

HACKER 2491

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2491-Lulu's complexion was pale, still very shaken up from the incident.

Bringing her into a hug, Spencer coaxed her, "Don't be scared. They were all caught and will pay the price for what they did."

"What on earth is going on? I don't know her. Why did she have to frame me?" Lulu bit her lip. She tried to think of an answer, but got nothing.

"Everything will make sense in the end. Don't worry," Spencer reassured as his eyes darkened.

'If that person wasn't crazy, then their act must've been staged,' he thought to himself.

Suddenly, Spencer's phone rang. He glanced at the screen and saw it was Icyln calling.

Frowning, he answered the call.

"Babe! Where are you?" Icyln's voice rang from the phone speaker.

"Is something the matter?" asked Spencer, cutting straight to the point.

"Oh, I just wanted to ask if you have time to come out with me to pick a gift for our professor. It's his birthday today, by the way, and I want to give him a gift," explained Icyln.

Spencer glanced at Lulu and replied, "I'm busy. I have things to take care of. You can go yourself."

"Babe, what are you busy with? Do you need my help?" asked Icyln, with concern in her voice.

"No need. I've got to go." Spencer hung up the phone.

He turned to look at Lulu and said, "Let's go rest for a while."

Lulu shook her head. "I don't think I can sleep."

"Don't be scared. I'll be here with you, the whole time."

"I really can't sleep," Lulu insisted.

Lulu felt that each time she closed her eyes, her fear and anxiety would consume her entirely.

"Is your professor's birthday coming up soon?" she asked, trying to divert the conversation.

Spencer nodded. "Yeah."

"Don't you need to prepare a gift for him too?" Lulu knew that Spencer had been his professor's favorite student and kept in close contact after graduating.

Spencer looked down at Lulu and smiled. "I've already prepared his gift."

"Huh? You've already prepared it?" asked Lulu, dumbfounded.

Spencer tapped Lulu's nose gently, smiling. "An invitation to our wedding. He said he had always anticipated attending our wedding.”

Lulu blinked blankly before her face started flushing red.” What kind of birthday gift is this?”

“He said it’s the best birthday gift he has ever received.” Spencer shrugged, withholding the truth from Lulu as it was not what his professor had said.

Lulu rolled her eyes at him. “Let’s get him another gift.”

“Okay, after you are well rested. We can go another time,” said Spencer with a smile.

“Yeah,” agreed Lulu, nodding.

Spencer ran his fingers through Lulu’s hair. In a soft voice, he said, “Get some sleep. I’ll be here when you wake up, okay? Don’t be scared.”

“Can you accompany me to talk?” asked Lulu. She did not want to sleep, so she chatted up a storm with Spencer. Ever since Lulu had been with Spencer, her mood had improved.

Meanwhile, as the day grew darker, the atmosphere at the Riddle residence was dark and gloomy.

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2492-Gloria saw Nicole walk into the house. With hopeful eyes, she asked, “How’s Lulu doing?”

“How did you guys find out?” Nicole glanced at Gloria’s worried expression and sighed deeply. ‘The news must’ve spread like wildfire.’

“Is she okay? How could such a thing happen to that poor child...” There was a hint of distress in Gloria’s voice.

“Don’t worry, she’ll be fine,” Nicole reassured.

“That’s a relief to hear.” Gloria let out a breath in relief.

Nicole briefly chatted to Gloria about the incident that happened earlier in the day and how the police were looking into the matter.

“I hope they can solve this as soon as possible, what with the weddings approaching. I don’t want this to affect Lulu’s big day.” Gloria sighed again.

‘A wedding happens once in a lifetime. It’s only right to have a happy bride,’ she thought to herself.

Nicole nodded. “Yeah, don’t worry about it too much.”

After dinner was over, Jared and Nicole brought the twins upstairs to Nolan’s room. Nolan dragged Nicole to his desktop.

“Mommy, what’s going on with Uncle Preston?” he asked, batting his big eyes.

“I’m not sure. Why do you ask?” asked Nicole cautiously.

