

HACKER 2221

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2221-Nicole and Gloria arrived in the front yard of the living room. Nicole looked at the time and said, "Mom, it's still early, so I'm going to the company."

"Go ahead. Remember not to overwork yourself. You look pale," Gloria advised.

Nicole's cheeks instantly blushed. "Got it."

With that, Nicole left the house and had the driver send her to Riddle Corporation.

Meanwhile, Jared stood facing the company's French window, his expression cold.

"Is the news accurate?" Jared asked. It had been such a long time since they started the investigation. So long that he thought there was nothing left to be found, but now there was actually a clue.

"Positive," Max said with a grave expression. "That year when Mrs. Johnston came back to San Joto, there was indeed a mysterious entity that followed her. We suspect that group of people was the one who harmed Mrs.

Johnston. As for their identity, we're still working on finding that out."

"Give this information to Zane. Get him to find a way to investigate this group," Jared said solemnly with an icy tone. He not only wanted to find this mysterious group, but he also knew Zane could use his organization's connections and power to investigate. That way, they might get to the bottom of this quicker.

"Yes, sir," Max replied and left.

Jared's gaze moved towards the window as his expression darkened.

'Five years ago, Nicole was targeted by this group, and she even almost lost her life when she came back to San Joto. The person responsible for that incident is already buried at the bottom of the sea, so he wouldn't be the one who attacked Nicole. But if it wasn't him, who? Who were the ones who wanted to kill Nicole? And for what?' Jared was lost in his thoughts, feeling confused.

He had no idea how to solve this puzzle and could only wait for the investigation's result.

Jared exuded a chilling aura. No matter what, Jared was determined to find out who attacked Nicole.

KNOCK, KNOCK, KNOCK.

The secretary knocked on the door and came in to put down a document. "Mr. Johnston, the new work plan has been modified according to your instructions."

"Leave it there." Jared turned around and returned to his desk. Then his secretary left his office.

Looking at the documents on his desk, Jared's expression became darker, it would send shivers down one's spine.

Midday, during lunch break, Lulu and Nicole ordered food and ate lunch in the office.

"Woah, this looks so good. I'm so blessed," Lulu said with a look of anticipation.

Nicole smiled wryly. "As if I've been torturing you all this while."

"That's not it! With this weather, to just sit in the office and enjoy the food with the air conditioning on, no sun. It's pure luxury." Lulu stuck her tongue out and then laughed.

"Fine, enjoy it then." Nicole laughed and handed Lulu the cutlery.

"You too." Lulu took the cutlery. She waited for Nicole to settle down before they both started eating.

"Nicole, I heard Snow is clamoring to get into DillCorp now. I really can't understand her. Didn't she always want to marry into a wealthy family? Why is she suddenly interested in her career?" Lulu gossiped while eating.

Nicole asked back curiously, "How did you know?"

"The person who kept an eye on Snow found out." Lulu pursed her lips. "They say Dillion has yet to make up his mind, though Snow has already entered the company and doesn't own any position yet."

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2222-Lulu thought that Snow's position would not possibly be lower ranking than Raine's. There were sisters, after all.

Nicole frowned slightly. "It is quite weird that she's suddenly focused on her career."

"I know, right? This seems off." Lulu nodded. She would believe it if there were rumors of Snow setting her sights on a young heir from a wealthy family. However, Lulu could never believe Snow was interested in positions and work at DillCorp.

Nicole bit her lip lightly, wondering about the possibilities. 'What's Snow up to now? She can't possibly be interested to be the Riddle family's heir, right? Or have pigs learned to fly?'

"Oh, about that. I heard that DillCorp seems to be in discussion for a major project. If they land the deal, they might even rise to become a first-tier company," Lulu said, shifting from gossip to a serious tone.

Nicole raised her eyebrow. "Why are you so well aware of what's happening in DillCorp?"

Lulu was simply a small gossip news hub, favoring the news of DillCorp.

She looked smug as she replied, "Hmph, Raine always causes trouble for you, so this time, I'm going to keep a close eye on her."

