Paladia across Arcadia and one of them was in South River State.

The consulate represented Paladia, yet Kaze demanded the consul to kneel and apologize to him.

It was insane.

“Trash, do you know who is the consul of Paladia in South River State? He is the strongest diplomat of Paladia, a soldier who has fought on the foreign battlefield, and you want him to apologize to you? Do you have a death wish?!”

Adam was infuriated. He was gasping for air due to his anger.

If he knew Kaze would be this audacious to challenge not only Danny but the consulate as well, he would never have let Darcy bring Kaze to the welcoming party.

He could already picture how things would fall apart if those words reached Consul Harrison Ford and the consequences that would follow. 5 A diplomatic disaster would ensue.

As the main person of the welcoming party, Adam would have to bear some of the brunt too.

He might even lose his position in the ministry to soothe Harrison. SEARCH the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

“you must have lost your mind! Do you even know what the consulate or the consul is?” Adam shouted.

He must have Kaze bow out and try to mitigate and find his own escape from the impending disaster.

What Kaze said next infuriated him even more, making him want to rip Kaze apart with his own hands.

“I don’t know, but I know that there’s someone named Harrison Ford in the Paladia Consulate. He might look fierce and strong but he is a weak coward.” With a calm tone, he continued, “I also know that Harrison is in Lilyrose, which is close by. That’s why I want I him to kneel and apologize to me.” He received an update from Johnson on the way to the welcoming party.

During the Tensor Martial Arts School incident, Kaze requested Don to interrogate Jason and his men.

Jason and his men were held captive until now.

At first, Jason and his men refused to cooperate and acted like they were some bastards with white privileges.

However, after Don taught them a lesson, they surrendered and contacted the consulate of Paladia.

Harrison was quite close with Jason and he came to Lilyrose just to deal with the matter. He even tried to voice his objection at Johnson, requesting Lilyrose’s city council to release an official apology.

Now that Kaze demanded Harrison to apologize to him, he was actually trying to use the chance to take care of them foreigners once and for all.

Otherwise, even if he took care of Danny, Harrison would come after him, which would spell endless trouble.

Everyone was once again shocked to learn that Kaze knew about Harrison and insisted that the man apologize.

They had never seen such a madman I like Kaze before.

A useless guy who bore his wife's family name and demanded the consul of Paladia to apologize to him? "This idiot has completely lost his mind!" Adam almost lost his breath.

Even Darcy was shocked. "Kaze, what's wrong with you today?" She looked at Kaze, helpless: Sherry gloated and said, "Ms. Quint, can't you see? Your useless husband is afraid that Danny will come after him.

He's so scared that he has lost his mind. A useless piece of trash wants the consul of a country to apologize to him? Who gave him the confidence?"

Chapter 993

Chapter 993 Powerful "Darcy Quint, I think you better start preparing your husband's funeral!" Sherry could already picture Kaze's funeral.

Darcy's face turned as white as a sheet upon hearing that.

"Enough!" Danny stopped Sherry. He glared at Kaze and bellowed, "You Arcadian monkey! You have made a huge mistake by insulting Consul Harrison Ford! Before he arrives, I should do something on his behalf!" He then waved at his bodyguards. "Get this son of a bitch! He insulted the consul, Paladia, and me! Break his limbs!" The bodyguards looked at Kaze.

The fear they felt from Kaze earlier discouraged them at first but as Kaze continued to spew unbelievable claims, the fear was replaced by anger.

"Mr. Ford is our superior on the battlefield and he's the future of Paladia! No one can insult him!" "Die, Arcadian monkey!" As the first bodyguard shouted, the others jumped at Kaze.

"Kaze, run!" I Scared, Darcy tried to pull Kaze away but Kaze darted in front of her and ; pulled her behind him.

Kaze went for the offense right off the bat against the bodyguards.

Slap! He struck with lightning-fast movements, grabbing the first bodyguard's fist and exerting his strength.

The bodyguard, a veteran on the battlefield, had a robust forearm but it felt like a twig to Kaze.

Snap! The bodyguard cried in pain.