Nolan climbed into his seat and turned the desktop on. He turned around to look at his mother. “It’s been really quiet recently. There hasn’t been any progress. I think this might be related to Uncle Preston...”

Nicole lowered her eyes to glance at the screen before pausing for a moment. "That's probably why. Let's wait for a while longer. If there's really any update, then Uncle Preston would tell Mommy."

"Okay." Nolan nodded and he started clicking away on his computer.

"Godpa is very quiet too. He hasn't talked to me in ages."

"You haven't heard from Lawrence recently?" Nicole's eyes narrowed. "That's impossible. Lawrence always used to leave messages for Nolan.'

"Yeah, maybe Godpa is busy," Nolan shrugged. He knew he shouldn't disturb his godfather if he hadn't received a response to his message.

Nicole ruffled Nolan's hair. "He said he'll come visit you two when he's free."

"Godpa misses us?" Nolan perked up.

Nicole nodded. "Yes, he wants to see you both."

Nicole saw how bright Nolan's face was when she mentioned Lawrence's name. 'He must miss him a lot.'

Nicole thought of arranging the twins to meet up with Lawrence over the period of the next few days. She did not notice Nolan excitedly sending messages to Lawrence about the good news.

"Mommy, is Godpa very busy? Nolan told me that Godpa hasn't sent him a text in a very long time," Lana said curiously, as she walked over and tugged on Nicole's shirt.

"Yeah, apparently he's been a little busy recently," replied Nicole, ruffling Lana's hair too.

Lana frowned. "If he's so busy, he won't have the time to come visit us!"

Nicole was stunned by Lana's response. 'Is she casually questioning this, or does she not want to visit Lawrence?'

Nicole bent down to meet her daughter's eyes. "So do you want him to visit, or do you not want him to visit?"

"No, I just feel like he's too busy and we'd be bothering him." Lana smiled sheepishly.

Nicole was left speechless. 'This girl is simply astonishing! She clearly doesn't want to visit Lawrence, and she can convey her message so impressively.'

"I want him to visit, whether he's busy or not. We have to arrange a time," said Nolan. He scrunched up his face at Lana in dissatisfaction.

'How can she refuse? We spent so much time away from our Godpa,' Nolan thought.

Lana stuck her tongue out at Nolan. She did not want to visit Lawrence, regardless that he was kind to them before. She felt that the kindness Lawrence had given them before had changed ever since they returned home.

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2493-Not to mention the last incident, where he sneakily looked at Nolan's computer. Even if he was their Godpa, he had no right to do so.

Looking at how angry Lana was, Nicole lightly patted her daughter's head. "If you don't feel like going, you can stay with Grandma at home. I'll bring Nolan along with me, is that okay?"

Nolan wanted to meet Lawrence, but Lana was reluctant. Therefore, Nicole did not want to force her.

Then, unexpectedly, Lana looked up and said, "I want to go."

Since Nolan was going, Lana wanted to go as well.

"Otherwise, Nolan might get tricked again, with his empty brain," she muttered softly.

"What did you say?" Nolan could not clearly hear as he was a bit far away, but his gut told him that there was something off with what his sister said.

"Nothing." Lana shrugged her shoulders, looking innocent.

Nolan frowned and stared at Lana as if he did not believe her words. But he could not say a thing.

Naturally, Nicole had heard everything as she was near Lana. She patted Lana's head again.

Lana did not want to continue the argument, so she walked over to Jared. "Daddy, let's build the wooden blocks."

Jared glanced at Nicole for a moment and replied, "Alright, let's go."

After he sat down with Lana, Jared began to accompany her for playtime.

Suddenly, Lana asked in a low voice, "Daddy, are you going too?"

Jared frowned. Based on what Nicole had said, it seemed like she did not want him to be there. However, he still had the thought of going. After all, he felt uneasy about Lawrence.

Seeing Jared hesitating, Lana raised her eyebrows and looked at Jared happily. Then, she turned to Nicole and said, "Mommy, let Daddy join us too."