Lulu was going to block any of Raine's attempts to bring Nicole trouble.

Hearing that, Nicole could not help but feel touched by Lulu's actions. A warm feeling washed over her. She knew Lulu was doing all these things for her.

"Lulu, it's fine for you to keep an eye on her. But remember to inform me if there's anything going on. Never act on your own," Nicole reminded.

Although Lulu's intention was to help her, Nicole did not want her friend to get into unnecessary trouble.

"Yeah, I got it." Lulu nodded. "I'll let you know."

With that reply, Nicole felt more at ease and smiled. The two continued their lunch while chatting and laughing. After cleaning everything up after themselves, Lulu left the office.

Glancing at the time, Nicole returned to her desk. 'Is Snow really planning to join DillCorp? It all seems unreal. What could her true intentions be? Lulu did say DillCorp is currently trying to get a big project.'

Suddenly, a thought crossed Nicole's mind. But when she concentrated on it, her thoughts became unclear. Shaking her head with a sigh, Nicole did not waste her time thinking about it. She would sooner or later find out the reason anyway. However, Nicole did feel like the subsidiary had been lively these days. She wondered what Dillion was doing right now.

Meanwhile, at DillCorp, Dillion looked at Snow with a hint of doubt. "Are you sure you want to join the company?"

"Dad, Raine's helping out in the company. I hope I can contribute to the company too," Snow pleaded softly, seemingly genuine.

"It's fine if you really want to help. It's just that you've never been involved in management at all. What could you even do at the company?" Dillion said, feeling a little hesitant.

"If Raine can do it, so can I," Snow assured desperately.

Dillion frowned in response. "Raine has James' assistance. You don't."

Hearing this, Snow's expression paled. Deep down, she felt a little resentful. It was her own choice to not marry until now. She did not want to be like Raine who married into a second-rate family. She could not afford to humiliate herself like that. If she had to marry, she would marry a first-rate family.

This time, Snow had finally found a great opportunity to marry the person she had been longing for all these years. That was the reason she wanted to enter the company; this was the only way to get close to that person again.

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2223-For all these years, Snow had remained single while the people she longed to marry passed her by. Moreover, the person she liked was even more dashing than he used to be. If she could rekindle their relationship, no one would dare look down on her anymore.

With these thoughts, a triumphant smile spread across Snow's face. She even started to envision a brighter future. Gritting her teeth, Snow went back to her usual innocent and harmless demeanor. She pleaded softly, "I can learn."

Seeing that Snow had made up her mind, Dillion hesitated but agreed, "Alright then."

Dillion had no choice since his only son was not interested in the company and spent all his days hacking. Dillion needed someone reliable to help him now. Since his daughter was willing to learn, it was better than relying on outsiders.

Snow nodded with delight. "Thanks, Dad!"

"When you're ready, come report for work. I'll arrange an assistant for you," Dillion said. After all, Snow did not have much experience in the working world, so she would need someone capable of assisting her.

Snow nodded firmly and promised, "I'll try my best."

"Alright then, run along." Dillion waved his hand, gesturing for his daughter to leave.

Snow acknowledged it with a nod and left the office.

Once Snow was out of the office, her complacent smile immediately appeared. 'Finally, it's time to turn the tables. From now on, no one would dare look down on me. As for Nicole, her appearance was the sole reason my love life was ruined. She was the one who prevented me from getting married. I'll make her pay.

'I'll take back everything that originally belongs to me. Nicole was never worthy of being my competition. Hmph, just wait, Nicole!'

As the sun set, Nicole left the building of Riddle Corporation.

"Nicole."

Hearing a familiar voice, Nicole turned her gaze. "Lawrence? What brings you here?" she asked in surprise.

"I just finished signing a contract. I spotted you so I decided to come over." Lawrence approached Nicole in large strides.

Nicole smiled. "Signing another contract, I see. Seems like Genesis Group is doing better than I imagined."

"Fortunately." Lawrence's smile flashed a hint of unease. If Jared was not in the way, Genesis Group could have been doing even better. Lawrence then looked at the time. "Since I'm free, I'll buy you dinner."