He collapsed and was then kicked away with blood gushing from his mouth.

Bang! Bang! Before the others even reacted, Kaze darted forward and threw a barrage of kicks and punches.

All the bodyguards who were veterans on the battlefield were no match for him. They were all knocked down with gushing blood and could not get up anymore.

Bang! Kaze stomped on the last bodyguard's chest and forced the painful cry back into his throat.

The bodyguard looked at Kaze with unprecedented fear, as if he was a monster.

He finally recognized Kaze after seeing his moves.

Back on the foreign battlefield, Kaze led his men to war and destroyed the alliance's army comprising Paladia and four other powerful countries.

Kaze was the fearsome man who was known as the God of War! "Ugh!" The bodyguard grunted before he lost consciousness.

The hall was silenced, including Danny.

Everyone was stunned by the violent scene. SEARCH THE website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Yet when they tried to gang up on Kaze, they were defeated in the shortest time possible.

No one was able to last even one of i Kaze's hits.

Danny knew Kaze was strong but not this terrifying.

He was scared by the power Kaze wielded. - His expression turned stiff and wanted to step away quietly.

Slap! Kaze strode up to him and slapped Danny on the face.

Kaze did not let him go just yet. He grabbed Danny by the collar and broke the calf with a powerful stomp.

"Aaaaargh!" Danny cried excruciatingly and fell on his knees before Kaze.

Sherry was terrified when she noticed Kaze's gaze on her.

"W-What are you trying to do?" Kaze grabbed her and slapped her to the ground. He then lifted his foot and said, "I said I would make you lick the wine off my shoes." Sa "Y-You rubbish! What gives you the right? I'll kill you!" Sherry shouted like a madwoman.

However, after another slap, she was silenced and reluctantly moved closer to Kaze's shoes.

Danny, a member of the Paladian royal family, was on his knees while Sherry, a financial news anchor, was licking Kaze's shoes clean.

Everyone was shocked by the scene.

What happened? "Kaze, do you know what you have done? How dare you slap Mr. Tulip and his plus-one? Are you declaring war against him?!" Adam almost passed out seeing what happened. nil He wanted to stop Kaze but was afraid of his safety. He kept his distance and simply shouted at Kaze.

"Kaze Lee, you are making an enemy out of Tulip Corporation!" "Let go of Mr. Tulip!" Teddy and the others regretted being involved and they all tried to stop Kaze.

"Shut up!" Kaze did not even look at them. He grabbed a bottle of wine from the table and smashed it on Danny's head.

Danny's head was covered with a red liquid that could be wine or blood.

He looked like he was dying.

"If you people want him dead, keep talking. For each word I hear, I will smash a bottle of wine on his head." Kaze then tossed the broken bottle away.

Everyone gasped in fear and kept quiet.

No one dared to challenge Kaze anymore.

If they continued, Danny might be killed.

No one wanted to bear the responsibility because it would be opposing Tulip Corporation and even Paladia entirely.

Other than the madman Kaze, no one wanted to be involved.

Adam's expression turned grim and was deeply annoyed.

Back when Kaze was still a part of the Lee family, he was never this arrogant and fierce to oppose someone from the royal family.

Now, he broke Danny's leg and smashed a bottle on his head.

What was more unbelievable was that Kaze remained fierce.

Kaze squatted and tapped Danny's face, saying, "I know you want to kill me right now and hope that Harrison can come get me. But what happens next will disappoint you, and you will see how Harrison kneels before me.

Call him."

Danny dared not speak a word under Kaze's deathly stare. He nervously pulled his phone out and called. __ Harrison's private number.

“Harrison, I'm Danny! Someone named Kaze Lee beat me up! He wants you to come over and apologize to him on your knees...”

Chapter 995

Chapter 995 Can't You Recognize My Voice? “Mayor Brooks, Jason Statham served Paladia with his blood and spirit! You have to hand over the culprit and let us sanction him, or else you will be hearing from the officials of Paldia!” At Lilyrose Detention Center, a man with a golden mane and beard was shouting at Johnson, exerting his superiority over the mayor.