"You're going?" Nicole looked at Jared in shock. Multiple questions ran through her mind 'Does he really want to go? Would the two of them argue when they see each other?'

"Sure," Jared replied.

Nicole smirked. 'Did I sound like I was inviting him to join? He actually replied like he was being invited.'

"Daddy, we'll go together! We're a family after all, so sticking together is the best!" Lana exclaimed while pulling Jared's hands. She was elated.

Nicole could not help but shake her head. 'This naughty girl...'

She stayed a little longer for play time with her children.

After a while, Nicole got them ready for bed.

Once the kids were knocked out, Nicole and Jared returned to their bedroom.

Nicole heaved a sigh of relief, massaged her shoulders and rolled her neck.

“Tired?” Jared’s hands rested on Nicole’s shoulders and gently massaged her.

“Still manageable. I guess there was too much going on today.” Nicole frowned a little and said, “Lulu’s incident really does seem fishy.”

Initially, they thought that it was just some random people creating a scene at the company. But the more Nicole thought about it, the more she felt that things were not connecting.

Even if someone were to cause a scene, they should be targeting Nicole instead of Lulu for a bigger effect.

However, those people only asked for Lulu, and they came prepared by engaging news reporters. If they had not managed to control the situation in time, would the news be spread across the whole town by now?

After giving it a lot of thought, Nicole still felt that someone was behind the whole incident. Moreover, that person was not targeting Nicole or DillCorp. In fact, it was targeted toward Lulu only.

“What are you thinking about?” Jared asked in a gentle tone as he noticed that Nicole was down and silent the entire time. It was as if she was in deep thoughts.

Nicole frowned and responded, “I better ask someone to look into this incident.”

“I’ll ask Max to arrange it.” Jared took out his phone and dialed Max’s number.

After Jared had given his orders, he put his phone aside and turned to Nicole. “Let’s just wait for the updates.”

“Thank you.” Nicole smiled. Even if she were to arrange for someone to investigate the matter, it would be challenging. It would be faster with Max’s help.

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2494-“You should get some rest.” Jared held Nicole’s hands and pulled her to the bed.

“Okay.” Nicole lightly nodded her head. She was definitely tired.

Once the lights were out, the whole room was filled with silence.

The next morning, the sun shone brightly.

After breakfast, Jared and Nicole sent their children to school.

Seeing that the kids had entered the school compound, they left for DillCorp.

Just as the car was moving, Max reported, “Ma’am, about Lulu’s incident, it’s been confirmed that someone was behind it.”

Nicole frowned a little and slowly uttered, “Icyln?”

“Yes,” Max replied.

Nicole snorted. Thinking about the incident, Icyln was the only person in San Joto who would have the intention of hurting Lulu.

Icyln had been bothering Spencer multiple times with the intention of creating a misunderstanding between Spencer and Lulu. Now that the couple was going to get married, Icyln would never have a chance if she did not do anything. Finally, she had revealed her true colors.

“But it’s a shame we could not get much. The lady, who Icyln bribed, claimed that she mistook Lulu for the person she was looking for. And coincidentally, her target was also named Lulu Barrera. She did not reveal any other details to us.” With that, they could not confront Icyln on the matter as they did not have any evidence.

“What a sly person.” A cold look appeared in Nicole’s eyes. If Icyln had bribed this lady, she must have prepared an escape route if things were to fail.

“It doesn’t matter then. She won’t back down anyways,” Nicole said coldly, and her eyes darkened.

If Icyln noticed this, Nicole would only be in a lot more danger. Then, Nicole would have to give up and let go of this incident.

But it was likely that Icyln would not give up easily. Since she failed this round, she would most probably strike again. Then, Nicole would just sit back and wait.

Max understood what Nicole meant and replied solemnly, “I’ll get someone to keep an eye on her.”

If Icyln were to make a move, they had to catch her red handed and leave no room for her to escape.

“Alright.” Nicole’s eyes darkened further. She believed that Icyln would walk into the trap on her own soon.

After a while, the car came to a halt.

Seeing that they had arrived at DillCorp, Nicole opened the door and got down from the car.

