

Guardians 641

Chapter 641

Harry's office.

Sean stood in front of the French window for a while before sitting down on the couch.

As soon as they poured boiling water into the teapot, the fragrant smell of tea diffused instantly.

"I have two ideas."

Sean played with the tea set as he spoke slowly.

Zander and Harry immediately walked over solemnly as soon as they heard that.

"First, I'll meet Jason first and use my way to get him to stay out of the Zimmer family's affairs.

"As long as Jason stays out of it, I will ruin the Zimmer family in three days.

"Second, once the Zimmer family is dealt with, we wait seven days and see how Jason reacts.

"Maybe Jason won't try too hard to help the Zimmer family because of his status."

Sean swirled the teapot, poured more boiling water, and sat back on the couch to wait quietly.

Zander and Harry pondered about it after hearing it.

"Brother Sean, the second way is safer.

"I think we should avoid contact with the army as much as possible.

"Though not many people in the ordinary world know you, there isn't a man in the doesn't know your name.

"Everything will be immediately exposed once you got in contact with them."

Zander pondered for a few seconds before suggesting.

Harry thought for a moment before nodding slowly.

He had never met Sean before coming to River City.

However, he had heard a lot about Sean's military exploits.

No one in the army did not know Commander Lennon.

Commander Lennon was a legend to countless soldiers. It was as if he was their faith!

Sean nodded slightly.

If they proceed with the second idea, Jason would still run into Sean if he struck.

However, at least not so soon.

Therefore, the second idea was indeed the safest.

“Alright.

“Then I’ll wait a few more days.

“Life in the army was boring. Eight years of killing was indeed boring too.

army who

“Well, let’s see what the Quinn Family and the Zimmer family will do in a couple of days.

“I hope they don’t let me down.”

Sean smiled and picked up the teapot to pour tea.

“Brother Sean, let me do it.”

Harry immediately stepped forward and took the teapot. Then he spread out three cups in a row and began to pour the tea.

Swoosh!

However, Sean reached out and arranged the row of teacups into a zigzag pattern.

“Well

Harry was puzzled.

“Three cups for three people could not be spread out in a row.

“Three cups and a line meant bad luck.”

Sean withdrew his hand and muttered.

Harry finally understood before nodding

“Brother Sean, I’ve heard that one of Old General’s two hobbies was tea ceremony.

“It seems he had taught you a lot.”

Zander nodded to himself before muttering.

“He taught me more than that.”

Sean paused slightly, his tone carrying a lot of meaning.

“Yes!”

Zander gently nodded

Sean picked up the teacup and played with it.

Tea ceremony was not only about the technique of making tea

Knock knock knock’

Just then, there was a series of knocks on the office door

Harry frowned slightly, put down his teacup, and turned sideways slightly.

“See Mr Zachery for whatever you need.

“I have something important to do today.”

Harry finished speaking, and the knocking stopped

However, the silence lasted less than five seconds.

Bang!

There was a loud bang, and the office door was slammed open.

Zander, Harry, and even Sean widened their eyes slowly.

‘Are employees that brave now?’

‘How dare they barge into the general manager’s office?’

Harry was even angrier. It was his first time running a company, and it was difficult.

If someone dared to challenge his authority like that, he would not let them off lightly.

Harry snorted coldly and turned around to look.

No matter who it was, Harry would punish them even if it was Qamar—the vice president of the company.

However,

Harry froze when he got a good look at the person. His mouth dropped open, unable to speak.

Not only did Harry freeze, but Zander also froze.

Willow was the one who barged into the office!

Willow was no stranger to Zander and Harry.

Sean was stunning and at his best when he was in the army.

Many girls wanted to marry Sean.

However, Sean never fell for any woman.

Willow was an exception.

Zander withdrew his gaze slightly and looked at Sean.

Sean was sitting on the couch. He put down his teacup and looked at Willow silently.

The three of them did not expect Willow to barge in.

However, Willow was the most surprised one.

She had stormed over, ready to talk to Harry.

Besides that, she had prepared many things to say.

However, she never expected to see Sean here!

Willow's eyes froze, and her head buzzed.

Many ideas flashed through her mind instantly.

"You... you..."

Willow's hand shook slightly as she pointed at Sean.

However, she was so surprised that she could not utter a complete sentence.