Nicole hesitated. If Lawrence asked earlier, it would have been fine. However, Lawrence showed up by surprise, and Jared was coming over later. Nicole was having a headache at the thought of the two meeting.

Lawrence did not rush Nicole for an answer. He smiled at Nicole as if he was sure Nicole would accept his invitation.

In a sudden moment of silence, Nicole's phone rang. Seeing Jared had called, the corner of Nicole's lips twitched. She then answered the phone.

Jared's voice came through, his tone serious. "Something's up at the company. I had Max go over to pick you up and send you home. I'll be working overtime today."

"There's no need for it. Let Max stay back and help you. I'll..." After a slight pause, Nicole glanced at Lawrence and informed Jared truthfully, "I bumped into Lawrence. I'll eat dinner with him before going back."

"Nicole..." Jared's voice carried a hint of wariness. He did not like Nicole having any interactions with Lawrence. At the same time, he understood it was impossible for them to not interact at all. So he was rather depressed and irritated.

“Nicole, why haven’t you left yet? Oh uh... Mr. Leo,” Lulu’s loud voice interrupted as she approached Nicole, but she faltered upon seeing Lawrence with her.

Nicole responded to Jared on the phone, “That’s it for now. You go ahead.”

After hanging up the call, Nicole asked Lulu, “I didn’t see you when I came out of the office and thought you’d left.”

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2224-“I went to the restroom,” Lulu answered Nicole softly. Then, she asked, “What are you still doing here? Are you waiting for Jared?”

“No. I bumped into Lawrence, and we’re going to go for dinner.” As soon as she finished her sentence, Nicole scanned her surroundings. “Is Spencer here yet?”

“He’s not coming today.” Lulu shrugged her shoulders, and a glimpse of sadness flashed in her eyes.

Nicole frowned a little. ‘Is Spencer occupied today? Why isn’t he here to pick up Lulu?’

Looking at how sad Lulu was, Nicole smiled and said, “Since you don’t have a date tonight, join us for dinner!”

“Huh? Wouldn’t I be a bother?” Lulu replied in shock.

Nicole rolled her eyes at Lulu. “No way. Leo and I are just friends.”

“Oh, right.” Lulu scratched her head as if she was the one who was overthinking it. Then, she turned to look at Lawrence. Her gaze seemed to be full of doubt.

Although Nicole did not mind it, Lulu was not close to Lawrence. Therefore, she wanted to hear from him.

Lawrence glanced at Nicole. He knew that he had no other choice but to agree to it.

“Let’s go.” While speaking, Lawrence started walking towards his car.

Nicole dragged Lulu along, and they spoke in whispers to each other.

“Jared’s not coming?” Lulu asked.

“It seems like something came up at the Johnston Group. He’ll have to work overtime,” Nicole replied calmly.

“What a coincidence.” Lulu locked eyes with her friend. The reply Nicole gave sounded suspicious to her.

Looking at Lulu’s expression, Nicole immediately understood what Lulu meant. Then, Nicole subconsciously glanced at Lawrence.

However, Nicole immediately brushed away that thought from her mind. ‘It’s impossible. Lawrence wouldn’t do such a thing! There’s no reason for him to do so.’

Nicole shook her head and chuckled. “Stop thinking about this nonsense. Let’s go!”

Giggling, Lulu smiled innocently.

It definitely was strange. Lawrence came over and asked Nicole out for dinner when Jared was in trouble. This was too odd to be a coincidence.

Either way, Nicole and Jared had gotten their marriage certificate. They even had two kids. Lawrence was well aware of that. So, perhaps Lulu really was overthinking it. After all, Nicole had said they were just friends.

At that moment in the Johnston Group, after Jared put his phone away, his eyes were as cold as ice.

Lawrence had the guts to go to Riddle Corporation and ask Nicole out for dinner.

“Sir, I’ll send some people to tail after Ms. Nicole. She’ll be safe. I’ve just received a message that Ms. Nicole had invited Ms. Lulu to follow along,” Max reported.