Just as she was entering the building, she heard Lulu’s voice.

“Lulu, shouldn’t you rest for another day?” Nicole was a little shocked to see Lulu back at work already.

“I’m fine now.” Lulu held onto Nicole’s arms and started walking. “But I’ll need to take leave in the afternoon.”

“You’re busy?” Nicole raised her eyebrow because Lulu rarely took leave from work.

Lulu nodded. “Spencer’s teacher’s birthday is coming. I’m accompanying Spencer to buy a birthday present.”

“I guess the both of you are fine now.” Nicole smiled.

The two of them chatted while they walked to the office.

“I’ll get to work now. Let me know if you need help,” said Lulu, walking toward her office.

Nicole turned around and entered her own office.

Just as she sat down, her phone rang. Seeing that it was Preston, Nicole raised an eyebrow.

She picked up the call. "Preston. You've got some news?"

"How did you know?"

"It was Nolan who discovered it. So, I guess you might have some updates on your side," Nicole said frankly.

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2495

Preston understood the situation immediately. "So that's the case. I thought you could predict the future."

Hearing Preston's mocking tone, Nicole could not help but laugh. "How's the investigation going?"

"I've looked into the suspicious traces found previously.

Some of it was truly done out of curiosity, but there was one that seems questionable. And we've managed to track down that address," Preston explained briefly.

"Have you identified the person?" asked Nicole, eyes narrowed.

"Gary's looking into it. At the moment, we haven't identified the actual person yet, but I'm sure he or she is in San Joto." Preston's voice lowered a little as he said, "In fact, that person might be someone close to us. Someone who's involved in our lives."

"You're saying there's a high chance that it's someone we know?" Nicole's heart felt heavy. Could it really be someone they know?

"Oh, one more thing. Someone accepted your task. That person has contacted us, and we've checked them.

Although we're not sure of the person's actual identity, he seems to be capable." Preston added.

"Does he know where the Fire Crest is?" Nicole's voice turned anxious.

"No, he mentioned that he only knows where the other four Crests are. As for the Fire Crest..." After a pause, Preston sounded helpless as he said, "He said that it's with you."

Everyone knew about this, but not many knew that Nicole had lost the Fire Crest.

"Then, you can ask him about the four other Crests. As for the money, you can decide with him." Nicole lightly shook her head. The one which she was most concerned with, was the Fire Crest. After all, the rest of the Crests had nothing to do with her.

But since the person could reveal the whereabouts of the other Crests, it would not be a harm for her to have that knowledge.

"Alright, I got it," Preston replied.

"Great." After that, she changed the topic of conversation. "Do you have any other comments about the tech company?"

“No. You guys did a perfect job in preparing it. The people you recommended are great too. You can ask them to come over immediately,” Preston said, full of gratitude. “Thank you, Nicole.”

Now, Preston not only owned a tech company, but everything had been prepared for him by Nicole.

“You’re welcome. It was meant for you anyways.” Nicole smiled. All she did was transform DillCorp into a tech company which Preston would prefer to manage.

“I promised to treat you to a meal. Once I’m done with the investigation, I’ll call you and book a date,” Preston said.

“Sure!” Nicole replied and hung up.

After she had put her phone away, Nicole narrowed her eyes. ‘Someone around me...’

At noon, Lulu brought Nicole’s lunch order into her office.” Here’s your lunch.”

“Thank you.” Nicole smiled.

“Remember to have your lunch. I’m leaving now.” Lulu waved as she was about to leave.

“You have a date, right?” Nicole teased.

Lulu explained, “It’s not a date. We’re picking a gift for his teacher.”

“It’s about the same.” Nicole smiled and gave a teasing look at Lulu. “After you’re done picking a present, the both of you can spend more time on dating.”

“Whatever. I’m leaving now.” Lulu’s cheeks were so red that she turned around and ran off.

Nicole smiled and shook her head. “They’re about to get married soon, and she’s still so shy about it.”

Opening her lunch box, Nicole was satisfied with what Lulu had picked for her. It was all of Nicole’s favorite food. She began to indulge in it happily.