The man was Harrison Ford, the consul of Paladia.

It was right then he received a call from Danny.

Harrison was stunned when he heard Danny's plea before he shouted back angrily.

“Danny, you fucking bastard! You must have gotten in trouble and said those words to piss me off! An Arcadian monkey wants me to kneel and apologize? You fucking liar, I will kill you!” Harrison did not believe a word Danny said because it was impossible.

“Harrison, stop shouting with that mouth of yours. Do you want to be the first consul of Paladia who dies in Arcadia?” Then, another voice came through the phone.

The person gave him a death threat, which ignited the explosive Harrison.

He shouted, “You fuck! Who the fuck are you?” “Can't you recognize my voice? You have ten minutes to get here and be on your knees, or you can just find some hole and kill yourself.” Before Harrison could say a word, Kaze hung up the phone.

Everyone back in the banquet hall was stunned and left speechless.

They had somehow gotten used to the crazy things Kaze did.

Forcing Danny down on his knees and demanding Harrison's apology, and now telling Harrison to kill himself on the phone.

It would not be surprising if Kaze asked the queen of Paladia to kneel before him.

“Kaze Lee, I believe you have met Harrison before and you should know his explosive temper.” Danny forced a vicious grin on his face.

He wanted Kaze to know Harrison was outraged because of the call.

Judging from Harrison’s tone through the phone, he could tell that the consul did not even take Kaze seriously or remember his voice.

To Harrison, Kaze was just some nobody, so Danny regained his confidence.

He grinned excitedly and said, “The pride of Paladia is paramount to Harrison. You can insult me but you shouldn’t have insulted him or Paladia before him. Enjoy the last ten minutes SEAR*ch the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

of your life. When he is here, he will rip you to pieces! You, your wife, and your wife's family, all will perish!” Kaze looked at him and smashed another bottle of wine on his head.

While Danny cried excruciatingly, Kaze said coldly, “You seemed to have forgotten your current situation. I do not want to remind you again.” “Aaaargh!” Danny covered his head, twisting and writhing on the ground as he cried in pain.

He dared not speak another word, but his gaze on Kaze expressed his thoughts.

The others were afraid of Kaze but they gloated at him as well.

They knew Kaze had completely offended Harrison, which would be the end of him.

Not only him, but even his wife and her family would be done for!

Chapter 996

Chapter 996 Kneel ‘Darcy, that’s what you get for indulging that idiot. He’s putting your whole family in trouble now.

“If I were you, I would cut ties with him right away,” Adam told Darcy curtly.

Pale in the face, Darcy said desperately, “Come on, Kaze. Let’s just go back to Horizon Mirror.” That was the only solution she could think of.

With the chief commander's guards on duty, Harrison, consul or not, would think twice before barging into the area.

Nevertheless, that was just a quick fix to buy time before the entire issue was resolved.

“Don’t be scared, babe. We’re not going anywhere. We will wait here for Harrison’s apology,” Kaze said with a smile while squeezing her hand.

Darcy was lost for words.

To think Kaze still smiled after landing himself in hot water.

Gritting her teeth, she stayed put with Kaze.

She was the chairman of two major corporations, and Kaze was the CEO of Hudson Investment firm. They were not vulnerable or powerless. In the worst-case scenario, they would just have to pay a price.

It never crossed her mind to cut ties with Kaze.

As a married couple, they had each other’s back through thick and thin.

Before the ten minutes was up, several sedans with special diplomatic plates pulled up outside the hotel.

A group stepped out of the vehicles and shoved the approaching hotel security aside to get into the building.

Tap, tap, tap...

The flurry of footsteps in the hallway made everybody in the hall nervous.

«Hahaha! Harrison is here. You're done for, Kaze.” Kneeling on the ground, Danny cried hysterically. He had lost it.

Around a dozen people barged into the hall.

The group was made up of a few foreigners and Arcadians. Most of them were burly and tough.

They surrounded a middle-aged bearded man with curly hair up to his shoulders.

The man was Harrison.

Out of the few Paladian consuls stationed in Arcadia, Harrison was the only one who had been on the battlefield.

