

The Guardian Wolf and her Alpha Mate Chapter 123

Jax POV:

“What have we got?” I ask Laurence as I walk into the office to see Alex busy on the phone.

“Alpha Edward, Alpha Brad and Alpha Henry have all agreed to come here with warriors. The latest arriving will be Alpha Brad by 8pm tomorrow. Alex is speaking to Alpha Brent, he is going to send his son and Beta along with his warriors. Alpha Marcus is the next call” Laurence fills us in.

“Great. That’s quick work Beta” I say thankful for his efficiency.

“Did you get much from the rogue?” He asks with concern.

“Nova did” I say. “I was not getting in her way, she is one angry Luna right now” I comment as I continue to feel the pulsing fury radiating from her side of the bond along with her concern for our pack.

“I can imagine” he says with a grimace.published by Jobnib

“They have approximately 500 rogues that he saw, he also only saw 2 witches” I explain. “It’s also a good thing we now know they are attacking as he said their camps, plural, are protected by the witches so we wouldn’t find them even if we wanted to.”

“Well Nova got more than I did” Laurence says with admiration.

“Her aura was pretty suffocating and she didn’t even command him, he knew she meant business” I say. “You warmed him up just right” I say with a smirk as Laurence laughs darkly.

“So what now for him? Do we hang on for more information?” He asks as I walk to my seat.

“He’s dead, Nova killed him” I state before looking up to see him shocked. “Like I said...she is one angry Luna right now.”

“Fuck boss” he says exhaling, “she’s not like any other Luna I know.”

“You think” I say rolling my eyes.

“I do..and thank fuck for that” he says with a chuckle. “I think I might start calling her my badass Luna.”

Growling loudly he looks at me in shock, “you mentioned ass and Luna..Zeus didn’t like it. But I have to agree she is a badass” I say with a shrug as he bursts into loud laughter.

“You are so protective” he chuckles as I can only nod in agreement at what he said. Hearing a knock on the door I see Kingsley poke his head in before catching my eyes and running to me.

“I’m going back to my pack, I’ll be back by 4pm tomorrow with warriors” he informs me.
“Where is Nova?”

“Showering, she took care of the rogue” I explain. “I’ll link her and tell her you’re leaving so she can say bye. Give her 15 minutes.”

“Thank you Ajax” he says graciously. “If you need me contact the mobile number I gave you.”

“Will do Kingsley, thank you” I say shaking his hand firmly before he leaves the room waving bye to Alex and Laurence.

Seeing Alex hang up the phone he turns to me in relief, “Alpha Brent’s son is coming as I’m sure Laurence mentioned. He has 50 warriors he’s bringing with him, more than expected. I’m going to call Alpha Marcus now and then try the Moonbeam Pack again. I haven’t had any luck with them yet.”

“Thanks Alex” I say as I pour everyone a glass of whiskey.

“Nectar of the gods” Alex moans and he swiftly drinks his.

“What are you going to do about Ophelia?” I ask him through the link as I see him turn to me with raised brows.

“So you can link anyone now” he comments as I smile proudly. “Show off. I’m going to speak to her, she is no fighter but if she wants to she can. With the state she is currently in I believe it’s too risky so I would like to move her to a more secure location.”

“What about the council buildings” I suggest.

“Can we trust them?” He asks.

“I believe so, we got rid of the traitors and Elder Martin has been helpful. He cares for Nova, it’s obvious and I’m sure he’s willing to help. I believe it’s the best bet for Ophelia” I say with certainty.

“Then I will suggest it to her” he says with a small smile.

“Laurence I need you to find my brothers, it’s time they join our pack. It’s imperative they have the pack link for when the time comes, Henry will understand and he knows they are returning there to take his Alpha position when he’s ready to step down” I tell him.

“I’ll go down to the training grounds now, have a check up with the Gammas also. Theo said he was happy with how the warriors are looking, I’ll check how Florence is getting on with the new patrols” he says.

“New patrols?” I check.

“I just asked for an increase in them” he explains. “Larger patrol teams and running more frequently, we also have lookouts stationed all around which are on a 4 hour shift rota.”

“Perfect” I say looking at him with approval.

“Omega Brea?” I link her as she responds quickly.

“Yes Alpha?” She asks.

“Has Amelia spoken to you about food over the coming days?” I ask.

“Yes Alpha, the Luna Mother is here now” she says politely.

“Perfect, can you also ready all guest rooms ready for full occupancy? I will check our spare housing and see what we have available. Once done they will also need readying” I ask her.

“Yes Alpha” she says.

“Luna Nova will come and see you following the pack meeting later today, if you need help just ask either of us and we will arrange it” I say with relief.

“I appreciate that, thank you Alpha” she chuckles down the link. “I will have some food sent to your office now.”

“Not heard a better idea all day” I laugh to her expressing my thanks.