Chapter 642

Sean also frowned slightly.

He did not expect Willow to barge into the Reach For Will Group's president's office

He did not know how to face Willow.

If Willow knew that Sean was responsible for everything that happened to the Quinn family, with how much Willow cared about the Quinn family, she would probably hate Sean

Besides, Sean did not intend to let Willow know about his relationship with Reach For Will Group.

"What... what are you doing here?"

Willow came to see Harry, but she had now ignored him.

All she saw was Sean, who was sitting on the couch.

"1..."

Sean's mouth moved, unable to find the right words for a while.

He normally kept his cool in front of anyone.

However, he got easily flustered when facing Willow.

#

"Ms. Quinn, we're in the middle of something. Isn't it inappropriate for you to barge in like this?"

Harry hesitated for two seconds before muttering.

However, Zander said nothing. No one knew his relationship with Reach For Will Group.

Willow slowly came to herself and glanced at Harry.

The next second, she rushed at Sean as if recalling something suddenly.

Swoosh!

Willow grabbed Sean's body and repeatedly turned it over to check.

Her anxious expression confused Sean and the rest.

“Sean, are you okay? Did they do anything to you?”

There was nothing fake about Willow’s worried expression.

Sean found the fussing familiar.

“I... I’m fine...”

Sean froze, not understanding what Willow meant.

Swoosh!

Willow stood in front of Sean with her arms outstretched as she gave Harry a stubborn and angry look in her eyes.

“What do you want?”

“He has been kicked out of the Quinn family. You can go after the Quinn family if you want anything else! Why is he here?”

Sean and the rest immediately understood as soon as Willow said that.

She thought Reach For Will Group had caught Sean to hurt him.

“Well...”

Harry paused slightly.

“You keep saying you have a problem with Sean and the Quinn family.

“He’s only a cripple. What did he do to offend you?”

“Even if you have something against the Quinn family, he has left the Quinn family and has nothing to do with us!

“Why are you still going after him?”

Willow’s eyes were wide as she questioned Harry.

Willow would be the first person in River City’s business world who dared to speak to Harry like that.

However, Harry only listened silently, unable to argue back or get angry.

Sean sat on the couch as he watched Willow’s back. His heart melted.

Over the past two years, Willow had tried to protect Sean with all her strength.

She did not have much power, but she did everything she could to protect Sean.

The same thing happened here.

He knew Willow did not mean to treat him the way she did.

“Willow, I’m fine.”

Sean shook his head gently and shouted.

“Sean, you don’t have to be afraid of them.

“No one can hurt you when I’m around!”

Willow said sternly without looking back.

Sean looked at Willow’s back and wanted to stand up to gently hug her.

Just like Reach For Will Group’s name, he wanted to reach out and hug her in his arms.

After a few seconds of hesitation, Sean dismissed the idea.

Until Jason and the Zimmer family were dealt with, he could not do whatever he wanted.

Sean slowly turned around and gave Harry and Zander a look.

“Ms. Quinn, it’s not what you think.

“I only invited Mr. Lennon over to discuss some things.”

Harry understood what Sean meant and immediately explained.

“Is that so?”

Willow did not trust Harry. She turned to look at Sean and asked.

“Yes, they didn’t do anything to me.”

Sean smiled, suddenly realizing that he enjoyed being protected by Willow.

He had always been the one protecting others and the country.

His adopted father Colin, the only person in the world who protected him, had also passed away.

Willow was the last person to protect him without expecting anything in return.

“Ms. Quinn, that’s what’s going on.

“I’m Mr. Lennon’s bodyguard, so no harm will come to him when I’m around.”

Zander also spoke from behind Sean.

Chapter 643

Willow froze slightly before blushing slightly.

She felt utterly embarrassed.

It seems she had been overthinking.

“I’m sorry.”

Willow gritted her teeth slightly, not knowing who she was apologizing to.

After learning that Reach For Will Group was not going after Sean, Willow hesitated for half a second and distanced herself from Sean.

She looked as if she was trying to show that she had nothing to do with Sean.

“I wonder what you’re doing here, Ms. Quinn?”

Harry asked Willow softly after pouring her a glass of water.

“Mr. Clarke, what did the Quinn family do to offend Reach For Will Group?”