Meanwhile, Lulu had stepped out of DillCorp, and Spencer had just arrived to pick her up.

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2496

“Spencer.” Lulu waved her hand, and Spencer parked the car in front of her.

After Lulu got into the car, Spencer started the engine again and drove to the mall.

“What are you planning to pick out?” Lulu asked, hoping to shop purposefully.

Spencer gave it some thought and replied. “I think we could check out some famous teas. My teacher likes that.”

“Okay, great!” Lulu happily agreed. They could focus on selecting teas.

Leaning on the car seat, Lulu watched the scenery outside pass by. All of a sudden, she noticed that something was off. So, she turned to Spencer. “If you know what you’re going to buy, why do you need me to accompany you?”

If he knew that his teacher liked tea and had already decided on buying tea leaves, there was no need for her to be there. Lulu did not know much about teas either.

Spencer smiled. "I just want you to accompany me. Also, it would be even more meaningful to my teacher that we picked out the gift together."

Lulu blushed and spoke pretentiously, "I never said I want to accompany you."

"You..." Spencer stretched out one hand and held Lulu's hand.

Lulu glared at Spencer, but she did not let go of his hands.

After a while, the couple arrived at the teahouse.

When they stepped out of the car, Spencer brought Lulu inside.

The surrounding of the teahouse was elegant. It even carried a vintage vibe. As they entered the place, they felt as if they had showered in a tea bath.

"Sir, please wrap these few types of tea for me," a lady's voice sounded, and Icyln walked out from inside.

Seeing Spencer and Lulu, Icyln seemed to freeze for a moment. Then, she quickly regained her senses.

Icyln approached Spencer and smiled. "Spencer, what a coincidence! Are you guys here for..."

"To pick out a birthday present for our teacher," Spencer answered, calmly looking at Icyln.

Icyln pretended to be shocked and said, "Spencer, we have great telepathy! I'm here to pick out our teacher's birthday present too."

"The both of you were his student, and you know that he likes tea. It's normal that you guys are picking out famous teas for him. So, this has nothing to do with telepathy." Lulu glanced at Icyln coldly.

Don't try and force things here. This is just a normal thing. What does this have to do with telepathy?' Lulu thought.

"Yeah, we both know what our teacher likes," Spencer agreed. Then, he looked at Lulu with a smile and nodded.

Icyln was too embarrassed at Lulu's comment, so she glared at Lulu angrily and gritted her teeth.

'Evil! Lulu is an evil one! I'm so angry!

Why did Lulu have to be there? There were so many people yesterday, and yet she wasn't embarrassed enough to appear in front of Spencer again.'

"Sir, the tea you pre-ordered is ready. Would you like to have a look?" The owner noticed that Spencer had arrived, so he came forward to welcome him.

"Let's have a look. Give me a moment." Soon, the owner brought over the tea leaves.

Although there were only two boxes, the packaging had a vintage look. It was as if what was contained in the box were not tea leaves, but culture and history.

“Sir, this is our shop’s limited edition. If it wasn’t for you, we would never bring it out.” The owner placed the tea box on the table.

Spencer opened it, glanced at it and said happily, “Perfect.”

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2497-This was the tea which his teacher had been searching for, for a long time.

Spencer finally managed to find it, so he wanted to give it to his teacher.

“Didn’t you say that all the tea types were displayed?” IcyIn looked at Spencer’s pre-ordered tea and noticed that it was a thousand times better than what she had picked.

She instantly felt angry.

It was their teacher’s birthday, so the present she picked out could not be shabby.

Especially with Lulu there, IcyIn could not allow herself to be embarrassed.

“All of our tea leaves for sale are displayed.

These two boxes were pre-ordered by Mr.

Riddle, and we only have these two boxes,” the owner explained.

“I don’t care.

I want the exact same thing.

We’re giving it to the same person, so how do you expect me to give this?” IcyIn demanded angrily.

That way, she could give the same present as Spencer.

That would make her happy as well.