Sitting back I go through my mental checklist and am relieved when I note we are progressing efficiently. “I need a run” I hear Zeus growl to me.

“I’m going to inform Theo that you and Ki will join a patrol tonight. We all need it” I say as he grunts in response.

“Soon we will be back to running and sparring” I tell him trying to ease his frustration slightly.

“I’m worried for Ki” he says, “I can feel her and Novas anxiousness and it’s putting me on edge. Need mate close.”

“I know buddy, she will be back soon” I tell him.

“I’ve told her to hurry” he huffs as I gape at him.

“Zeus!” I reprimand him.

“No, mate needs to be close. Where I can protect her” he says defensively.

“She doesn’t need protecting” I point out.

“I know” he huffs, “but I need to feel like I am protecting her. Or at least there to help.”

“I thought you would be happy we have a mate who doesn’t need to be waited on hand and foot and who can look after herself?” I ask him shocked.

“I am” he says with confusion, “but I want her to know I’m here for her all the same. Right now she is in danger and I don’t like her out of our sight.”

“I know” I sigh realising he is simply concerned because of the situation. “I’ll speak to Nova, knowing her she doesn’t want to cause us unnecessary worry. But we will stay close ok?”

“Thank you” he grunts.

Opening the pack link for everyone I make an announcement, “pack meeting 7pm this evening, everyone gather in the dining hall. Pups stay home it is not for their ears, one parent stay home with them. Food will be served after for everyone to attend, bring pups along then.”

“Dinner after?” I hear Nova ask.

“I want the pack to spend some time together” I explain as I feel her appreciation for my idea float through the bond.

“You’re a wonderful Alpha” she tells me making me relax at her words.

“I hope so” I whisper to her.

“I’ll be with you in 10minutes” she says, “I can feel Zeus reaching for us.”

“He needs his mate” I say quietly.

“So do we” she agrees.

The Guardian Wolf and her Alpha Mate Chapter 124

Nova POV:

“Jax” I breath in relief as soon as I see him in the office. Walking over I sink into his lap as he holds me tightly breathing in my scent for a moment.

“Zeus is on edge, so am I” he mumbles.

“So is Ki and me” I assure him. “We will stay together yes?”

“I think that’s for the best” he agrees as the door opens in front of us.

“Amelia, Mila” I smile as they come to sit down. “How are you both getting on?”

“Brea has the food under control and is now sorting out rooms and housing at Jaxs request. She will be up in a moment with some refreshments she said” Amelia says with a smile.

“She’s a star” I smile.

“She is very organised” Amelia agrees approvingly. “I’ve also spoken to my sister and her mate, they’re council advisors Nova and they’ve heard what you did on your visit there. To say they were impressed is an understatement. They have suggested ones from our pack who need to leave can travel to the council buildings and they will personally oversee their wellbeing and safety, I’ve called in some family favours.”

“I trust them” Jax says answering my unspoken question. “I know they will do everything they can to help.”

“Ok that’s a relief. We can let the pack know this evening then, I suggest they travel tomorrow afternoon” I say whilst tracing patterns on Jaxs arm keeping us both relaxed.

“How many do you estimate will need to travel?” I ask Mila.

“I’d say 180-200 in total, including 75 pups, we have enough pack vehicles to transport them so they don’t need to travel personally. I have already spoken to the Ga mmas to arrange warriors who will escort them all” she says. “Gam ma Theo and Alice are currently organising that and said they will bring their plans by this evening for you to confirm.”

“Great job” Jax praises.

“I’m glad you’re addressing the pack Jax” Amelia says looking at her son.

“I made a vow to protect them but I have always been open and honest, I’m not going to hide what we have coming our way and the risk everyone is in. They will know I will do anything in my power to keep them safe” he says with a small smile when he talks about our pack members.

Hearing a soft knock at the door I stand to open it quickly to see Breas motherly face.

smiling at us. “I brought you some food Luna” she says softly.

“That’s wonderful Brea, thank you” I smile at her. “Do you need a hand with anything?”

“Perhaps you and Alpha Jax wouldn’t mind accompanying me for a walk around the reserve housing we have to confirm it’s adequate for our needs? Do you know how many we are expecting?” She asks politely.

“Come in and take a seat, I’ll have a work out now for you, just give me a few moments to talk to the others” I say gesturing to a spare chair as she bows and pushes the trolley with food in.

“Brea you are an angel” Laurence exclaims as he walks in and sees the food ready.

“I try” she laughs blushing softly at her Betas praise before Mila begins talking to her.

“Laurence I’d like to ask Naomi and Alice to accompany the pack members who will be leaving to go and stay at the council buildings. They are in no position to fight and I am not endangering those unborn pups, they can provide comfort and support to our pack members. Do you agree?” I ask as he sits next to me.

“I think that sounds perfect for everyone in this situation” he agrees softly.