“I want to talk it out with Mr. Clarke today.”

Willow took a deep breath and looked at Harry sternly.

“The Quinn family will find out in a few days.”

Harry glanced at Sean and replied again.

“But I want to know now.

“If we did something wrong, we’ll admit it.

“But we don’t even know what we did wrong.

“Reach For Will Group is so powerful that we’re no match for you.

“But everything must have a limit. If you push the Quinn family too hard, Reach For Will Group Will have to pay some price even if we lose!”

Willow stood up straight and spoke forcefully.

Willow threw caution to the wind and did not care about anything today.

If she failed to persuade them, she had to accept the Quinn family’s arrangement and be with Quill

She did not want to accept that.

Therefore, she would not give up until the last minute.

“Is that a threat, Ms. Quinn?”

Harry paused as he frowned slightly.

He was talking to Willow as the general manager of Reach For Will Group.

Therefore, he could not tolerate Willow too much.

“I wouldn’t dare, and neither would the Quinn family.

“I just wanted to tell Mr. Clarke the Quinn family’s standpoint.

"I, Willow Quinn, would like to beg Mr. Clarke to give the Quinn family a chance.

"Give us a chance to apologize and live!"

Willow's tone was slow and pleading.

Harry could not make up his mind. He looked at Sean for a few seconds before withdrawing his gaze.

"Ms. Quinn, please leave.

"Many things aren't as easy as you think.

"You might as well wait a few days, Ms. Quinn."

Harry looked at Willow and gently told her to leave.

"But I don't have time to wait!"

Willow shook her head slightly and spoke through clenched teeth.

Old Madam Quinn gave her two days to sort it out

If it did not work out, the Quinn family would force her to be with Quill. She did not have time to wait

Willow looked at Harry earnestly after finishing.

There were sincerity, supplication, and her last hope in her eyes.

If they sorted this out, at least she did not have to compromise and marry Quill, even if she could not control her destiny.

If this failed, her fate would be decided by the Quinn family instead of herself

She could only accept it.

Harry was silent again for a few seconds after hearing that

"Ms. Quinn, if you were given a chance a chance to leave the Quinn family and break off ties with them, I wonder if you'll take it?"

Harry's eyes moved slowly as he gave Willow a meaningful look.

"What... what do you mean?"

Willow froze and sked in confusion

"Ms. Quinn, you should know what I mean."

Harry answered again, his expression unchanged.

However, Willow did not know what Harry meant.

She thought Harry meant they could spare Willow but not the Quinn family.

“I’m a member of the Quinn family!”

Willow was silent for a few seconds before saying through clenched teeth. “Then there’s nothing to talk about.

“Reach For Will Group does everything according to plan.

“We’re not going to change our plans because of one person.”

Harry sounded determined and unwavering.

When Willow heard that, she knew there was no room for change.

With Harry’s status, whatever he said carried weight, and he would not change it easily

However, Willow was reluctant to give up just like that.

Looking at Willow’s helplessness, Sean felt a sharp pain in his heart

His heart ached.

However, he knew it was better to get the pain over with rather than prolong the agony.

If this plan did not work, Willow could suffer for the rest of her life.

“Willow, let’s go.”

Sean called out to Willow and persuaded her.

Willow slowly turned around and gave Sean a complicated look.

She wanted to tell Sean that her fate would be determined if they left today.

She and Sean would never have the chance to be together again!

Chapter 644

She wanted to gain control of her destiny through her own efforts and give herself and Sean a chance.

However, Sean was now telling her to give up.

It made Willow feel even more helpless and heartbroken.

“Okay! Let’s go.”

Willow remained silent for nearly two minutes before clenching her teeth and nodding.

Her eyes dimmed as she finally came to terms with reality.

She had done everything she could, but she could not decide the result.

“Mr. Lennon, hold on. I have something to tell you.

“Since Mr. Homer Larson referred you to me, I must give him some face’

Harry called out softly to Sean.

Willow turned to glance at Sean

She and Sean were no more than strangers now.

||

Willow also knew that the Quinn family would soon force her to marry the Zimmer family

There was no way she could be with Sean if so.

“Sean, take good care of yourself

“Later. ”

Willow clenched her teeth slightly. She might never have the chance to take care of Sean again.

“Got it

”

Sean nodded gently.