Harrison was a decorated soldier and Paladia's hero.

In his early forties, he was in his prime.

with the medals and accomplishments under his belt, it was only a matter of time before he commanded the Paladian army.

However, Harrison announced his withdrawal from active service two years ago and turned to politics.

The motive behind Harrison's change of career was a mystery. No one could understand why he would make such a decision.

Only he knew that a young man nearly wiped his troops out on the battlefield two years ago.

He lost his will to continue that battle and his ambition to expand the Paladian empire.

The young man became Harrison's nightmare. Many a night, Harrison startled awake from the recurring nightmare.

Harrison and his old buddies named the young man the Arcadian Satan.

After two years, Harrison just heard the Arcadian Satan's voice again. Search The website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"Mr. Ford, it was that Arcadian idiot who hit me. He expects you to apologize on your knees. You must help me get justice." Danny shouted when Harrison, his savior, arrived.

Sherry, looking malicious, cried, "Mr.

Consul, that man insulted the great paladia. You must punish him for it." Harrison's gaze fell on Kaze.

He froze.

It was him! It had to be him! Although Harrison had not met Kaze in person, the latter's dark eyes were all the confirmation he needed.

Harrison took a deep breath and headed toward Kaze.

Silence befell the room as the crowd anticipated the worst to come.

As tension ran thick, Harrison came close to Kaze.

Just as Danny let out a wicked smile, a horrifying development ensued.

"Thump!" Harrison fell to his knees before Kaze.

Chapter 997

Chapter 997 High and Mighty "Thump!" Behind Harrison, a dozen of his crew kneeled together with him.

"Um..." The spectacle threw everybody else for a loop.

It was unbelievable.

Harrison, the consul of Paladia, kneeled before Kaze instead of getting even with him.

Many rubbed their eyes, wondering if their eyes deceived them.

"That's impossible!" Danny yelled horrifically, and his despair was clear in his voice.

His life was over at that point, Harrison was a national hero. As the consul, he represented Paladia, Yet, he was quick to kneel before Kaze.

"How could that be? How did it happen? Who the hell are you?" Sherry freaked out.

Paladia was the land she had always wanted to be in. Her biggest dream was to get a green card and immigrate there.

She did not believe Arcadian men were good enough for her.

Sure, Sherry was involved with some men, but she only saw them as tools for her own gains.

Yet now, Kaze crushed Danny, the pseudo-aristocrat, while Harrison, a consul, groveled at Kaze's feet.

That was her worldview out the window.

The others were shocked too.

Adam did not know what to say.

In their many encounters, Adam was careful not to overstep any boundaries as the consul always carried himself with haughtiness.

Adam was filled with complex emotions.

Darcy gave Kaze a complicated look.

The man was a mystery to her.

As his mind went blank from kneeling for a long time, Harrison was finally able to think again.

He plucked up the courage to look up at Kaze. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Upon meeting Kaze's indifferent gaze, Harrison looked down right away. He groveled near Kaze's feet and said in a trembling voice, "I am Harrison Ford, the consul general of the Paladian consulate in Arcadia. I would like to apologize to you." Harrison would not be so bold as to call his country great in front of the man.

The man had mentioned that he did not like it.

That was all there was to it.

"Harrison, your countrymen have been acting cocky in Arcadia."

Standing high and mighty, Kaze looked at Harrison.

"Danny, a down-and-out aristocrat, has it out for me.

"He tried to take over my wife's company yet again, and wanted me to apologize to him on my knees.

"I heard you have been throwing your weight around in Lilyrose detention center too.

"Can I take these as acts of aggression toward me?" His offhanded tone scared Harrison out of his wits.

“You got the wrong idea, sir. I don’t mean to act aggressively toward you.

respect you just as I respect the queen,” Harrison replied.

Gasps filled the room.

Harrison placed Kaze in the same ranks as the Paladian Queen.

Harrison said, “Danny is no longer part of the Tulip family. He is only here in Arcadia after failing to make a name for himself in Paladia.

“He’s a scammer. He doesn’t represent Paladia.