Jared raised his eyebrow subtly. The annoyance he felt reduced a little.

“Okay,” Jared said in acknowledgement. He felt at ease when he knew that someone was protecting Nicole.

Seeing that Jared had calmed down, Max asked, “As expected, Iris has made a move. We’re in the midst of playing along with her plan. When do you plan to capture her?”

Jared’s eyes darkened and he spoke with a cold tone, “Wait a little longer.”

Now that everything was in their control, they could not let go of such a good opportunity to counterattack.

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2225-“I’m not sure if we’ll be able to bait Lawrence this time around.” Max’s eyes were also cold.

They knew that Lawrence was the one behind everything. The worst part was that Lawrence was very cunning, so there was no clear evidence. Even if things were exposed, Lawrence would seemingly have nothing to do with it.

Jared’s gaze darkened. This was the exact reason why he was waiting to make a move. Perhaps they could try. If not, they would have to chase Iris out and harm the Johnston Group.

“Ask them to be on their guard. When the time comes, we could let go of some opportunities.” If there was not enough bait, Lawrence would not fall for it.

“Noted,” Max replied solemnly, understanding what Jared meant.

Jared then flipped open the document beside him. Max retreated, leaving the room.

On the other hand, at the restaurant, Nicole, Lawrence and Lulu had just taken their seats.

After ordering their meals, they chatted casually. Lulu asked about what happened at Crescent Island. She had always been curious about it, but never had the opportunity to ask. Now that Lawrence was present, she wanted to know a little about it.

“That’s true. The island is filled with fishermen. They’re just living a life of working in the morning, sleeping at night.

Although it’s a very ordinary life, it’s quite comfortable too.” Seeing that Lulu was very curious, Nicole roughly described the experience to her.

“Come to think of it, it must be hard for you at that time.” Even though Nicole made it sound easy, one could imagine how hard that life would be.

“It’s no wonder Nicole said you’re an important friend of hers. Thank you for saving her and helping her out after,” Lulu said sincerely to Lawrence.

Lawrence nodded and smiled politely. But deep down, he felt a little disappointed. What he wanted was not to be just her friend. No matter how important of a friend he was, there would always be boundaries which he could not cross. That was not what he wanted.

“Nicole, I remember you told me previously-” Lulu suddenly froze and stared at two people who had just entered the restaurant. Her mind went blank instantly.

“What?” Confused, Nicole traced her friend’s line of sight. She frowned.

Why were Spencer and Icyln together? What were they doing here?

It was obvious that the pair did not expect to bump into

Nicole or Lulu there either. Their expressions froze.

“Nicole, Lulu, Mr. Lawrence.” Spencer was the first to come back to his senses. He walked over and greeted everyone.

“Are you guys here for dinner?” Lulu glanced at Icyln. Lulu’s tone was calm, and her expression was even calmer.

“Icyln found an apartment. She just moved in today. There were too many things, and she couldn’t get any help. So, I went to help her out. Seeing that it’s dinner time, we came out to eat,” Spencer explained.

“Oh. Go ahead then.” After Lulu had finished talking, she looked down as if she was not in the mood for conversation.

Spencer frowned slightly and hesitated.

He really was there to only have dinner with Icyln. He did not expect to bump into Lulu. In fact, he did think of inviting Lulu to join them, but he felt that she was ignoring him recently.

Seeing Spencer standing still and staring at Lulu, Icyln begged, “Spencer, I’m a little hungry. Why don’t we go and make our order?”

“Lulu, why don’t you join us?” Spencer still chose to say those words through gritted teeth. He still wished that Lulu could join him.

Lulu immediately rejected him. "No, thank you. I won't bother the both of you. I'm fine with Nicole here."

In actual fact, she knew that it would be best for her to take on that offer at that moment. But she was still feeling confused. So, in the end, she decided to prioritize herself and not interrupt Spencer and Icyln's dinner.

"Why don't we eat together? We still have enough seats here," Lawrence suggested.