Willow looked intently at Sean before turning to leave.

The lonely figure made Sean frown again

“Brother Sean, well”

Once Willow left, Harry and Zander both looked at Sean

“The Quinn family’s so huge with dozens of members.

“Yet they let one girl bear everything

“How ridiculous.”

There was a cold glimmer in Sean’s eyes

In the past two years, the Quinn family had put Willow in the front whenever they needed her.

However, Willow was shut out when it was time to share the bonuses and profits.

Sean saw no reason to go easy on the Quinn family.

“Then should our plan go on as usual?”

Harry paused before asking quietly.

“It’s time for the Quinn family to be reshuffled ”

Sean glanced at Harry and muttered back.

“Yes! I got it ”

Harry immediately nodded.

After leaving Reach For Will Group, Willow returned to her home like a walking zombie

She did not work it out after all.

Tomorrow was the last day.

After tomorrow, she had to accept the Quinn family's arrangement and marry Quill as a sacrifice

She did not want to do so, but she had no choice.

Willow sat in Sean's old room and smiled bitterly at the familiar furnishings

Facing reality, she was still helpless after all.

Meanwhile, members of the Quinn family were waiting to see Willow make a joke of herself tomorrow

Everyone knew that not only it was difficult, but it was also impossible

Forget about Willow Even if Old Master Levi Quinn was still alive, what could the Quinn family do if Reach For Will Group refused to show mercy?

They did not expect Willow to do it right.

They knew it would not work out, so they asked Willow to do it

Otherwise, Willow would not get the chance to contribute

In an exclusive club

Quill and Simon were having the time of their lives

"Well done!

"In that case, will I be able to have her tomorrow?"

Quill could not help laughing after hearing Simon's description

"Hehe, Young Master Zimmer. Unless Willow manages to persuade Reach For Will Group and changes their mind.

"But do you think that's possible?"

Simon chuckled with satisfaction.

Chapter 645

"No way,

of course!"

Quill

shook his head repeatedly. Willow could not even meet Harry, but she wanted to negotiate with Reach For Will Group?

She must be dreaming.

“You’re so ruthless!

“You’re even ignoring the Quinn family to get benefits from me.

Quill glanced at Simon and smiled meaningfully.

“Haha! You’re too kind, Young Master Zimmer

“As the saying goes, ‘Ruthlessness is the mark of a truly great man’. The Quinn family isn’t mine.

“But the benefit you give is real, and it belongs to me alone.”

Simon’s eyes twinkled with greed.

“Okay! Hahaha!”

Simon was also smiling, his eyes full of joy.

Did Willow want to work it out and become the head of the Quinn family?

It was basically impossible.

Everyone in the Quinn family, including Quill, was waiting for Willow to accept her fate after tomorrow.

Reach For Will Group.

Sean was ready to leave Reach For Will Group after arranging everything for Harry

Zander now followed Sean around like a bodyguard

However, Harry got a phone call and stopped Sean before he left.

“Brother Sean, the man in charge of keeping tabs on the Quinn family has sent word.

“The Quinn family asked Willow to negotiate with Reach For Will Group to resolve the Quinn family’s crisis.

“If not, they will arrange for Willow to marry Quill.

“And they only gave Willow two days.”

Harry explained with a slight frown.

“What?”

Sean stopped abruptly as he frowned slightly.

“Brother Sean, the Quinn family said it themselves.

“It must be true.”

Harry explained again.

Sean sat back down on the couch.

He had no idea that the Quinn family would be so appalling.

Willow was just a tool in the Quinn family’s eyes!

“How cruel!

“It would be great if Willow does a good job.

“Even if it doesn’t work out, she has to sacrifice herself to link the Quinn family with the Zimmer family.”

Zander also sneered after hearing that.

“Whew.”

Sean was silent for a long time before softly letting out a sigh.

The Quinn family caught him off guard.

He finally figured out what Willow meant when she said she did not have time to wait.

It might be Willow’s last stand.

However, Reach For Will Group’s rejection meant they were pushing her into the fire pit.

“Tomorrow onward, stop going after the Quinn family.”

Sean spoke softly after a long time.

“Brother Sean, are you changing your plan?”

Zander froze and quickly asked.

Sean was meticulous, and every step of the plan made a difference when he was out there on the battle field.