“Please allow me to punish Danny for crossing you, sir.” Once Kaze gave his approval, Harrison got up and approached Danny with punches and kicks.

If not for Harrison, they would not have known that Danny turned to Arcadia to scam the people because he could not make a living in Paladia.

Their cheeks burned with shame as they defended Danny when Kaze called him trash.

Adam was upset.

He sucked up to Danny moments ago.

Smack! Bam!

Harrison roughed Danny up, only stopping once he believed Danny had enough.

Danny sank to the ground without the energy to scream anymore.

His eyes bulged resentfully at Kaze.

Danny could not understand why Harrison would revere Kaze.

He was not the only one puzzled. No one could figure the situation out.

Everybody wondered if Kaze was more than he let out to be.

Nevertheless, the fact that Harrison, the Paladian Consul General, was so intimidated by Kaze and considered him to be on the same level as the Queen of Paladia was beyond the imagination of those present.

“Are you happy with that, sir? If not, I don’t mind making sure he never returns to Paladia.” Harrison bowed and scraped before Kaze and made a neck-slicing gesture in public.

No one doubted Harrison.

The consul general had been to war and had blood in his hands. He was not the gentlemanly type.

He was fully capable of silencing Danny permanently.

“N-No!” Fear consumed Danny.

Somehow, Danny found the energy to get to his feet and fell to his knees before Kaze.

“Please don’t kill me, Mr. Lee. I apologize to you! “T apologize to Ms. Quint too.” Danny fawned all over Kaze and Darcy.

Kaze waved at Harrison. “Let him return to Paladia. It will be a waste of our country’s resources to let trash die on our land.” “Of course.” Harrison nodded and kicked Danny.

“Hear that? You have three days to return to Paladia. Don’t ever set foot in Arcadia again.” Danny complied.

He hoped he could fly back to Paladia right there and then.

Arcadia was a scary country. A moocher turned out to be a terrifying existence that scared Harrison to his knees.

It was Sherry’s turn to be nervous.

With Danny out of the way, her turn was next.

She regretted insulting Kaze and Darcy, as Danny had her back then.

Kaze would not let her get away with it.

However, Kaze did not even look at her.

He waved his arm. "Take them away."

"Oh, you must pay for the stained carpets and shattered bottles." Seeing that Kaze had no intentions of taking the matter further, Harrison was relieved and said, "Don't worry, sir. The consulate will pay for the damages." Kaze nodded. "Please let me know if you need any help, sir. I'm happy to be of your service." Harrison buttered up to Kaze before straightening his back and eyeing the crowd. "I hope whatever happened here will stay here."

"Anybody who speaks of this incident again will answer to me." @9

Chapter 999

Chapter 999 Another Impersonation Harrison represented Paladia, and the last thing he wanted was for the embarrassing incident to become public knowledge.

Besides, Harrison knew how to take a hint. Since no one seemed to be aware of Kaze's identity, Harrison understood that Kaze preferred to keep a low profile. Hence, Harrison was sure Kaze would not want word to get out either.

Everybody was too scared to make the incident public.

They would not be able to make the consul apologize on his knees like Kaze.

Once Harrison was gone, the crowd was relieved and looked at Kaze with complex emotions.

The man who took his wife's last name sure gave everybody something to think about tonight.

"I'm sorry, Mr. Lee, Ms. Quint. I want to apologize for my earlier disrespect. I shouldn't have been so quick to judge. I hope you can forgive me." Many who took jabs at Kaze and Darcy moments earlier came seeking forgiveness.

Those who took things too far even kneeled on the ground.

The consul of Paladia had dropped to his knees just now, so there was nothing to be ashamed of.

Adam stood there, looking torn.

He wanted to apologize to Kaze, but his pride stood in the way.

In the end, Adam whipped out his phone and went to a corner far away to give George a call.

“Hello, George? It’s me, Adam.” George sounded cheerful over the phone. “Oh, Adam. How are things? Has Kaze agreed to release Cosmo?” The Lees requested Adam’s help in getting Kaze to release Cosmo during his trip to Lilyrose, given his relationship with Darcy’s family.