Looking at the situation, Lawrence roughly understood what was going on. He could tell that Nicole was not happy already, so he decided to make them stay. He did not want to see Nicole unhappy again.

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2226-Nicole raised her eyebrow slightly and added to Lawrence's invite. "The more the merrier. What do you think, Spencer?"

"Alright." Of course, Spencer would agree to it. Seeing that Lulu had refused to go with him, he could not bear to leave her behind.

That was a good offer. Since Lulu did not want to leave, he just had to stay.

Icyln's face turned sour after hearing Spencer's reply. Yet, she could only put on a smile and say, "Sorry for interrupting. R

"No worries. Have a seat," Nicole offered politely, but her gaze was cold.

After they sat down, their food was served so everyone began to eat.

Spencer noticed that Lulu kept her head down throughout the meal and she did not utter a word. It was obvious that she was in a bad mood.

He served Lulu some of the dishes while whispering into her ear. It seemed like both of them were exchanging secrets and they looked sweet.

Icyln narrowed her eyes. Her gaze seemed malicious as jealousy grew in her heart.

'Everything was going well before this. Why is it that once we bumped into Lulu, everything changed. Spencer did not even look at me once!'

Gritting her teeth tightly, Icyln fixed her gaze on the shrimp on the serving plate.

She took one and placed it on her plate. She was peeling the shrimp when she suddenly shouted, "Ah! That hurt!"

Spencer turned around and looked at her. "What happened?"

Icyln raised her finger and said pitifully, "Spencer, I just wanted to have this shrimp, but it hurt me."

As she was speaking, tears welled up in her eyes. She seemed like a weeping beauty.

A crossed look immediately formed on Lulu's face. She gritted her teeth in annoyance and her face turned red.

Nicole narrowed her eyes. She had lost her appetite and was in no mood to continue eating.

“Excuse me.” Spencer raised his hand to signal for the waiter.

“Sir, how may I help you?” The waiter came over and asked.

“Please bring a pair of disposable gloves for this lady here.” Spencer glanced at Icyln and spoke.

Icyln felt as if thunder had sounded, ‘G-gloves?’

“But, Spencer, my hands are really in pain.” Icyln continued to act pitiful. ‘Why would I need gloves?’

“Then...” Spencer hesitated for a while. Then, he ordered the waiter, “Give us another plate of shelled shrimp.”

Icyln froze like a stone. That was not the outcome she wanted, but she had no other way to refute.

“Lulu, you love shrimp, right? Have some.’ Nicole placed the dish in front of Lulu.

“Thank you.” Lulu frowned. Then, she picked up a shrimp to peel.

However, Spencer stopped her. “Let’s wait for the shelled shrimp later. Otherwise, you’ll hurt yourself.”

After all, he had just witnessed Icyln cut her fingers with it. He was a little worried about Lulu.

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2227-“Don’t worry. I’m not that weak.” Lulu was not feeling happy, so she indirectly directed her comments towards Icyln.

“Listen to me,” Spencer urged gently.

Lulu, who was feeling annoyed, could not take in any advice. She picked up the shrimp and began to peel.

Spencer felt slightly annoyed. So, he put the shrimp on his plate and de-shelled it for Lulu. After shelling it, he placed it on Lulu’s plate.

Lulu stared at the shelled shrimp and blinked her eyes. Her brain went blank for a second.

Then, two shrimps, three shrimps appeared. Spencer had filled Lulu’s plate with shrimp which he had shelled.

Spencer smiled and said in a gentle tone, “Eat them.”

“Okay.” Lulu could tell that she was still in a daze. So, she could only give a response blankly. She slowly picked up the shelled shrimp and ate it.

“The shrimp are really sweet today! It tastes amazing!”

Icyln’s face instantly looked crossed. It was as if her face was burning, and it had a hint of pain.

“Here are your shelled shrimps, miss.” The waiter placed a plate of freshly cooked shelled shrimps in front of Icyln.

Staring at the steaming hot plate of shelled shrimps, Icyln’s appetite disappeared. It felt as though that plate of shrimps was mocking her.