“Miss, we really do not have any stock of it left.” The owner was in a hard position.

It was not that he did not want to sell it to her, but he really did not have any stock of that tea left.

IcyIn looked at Spencer pitifully.

“Spencer, why don’t you let go of one box for me? The gift I picked out isn’t worthy to be given to our teacher as compared to yours.” “Why would that be? The one you chose must be the best.” Spencer’s gift was precious and there were only two of it.

However, IcyIn’s selection would not just be any usual tea either.

Their teacher would definitely like it.

“Spencer, how am I supposed to face our teacher if you’re going to be like this?” As IcyIn spoke, her eyes began to turn red.

Lulu frowned and spoke up, “This was selected and ordered by Spencer in advance.

There’s no obligation for him to split it.

Moreover, the important thing about gifts is the thought and effort.

If your teacher knows you personally picked out the gift for him, he'll like it the same." Spencer was looking at the owner as he said, "Please wrap it up for me.

I want the most premium packaging." "Don't worry.

We've got your back," the owner replied immediately.

He ordered his employees to wrap it up.

"Oh yeah, please write a note on the card.

It should say, 'Happy birthday, Mr.

Moreno.

From Spencer and Lulu'." After the owner noted it down, he personally went over to instruct his employees.

After a minute, the owner returned with a gift box in hand.

He handed it to Icyln and said, "Miss, this is the one you selected previously.

The wrapping has been completed." Icyln seemed cross for a moment and embarrassed the next moment.

She could only take the box.

The gift, which she had selected, instantly seemed worthless as compared to Spencer's.

There was no way she could give it.

Not to mention, Spencer's present had Lulu's name on it.

'How could I lose to Lulu?' thought Icyln.

Clenching her fists and tightly grabbing the gift, Icyln was furious, but her face did not seem to show it.

Instead, she smiled and responded, "If that's the case, I won't bother you anymore.

I have to go now." "Alright," Spencer responded.

Then, he pulled Lulu to a side and sat down to wait for their gift box.

Looking at how sweet the couple was acting, Icyln was even more furious as jealousy filled her heart.

She gritted her teeth and turned around to leave.

Lulu looked at Icyln's back as she left.

Then, a smile formed on Lulu's face.

She could clearly tell that Icyln was annoyed and angry.

Spencer did not notice all of that.

After he had sat down with Lulu, he poured some tea for her to taste.

After a while, the gift box was completed.

The owner personally handed it to Spencer.

“Sir, your tea leaves are ready.” Spencer politely thanked him and led Lulu out of the shop.

After they stepped out of the teahouse, they got into the car and left.

What they did not notice was a shadow appearing at the corner.

Watching the sweet couple, she could not help but grit her teeth.

‘Lulu Barrera, don’t be too happy.

We’re not done yet!’ When the sun set, it had been a long day for Nicole.

As she stepped out of the office, Jared was already waiting for her.

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2498-After she got into the car, Nicole leaned on the car seat with dark eyes.

Noticing that Nicole was not in a good mood, Jared questioned in a gentle tone, “What happened?” “Mr. Ellison is sick.” Nicole sighed.

“I want to visit him.” Nicole had recalled those days in the village and what happened at Royal Creek Institute.

So naturally, she would remember Mr. Ellison.

Jared narrowed his eyes and said, “He is quite sick this time around.” He gently hugged Nicole’s shoulders and ordered the driver, “Go to Royal Creek Institute’s hostel.” “Noted,” Max answered briefly and then drove to Royal Creek Institute.

Royal Creek Institute’s principal’s residence was a separate yard.

It was located at the northwest side of Royal Creek Institute, a quieter corner.

The car drove straight to the entrance and halted.

Then, Jared and Nicole got down from the car.

As they entered the place, they saw that the entire yard was simple and elegant.

However, it seemed even more empty with the quietness there.

“Isn’t there anyone taking care of him?” Nicole frowned.

‘This place seems to be too quiet.’ “I’m sure there’s a nurse.” As Jared said this, he brought Nicole into the house.

Sure enough, they met a middle-aged lady who seemed to be a nurse.