“I’m sorry you have to separate from Naomi” I say quietly as I can sense his upset at the thought of being away from his mate and unborn pups.

“You don’t need to apologise. This is what needs to happen and I know for certain it is safer for them to be away from here for the time being” he murmurs.

“It won’t be for long” I assure him.

“I won’t let it be” he says with determination reminding me of why he’s Beta.

“I don’t doubt that I chuckle.

“Amelia’s sister and her mate will be there along with a few other family members” I tell him.

“Aunty Sophia?” He asks turning to Amelia who is listening quietly.

“That’s the one” she says with a smile.

“Oh that makes us feel better already” he says with a smile clearly fond of the lady.” By the way Jax I have spoken to the Gammas and I’m happy with everything they have organised. They will run you through it later.”

With a simple nod at Laurence’s words Jax begins to rub my back as I turn to see him watching me with pride. “Brilliant Luna” he links me making me blush lightly. Drawing me close to his chest we sigh in content as we enjoy the comfort of one another. momentarily. Feeling him sit up soon after I straighten as he gets up both some food to eat.

“Need to keep that energy up” he smiles as he holds a sandwich up for me to bite.

“Thank you” I link him with love at his care for me.

With a thump Alex flops down in a chair as I raise a brow at him. “Not very Alpha King like” I tease him.

“Do I need to act official with you all?” He counters turning to look at us one by one as Brea blushes furiously at being included.

“Not now” Jax laughs.

“Then I will sigh all I like” he smirks cockily back to us. “I haven’t managed to get hold of the Moonbeam Pack which is strange so have sent 3 of my escort to the pack to see what’s going on. Also Alpha Marcus will be here tomorrow evening with his men.”

“Thank you Alex” Jax says.

“Can you run me through numbers so I can tell Brea how many we are expecting” I ask motioning to the waiting Omega who is once again in conversation with Mila.

“Yes of course. So we have Alpha Edward who is coming with 25 of his warriors and his Gamma, so 27 in total from his pack. Alpha Brad is the same. Connor, Alpha Brent’s Son, is coming along with 50 warriors and the Beta, so 52 in total from that pack. Alpha Henry is bringing 50 warriors but no other ranked officials due to David leaving there he needs some on standby so is leaving Beta Alex in charge as his Gamma is currently away.” Alex explains.

“That’s understandable” Jax says with a nod to his uncles logic.

“I have also got 50 warriors from my pack travelling to aid us” Alex says which has my ears perk up.

“I can’t afford to leave more with me being away from the pack also” he adds on regretfully.

“It will make a huge difference” Jax says, “their training is more advanced than others that are joining.”

Looking at the number I have jotted down as Alex has been speaking I count a total of 200 warriors and 7 official ranked wolves. Sighing I massage my temples as I try to comprehend exactly how we are going to accommodate the extras.

“Brea” I say softly to get her attention as her head snaps to mine. “Sorry to interrupt” I apologise to Mila who smiles and waves me off.

“Yes Luna?” Brea asks as she comes to stand in front of me.

“We have 200 warriors and 7 ranked wolves coming to stay from other packs, are they going to have to stay with pack members?” I ask quietly.

Seeing my lost expression she chuckles softly, “we have somewhere where they can stay.”

“We do?” I ask shocked.

“Yes Luna” she nods. “Our previous Alpha built a barracks as such that would cater for an emergency as I’m guessing this is. It will hold 150 wolves but they will have to share dorms.”

“That’s amazing, how come I have never seen that?” I ask confused.

“Because it’s made to look abandoned to not raise suspicions with other packs” Jax interjects. “It’s one thing I am glad my father installed however if he is..involved shall we say, then he will be aware of it.”

“I think we are past the element of surprise” I point out.

“True” he agrees, “it’s the building about a quarter of a mile from the pack hospital.

Literally 3 minutes from here, you will have seen it.”

“I did” I nod, “I thought it was waiting to be renovated into a library or something.”

“That’s the idea” he says with a smile. “But it’s fully functional and will do just fine.”

“We will also have my father’s warriors camping” I tell him.

“They can camp nearby, we will see how their arrival goes with the visiting packs, everyone needs to remember we are fighting the same enemy” Jax says calmly easing my growing nerves. “Brea why don’t we go and show Nova it now and we can figure out what needs organising.”

“I’m free if you are” she says with a smile.

Looking at the clock quickly I see we have an hour before the pack meeting and stand to go. “Yes we have time before the meeting, I’m intrigued to see this.”

“Lead the way” Jax gestures to Brea as we excuse ourselves from the others. “Alex inform your men they will stay in the pack house. We have enough rooms however many of them will have to share.”

“They will be fine with that” he says. “I’m going to find Ophelia and speak to her about accompanying Naomi, Alice and the others to the council building.

“See you all in an hour” I say before slipping from the room with Jax and Brea.