Additionally, the Lees wanted him to see if he could convince Professor Sam to treat Narian’s legs.

The Lees owed favors in return.

Adam was on board as he could use the Lees’ connections in the upper crust.

RUM a Adam opened his mouth, not knowing where to start.

“What is it? Is there a problem?” George’s voice turned sullen.

“There is a problem. Kaze must be someone powerful because even Harrison, the consul of Paladia, kneeled before him.” Adam recounted the incident.

He believed it was unrealistic to expect Kaze to yield to the Lees, release Cosmo, and apologize to the Lees in person.

“Hmph! You have been fooled by the idiot.” To his surprise, George fell silent for a while before scoffing. He said in disdain, “The loser is up to the same old tricks. He’s using the God of War’s name to scam others again.” “What do you mean, George?” Adam was taken aback.

George’s words were too vague for Adam to understand.

“Adam, you need the inside story to know what is going on.” Feeling superior, George said, “We have gathered some intel that the God of War led his cavalry on the foreign battlefield and reigned victorious against the enemy alliance.

“It’s said that the battle was a traumatic experience for him. Harrison needed to take pills to stop himself from losing his mind.

“Kaze must have impersonated the God of War again, scaring Harrison to apologize on his knees.” Adam was stunned.

Chapter 1000

Chapter 1000 And? Adam's mind wandered back to the recent event.

Sure enough, Kaze said something vaguely on the phone which scared Harrison to apologize on his knees.

The whole thing was absurd and defied common sense.

Besides, Darcy tried to drag Kaze to take cover in Horizon Mirror in case of an act of revenge. The chief commander placed the area under heavy guard.

Chief Commander Lang was the God of War’s right-hand man.

In other words, Darcy’s family had gotten into the habit of using the God of War’s name to get what they “Do you get it now, Adam?” George burst out laughing and said, “Just turn up the heat on the idiot to release Cosmo and make a personal apology.

“He has less than an hour left in the three-day time limit.

“we will not allow the idiot to ask for more time.

“I will try and get in touch with Harrison to expose Kaze’s lies.

“My family and I won't have to lift a finger because the foreigners will destroy him for us.” “I know what to do now, George.” Adam felt assured.

He put away his phone and darted a cold glance at Kaze before approaching him.

“I don’t want to repeat myself, Kaze.

Give Johnson the mayor a call now and let Cosmo go.” Adam’s bossy tone threw the people apologizing to Kaze off.

Harrison had only gone. Yet, Adam did not watch his tone with Kaze.

The people quickly recalled their relationship.

Adam was Darcy’s uncle. That could be the reason Adam did not care about Kaze’s terrifying identity Kaze frowned and said indifferently, “What if I don’t?” Adam was livid. The loser honestly believed he was the God of War.

“You won’t? Have you thought about the consequences?” He sneered, “Don’t think you’re all that just because you impersonated the God of War and scared Harrison away.

“I can tell you now that the Sunrise Lees and I don’t take your threat o H ~ »n seriously.

Everybody was shocked.

Kaze impersonated the God of War to scare Harrison to apologize on his knees

What the hell was going on? Assuming that was true, the crowd felt it explained the bizarre incident earlier.

It made sense that Harrison would kneel to the God of War.

The God of War was on equal footing with the Paladian Queen.

“Kaze has impersonated the God of War multiple times.” “He went viral online for acting like the God of War, and the real God of War was furious. Many influencers were banned from streaming, and I can still remember it like it was yesterday,” a local in the crowd commented.

Many other locals nodded in agreement as reality sunk in for those from out of town.

It turned out Kaze was not impersonating the God of War for the first time.

They stopped staring at Kaze with reverence.

Still, no one tried to insult Kaze like before.

No one in their sane minds would impersonate the God of War anyway.

Although they were no longer afraid of Kaze, they did not want to get into it with him.

Kaze did not think that the public would see him as an impersonator.

Still, he had no intention of explaining himself. He smiled pretentiously at Adam and replied nonchalantly, "Oh, and?"