From the looks of it, she had just fed Mr. Ellison his medicine.

Looking at Nicole and Jared, the nurse was stunned.

“You are?” “We’re Mr. Ellison’s friends.” Nicole could tell that the nurse had other things to attend to, so she added, “Just continue with what you were doing.” “Alright,” the nurse responded and left.

Nicole and Jared knocked on Mr. Ellison’s door.

After hearing a deep response, they pushed the door open and entered the room.

“Mr. Ellison.” Nicole saw Mr. Ellison lying in bed.

The haggard look on his face made him look older.

Seeing that it was Nicole and Jared entering his room, Mr. Ellison was shocked.

He stared at them and forgot to respond.

“You looked fine the last time we met.

How did you suddenly get so sick?” Nicole frowned and unconsciously stretched out her hands to measure Mr. Ellison’s pulse.

“Y-you...” Mr. Ellison was a little shocked.

Although it was Nicole who was standing right in front of him, he could not point out what was different.

This meeting with Nicole felt odd to him.

Moreover, with Nicole suddenly acting as such, it made Mr. Ellison feel that the old Nicole had returned.

Knowing what was in Mr. Ellison’s head, Nicole remained silent and continued to measure his pulse.

She pretended not to notice it.

After a while, Nicole let go of Mr. Ellison’s hands.

“Sir, if you could resolve any concern, your body would heal naturally.” What Nicole did not mention was that if Mr. Ellison were to develop any concerns for a longer period of time, he might collapse.

Mr. Ellison looked at Nicole in a bit of shock and responded, “Got it.” Nicole frowned.

Mr. Ellison’s response was ‘Got it’ and not ‘I’ll work on it’.

Therefore, Mr. Ellison was most probably clear about his own situation.

But there were some things which were easier said than done.

Mr. Ellison’s concern was most probably about Harvey.

From what she recalled, Mr. Ellison seemed to still love his grandson, Harvey.

But unexpectedly, the both of them ended up like this.

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2499-Mr. Ellison seemed to also regret what happened back then, which was why he handed over everything in the Ellison family to Harvey and only kept this school for himself.

“Nicole, Mr. Johnston, thank you for coming to see me,” Mr. Ellison said, his heart filled with mixed emotions.

He did not expect Jared to come and visit him.

“Don’t worry about it, Mr. Ellison.

No matter what Harvey’s motives were, those things were merely business competition,” Jared replied calmly, as if he was not bothered about the past.

Back then, all cooperation with Mr. Ellison was terminated at his request.

After all, at that time, Harvey was trying his best to embarrass and defeat Jared.

“It’s good enough for me if you don’t mind it, Mr. Johnston.” Mr. Ellison sighed.

He understood Jared’s intentions.

Although Jared did not hold a grudge, it did not mean he would not hold Harvey accountable.

Harvey had settled down after Nicole disappeared.

However, after Nicole returned, Mr. Ellison noticed that Harvey was making moves behind the scenes, which worried him.

Though Harvey might not realize it, Mr. Ellison believed that he could not defeat Jared, especially with Nicole on his side.

Nicole would definitely help Jared and would not go easy on Harvey.

“Mr. Ellison, since some things are no longer under your care, why not let it go and stop worrying about it?” Nicole offered him a casual reassurance.

Since Ellison Group was now in Harvey’s hands, Mr. Ellison could not participate in any decision-making, which also meant that he could not stop Harvey.

It was better to take care of his own health than to worry about things he could not control.

Mr. Ellison looked at Nicole with a complicated expression and sighed inwardly.

His illness this time was actually caused by this, which had been weighing on his heart, causing his worries to turn into an illness.

He could not figure out how to advise Harvey.

He did not want to spark any conflict between the two again and was worried that Harvey might get hurt once more.

It was true that he did not want any conflict to happen between the two parties because of him, as both were people he cared about.

He was also worried about Harvey because he genuinely believed that no matter how capable Harvey was, he would never be a match for Jared and Nicole.