“Spencer, my fingers are really in pain. I’ll head back first to treat it.” Icyln could not take it anymore, so she got up and left.

“Is she fine on her own?” Nicole asked simply. After all, Spencer would have to face the teacher. If anything were to happen, he would not be able to give a reasonable explanation.

“Oh.” Nicole immediately understood. ‘No wonder we bumped into them. Icyln lives around the area.’

The rest of them continued having dinner. After dinner, they were getting ready to leave.

“I’ll send Lulu back. As for Nicole…” Spencer wanted to ask Nicole if she wanted to follow him.

Nicole understood what he wanted and smiled. “Leo will send me back. The both of you can go ahead.”

How could she be a third wheel at such a moment?

Although Lulu was not as angry as before, she still felt sad deep down. So, it was better to give the couple some space.

Spencer looked at Lawrence and spoke politely, “I’ll leave my sister to you then.”

Lawrence smiled and replied, “No worries. It’s my pleasure.”

Soon, Spencer brought Lulu out. Nicole and Lawrence also left the restaurant.

The moon was up in the sky. Looking at the night view, Lawrence casually said, “The moon here is quite different from the one at Crescent Island. Actually, I still miss life at the island, even when I’m here at San Joto.”

“No matter how great Crescent Island is, it’s not my home.” Nicole’s reply seemed to carry a deeper meaning.

To her, Crescent Island contains a part of her life, but it will never be her final destination.

She hoped that Lawrence could understand that. She was Nicole Riddle. Everything at San Joto is where she belonged. Even if she had to bear responsibility for certain things, that was what her heart wished for.

A flash of disappointment flitted across Lawrence’s eyes. Soon, it returned to normal, and he smiled gently. “Of course, San Joto has its pros. But with Genesis, this would be my future home.”

Knowing how much time and effort Lawrence poured into Genesis Group, Nicole exclaimed, “It’s good that you like it.”

“Of course I like it.” Lawrence looked at Nicole affectionately.

Nicole looked away and did not notice the look on Lawrence’s face.

“Let’s go. It’s getting late.” While speaking, Nicole was walking towards the car.

Lawrence shook his head indifferently and followed after

Nicole's footsteps.

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2228-The night was inching closer. Jared had just returned home and noticed light was coming from Nicole's study. 'I think she left it on for me.'

Jared glanced at Nicole sleeping on her bed, a flash of softness filled his eyes. He quietly slipped out of the room and took a shower before changing into a pair of fresh pajamas.

Jared slipped into bed and was about to sleep when Nicole suddenly turned over and laid in his arms. It was as if she had felt his presence. Unconsciously, she patted her hand on his chest.

Jared looked down at Nicole, his eyes softened as he saw Nicole was fast asleep. He could not help but to feel powerless when Nicole did this to him. He pulled the sheets over them both, pulling her tighter into his embrace before falling asleep.

Jared's exhaustion and worries were immediately swept away the moment he saw Nicole laying in his arms.

The next day, Nicole's eyes fluttered open and immediately, the first thing she saw was Jared's cheek. Jared was still fast asleep, Nicole was confused as to when and what time Jared had reached home last night. 'I guess he got home quite late last night.'

Nicole gently attempted to pry away from Jared's grasp, not wanting to wake him up. Unfortunately, Nicole failed. The moment she moved his arm away, Jared woke up and opened his eyes.

"I'm sorry I woke you up." Nicole felt guilty waking Jared up. She wanted to let him rest a little while longer.

"You want to get out of bed?" Jared asked, frowning slightly.

"Yeah, you should rest for a little while more," said Nicole, trying to get up and have Jared go back to bed.

Jared tightened his grasp on Nicole and hugged her tightly." Join me," said Jared in a husky voice.

"Don't mess around. I have to get up." Nicole's cheeks flushed red. She shot him a look.

Jared hugged her tighter and buried his face into the crook of her neck and whispered, "Please stay with me for a while longer."