He never changed his plans for one person.

Now, Sean was changing his plans for Willow.

“What else do you think?”

Sean asked in reply after glancing at Zander.

“Understood!”

Zander looked into Sean’s eyes for a few seconds before nodding in response instantly.

A short conversation had already decided the Quinn family's fate.

Members of the Quinn family would never know that the cripple they kicked out could make or break the Quinn family.

One word could knock them into the depths of hell.

Another word would save them from it.

Chapter 646

At night.

Willow's home.

After returning from Reach For Will Group, Willow had been staying in Sean's room

Fion made dinner and brought it to Willow's room

However, when Fion came in two hours later, the food was still untouched

"Girlie, how could you not eat?"

Fion was so heartbroken that she sat at the bedside with Willow.

Willow just sat there without saying a word with a photo in her hand.

It was Sean in the photo, and it was the only photo of him.

"Mom, do you remember?"

"I had Sean photographed when I wheeled him for a walk along the river.

"You said I was wasting money at the time."

Willow looked at the photo and murmured to herself.

In the photo, Sean was sitting quietly in his wheelchair, staring at the river in the distance

He might not be very handsome in the profile shot, but he was easy on the eyes.

When Willow saw Sean's photo, it calmed her down.

Fion froze, took the photo out of Willow's hand, and put it in her pocket after taking a glance

"Girlie, I'm not saying he's bad

"Whatever it is, it's over between you two "

Fion took Willow's hand and said as she shook her head slightly

She already knew about Willow's deal with Old Madam Quinn

Willow had not solved the Quinn family crisis, so her fate had been determined

She was bound to marry Quill

“You know what, Mom? I saw him again today

“He..1... You have no idea how happy I was when I saw him ”

Willow started talking incoherently when she mentioned Sean

She thought she did not like Sean, but her heart could not deceive herself

The joy she felt when she saw Sean was something you have when you like someone

“My dear, you need to be realistic!

“Have you solved the Quinn family’s crisis?”

Fion shook her head in resignation before asking.

Willow’s smile froze before shaking her head in silence.

“You didn’t solve the issue.

“So, you’ll have to marry Quill as the Quinn family arranged.

“Young Master Zimmer’s family is powerful, and he likes you. He has pursued you for two years without giving up.

“I’ll be relieved if you marry him.”

Fion grabbed Willow’s hand as she said sternly.

“But I don’t want to, Mom.

“I don’t want to marry him. I only want... I only want to take good care of him.

“If I didn’t have him by my side, I’d rather never marry. Do you know that, Mom?”

Willow looked at Fion with tears in her eyes and cried out loud.

Fion felt even more heartbroken as he hugged Willow in his arms and shook her head helplessly.

“Don’t marry him if you don’t want to.

“Why should my daughter bear the fate of the Quinn family?

“The Quinn family was so brilliant, but Sam and the rest made it decline.

“And now they want to sacrifice my daughter?”

The door was flung open, and Kent bellowed with widened eyes.

His heart broke when he heard Willow crying.

“Don’t make things worse.”

Fion glared at Kent and snapped.

“Shut up!

However, Kent, who had always been obedient, glared at Fion coldly.

"I don't want to talk about what you've done previously, Fion

"Girlie, just tell me you don't want to marry, and I'll talk to Old Madam about it.

"I, Kent Quinn, have been a coward all my life, but I have to protect my daughter no matter how much of a coward I am

"All I want is one word from you."

Kent stared intently at Willow.

Willow froze slightly when she heard that.

She did not want to marry Quill, of course.

However, could she do so?

After all, she was born and raised in the Quinn family. Could she abandon the Quinn family for herself?

"Dad, I'm alright. I... Let's talk tomorrow."

Willow was silent for a few seconds before saying with 'a wave of her hand.

"Girlie!"

Kent clenched his teeth to speak, but Willow waved her hand and interrupted him.

"Dad! Mom! Go and rest.

"I'm fine. I really am."

Willow got up and pushed Fion and Kent out the door.

Kent and his wife had no choice but to leave.

Willow

leaned against the door and slowly crouched down, listening through the door to their footsteps as they left.

There was no one in the room.

Only Willow crouched near the door, weeping silently.

After tomorrow, her fate would be determined.

She was still considered a free woman today.