Over the years, Mr. Ellison had come to know Jared better, and now with Nicole's assistance, he believed that Harvey would not stand a chance.

"Mr. Ellison, it's pointless to overthink," Nicole said, noticing Mr. Ellison's silence.

She genuinely hoped that Mr. Ellison would take care of his health.

After all, some things were beyond their control.

Mr. Ellison could not stop Harvey, and even if they did not want to get involved with Harvey, they could not sit still if Harvey decided to act recklessly.

"Mr. Ellison, how about we talk about something else?" Jared suggested, trying to change the subject.

Mr. Ellison looked at Nicole and then at Jared.

In the end, he could only helplessly say, "Alright." He understood that their considerations were reasonable, and he had no reason to force them into anything.

At this point, he was already grateful that they came to see him.

After spending some time with Mr. Ellison, Nicole and Jared bid farewell and left the dormitory.

Night had already fallen when they stepped out of Royal Creek Institute.

"Shall we go to the cafe across the street?" Nicole suggested, when she saw the coffee shop across the road.

They had a history there, and she wanted to take a look.

Jared agreed and led Nicole into the coffee shop.

Jared was still the cafe's owner, and the cafe was left as a memorial.

However, it had long been run as an ordinary coffee shop, and the people inside had never seen Jared and did not know who the actual owner was.

Seeing Jared and Nicole enter, a waiter immediately approached them and said, "Welcome."

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2500-Just as they finished speaking, they were shocked to see Max, who had been following behind them.

"B-Boss!" "The boss hasn't been here for a long time, so why would he suddenly show up?" Max glanced at the waiter and said, "Go back to work." "Sure." The waiter glanced at Nicole and Jared before leaving, guessing that these two people were the boss's friends.

After the waiter left, Jared led Nicole to the spot where they used to sit often.

However, instead of sitting down, he turned and walked toward the kitchen.

Nicole was slightly surprised as she widened her eyes.

‘Why is he going to the kitchen?’ She kept her gaze fixed in that direction as Jared was in there for some time.

In a moment of reverie, she seemed to see Jared grinding coffee for her with his own hands.

The aroma of coffee wafted into her nose.

She looked at the steaming cup in front of her, and she suddenly could not tell if it was reality or illusion.

“Taste it.” Jared’s gentle voice sounded in her ears, pulling her back to reality.

Nicole smiled as she looked at the coffee before her.

“Thank you.” “Enjoy your coffee.

I’ll be right back,” Jared said before turning and heading back into the kitchen.

Nicole picked up the coffee cup, and just by smelling the aroma, she knew it was her favorite flavor from before, and it was ground by Jared himself.

With a hint of a smile in her eyes, Nicole savored the coffee slowly.

After a while, Jared returned with a tray, which clearly held the dinner that he had prepared.

Nicole smiled and said, “Thank you.” After setting up dinner, Jared sat down and said with a smile, “Preparing dinner for my wife is nothing.” Nicole rolled her eyes at Jared, but the happiness in her eyes deepened.

After tasting the coffee, Nicole had the simple meal and then began to look around the cafe.

It still looked the same as before.

People say that the world changes while people stay the same, but it seemed like nothing had happened here.

Time seemed to have stood still.

“How did you manage this?” Nicole could not help but ask softly.

She was well aware that if it were not for someone’s deliberate efforts, this place would not have remained the same.

Jared glanced at Nicole, smiled faintly, and did not explain further.

This place held great significance for him, and during the five years when she had no news, he had worked hard to maintain it as it was at the beginning.

Everything in their manor was preserved as if she had never left.

Nicole bit her lip.

He appeared calm and composed, but she knew that this was not an easy task.

She gently placed her hand on his, her eyes teary as she lamented, "These five years must've been rough for you." Although they had both experienced separation, she did not remember him, so it was not painful for her.

But he was different.

The days and nights when he had been tirelessly searching for her must have been tormenting.

Jared turned his hand to hold hers and pulled her up, saying, "Come on, let's go home." Nicole looked at him with a faint smile and nodded.

She then followed Jared out of the cafe.