Nicole felt distraught as she heard the tiredness in his voice. She sighed and said, "Okay, but can you please let me go? I can't breathe."

Jared's eyes flashed a glint of mischief, a smirk on his face." I'll help you breathe."

And before Nicole could react, Jared planted a long kiss directly onto Nicole's lips before letting go. Jared looked at Nicole with satisfaction before closing his eyes again.

Nicole's cheeks were burning red as she watched Jared fall asleep, knowing that he was tired. She quietly accompanied him as she looked intently at his attractive face.

Nicole stared at his features. 'His eyes are so deep, his straight nose...' Her gaze stopped when it fell on Jared's lips. The image of them kissing unconsciously replayed in her mind. Nicole's face flushed red once more.

Ever since Nicole had returned, her memory had been coming back to her in bits and pieces. Nicole's heart fluttered with warmness.

Five years ago, Nicole and Jared had gotten married and pregnant at Panem. It had been exactly five years since she had disappeared. Nicole could not comprehend how and what Jared had gone through for the past five years without her.

Nicole bit her lip as she raised her hand and gently caressed Jared's eyebrows, soothing his furrowed skin. Nicole pursed her lips before murmuring softly, "Maybe I never had anywhere to escape to."

'Even without any of my memories back, one thing for sure is that I'm falling for him.'

The sound of feet patting the ground was soon heard." Mummy, are you awake?"

A voice echoed behind the bedroom door after a faint knock. The voices of Nolan and Lana were echoing.

"I'm coming," Nicole responded subconsciously, before turning her head around to look at Jared who was still asleep. Nicole gently slipped out of bed and walked to open the bedroom door.

"Daddy's still sleeping. You guys can head downstairs.

Mommy has to get changed first." Nicole signaled Nolan and Lana in case they become fussy and directed them to head downstairs to wait.

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2229-"Okay," Lana agreed.

Nolan frowned and furrowed his eyebrows. 'Why is mommy calling that evil man those names?'

"Nolan, come on!" Lana said as she tugged on Nolan to follow her.

Nolan followed obediently. He could not help but frown, feeling something was off.

Nicole quickly went back into the room once she saw the twins leave. She quickly washed up and changed into a set of fresh clothes.

Jared was still fast asleep by the time Nicole had finished getting ready. Nicole silently slipped out of the room, closing the door gently behind her.

Nicole headed downstairs where everyone was already in the dining room. Nicole went over to join everyone for breakfast.

"Nicole, why didn't you call Jared to join us?" Gloria asked, noticing Nicole had come downstairs alone.

"He came back very late last night. I thought he could use some rest," replied Nicole.

"Oh..." Everyone in the dining room heard it and became conscious by lowering down their voices.

Once breakfast was over, everyone left to do their own things. Gloria and Daniel were the only ones left in the living room.

"Is there something going on with the Johnston family recently? Jared keeps working overtime until late hours."

"Probably," Daniel agreed. "We can't help them much, but we can probably tell Nicole to look after Jared a little bit more."

"I'm sure she will. I believe Jared will sort out his manners soon too," said Daniel profoundly.

'If Jared can't solve this matter easily, none of us could,' Daniel thought to himself.

Daniel and Gloria headed upstairs as they talked.

Meanwhile, Nicole had made a beeline to the office in the Riddle Residence. Lulu also happened to have arrived at the same time.

She waved at Nicole happily. "Nicole!"

"Come on. Let's go inside," said Nicole. They both entered the building.

"It looks like it was nothing after all," joked Nicole, noticing that Lulu was apparently happy.

Lulu's cheeks flushed red. Embarrassed, she admitted, "Of course it was nothing."

"Really?" Nicole asked, raising her eyebrows. A playful look flashed in Nicole's eyes. "Someone seemed very down in the dumps yesterday."

Lulu was embarrassed and could not help but deny. "No, I wasn't."

"I didn't say it was you," teased Nicole.

Lulu's face was flushed red, knowing Nicole was pushing the right buttons. "Stop teasing me or I'll ignore you."

Nicole laughed cheerfully as Lulu became more embarrassed.