However, she would be an imprisoned bird in a cage after tomorrow.

Chapter 647

She was still-living for herself right now.

She would no longer live as herself and would only live for the Quinn family from now on.

Willow wrapped her arms around her knees and wept silently.

After a while, Willow suddenly got up, her tearful eyes exuding a strong determination.

"I can still do whatever I want today.

"Let me do whatever I want one last time!"

No one knew what Willow was thinking right now

However, there seemed to be a touch of madness in her determined eyes.

It was the kind of madness you got after losing all hope of life.

Willow cleaned up Sean's room in no time.

Willow put some of Sean's clothes and daily necessities into a storage box.

Willow changed her clothes and drove toward the neighborhood where Golden Villa Garden was located with these things.

Golden Villa Garden.

Willow was not new to this area.

Besides, even the villa was under Willow's name.

Therefore, she had no trouble getting here.

However, someone immediately informed Sean.

When Willow arrived at the twin villa, Sean was already waiting in the living room.

Willow stood outside the door. Looking at the two identical villas, she could not help sighing

Leah and Candy had not moved into the house next door.

Maybe they would have moved in if Sean had not been kicked out

However, Leah temporarily dismissed the idea after Sean was kicked out of the Quinn family.

She thought that it was inappropriate for them to accept favors from Sean now that he had nothing to do with the Quinn family.

Willow tried to convince them that what Sean did for them had nothing to do with the Quinn family.

However, Leah was still holding on and had not moved in for the time being. She was looking for an opportunity to return the key to Sean.

Willow had no choice but to let her do whatever she wanted.

In the living room.

Sean sat on the couch and waited for Willow.

Willow must have serious business if she came to him late at night.

He wanted to hear what Willow had to say first.

Willow walked unimpeded into the living room with a storage box in her arms.

“You came.”

Sean asked gently as he sat on the couch.

“Yes, I came.

“I don’t think I should come, but I still... still want to come over.”

Willow bit her red lip before placing the storage box gently on the table.

Sean slowly sized Willow up.

Willow seemed to have dressed up tonight.

She rarely put on makeup, but she used eyebrow pencil, eyeliner, and lip gloss today.

Her natural beauty seemed even more otherworldly with makeup.

She wore a black waist-fitting tulle skirt that showed the perfect outline of her figure while projecting utter elegance at the same time.

Willow was a very different person tonight.

She was classy, gentle, and sexy.

Any man could not help falling for her.

“I’ve packed up all your things.

“There are clothes, some of your daily necessities, and so on here.”

Willow pointed to the storage box and said as she stood in front of Sean

Sean froze slightly at that.

It turned out Willow came to see him late at night because of this

That meant she was kicking Sean out of the Quinn family once and for all!

Why else would she pack up all of Sean’s personal belongings and return them to him?

Sean shook his head slightly, having mixed feelings but not saying much.

Canceling going against the Quinn family would remain unchanged.

After all, the woman had worked hard to protect him for two years.

He considered it to be all for Willow.

“Thank you.

Sean sat up and poured Willow a cup of tea.

However, Willow did not take the tea. She also did not turn away after the tea was brought to her.

Her eyes were full of mixed emotions and hesitation.

Sean looked at Willow in confusion.

The next second, Willow slowly stepped forward, got around the upscale marble tabletop in front of her, and sat down next to Sean.

The distance between them was less than a punch.

In the middle of the night, it was easy to pick up an erotic vibe when a young man and a woman were alone in a room.

They were so close to each other that it intensified the vibe.

Sean felt uncomfortable.

He and Willow had spent the last two years together, regardless of each other.

When Willow took care of Sean, physical contact was inevitable.

However, Sean was delirious. To put it bluntly, he was a fool.

Sean was now back to normal.

Not just mentally but also physically.

The feeling was different.

Chapter 648

Willow's graceful body was so close that he could touch it

A faint fragrance poured into Sean's nose

Willow was afraid to look at Sean She put her palms on her knees, rubbing them back and forth.

She seemed to be struggling with something as if nervous.

"Willow, you

Sean was about to say something, but Willow stretched out her little hand and gently covered his mouth

"Don't talk. Say nothing."

Willow covered Sean's mouth with her soft hand and brought her body closer to Sean again.