Soon, they reached the office. Nicole glanced at the pile of documents on her desk before snapping back to reality. Lulu had also recovered and started to help Nicole sort out the documents before starting to work.

Meanwhile, at the Riddle Residence. Jared had just fluttered his eyes open. He looked at the time and got up from bed.

Jared was awake when Nicole left. He could not help but admire Nicole acting all wary in fear of waking him up.

Jared quickly washed up, changed into a pair of fresh clothes, and left the Riddle residence.

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2230-Max picked Jared up from the Riddle residence.

"Mr. Johnston, the Genesis Group has been oddly silent. Do you think they might've picked up on something?" Max said with a dignified expression.

"It's probably nothing. Tell them to have a little more patience." Jared's eyes were gloomy. 'Hunters should have more patience if they want to succeed.'

"Yes, sir," Max replied.

Jared leaned back into his seat, his eyes were cold and blank. 'This time I'll set Lawrence back into his place. I'm not the one to be messed with.'

The sun was scorching hot in the afternoon. Nicole had just gotten back from lunch and felt a little drowsy. She plopped down on the sofa to have a short nap.

Nicole frowned as she heard a knock on the door. She opened her eyes slightly and called out, "Come in."

"Nicole!" Lulu came rushing in, agitated as if she had heard news.

Nicole could not help but smile when she saw Lulu's excited appearance. "What's the matter? Why are you so excited?"

"I have big news." Lulu said with a huge grin on her face. "Guess who won the big project of DillCorp?"

"I don't know." Nicole shook her head, trying to figure out how to take such a wild guess.

"It's Harvey." Lulu said in a low voice, as she slowly spelled out his name.

Nicole blinked. "So?"

Nicole knew that Harvey was leading San Joto's with his business and was living up to his family name.

Lulu's strange excitement for Harvey had made Nicole question her a little. 'Even if DillCorp and Ellison Group had collaborated, why is she being like this?'

Lulu noticed Nicole's unbothered expression. She reached out and felt Nicole's forehead. "How can I help you with your amnesia-"

Lulu cut herself off, turning to look around to check for anything unusual before lowering her voice and said, "There's a long story between you and Snow. It's all because of this man..."

Lulu explained to Nicole about all that has happened between her, Harvey, and Snow. Lulu then pursed her lips in disgust. "Before, I thought he was the most handsome guy ever. Ever since that incident, I feel like he's the worst person alive. His behavior doesn't give justice to his looks."

Nicole sat there stunned as she slowly digested all the details Lulu had shared with her. 'I never imagined having so much bad blood between the three of us. This guy is quite cunning to play such dirty tricks on me.'

Nicole's face turned blue as she listened to Lulu telling her about Harvey's endless plot and stalking.

'What kind of scumbag is he? He surely is a match for Snow.'

Nicole had gotten the basic understanding from Lulu, and too she could not help but sneer, "So Snow suddenly joined DillCorp because of Harvey?"

'She's still infatuated with him. She tried so hard for so many years now yet she's unable to get close with him. Does she have the brain size of a pea? Can't she understand that if he really liked her, this wouldn't be the situation now?' Nicole thought to herself.

Lulu was excited to see Nicole to have caught up with the gossip. "Do you think those two will ever be a thing?"

Both Snow and Harvey are still bachelors, so I guess as long as they are able to see eye to eye, perhaps maybe they could stand a chance with each other.

'But then again, DillCorp and Ellison Group are two powerful companies. Why had they joined hands together? Snow joining DillCorp so she could handle this project with Ellison Group might be her only ticket to get close to Harvey,' thought Nicole to herself.

She bit her lip and raised her eyebrows as she looked at Lulu. "Can you arrange someone to keep an eye on Snow?"

"Sure." Lulu agreed, blinking her eyes.

"Keep an eye on them, especially on the projects," urged Nicole.

"How did you know that Snow would be handling this..." Lulu suddenly had an epiphany before nodding, "Don't worry and leave it to me. I'll have someone keep an eye on those two."