The beautiful face, which had enticed so many men in River City, was getting closer and closer to Sean's face

Sean froze slightly He had fought on the battlefield and killed countless enemies. He had experienced life and death during his eight years on the battlefield

However, when had he ever experienced such a thing?

Sean's face turned slightly red.

The two looked at each other. As the distance between them shortened, they closed their eyes.

at the same time

Swoosh!

Sean felt Willow's red lips kissing the corners of his lips.

Both of them seemed to freeze at the same time.

Willow seemed more like she was in shock. Her body tensed as she dared not move

Her mind was blank. 'Is this how first kisses feel like?'

The atmosphere in the living room tensed at that moment

After about a dozen seconds, Sean suddenly opened his eyes, put his hands on Willow's shoulders, and gently pushed her away

"Willow, what are you doing?"

Sean's face reddened slightly. He had been through so many things that he could face life and death without turning a hair

However, it was the first time he faced such a thing

"Sean, I lived for myself before I met you

"For two years, I lived for both of us.

"But tomorrow, I will be different. I will only live for the Quinn family.

"Tomorrow onward, my fate is determined, and I cannot make any more decisions."

Willow put her arms around Sean and hugged him so tightly that she never wanted to let go.

"Huh?"

Sean frowned slightly as Willow muttered in his ear. He could not help feeling heartbroken.

"At least today, at least now, I belong to myself.

"So, I want. I want to... give myself to you."

Willow closed her eyes slightly as she whispered in Sean's ear. Her voice was so soft it was like the buzzing of a bee.

However, Sean heard her loud and clear.

Sean's eyes widened slowly as countless ideas flooded his mind.

What kind of mood would lead a woman to make such a decision?

Even if Sean was a blockhead, he could feel Willow's intense love for him.

"Willow, you don't have to do this."

Sean recalled Harry learning about Willow's deal with Old Madam Quinn and instantly understood what Willow meant.

However, Willow silent him again as he tried to explain.

Her two fair arms wrapped around Sean's neck before she kissed him gently

However, Willow dropped a tear, and it hit Sean's face, causing him to snap back to himself

"Willow!"

Sean pushed Willow's shoulders away and looked at her seriously.

Chapter 649

"Believe me, what you fear won't happen.

"And I hope you will willingly give yourself to me."

Sean never considered himself a gentleman.

However, he was sure he did not like Willow just for her body.

"There's no time. There's no time."

Willow hugged Sean again without stopping.

Just then, someone rang the villa doorbell.

The sound brought Sean and Willow back to their senses.

Willow slowly sat upright before walking to the French window and saw Rachel standing outside the front door.

"Rae?"

Willow saw Rachel and sobered up.

At the same time, she had mixed feelings.

'Is Rachel so close to Sean now?

'How dare she come to see Sean in the middle of the night?'"

"Then I'll leave you two alone."

Willow was silent for a few seconds before speaking to Sean. Then she turned and walked away

Sean wanted to explain, but he did not know where to start, so he could only shake his head in resignation.

Willow met Rachel at the door, and Rachel froze too.

Instead of her usual resolute self, Rachel looked at Willow, somewhat flustered

It was as if she was caught red handed being a mistress.

"It's fine.

"Go in. He's waiting for you."

Willow looked intently at Rachel and muttered

"Willow, I'm not I'm

"Bringing him some food."

Rachel shook what she was holding and explained incoherently.

"Got it.

"Thank you for taking care of him."

Willow bit her lip and turned around to get into the car.

Rachel stood where she was for a while. Instead of entering the villa, she got in the car and left.

Sean stood in front of the French window. Watching the two girls leave one after the other, she was instantly in between laughter and tears.

He did not do anything, but he had the feeling that he was having an affair but accidentally got caught.

The next day afternoon.

Members of the Quinn family gathered again at Old Madam Quinn's residence.

Willow came here with Kent and his wife.

Today was the day she accepted her fate.

She did not sort out the thing with Reach For Will Group nor resolve the Quinn family's crisis.

She could only accept it.

"Does she want to be the head of the Quinn family? She's dreaming.

"If she can fix this, I, Simon Quinn, will get on my knees!"

Simon rubbed his chin with a smirk on his face.

Everyone in the Quinn family laughed scornfully, waiting to see Willow make a fool of herself